Rooted in traditions, Washington and Lee has evolved over two hundred years. One of the oldest universities in the country, W&L still benefits from George Washington's endowment and General Robert E. Lee's contributions as President of the University.

Students come from all over the world to Washington and Lee, changing and enhancing life here, building upon the foundation begun by Lee and
Washington. The strength of that foundation enables the university to stand tall throughout its metamorphoses, as the Liberty Hall ruins remind students, faculty, and
VISITORS OF OUR ROOTS.

Many changes have come about since Washington and Lee's humble beginnings. Recent changes like
COEDUCATION AND FRATERNITY RENAISSANCE COLOR THE RICH FABRIC OF THE SCHOOL TODAY, EVEN THOUGH THE THREADS OF TRADITION REMAIN.

AS THE YEARS PROGRESS, STUDENTS
JOIN THE CYCLE OF SEASONAL CHANGES IN THE W&L COMMUNITY FOR A TIME. FROM MOVE-IN DAY THROUGH MEN’S AND WOMEN’S RUSH, HOMECOMING, FANCY DRESS, AND ACADEMICS THE SCHOOL PROVIDES STUDENTS WITH THE NOURISHMENT AND SHELTER THEY...
NEED TO GROW; THEY GIVE W&L ITS VITALITY AND WARMTH. ALUMNI BRANCH OUT FROM THE TRUNK OF THE SCHOOL’S HERITAGE, SHARING THE FRUITS OF THEIR TIME AT WASHINGTON AND LEE.

Men’s Rush was a time of adjustment in 1993 with its slightly altered schedule devised by the IFC. Unlike past years, rushees had the chance to visit every fraternity before narrowing their choices. Rush counselors from each fraternity lead a group of rushees to individual house, giving each house a fair representation before rushees and houses submitted their preferences. For the first time, the open contact period of Rush preceded closed contact rushing. Rushees enjoyed three weeks of open houses, skeet shooting, volleyball and band parties before deciding which group of men they would join in brotherhood. Overall, the distribution of pledges in each of the houses was fairly even and the experimental schedule proved successful as 240 rushees joined the ranks of their respective fraternities.

W&L's finest returned to Lexington on Friday, October 8th for yet another successful Homecoming Weekend. The celebration began on Friday evening with cocktail parties and fraternity reunions, followed on Saturday by the Homecoming Parade. The Kappa Alpha Thetas were rewarded for their hard work on the winning float, which cheered the Generals on by encouraging them to "Flush the Wildcats!" While alums and students alike enjoyed early tailgating and the football game against Davidson, the Thirty-Eighter Gators seemed to be having the best time of all as they joined the ranks of the Five Star Generals. The weekend was topped off with band parties hosted by the fraternities on Saturday night and one last visit to the Palms by all those reminiscent alums.

Moms, dads, brothers, sisters, and even a few pets arrived in Lexington on October 29th for the 37th annual Parents' Weekend celebration. Despite the stormy weather, students and their families enjoyed cocktail parties, luncheons, and the football game on Saturday. Highlights of the weekend included Saturday evening's Halloween parties, choral concerts, and a performance of The Flies at the Lenfest Center. As usual, students were left on Sunday well clothed, well stocked, and well fed by their adoring parents.

Halloween festivities began early this year for W&L as students flocked to Zollman’s Pavilion on Wednesday, October 27th for a costume party with the Dave Matthews Band. Special guests that evening included Beavis and Butthead, the Hare Krishnas, and a surprise appearance by Kiss. As Halloween fell on Parents Weekend, many fraternities and sororities hosted band parties and mixers for both students and their families on Saturday the 30th. Students also got involved in the community’s Halloween Celebration as members of Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Kappa Phi guided Lexington’s young ghosts and goblins through the street to ensure safe and fun trick-or-treating throughout the city.

'Twas the weekend before exams, and all made merry... For not a creature was stirring— in the library!!! The students of Washington and Lee commenced their annual Christmas weekend festivities on December 3rd. The weekend was highlighted by cocktail parties, Saturday night bands, and plenty of eggnog. SAB sponsored Big Head Todd in the pavilion on Friday night. The city of Lexington hosted its annual holiday parade. With no visions of the next week's exams dancing in anyone's head, a good night was certainly had by all.

The intense and exciting week of women's rush began five days into winter term. Open House, the first party of rush, invited all women interested to see our Panhellenic system. Each sorority focused on promoting the Greek system. Skit night followed showing the spirited and fun nature of being part of a sorority. Elaborate skits were performed by sorority actives and created a relaxing, fun and entertaining evening. The third night of rush, Sisterhood Night, focused on the strong friendships within each sorority. Finally, the last rush date, Preference Night, forced rushees to make their decision preferences. Although a stressful and emotional week, most women who participated would agree that valued friendships had been formed, and old ones strengthened.

For the first time in two decades, W&L cancelled classes because of severe winter weather conditions, also postponing ODK/Founders' Day festivities until February. Steven Miles, rector of the W&L Board of Trustees spoke at the Omicron Delta Kappa convocation. ODK, a national leadership honor society founded at Washington & Lee in 1914, initiated 25 W&L students during its Founders' Day convocation.

Washington and Lee students spend many hours working for charities throughout the year. The harsh winter months were brightened by the two largest fundraisers, Lip Sync for the Rockbridge Area Relief Association and Superdance for MDA. In January, twenty-five acts competed in the Lip Sync contest, which raised over $1,700 for RARA. In February, country star David Allan Coe entertained the student participants, and Superdance successfully raised over $20,000 for the MDA. Both activities prove that W&L students do know how to work hard and have a good time.

Belly dancers, monkeys, and marketplaces greeted the guests of Washington and Lee’s 87th annual Fancy Dress Ball, A Magical Carpet Ride. The weekend commenced on Wednesday, March 2, with fraternity parties, followed on Thursday by sorority dinners for members and dates and the Marshall Tucker Band in the pavillion. On Friday, tuxedos and gowns replaced jeans and tevas as the whole campus was transformed by the spirit of the evening. Guests were taken by way of a magic carpet into the sultan’s kingdom, where they were greeted by a live camel and all of Aladdin’s friends. The Bo Thorpe Orchestra entertained for the gala with their big band sound as students and faculty alike tripped the light fantastic. The ball was a tremendous success not soon to be forgotten.

Saturday evening saw the final farewell to the Far East, with band parties, date swapping, and antics until dawn, awaking Sunday with the cruel reality of the upcoming week and the exciting memories of the past four days.

Whether as actors, crew, designers or directors, students and faculty put on another diverse season at the Lenfest Center. In October, Heather Aussiker and Dan Tipton starred in The Flies, depicting the fall of the house of Athens. In November, The Lady's Not For Burning poked comic and romantic fun at complacent authority in the 15th century. Ghostly repartee drew laughs from Blithe Spirit audiences, and the German department's third annual General Probe performance created hysteria as well. Four students took the plunge and directed Sure Thing, Ellenisosynary, The Valentine Fairy, and Brilliant Traces for the annual Festival of One-Acts.

University Musical ensembles gave many performances in Lenfest this year. The a capella groups Jubilee, General Admission, and Southern Comfort entertained crowds with their innovative routines. The University Chorus and University Chamber Singers pleased audiences with their harmonious voices. The University Wind Ensemble and the University-Rockbridge Symphony Orchestra performed instrumental concerts, with the Wind Ensemble combining with VMI’s regimental band for the fourth annual combined concert. Recitals were given throughout the year by music students as well. The music and theatre departments joined forces with guest set and costume designers to produce an extravagant version of The Marriage of Figaro to end the year.

The wide spectrum of speakers brought to W&L enlightened the students. Former presidential candidate and Washington & Lee alumnus, the Reverend Pat Robertson, lectured on conservative issues. The rector of the Washington and Lee Board of Trustees, A. Steven Miles, presented his view of the future of W&L. The famed orator and political columnist, William F. Buckley, Jr., spoke on contemporary conservative and libertarian issues. Ben Chavis, the head of the NAACP, and Patricia McCloud spoke in honor of Black History month. Helen Prejean, author of Dead Man Walking, related her experiences as an eyewitness to the death penalty. The individual departments brought various authorities in academic fields. Lecture opportunities abounded on the campus in the 1993-94 school year.

After long and grueling periods of study, W&L students head in all directions. Popular destinations this year included New York City for Christmas and New Years Eve, New Orleans for Mardi Gras, Aspen and other destinations west for skiing, and all of the popular Caribbean islands in search of sun and good rum. The football team had an adventurous trip to Bermuda over Thanksgiving, while the University Wind Ensemble toured Skandinavia over spring break, and the Chamber Singers headed to Germany, Austria, and the Czech Republic for their spring tour. Some students toured Europe by rail while others explored the States.

