

Jan. 11, 1952

Executive Committee of the Faculty
Washington and Lee University
Lexington, Va.

Dear Sirs:

as has been the custom in the past during the election year the Washington and Lee Student body has held a Mock Convention. It is intended that this will be done this year.

a request is now being made of you to suspend classes on the afternoon of April 28, 1952, and for the whole day of April 29, 1952. On April 28 the convention will be concerned with the key-note speech and the nominations of the candidates for the President of the United States, and on April 29, the business will be that of balloting on the candidates and select nominating and balloting on the vice candidates for Vice-President.

With regards, I am

Respectfully yours,

Ironside East
Chairman

1952 Mock Republican Convention