WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1906

NO. 4

FOOTBALL

The A. & M. game Monday brought out the real metal in our team and from the beginning the game was fast and snappy. For the first time this season our team met their equals on the field. Though the visitors were a little heavier than the W. & L. team the weight was counterbalanced by the speed and ginger displayed.

The visitors gained the most ground, but they only brought the ball down the field to lose it and have it kicked up the field again.

In the first half the ball stayed principally in W. & L. territory, but A. & M. were unable to cross our goal line. Near the end of this half A. & M.'s left half back sprained his ankle severely and was removed from the game. After this, instead of trying to advance they tried a place kick for the goal, which was successful. The first half ended with a score of 4 to 0 in A. & M.'s favor.

The second half began with faster playing than the first, and after about five minutes play W. & L. has possession of the ball within A. & M.'s 25 yard line, and "Shack" Bagley makes the drop kick that ties the score. In the remainder of this half neither team's goal was in danger and the game ended with the ball near the center of the field.

Our line held theirs well, even though they were superior in weight. Dinges played an especially good game at guard, and so did Hoge at center. O. Bagley was our best ground gainer, while Dow deserves mention at end.

Possibly our team had a slight advantage in that they had seen all of A. & M.'s tricks played. Their forward pass seldom gained much for them and they lost the ball several times in trying it.

The halves were each 20 minutes.

Today our team plays Randolph Macon College in Lynchburg. Success, to be sure, will be with the "white and blue."

Graham-Lee Society

The society was called to order by President Larrick. The president delivered his inaugural address. Several, whose names were on the program, were absent.

Mr. Stevenson delivered a very unique declamation, having substituted a local bitter for Casey in "Casey at the Bat."

The question for debate was, Resolved, That the reformed system of spelling now discussed in this country should be adopted as the standard. The affirmative was maintained by Houser and Somers and the negative by Staples and Berringer. The judges declared for the negative.

The following elections of participants in the Thanksgiving debate took place: For debaters, Pilkington, Jones and Maguire; president, Desha; secretary, Stevenson; for preliminaries, Keebler, Flannagan and Larrick.

Mr. Denman was admitted to membership in the society.

Wash. Society

The Washington Literary society met, as usual, last Saturday evening. Messrs. Johnson and Anderson delivered orations, and Mr. Spahr gave a very good declamation. Messrs. Somerville and Larrick were the impromptu speakers.

The question for debate: Resolved, That senators should be elected by direct vote of the people was discussed on the affirmative by Mr. Randolph, and Mr. Speight defended the negative. The decision was rendered in favor of the negative.

Mr. MacDonald resigned as Thanksgiving debater and Mr. Smithson was elected in his stead.

Mr. Berry was elected society editor for Southern Collegian.

Alpha Tau Omega

Old Men: Cover, Humphreys, Iden, N. F. Johnson, Porter. Transfer: McGuire. Initials: Toms, W. K. Watkins, Thompson, Felder.

We wish to apologize to the members of the above fraternity for failing to put their list in last week's issue. It was due to a mistake which was not discovered until the paper had gone to press.

It is certainly a fact of marked notice that the senior law class has no authority over its individual members.

"Rooters" Organize

A mass meeting of the student body was called to order by President Addison at 3:15 Monday afternoon in the chapel. The main object of the meeting was to practice a few new songs and yells in anticipation of the A. & M. game that afternoon. On motion of Mr. Pipes, seconded by Mr. Toms, Mr. Darnall was elected chief rooter for the year, and the meeting was then turned over to that gentleman. From the very start Mr. Darnall proved himself an able and enthusiastic leader, and under his efficient direction the yells and songs, both old and new, were soon being rung off with a vim, which bespoke the dawning of a new era in rooting at Washington and Lee. After some twenty minutes or more thus spent the meeting adjourned to the athletic field, and the effects of the meeting were plainly visible in the improved and systematic support given the team throughout the entire game.

At least two things are necessary for the complete success of a meeting of the student body, first, a full; and secondly, a prompt attendance. At three o'clock, the hour appointed for the meeting last Monday, not more than 25 men were on the ground. When the meeting was called to order a quarter of an hour later 125 men were present; and when the meeting adjourned perhaps 250, a little more than 50 per cent. of the students in college, might have been counted.

While the mass meeting Monday afternoon, therefore, was unquestionably a success, it cannot be doubted that it would have been much better had a larger number been present, or had those who were there been more prompt in attendance. We are loath to regard the short comings of any one in this respect as due to mere indifference or wilful neglect, and therefore we charge them up to thoughtlessness. But these meetings are never called except for some good reason and it is the part of every man who loves his University and takes a pride in its success to be found in his place.