A Day at The Races

And they're off! While few can admit under the honor system to have actually seen a horse, droves of W&L students trekked to Charlottesville on Saturday, April 30th for Virginia's biannual steeplechase. Clad in sundresses, floppy hats, and bow ties, students enjoyed fried chicken and cocktails at tailgates sponsored by both W&L fraternities and friends from neighboring schools. With or without the horses, Foxfield remains a strong tradition.

Spring Term

After a harsh winter, spring finally arrived to welcome back students from April Break. Which then turned into a chilly month of May. Spring Term 1994, however, brought with it plenty of parties and very little study time. With most coeds enrolled in only two classes, students spent their abundance of free time sunning at Goshen, drinking beer, and sleeping. The dogs of W&L made their joyous return to the Hill. With the exception of the unfortunate seniors who needed to complete the physical education requirements, spring term served as a relatively relaxing hiatus from the rigors of a full semester.

-Gamble Parks
After a long week of class, or for some by Wednesday, W&L students enjoy nothing more than “going out.” For many, Friday and Saturday nights are spent at fraternity parties or friends’ houses, drinking beer and listening to music. The Palms, filled with the sounds of Karaoke night offers just the atmosphere other students are looking for. Harbs’ has recently joined the ranks of W&L’s hot spots, with happy hour and hors d’oeuvres. Neighboring colleges, such as Hollins and UVA, also lure W&L students away from academic life on campus. Some students escape for the weekend on hiking trips in the hills or skiing on the slopes. Finally, groupies of such bands as Dave Matthews can often be found at Trax in Charlottesville. Obviously, the opportunities for a good time are virtually limitless for W&L students.

Despite heavy academic loads, W&L students took advantage of a vast array of entertainment activities. The SAB kicked off the year with “They Might Be Giants” and followed with an attractive line up of the “Connells” and “Cracker” for Homecoming. Christmas weekend brought fall term to an end with “Big Head Todd and the Monsters.” With winter term came David Allen Coe and Webb Wilder for Superdance, and Jerry Jeff Walker kicked FD off with the Marshall Tucker Band. The SAB finished the year with the “Wailers”, Bob Marley’s former band, on Alumni weekend.

On weekends when the SAB sponsored no events, students still found entertainment in the wide variety of bands brought in by fraternities. "The Dave Matthews Band", "Lost in the Supermarket", “the Unknowns”, “Liquid Pleasure”, and “Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts” attracted loyal followers.

The Lenfest Center provided students with alternative sources of entertainment ranging from the Beaux Arts Trio to Chanticleer to the Broadway musical "City of Angels."

W&L alumni were welcomed by beautiful spring weather. Many alumni took advantage of the weather on the historic Lexington carriage ride. The alumni were entertained with luncheons on the front lawn, seminars, and panel discussions with W&L students. On Friday night, the alumni and seniors socialized at a dance in the Warner Center followed by the Wailers concert in the Pavilion. Saturday afternoon many fraternities had cookouts and cocktail parties. Alumni and students enjoyed the entertainment provided by the Saturday night band parties. Alumni weekend gave students and alumni many opportunities to enjoy their beloved campus and historic town.

W&L students ended the school year with the annual senior party, flocking to Zollmann's Pavilion to wish the seniors farewell. Only hours after final exams ended, underclassmen spent Monday night partying with their senior buddies one last time. The celebration began with a late afternoon cookout for the seniors. Underclassmen began to arrive as the opening act, Blue Miracle, performed rock and blues. Evening turned to night and Liquid Pleasure took the stage. Students remained until after 2, all the while enjoying the endless number of kegs and hugging their friends a final time.

Let the Festivities Begin, Graduation

The weather also stayed sunny for graduation on Thursday. Seniors gathered on the Stemmons Plaza behind Washington Hall sharing some laughs and recollections before proceeding to the president's lawn, where beneath the trees sat their friends and relatives. Following the procession, President Wilson made his opening remarks and announced the valendictorian, Herman I. Safin. Although occasionally interrupted with the popping of seniors' champagne bottles, EC Vice President James Kull spoke with recollections on Texas, country music and W&L ideals. He capped his remarks off with a country song he had written. After President Wilson adjourned the service, the graduates searched for friends and relatives and hugged their classmates farewell.

IN THE NEWS

As students arrived in Lexington and adjusted to being back in school, the rest of the world was being forced to make some changes as well.

Enemies for three decades, Israel and the Palestinian Liberation Organization opened a new era in their blood-soaked history by recognizing each other's legitimacy. Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and P.L.O. chairman Yassar Arafat signed a treaty at the White House which sanctioned the creation of an autonomous Palestinian homeland in the Gaza Strip and Jericho.

Negotiations did not work out so neatly in Russia. Later in September, Russian President Boris Yeltsin dissolved parliament in an unprecedented move and announced new elections in a bold move to end his long-running feud with hard-liners. In a televised speech that stunned the country, Yeltsin said he was dismissing the legislature to pull the country out of its political and economic crisis. Parliament "lost the right to remain at the key levers of state power," he said. Riots broke out several days later and Yeltsin called in the army to restore peace.

Unfortunately, peace did not seem to be in the near future for the citizens of Bosnia. Also in September, the Bosnian parliament rejected an international peace plan. The move postponed a settlement that would have ended the 18-month-old war that partitioned the country into three ethnic states for Croats, Muslims, and Serbs. The United Nations sent a peace-keeping force to the former Yugoslavia to help keep peace among the three warring factions. Bosnian President Alijah Izetbegovic said he was disillusioned about the world's willingness to take action to end bloodshed in his country. Tens of thousands of people were killed in the conflict and more than a million were left homeless.

In an effort to bring all the people of the world together, regardless of historical conflicts, Pope John Paul II visited the United States to host World Youth Day. This was the Pope's third visit to the United States since becoming pope 15 years ago.

The 73-year-old

Where the Mississippi meets the Missouri? The Midwest floods submerged towns throughout the region.

The California earthquake, which registered 6.6 on the Richter Scale, leaves bystanders stunned as a major freeway collapses.
old pontiff attended the week-long pilgrimage that brought nearly 200,000 youths from around the world to Denver. President Clinton and Vice President Al Gore traveled to Colorado to meet with the pope.

The President's visit to Colorado was a welcomed break from some of the issues his country faced this past year. As floods hit the Midwest in late spring and early summer, thousands of farms and homes were lost. fields were swamped and towns were submerged. The states that were the hardest hit were Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri, which suffered billions of dollars worth of damage. The president signed a $5.7 billion aid package to help the victims.

No sooner had Clinton signed an aid package for the flood victims did he pick up his pen to sign one for California earthquake victims. At 4:31 am on Monday January 17, 1994, an earthquake registering 6.6 on the Richter Scale jolted residents of Southern California from their sleep. It was not the Big One, but it left at least 55 people dead, brought down major freeways and destroyed or damaged thousands of homes. The quake caused an estimated $30 billion in damage.

The AIDS virus continued to spread. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimated that there will be 40,000 to 80,000 new HIV infections in the United States in 1994. President Clinton appointed Kristine Gebbie as his AIDS policy coordinator, also called the AIDS czar, to oversee government AIDS programs. Fortunately, information and awareness also seemed to be spreading about this tragic disease, as was evident in movies such as Philadelphia, and in the increasing number of demonstrations held across the country. Women seemed to be in the news a lot in 1994. Ruth Bader Ginsburg became the second female Supreme Court Justice. She joined Sandra Day O'Connor, a justice since 1981. Ginsburg has won several landmark Supreme Court cases as a lawyer for the American Civil Liberties Union Women's Rights Project in the 1970s before assuming the position.

Janet Reno became the first woman attorney general of the United States. As the nation's head crime fighter, she confronted growing problems -- drugs, gangs, violence. The 55-year-old prosecutor -- a self-described "awkward old maid" -- became a crusader for America's children.

Our neighbors to the north elected Kim Campbell to be the first Prime Leader of Canada. Campbell is a 46-year-old former Vancouver lawyer and a relative newcomer to federal politics. After a summer of image building that raised her standing in the polls, Campbell called for a general election before the end of the year.

Blue Jays celebrate their second straight World Series victory as they beat the Phillies.

The first major event for W&L sports fans came in October with the World Series. The Toronto Blue Jays won the 1993 series. Joe Carter became the second player to end a World Series with a home run, hitting a three-run shot off of Mitch Williams in the ninth inning of game six that gave the Blue Jays their second straight championship with an 8-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Toronto became the first repeat World Series champions since the 1978 New York Yankees.

Just a few months later, everyone's sets were tuned into the Super Bowl. They watched as the Dallas Cowboys became the fifth team to repeat as Super Bowl champions with a 30-13 victory over the Buffalo Bills in Super Bowl XXVII at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta. The loss extended the Bills' record to four straight Super Bowl losses. Emmitt Smith of the Cowboys won the MVP award.

