PENNANT RACE FOR BASKETBALL LEAGUE PROVES HOT CONTEST

Juniors Defeated---Sophomores Take Lead--- Interest Increases Each Game

Friday night, Jan 31.—The Seniors suffered their second defeat at the hands of the Juniors. The Seniors had been touted by many as easy picking for the Juniors, but after the first few minutes of play it was apparent that the Juniors would have to exert themselves to their limit to conquer the stubborn fight of the Seniors. The Junior class was out in full force to root for their pets, and often rendering it difficult to hear the referee's whistle. The first half it was anybody's game until the whistle blew, when the Juniors enjoyed a slight lead. The second half was as fast and furious as the first, first one team securing tee lead and then the other. But luck was with the Juniors and they won, 10 to 8.

In the first half the strong and fast Sophomore Sophomore-Junior team easily smothered the Junior laws by a score of 10 to 2. But in the second half the lawyers came back strong and made the Sophies show their best fight. This half was the prettiest seen in any of the league games. The Sophomores could do no better than run up 3 scores, as against 2 for the lawyers. The final score stood 13 to 4 in favor of the Sophomores. Hannis, Lamar and Moore for the Sophomores and Caskie and Wiltie for the lawyers played perhaps the best ball.

Tuesday night, Feb. 4.—The largest crowd of the season braved the inclement weather to be in attendance upon the most promising game of the series. Both the Juniors and Sophomores were enjoying up to this time a perfect mark in the percentage column and representatives of both classes were eagerly waiting the results. The Juniors started off with a great rush, and before the crown had gotten a breathing spell had rolled up 6 points on their opponents. The Sophomore's scoring maching moved slowly at first but as the game progressed their steady work began to have a telling effect upon the Juniors. At the latter part of the first half the Sophomores secured a lead which they never released for the remainder of the game. The Juniors made a desperate effort to overcome the lead of the Sophs in the second half, but their efforts were in vain, for the Sophomores seemed to be stronger at the end than in the beginning. This was a beautiful game throughout. The passing, especially of the Sophomores, was clean cut and very effective. Robinson of the Sophomores was the star of the game. He posed well, threw goals cleverly and was at all times remarkably fast. Each member of the Sophomore team played splendid ball. Ghise-lin's work for the Juniors was the best on his team. Hood manipulated a pretty goal from mid field in the first half.

The Junior Lawyers had a perfect walk away in the first half. Fox threw three sensational goals from the field in this half. The Lawyers displayed neat work in this half while the Freshmen seemed contented with roughing. There never was a more complete reversal of form by two teams than was in the second half. The Freshman completely swamped the Lawyers in this half. The Lawyers failed to score a point while the Freshmen piled up 13. The final score stood 17 to 11 in favor of Freshmen. Officers, Krebbs and Streit.

Comments on the League Games

The team which wins the largest per cent of games will be awarded a pennant. This will lend interest to the race.

The Sophomores' victory over the Juniors puts them slightly in the lead. They meet the Freshmen Tuesday night and everybody is expecting the fur to fly.

The Ring-tum Phi will try to give weekly the correct stand of each team and when the season closes will pick, with the assistance of two or three local authorities on basketball, an All-Class team.

W. & L. 30 A. M. A. 18

Last Friday night Captain Osborne and his band of basketball tossers met Captain Roller's Cadets in a basketball game at the Augusta Military Academy, and won a spirited contest from the young soldiers by the score of 30 to 18.

In the first half it looked like the cadets were going to give the W. & L. aggregation a run for their money. This half was exceedingly interesting, both teams palying fast and clean ball. W. & L. was unable to pile up a big score on the youngsters and had to content themselves with the score of 16 to 14. But when the second half opened Captain Osborne and his mer: struck their proper gait and played the game little military men off their feet. So effective was W. & L's work in the second half, that A. M. A. failed to land a single field goal. Osborne for W. & L. did splendid work for his team in the last half, while Krugg for A. M. A. was the star for his team.