"Fats" Hamilton, "Mark" Hanna and "Cousin Sam" Chilton are following hard after wisdom at the University of W. Va. The former, furthermore, is playing left guard on the football team.

Golf Tourney

Last Saturday in Richmond, on the links of the Lakeside Country Club, a tourney was played for the Virginia State Golf cup. The preliminaries in the morning were an eighteen-hole contest, medal score. In the afternoon a match contest of eighteen holes. The following clubs were the competitors: Lakeside of Richmond, Hampton Roads, Newport News, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Roanoke, Lexington.

The team picked to represent the Lexington Golf Club were H. D. Campbell, J. L. Campbell, W. M. McElwee, W. S. Hopkins, E. L. Graham, S. G. Pettigrew.

The Lakeside team won. The only possible explanation we can make for this is that the Lexington team had never played on the Lakeside links and did not have time to go over them before the contest or get familiar with the ground rules.

Prizes to be Awarded

The management of the Ring-tum Phi offers a prize of $5.00 for the best song and $5.00 for the best yell. The contest will close one month from date. The only proviso made is that each bear its author's signature, and that as many as 25 of each are handed in to the editor before the month is up. The best ones will be published as they are received, and every one will be taken into consideration when the prize is awarded. We are doing this in the effort to get a good college yell and song, appropriate for any time, and we sincerely hope the student body will take interest in it. The judges of the contest will be the board of editors.

J. D. Causey, a scientific bachelor of W. & L., class '05, who is at present engineering at Scarbro, W. Va., recently received an offer of a place with the Isthmian Canal Commission and will accordingly take steamer from New York to Panama the 31st inst.

Willard Neal Grubb shook himself loose from the confines of Fishburne Military School last Monday and hurried to Lexington to see the football game, from which the White and Blue came out so creditably. Some say that Grubb wished to win a bet as well as to show his love for Alma Mater; but the voice of rumor is deceitful above all things.

Student Subscribers

We desire to call attention to the fact that the papers are delivered in the Lexington hotel at Mr. Webb's cigar stand and may be had there as soon as they are printed. Several subscribers have failed to call for their papers. If uncalled for within a week they are thrown aside; so call for your paper on Saturday afternoon.

It is conceded by all that the results of Monday's game with A. & M. of North Carolina, was practically the same as a victory for Washington and Lee. That game proved the superiority of our eleven over the team from V. M. I. It also demonstrated that the skill of our boys in handling the pig-skin was equal, if not superior, to that of the eleven of the University of Virginia. The record that the team has made this season, and the standard it has attained, is one that not only the individual players may justly feel proud of, but one that every Washington and Lee man can speak of with pride. Had our eleven had the opportunity this year to play some of the large colleges of the North, it is safe to say the record we have made so far would not be lowered. In our last issue we had a few words to say of the rooting at the game and the conduct of the crowd generally. We wish to say now that the rooting was splendid, the discipline of the rooters being above reproach. In regard to the habit of some persons indulging in guying individual players of the opposing team it was pleasing to note that there was little, or none, of this rudeness at the game Monday afternoon. It is to be hoped that such will be the policy hereafter, for the reputation of our school rests upon the conduct of the student body.

Last Monday afternoon an incident happened that we can not avoid criticising. Our football coach invited one of the V. M. I. cadets to officiate at our game with A. & M. of North Carolina. He was obliging enough to accept this unpleasant work for us. As he and another cadet were coming back from the football field one of the Washington and Lee students hollered at them. The student who did it was walking on the sidewalk in a large crowd of fellow students and the two cadets were in the middle of the street by themselves. The cadets turned, for the student hollered from behind them, and "called" him. He did not show up. The student was ungentlemanly in the extreme in what he did. We hope he did it innocently and that he either did not know or did not mean what he said. If that was the case he certainly should have come forward and apologized to the cadets; it is not too late for that yet. If he did mean what he said he should have come out and shown himself. It certainly is not fair that the University and the student body should get blame for such conduct. What would two of us think if, when passing a large crowd of cadets, one would call at us in such a manner? Then when we turned and asked the unknown man to make good his words, have no one show up?

It is not known what effect the new yells had on the team, but it is known that they caused Siamese to crow.

An industrious member of the law school has discovered the existence of such a legal entity as a notary re-public, and, owing to his introduction of this newly found officer into the practice of taking affidavits he will have to rewrite his declaration.

ORAL DEBATES

MONDAY, OCT. 22nd, 1906.

