

WASHINGTON & LEE

Defeats St. Johns by a Score of 14 to 0

In a hard-fought game Monday the W. & L. team showed their real strength. Our goal never was in any danger, for the ball was in St. Johns' territory nearly the whole game. The game was called at 4 o'clock and began by St. Johns' kicking off to W. & L. We advanced the ball steadily and here Street made an end run for about thirty yards. The ball was soon down within a few yards of the goal line, but a heavy penalty of fifteen yards brought it away, and on the next down the ball went over to St. Johns who punted back up the field. As often as we advanced the ball would be lost on downs and punted up the field. Near the end of this half Captain Stevens, of St. Johns, was put out of the game with a severely sprained ankle. This, probably, weakened their back field a little. The end of the half found the ball near the center of the field.

In the second half C. F. Bagley was substituted at quarter. We kick to St. Johns and they advance a short distance, being aided with a five-yard penalty. They were held for two downs and then punted. W. & L. gets the ball and make little gains for a couple of downs and kick. Street caught this kick on the bounce and made the first touchdown of the game.

St. Johns kick off, and having a man offside the ball is brought back and placed five yards behind centre of field and kicked. Moomaw returned ball about thirty yards and then Street made the longest run of the game, going around left end for about forty yards. From here the ball is steadily advanced until Moomaw crosses the goal and then kicked the goal.

W. & L. kicked off to St. Johns who tried to gain for three downs and lost ball. W. & L. rush ball to near St. Johns' goal and lose ball, but force St. Johns to down behind goal line, scoring two points for W. & L., making the score 14 to 0 in our favor. The ball was brought out to 25-yard line and kicked. The game here ended.

The whole team deserves much credit for the game they put up, especially Street, Capt. Moomaw and Shack Bagley distinguished themselves by their hard work and good gains.

Line-up:

W. & L. U.		St. Johns
Miles (Osborne)	Right End	Brady
Osborne (Pipes)	Right Tackle	Quincy (Jones)
Dinges	Right Guard	Bennett
Hogue	Center	Arnold
White	Left Guard	Clark
Dow	Left End	Hosley
Brown	Quarter Back	Hordley
Bagley, C.		(Melvin)
Street	Right Half	Anderson
Bagley, T. O.	Left Half	(Capt.) Stevens (Warfield)
Moomaw (Capt.)	Full Back	McGruder (Quincy)

Time of halves, 20-20.

The team, this week, has been going through hard training to be able to meet the heavy line of the North Carolina A. & M. They are reported to average 204 pounds on the line and to have a fast back field.

Wash. Society.

The Washington Literary Society was called to order Saturday evening, Oct. 6, by President Moore.

Mr. Turnbull gave an oration on the advance of civilization among the Indians and conditions existing in the territory. "His talk was both interesting and instructive. Messrs. Sterrett and Burton also gave good orations. Messrs. Ghiselin and Ragan gave impromptu talks. Messrs. Richardson and Gabriel gave declamations. On account of lack of time the debate was postponed. The program was very good, all members on the program being present.

Messrs. MacDonald, Crews and Ragan were chosen to represent the society in the joint contest with the Graham Lee society on Thanksgiving. Messrs. Speight, Turnbull and Smithson were selected as preliminary debaters. The attendance was good. Let all old and new men come and continue our good record. Bring your friends with you; all are welcome at our meetings.

Wreath for Gen. Lee's Tomb

On Oct. 12, the anniversary of the death of General Robert E. Lee, there was placed at his tomb in the Memorial chapel at Washington and Lee university, a beautiful wreath of evergreens from Mr. Gerald Smythe, of Putney, England. Accompanying the wreath was a card inscribed:

"To the dear and honored memory of

General Robert E. Lee,
12th October, 1906.

"Pass Friend—All's Well."

