'BY THE STUDENTS AND FOR THE STUDENTS'

VOL. VI

WASHINGTON & LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1902

No. 9

V. M. I., 11; W. & L., 0

Such is the tale of last Tuesday afternoon, on the result of which all the students had raised their hopes and the sport staked his money—all to be lost.

Both sides went into the game with the intention of struggling to the last notch, and it is to the credit of our boys to say that the score speaks, in no sense, unfavorably of our work. The teams were very evenly matched in training, and for fifteen minutes the ball oscillated from side to side, neither team being able to make the necessary five yards more than once or twice in succession. Towards the end of the half, the cadets endurance, gained by military training and their extra weight told, and they carried the ball steadily down the field for the two touchdowns of the game.

In the second half our men took a brace and held them for downs on their one yard line, and when the game was called the ball was near the middle of the field.

V. M. I. beat us fairly and squarely, and it is greatly to the credit of both teams to note the absence of slugging from the game.

For the V. M. I., Johnson was the strength of the team, he making both touchdowns and gaining over half the ground for his team. Captian Dewey ran the team well.

For W. & L., Smith played his usual star game. His end runs did not work because we could not get our interference together. Stone made several pretty tackles. Haw was our best ground-gainer. The work of both teams was so excellent that it is difficult to single out individual plays.

The length of the halves, thirty-five minutes, made the struggle an unusually hard one and told against our team.

Lastly, but by no means least, Coach Balliet deserves the greatest credit for the development of the team, and arrangements should be made at once for his retention till the end of the season and his return next year.

GAME IN DETAIL

Smith kicks off to Johnson on the five yard line who returns the ball twenty yards before being downed. V. M. I. gains three yards through center, two yards more by bucking center, making first down. Paul makes two yards through tackle. Claggett fails to gain. Paul gains one yard, then the ball goes to W. & L. on downs. Smith skirts right end for ten yards. Haw makes two more through left tackle, McNeill fails to gain, and the ball is V. M. I.'s on downs. Paul advances three yards, Claggett three more, but Johnson fails to gain. V. M. I. is here penalized five yards for off-side play. A double pass here gains five yards. Johnson makes twenty yards by a double pass cross play and is stopped by Ross in a pretty tackle. Paul fails to gain. Four yards are made through center, three more through right tackle, three more through the same opening, and four around left tackle. Two yards are gained around left end. It is first down. Smith throws the next runner for a loss. The line is bucked through center and again through left guard, but the five yards are not made and the ball goes to W. & L. Campbell gains five yards around right end, Haw five more around the left end. W. & L. fumbled twice but regained the ball. It is third down and the signal is given for a punt. Walker kicks twenty-five yards to Johnson who is downed in his tracks by Smith. Two yards are gained through center, two through left tackle, and ten more through right tackle. It is first down. V. M. I. loses three yards. At this point Bagley is forced to retire and Miller takes his place. A double pass fails to gain. Likewise a fake kick and the ball again goes over. V. M. I. is penalized five yards for holding. Smith skirts right end for twenty yards. Campbell gains seven through right guard and repeats the process for four more. Haw gains two yards, and then adds one more. Walker punts twenty yards, and the cadet is downed with no gain. V. M. I. now carries the ball down the field with steady line-bucking, our boys fighting for every inch. Johnson makes a pretty run around right end, after a double pass, for thirty-five yards and is tackled on the side line by Marshall. Another double pass gains fifteen yards. The same play gains twenty more and the ball goes over the goal for a touchdown, after twenty-one minutes of play. Johnson kicks goal. V. M. I. 6; W. & L. 0.

Smith kicks off to the twenty-five yard line. V. M. I. fumbles and Campbell falls on the ball. Campbell gains three yards, Haw five around right end. V. M. I. is penalized five yards for foul tackle. Trundle gains four, Haw four more, but is then thrown for a loss. It is third down on the four yard line. The signal is given for a field goal and Campbell drops back. This was W. & L.'s chance to score, but the kick is blocked and the ball is V. M. I.'s. V. M. I. now carries the ball down the field by short, steady gains. Our line seems unable to take a brace and by repeated bucking of our line, mostly on our left side through which an opening is constantly made, the ball is carried across the goal line for a second touchdown, just as time is called. Johnson fails to kick goal. V. M. I. 11; W. & L. 0.

