VOL. XI

WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1908

NO. 15

"DUTCH" ALDERSON, CAPT. OF '08

Chosen to Lead W. & L's. Gridironists for Next Year

At a meeting of the members of W. & L's. '07 football team, Edwin LeRoy Alderson of Baltimore was chosen to lead the team for next session. That the selection was a wise one and met the approval of the entire student body is evidenced by the favorable comment on all sides.

"Dutch" has been in school here for three years, and has made his monogram each year. A peculiar incident of his connection with the W. & L. football team is, that he has played every position on the team, except at quarter. It was not until this year that he was tried out at full-back. Coach Brown, who had been using "Dutch" as a general utility man, was experiencing no little difficulty in working up a man for this important position, when he decided to try out "Dutch." His work was so favorable the first evening, that he was made a fixture.

"Dutch's" best work has been at full, where he has the past season been a star. In the V. P. I. game Ed. Brown and Alderson were playing their first game in W. & L's. back field, but regardless of this patched-up back-field, the strong V. P. I. line was unable to hold the "Flying Dutchman." It was against Virginia when we were on their 5 yard line that Captain Streit wanted someone to carry the ball

Washington Society

On last Saturday night a most interesting and instructive program was rendered. Both the orations and declamations were very commendable. The orators were Messrs. Cather and Skaggs and the declaimer Mr. Gabriel. One orator and one declaimer were absent. Excellent impromptu speeches were made by Messrs. Dameron, W. E., and Turnbull, W. J.

One of the finest debates in weeks was attentively listened to, the question being, Resolved, That Wm. J. Bryan should be the next presidential nominee of the Democratic party. Enthusiastic speeches with strong argument were presented by both Messrs. Hodges and Porter of the affirmative and Messrs. Kenny and O. W. Richardson of the negative. The negative was awarded the decision by the judges, Messrs. McCord, Lloyd and Brown.

Mr. Caldwell and Mr. Ashley were admitted to membership and Mr. Kenny was elected to fill a vacancy in the contest with our sister society for a representative to the State Oratorical contest.

After a cordial invitation from Graham-Lee to attend their celebration, and a half hour discussion of Constitutional Revision, the society adjourned.

over, and "Dutch" answering the call, smashed the desperately stubborn line of Va. for the required gain. Again in the Bucknell game, perhaps the hardest game we played, their beefy line was unable to stop him under six yards a single time. His splendid physical development, his height of 5 feet 11 inches and weight of 170 pounds make him an ideal full-back. He has good headwork, plenty of nerve and hits the line low, three of the main qualities of a good full-back.

"Dutch" is one of the most popular men in the university, and his good natured disposition has won the friendship of all the students. He is a member of Theta Chi, a prominent local fraternity, and petitioner of the "Dekes." "Dutch" is eminently fitted for the leadership to which he has been elected, and the outlook for a successful year, has been strengthened, by his election.

BILL STREIT

We take great pleasure this week in presenting in our columns a cut of Capt. Bill Streit of '07 football team, the man whose work has been so prominent in raising the standard of athletics at W. & L.

Captain Streit has been on the foot-ball and basket-ball teams for the last two seasons, being captain of both teams last season. Bill's best work, however, is on the gridiron. He is not a star at half-back in carrying the ball, but his defensive work is nothing less than great, and no half-back in the South can run a better interference. His stocky build and great strength enable him to carry the defense of the opposing team out of harm's way while his other half brushes through a hole for consistent gains. "Shack" Bagley is quoted as saying that any half-back could play good ball with Bill Streit running his interference.

Captain Streit is a scrappy player and always kept his men hustling. This was one of the things responsible for the team's good showing; they were always full of fight. Captain Streit says he is coming back next year and play tackle. It is certainly to be hoped that he does, for in this position his work as a defensive player will be of so much more service. But in case he should fail to come back our sentiments are, "Here's to your success Captain Streit."

GRAHAM-LEE CELEBRATION

Somers and Scott Medal Winners

On last Monday evening the Graham-Lee Literary society held their annual celebration. The speakers were greeted by a much larger audience than usually attend such celebrations, and in consequence of the inspiration thereby afforded, acquitted themselves excellently. Music was furnished by the orchestra from the Virginia School for the blind at Staunton, with Professor Beardsworth, the leader of the famous Stonewall Band, as director. The playing of the blind boys brought down the house repeatedly and their songs were liberally applauded and enjoyed.

Mr. R. C. Milling presided over the exercises with Mr. D. P. Boyer as secretary. Mr. J. H. Price was chief marshal.

The orators of the evening were Messrs. Charles E. Burks, of Mississippi, whose subject was: "The Triumph of Industry Under the Banner of Freedom," and Mr. E. W. Somers of Virginia, who spoke on "Our Heritage as Southerners."

Messrs. W. G. Long of Virginia, and H. R. Maler of Virginia, upheld the affirmative of the question: Resolved, That local option is a better means of dealing with the liquor problem than state prohibition; against Messrs. A. L. Herold of West Virginia, and L. G. Scott of Virginia. The affirmative held that local option is preferable to state prohibition because local option expresses the real sentiment of the people without which no law can be enforced; that state prohibition is defective in that it attempts to coerce communities not really favoring it, and thereby fails in its purpose in those communities. The negative held that state prohibition has been more successful in its general workings than local option, that although not absolutely enforced, it must be judged by its purpose, not results; that the very fact that liquor dealers prefer local option, is convincing evidence that state prohibition is more damaging to their business.

