FIRST STAUNTON—PRACTICE GAME

The baseball season opened here Thursday, March 21, with a practice game between the Varsity and Staunton Military Academy. The Staunton boys proved an easy mark for our team, piling up a score of nine to five. This being our first game the team acquitted itself well, making a total of eight hits. The Varsity used two of its new pitchers, Warren pitching the first four innings and Gwathney the last five. Both did credible work, while B. Maxwell of Staunton, pitched a steady game all the way through.

The game was close until the fifth inning when Gwathney gets to first on center fielder's error and Miles follows with a base on balls; when Willis hits for a single scoring Gwathney; then Anthony follows with two base hit, scoring Miles and Willis. Luhn advances Anthony by sacrifice and he scores on center fielder dropping Johnson's fly; Bagley drew four balls and Pipes hit, scoring Johnson and Bagley, making six runs this inning and a total of seven, Luhn making the first run of the season in the fourth. In the seventh inning Anthony and Willis ran together, attempting to catch a pop fly and were taken out of the game and Hood and Chatam, respectively, were substituted.

Two more runs were tallied in the eighth inning, making a total score of nine runs. Until the seventh inning it looked like a shut out for Staunton when Leach scored for them. They scored four times in the eighth, making a sum total of five. The score is as follows.

SECOND STAUNTON—PRACTICE GAME

The second game with Staunton Military Academy resulted in a score of 12 to 1 in favor of W. & L. This was a faster game than the one the day before but Staunton didn't play as the day before, making more errors, and only seven men reached first base.

E. L. Maxwell (brother of the one that pitched Thursday) for Staunton did good work in the box but the Varsity were hitting better, Luhn and Bagley each getting three hits out of five times at bat. Lambertson for W. & L. pitched the first five innings allowing only one hit. Porter and Johnson pitched two inning each in the last part of the game. Porter was in good form having almost perfect control and didn't allow a hit. The positions of W. & L., players were changed around somewhat from the day before but as there are several men for each position the coach was giving some of them a try out.

The line up is as follows.

FISHBURNE 2—W. & L. 14

Monday afternoon W. & L. played their third game of the season, with Fishburne Military Academy, winning by a score of 2 to 14. For a long time it appeared as if the Varsity was going to hand the visitors a lemon in the shape of a shut out game but Fishburne scored two runs in the ninth inning.

For the visitors Hudgins took the box and was knocked out in two innings, Fetzer pitching the remainder of the game. While Paredes one of the new stars pitched a good game for W. & L. per mitting only four safe hits to be made and striking out six.

In the first inning W. & L. made three runs and for Fishburne the first three men at bat were put out and it was the third inning before they had a man to reach first base, W. & L. scored two runs in second and then seven more in the fourth.

The W. & L. boys were playing together well and are batting above the average for so early in the season making eleven hits this game, several of which were for more than one base.

Score of the game is as follows:

Leaguers Arrive

The Williamsport Baseball Club Pennsylvania, pennant winners last year in the Tri-State League, arrived in Lexington March 26th in charge of Manager H. S. Wolvertson.

Since their arrival they have been hard at work every morning and afternoon, and from the manner in which they handle the sphere it is evident that they will be able to cope with the best in the game.

There is a chance for a game between the Varsity team and these visitors during the coming week, and while it is not to be expected that our boys can trim the professionals, yet from the increased strength of the University team it will prove an interesting game from start to finish.

Team Off for Washington

Immediately after the game in Lynchburg yesterday the team left for Washington, where they played the fast nine of Yale University today.

Up until going to press the results of the game had not reached here, but every one is confident that another board walk will have to be laid when the returns finally reach here.

PRACTICE GAME

WITH LEAGUERS

W. & L. Shows Up Well Against the Heavy Hitters

Thursday afternoon, on Wilson Field, the first practice game with the Williamsport Club was played. Neither side did their best, but the playing of the Varsity boys goes to show that they will give their opponents this season a race for victory.

