

THE RING-TUM PHI.

BY THE STUDENTS AND FOR THE STUDENTS.

VOL. VII

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1904

NO. 27

ANOTHER VICTORY

Washington and Lee, 10; Randolph-Macon, 5.

Last Monday afternoon the Randolph-Macon College nine, which shutout V. M. I. last Saturday afternoon met its Waterloo on the University grounds at the hands of Washington and Lee, the score being 10 to 5. Captain Lenke was on the rubber for the college and pitched a good game. He kept the hits scattered well except in the fourth and eighth innings. The fielding of Trevillian for the college was excellent, his grandstand catch of a difficult foul winning great applause. At the bat the boys in yellow and black managed Chilton's combinations better than any other team this year. While the Ashland collegians are good swatters, their success on Monday must be discounted by "Cousin Sam's" sore wing.

W. & L. went into the game with the bases covered by substitutes but it was one of those snits that won the game by opportune hitting and errorless fielding. Seven of the ten runs must be credited to Campbell's heavy hitting. On second too he played a good game. MacCorkle at first and Johnson at third also did good work. As usual the outfield made spectacular plays. What puzzled the university rooters most was "Cousin Sam's" clean single in the eighth. When the crowd saw the ball out of reach of the opponents every one became confident of victory for our crack pitcher had made "the first hit of the season."

A Quiet Election.

Editors of The Monthly Chosen:

Because of the election of the editors for the 04-05 "Collegian," both literary societies dispensed with their regular programs last Saturday night. The joint-session convened in the Graham-Lee hall, President Sloan of the Washington Society taking the chair. After a few remarks stating the object of the session, Mr. Sloan proceeded to business, calling for nominations for editor-in-chief. Mr. C. R. Blain nominated Mr. M. T. McCuire, Jr., of Virginia, while Mr. E. C. Miller nominated Mr. H. C. Tillman, of South Carolina. Mr. Tillman was elected. Mr. C. M. Barnes of Virginia was made Mr. Tillman's assistant without opposition. For managing editor, Mr. John Pilkington, Jr., was nominated and unanimously elected. Two staff officers were also chosen; Mr. R. L. Browning of Kentucky, Law Editor; Mr. E. W. Kelly of Virginia, Athletic Editor. Four other staff offices are yet to be filled, each society electing two "society editors" within the next two weeks.

Mr. Adams of Yale, is visiting S. B. Chilton.

Review of the April Collegian

The translation "To Nature" is a neat, finished piece of work.

"So Long" is a story of the first rank. The plot is well worked out, the characters are finely drawn, and the dialogue is always direct and at times delicately humorous.

A little Browningese obscurity aside, "Ambition" is good; "Communicated" is apt and funny, an admirable skit.

Upon a piece of work that shows the care and research that "The Irrepressible Conflict in Light and Literature" evinces one may well hesitate to pass criticism. The preparation for the article was most thorough. It strikes one, however, as obtrusively mechanical in execution; and the treatment of English fiction is rather badly suggestive of a certain text-book.

"The Ethiopian" is more notable on point of sentiment than as to either felicity of title or maintenance of metrical form, the laxity in this last respect being marked.

The second story of the number, "Irene," is good. There is one minor lapse in taste, the use of the word 'irene' (peace) as a common abstract noun.

"Unity as Illustrated in Tennyson's Enoch Arden" is a able article and shows both knowledge and appreciation of the poem.

Champion of Her Sex

The entertainment given on Monday evening by the students of the Southern Seminary, assisted by the Buena Vista orchestra, was a brilliant success. The program consisted of vocal solos and recitation and ended with a farce comedy in one act. Several good numbers were offered, and those deserving especial mention were the vocal solos of Misses Embree and Millen, and the recitations of Misses Young, Maxwell and Griffith and especially that of Miss Carter.

The parts in The Champion of Her Sex were well taken and the acting of Miss Griffith as the Champion of her Sex, Miss Maxwell as Grandmother, and Miss Blanche Eccleston as Katy Donovan, the Irish maid, is to be commended. The program closed with a selection by the orchestra. A small delegation of W. L. U. students were present.

Cast of David Garrick

The W. & L. Dramatic Club will present on the 19th of May, David Garrick, an exceedingly interesting and attractive play. The time is about 1740 and the costumes will be those of that day, and this play, like the last, will be given in the Gym. on a stage which will, if possible, be more attractive than the last.

Stokes in the leading part of David Garrick, is, as usual, fine and one cannot afford to miss him in his new role.