The players are greatly elated over the reception given them by Captain Roller, Charles Spencer and the cadets. They report that not a thing was omitted in making their stay at A. M. A. a pleasant one. In view of such treatment it is certain that W. & L. will always have an open place on the basketball schedule for Roller school.

Captain Roller and Pat Krebbs officiated, and the work of both men was highly satisfactory.

The line up:

W. & L.	A. M. A.
Boyd	Gardner
Barker	Left Forward
Osborne, Capt.	Krugg, Capt.
	Right Forward
	Spencer
	Center
Streit, Izard, Fraukanberger	Right Guard
Smart	Cook
	Left Guard

Basketball Next Week

The following games will be played next week in the Basketball League championship series:

Tuesday night—
Juniors vs. Junior Laws.
Seniors vs. Freshmen.
Thursday night—
Sophomores vs. Freshmen.
Seniors vs. Junior Laws.

W. & L. 22. S. M. A. 8

On the way back from A. M. A. W. & L's team played on Saturday night Staunton Military Academy. Captain Osborne and his players had scarcely alighted from the train when their eyes fell upon mammoth posters, upon which in flaming head lines, was the following: "What is undoubtedly the fastest team in the South will meet the W. & L. boys tonight in an endeavor to prove their claims." Of course none but those familiar with the personel of W. & L's team can appreciate the timidity under which they labored after a persual of these hugh dodgers with their modest claims. It might be well to add here that the claims are unproven and the claimants on the other hand proved much easier "picking" than Roller school.

The game was played before a crowd that taxed the capacity of Staunton's large skating rink. From the time the whistle blew for the start it was apparent W. & L. had a walkover and would easily maintain a safe lead at all stages of the game. W. & L's team work kept the Staunton men guessing at all times. The game was rough from start to finish, and often looked more like football than the supposedly far milder sport of basketball. That S. M. A. never had a comfortable "look in" is evidenced by the fact that they were able to manipulate only one field goal the entire game. On the other hand W. & L. had little trouble in registering the "two pointers" as Osborne and Boyd were landing on the basket almost at will. After 25 minutes of play W. & L. easily and thoroughly demonstrated their superiority over the scalpers of U. of Va., and the self styled champions of the South by the decisive score of 22 to 8. Line up.

W. & L.	S. M. A.
Boyd	Thompson, Capt
Barker	Left Forwerd
	Maxwell
	Right Forward
Osborne, Capt.	Apgar
	Center
Streit	Strawer
	Right Guard
Smart, Izard,	Brau
	Left Guard

Goals: Boyd 4, Osborne 4, Maxwell, 1. Fouls: Streit, 6, Thompson 6.
Officials: Krebbs, W. & L.; Liggett, S. M. A.

The gymnasium has been the source of much complaint, and not without cause. A university must stand for the physical as well as the mental development of its students, and since a very small proportion of the students can or will engage in the major branches of athletics, that physical development must come, for the greatest number, from gym work. Washington and Lee has outgrown the present gymnasium by some two or three hundred students; under present conditions it is hardly possible for many men to do gym work, while inadequate room, shortness of bath facilities and unsanitary conditions generally are a source of inconvenience to users of the gymnasium.

Probably a new gymnasium is out of the question; we cannot fix the blame on anyone for conditions, and possibly the faculty are not responsible. But it does seem that with the co-operation of the Faculty Committee on Physical Culture and the Student Athletic Committee some steps for improvement could be made.

Below is a clipping from "Washington & Lee Notes" in the Christian Observer of Jan 29th.