SECOND HALF

At the beginning of the second half, Alexander goes in at left half, Campbell is changed to quarter, and Marshall retires. Johnson kicks to Haw on the ten yard line, who returns the ball fifteen yards before being downed. Haw gains five yards around left end, Trundle three more. One yard is lost on mistaken signal. Alexander advances three, and Walker punts forty yards to Johnson, who runs back thirty-five. Claggett gains three, Johnson one, two, and three yards. Milton makes four around left end. It is first down on our four yard line. Claggett gains two yards, Johnson one yard, and it is third down on our one yard line. Johnson, the indomitable, is given the ball, but our team with mighty effort push him back and V. M. I. fails to cross the line. It is W. & L.'s ball. Haw fails to gain. McNeill gains two yards. Walker punts twenty-five yards to Johnson, who is downed by Smith, with no gain. Johnson gains one, five, four yards. Milton and Paul fail to gain on double pass. Couper and Johnson gain three yards in same way. Johnson fails to gain and the ball goes to W. & L. Haw failed to gain. Trundle advances three yards and Walker punts forty to Jones, who returns seven. Claggett gains four. On the next down the ball goes over for foul play by V. M. I. Alexander gains two yards. McNeill loses one on fumble. Walker punts forty yards to Johnson, who is tackled by Smith, without gain. Smith is hurt but continues in the game. Paul gains ten yards on double pass. Johnson lost five yards on end run by Smith's tackle. Double pass brings no gain. Johnson is hurt and Jones takes his place at full. Jones punts twenty yards to Walker, who returns five. Alexander fails to gain. Haw advances two yards through left tackle. Walker punts thirty yards. The ball is fumbled and Lee falls on it. Paul gains three, Milton three, Jones one, Couper five, Milton one, Paul four, by hard line-bucking. Sinclair gains two yards, Jones and Paul advance three and ten yards through our left tackle. Four yards are lost on a fumbled double pass. Alexander is hurt and Dotson takes his place. A fake play gains four yards and Jones punts thirty to our fifteen yard line. Trundle fails to gain. Dotson makes a yard, Walker's punt is blocked, and the ball goes over. Claggett gains two, Paul one, and on third down no gain. Ball goes over. Walker punts twenty-five yards, Stone falls on the ball. Smith loses five on end run. Walker punts twenty-five to Dewey, who is downed in his tracks. Jones fails to gain on double pass, Couper gains two yards, and Jones' punt is blocked. Haw advances five more and Trundle two. Crowdus takes the place of Dewey. Dotson makes one yard and Walker punts thirty to Jones, who is downed in his tracks by Stone. The rest of the half consisted of short, live bucks by both teams with another exchange of punts, and the game was called with the ball on W. & L.'s forty yard line.

The Game

There is no place for discouragement, but rather room for encouragement over the result of Tuesday's game. It cannot be expected to overturn the record of years in a single day. There is no doubt that this year's team plays better football than any team we have ever put on the gridiron. Next season we shall have a better team, and if our athletic development continues in the ratio of the last few years, we shall soon have a football record second to none. As President Denny remarked on Wednesday morning, Tuesday's game was "the opening of a new chapter."

Y. M. C. A. Elects a New President

It is with sincere regret that the Y. M. C. A. has had to give up its president. Mr. Spencer has found it impossible to remain longer as a student in college. We all express our deepest appreciation for the work he has done in placing the department of Y. M. C. A. work on a firm basis. His efforts in its behalf have been untiring. By unanimous consent Mr. Cary R. Blain was elected to take his place.

The meeting Sunday afternoon was led by Mr. Wallace. He gave an earnest talk on prayer. "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." Special attention was called to the words "fervent," "righteous" and "availeth."

It was a great privilege to have at the meeting the Rev. Dr. Dickerman, of New Haven, Connecticut.