In February, as W&L students were sailing in the Bahamas or basking in the Florida sun, the world's most talented amateur athletes were competing in the 1994 Olympics. Unfortunately, Americans were more concerned with a soap opera than with the games themselves. Nancy Kerrigan, who won a bronze medal for figure skating at the 1992 Olympics, was expected to win the national figure skating title in Detroit in Early January. But before she had a chance to compete, she was bashed on the knee by an unidentified assailant. Tonya Harding, who came in fourth at the 1992 Olympics, won the title. Nearly a month later, Tonya Harding's former husband, Jeff Gillooly, pleaded guilty in the assault case. Harding had consistently denied any role in planning the attack on her competitor. Within two weeks of the attack, the 24-year old Miss Kerrigan was completing her most difficult jumps in practice, including the double axle, and she was on the Olympic team. She proved she had recovered when she skated to win the silver medal at Lillehammer.

Students were able to begin the year with Dave Letterman on a different station and at a better time. The darling of the late-night television audience left his time slot at NBC and moved over to Broadway and 52nd St., to the newly refurbished Ed Sullivan Theater that CBS renovated for him. He changed networks for a reported $15 million contract. And his new show swept the ratings with rave reviews.

Also receiving rave reviews were many of the new bands that emerged on the scene. Pearl Jam, the purveyor of grunge, an unadorned grinding Pearl Jam's lead singer, Eddie Vedder, has been compared to Jim Morrison of The Doors.

Nancy Kerrigan skates to win a Silver medal.
Dave Letterman announced his switch to CBS early in the summer and finalized the move in the fall. He received rave reviews for his new show, which aired at an earlier hour.

Vedder has a stage presence not seen since The Doors’ Jim Morrison. His low, powerful vocals and the band’s snarling, twoguitar attack is the essential Seattle sound.

But the “Seattle Sound” did not dominate the music scene. After nine years, Soul Asylum, the group from Minneapolis, finally found success. Their eighth album, “Grave Dancers Union” reached gold status and the three videos from it went triple platinum. One critic said: “Singer Eddie Vedder has a stage presence not seen since The Doors’ Jim Morrison. His low, powerful vocals and the band’s snarling, two-guitar attack is the essential Seattle sound.”

The album was created with an emphasis on songs rather than volume. They realized they couldn’t play punk forever.

Janet Jackson produced an album that combines many different music genres. Her new album clicked in at more than 75 minutes and didn’t leave out much—pop, rap, jazz, ballads, opera, a thunderstorm, and goofy dialogue. One critic said: “This album contains some of the finest work by this modern hitmaker, and more than a few moments that are downright silly and boring.” Janet’s brother, Michael, managed to stay in the news despite the scandal that hit the papers. The 35-year-old entertainer kept his career alive on the album charts with the release, “Dangerous.”

History

"The betterment of our soul must be our own achievement, although music is one of those factors which, like religious belief, creates in us most easily a state of willingness towards this betterment. In short, we have to be active: music, like humus in a garden soil, must be dug under in order to become fertile."

Biology is the most rapidly expanding of all the sciences, and this is reflected by steadily increasing enrollments in biology at W&L. In addition to course work, biology faculty are committed to offering opportunities for students to interact as colleagues in research, based on the premise that the process of science is best learned through hands-on laboratory work in collaboration with experienced scientists. Students can obtain research experience in a variety of disciplines, including immunology, molecular genetics, ecology, plant systematics, and developmental biology.

The lights are ON at the Lenfest Center for the Performing Arts. In fact, the lights were turned on for 245 evenings this year! Trying to keep up with our over-worked, slowly-fading Center Director, Michael Gorman and his new Assistant, Louise Uffelman. Another bright spot at W&L's cultural center is Theatre Department Chairman, Dr. Albert Gordon, who is off to England and Italy on a shining sabbatical leave. Guarding the artistic beacon back in Lexington are Professors Tom Ziegler and J.D. Martinez. Also helping to keep the lights on are staff members Gary Humiston, Madelyn Miller, Drew Platt, and Erik Jones.

Whether for homecoming, parents’ weekend, or just for fun, students turned out to support the Generals. The football team prepares for a victory (right). The Generals take the lead in an early fall baseball game (below).
The women's cross-country team, paced by Josephine Schaeffer and Amy Mears, finished second in the regional meet, W&L's best finish ever. For the second straight year, Schaeffer earned All-American honors, finishing eighth at the NCAA Championships. She also won the Old Dominion Athletic Conference title and the Division III South/Southeast title.

Joining Schaeffer at the NCAA Championships was sophomore Amy Mears, marking the first time that two W&L runners had competed in the NCAA Championship meet. Additionally, Kim Herring earned All-ODAC honors for the third time, a first for a W&L runner, and Sue Deutsch finished in the top seven at the ODAC, giving W&L four All-ODAC runners.

The men's cross country team battled its opponents, inexperience, and a rash of injuries but managed to put together a solid season using a lineup almost entirely of freshmen and sophomores. Led by the consistency of sophomore captain Tom Fink, W&L captured three third-place finishes.

Sophomores Brad Paye, an all-state runner, and Jeff Zeiger, W&L's top ODAC finisher, were both strong contributors to the 1993 team. Freshmen Alvin Townley and Sandy Hooper, W&L's top finishers at the NCAA South/Southeast regional meet, were also standouts.

Senior Tom Mason rushed for over 1000 yards for the season.

FOOTBALL
Although the 1993 football team finished the season with a record of 2-8, they did have their moments of glory. Senior Tom Mason broke three rushing records, scoring 32 points in the 41-16 Parents' Weekend win over Bridgewater. He finished the season with 1004 yards, second in the ODAC for both rushing and scoring, and ended his brief running back career with 1522 yards, sixth on the all-time list. W&L lost a close game to Georgetown in the Bermuda Bowl, the first ever football game played in Bermuda. Senior fullback Wilson Moore ran for 115 yards and two touchdowns in a 34-0 win over Catholic. Freshman quarterback Brooks Fischer threw for a freshman record 10 touchdowns.

Defensively, no one had a better year than sophomore tackle Robert Hull. He led the team in tackles, sacks, tackles for loss, forced fumbles, fumble recoveries, and blocked kicks. Hull and senior offensive lineman John Surface were both named first team All-ODAC. W&L also had four players named to the second team All-ODAC: sophomore offensive lineman Robert Turner, sophomore kicker Drew Thomas, junior nose guard Jason Chartrand, and junior safety Marc Newman.

W&L's men's soccer team finished with a record of 5-13. Some of the Generals' highlights include a 3-2 overtime win over Dickinson, a 1-0 overtime win against Guilford, and a 3-1 win over ODAC rival Hampden-Sydney.

W&L started five rookies in almost every game - freshmen Bill Gill, Bill Sigler, and Anthony Mazzarelli, sophomore Jeb Wofford, and junior Kevin Hocking. W&L's mainstays were junior Alan Christensen, senior Dan Rhodes, and sophomore Shag Drewry. Despite missing several games due to a knee injury, Christensen was named first team All-ODAC, W&L's only representative on the team. Rhodes finished his career with sixteen goals, and Drewry led the team in scoring with seven goals and three assists.

The women's soccer team had one of the best turnarounds in recent years at W&L. After finishing 5-11 last year, the Generals' 1993 record was 9-7-1, challenging for the ODAC regular season title. The season's highlights include W&L's first ever victory over Virginia Wesleyan and their overtime win against Lynchburg.

W&L had a balanced attack, led by freshman Michelle Bauman, and seniors Kate Stimeling and Corinda Hankins. Freshman Beth Mozena made 141 saves and had eight shutouts.

Three Generals earned second team All-ODAC honors - Angie Carrington, Corinda Hankins, and Aspen Yawars. Hankins, who finished her career second on W&L's scoring list, was also named third team All-South and honorable mention all-state. Carrington finished her career tied for third on the scoring list.

Allison Warner launches the ball uphill
The volleyball team had a pleasantly surprising season for first year coach Terri Dadio. The Generals got off to a quick start, winning their first four matches; they won 15 on the season to better last year's mark of 13 and finished the season with six ODAC wins, all despite losing their top three players from last year.

Senior co-captain Tara Burns led the way with her stable play, guiding the Generals to a school-record six-match win streak toward the end of the season. Burns led the team in kills with 150 and was named second team All-ODAC.

Along with team records, W&L also set two individual records. Sophomore setter Cheryl Taurassi dished out 526 assists, and freshman Virginia Yoerg shattered the school blocking record with 91 blocks, including 67 solo. Yoerg was also second on the team in kills, and freshman Elizabeth Bahn was third.

The Generals' season ended when they lost to Emory and Henry in five games in the quarterfinals of the ODAC Championships.

Two Generals go up to block a shot against Emory.

