THE RING-TUM PHI.

BY THE STUDENTS AND FOR THE STUDENTS.

VOL. VII

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1903

NO. 2

Football Notes.

We should say at the beginning that our prospects are much brighter than for many years. Beside having eight of last year's team back, our back-field is greatly strengthened by Bledsoe, captain of the team of 1900, and sub-end on the the All-Southern for that season. Of these old men nothing will be said; in lividually, they have proven themselves worthy, and with last season's experience they ought to put up a game that "you read about."

As a candidate for center Douglas is putting up a strong game, followed closely by Whipple, who played that position in '01.

At guard, Jones, by reason of his greater weight and experience, has so far been the most effective, but Rankine, Hamilton and Dunlap are there to see that he has no "cinch."

In the position of tackle, Lewis is playing an exceptionally strong game for a new man in a new place. Other men aspiring to this position are Withers, Stone and Hut-ton.

On the ends, while our material is mostly light, it is showing that dash and pluck, which are very essential qualities for that position. Campbell, last season's quarterback, is putting up a strong game in this new position, and Dawson is playing with the same vim and certainty of tackle that characterized his playing last year. Other men playing good, fast games are Smiley, Masterson, Bagley, McPheters, Baer and Hollingsworth.

At quarterback only one new man has thus far shown the essential qualities, and this is Parry Alexander, who will keep Marshall hustling to hold his position.

In the back-field Moomaw is the only man at present holding up the Freshman colors on the 'Varsity, L. rrick being out of the game on account of a sprained knee. Other men playing in this territory are Campbell and Quisenberry.

Just a word to the "scrubs": The last few evenings has shown a marked improvement in their playing, and this will continue if they come out regularly and work hard. Every one ought to consider it a pleasant duty to come out and work for the team. A good "scrub" team makes the 'Varsity. Let me impress upon every one that no position is fixed on the first team and no man will go unnoticed who does hard and constant work on the scrubs.

To the student body I may say we believe we are going to have a winning team, but money is needed to carry on a successful season. Enthusiasm, too, is very necessary. Why not have some songs and class yells? When we work hard each evening in the week to carry the name of Washington and Lee to the front will you not support us on the days of our games with a little song or two?

*With hard work and consistency,
Money, and a sufficiency,*

we will make this the year of years for W. & L. U. in football.

A. D. TRUNDLE.

Miss Murray's Entertainment

On Thursday night, Sept. 24, Miss Amy Murray, an American lady of Scotch parentage, who has spent several years in Scotland, gave a delightful entertainment in the way of Scotch songs, Scotch folk-lore, etc., in the Chapel of Washington and Lee University. The audience, composed chiefly of Scotch-Irish Lexington people, highly appreciated her.

The entertainment was given for the benefit of student athletics of the University, but the students were conspicuously absent.

Mr. F. A. Eddins, representative of J. B. and W. H. Wood of Charlottesville, Va., is at the Lexington hotel this week with a fine display of Woolens, Men's Wearing Apparel, etc.

Everybody go to the University chapel tonight to hear Mr. N. Floyd Featherstone, the Society Entertainer of the National Capital. Its to help the football management.

Graham-Lee Literary Society.

The Graham-Lee Literary Society held its second regular meeting Saturday evening, Sept. 19th. After the usual preliminaries the following officers were elected for the present term:

M. T. McClure, Jr., President; C. N. Hobson, Vice-President; C. R. Blain, Treasurer. Mr. Blain was also chosen an associate editor of the Southern Collegian. E. C. Crum was elected RING-TUM PHI reporter.

The literary program was then taken up, and although the orator for the evening was unable to be present, the rest of the program was well rendered. Thus setting a standard which, if equaled the remainder of the year, cannot help but bring the Society to the front and greatly benefit its members individually as well as collectively.

The Society holds its regular meetings every Saturday evening at 8. Every man in college is welcome to attend.

The Graham-Lee Literary Society held its regular meeting Saturday evening, Sept. 26. The inauguration of the officers took place. M. T. McClure, Jr., the president delivered a very interesting inaugural address, after which he made his appointments for the present term.

After the election of members the following literary program was rendered; an oration by J. F. Bouchelle. His subject "The Modern Hypocrite," was most ably discussed, "The Gift of Tritemius," was declaimed. The subject, "Resolved that the white citizens of the Southern States should use all peaceable means to insure their political supremacy, was then discussed, and ably defended on the negative.

The society, after transacting some business, adjourned.

Will the students go to a great musical treat by Mr. N. Floyd Featherstone tonight? He will entertain you.

Law Notes.

The session of 1903-4 has opened most auspiciously for the law school. Although the school has suffered a serious loss through the resignation of Prof. Vance, his place is being ably filled by Mr. Hugh A. White, a prominent member of the Lexington Bar, who is instructing the class in corporations, and Mr. Stuart Chevalier, (B. L. '03) who is teaching the subject of contracts.

The new Dean of the Law School, Prof. Burks, needs no introduction to the students of the University, or the members of the legal profession in this State. That the management of the Law Department is in able and capable hands everyone agrees, and it is confidently expected by those interested, that this department of the University work will continue to grow and prosper under the new regime.

