CLASS WARFARE.

Freshmen Defeat Upper Classmen.

At 10:30 Monday night about fifty Upper Classmen met on the campus and drew up resolutions condemning the Freshmen for their freshness, and for the destruction of property on Halloween night. The resolutions contained orders that Freshmen in coming to or going from college should use the walk from the chapel to the main building until Christmas. The resolutions were posted on the bulletin board and in other conspicuous places. Tuesday morning a number of Freshmen obeyed the orders and came to college by way of the Chapel walk.

The freshman, as a class, objected to the resolutions and president Gibbs called a meeting of the class for four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Immediately the presidents of the '04, '05, '06, Junior and Senior 1w classes called a mass meeting of Upper Classmen at 3:45 to break up the Freshmen meeting. This caused the Freshmen to meet at 2 o'clock in Tucker Hall. They decided to oppose the Upper Classmen, and a committee was appointed to draw up an answer to the resolutions of the Upper Classmen condemning them, which was to be reported to the class at 4 o'clock.

By 3:30 men began to gather on the campus in anticipation of a fight and by 4 o'clock there were some seventy-five Freshmen and about twenty-five Upper Classmen. At 4 o'clock as President Gibbs came from the Greek room, he and several other Freshmen were captured by Upper Classmen and taken to the Graham-Lee hall where they were held as prisoners. The Freshmen upon discovering that their president had been captured rushed to the rescue, but the Upper Classmen had barricaded the doors to the main building and rescue was impossible. Attempts were then made to batter down the doors. As it was feared that college property might be destroyed, President Gibbs was released on the understanding that the fighting should cease.

The Freshmen were then allowed to enter the building, as they desired to hold a meeting in Professor Nelson's room. Several Upper Classmen tried to enter the room and a shoving match ensued. Dr. Currell appeared and acting as a peace maker, persuaded the Upper Classmen to allow the Freshmen to hold their meeting without interference.

At the meeting the committee appointed to draw up an answer to the Upper Classmen's resolutions, reported resolutions which were adopted. They denied that '07 as a class had taken part in the Night Shirt Parade, or in the disturbance Halloween night. They further stated that both these occurrences were led by Upper Classmen, who were now trying to place the blame on the class of 1907. After adopting these resolutions the class decided to go on the walk from Newcomb Hall to the Lee Memorial church in a body.

About 100 Upper Classmen waited on the campus for the Freshmen, and when it was seen that an attempt was to be made by the Freshmen to go down the walk, it was decided to keep them off if possible. The Freshmen over 100 strong came out of the main building and started towards the church. About fifty Upper Classmen gathered on the walk to oppose their progress. Then the real fight began. A melee followed in which Freshmen and Upper Classmen were thrown off the walk to go rolling down the bank, only to come back to be thrown off again or to throw some one else off. It was give and take for fifteen minutes of hard, good natured, shoving, tackling, fighting until the walk was clear of Freshmen. The Freshmen then gave their yell and the fight recommenced. This time when it ended the mob was at the church and both sides claimed the victory. But neither side was satisfied, so the Freshmen said they would go back to Newcomb Hall to just show their superiority. Back they started and the fight was on again. This time it was a straight continuous fight. The president of '07 was captured and the Freshmen missing their leader, went after him. They secured him, and then came back and fought harder than ever. Yard after yard they forced the Upper Classmen towards Newcomb, by their superior numbers and strength. Just as Newcomb was nearly reached a Freshman was hurt, and President Gibbs told his men to cease, but they were near enough to Newcomb to receive full credit as the victors.

The fight lasted over an hour and was characterized for the good nature that prevailed on both sides. Nobody was seriously injured. About 150 men took part, of which one hundred were Freshmen, and fifty Upper Classmen, principally from '05 and '04. About one hundred other Upper Classmen stood by and noticed the Freshmen defeat their classmates.

Washington Literary Society

The program for Oct. 31 was rendered exclusively by new men and the result was all that could be desired.

As declaimers Messrs. Gibbs and Ritenoor gave "The Raven" and "Ebenezer Cornsilk to his Constituents," respectively. Mr. Stephenson selected as the subject of his oration "The New South," and handled it with grace and vigor. Mr. Semple gave an admirable character sketch of Aaron Burr.