Kneeling: Jennifer Garrigus, Allison Hull, Sarah Babcock, Erin McKinney, Alissa Walls, Cheryl Taurassi; standing: Head Coach Terri Dadio, Jenny Queen, Kelly Horan, Virginia Yoerg, Elizabeth Bahn, Tara Burns, Assistant Coach Christy Glover, Manager Benjy Plummer.
For the second straight year, W&L won the Eastern Division III Championship by beating Johns Hopkins. W&L closed the season with seven wins in eight games to finish with a 14-11 record.

The Generals' most memorable win was the 12-11 victory over arch-rival Richmond in Twombly Pool. Freshman Pete Sorensen broke a 10-10 tie in the final minute with a two-point goal to give the Generals the win. W&L also beat George Washington 14-13 by scoring the final eight goals of the game, and they defeated Villanova twice, both times by only one point.

The Generals' most unforgettable trip sent them to California to play in the Pomona-Pitzer tournament and to dedicate Claremont's new pool. On that trip, W&L won a thriller over Loyola-Marymount 12-11 on Golub's backhand goal as time expired.

Golub finished the season with seventy-five goals, giving the 1992 All-American and first team All-East pick 200 goals for his career. Joining him on this year's All-East team was junior captain Reuben Munger. James Silberstein also had a big first year, scoring thirty-nine goals and thirty assists. Sorensen added thirty seven goals and a team high forty-five steals.
The men's basketball team ended their season with a 9-15 record, a four game improvement from last year. The Generals began the season slowly, but entered the December break with a big upset over Emory & Henry, who had been to four straight NCAA Division III tournaments.

The momentum from that win carried over through the break as W&L upset nationally-ranked Amherst, a team that would eventually reach the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16. Two nights later, W&L downed Virginia Wesleyan, the defending Old Dominion Athletic Conference champion.

In its first varsity season, the Washington and Lee women's basketball team surpassed almost everyone's expectations, including those of head coach Terri Dadio. W&L ended the season with wins in three of the last four games to achieve a record of 11-10.

The Generals wrapped up the season with a solid showing in the NC-VA Women's Tournament. W&L beat Salem and Randolph-Macon Women's College before meeting Meredith in the finals. Both Sandra Holmes and Nicky Mayfield were named to the all-tournament team. The defense finished the season ranked in the top 15 in Division III, allowing just 52.8 points per game.

The men's swim team finished 5-3 in dual meets and also finished second in the 12-team Southern States Swimming Championships. Junior Tony Diederich qualified for the NCAA Swimming Championships, finishing 25th in the 200-freestyle and 31st in the 100-freestyle. The 400 and 800 freestyle relay teams both made the NCAA provisional qualifying mark, but fell just short of being selected for the national competition.

On the season, freshman Nathan Hottle, a consistent dual meet winner in the breaststroke events, just missed the school record in the 100 breast. The 400-freestyle relay team missed the 10-year old school record by nine-one hundredths of a second.

For the second straight year, the women's swim team won 17 of 18 events at the ODAC and Atlantic States Championship, which runs in conjunction with the ODAC meet.

In the ODAC/ASC meet where W&L set five school records, Jen Miller was named the Swimmer of the Meet. Sophomore Jill Sheets won two titles, and junior Susan Fisher won one title as did the five winning relay teams. The key for W&L was depth. Nine times the Generals had at least two swimmers finish in the top three in an event, and twice W&L had all three.

At the NCAA Championships, Sophomore Rebekah Prince finished eighth in the 200 backstroke, 14th in the 100 backstroke, and 15th in the 200-IM, capturing All-American status in three events for the second straight year.

W&L also tied the single-season record for dual meet wins with eight. W&L finished the season 8-4 and extended its ODAC dual meet win streak to 19 meets.

Junior Tony Diedrich placed 25th in the NCAA National Championships in the 200-freestyle.
Despite being a very young team, the 1994 wrestling team finished 4-4 in dual meets and third place at the W&L Invitational.

Sophomore Cole Van Nice was dominating this season while posting team-highs in wins, takedowns, near-falls and pins. He placed second at the W&L Invitational for 190 pounds.

Junior co-captain Eric Shirley had his best season yet. He won 14 of his last 16 matches to finish 14-6, capturing the 126-pound class title at the W&L Invitational and the Virginia State Division II-III Championships.

The most surprising story of the wrestling season was sophomore Anthony Rafi. In his first year, Rafi won the 134-pound title at the W&L Invitational, pinning the first and second seeds, both in the first period. He had four wins this season, all by pin.

Junior captain Adam Williams dislocated wrist at the W&L Invitational but before going down, he posted an 8-6 record and was second on the team with 35 takedowns.

Since the entire starting lineup is returning, the future looks good for the Generals.
In its second year, the Student Athletic Mentor (SAM) program has been extremely successful. The representatives from each of W&L's varsity teams attend training sessions that will help them to better understand concerns a student-athlete may have. Its Statement of Purpose asserts: The role of the SAM on the athletic teams at Washington & Lee University is that of an educator and a resource. As an educator, the SAM works interactively with his/her teammates, helping them to learn about various topics which are of concern to the team or to athletes in general. As a resource, the SAM is a person to whom teammates look to for information regarding personal or team concerns primarily regarding areas of personal health, academic preparation, and athletic training. The SAM is a good listener and perceptive of the team's needs. While these are the desired roles of the SAM, there are certain things that the SAM is not. The SAM's role is not that of a team captain. The SAM is also not intended to be a team "policeman" in the sense of monitoring team behavior.

For the baseball team, 1994 was a year that saw several offensive records fall. Bates Brown shattered the record for doubles in a season and also broke the record for hits. Graig Fantuzzi, finished the year with a .482 batting average, breaking the old record of .407. He reached base in each of the final 14 games and led the team in runs scored.

W&L began the season with solid pitching. Brett Hartman pitched W&L to a win late in the season with five solid innings in relief at Eastern Mennonite. W&L’s offense gave Hartman plenty of support, scoring 12 runs. Matt Reedy closed the game out with two strong innings to earn the save.

Matt Ermigiotti was both W&L’s top power hitter and best pitcher. He led the team in wins (3), triples (4), home runs (3), strikeouts as a pitcher (38) and was second on the team in innings pitched (43 1/3) and appearances (10). He also hit .316 with a team-best 19 RBI, tied with Duane Van Arsdale, who also hit over .300 for the third straight year (.310).

Bo Williams led the Generals to the 1994 ODAC golf championship. W&L beat out second place Randolph-Macon by eight strokes. Smithwick finished second in the two-day event. Senior Bo Williams finished seventh; and Scott Miller finished ninth. Coach Buck Leslie was named ODAC Coach of the Year. Williams was named to the All-ODAC team.

Williams was W&L's most consistent golfer during the season, averaging better than 80 shots per round. His best outing came at the Ferrum Invitational, when he posted two rounds of 76 to win medalist honors in the event. W&L finished fourth in the 17-team field.

Senior Jimmy Kull had the best round of his career this season when he shot a 74 at the Bridgewater Invitational. W&L finished second in the tournament by just one stroke.

W&L finished the season 32-9 and pushed Leslie's career record over the 250-win plateau. His 20-year record is 261-44-4.

GOLF
A "rebuilding" year turned out to be another fine season for the Generals. Lead by only two seniors, the Generals had a slow start, but they scored the final six goals against Roanoke to win in overtime, and get on the right foot.

The Generals won 6 of their final 8 games to finish the year with a 9-5 record, clinching the ODAC title with an 18-8 victory at Randolph-Macon in late April. W&L also won the Lee-Jackson Lacrosse Classic for the sixth straight year with a 12-10 win over VMI.

Senior midfielder Colin Higgins led the team in scoring and earned first-team All-ODAC honors, along with junior Shaun McKenzie and sophomore Ande Jenkins. W&L coach Jim Stagnitta was named the league's coach of the year.

The women's lacrosse team played one of the toughest schedules in the nation this year, competing against five teams ranked in the Division III top 15. In the season-opener, Lindsay Coleman scored nine goals, a career best, as W&L downed Bridgewater 21-2.

In Nicole Ripken's first game back after missing the first half of the year while recovering from surgery to remove a benign tumor from her brain, she tied her career high with six goals, leading W&L to a 17-13 win over Sweet Briar.

In the ODAC tournament, W&L lost in the semifinals to Lynchburg, ending the season at 8-7. Carrington finished her career as W&L's third all-time leading scorer and was named first team All-ODAC along with Junior Carrie Niederer. Ripken, Coleman, and Junior Dana Cornell were named second team All-ODAC. Carrington and Niederer were also first team All-Region picks, and Ripken was an honorable mention All-Region pick.
Senior Angie Carrington earned first team All-American honors while leading W&L’s women’s lacrosse team to an 8-7 mark.
The men's tennis team ended the season with a measure of revenge. And senior Robby MacNaughton finished his career the way he began it, as an All-American.

In 1991, MacNaughton teamed with Bill Meadows to earn All-American honors in doubles. This year, MacNaughton won his first two matches at the NCAA singles championships, both in three sets, to earn All-American honors.