Nothing definite has as yet been given out as to the plan for permanently filling the vacancy in the Law Faculty but as the present arrangement with Messrs. White and Chevalier is to continue only for the present term, it is probable that a permanent successor to Mr. Vance will be elected shortly, and that he will assume the duties of his position with the beginning of the second term.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting of the Association was addressed last Sunday afternoon by Rev. Dr. Whaling, his subject being "The Importance of Mission Study."

He showed that Missions are worth study, no less than Greek, English, Physics, Chemistry and Psychology; that Missions require study, since no one can comprehend them in their entirety without study and investigation; and that they repay study.

There will be two courses of Missions open to the students of this University, under the direct supervision of the Y. M. C. A.

The Sigma ribbon society has been putting Worthen, Alexander and Duncan through some stunts.

EDITORIAL

Class traditions are wont to be represented to the plastic freshman as obligations bound to be borne by every younger son of Alma Mater; to abrogate a custom of long standing would be as nefarious a proceeding as ever distinguished a freak. But exalted sentiments and untoward facts will sometimes clash, and it is a plain awkward fact that the performance of classes '06 and '07 on the third floor of main building some ten nights ago is not to be passed over with a smile of pitying indulgence. The damage on that occasion may in part be estimated; it is largely of a character to defy appraisal. Here is an authoritative computation:

Damage done to ceiling and plastering	$100
Damage to electric lights, glass, furniture and books	$50 to 100
Total	$150 to $200

Beyond these minor damages a very serious feature of the affair is the injury sustained to private manuscripts, some of which were found in tatters on the floor, among them parts of magazine and other articles whose publication is thus indefinitely delayed: this in itself is no small consideration; it will require two weeks extra work on the part of the author to replace them. Another great disadvantage occasioned by the affair is the loss of time in the work of the advanced classes, in whose library the contest partly took place; this is thrown back at least four days,—a loss of time that is simply incalculable to many of the men.

This is the official, authoritative statement of the damage done the department of Economics and the University by the sophomore-freshmen contest of 1903-'04. Such wholesale and wanton destruction of property is condoned neither by upholders of college spirit nor by common sense; as classes and as individuals, '06 and '07 are responsible for the damage done to the University property, and as men they should acknowledge the obligation. The unwritten code of Washington and Lee has never yet sanctioned vandalism.

It may not be known to all the men in college but it is a fact nevertheless that $100 is still due on the boat purchased last year. A note for this this amount has been given by ten of the students and endorsed by three of the professors. If this sum is not raised in some manner these gentlemen will have the debt to pay. Miss Annie White has consented to give a play in the spring for this purpose and wishes all the men in college who have any ability in this line, or who are willing to lend their assistance, to notify her at once in order that she may know upon whom to depend, and that she may begin formulating plans and selecting a play.

RING-TUM PHIS were sent last week to a good many men in the University who are not subscribers, and a large number will be sent out this week, both to students and alumni, and we will be very much pleased to have both students and alumni send in their subscriptions AT ONCE, as we will not send any more sample copies.

Students desiring to take the paper will please hand their names to the BUSINESS MANAGER or the Assistant Business Manager or to any one of the board of editors.

Any alumnus can get the paper by sending us name, address and $1.50, or by stating when they wish to remit.

The candidates and their friends are to be commended for the clean and honorable campaign which they conducted in the race for the Final Ball Presidency. In most elections which are so hotly contested animosities are liable to arise, especially among young men whose zeal often overcomes their discrea-tion. In this case however nothing unpleasant arose and the respective sides had the kindest feeling for their opponents and a respect for their loyalty and fighting ability.

Inasmuch as the student body has selected a president, it is now their duty to aid him, in every way possible, to make the ball a success for it is not his ball but theirs, and the more brilliant it is, the greater is their honor. For this reason it should be a personal matter with every man in college to put his shoulder to the wheel, and then help a fellow student to bring credit to themselves and honor the University.

It may sound like the same old story to say that you must support athletics, but it is a story which can not be too often told nor too well learned. Athletics depend altogether upon student support. The best team in the country will be a failure without it for a good football or base-ball team costs money, to say nothing of the inspiration gained in their contests by the knowledge that the whole student body is behind them.

So every man in college should feel it incumbent upon him to go to the games, sing, root in a gentlemanly manner, and last but not least contribute as liberally as possible to the coach fund. This is not in the nature of a sermon, but merely a word to the wise, and we hope that it with other words which have been spoken by others will prove sufficient.

"Snakes" Organize.

On Tuesday the West Virginia Club met and elected the following officers: W. A. McCorkle of Charleston, son of ex-Governor McCorkle, president; R. A. Douglas of Overfield, vice-president; W. D. Hereford of St. Albans, secretary and treasurer. Exalted offices, from a West Virginia standpoint, were also conferred upon Riley Wilson and Robert Baker.

The membership of the club will exceed 30 this year. It seems very probable that the mayor of Lexington will be able to pave another street this year.