The following is the cast:

Ada Augot . . .	Miss White
Mrs. Smith . . .	Miss Barclay
Arminta Brown . . .	Miss Allan
David Garrick . . .	Mr. Stokes
Simon Ougot . . .	Mr. Armistead
Squire Chivy . . .	Mr. Lee
Mr. Smith . . .	Mr. Nall
Mr. Brown . . .	Mr. Burks
Mr. Jones . . .	Mr. Steves
Thomas . . .	Mr. Thackston
Servants, etc.

Notice—University Assembly

The next meeting of the University Assembly will be held on Wednesday, May 11th at 8:45 a.m. The address will be delivered by A. T. Barclay, Esq., of Lexington, in honor of the Liberty Hall Volunteers. Mr. Barclay is a member of the Board of Trustees and also served in the College company.

GEO. H. DENNY, Pres.

Mr. Clarence E. Woods of Richmond, Ky., Grand Recorder of the Sigma Nu Fraternity and editor of the Delta, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Lexington.

Dr. Howe returned home yesterday morning from Newberryport, Mass., where he had been called by the illness of his father, who is still very ill.

EDITORIAL

As usual a commencement edition of the Ring-tum-Phi will be issued this year. The issue will appear as soon after commencement as possible and will contain an account of all the events of final week, including the addresses, boat race, final exercises, final ball and other exercises. There will be different views of the university and if possible half tones of the senior academic, engineering and law classes, with short accounts of the College lives of the members.

In order to get this edition out the last number of the Ring-tum-Phi will not be issued, but in place of it one copy of the commencement edition will be sent each subscriber free of charge.

This edition will be printed on tinted paper and will make a very valuable souvenir of commencement week. The price will be ten cents per copy.

Finals are now near at hand and the members of the final ball executive committee would be obliged if those who have subscribed to the ball would hand in their subscriptions at once. The ball of 1904 promises to be the best ever given here and all should subscribe, pay their subscriptions at once and remain for the ball. The decorations this year will be especially good, as six hundred extra electric lights have been ordered.

Personals

Prof. Long was confined to his room several days this week.

Stokes was called home last week on account of the illness of his father.

Dr. W. J. Corlev of the University of Virginia arrived this morning and umpired the game this afternoon.

E. C. Crum has accepted a position with the engineering department of the Deepwater Railroad in Giles county.

Barnes went to Staunton yesterday to register and pay his poll tax. So he is actually over twenty one.

Miss Guendolen Howe, accompanied by Miss Maule Alexander, came up yesterday from the R. M. W. C. and drove out today with Messrs. Chafee and Moseley to the Bridge where the 300 girls of the Woman College are to go sight-seeing today.

Association Notes.

Dr. Jas. A. Quarles will talk to the students tomorrow at 3 o'clock. Besides an interesting address some excellent music may be expected.

The meeting held in Tucker Hall on last Sunday night was most successful, the attendance being very good and the speaker Mr. Weatherford, making an effective address. The association officers hope to follow up the plan begun by Mr. Weatherford, by engaging from time to time prominent speakers to hold meetings of especial interest and benefit to the student body.

Announcements and programs for the eleventh session of the Student Conference to be held at Waynesboro, N. C., (near Asheville) June 10-19, have been received by President Sloan. This conference promises to be an attractive one with such speakers as John R. Mott and Robert E. Speer of New York, Prof. Brown of Vanderbilt, Prof. Forrest of Virginia, Prof. Bosworth of Oberlin College, Dr. A. L. Philipps, Richmond, Dr. J. A. Scherer of Charleston, Mr. F. S. Brockman of Shanghai, and many others. The opportunities offered by the conference this year are worth many times what will be required. If any student is interested in this session he should see President Sloan at once.

William and Mary Wins

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., May. 6.—The Virginia Intercollegiate Oratorical contest was held in the chapel of William and Mary College here tonight. Eight of the best college orators in Virginia delivered orations that held the undivided attention of the large audience from 8 until 11 o'clock. The judges—Dr. W. E. Evans of Richmond, Judge T. S. Garnett of Norfolk, and Rev. C. Braxton Bryan of Hampton—decided in favor of the William and Mary representative, Mr. James S. Wilson, whose subject was "A Plea for Liberal Education." In making their decision the judges were guided by the regulations adopted last year at Charlottesville, crediting composition and thought at 35 per cent. and delivery at 65 per cent.

The following is the order in which the orations were delivered: "Child Labor in the South," J. S. Lawton of the University of Virginia; "The Coming of Peace," C. O. Shugart of Emory and Henry College; "The Law," R. H. Willis, Richmond College; "The Despised Jew," W. H. Ellyson of Randolph-Macon College; "Intelligence and Activity in Politics," E. C. Miller of Washington and Lee university; "A Plea for Liberal Education," J. S. Wilson of William and Mary College.