The judges, Rev. W. S. Hammond, Professors W. S. Currell and J. R. Long, awarded the orator's medal to Mr. Somers and the debater's medal to Mr. Scott.

The plan put forward by Coach Krebs for the organization of class basketball teams, and his very liberal offer to give his time to rounding these teams into shape, deserves the consideration of every student. Such games would, without doubt, materially help the varsity schedule, and would arouse almost as much interest as the inter-collegiate contests. They would serve to break the monotony of the winter period, and should be liberally patronized. There is still another advantage to be seen in inter-class basketball; that is the larger number of men who would thereby be induced to take vigorous, healthful exercise, and the added possibility of discovering a star who would strengthen the varsity when needed.

EXCHANGES

UNIVERSITY ASSEMBLY

Dr. Vance Addresses Students

Dr. Jas. I. Vance of Newark, N. J., addressed the student body in the chapel Tuesday, Jan. 21st, at 12 o'clock, his subject being "A Man's Growth Toward God."

The opening prayer was made by the Rev. Mr. Hammond. Dr. Denny then announced that the athletic committee had decided that in the future all monograms would be awarded in chapel. He then awarded a monogram to Mr. J. F. Clark, winner in the singles during the tennis tournament.

In his address Dr. Vance said a man's failure to be what God wants him to be is not so much accidental as intentional. Nearly every man passes through a sceptical period in his life and in order to overcome or escape this scepticism the establishment of faith is necessary. Growth toward God is made possible only after faith has been established and as the growth progresses the faith is strengthened. This faith must be genuine and not like that of the followers of Dowie, or of the Christian Scientists, for their faith lacks the true spiritual element.

There are three modes of growth. First, growth by accretion, in which the soul still remains small. Second growth by inflation, which involves "Hot Air" and hypocrisy. Lastly, growth by evolution, which is the true mode of growth since it involves convictions and right principles. It is only through this true growth established and strengthened by a sincere faith that man can reach his greatest happiness.

The University of Pennsylvania baseball team will make a Southern trip in April. Among the games to be played are two with Virginia in Charlottesville, Navy at Annapolis, and Georgetown in Washington.

Harlan, the great drop-kicking half back of Princeton, may enter the University of Virginia next fall to study law. Harlan is also a baseball player of note and would strengthen Virginia athletics immensely.

Albert Sidney Boat Club

The Albert Sidney Boat Club was called to order by President Riser yesterday afternoon in Engineering Hall. Calyx representation was the first subject for discussion, and was put in the hands of a committee composed of Messrs. Hobson, Hoge and Bledsoe, R. B.

The committee on new boats reported that another boat was needed, and recommended that it be purchased. They also reported that seats to replace those stolen from the boats during the summer had been ordered and will be here shortly.

The next matter to come up was the election of the crew committee, Messrs. Hoge and Riser being chosen with power to name a third man. After the enrollment of a large number of new members, the meeting adjourned.

Freshman Class Meeting

There was a meeting of the Freshman Class in the English Room Wednesday at 3:15 o'clock. President Henley called the meeting to order. Calyx representation was discussed and a committee appointed to make all necessary arrangements for representation in that publication. The class then separated into two departments, academic and engineering, and the following officers were elected:

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT

Saunders, vice-president.
Wysor, secretary and treasurer.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

Mrs. John L. Campbell's Sudden Death Sunday

Mrs. Emily Howell Campbell, wife of Mr. John L. Campbell, treasurer of Washington and Lee University, died suddenly at her home in Lexington Sunday morning shortly before nine o'clock, after an illness of ten days with cold and grip. Mrs. Campbell spent the first week in January in Richmond, and upon her return home contracted a cold which, although severe, was not considered especially alarming. She was confined to her bed only a few days, and was considered no worse Sunday morning. Without warning she quietly passed away.

Mrs. Campbell was a daughter of Mrs. Anne Ruffner Howell, of Lexington, and the late Arthur Howell, a former prominent business man of Philadelphia, whose death occurred many years ago in that city. She was reared in Philadelphia. Her mother is a sister of Dr. W. H. Ruffner, who is spending the winter in Ashville, N. C. Mrs. Campbell was a woman of sympathetic disposition, and devoted much time to questions of civic improvement, with especial reference to the betterment of the public schools of Lexington and Rockbridge, and for several years was president of the Rockbridge School Improvement League. She was a communicant of the Episcopal church, and was interested in the various societies of the church. She was possessed of many graces of heart and mind, and was highly cultured. Mrs. Campbell is survived by her husband and an only son, Mr. John L. Campbell, Jr., who is a student at Washington & Lee; also by her aged mother and one sister, Miss Bertha Howell of Lexington.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from R. E. Lee Memorial Episcopal church, conducted by the rector, Rev. W. Cosby Bell, and interment was made in the Lexington cemetery. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent by friends.

Oh! the Lady Nicotine is a friend

We bow at her foot-stool, hang

Her beckoning finger leads us

To seek her hazy solace and

Now and then a recollection of

Drives us to the work the soul
so warmly shirks.
But the Lady still enticing, holds out her cheafest charms,

And inhaled its drowsy pleasures

To heal the wounded pride as

For the "harmless" little Pied-
