TEAM RETURNS

W. & L. vs. Kentucky State

The baseball team returned from its trip North Thursday evening on the C. & O. and all the boys seemed glad to get back to old Washington and Lee. Although they had a good time on the trip it was quite tiresome as they were continually on the go. The pitching staff was in bad shape as both Johnson and Porter had been worked exceedingly hard.

Since the game with the Univ. of Penn. we have met three defeats and one victory. On last Saturday Lafayette won by a score of 10 to 5, but this seemingly one sided result does not really tell the tale. It was hard fought contest. Up until the eighth inning Washington Lee was in the lead, but for some reason lost out in the very last of the game allowing our opponent to score seven runs in the eighth.

On Monday we played Georgetown in Washington again losing the score being 15 to 0. Nearly all the runs made by our friends, the enemy, were in the first four innings. Porter was worn out and Georgetown batted him hard. Johnson was put in during the last five innings and held Georgetown down to three runs.

The aggregation from St. John's which we trimmed so nicely on our home grounds got the advantage of playing us when the boys were in bad shape and took their revenge in full, defeating W. & L. 20 to 4. Ring was put in in the first inning but failed to make good and Porter was substituted. He, however, was not able to do much better and Chatham twirled the last part of the game, showing up well.

The trip had a golden finish, for on last Wednesday we sprang quite a surprise on the crack team from the U. S. Naval Academy and won by a score of 7 to 5. An immense crowd was out to see the game which was played to music, the Naval band being on the field. Johnson twirled and did it in excellent style. Trimble was not in the game on account of a strained back and Anthony took his place behind the bat. The Middies were rather indignant that we should be so inconsiderate as to beat them after losing to St. John's by such a large score.

We would not make excuses for having lost so many games on the trip but if W. & L. had a larger pitching staff the results of some of the games would have in all probability been better. Of course we wanted to win all the games but we are not sour because we did not for it is something to beat teams like Penury and the Navy. The latter has lost only two other games this year, one of which was to Harvard.

The game yesterday with Kentucky State College was entirely unsatisfactory. Owing to the fact that the visitors wished to leave on the 4 o'clock C. & O. train the game was called at 2.30, and it was agreed beforehand that play should cease at 3.55. Promptly at that time Manager Toms stepped into the diamond to stop the game, which would have then gone to Washington and Lee by a score of 4 to 3. Our team and rooters, however, insisted that the inning be finished, with the result that Washington and Lee failed to score and the game ended a tie, 4 to 4.

Porter pitched an excellent game, considering the condition of his arm since the trip, and scarcely a ball went out of the diamond when W. & L. was in the field. Several costly errors were made, however, which accounts for the result of the game. In the fourth inning Kelly Trimble was struck on the thumb by a foul and forced to retire from the game, Anthony taking his place. Chatham played third and did exceedingly well.

The features of the game were a double play on the part of Washington and Lee in the first inning, and a catch by Temple in right field. Kentucky State's left fielder made a beautiful catch in fourth inning.

Graham-Lee Society

In the absence of President Staples the meeting was called to order by Vice-president Keebler, Saturday p. m., at 8 o'clock. Soon after opening, our society entertained a committee from the Washington society inviting us to their hall for a joint meeting to elect an editor for The Southern Collegian. President Semple invited the president of Graham-Lee to take the chair. Our president "appearing absent," by note of our society, Mr. Semple kept the chair.

Before business could be resumed the unusually large crowd was given most genuine enjoyment by entrance to the hall of a Washington and Lee alumnus, Hon. Wade Ellis, Attorney General of Ohio, who kindly favored us with a half an hour's address. His eloquent utterances were not only highly entertaining but helpful and uplifting and were received with the warmest enthusiasm.

As our short time was thus taken up and out of courtesy to the entertainment then going on in the University Chapel, the election was postponed and the joint session adjourned.

The Graham-Lee program for the evening having been postponed also, the society adjourned.

Washington Society

The Washington Literary Society carried out only a portion of its program last Saturday night, owing to a joint session held with the sister society. Mr. Lease and Mr. Nix rendered exceptionally good declamations, after which extemporaneous speeches were heard from Messrs Sanders and Osbourn, the rest of the time was taken up with some business matters relating to the society. The joint session took up most of the time, in which we heard from contestants for the honor of representing us in the State Oratorical contest to be held May 4 in Richmond. Mr. Semple of Washington society was chosen; subject "Public Opinion." Mr. Bandy was the representative from the Graham-Lee, who had a well prepared oration on "An American Reformation. Next Saturday night 28th, the Editors of the Southern Collegian will be elected. It is the duty of all men to come and vote. You must choose the man who is not only able to do this work but who is willing to put himself to inconveniences for the good of the magazine. Be sure you are not swayed by any private motives but by the consciousness of public good.