It will be remembered that Dr. Dickerman visited us last year as a member of the Ogden party. His address Sunday afternoon was interesting and profitable.

This has been a week of great interest and life. The series of prayer-meetings has been conducted throughout the week. They were begun on Monday night. Mr. McPheeters led the first meeting, and has been followed successively by Mr. Glasgow, Mr. McNeill, and Mr. Ralston. The attendance has been good. Probably the largest crowd that has been out this year was present Thursday night.

The usual service will be held tomorrow evening in the Y. M. C. A. hall at four o'clock. Let every man remember that the Y. M. C. A. here in Washington and Lee is made up of the students. Its success depends upon them. Then, fellows, come.

Perrow - Joynes

(Special to the Ring-tum Phi)

The marriage of Mosby G. Perrow, (W. L. U., 1897), of the Lynchburg High School, and Miss Louise Joynes, a daughter of Mr. G. G. Joynes, one of Virginia's most able and energetic superintendents of schools, was solemnized in the Baptist church of Onancock, Va., on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 11th.

On Monday evening an informal reception had been given at the house of the bride's father to several young people, among whom were Mr. Hathe, of Lynchburg, an alumnus of W. L. U., and Mr. Edgar Sydenstricker, (W. L. U., '02), principal of the Onancock High School.

The popularity of the bride and groom had excited intense interest and heartfelt good wishes on the part of the whole town, and the church was quite crowded long before the ceremony began.

The bride was very becomingly attired in a gray traveling suit; the groom in one large smile after the ceremony was over.

A large party of young people accompanied the newly married couple to the railroad station and sent them off amid a great deal of merriment—and rice.

Mr. and Mrs. Perrow were the recipients of many beautiful presents, among which were tokens of regard from several of the chapters of the Mu Pi Lambda fraternity, from President and Mrs. Denny, of Washington and Lee, and from Professor Perrow's former pupils in the Onancock High School.

The sincere congratulations and best wishes of Mr. and Mrs. Perrow's friends, both in Onancock and Lexington, go with them to Lynchburg where they will reside.

University Assembly

The usual monthly exercises were conducted in the Chapel on Wednesday morning. The speaker, Dr. Quarles, was introduced by the President, who took advantage of the occasion to make a few remarks on the theme of general interest. He gave voice to the opinion of the student-body, in his judgment of the football team of '02, and expressed his belief, that in regard to our athletics we might say, like Disraeli, that we will be heard from again.

Dr. Quarles, after expressing his relief at not having to salute his audience in an unusual way, spoke on the choice of a life work. He said that as the youth before him wished to accomplish the highest possible service with their powers, they would have to choose an occupation in which the highest was possible. If we work with things material we are on the lower plain of activity. On the higher plain we have to do with the imperishable, and here there are four professions open to us—the Law, which deals with the eternal principles of truth; Journalism, since he who expresses his thoughts in print may reach and mould millions of minds; Teaching, which gives opportunity to train minds; the Ministry, for ministers are ambassadors from the court of heaven to immortal men, God's revolted subjects.

Then and Now

In days long ago (in the sixties, you know), when Grandma went walking she held her skirts so.

What would she say, if she saw girls today, with their skirts clutched so tightly they all look this way. —Ex.

Kentucky Club

The Kentucky boys of W. L. U. met last Friday night in the room of Mr. Arthur Tabb to organize for the present session. Although there are about sixteen men from the "Dark and Bloody Ground" in college, only a dozen were present, but as this constituted a quorum, they proceeded to effect an organization.

Mr. C. R. Pilkington was elected president; Mr. F. A. Sampson, vice-president, and Mr. Marshall Duncan, secretary and treasurer. After these elections had taken place the subject of a banquet was discussed and it was decided to have one later on, a committee being appointed by the President to make arrangements.

Dr. Howe and Professor Vance were elected honorary members of the Club, as well as several of Kentucky's distinguished sons who still reside within her confines.

Intercollegiate Literary Contest

A movement is on foot to bring about closer relations between Southern college magazines, and to promote interest in college magazine work.