Early in the season, W&L suffered its first Old Dominion Athletic Conference loss in 33 matches. Hampden-Sydney won two three-set singles matches to beat the Generals 5-4. The loss was W&L's only ODAC loss of the season, and the Generals would go on to deny Hampden-Sydney the ODAC title, winning their tenth straight.

One of the highlights of the season came on W&L's spring break trip to California. W&L, ranked 23rd starting the trip, beat Pomona-Pitzer by a 5-4 score. MacNaughton enjoyed a solid week, going 4-1 in singles matches with wins over two players ranked in the top 30.

The women's tennis team completed the best season in school history. The Generals went 21-0 in the regular season beating Mary Washington, Kenyon, Emory, Sewanee, and Division II Radford each for the first time ever, and finished sixth at the NCAA Division III Championships.

At the ODAC Championships, W&L won its 4th straight title, setting an ODAC record by winning eight of the nine flights, including all six singles flights. Junior Marilyn Baker, who would go on to set a school record with 28 singles wins, was named ODAC Player of the Year for the second straight year. Coach Cinda Rankin was named Coach of the Year.

Baker, Sophomore Julie Ayers, and Freshman Anna O'Connor each went unbeaten in the NCAA team tournament to lead the Generals. Baker and Ayers also competed in the individual tournament in both singles and doubles, but they lost in the early rounds. Baker was named All-American and the winner of the Tennis Magazine/ITA Arthur Ashe Sportsmanship Award.

Freshman Anna O’Conner won her final twenty matches of the season to help W&L to a sixth place finish at the NCAA Division III Championships.
The men’s track and field team enjoyed one of its best seasons in recent years and placed second at the ODAC championship behind archrival Lynchburg.

Sophomore Dax Mahoney, named the ODAC Athlete of the Meet at the outdoor championships for the 2nd year in a row, won the 200 and 400 meter dashes and ran legs on the winning 400 and 1600 meter relay teams. Mahoney also broke the school’s 200-meter dash record at the Liberty Open. Mahoney, Hodges, John Robinson, Scott Covey and Anthony Mazzarelli was one of the top sprinting groups in the region.

W&L had several other ODAC champions. Covey won the 400 hurdles, Grant Cowell won the 800 and Harris Morrison won the pole vault. Coach Norris Aldridge was named the ODAC Coach of the Year.

The women’s track program took another step forward this year and claimed unofficial ODAC titles in the indoor and outdoor championships.

Senior Wendy Neel capped a tremendous career by placing in three events at the ODAC outdoor meet. Neel graduated as the school record holder in the 100 meter dash. Junior Sarah Gilbert placed in five events at the ODAC championship and won the high jump title.

Sophomore Josephine Schaeffer was out all year due to an injury, but Amy Mears picked up the slack and won the 1,500 and 3,000 meter titles at the ODAC championship. Sandra Holmes was W&L’s top scorer at the ODAC championship with 26 pts., including the javelin title.

The freshman class was the strongest in school history, led by sprinter Hollis Leddy who won the 200 meter dash and ran legs on W&L’s two winning relay teams. During the year Leddy broke school records in the 200 and 400.

Junior Grant Cowell helped the Generals to a second place finish at the ODAC Championship by winning the 800 meter run.

Sophomore Sandra Holmes broke her own school records in the shot put and discus while helping the Generals to the unofficial ODAC Championship.

Playing in just its second NCAA Division III Championship, W&L received a bye in the first round as the second seed. In the quarterfinals, W&L lost to eventual runner-up Williams 5-3. Tied 3-3 after singles, Williams won the first two doubles matches to advance.

The Generals, though, rebounded the next day to beat U.C. Santa Cruz, 6-3. W&L won five of six singles matches to clinch the win going into doubles and set up a rematch with Emory in the fifth-place playoff. W&L had beaten Emory 6-3 in the regular season, but Emory broke a 3-3 tie with two doubles wins for the victory.

At the tournament, Baker, Ayers and O'Connor each went unbeaten in the team tournament to lead the Generals. Baker, the second seed in the individual tournament, was upset in the second round by Audrey Coates of Hope College. Ayers also played in the singles tournament, falling to fourth-seeded Claire Turchi of Pomona-Pitzer in the opening round. In the doubles tournament, Ayers and Baker lost in the first round to second seeded Becky Mallory and Julie Greenwood from Williams.

Omicron Delta Kappa tapped in 28 new undergraduate members in the 1993-94 school year.
Organizations...
On 225 East Nelson Street, the newly renovated Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house was one of the first houses to be remodeled during Fraternity Renaissance (right). Plans for a new houses were drawn when new houses were built for Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Chi in Davidson Park (below).
The 1993-94 school year proved to be yet another success story in the history of the Alpha Rho Chapter. Beta kicked off the year with a rigorous Rush agenda that dazzled Freshmen and left the Phi Kaps in awe. With band every weekend, capped off by a mixer with the ladies of Kappa Alpha Theta, it’s no wonder Beta emerged as the quintessential fraternity on campus.

With twelve solid pledges emerging from Rush, the Dragons were truly ready to party. Homecoming saw the return of infamous alumni such as the Phife, Coleman "Dogger" Devlin, and Christian Dysart. All were entertained by the music of Blue Miracle, as well as the comedic antics of partymeister Eric "Diesel" Mintz.

Christmas Weekend marked the next big event on the Alpha Rho social calendar. Perhaps the most memorable event of the weekend was the annual reading of the Beta Wish List and Senior Predictions. Even President Arrighi couldn’t help chuckling when Brother Lynch predicted he’d die in “the most bizarre mixture of pleasure and pain” – i.e., by choking on a rib. Following the dinner, the B’s stumbled on over to the Boiler Room for a mixer with Phi Delt, featuring the sounds of Uncle Mingo.

Winter term commenced with the annual Jungle Party, which was, according to party crasher Dave Marsh, a real humdinger. As the warm weather approached, and the scent of love was in the air, the Betas knew it was once again time for the traditional Wine and Cheese mixer with Kappa Kappa Gamma. Brother Butterworth was truly in high spirits for the event, while Brother Bouldin rejoiced at the sight of twenty cases of Mad Dog, from which he closeted about ten.

The Betas wish the “Mystic 8” the best of luck as they venture out into the real world. Truly the chafing leadership qualities of Dump, the sardonic wit of Will, the handyman skill of R.D., the sports stats knowledge of Ez, the movie-quoting abilities of Mouse, the sarcastic humor of Jones, the cool man image of Wazzer, and the mysterious quietude of McGirty will be missed by all. So long, ladies!
The brothers of Chi Psi returned to the Lodge for work week only to discover that our jester had gone AWOL. Nevertheless we elected a jarhead to whip us into shape for rush. With the help of Terrapin and the Lords of Gonesh we grabbed 20 new brothers complete with pints of Beam and real (?) Cuban cigars.

The addition of Loco, Corky, Princess, Sanford and others added spice to the social life complete with the sounds of The Press, Risse and Blue Miracle. Homecoming and M.U.O.A.B were made all the better with the omission of Andy's speech and the addition of the hecklers in the Library. "Yeah John." We rounded out fall with Purple School Bus and had a Christmas tree that just wouldn't stay up because of the stupid pledges.

If Winter term had come any later the whole house would have killed Sac. Novio, yo? Boy O Boyskied in the Lodge for Chi Psychotic. Fancy Dress came with snow and the usual lawn festivities were moved into the basement, but without fear we kept our spirits high. Blue Miracle came and played an incredible show but took the tapes.

Parting shots...Bilbo, Why the visits to the R&C alone?...Seeya later pygmy, $10, the giant, and Mike and Fatty...Fatboy, Is that a dog or a rat?...All Greeks go to jail...No more L.I. T.S. please!...Good Luck seniors even though we have no clue what we are going to do. 8-ball, Grace, Slug, Rockbone, Mask, Troll, Ross, Quist and Jarhead.
The 1993-94 school year provided both challenge and excitement for the brothers of Delta Tau Delta, Phi chapter. After a long-awaited return to campus and a revitalization of Delt tradition, the chapter dove headfirst into our first Rush in two years. Despite discouraging numbers, the pledge class grew throughout the course of the year to provide Delt with a firm base for the coming years.

With Rush behind it, Delt was able to return to what Delt does best—namely, having fun. A Fall Term full of parties and other forms of debauchery ended on a truly tasteful note with the annual Christmas House party, where Dennis Hopper made a surprise appearance as Santa Claus, with liquor and spirits for all. Wrapping paper anyone? Winter Term saw many a packed party in the basement. Our annual Jimmy Buffett party lived up to the precedent set by the first, with margaritas and Corona livening up the evening as our goal of playing every song recorded by Jimmy was nearly achieved, if not actually realized.