Concert and Fan Drill at the Chapel

The concert and fan drill in the University chapel Saturday evening was attended by an audience that comfortably filled the spacious room and who, by generous applause, manifested much appreciation of the program. Every number was enjoyed and freely applauded. There was a variety that delighted both eye and ear. There was rich, sweet music, instrumental and vocal, varied with pleasing, graceful readings, and climaxed by the fan drill. In this 14 young ladies charmingly costumed in Japanese fashion, with rare grace, went through many complicated evolutions to the sound of music, using their fans in a bewitching way that moved to heart expression the Students and Cadets who crowded the galleries. The program was:

Happy Helms . . . . . J. B. Lampe
Mandolin and Guitar Club
Reading—Mrs. Lawton's Little Dinner
Caroline Wells
Mrs. H. C. Ford
Mrs. Cosy's Boarding House, J. C. Macy

Miss Preston, Mrs. White, Captain
Weber, Dr. White
Fan Drill

The young ladies who took part in the drill were Miss Carrie Harman and Miss Mattie Harman, Miss Janie Spencer and Miss Louise Shields, Miss Nell Dunlap and Miss Martha Moore, Miss Janie Miller and Miss Emma Staples, Miss Mary Barclay and Miss Nell Brockenbrough, Miss Lilly Rust and Miss Josephine Allan, Miss Bessie Poague and Miss Blanche McCrum.

The Students who constituted the Mandolin and Guitar club were Messrs. Sheafe, Irwin, W. P., Jr., Glasgow, Whip, McCrum, J. T., Porter, Steves, Schwabe, Claudy, Collins.

Those who constituted the Glee club were Students Hynson, Hudson, Wisman, Spindle, Gassman, Miller, A. I., Oaskie, Orderman, Sheafe, Marquess, Stevenson, Oliver, Collins, Campbell, Miller, W. H.

Miss Anna Anderson was the accompanist for the fan drill and Mrs. Charles W. Watts for Miss Graham.

We have two games next week with George Washington University,—and by the way didn't they beat us a few days ago? Well we want to land on them good and hard this time. Everybody come out to the game, and come prepared to root. Bring something to make a noise with. We must have these two games.

The track team leaves Monday morning for Lynchburg where a meet will be had with Randolph-Macon College.

What would life be if we didn't have an occasional laugh coming our way? It was a laughable sight to see the faces of the Washington and Lee students on last Saturday when an account in the Washington Post of our game with the University of Pennsylvania told that it was Penn's "scrubs" that we had defeated. And only to think, just the night before we had had such a jolly good time "whooping 'em up" and yelling for the team! "But cheer up, boys; there ain't no"—truth in the Philadelphia correspondent of the aforesaid newspaper. As a matter of fact the game started out with three of Pennsylvania's subs playing; it ended with their whole first team on the field and a new twirler in the box. That little thing about it being "the second team" which was defeated is simply a cunning trick which the University of Pennsylvania practiced to hide her defeats. It may serve her purpose well and prevent lots of people from finding out the true state of affairs, but it seems to us rather a dirty and ungentlemanly trick.

Yes, it does seem odd that our team should lose to some rather weak teams and then win the two hardest games on the trip, and it does look bad to lose six out of eight games, but that's no reason why we should get discouraged or cuss out the team. Just remember that this year we have played but one prep. school, that the great majority of games have been with teams from larger institutions, and we expect that at the end of the season our average will compare favorably with that of any other year. In the past the baseball management has given us games for the most part with small Virginia colleges; this season we have crossed bats with some of the best teams in the country. Naturally we should not expect to take as many scalps as we have done in other years. It takes a better team to win from the Navy, Pennsylvania, Carlisle Indians and such aggregations than it does from smaller Southern colleges; so what if we have lost a few games.

Lexington is soon to have free delivery of mail. Nothing yet has been said about whether or not the students are to be allowed to participate in this change. We suppose that those who live in private houses can get theirs delivered by having it addressed care of their host, but we would like to know if the dormitory students will get in on this deal. But after all is this gaining to be a blessing? Lexington has but one permanent diversion; going to the post-office to get the mail. Will we be able to find another to take its place.

Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Currell addressed the regular meeting of the Association last Sunday on "Three Kinds of Power." He said that we meet with the power of man alone, which works not altogether for bad but does a great deal of good as we see from the high state of civilization and culture attained by the Greeks and other ancient people. Yet the fate of Egypt, Babylonia, and many other Godless nations emphasize the fact that the power of man alone is doomed to failure.

There is also the mysterious power of God alone, which we see in such mighty strokes as the recent upheaval in California, but which we do not assay to understand. The great world power, tho, which makes for natural civilization and for individual character building, is seen when God allows man to cooperate with him. He is a resourceful, sympathetic, upright, parter who can supplement all our short comings. He is further glad to hear of all our joys and sorrows and we should put ourselves on confidential terms with him.

Southern Collegian

The May issue of the Southern Collegian is out. It contains several fine articles and some well written poetry. Altogether the magazine is well up to its usual standard and compares favorably with similar publications from other colleges.