Recent Important Meeting of the Senior Law Class

At 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the senior law class was called to order by President Moore. It was generally understood that the object of the meeting was to fill the vacancy on the Ring-Tum Phi staff, caused by the appointment of Mr. Benson as assistant editor-in-chief. It required but a few minutes to fill this position, and then it became apparent that other matters of serious import confronted the class for consideration.

The senior law class is, in many respects, a rather remarkable organization. It has passed through many trying times in its history; it has successfully weathered many storms from without; but not until this session has it felt serious mortification at the conduct of any of its members. However, it has been observed for several days, and the fact has caused no little comment throughout college circles, that one of the members of the class has become the victim of a peculiar affection about the lower part of his face. Serious contrivances have arisen as to the exact nature of the trouble. Some seem to think that it may be a disease capable of transmission to others; some believe that it is merely the strange manifestation of eccentricities of character; but the most plausible explanation appears to be that the gentleman, having at some time recently, by mistake, bathed his visage in some photographic chemicals, with which he is perfectly familiar, has unwittingly obtained a photograph of an autumn sunset. Others venture the opinion that the source of all this discussion is but the beginning of a beard.

Whatever may eventually prove to have been the correct theory regarding this strange creature, the senior class deemed it necessary to pass resolutions demanding its immediate destruction; and emphatically disclaims all further responsibility for its continued existence.

Junior Law Class

At a meeting held last week the following officers were elected: D. W. Pipes, president; C. H. McGuire, vice-president; W. G. Long, secretary and treasurer.

The class has about fifty members, all of whom read every case assigned; but sad to relate a few of them, when asked to state a tort case, unfortunately forgot it. But in all, they are a promising bunch and the most of them will make good on the exams.

Notice!

There will be a mass-meeting of the student body in the chapel Monday afternoon at 2.45 promptly. Let every man in college come and practice these yells and songs before the game. We have to beat A. & M.

Shenandoah Club

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Shenandoah Valley Club was held in the Latin room Wednesday afternoon and the following officers were elected for the coming session: L. T. Stoneburner, president; H. N. Clendening, vice president; S. L. Phillips, secretary; J. M. Biérer, treasurer, C. A. Engle, historian.

The only thing lacking at the meeting was members. All the knights of Shenandoah need to ally themselves with the Club as soon as possible. A banquet is expected in the near future.

ROOTING.

The game with St. John's Military Academy, last Monday, in which the varsity administered a stinging defeat to the tune of 14 to 0, was, as the students all realized, a hard fought battle, and too much credit cannot be given the men who, for the second time this season, have brought success to the "white and blue".

This success is, no doubt, partly due to the loyal support that the team is now receiving from the entire student body. Never before has there been displayed, upon the athletic field, such enthusiasm as that which reigned when we locked horns with St. John's. And we feel sure that the team that represents us is worthy of our praises, and last but not least, our support.

But in the face of all this there are one or two features of the new plan of free athletics that we think need attention. The first of these is in regard to the manner of rooting. To any witness of Monday's game it was evident that at times the rooting was more of a hindrance than an advantage. On different occasions the quarter was obliged to repeat the signals, simply because the rooting was so strenuous that the men could not hear the signal given. Now we do not wish to be understood as being opposed to the plan, in operation, but we think that by being thoroughly organized the student body would be able to render a greater benefit to the team than they do as at present constituted. Our object should be to give our team every advantage, while to the other side create all legitimate interference.

The other feature we wish to point out, is, that of the conduct of the crowd generally. Marshals have been chosen to attend the games and see that the crowd is kept back properly behind the lines. We wish to see enthusiasm displayed and zealous rooting engaged in; but we also wish to feel certain that all visiting teams, when they leave Lexington, will be thoroughly impressed that they have received, not only a square deal, but courteous and generous treatment at the hands of all Washington and Lee men. Let us refrain, therefore, from all individual cuts and guying of good players; and also create a strong sentiment against any failure to co-operate with the marshals in their attempts to preserve good order. A failure to keep such standards in vogue will, in the end, work harm to our school.