"In these days when success on the athletic field is so unduly exalted, it is a pleasure to record victories gained in the field for which colleges were presumably founded—the field of mental development. In one particular department, presided over by one of the ablest professors and most inspiring teachers this institution has ever had—Professor H. Parker Willis, now filling a chair in the George Washington University, Washington, D. C.—signal success has been achieved. The proof of his work is seen in the fact that three of his students have won first prizes in a competition open to every American College and University. "The Hart, Schaffner, and Mark Prize Essays on Economics." is open to the whole country, and began in 1904-'5. Three years ago, Mr. W. Jett Lauck (now in the W. & L. U. faculty,) won the first prize in class A (open only to graduates), and since then two of Professors Willis's students have won first prize in class B, open to undergraduates; while a third undergraduate received "honorable mention." Besides this, two W. & L. men from this same department, have been awarded fellowships in the University of Chicago in competition with the whole country, and a third has received a scholarship there. Others of Mr. Willis's men have secured very desirable places in the government service, by competitive examinations and otherwise.

In elaboration of the statement that "others of Mr. Willis's men have secured very desirable places in the government service, by competitive examination and otherwise" the result of the examination last July for places on the Child Labor Examination may be given. About 250 took the examination, four of them being W. & L. men. Ninety men passed the examination with fifty appointments to be made. The four W. & L. men not only passed, but received appointments, and are now employed by the Department of Labor.

From the facts in the case, it appears that Washington and Lee's Economics Department has been laid upon a broad and firm basis; and that it will continue to be as efficient as it has proven itself there can be no doubt.

Harry-Lee Boat Club

The Harry-Lee Boat Club was called to order by President Osborne in the Latin Room. Calyx representation was the first subject for discussion. Upon motion of Mr. Cather it was decided to take two or more pages in the Calyx, as might be necessary to include the names of the club members, and to include a picture of last year's crew.

The next question to come up was the election of a crew committee. The election was proceeded with and the committee elected as follows: Minetree, chairman, Osborne and Leap.

ORAL DEBATES

Feb. 12, 1908

Question—Resolved, That woman should be granted the right of suffrage under the same conditions as it is granted to men.

SPEAKERS

Affirmative	Negative
Scott	Leech
Chatham	Engelhardt
Ayres	Hopkins

BRIEF FOR AFFIRMATIVE

I. Woman suffrage is desirable theoretically. A. The best government comes from the consent of the governed. a. Women are citizens in all but the right to vote. b. Woman is intellectually qualified. B. Taxation without representation is unjust. a. Woman own property as well as men. b. The ballot is the only efficient protection to a person's interest.

II. Woman suffrage will benefit the government. A. Politics will be purified. B. New abilities will be made available.

III. Woman suffrage is practicable. A. Her interests are economically important. a. She will think of her own interests. B. The experiment has been successful where tried.

BRIEF FOR NEGATIVE

I. Injurious to society. A. Take her from her natural sphere. B. Would injure her good influence. C. Competent women would not use it, for, 1. It would place her among the low classes of society. a. Illiterates. b. Zealots. c. Negroes. The privilege is little used where it exists.

II. Woman suffrage would be injurious to state institutions. a. Their interests, though equal to man's, are not identical with them. b. It would confer the franchise upon persons unfitted for politics. 1. Physically. 2. By temperament. 3. Emotional. c. It would give rise to lax laws and weaken the government. 1. Laws must be sanctioned by physical strength. 2. Best governments are supported by an influence of physical force.

Personals

Abe Staples, who has been ill for sometime, is rapidly recovering.

Miss Lucy Dunnington of Farmville, is the guests of Miss Shields.

Mr. W. R. Bledsoe who is employed in the government investigation of child labor, is in Lexington for a few days.

Professor Staples has returned from his trip to Richmond, and we are glad to hear that his brother was the successful candidate for the Judgeship of Roanoke.

Professor Martin P. Burks went to Bristol to be present at present at the marriage of his son, Martin P. Burks, Jr., to Miss Oglesby, which took place in that city, Feb. 4. Mr. Burks is an alumnus of Washington and Lee, having taken his law degree here in 1905.

Dr. Latane's Address

In the absence of Prof. Burks, Dr. John H. Latane consented to read to the law school his interesting and instructive paper on legislation prepared some time ago for the Fortnightly Club. In this paper he pointed out very strongly and clearly the tendency of the modern Republican governments towards the Referendum, the Initiative, the Recall and other forms of Democracy.