NOTICE !!!

Manager Toms has a note out for $250 which will fall due next week, so please pay up for your season ticket at once if you have not done so.

The tennis tournament will be held in the near future and the team will be selected. We will probably have game with the University of Virginia and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Mr. John L. Campbell left Monday for Lexington, Ky, to represent Washington and Lee at the Conference for Education in the South, now in session in that city.

Rev. Archer Boogher, rector of Christ's church, Roanoke city, conducted services at R. E. Lee Memorial church Sunday morning and evening. He was educated at Washington & Lee early in the nineties.

Rev. Dr. Turnbull and Mrs. Turnbull returned to Lexington last week from Orlando, Fla., where they spent the winter.

Dr. Howe made an address last week before the Teachers' Club of Lynchburg. His subject was "Drinking Water."

Mr. Geo. Craig, of Craigsville, Va., who was a student at Washington College under Gen. R. E. Lee, is in town attending presbytery.

Mr. Lynwood R. Holmes, class 1900, who returned from Porto Rico last year where he had been since leaving college, is now with the Cambria Steel Co. at Johnstown, Pa.

Class Baseball

The class teams took advantage of the absence of the varsity and several hot contests have been held on Wilson field. The Senior lawyers retaliated on the Juniors for their defeat of last week, winning the game by a score of 15 to 12. Wednesday afternoon those old rivals, the Freshmen and Sophs, crossed bats, and the former won by a score of 4 to 3. This was a fought contest and perhaps the best of the class games. Thursday the Senior Academs. met the Junior Lawyers in two games each winning one. The scores were Lawyers 8, Academs, 5; and Lawyers 9, Acadms, 12. Withers pitched both games for the Academs, and did fine work. Senior Engineers defeated the Junior Engineers by a score of 8 to 5, Wednesday afternoon. Those games showed up some very promising ball material.

The University Assembly was held yesterday to welcome the Presbytery.

The University Touchstone

Many are, doubtless, already aware that a new publication, The University Touchstone, is soon to make its debut, but few know just exactly what field of student activities this magazine is designed to cover. The University Touchstone will be a monthly magazine. In it news items will play but a small part, since it is all intended to be clothed in wit and humor. Between the covers there will also be many illustrations, both photographs and drawings. The best examples of its object are similar publications at other institutions; as, for example, the Jester of Columbia. The first beginnings of the magazine will be but moderate, but the editors hope to make improvements and develop this new field up to a standard which will reflect credit on our University. The first issue, April, has already been put in the hands of the publishers and when last seen by us the management hoped to have it appear to-day. At any rate it will be out soon and complete and full information concerning it will be given in its pages. If you are interested buy a copy and read it.

Attorney-General of Ohio Visits the University

Attorney General Wade Hampton Ellis of Ohio, arrived in Lexington Friday and remained here until Monday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ellis.

Attorney General Ellis was educated in law at Washington and Lee where he was graduated in 1889. He entered the University from Kentucky and graduating settled in Cincinnati. In 1901 he was elected attorney-general of Ohio on the Republican ticket and was re-elected last fall by a majority of 40,000 though the head of the Democratic ticket, Patterson, carried the state by 40,000. Attorney-General Ellis Saturday night delivered an excellent impromptu address to the literary societies at Washington and Lee. He showed much interest in his alma mater and rejoiced in its prosperity.

Dr. Howe on Drinking Water

Saturday's Lynchburg News: Dr. Jas. Lewis Howe, professor of chemistry in Washington and Lee university, delivered one of the most interesting and instructive lectures to the Teachers' club last night in Westminster church ever heard in the city. A large and cultivated audience was in attendance, and not a word that fell from the speaker's lips was lost.

It will be remembered that Professor Howe was once engaged by the city council to examine the water supply of Lynchburg, which fact lent a peculiar interest to all his utterances, especially those in regard to James river and also to the new supply from Pedlar river. The Teachers' club is deserving of thanks of the people of the city for bringing such a distinguished scientist to Lynchburg and throwing his lecture open free of cost to all persons.

The Gymnastic Tourney

It is hoped that within a week or so the gymnasium team will be in shape to give their annual exhibition, although the exact time has not been set.

This very important branch of athletics has received considerable attention this year, especially during the winter months.

And now that the spring has come, though much of the interest has, of course, been diverted to other channels, as tennis, baseball and rowing, there is still quite a little bit left.

Several of last year's team are on hand and prepared to show those who may attend a few novelties in the gymnastic line; and several freshmen are on the team, who, under the training of Captain Fruit, are sure to make good.

Among the features of the exhibition this year will be, besides the regular contest for the all-round championship and monogram, some fancy club swinging, wrestling, high diving and pyramid building. The town people always patronize the gymnasium exhibitions, but the students have not generally given us much support. The team, however, has been working hard, and will present an exhibition well worth the price of admission.
