A GOOD SHOWING

Fast Practice—Coach Arrives

The baseball squad is now able to get on the field, the preliminary practice having been held on the front campus. Nearly 30 men have signed the pledge and are working hard for places. A practice game will be played this afternoon when the team's strength will show up in its true light. The pitchers are making a good showing already. Such an interest as is being shown forecasts a very brilliant season.

The first game has been scheduled for next Thursday with Miller school. As usual the student body will turn out well, but this time it will be with an abundance of new yells and catchy songs.

After an unavoidable delay a baseball coach has been finally secured by Manager Withers and Captain Dawson. Negotiations with Mr. Harry Cooper of Charleston, W. Va., were closed on Thursday when the contract was made. The new coach arrived today and will take charge of the squad on Monday, when rigid practice will be started in order to get the team in good condition for the game on Thursday.

Coach Cooper is regarded as a good all-around player by competent judges, but stands even higher as a fast in-fielder. His excellent record at the University of West Virginia bears this out as does his playing in the Pacific Coast League where his batting average came up near the 400 mark. W. & L. is fortunate in getting Mr. Cooper, and it is to be hoped that money enough to keep him here the entire season will be readily subscribed.

Neither of the literary societies held meetings Saturday night, thereby giving their members a chance to see the play. Elections in both societies will be held tonight to choose final orators.

The first Varsity Institute "gym" contest will be hotly contested. See it by all means.

New Life in the Glee Club.

The meeting of the Glee Club held last Tuesday evening at the residence of Dr. Reid White was called for the purpose of effecting a more permanent and useful organization. The men seemed to appreciate the necessity of maintaining the highest possible standard, or of giving up the work entirely. The urgency for a more effective co-operation was met, it is thought, by the election of the following officers and committees, whose duties have been clearly outlined in the new constitution adopted by the Club: President, G. W. Keller; vice-president, A. Steves, Jr.; manager, G. C. Moseley; director, M. J. Anders; vice-director, W. A. Webb; executive committee, G. W. Keller, A. Steves, Jr., and Mercer Hartman; music committee, W. A. Webb, R. A. Douglas, C. S. Nichols and G. R. LeGore.

Three rehearsals under the direction of Dr. Reid White, the honorary director, will be held weekly.

The new executive committee is at work attempting to secure three new voices to reinforce the tenor. The committee will appreciate any suggestions from the student body. The music committee has received a complete lot of new music and rehearsals have begun in earnest.

Manager Moseley has under advisement the proposition for an engagement in Roanoke after the examinations. The Club also expects to render the sacred music for the Chapel events of the '04 Commencement.

Concert April 1.

The Ithaca Conservatory Concert Company will have a crowded house on April 1, not only because the proceeds go to athletics, but also because the company are proficient musicians, having established their reputation in previous concerts at the Chapel. There is still another reason for keeping that evening clear of all other engagements. Examinations will have been finished and the music will prove a boon to over-taxed minds.

GYMNASTIC CONTEST

W. & L. vs. V. M. I. March 19

The managers of the V. M. I. and of the W. L. U. "Gym" teams have arranged to hold a contest on Saturday evening, March 19. It is to be regretted that it had to be put off until so near examinations, but it was impracticable to have it sooner.

Our team was chosen about the middle of February and has been in regular training since. The men are in good physical condition and the work is greatly superior to any that has ever been done by a W. & L. team. From present prospects we have every reason to expect success. The contest will be held in the W. & L. gymnasium. Admission 50c. Proceeds beyond expenses will be devoted to athletics. Let every one be present. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. E. S. Boice, manager, or at Graham's.

The following men are on our team: Stone (Captain), Alexander, D. W., Withers, H. W., Landis, Boice (Manager), Chafce, Shaefer, Larrick, J. H., Withers, A. M., Moffett.

A Financial Success.

"The Private Secretary" was a financial as well as a dramatic success. Ticket sales for the second production on Saturday night ran above $80, the audience being composed largely of Cadets and townspeople.

Those who saw the play on both nights declare that the second production fully eclipsed the first. The individual acting, especially of the young ladies, was beyond criticism. Several flash-lights were taken of scenes from the play at the close of the performance.

Miss Annie White is considering a proposition to take the play to Staunton, Buena Vista, Harrisonburg, Roanoke and other cities. It would do more toward advertising the University than an extended baseball tour.

Privileges Abused

[COMMUNICATED]

For some months past the editors of the RING-TUM PHI have from time to time been directing the attention of the students to certain flagrant abuses of their reading room privileges. We are sorry to see that the well meant efforts of the editors have so far been unsuccessful. Magazines are still taken out of the reading room and are not returned. Worse than this they are often badly mutilated. Articles are torn out, pages are cut in two, and the prettiest pictures are stolen from some of the leading magazines. This renders them absolutely unfit for binding and necessitates, therefore, the purchase of new periodicals. These last abuses are so dastardly that they must be confined to a very small number of students and we trust we shall have the co-operation of the student body in the detection of the wrong-doers, who will be debarred from the privileges of the reading room for the rest of the season.

If, however, the abuses continue the committee will be forced to remove all of the periodicals from the reading room and instruct the librarian to put them upon the same basis as books. This will be a great inconvenience to the students and we trust we shall not be compelled to take this step.

