FIELD DAY

Randolph-Macon Debate and Randolph-Macon Girls

The joint debate with Randolph-Macon will take place on next Friday night. The field-day exercises will be held on the afternoon of the same day. It is also proposed to have the Liberty Hall Volunteer memorial services on the same date. These events together with the visit of the Randolph-Macon girls from Lynchburg promises to make the day a memorable one. The program for the day will be somewhat as follows, although it has not been definitely arranged. The memorial services if held at the hall, will occur in the morning. The college girls from Lynchburg will arrive at 11 a. m., and there will be about 175 in the party. The girls will picnic on the campus for dinner, and in the afternoon will attend the field-day exercises. After dress-parade at the Institute, the college girls will be entertained at supper by various members of the faculty.

The debate will occur at 8 o'clock, and at the close of the speaking the girls will leave for Lynchburg. The admission to the debate will be 25 or 50 cents. No charge for ladies.

Washington & Lee Wins

V. P. I. 5; W. L. U. 8

The game on last Monday was, by long odds, the most satisfactory, from Washington and Lee's standpoint, that has been played on our athletic field this season.

Both teams played good ball in the field, most of the errors being excusable, and there was enough hitting to keep up the interest of the crowd at all times. The chief features were V. P. I.'s two home runs and W. & L.'s three double plays. Each team used two pitchers, Hereford and Baker doing duty for W. & L., and Shafer and Tinsley officiating for V. P. I.

V. P. I. was first to go to bat and after one man was down succeeded in filling the bases by getting a hit and two bases to first, but a double play from Shields to Bagley and Bagley to Pancake cut short their hopes.

For W. & L. this inning was short and uneventful.

After V. P. I. had been blanked in the second inning, Wash. & Lee proceeded to get in the game and make life so miserable for pitcher Shafer that he gave way to Tinsley.

A double by Boogher, singles by Pipes, Campbell and Dawson, Wysor's getting hit by a pitched ball and a triple by Pancake yielded 5 runs and practically won the game.

V. P. I. tallied twice in the third on Miles' single and Sinclair's home run over the fence. A double play prevented any further scoring.

In the fourth two more runs were scored by Carpenter's terrific drive to center field, which, aided by a wild throw, resulted in a home run.

W. & L. scored once in the same inning on two hits, a base on balls, and an error.

In the fifth, a hit and two men hit by pitched balls filled the bases for Wash. & Lee, and a timely hit by Wysor scored two runs. This ended our scoring.

The last run of the game was made by V. P. I. in the seventh and was the result of a hit followed by two errors.

In the ninth inning a pretty double play by Dawson and Pancake spoiled any further chances they might have had. With two men down, however, the bases were filled when Shafer ended the game by striking out.

The official score follows:

STATE ORATORICAL CONTEST

The State Oratorical Contest was held in Ashland on the night of May 1, in the chapel of Randolph-Macon College. The medal was awarded to Mr. J. D. McInnis of Miss., who represented the University of Virginia. The subject of his speech was "Robert E. Lee."

At the meeting of the Association the following amendments to the Constitution, offered by the representative from Washington & Lee, were adopted: "It shall be the duty of the executive committee to select three judges on composition and thought, none of the said judges being residents of the state of Virginia. In the award of the medal 65 per cent. shall be graded on delivery and 35 per cent. on composition and thought. Each contestant shall send three copies of his speech to the secretary of the Association not later than 30 days prior to the contest. These speeches shall have attached thereto a certificate of the contestant as to originality of the same and also a certificate of the president of the institution certifying the contestant as the duly accredited representative of his institution.

It shall be the duty of the secretary, upon receipt of all the speeches, delivered to him in accordance with the provisions of this section, to send one copy of each speech to the judges selected on composition and thought. The speeches when sent to said judges, shall be numbered and shall not contain the names of the contestants or the institutions which they represent. These speeches shall be graded by the judges according to number and returned to the secretary with the grades sealed. On the night of the contest, immediately after the decision of the judges on delivery, the envelopes containing the grades on composition and thought shall be opened in view of the audience and read. The different grades shall then be combined and the medal awarded."

The next contest of the Association will be held at William and Mary College.

We are daily expecting to hear of a corner on the local chicken market by some financial genius as a precursor to the coming influx of preachers.

Speakers For Randolph-Macon Debate

On last Saturday night the preliminary contest for choosing the speakers for the Randolph-Macon debate on May 15, was held in the Graham-Lee Hall. The contestants were Messrs. Day and Harvey from the Graham-Lee, and Messrs. Rolston and Wisman from the Wash. society. Messrs. Day and Rolston were selected to represent the University. Profs. Willis, Vance and Currell acted as judges.

