401 Dr. Sidney Isenberg
40 Peachtree Street, N.E.
Atlanta, Georgia 30308

Dear Dr. Isenberg,

This is just a note to confirm our getting together this Sunday morning, the 31st, at 11:00. I expect to drive up Saturday afternoon and spend the night with friends. (With the weather rather nippy and rainy lately, I would not want to run into <sup>the</sup> sleet or icy roads Sunday morning and risk being late.)

I am looking forward to our meeting, and your sharing Carson with me as you knew her. I am getting to know her so well that recently Mrs. Kathleen Woodruff, of Columbus, who remained Carson's closest adult friend from her hometown, recently told me: "I just can't believe that you did not know her personally!" My New York trip last month opened up many new facets of her life, facets which I hope you will help me explore.

A friend of mine, Miss Lois Thompson, has been helping me with my local research, helping me with my typing of letters, notes, etc., and going with me on several out-of-town trips for interviews, taking notes in shorthand for me. Would you mind her sitting in on our meeting? She knows Carson almost as well as I do and has been a tremendous help to me. And, indeed, anything that you share with us in confidence or would not want to be quoted on would not go beyond us.

Best regards,

Virginia Carr

P.S. In case you ever need to reach me at home, I am listed under my husband's name, Roger A. Carr, 7006 Winthrop Ct., (404) 322-2872.