W. S. CURRELL, Chair'n of the Library Committee.

EDITORIAL

We wish to call especial attention to the communication from Dr. Currell relative to the destruction of the periodicals in the reading room. This is a matter in which all of the better class of students should interest themselves and seek to put an end to. The magazines are as much the property of the University as are the books which are in charge of the librarian, and because the students are granted more ready access to them and given the privilege of using them without being watched is no reason why they should assume the authority of tearing or cutting out whatever appeals to their aesthetic taste. This is a matter which concerns all, for if continued it means that the magazines will be put under the direct control of the librarian and let out on the same plan as the books. In this case if we wish to read five or ten minutes before class we shall have to apply for the magazines, have it looked up, charged, etc., which will take up our ten minutes and still no reading done. We do not wish this state of affairs to exist, not only on our own account but because of the extra work it will put on the librarian too. So let's stop our vandalism and be good.

As exams. begin next week this will be the last issue of the RING-TOW PHI for two weeks.

One Sided Reforms

Apropos of the recent changes in the rules accepted by the Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association with a view to eliminating professionalism, it seems somewhat strange, if indeed not suspicious, that several of our exchanges should be exercising themselves as to the effect of these changes upon the future attitude of Mr. Casper Whitney, who has from time to time passed caustic criticism upon certain features of the athletic policy of some of our Southern colleges.

The changes, in themselves considered, are worthy of all praise, and we should most heartily welcome an era of strictly amateur athletics in our section. But there is one point that should not in candor be concealed in connection with this matter; and we need not expect Mr. Whitney, or any other advocate of pure athletics, to praise or even recognize our system until it is squarely and openly met. We refer to the fact that, while the new regulations, if honestly enforced, are a fairly safe guarantee of athletic reform, so far as our Virginia teams are concerned in playing one another, there is still no guarantee provided as to the composition of these teams in contests with teams from other states.

Indeed, it is known that players, who are ineligible under the regulations of the Virginia Association, have been put on as players with teams outside the Association. It may, therefore, be fairly questioned whether the new regulations go to the root of the matter. They manifestly do not help the situation except so far as the Virginia teams are concerned in their relations with one another, and the gap left open is so wide that it will not be surprising if the torrent of professionalism should occasionally rush through with such violence as to brush away even the safeguards which we have provided for our own local preservation.

If the rules of the Virginia Association, as recently amended, seem no more than sufficient to guarantee the amateur standing of our teams (and they are certainly not too stringent), will we claim or desire this much coveted recognition from Mr. Whitney or from any other champion of amateur athletes so long as we violate in playing other teams the very rules which we ourselves propose and define as necessary to entitle us to such recognition and standing? Will it not seem that we are trying to serve two masters? Will we permit it to be said that we have an intercollegiate association in Virginia merely for the purpose of issuing printed regulations to be forwarded to Mr. Whitney with a view to establishing our standing and thus gaining his favorable notice, while, as a matter of fact, such regulations are intended to apply merely to a small fraction of the games on the schedule of our leading teams—the very teams that are subjected to the strongest temptation in the matter?

So long as the regulations apply only to this small fraction of games does not fairness demand that we shall say to Mr. Whitney: "Sir, we have undertaken to improve conditions in Virginia in the games we play with one another, but when we play with our brethren over the line the regulations which we ourselves have made, however essential we may recognize them to be to amateur standing, no longer bind us."

The Virginia association should go a step farther, if indeed it is in earnest in this matter and unwilling to lend its influence and good name to those who might use it to cloak an ulterior purpose or sinister motive. It should require of its members as strict an observance of amateur rules in playing teams outside the Association as it undertakes to do in the games played within the Association. Otherwise, we shall be justly charged with insincerity of motive and purpose. We advocate such additional legislation as will render it impossible for any member of the Association to use the Association merely as a guarantee of good standing with outside teams and with critics of national repute, while the winning of games from an innocent competitor may still depend upon the ancient and discreditable method of playing men who never knew the meaning of amateur athletics.

The "gym" team would do better work if they have a crowd of enthusiastic W. L. U. men to cheer them along on next Saturday night. That the intermediate examinations begin on the following Monday, should not hinder a single student. They will serve to clear up the minds of cramming "sharks". That a reasonable admission fee will be charged, should swell the attendance, the proceeds going to athletics.

Thomas unfortunately burnt his hand in lighting the powder for "The Private Secretary" flashlights.

Don't forget that we play our first game of baseball next Thursday. Have you gotten your season ticket?

Trundle was taken into the S. B. C. about a week ago and has not quite recovered. As a part of his initiation stunt's he was required to sell peanuts and candy at the play.

The Rebuilding of Gen. Lee's Piano.

About 1870 the Stieff Piano Manufacturing company of Baltimore, as a token of respect and admiration, presented to Gen. Lee a very costly piano. This same instrument has been the property of the students and has served them well since the death of that beloved president, but of late it has become decidedly inefficient. Upon a visit to Lexington a representative of the Stieff company generously offered to rebuild it, provided the University would pay the freight to and from Baltimore. This the faculty was unable to do, but the Dramatic Club has set aside the required amount from the proceeds from their last play, and the piano has been shipped to Baltimore. It is expected that it will be returned in time for the entertainment by the Ithaca Conservatory Concert Company on April 1.