University Assembly

The next meeting of the University Assembly, Wednesday morning May 13, will be addressed by Hon. Herbert Welsh of Philadelphia. It is believed that the entire student body and citizens of the town will be anxious to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing Mr. Welsh.

GEORGE H. DENNY,
President.

Judge Brokenborough's Portrait

The movement recently inaugurated by the Lexington bar and the law pupils of Judge Brokenborough to have an oil portrait of their associate and teacher painted and placed in the University art gallery has proved successful. The necessary amount has been raised, and the commission for the portrait given to a prominent American artist. It is expected to have the work executed by June 1, and the picture unveiled at the coming commencement, on which an appropriate address will be delivered by some member of the local bar.

Mr. McNEILL ELECTED VALEDICTORIAN

Memorial Arch

At a meeting of the Senior class on Thursday afternoon, Mr. C. C. McNeil was elected valedictorian in place of Mr. Witherspoon, resigned. The plan of erecting upon the campus some fitting memorial to the class was favorably considered, and a committee composed of Messrs. Lauck, Lamar and Warner was appointed to secure plans and specifications for some fitting memorial. It is proposed, if possible, to erect a memorial arch at the main entrance to the campus.

EDITORIAL

Hon. Herbert Welsh of Philadelphia, editor of City and State, and a philanthropist and publicist of national reputation, will deliver the address in Chapel on next Wednesday morning.

Mr. Welsh has been the most generous and disinterested friend that the University has had for many years. While on a visit to personal friends in Lexington, several years ago, he became interested in the history and traditions of the University, and convinced of the mission it could be made to fulfill in the educational movement in the South. On his return home, through the columns of his paper, he generously began a movement to raise funds for the endowment of the scientific departments, and after the death of Mr. Wilson, actively engaged in the work of raising the Wilson Memorial Fund. It was largely through his efforts that the endowment of the chair of Economics was secured.

Mr. Welsh is a pleasing, forcible and instructive speaker. The men who have been here in past years will count it a valuable privilege to hear him again; the new men who have not been so fortunate may well consider the occasion an opportunity not to be lost.

The entire University body will be glad to welcome him into their midst.

There is probably no need of urging upon the student-body the duty of carrying out the traditions of the University in regard to hospitality on the occasion of the visit of the Randolph-Macon college girls. It will be a pleasure, not a duty. It is highly important that the impressions received from their visit to the University should be pleasant, and it is hoped that every man will make it a point to make their stay a memorable one, even to the extent of sacrificing his own personal interests and plans. Should it be necessary to neglect the University duties in doing so, the faculty will surely pardon something to the spirit that prompted it. Let everybody be present at the reception and debate, and resolve to show the girls a good time and have a good time himself.

We notice in the Christian Observer that Prof. Hogue's guests to the Assembly will receive no dessert on Sunday. While the hope of receiving dessert in the next world is a pleasing one, it lies so far in the unveiled future that the average delegate will probably take his chances on his future reward and worry down a slice of pie on this side of the grave.

The taking of the course in weather prognostications, under Dr. Campbell, should be made a qualification for election to the management of the athletic teams. Much money might be saved thereby.

It is reported that Profs. Latané and Humphreys contemplate forming a Roanoke Excursion Memorial Association. Other members of the faculty are disbarred for obvious reasons.

It would be a good idea to pool funds and secure an option on the local soda fountains during the visit of the Randolph-Macon girls.

The Collegian election will be held tonight, provided either side can get a majority and entice the other into joint session.

Don't you think it is about time you were paying your subscription?

Several additional baseball games will probably be arranged with the cadets.

Editor of the RING-TUM PHI:

We have long wondered as to the possible origin of the reviews of the Collegian which have appeared from time to time in the RING-TUM PHI. But now that their source has at last been disclosed and acknowledged common with that of the idiotic "College Types," in the R. T. P., and that deplorable product of a disordered mind, "Super Focum," which recently appeared in the Collegian, we have ceased to be surprised at their character. Our only surprise since the author has divulged his identity, is that the reviews were not worse.

We believe firmly in the good effects of good, honest criticism, but we are as firmly convinced of the ill effects of articles—they are not criticisms—such as those to which we have reference. Take for example the last one. The author tells us that one piece "is all right, but—". Of another he remarks that it would "make good reading for two in a hammock on a dark summer's night." Nowhere in his article does he point out a merit or defect in any part of the Collegian. His time is occupied with such weak and inexcusable ridicule as that just quoted. No where does he attempt to substantiate his sarcasm with fact or reason. The effect of this kind of work can only be demoralizing to forces lending to the production of a respectable magazine and productive of bad impressions wherever read. No matter how weak the articles in the Collegian, they are the embodiment of honest effort and as such demand pure and honest, if adverse, criticism.