It is proposed to organize a Southern Association, the officers to be a president, secretary and treasurer. Any Southern college may be admitted to the Association upon the payment of $5.00 by its literary societies. The literary societies will then have authority to elect a student to represent them in an intercollegiate story-writing contest for a prize of one hundred dollars. Mr. W. A. Sutton, editor-in-chief of the Emory College (Ga.) "Phoenix," is at the head of the movement.

Graham-Lee

The regular program Saturday night was postponed for a week and the meeting devoted to the reading and adoption of numerous amendments to the constitution, recommended by a committee appointed for the purpose. These amendments dealt chiefly with matters relating to fines and the arrangement of the weekly program. Hereafter the number of regular debaters will be limited to four.

This being the night for the election of officers, Messrs. Steves and Jones were made president and vice-president, respectively.

Tonight orators and debaters for the Intermediate Celebration will be chosen.

Mr. George Foster Peabody has endowed a permanent scholarship in the graduate school of Harvard, for the benefit of some graduate of the University of Georgia.

Time was when man, as President Hadley says, had to back his words with his life. Now he has to back his words at a football game with a five dollar bill.

Washington Literary Society

The question for debate was: Resolved, That ambition is composed more of vice than of virtue. Mr. Lamar made an interesting and strong plea for the affirmative and was followed by Mr. Miller for the negative, who had his points well chosen and expressed.

The voluntary debate was lively and good. Messrs. Henderson, Lapsley and Crockett entertained the Society with their impromptu ideas.

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Hollingsworth declaimed.

The elections for the Intermediate Celebration occur tonight.

Football Notes

Manager McNulty has been successful in raising the necessary funds and Coach Balliet will be retained for the remainder of the season. The Faculty committee on athletics will provide for his salary and expenses, this being the condition upon which the amount was raised.

It is a matter of regret that the Columbian management cancelled the game for today. This leaves only the Thanksgiving game in Roanoke to complete the schedule. A special train will be run to Roanoke for the game. The rate has not been decided upon, but it will be $2.00, or probably less.

Dante's Purgatory

Dr. Currell will deliver a stereopticon lecture Tuesday night in the Chapel, on Dante's Purgatory. A general admission of 25 cents will be charged, and the proceeds devoted to athletics. Comment is unnecessary to those who have already heard Dr. Currell. It is sufficient to say to the new men that they should consider it a privilege to have this opportunity of hearing Dr. Currell.

Miss Conrad, of Roanoke, is visiting Miss Dunlap.

R. E. Brown has been sick during the past week.

Mr. Holladay entertained a number of his friends at an oyster supper last evening.

Attention is called to the advertisement of R. E. Brown in this issue. Mr. Brown is an experienced orange grower and has determined to market part of his product in this way.

If V. P. I. defeats Virginia and also the V. M. I., what team will hold the championship of this section of the Association?

Law Notes

The case of Filley against Pope, reported in 115 U. S., was argued before the Bradford Society this week. Stated shortly, it was a case where the defendant ordered a certain amount of Scotch iron to be shipped from Glasgow as soon as possible to New Orleans. After making several efforts, the Scotch firm found it impossible to obtain shipping at Glasgow, and shipped the iron by Leith instead. Though the iron arrived much sooner by this route than it could have arrived had it been sent from Glasgow, the defendant refused to receive the cargo on the ground that it had not been shipped according to contract. The Supreme Court held that the place of shipment was an essential part of the contract in this case, and decided in favor of the defendant.

Massie and Jones argued for the defendant, and McKay represented the plaintiff, his associate, E. C. Moore, being sick and unable to attend. The majority of the court decided in favor of the plaintiff, and Professor Long, who presided over the meeting, concurred in the opinion of the court.

The mere fact that a thing is stated in a contract does not necessarily mean that its performance is a condition precedent. The courts recognize certain things as of the essence of a contract while other things are immaterial. In this particular contract it is not plain how it calls for more than the delivery as soon as possible of certain identified iron at a certain price. The supposed condition that it should be shipped from Glasgow is not essential.

S. W. Hairston and D. W. Dillard, matriculates of last session in the Law School, are here engaged in special preparation for the Virginia bar examination to be held in January.