Delt brothers and their dates (and several members of other fraternities and several random road-school girls) grooved to the sound of "The Press" during Fancy Dress weekend. Requests to hear tunes by "The Cars" were honored, and a good time was had by all. FD was a memorable weekend, as evidenced by the fact that less than half the house ended the weekend with the same date that they had kicked festivities off on Wednesday night. (I'll just put this gun away... it won't hurt anybody... BLAM!!!)

Winter Term also brought "Lost in the Supermarket," packing the basement once again. The Vietnam theme party attracted folks from all over campus to watch as Delt brothers, with army uniforms and accompanying camouflage paint, showed the campus what their idea of fun was. Several Baldwin girls inquired as to the exact chemical formula of "Agent Orange punch," but we'll never tell.

Graduation saw the departure of "The Six Pack," most remarkably with degrees. Not to worry, Patrick McCabe fans—he'll be back for a sixth year. He can't seem to get enough.

Memorable themes from this year: "Chicken Dinner!!!", "Dogs Playing Pool," "IT," and of course, "Foosball."

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington College in Lexington, Virginia in 1865. Over 125 years later, the Alpha Chapter proved to be as solid as ever. Under the fearless leadership of Alan McKnight and his advisors, John Kleckley and Rober Miggins, KA played significant roles in many aspects of campus and community life. The brothers of KA were well represented in many leadership positions on the field and on the Hill. Not only were KA's participating actively in varsity sports, but there were KA's holding captain positions on the soccer, track and field, baseball, lacrosse, wrestling, basketball, and golf teams. In addition, there were KA brothers holding positions on the EC, SAB, Kathekon, IFC, and SCC. KA was also proud to see two brothers inducted into Phi Beta Kappa. In the community, several KA brothers were dedicated to helping in the organization of events such as the Hoop-it-up Tournament, Christmas Party for Lexington's children, and the Gladys House.

The future for Kappa Alpha looks bright under the leadership of Alan Schoellkopf and his advisors, Michael Weinfield and Britt Seal. We will fondly miss all those graduating this year. Best of luck in the future! (A special note: Gilman and queers. Maybe one day Gheldy, Theopolis. Speaking of midgets. The Llama. Cowboys - America's team. Kenny, Bo, Stephen, and Lee...wow. Mrs. Taylor - think about the future.)
"Hey Givens, what's in a marshmellow?"

The Kappa Sigma Year in Review

Fall's nineteen week rush went well with the guidance of big Hank, and musical guest TR-3, Mike Latham and the The Grapes. The Kappa Sigma pledge program continued strong, developing 10 morons into fine functional yet elegant individuals. We were glad to have Johno and The Spanish Fly back from their time abroad. Johno kept busy all year, developing his abilities of teleportation and studliness. As fall continued, we saw another year go by where the house Deerhunter/Redneck returned from the forest unsuccessful; next year Henry, next year. We saw a lot of Luthor, in fact all of Luthor, even aside from his frequent appearances across the South East with brothers Givens & Lightning Hands in A Little of the Bandit Soul. McNaull attempted to follow the brave South Carolinian's lead, but things got out of hand. The Christmas party was perhaps the sloppiest evening of the year (next to Redneck) thanks to the traditional grain and champagne. We continued the lightbulb eating tradition for The dog, and watched as Santa took the reins for Kullster, who had a bit more control with his golf clubs than with his date. Several things remained the same throughout the year. The sophomores continued to keep insane-in-the-mem-Brame on the run from laundry detergent to the cereal wars. Utah was a frequent Wednesday night occurrence along with Bodie and his cronies. Kappa Sigma also continued to dominate campus intramural thanks to the wookie, Statton. We did take a training week off in February just in time for Mardi Gras (Thank you Holmes) where MOOSE earned his beads, the hard way. Then it was FD, which came and went so very fast, with the week climaxing early -- early Thursday morning at Wilson Field. This year the second annual Ben Hur Classic - Andrew Courbet Invitational Invitational Invitational Invitational Invitational was organized by Mr. "body by" Jake Toner, who also led the calisthenics. Special thanks to brothers Givens & Didier, who rode in Kappa Sigma's finest hour -- we were robbed. At this point, we can only hope that Spring Term and the rest of the year went as well. Thank you William for your leadership throughout the year. You led us with a stern hand; Anne was the only one who didn't get a fine. Good luck next year to all the seniors (Poole and Lippy too), Sha-Ray-Ray the double dipper, and also to Courbet who may stick around to make sure that all has turned up alright. "Stimulating, but we're outta here."
The Gamma-Phi Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha can reflect on a year that held as many successes as challenges. Aside from the first week back, which can be forgotten (literally) thanks in part to a few little worms, the year was a continual succession of advancements and improvements.

Thanks in large part to the Mickey Mouse tie and many apologies for being from NJ, Rush 1993 yielded eight fine young men who will continue to uphold over 70 years of Lambda Chi tradition at W&L. Highlights of the four week ordeal included our Tropical Island Party, Nuclear Waste Party, and innumerable, infamous Moonroof Parties. However one cannot have the highs without the lows, some of which included W&L's absence from Fall Foxfield, shaking over 200 hands, and an uptight national consultant/goob for Tear Night. With this year's freshmen we not only look forward to an improved Rush system but even more members in 1994-95.

Things eventually settled down. Homecoming saw the return of the class of 1993, who we thought we had gotten rid of. Christmas party not only saw Doug Clark and The Hot Nuts but Santa, the Elf, Winston the Reindeer, and a very early, unconventional Saturday morning party. Winter term, as the FD theme suggested, was a magic carpet ride for Lambda Chi Alpha. We initiated our eight freshmen and celebrated with the best champagne money can buy. Fancy Dress saw the return of the Unknowns to 225 (or is it 303?) East Nelson Street as well as an afternoon of Roger Day's music. Spring Term aside from Goshen, Busch Gardens, and afternoon cocktail parties produced a steady stream of returning alumni for alumni weekend. My Uncle's Old Army Buddies entertained the uncontrollable hordes of Gamma-Phi alumni.

As we all look forward to next year, we can't forget about the seniors who will be leaving us. Carpenter will not be around to offend with his tree-hugging, liberal ways. Oh-Hagan will be too far away to "pump" us up, Dribbles will have to close the DEC, the Deutsch Demon will return to good ole PA taking his board games, Rico Suave (5150) will be missed for his Sambuca, and Flick for his artistic renderings of the brothers. While these events cause us much sorrow we look forward to their return next year during Homecoming and Alumni Weekend and you all can rest assured that next year will be as enjoyable and successful as 1993-94.
Phi Delta Theta solidified its position as the premiere fraternity on campus in '93-'94. Despite our annual appearance before the Student Affairs Committee, we enjoyed the entire year with a full schedule of meals, meetings, and parties.

Phi Delt once again excelled in nearly every social, academic, and athletic aspect of W&L. Not surprisingly, the seniors had a big year. John Surface and Wilson Moore captained the football team to its first bowl game in decades, ending the season in a last-second shoot-out with Georgetown in Bermuda. Robby McNaughton captained the tennis team to another ODAC title.

Treasurer Rick Sumner proved that a fool and his money will soon be parted while gaining some valuable experience for a career as a Las Vegas promoter. Social Chairman Ben Brown returned briefly from France to pick up his diploma and get a haircut. Disgusted with the campus print media, Game Warden Leigh Allen came out of the mountains long enough to found an alternative weekly campus newspaper. Secret Agent Alex Cruikshank prepared for his career on Wall Street by touring the inside of two different jails. And Smilin' Joe Ramsuer culminated but did not consummate his relationship with Washington and Lee.

In the classroom, John Surface was selected to Phi Beta Kappa and ODK. Also after four years of hard work, President Billy Guice was selected as a member of the Politics Honor Club.

Finally, congratulations are in order to our own Justin Winslow who it appears will graduate on time after only four years at Washington and Lee. Hats off to Justin; we never really thought he could do it.
The 1993-94 school year was filled with both extreme highs and crushing lows for the brothers of the Phi Gamma Delta, Zeta Deuteron Chapter.

Fijis represented the Generals in football, baseball, water polo, swimming, wrestling, soccer, and track. We increased our GPAs. Paul Wright increased his resume. Many brothers were heard on the airwaves of WLUR or were seen in Lenfest. Fij also continued such traditions as the Xmas weekend gift exchange, House (Klaus) Mountain, and slackness. The Fij also invaded Mardi Gras and Cancun in order to expand its Reign of Terror.

On the down side, we lost our chapter for 18 months after a grueling battle with the university’s administration. But, we held our heads high as we kept easing and being nice. Instead of hiding from the keg police, we took our barrels to Timber Ridge, the Whare house, and Pig’s Place. This year come share in our hospitality at Pants. The spirit of the Fij will overcome.