How true the Carlyle-lamented fact "that every well-fledged goose must lay its goose egg"! One 'egg' might have been borne in silence, but a whole nest equally rotten—never! Fair play demands that this 'goose' be suppressed before the 'golden egg' of this season is dropped upon a long-suffering student-body.

We understand that the last number of the Collegian has been issued and we congratulate this disgrace to the goose family, that he laid his last egg before he cackled. Otherwise he might have croaked.

Not to Meet Virginia This Year

The game with Virginia has been cancelled owing to the indebtedness of the baseball management. After it was found impossible to play in Lynchburg under the athletic regulations, the Virginia management generously consented to guarantee the expenses of a game in Charlottesville, but, although this guarantee was available cash as far as the game itself was concerned, under (a), Rule 6, all outstanding obligations of the athletic association must first be paid. This was found to be impossible, and the game was abandoned. Following is the rule relative to the case in point:

6. An athletic team will not be permitted to leave Lexington to play a match-game, except on the following conditions:

(a) Every outstanding obligation of the athletic association must have been already paid.

(b) There must be in the treasury of the association to the credit of the team an amount of available cash sufficient to cover the necessary expenses of the trip to be made, as estimated by the members of the faculty committee on physical culture. Any amount guaranteed by a competing team, or by other responsible parties, may be regarded as available cash.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting was conducted last Sunday by S. M. Glasgow. It was one of the best student talks that the Association has had this year.

He gave an interesting historical account of the watchman on the walls of the ancient city. From this vantage ground he proclaimed to the people within the walls with his trumpet the approach of danger. He must watch, keep his trumpet in good condition and sound the alarm, or suffer for failure to discharge his duty.

He showed that the Christian is now the "watchman on the walls of Zion," with the power to speak and do for Christ among sinners.

Christ holds each watchman responsible for the use of his opportunities. The failure of Christ's watchmen to blow the trumpet entails irreparable loss upon Zion. "For if the trumpet gives an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle."—I Cor. 14-8.

The watchman blows the trumpet, the results are in the keeping of Jehovah.

Virginia Gym. Team and Glee Club

A generous proposition has been received by the physical director from the management of the U. Va. Gymnasium Team and Glee Club, looking toward the giving of an entertainment here in the near future. The offer will probably be accepted, and an exhibition and concert given in the gymnasium.

"Smut" Smith is spending a few days at home before taking up his work in West Virginia.

Reception at the President's Home

One of the most delightful receptions of the year was that given by Mrs. Denny, Tuesday night in honor of Miss Elizabeth Guy of Washington, D. C., guest of Miss Bessie Pogue.

The charm and grace of the hostess created an atmosphere of hospitality and homelikeness that made the evening a pleasure to every one present.

Misses Evelyn Nelson, Elizabeth Ross, Sallie Preston, Elizabeth and Mary Barclay helped receive, and assisted by a number of young ladies, served light refreshments to the guests in exchange for "sweet nothings" from the bold, and smiles and blushes from the bashful.

Mrs. Vance, in her pleasing and inimitable manner, served at the punch bowl. Due to the server and the served, 'tis needless to say that her's was one of the most popular centers during the evening.

The floral decorations were red lilies, snow balls, and a species indigenous to the soil of Lexington, especially adapted to mural ornamentation. A full list of those present cannot be given, so when you read this interesting part, just swell the number by the consciousness of the fact that you were present. A few were Messrs. Bagley, Conrad, Arbuckle, Scott, Howell, McCrum, Glasgow, Moffett, Pendleton, Rader, Henderson, Tarr, Blain, Jones, Warner, Holliday, Caperton, Haw, Gibbs, Shields, Pipes, Guthrie, Spindle, Tabb, Bledsoe, McNulty, Steves, Osburn, Grasty, Buzby, Trundle, Hamilton and Lauck; and Profs. Crow and Latané.

The Calyx

All the matter for the Calyx is now in the hands of the printer and it is thought that it will be ready for distribution by May 25. The book will contain many original features among which will be a number of pictures in tints and colors. The book will be reviewed in detail next week.

Ewing Sloan, '00, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Prof. Humphreys.

Novelty Concert

A good crowd of students and town people attended the musical entertainment given by Mr. N. Floyd Featherston last Monday night. The program consisted chiefly of performances on novelty instruments of all kinds. The whole performance was of a popular nature and Mr. Featherston was repeatedly encored.

The ease with which he manipulated the large number of instruments was remarkable and showed great skill on his part.

Perhaps the most amusing piece during the evening was his rendition of a couple of popular airs in all the various tempos of music. If such entertainments as these are always brought here, the old complaint of small audiences will cease to be heard. We understand that the boat committee raised a considerable contribution for the new boat in this way.