It is not likely that another game will be played with the professionals for some time, as five games are scheduled for next week on the home-grounds. But it is certain that when our boys meet them after a week's hard practice they will make it warm for these veterans.

The score in this game, after five innings, stood 2 to 1 in favor of the club.

Senior Banquet

The banquet committee of the Senior classes desire to report that the banquet will be given at Mrs. Graham's at 8:15 Monday, April 8th.

We have to give in our order by Monday, April 1, at the latest, and all Seniors (fourth-year men) and post-graduates that desire to come, who have not secured tickets, will please do so from one of the committee tonight or Monday morning.

F. G. JONES,
W. R. J. DUNN.

Penn. State Holds Leaguers

Friday afternoon the baseball team from Pennsylvania State played a practice game with the Williamsport professionals. The game resulted in a score of 4 to 2 in favor of the college boys.

The leaguers did not play fast ball, their aim being to give their fielders practice, but the Pennsylvania State boys showed up well, their hitting ability being exceptionally good.

There will be two games with the Keystone State boys on the home grounds Monday and Tuesday. So let every one go out and root for the Varsity. The boys are making a record, so help them along.

Easter Dances

The Cotillion Club will give two dances Easter week. On Monday and Tuesday nights both will start promptly at half past eight. Unusually pretty cards have been gotten and supper will be served on Monday night. A number of visiting girls will be here.

The baseball season proper opened with the game in Lynchburg against Columbia University, but the initial game in Lexington will not take place until Monday of next week.

As has already been stated in these columns the prospects for the fastest team in the history of the University are very bright.
In view of this fact and realizing the many fast teams we will meet on Wilson Field, it is considered pertinent to make some comments upon the conduct of those who will attend these games.

The most beneficial improvement that has been made on the field this year is the fencing off of the diamond. The lack of this fence last year was one of the greatest disadvantages against which the players had to contend.
On many occasions the onlookers would crowd out on the field until it was practically impossible for the player to do their best. The erection of this fence will obviate this evil and at the same time all persons will have equal opportunity of seeing every point of the game.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that the students will give their support in maintaining the best of order at the games. Only by so doing will the team be given a fair opportunity to show their ability as players. Not only do we owe this to our own men, but it is due the visiting teams as well.
Visitors coming here to play expect to be given "square deals" and we should see to it that they get them.

Marshals have been elected by the student body to take charge of the crowd and manage the rooting.
Let every one follow the orders of the leaders, root until hoarse, and the team can be depended upon to take care of all opponents.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Both Teams Showed the Lack of Early Practice in Fielding Errors, But the Victory Was Due Largely to the Work of Johnson and Anthony

The following is the account of Friday's game as given by the Lynchburg News: In a game replete with fielding errors but redeemed by good individual work, Washington and Lee University's nine defeated Columbia University 10 to 4 yesterday afternoon at the Fair grounds.

It was the usual lack of early practice that was responsible for so many errors. In team work Columbia looked better than the Southern boys but the latter won out mainly through the star work of its battery, Johnson and Anthony.

JOHNSON SAVED THE GAME

Johnson, who captains the team by the way, saved the game time and again. Whenever his men seemed to be going to pieces the nery slab artist braced himself and retired the side. One time the bases were full with but one man gone when Johnson caused the next two men to bite the air. In addition he fielded his position wonderfully, having six chances, all of which he accepted without an error.

Anthony, his side partner, who is a Campbell county boy, covered himself with glory. Not a ball went past him, while he had eight outs to his credit. He was handy with the stick, too, making two hits and scoring two runs.

Willis at third played a star game accepting all of his ten chances successfully with the exception of two.

PITCHED ABOUT HALF THE GAME

Brade, Columbia pitcher, lasted just a bit less than half the game. In that time he was touched up for four hits while, Lee, who succeeded him, allowed six during the remainder of the game. Johnson on the other hand allowed but five scattered hits and did not give one free pass. There was but one wild pitch to mar his perfect playing.