He pointed out in a most forcible way the evils which were liable to ensue from the initiative and the Referendum, giving as his chief reasons; first, that in the majority of instances, the people to whom political measures are submitted do not understand them or the complications arising therefrom; second, that they draw too great a distinction between constitutional and statutory law.

Dr. Latane said he did not believe in abandoning a good house because it leaked, therefore our present government should be repaired rather than torn down and another established. This could be done, he said, by electing better officers and a more scientific draughting of laws. In aid of the latter he most heartily endorsed the method of lobbying introduced by McCarthy into the state of Wisconsin.

Anyone who has not been so fortunate as to hear this address should not miss another opportunity, should it arise.

WEATHERFORD ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Series of Three Services Held

Mr. W. D. Weatherford of Atlanta, Georgia, International Student Y. M. C. A. Secretary for the South, held three services in the Chapel Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Mr. Weatherford is an alumnus of Vanderbilt University, having taken his Ph. D. there, and has been in his present work seven years. He is an earnest forceful speaker, and his addresses were helpful and strengthening to all who heard him.

On Wednesday evening the subject of Mr. Weatherford's address was the Social Side of Life. On the basis of the text, "No man liveth unto himself and no man dieth unto himself," the speaker pointed out that a man's deeds cannot be measured solely by their effects upon himself, but also by their influence upon society, and therefore no man has a right to do those things which would influence his fellows to go downward instead of upward. The second address was a plea for purity in heart, speech and conduct upon the part of the college men. Friday evening the subject was "The Great Friendship."

The Robbery

Last Saturday night John Tabb, while returning from his frat. meeting was held up by a bold highwayman, to whom he delivered all his valuables, to-wit: a watch. He immediately summoned the Lexington police force to assist in recovering the same, but to no effect, for the watch was returned next day by one of his friends.

The only legal action that has been taken in the case, as yet, was a civil writ of summons issuing from the Moot Court and served on the robber, by leaving a true copy at his boarding house, and severely punishing him by reading to him section 3674 of the Va. code:

WASHINGTON

On Saturday night, Feb. 1, promptly at 8:00 o'clock, the "Wash" society was called to order by President Ragon. After the usual preliminary matters the regular program was taken up. Mr. Hooper delivered a very commendable oration on Education and Mr. Elam a good declamation on The Bridge of Sighs.

The question for debate was, Resolved, That the unanimity requirement should be abolished in civil jury trials. Messrs. Grubb and Skaggs supported the affirmative, while the negative was upheld by Messrs. W. M. Johnson and O. W. Richardson. The judges, Messrs. Heard, Dameron and Mason, decided for the affirmative. The debate was quite interesting and much enjoyed, especially the pointed and amusing rebuttal of Mr. Grubb.

One of the most interesting features of our meetings, and certainly of this one, was the excellent impromptu addresses by Messrs. Kenny and Hodges; the former on the Role the Tariff Question will Play in the Coming Election, and the latter on Opportunities in Mexico for Young Men.

After the report of our efficient critic, Mr. Batten, the society adjourned.

GRAHAM-LEE

The society was called to order by President Mahler. After a few preliminary remarks he administered the oath of office to the newly elected officers. President-elect McMullen in accepting the office delivered a very able and instructive address entitled "The Power of a Purpose."

The following program was then rendered: A declamation was given by Mr. Dawkins as a substitute for an oration by Mr. Keebler. The other declaimers were Messrs. Revely and Caldwell. The question for debate was Resolved, That the Democratic nominee for President in 1908 should come from the South. Affirmative, Messrs. Price and Hobson; negative, Messrs. Alley and Tucker.

The reporter who wrote up the Senior-Law meeting in last week's issue wishes to say that the motion, as put by Mr. Arnold for a banquet during finals was simply "that we have a banquet" and was afterwards amended to "a wet banquet" by some one else.