Finally, we bid a sad farewell to seniors Willow, McNugget, Grease, Toonsie, Mr. Pig, Wheels, Tommy, Pete, Chaz, Cooker, and Choochi. The rest of us will see you in 1995-96. We promise.
The 1993-94 school year proved to be a rousing success for the brothers of Phi Kappa Psi. Aided by the tremendous success of our rush band parties featuring pregnant lead singers, Phi Psi managed to snare 11...no wait, 9...no wait, 11 new brothers. Phi Psi brothers were represented in the IFC, EC, and SCC, and many participated in intercollegiate sports such as football, basketball, track, lacrosse, wrestling and water polo. Other brothers chose to live out their athletic careers vicariously through fourth and fifth graders in the RARO basketball league. As far as the social calendar was concerned, the Phi Psi social chairmen deserve a round of applause for booking the BUB...twice! (Thanks Denbo)

Sadly, we must also bid a fond farewell to our graduating seniors: Chip "Pinky" Hathaway, Steve "Darcy...I mean Percy" Alloca, Fred "Bobcat" Wood, Jahn "Hass" Hassig, Brent "Iron-lung" Vincent, Dave "Sunshine" MacDannald, Scott Eden, and hopefully Curt "Spurt" Smith. Most regrettably, we mourn the departure of Christopher "Wok-Wok" Walker, an athlete and scholar who, with 40 in hand, danced his way into each and every one of our hearts. We wish each of you the best of luck.

But now we must look to the future under the leadership of Alex Cross and his new regime. So as we blow out the candle (Trubeck) on the 1994 school year, we wish to all a fruitful season! (No fruit flies though)
The 1993-1994 school year has been a good one for the brothers of Phi Kappa Sigma. Once again, Phi Kap had a strong rush with 16 new initiates this year. Rush started the year off strong with bands such as Danger Zone and God Street Wine setting the tone for a Skulltastic year. Homecoming was enjoyable for both active and alumni alike, being entertained by the music of Choyce in the traditional back-of-the-house, Saturday afternoon concert.

Winter term was extremely rewarding. A good time was had by all as Phi Kap celebrated its 100 year anniversary with a trip to Maple Hall followed by The Rise at the House. Fancy Dress was also a success, with the soulful strands of Liquid Pleasure entertaining both Phi Kap and its guests. Also, with the start of Spring came Lacrosse, and the young Generals finished a strong season led by captain Colin Higgins.

In retrospect, the 1993-1994 year has been a great success for Phi Kappa Sigma. In addition to having a good deal of fun, the Skulls also managed to slightly raise their overall GPA. Phi Kap also had countless leaders in W&L athletics and student government. Bill Chappell was elected Senior Class president for the fourth straight year, and Ashby Hackney was the secretary of the EC. All in all, the year has been great. Congratulations to the graduating seniors and good luck to the underclassmen.
The brothers of the Pi Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha celebrated yet another good year of being on the cutting edge of destruction. The year began with a successful rush in which the house pledged 24 new men. The Moosehead Party, Homecoming with Roger Day, and the traditional family Christmas poem were some of the social highlights of fall term. Our brothers also excelled in sports during the 1993-1994 school year. The Water Polo team captured the Division III Eastern Championship under the leadership of Captain Reuben Munger and the support of Frank Braden and Rich Cober.

Winter term was exciting as well. Fancy Dress heated up with Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts and guest lighting technician Derek Jumper. In addition, the house initiated 21 of the 24 men who pledged in the fall. Our revival of a Spring formal (with the Edwain McCain Band) at Virginia Beach was a complete success, and as always, Alumni Weekend was a smashing good time.

Finally, PiKa bids farewell to its 6 seniors (Ted "Crazy Horse" Elliot, J.B. Meekness, Benji Plummer, Pierce Smithwick, Jeff Mikita, and Joel Shinokrief). At the same time we anxiously look forward to another great year in 94-95.
1993-94 has been quite a year for the brothers of Rho Chapter. Despite some very vague rules for Rush, we managed to start off the year well, landing 15 freshmen. As usual, Christmas Weekend was a smashing success. This year we saw some things we've never seen before. On Beyond 2 provided the tunes for this unforgettable eye-opening affair.

Despite four weeks of social probation, the social calendar was typically full. The brothers enjoyed the music of bands such as From Good Homes, Blue Miracle, and Jackopierce for Fancy Dress.

This year Pi Kappa Phi graduates the last class to use the old house. These 12 fine, upstanding gentlemen have provided us with a link to the past. Good luck, you will be missed.
The 1993-94 school year has been a never-ending joyride in the convertible 5.0 'stang that reeked of college. The year began with a stellar rush which landed a myriad of quality f---ers, who we got from behind thanks to the Minervian efforts of Coors and Cooter. Life in the house went smoothly overall except for the repercussions resulting from the late night prowling of Bosoms McCrary, and the munchie-driven tirades of Andy Horen and Ed, I mean Malcolm. In IM competition, the Fighting Apples did not fare well under the rookie leadership of Preston "I'm no Jim Coyle" Miller, but hopefully this fall will end and we will once again win the racquet sport titles. A sad note in this area, ping-pong tourney winner Big Dumb Guy lost to the Order's newest member and promptly received a swirly.

As Winter set in and Jack Frost sprinkled his magic powder over the land, the walls of Lexington could not contain the brothers of Va Sig, although Morgantown managed to trap two in the confines of far too many 'eers. Daytona called the names of some spontaneous seniors and B-man returned with the Lougainis trophy. Big Sugar also felt compelled to woo women with the sight of his little mule, as he gave dozens a shot at the title.

With the onset of Spring, we look forward to the passing of the torch from the Shrew to La Beech, the pre-Phish electric Kool-Aid mixer with Kappa (Five Apples, P), and the return of kind weather to Washington Street. These events, however, are sure to pale in comparison to the Archer family initiation in Hotlanta, "Aww man, it's gonna be awesome!"

The year ends too soon but the memories will last forever. The pounds of fun at Hobe's, the catapult party at Hooterville, the post-"initiation" party at Windfall, and the crab-fest at Five HG cannot replace the memories of the departing Senior class, but as deli bar returns on Mondays, so will their legacy in the Fall. The bullet was dodged, and the eagle has landed. Salami and God Bless... Thoinx.
The 1993-94 school year marked the beginning of a new era for Zeta Chapter of Sigma Chi. We traded in our old house at 2 Lee Ave. for a brand new house at Davidson Park. The leadership and wisdom of President Rick "Budman" Barksdale brought us through this year of change unscathed. Rush chairmen S.R. Evans and Tom Fosnot, were instrumental in a Rush that produced sixteen pledges.

Zeta chapter once again provided influential leadership for the University. Justin Bakule and Derick Thompson were dorm counselors and S.R. Evans, Jason Ward, and Graham Frey will continue this tradition next year. T.R. Kinsey was selected as Chairman of the Student Recruitment Committee and Kevin "I've got a van" Batteh was selected as President of the IFC. Resident Alums Bob Thompkins and Bill Avoli served as President of the EC and Admissions Counselor respectively. Jim "Belly" Gilreath once again was in charge of Superdance for the MDA. Zeta Chapter was also well represented on the athletic front. T.R. Kinsey played on the golf team. Ermo dominated the mound and patrolled the outfield. Cary Hansel wrestled (with his alter ego), while Pete Hammond and Shiraz Moinuddin played tennis. Ben Skaggs played a little lacrosse and Graham Frey ran fast and cleared some hurdles. Kevin Hocking, Chad Dobbins, Marc Santora, Andy Deters, Josh Cashill, Mike Matechak, and Byll Garcia were influential soccer players. The social calendar was booked with acts like From Good Homes, Uncle Mingo, God Street Wine, Accoustic Junction, Majestic Lion, and White Buffalo thanks in part to the hard work of Chris Santora and Chris Denning. Finally Trabue closed in on the record for Sunday night honors.

As the year closes we look back to the class that now leaves us behind together with their past accomplishments and their vision that will lead us into the future.
The brothers of Sigma Nu, Lambda chapter, have a lot to look back on for 1993-94, the chapter's 111th year at Washington and Lee. Fifteen new brothers were initiated, bringing the chapter to new post-Fraternity Renaissance highs.

Fall semester began with a series of rush parties at the Cabana, Skelly's and the house. Halloween soon rolled around with the Mike Latham band and many matching costumes (Flick). Before long it was time for Christmas Weekend and our annual White Rose formal/gambling binge.

Between social events, the brothers kept themselves busy with leadership positions in The Ring-tum Phi, WLUR-FM, and the Fancy Dress Ball Committee, not to mention the activities of Jason Dunn, the founder of the Preston Society and the induction of Jon Yeargan into Phi Beta Kappa.

Sigma Nu athletic teams captured the RARO softball championship, as well as the intramural volleyball and bowling titles. Sigma Nus also volunteered with the Gladys House and with Habitat for Humanity.

In the winter and spring Sigma Nus organized Fancy Dress Ball activities, as well as the house's legendary two-day Shipwreck party, with a trip to the Foxfield Races thrown in the middle. Complete with bamboo, tiki torches, sawdust, and a two-story waterfall, Shipwreck drew several hundred people for the traditional biggest fraternity party on campus.