Hayes played a fast game for the New York boys at short, accepting five chances successfully.
Miltenberger at first sack was another steady player though he had no spectacular work.

COLUMBIA DREW FIRST BLOOD

At the beginning of the game it looked dark for the Lexington boys, Columbia drawing first blood, scoring the first tally in the third inning. The Southern boys started off badly, as Shafer, the first Columbia man, was safe on Bagley's muff of his grounder.

Shafer was advanced by the next two outs and Tanking fanned the air. Willis made the first clean hit of the game in the first, sending the shere to left field for a single. Bagley sacrificed and the runner stole third only to be left by the next two men.

Some quick work was done in the second by the winners. Mil-tenberger was safe on Brown's error. Brown repeated his error on O'Connell's offering and both men were safe. Zimber sacrificed and Hayes was safe on a fielder's choice. Miltenberger attempted to get home but was thrown out at the plate. Brade ended the agony by flying out to center.
The W. & L. lads went out in order in this inning.

ERRORS CAME QUICK AND FAST

It was in the third that the errors came quick and fast. Shafer went out third to first, but Smith was safe on Luhn's muff of a high throw, Young made his base on an error by Brown, and Tanking was safe when Maxwell dropped his fly. Smith was out at the plate, but Young scored, Chatham was then substituted for Brown at short. The next man went out.

The Lexington boys failed to score in this inning but in the next the harvest came. Columbia had been retired runless and Bagley had struck out. Luhn laced one toward third and was safe.
Anthony followed with a crack to left while Maxwell was safe on Brade's fumble. The bases were then full. Brade went up in the air and gave Moomaw a free pass, forcing Luhn home with the first tally.

The enthusiasm passed beyond the bounds then, and in answer to the frantic cries of the Southern rooters, Captain Johnson singled to left, scoring Anthony and Maxwell. The stand by this time was a mass of blue and white and the few Columbia rooters were drowned into silence.

Chatham was safe on Hayes' fumble, and two men were advanced. Willis fanned, but Bagley hit to short and Moomaw scored.
Hood fled out to left and left three on bases.

In the sixth Brade received the finishing touches. He hit Luhn, the first batter, and the latter was advanced by Anthony's single to left. Maxwell dropped a Texas leaguer back of second and the bases were full. Moomaw went out on a foul fly to Young. But Johnson hit to left, scoring Luhn.
Pitcher Brade was then yanked from the box and Lee took his place. Chatham was out on a fielder's choice to first, but Anthony scored. Willis fanned.

In the sixth, Columbia came back strong. Tanking, the first batter, sent a single to short and was advanced by Miltenberger's sacrifice. O'Connell ripped out to center for three bags and Tanking romped home. Zimber went out but Hayes singled and scored O'Connell. Lee struck out.

In the eighth Columbia roused a scare by piling up three runs. Miltenberger went out on a grounder, but O'Connell was safe on an error. Zimber was safe on Willis' muff of his drive. Both were advanced by Johnson's wild pitch. Hayes then made the bag when Maxwell dropped his easy fly and O'Connell scored. Porter took Maxwell's place in right garden. The comedy of errors continued when Willis dropped Lee's pop fly. Johnson, the hero of the day, then braced up, and Shaffer and Smith both fanned, retiring the side.

TOOK THEIR REVENGE

Washington and Lee took revenge in their half of the inning. Lee hit Chatham, who went to second on a passed ball. Willis drove one to center garden and advanced Chatham to third. Bagley smashed one at Lee and the latter muffed, Chatham sliding. Miltenberger went up in the air and fired the ball at third. At the time nobody was conveniently covering the sack and the ball went on, Willis walking in and Bagley going to second. Hood smashed one out to center and Luhm bunted. Lee threw wild to first and Hood and Bagley scored. Luhm chased on to third and Anthony walked. Porter was safe on a fielder's choice, Luhm going out. Moomaw was thrown out at first and Johnson retired the side by going out short to first.

Columbia's men went out in one two, three order in the ninth.