Question—Resolved, That Southern representatives from the Coast States should be urged by commitments to vote for the ship subsidy bill now pending in Congress.

At least one Wash man will not be cheated out of a trip to Hollins by allowing himself to be elected to a position connected with the Thanksgiving debate.

ODE

As fair as early twilight and as radiant as the morn,
As pure as is the lily on the heart of maiden worn,
Our own, our Alma Mater, in thy courts our souls were born,
To Thee we pledge our Faith.

CHORUS—Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!
Glory, Glory, Hallelujah!

For Washington and Lee.

As strong as is our happiness, far stronger than our woe,
Thy holy precepts guide us in the path that we should go,
E'en where thy giant WILSON led, who taught us once below,
In Thee is our chief Hope.

CHORUS

Fair, strong, and wise Our Mother, fill our hearts with sacred peace,
Who now come up before Thee in these throngs that ne'er shall cease,
O multiply thy children, and forevermore increase,
Thou art our well-BELOVED.

Personals

Mrs. and Miss Dunlap left Lexington today for Tennessee.

Mrs. Edward Graham is visiting relatives in Richmond.

Jimmy Caskie was in Lexington last Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Reid White spent several days at the Richmond horse show.

Miss Louise Haskins and Miss Bessie Doyle went to Charlottesville yesterday to see the Virginia-V. M. I. game. While there they will be the charming recipients of a german and several teas.

Messrs. Frank McCutchan and J. H. Larrick have been elected captain and manager respectively of the gym team for the present session. If there are any gymnasts in college, you owe the team your support. Let the athletic revival be manifested in the gymnasium as well as on the athletic field.

Several years ago Tom Bledsoe, a senior lawyer of '05, made the "All-Southern Football Team" by his splendid work upon the gridiron. Since that time W. & L. has not been represented on that team. It is rumored, though, that if "Shack" continues throughout the season as he has so far he will deserve the place, even though not appointed to it.

Scrubs.

The second team was billed to play the Staunton Military Academy eleven today, but owing to the bad weather the game was postponed until Monday. We have a strong second team and feel sure that they will prove superior to their opponents on Monday afternoon.

Tennis Club

At a meeting of the Tennis Club on Friday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, D. W. Pipes; secretary, L. A. Toms; treasurer, J. W. Eggleston.

The secretary was authorized to complete arrangements for the spring meets with the Universities of Virginia and North Carolina. The club urges that all men who can play tennis, get out when the weather permits, as we must develop a strong team by the spring term.

Lexington Star Course

Last night the first entertainment of the Lexington Star Course was given in the University Chapel before an enthusiastic audience of about four hundred people, by the International Grand Concert Company.

The weather was rainy, as usual, but that did not prevent the music lovers of Lexington from turning out in full force.

The company was one of the best, if not the best, party of musicians that have appeared here. Each one was a master in his or her particular line.

If the other five entertainments, comprising the star course, maintain the standard set by the company last night, the many purchasers of season tickets will have no ground for objection whatever.

These season tickets count as guarantees, while all entrance money goes to the benefit of athletics.

Alumnus and Cupid

"Senator" Henry Cummings Tillman, a well known and universally liked alumnus of Washington and Lee, shuffled off this bachelor coil Thursday, October 4th, and, unable to resist the inexplicable attractiveness of Lexington, hastened thither after he and Miss Mary Fox, of Concord, N. C., had been united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The twain left the 10th instant, followed by the Godspeeds of friends.

Wedded in Baltimore

"Cupid Had his Way as Usual" is the attractive if somewhat conventional headline of a half column article in the Baltimore American for Tuesday, Oct. 9th, which tells of the secret marriage of Mr. Henry G. Temple of Fulton, Ark., who was a student at Washington & Lee University last year, to Miss Lucy C. Anderton of Tappahannock, Va. Considerable parental opposition seems to have caused the candlestick wedding and the ensuing elopement.

"Last Wednesday," continues the narrative, "Mr. Temple declared himself to Miss Anderton and the result was that the couple, accompanied by Misses Lillian Mettle of Wallbrook, and Kittie Livingston, procured a license and went to Rev. Mr. Owens' parsonage and were married.

"Mr. Temple's time was limited, so instead of remaining in the city to notify Mrs. Anderton of her daughter's marriage he and his bride boarded a train and departed at once for their destination, delegating Misses Mettle and Livingston to break the news."

Who will maintain that W. & L. alumni do not endorse the Spanish poet's remark that "el erjeccio mas noble en que podemos empleamos se clama amar?"