The debate on the question, "Resolved, That the State should furnish books and other school supplies to pupils of its public schools," was well contested by Messrs. Opie and Throckmorton of the affirmative, and Messrs. McBryde and Douglas of the negative.

If you do not encourage athletics by going to the Chapel to the different concerts, lectures, etc., you must not kick if we do not have a successful baseball season.

Hallowe'en Party

Hallowe'en night a crowd of about 75, composed mostly of Freshmen, gathered at the main building of the University and held a Hallowe'en party. Every room in the main building with the exception of Professor Hogue's was entered and "stacked." Benches, tables and chairs were piled high in the middle of the room, and stoves and stovepipes were taken down and added to the heap. Special attention was paid to the rooms of Dr. Quarles, Dr. Crow and Dr. Latane. In Dr. Quarles' room the table containing Philosophy lectures was overturned, and all papers were strewn on the floor. In Dr. Crow's room a desk containing examination papers was rifled and the papers destroyed. The blackboards were decorated and oiled. A wagon was also placed in this room bearing the inscription "Jim Crow Car." Dr. Latane's room was transformed from a Hall of History into a stable, and sheltered for the night one of the village cows that ramble on the campus.

Leaving the University the crowd sought for other rambling cows to conquer. They found, however, the two village policemen, and a lengthy verbal war took place; after which the crowd divided into small groups, who contented themselves with the removal of gates and the destruction of electric lights.

Maryland Club.

The Marylanders held their October meeting in Mr. A. D. Trundle's room, last Friday night. Of the eighteen members fourteen were present and spent a very enjoyable evening talking and eating. At a late hour Vice-President, R. E. L. Kollb, made a few remarks and invited the men to hold their November meeting in his room, the night before Thanksgiving. The men then thanked the host for his kind considerations and adjourned.

Don't forget the concert at the Chapel tonight.

EDITORIAL

In another column of the RINGTOW PHI an account of the celebration of last Saturday night is given. But this account does not tell of all of the lawlessness manifested, nor of the property injured. While the damage did not amount to a large financial sum, nevertheless the spirit displayed was the same as if it had amounted to thousands of dollars. Vandalism is never the manifestation of college or class spirit, nor is the destruction of property the true manner of celebrating a festive occasion, and we do not believe that those who participated in this affair would have acted as they did had they taken a second thought. The above mentioned article states that the crowd was for the most part composed of Freshmen, but quite a number of Upper Classmen were also included. As to Freshmen there is always some excuse, but for the others there is but little—and that is, that their acts were not malicious but, from their viewpoint, funny. They should discourage rather than aid and abet such performance.

The students will tonight have an opportunity of affording themselves much pleasure, and the athletic association great assistance, by attending the concert at the Chapel. From all that can be learned this is a first class musical organization.

It is a noticeable fact that those who are continually complaining of offering from ennui because of the dullness of the town and the lack of amusements here, are the ones who do not attend what does come. But it is to be hoped that they will get otherwise tonight and turn out in full force, and that the other students will do the same.

The class "scrap" of last Monday was a very exciting affair and one that was carried on with the utmost good nature. Such a fight not only increases the spirit of the respective classes, but also increases their respect for their opponents; brings them closer together and makes a college spirit which would not otherwise exist. Such a fight is also less dangerous than those for the right of painting the statue on the main building.

Baseball Game.

The so-called Scrubs defeated the Varsity baseball team last Monday afternoon by a score of 10 to 9. All of the men played good ball considering the lack of practice and the lateness of the season. The prospects are excellent for next season, and every member of Varsity team will have to work hard to retain his position.

It took place in a dairy. The milkman was pouring milk through a fine wire sieve. Hundreds of microbes were caught in the meshes. Other microbes sat on the edge of the crack and looked sorrowful. Their relations were being strained. Ex.

"Of all idiotic yells, this is the worst," says an exchange. "Well man, sick man, dead man—stiff; dig 'em up, cut 'em up, what's the diff? Humorous, tumorous, blood and gore; Syracuse Medicos, 1904."

The typhoid fever patients are rapidly recovering. No new cases have been reported for two weeks. It is now thought that the epidemic, if it may be called such, is about over.