Roy Mitchell, a well known W. & L. alumnus of this county is the Democratic nominee for the House of Delegates for Rockbridge. The RING-TUM PHI wishes him success.

Tuesday's Hop.

The informal hop which was given last Tuesday night under the auspices of the Cotillion Club was in every way a success. Music was furnished by Jim Jackson's aggregation of dusky musicians, and the V. M. I. band was conspicuous by its absence.

The V. M. I. band was not employed last Tuesday because of their ineffectual efforts to corner the Lexington music market, and so force the Cotillion Club into signing a contract for the ensuing year and for finals as well. It will be remembered that on the occasion of the opening hop, after the band had been employed for the evening and every arrangement had been made for the dance, Mr. Krause, the diplomatic representative of the V. M. I. band came to the President of the Cotillion Club and told him that unless a contract was signed immediately for the year, the band refused to play. This alternative was presented only a few minutes before the dance was to begin. It was from their point of view well timed, because they thought rather than fail on the first dance, the Cotillion Club would agree to anything. No agreement however, was signed.

Among those present at the dance were: Miss Brockenbrough with Mr. Smiley, Miss Tucker with Mr. Grasty, the Misses Gadsden with Messrs. Day and Caperton, Miss Williams of Richmond with Mr. Hartman, Miss Davis with Mr. Osborne, Miss Jordan with Mr. J. R. H. Alexander, Miss Haskins with Mr. Dawson, Miss Wilson with Mr. Baker, Miss Purcell with Mr. Ridgeley, Miss Ridgeley with Mr. Marshall. Stag: Messrs. Causey, Martin, Wolff, Cakie, Hobbie, Sneed, Worthen, Alexander, Duncan, Withers, Steve, McCulloch, Smith, Merritt, Henderson, Browning, Semmes, Wills. From the V. M. I. Captains Cabell, Stockdell and Paul, and cadets Claggett, Thompson, Gordon and Lowridge.

Miss Annie White and Mrs. Howe acted as chaperones.

Subscribe for the RING-TUM PHI at once and get all the University news. You can send your paper to the home folks; they will be pleased to get it, and it will save writing letters.

Personals

Mr. J. Preston Allan left Saturday for Thomasville, Ga., where he will teach in Young's Female college during the session now opening.

Staunton News: Rev. Dr. J. A. Quarles of Washington and Lee, spent Sunday night with Judge Harrison. On Sunday he conducted children's day service at Hebron Church.

Mrs. E. Miles Gadsden and th Misses Gadsden returned yesterday to their home in Washington after spending the summer in Lexington. Mrs. Susan P. Lee accompanied them to Washington.

Washington Literary Society

The meeting for Sept. 19th was full of interest. Mr. Rolston gave an excellent oration, "The Time of Truth"; Mr. Gruver rendered an effective declamation. The question, "Resolved, That the United States government is unsuited to the administration of colonial dependencies," was debated by Messrs. Grubb, Wiseman, Williams and Neel, while Messrs. Hartman and Miller came in as volunteers. The decision was two to one for the negative.

Last Saturday night, Sept. 26, was no whit behind in spirited contest. After declamations by Messrs. Armstrong, Magruder, Witt and Cooper, as no orators were present the debate was begun. Of the regular debaters Messrs. Duncan, R. D. Thompson and Irons were present, and following their well presentations came a number of suggestions from voluntary speakers. The question, "Resolved, That reading the Bible in public schools should be prohibited," was decided in the negative.

At the close of the session a number of new members were received.

Our football team left for Charlottesville yesterday morning where they played the University of Virginia this afternoon. The game will be reported in next week's RING-TUM PHI. While we shall probably be defeated by U. Va., we nevertheless expect our team to "give them a run for their money," and have no doubt that when the game is reported it may be discovered that the W. & L. U. boys did credit to themselves.

The Staunton—W. L. U. Game.

The baseball game which was played Wednesday the 23rd, in Staunton between a picked team of Washington and Lee players and the Staunton team, which by the way defeated U. Va., this week by the score of 3 to 0, resulted in the score of 4 to 1 in favor of the latter. This result, however, might have been expected when it is remembered that it was the first time the Washington and Lee players had been on a diamond or handled a ball since last session. But in spite of the fact that they were out of practice the Washington and Lee boys put up a fast, snappy and almost errorless game. Up to the 5th inning the score stood 1 to 1, and although the Staunton team forged ahead in the following inning it was anybody's game until the last ball was pitched. By a little timely batting the W. L. U. men would have won easily, but as usual our men seemed to be weak in this one respect. The features of the game were, Dawsons playing at short, Pipes catch of a long drive to left field, and the pitching of both Johnson and Baker.

The interest which is being now manifested in base-ball, and right in the midst of the foot-ball season too, augurs well for our prospects next spring. There are already some 50 odd men who have expressed their intention to try for the team. Many of these are taking advantage of the fall practice which Captain Dawson has inaugurated here this session. It is not thought an exaggeration to say that there will be at least seventy five candidates out next spring trying for places on the team and as every position stands open for the best man there will be a fair field for all.