In June we said goodbye to the Fab Five: Jason Aiken, Steve Wasser, David Lyons, Jon Yeargan, and Opie Dunn. We wish them good luck in all of their endeavors, and invite them to always come back to 4 Henry Street: our home.
The brothers of Virginia Epsilon said goodbye to the Dickroom, the pool table and Dora's posh kitchen and commenced the 1993-94 school year by migrating to an unfinished home in Davidson Park. After three drunken parties and three weeks of jackets and ties, we once again snagged over twenty pledges. Tailgates, Mudbowl and Hunter's love for the farm kept the brothers entertained throughout the fall.

Sig Ep's social calendar was marked by Caveman, North-South, Fancy Dress and St. Patty's (which resulted in our first 3 week social probation.) The pledges maintained Sig Ep's success at Lip Sync with a first place victory as Tool and the Gang. We had a snowball fight with our new neighbors, Ripper visited the fire station, parties occurred weekly at the warehouse. Bidwell hooked up and Gary made his stage debut as Matt Hansen during the annual pledge skits.

Sig Eps maintained their strong campus involvement. Brothers were found on the varsity football, baseball, volleyball, tennis, and golf teams. They were heads of FOC, SRC and the Outing Club. FD, Southern Comfort, SAB, the Wind Ensemble, FLC, the Ring-tum Phi, Young Life, College Democrats, College Republicans, General Admission, I.V., Lenfest and Taekwondo all received aid from SPE brothers. Four brothers were selected as Dorm Counselors, one as an R.A., one was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa and another brother was chosen as W&L's first Truman Scholar in years.

The Chapter will miss the antics of Jim, Jamie, Matt and Alex. You guys were there when no one else was. (Literally.) Your contributions will be missed, but we're certain that the house will continue to prosper under the leadership of John Cox.

The Xi Lambda Chapter of Chi Omega had a busy and fun-filled year under the leadership of Stacy Colfry. In 1993-1994, Chi-Os could be found in all aspects of campus life.

Chi Omega had tons of fun this year with lots of social events, including a number of fraternity mixers, Persephone’s Gala Ball, Boxer Rebellion, Headbanger’s Ball with Theta, Blue Jean Ball with Phi Beta Phi, and White Carnation Ball.

Chi-Os played hard this year, but we worked hard, too. Chi-Os were inducted into ODK and Phi Beta Kappa. Chi-O sisters could be found on Kathikon, Student Recruitment, SAB, the Trident, the Ring-tum Phi, Jubilee, and the Calyx. Chi-Os were dorm counselors, peer counselors, and class officers.

Chi Omega did its share of community service projects as well. Chi-Os helped sponsor the “Making Strides Walk-a-thon” which benefitted the American Cancer Society. Chi-O also held the “Vote for your Favorite Professor” Contest to benefit Rockbridge Area Adult Literacy, helped with Habitat for Humanity, and visited the Extended Care Facility at Stonewall Jackson Hospital.

Chi-Os showcased their vast variety of talents this year, too. Chi-O athletes were star participants in track, soccer, volleyball, swimming, tennis, and cross country. Chi-Os strutted their stuff on stage as actresses, singers, dancers, and lip syncers - taking first place in Sigma Chi’s Derby Days lip sync contest.

1993-1994 was a great year for Chi Omega. We all will be very sad to see our much loved senior class graduate, but we wish them the very best in whatever they do and wherever they go. Our 29 awesome new initiates and our amazing new president Noelle Parrot will be sure to keep the chapter as strong as ever.
If three words could be used to summarize the 1993-94 life of Theta, we're sure that "erudite", "esoteric", and "tonitrous" would be likely candidates, although at times one might tend to utilize the word "flippant". Alison Coward kicked off the year by winning first place in the Homecoming parade for constructing a giant toilet, and the Zeta Iota chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta knew it was a sign of great things yet to come.

In the Fall, Theta's "Witch Watch" patrolled the streets of Lexington during Halloween, while the ever-popular Theta Gong Show helped to raise money for Court Appointed Special Advocates. Winter Service activities included selling flowers at Valentine's Day for the American Heart Association, Christmas caroling at the Mayflower, and the participation of Theta's New Members in the Annual SAMS Lip Synch contest.

With the guidance of scholarship chair Chrissie Hart, members Jen Ciocca and Brandi Henderson were inducted into ODK. Monica Robinson provided a Magical Carpet Ride for the entire student body, faculty, and staff, and Rush Goddess Holley Proctor orchestrated one of the best rushes in the history of Theta. The reward for enduring numerous Proctor reports was the initiation of our awesome new members, one that continues to prove itself more and more valuable every day.

From the austere, black-tie Twin Stars Ball to the not-so-austere HeadBanger's Ball with Chi-O, there is a social function to fit every need, including sorority mixers like Kite and Key with Kappa and Spring Fling with Pi Beta Phi. And let us not forget our various fraternity mixers, for which music proved not to be a prerequisite (we're sure Beta will agree).

Hard work and dedication from everyone involved brought the realization of numerous goals, as well as the formation of endless friendships and an intense, common pride. Theta wishes the best of luck to our Seniors as they enter the post-collegiate world, and thanks them for their countless contributions and support over their years at Washington and Lee. Although we will miss the seniors dearly, Zeta Iota's spirit can only flourish in the years to come, for with deep friendships, great new initiates, and an award winning commode, it's hard to go wrong.

1993-94 was another great year for the Zeta Tau chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Under the leadership of old president Whitney Matthews and new president Liz Hollerman Kappas have excelled in all areas of life at W&L from academics to sports to being elected to leadership positions on campus.

In the fall Kappas could be found carving pumpkins for a local nursing home, finding boys to play Santa for the faculty and area children and coloring with little kids for PTA babysitting. Kappas kept busy all year long playing women's lacrosse, soccer, tennis, track, swimming and basketball. Kappas sang in Chamber Choir, Jubilee, played instruments, helped out on SAB, Student Development, Student Recruitment, the Executive Committee and Fancy Dress, to name only a few. Kappas were also inducted into ODK, Phi Beta Kappa and Kathekon.

Along with participating in almost every extracurricular activity on campus, Kappas still found time to do what they like to do best - have fun. Christina and Kylie organized tailgates, dinners, our Fall formal, Kite and Key with Theta, Famous Lovers, Beta Wine and Cheese and our Spring formal. Kappas teamed up with Pi Beta Phi for our annual Monmouth Duo party with New Potato Caboose and in the spring joined Pi Phi to groove to the sounds of God Street Wine.

The Spring marked both the highest and the lowest point in the for Zeta Tau. While we welcomed 29 great girls into Kappa we had to get ready to say goodbye to our seniors. Zeta Tau wishes its graduating seniors all the best in the years to come. We will miss them but we know they will be successful wherever they go.

The Virginia Theta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi had a fun and exciting year under the leadership of Christine Grandinetti. The 1993-94 year kept Pi Phis busy on and off campus.

Pi Phis were very involved in philanthropies and community service. Pi Phis worked with tutoring, literacy, Habitat for Humanity, and the local Big Sister Program. Pi Phis pulled together to support Kids Playce and the Central Elementary School Literacy program.

But Pi Phis were not all work and no play. At our Beaux and Arrows Fall Formal we danced the night away at the Lexington Country Club. Then we moved to the GHQ for our annual Monmouth Duo with Kappa. The Winter brought with it our annual Blue Jean Ball with Chi-O and a Screw-Your-Sister party. At our Semi-formal I-Ball, Pi Phis celebrated Spring with our Spring Fling Crush Party with Theta and our fabulous Spring Formal. Added to our many mixers with fraternities, the Pi Phi social calendar was very busy.

Pi Phis could also be seen all over campus. Pi Phis were inducted into Phi Beta Kappa and Kathekon. Furthermore, Pi Phis played an active role in Cable 2, WLUR, University Chorus, Jubilee, General Admission, and Wind Ensemble. Many brought the Magical Carpet Ride of FD to Lexington as members of the Steering Committee and as contract workers. Joanna Love and Beth Provanzana headed up two of the biggest charity fundraisers on campus, the MDA Superdance and the SAMS Lip Sync contest.

Pi Phi athletes kept the school running. Pi Phis played key roles on the women's lacrosse, soccer, tennis, track, swimming, basketball, volleyball and field hockey teams. We were also the IM champions of the fall season.

Virginia Theta wishes its graduating seniors all the best for the future. While we will miss them next year, we have 21 great new members and the leadership of rising president Carrie Baker to count on. 1994-95 can only be another great year for Pi Beta Phi.
The Calyx thanks the advertisers, parents, and alumni for their generosity. Various eclectic signs adorn the streets of Lexington (right). The footbridge linking The Hill to the athletic fields and the Law School was built in part from donations to the university (below).