The Cotillion Club will give its Thanksgiving german Wednesday night, Nov. 25th. There will be quite a number of visiting girls and all are anticipating a beautiful and enjoyable cotillion.

What is the difference if the football team did disband if we can have such scrimmages as that of Tuesday.

Question: Resolved, That the Treaty with Cuba now before Congress ought to be ratified.

BRIEF FOR AFFIRMATIVE

I. Review of events leading up to treaty with Cuba.

II. We are under a moral obligation to advance Cuba's interests for, a. The Platt amendment makes Cuba dependent on us; b. This amendment gives us great advantages in Cuba.

III. This treaty would not injure the sugar trade of the U. S., for, a. Sugar costs as much in Cuba as it does here; b. Labor is equally as high; c. The reduction is so small that it would be scarcely felt by us.

IV. It would benefit the United States commercially; a. A benefit to Cuba means a benefit to American capital invested there; b. It makes a broader market for United States.

V. It would benefit the United States politically; a. By giving a better hold on Cuba; b. By giving a greater influence over Latin America.

BRIEF FOR NEGATIVE

I. History of our Reciprocity. a. In general. b. With Cuba.

II. The Treaty would not be beneficial; a. To Cuban producer, and b. Would do no more for Cuban consumer than tariff reduction; c. It would injure United States consumer and, c. Would do little good to manufacturers in general.

III. It would be detrimental; a. To other countries by shutting off their trade. (1) With Cuba; (2) With United States; b. It would hurt our government; (1) Reduction in revenue.

IV. It would almost destroy certain domestic industries; a. Tobacco. (1) Is produced at less cost in Cuba; (2) Hence, would check our production; (3) Hence, close factories; (4) Hence, throw labor out of employment; b. Sugar. (1) Is produced in Cuba at less cost; (2) Hence, must have protection; (3) Dingley bill protects; (4) Hence, we shall be able to produce our own sugar.

V. We are not under obligations to Cuba; a. Because McKinley's promise does not bind us; b. Platt amendment does not bind us, but (1) It allows Cuban Reciprocity with other countries, and (2) Prevents Cuba from transferring her sovereignty to foreign powers.

VI. Whole plan a scheme of monopoly; 1. Sugar Trust would get large part of reduction; b. Sugar Trust working for the treaty.

Bradford Law Debate

The Bradford Law Debating Society met Thursday night, Nov. 5, at 8 o'clock. The question for discussion being one of contracts, Mr. Chevalier presided over the meeting.

The case for argument was Cuddy v. Lindsay, Hopkins cases 369, and involved the question of the rights of an innocent purchaser for value from a fraudulent party of goods obtained by fraud and mistake of facts, brought about by misrepresentations on the part of such fraudulent party.

Counsel for the appellant, Cuddy, were Messrs. Hartman and Dailey, and for the appellee, Lindsay, Messrs. Duncan and English. The court consisted of Messrs. McKay, chief justice, and Hudspeth, Bradham, Phillips and Lee, associate justices. After hearing the argument of attorneys the court decided in favor of the appellee, McKay, C. J., and Hudspeth, J., dissenting. Mr. Chevalier then delivered his opinion, sustaining the majority of the court, basing his opinion, however, upon the finding of fact by the jury in the lower court.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

The librarian requests that whoever has had Vol. 7 of the World's Best Orations since the opening of the session will return it at once as others wish to see it.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. services last Sunday were conducted by Cary Blain.

He gave a careful review of the early ministry of Jesus to give the setting of Luke 9:51. "And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, He steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem."

The two purposes for which Christ came—perfect life and atonement—were adhered to with steadfastness of purpose and perfect determination.

He emphasized the fact that there is for every student a great life work, its character can be ascertained by a careful study of the Bible and by communion with God, and that having found our work we should set about it with earnestness and purpose.

He closed with these words: "Keeping always before us the fact that we have a mission to perform and understanding clearly what that mission is, let us with Christ as our example and the Holy Spirit as our guide and strengthener, steadfastly set our faces to accomplish the work that is given us to do, and to show ourselves good and faithful servants."

Notice—University Assembly

The next meeting of the University Assembly will be held on Wednesday morning, November 11th, at 8:45 a. m. Professor H. Parker Willis will deliver the address.