Roanoke and Hampden Sidney were the only members of the association of state colleges whose representatives failed to attend the contest.

After the speaking a reception was given by the Literary societies of William and Mary to the visiting collegians. Tomorrow a meeting will be held to select the next meeting-place and to transact any other business that may come before the association.

Moot Court

Moot Court was held yesterday afternoon, Judge Burks presiding. The only case on the docket was Bryan, Trustee, v Adams, assumpsit. Cromer for the defense demurred to the plaintiff's declaration. He and Brown argued the demurrer which Judge Burks took under consideration. Next Friday will be the last term of the Moot court for this session.

The Carnival

Let any one now say that Lexington is not progressive. She may not have street railways, great department stores, or a stock exchange, but greater than all she has had that forerunner and co-partner of civilization, the street fair. In the vernacular of the street she has "over" had it, or rather it has over had her. And now all are feeling, or at least in the morning all will feel the baneful effects of this civilizing and progressive power of the 20th century. But then we know that it is to be of benefit as other agents of civilization have been. Many have been slashed by the sword, any number have felt the effects of a pen dipped into vitriol and it is said that some few martyrs have perished for the sake of their religious beliefs. Then let us look upon the carnival as another agent of civilization, whose first effect is apparently evil but which will result in good.

We live to grow broader and more liberal, to learn the world and its ways, women and their wiles, men and their machinations, and at no place can we pursue our studies or ride our hobbies to better effect than at a street fair, for there we see old and young, good, bad and indifferent; black, white and mixtures; saint, sinner and sons of a gun; sage, savage and snake eaters; booze and full dogs; boys, bees and Bize; fighters, peacemakers and innocent bystanders; firemen, ferris wheel, and fakirs; Minting, merry-go-round and moneyless men. All this we see with each individual trying to knock off some other's top piece with a gum ball and dodging in turn to save his own, while a gentle fall of confetti makes all take on the colors of the rainbow.

Now can any one gainsay the statement that a carnival is an influence for good, and an aid to civilization? Long live the carnival and may Lexington hurry and keep up the good work.

This week two students at the University of Virginia were expelled for failure to attend lectures. Coming as it does on the eve of the North Carolina and Johns Hopkins meets, the Virginia track team will be greatly weakened, each of the expelled students winning enough points in the North Carolina meet last year to bring victory to Virginia.

EX. COM. OF V. I. A. A. MEETS

Difficulties in Eastern Section Settled

The Executive Committee of the Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Association met Thursday night at the Richmond College to investigate certain charges of ineligibility filed against Pitcher Leake and Second Baseman Green, of the Randolph-Macon College baseball team. There were present the following members of the committee: Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, Richmond College; Professor Hugh S. Bird, of William and Mary; Mr. Murray M. McGure, for the University of Virginia; Mr. H. M. Smith, Jr., for the Virginia Polytechnic Institute; Colonel Jo Lane Stern, representing Washington and Lee University; Professor Roseboro, of the Fredericksburg College; Mr. Brown, of the Virginia Military Institute, and Mr. Rives Fleming, of Hampden-Sidney College.

The charges that Student Green, of Randolph-Macon, had violated the eligibility rules were first taken up and the evidence gone into, with the result that the charge was not sustained, and that Mr. Green's eligibility was without question. The charges affecting the eligibility of Mr. Leake were then withdrawn.

After the acquittal of Green and Leake, the president of Richmond College Association asked for an investigation of certain alleged professionals on their team. This investigation cleared up everything for Richmond and the committee adjourned.

Calyx

The Calyx will be out in about two weeks and the editors hope and prophesy that it will be an edition to satisfy the tastes of the most fastidious. There will be more departments of college and more phases of college life represented and depicted this year than ever before. There are also more illustrations and drawings than in any previous Calyx. It is to be hoped that all of the students will subscribe, thereby helping the business managers.

Will Allan, '02, who has just completed his second year at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Baltimore, has returned to Lexington for his vacation.

Track Preliminary on Monday

Next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock a preliminary contest will be held to choose the men who will compose the University track team which will go up against the V. M. I. team about May 30. Every man who has intended to make the team must get into the events on Monday for it will be impossible to take on any man who comes out later than Monday. Several of the runners are doing good work, and the hurdlers are also showing up well. The jumpers and polevaulters are already breaking records galore. Those men in college who are doubtful of our ability to enter a dual meet this season should turn out Monday afternoon and satisfy themselves that our track men have done good work under Coach Boston, and if there are also men in College who want to see some good racing, jumping, polevaulting and shot-throwing, they should go out to the University field next Monday.