Graham-Lee Society

The Society was called to order by the retiring president, Mr. Staples. Mr. J. H. Larrick was then duly installed and the other officers assumed their duties. By special request, previously made, the president will deliver his inaugural address tonight. Mr. Larrick then announced the following appointments: Censor, F. D. Stevenson; critic, L. J. Desha; committee on question, Keebler, Hylton and H. B. McMillan.

Proceeding to the program Mr. C. R. Pilkington delivered a very fine oration on "Selfishness." Mr. Crockett gave a declamation, and Messrs. Keebler and Leach gave voluntary declamation.

In the debate on the question, Resolved, That the U. S. should have intervened in the present Cuban trouble, the affirmative was supported by F. G. Jones and Michler, and the negative by Hobson and McMullen. The judges decided for the affirmative.

Having decided to postpone the election for debaters in the Thanksgiving and preliminary contests until this evening the society adjourned.

Hop

The Cotillion Club gave a small hop in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Tillman, Jr., on last Monday night. The Club had the pleasure of having Mrs. D. W. Pipes, Miss Annie White, Mrs. Kern and Mrs. Walker for chaperones. The young ladies present were: Miss Cave and Miss Hill, who are visiting Miss Patton; Miss Doyle, who is visiting Miss Haskins; Miss Doolittle, who was the guest of Miss Howe, and Misses Williams, Brockenbrough, Haskins and Howe, of Lexington.

Opportunities for Public Speakers

On Thanksgiving night the first public debate of the session will take place. This is the annual contest between the two societies of this institution and promises to be fought with the usual determination and ability. This is only a forerunner of several other public debates here this year. On Jan. 19, the Graham-Lee Society has its annual celebration in honor of Gen. R. E. Lee, at which four debaters and two orators will have an opportunity to display their forensic talent. On Feb. 22nd the Washington Society will have a like public celebration in honor of Gen. Washington, at which a like number of speakers will pour forth gems of logic and oratory. Again later there will be a contest between a member chosen by each society to determine who will represent the University at the State Oratorical Contest, and still later two men from each society are chosen to deliver orations at finals, the winner to receive a handsome gold medal, offered by the University.

In addition to those mentioned above men are to be chosen to represent the school in debate with other institutions. Everyone who has any ambition in this direction has an opportunity to make this team. The committeemen have already been chosen by the societies to arrange for these debates with other schools, and they will be held at Washington and Lee this session.

It probably has never occurred to many of the students of W. & L. U. that there are so many opportunities along these lines. It is sincerely to be hoped that every man here who has any talent in this direction will take part in these contests. In our contests with other institutions the reputation of W. & L. will be at stake, and unless those who are gifted along this line come forward and disclose their talent, it follows as a matter, of course, that we will be unable to choose the ablest men in school for these places.

Miss Annie White spent last Tuesday and Wednesday visiting relatives in the country. There is a saying that you can't appreciate good health until you get sick. The student body certainly appreciates Miss Annie, but we do not realize how much she means to us until she goes away. We all noticed that something was lacking. The reading room did not seem the same at all during her absence.

D. E. Fruit is with a large mining company in Arizona.

Y. M. C. A.

The address before the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon was delivered by Mr. Southall, the Presbyterian minister from the town. He spoke on the life of Daniel, taking his outline from the first chapter of the Book of Daniel. The first part of the address was taken up in showing the great amount of preparation Daniel had for his life work and how this preparation aided him in his religious career. Then was given the lives of other great men as illustrations of the necessity of a thorough training, and how necessary this training was for the accomplishment of great and noble deeds, which takes nerve, skill, virtue and valor.

The address tomorrow afternoon will be delivered by Mr. Luffin, a great teacher among foreign mission countries. All students come out and hear a great talk.

Through the courtesy of Prof. Abram P. Staples the editing board is now able to boast of an office in which to transact all business. The board join in extending to Prof. Staples many thanks for this kind consideration.
