Gymnasium Team Exhibition

Taylor Wins All-round Cup—Other Winners Are Scott, Dawkins, Tucker, Pritchett, and Searing.

The annual gymnasium contest last Friday night was a success in every detail. The team as a whole, as well as individually, showed up well. The ease with which the different acts were performed gave evidence that the team has been well trained. The team is composed of E. R. Taylor, captain; N. R. Beddow, manager; H. S. Tucker, W. G. Wood, W. M. Miller, L. H. Scott, C. Dawkins, J. L. Larriek, O. P. Searing, A. M. Mutersbaugh, S. A. Robbins, F. C. Williams, C. B. Pritchett, and R. B. Lloyd. Frank McCutchan, Jr., is physical director.

Prizes were awarded to the best performers in the separate events, and also the Williamson-Graham cup to the best all-round athlete. J. E. Doyle, physical director at the Virginia Military Institute, was judge of the winners.

The first event was performances on the mats by McCutchan, Taylor and Scott. This was exceptionally good, and each one deserved the great applause which he received from the audience.

On the horizontal bar the entries were Taylor, Tucker, Miller, Scott, Dawkins, Larriek, Mutersbaugh, and Lloyd. This work was well done, and especial credit is due Taylor, Tucker, Scott, Dawkins, Larriek, and Searing.

Those competing on the parallel bars were Taylor, Tucker, Scott, and Lloyd. Many difficult stunts were performed, showing much strength and skill.

On the german horse, Taylor, Scott, Dawkins, Pritchett, and Lloyd did good work.

Those entering the flying rings contest were Taylor, Miller, Scott, Dawkins, Searing, Mutersbaugh, and Lloyd. This was likewise up to the high standard of the other events. In all these performances Director McCutchan took part and showed himself ably and well qualified in this line of work.

One of the greatest events of the evening was the slack wire exhibi-

Colgate Wins Exciting Game

'Varsity Lose the Game in the Tenth Inning—A Number of Brilliant Plays and Many Costly Errors.

After playing an up-hill game and tying the score in the eighth inning, the 'Varsity lost an exciting baseball game Monday afternoon in the tenth inning to Colgate University. Several pretty plays were pulled off on each side, and the visitors were applauded more than once for brilliant plays. The 'Varsity should have won, but for two or three costly errors. With the bases full in the fifth, a bad throw to home allowed Colgate to score three men.

Gwathmey twirled the first five innings for W. & L., but was relieved by Low in the 6th. Gwathmey was wild and was touched up for seven hits during his stay in the box, but poor support allowed Colgate to score the larger part of their runs. Low pitched his usual good game, allowing only three hits in the five innings he was in the box.

Rectenwald pulled off a pretty play in the first inning when he tagged Buck between third and home, while Herring made a pretty three-bagger in the first inning, scoring Hood, and later himself scoring on Stras' single. Buck, sometimes known for convenience under the cognomen of Brick, former pitcher on Amherst and on Trenton, of the Tri-State League, essayed to do the twirling for Colgate, but after being touched up rather freely in the seventh and eighth innings, he retired in favor of Chapman.

Perhaps the best chance 'Varsity had to win was in the eighth inning. With the score tied, Rectenwald tried to steal home from third, and on a close play was called out at the plate.

The visitors scored two runs in the tenth as the result of two hits and a combination of errors, and thereby cinched the game.

Mr. Dan Porter, "Red's" brother, now of Cincinnati, Ohio, umpired the game.

The following is the game in detail:

1st Inning—Colgate.—Coster

'Varsity Defeats St. John Cadets

Paredes Pitches Fine Game, and Has Good Support—Result, 'Varsity Wins by Score of Three to One

Washington and Lee's fast baseball team defeated the St. John Cadets Wednesday afternoon in a good game. "Jake" Paredes was in the box for the 'Varsity, and he pitched a great game, allowing the cadets only three measly hits, two of these being of the 'scratch' variety. He showed up well at critical times, and deserved a shut-out. St. Johns scored their only run in the first inning. Groves, the first man up, was walked, went to third on a wild throw to second, and scored on Crew's single.

The 'Varsity boys were unable to score until the sixth, when Herring reached first on an error, was sacrificed to second, and scored soon after on Grove's error. W. & L. scored two more runs in the seventh. Speed, the first man up in this inning, singled, Paredes struck out, Shuford flied to left field, Hood then reached first on an error, while Speed went to third. Hood then stole second, and both men scored soon after on Herring's single.

Speed played an excellent game, both in the field and at the bat. He accepted six chances without an error, and got two hits out of four times up. Anthony also did well with the stick, getting two hits. Rectenwald played a fine game, but was injured in tagging a man out at the plate. However, he showed plenty of nerve and remained in the game.

Bosley, St. John's brilliant quarter-back, did the pitching stunt for the cadets. He showed good control, but yielded up eight hits. The boys from Annapolis made a hard attempt to score in the ninth, but there was nothing doing, for they were unable to fathom Paredes' curves.

The high wind was disagreeable to both players and spectators.

Speed, Shuford and Stras pulled off a pretty double play in the fourth, which made the rooters happy. Another feature of the game was Low's base-running, who ran for Rectenwald in the

'Varsity Loses To Fordham

Costly Errors Give the Catholics the Game in the Seventh Inning—Some Very Good Plays on Both Sides.

Costly errors at critical times, and the Varsity's inability to hit Mahoney, lost the game to Fordham Saturday afternoon on Wilson Field. Paredes did the pitching stunt for W. & L., and let the hard-hitting Fordham bunch down with six hits, five singles and a double. He kept his hits well scattered, and had eleven strike-outs to his credit. He also showed up well with men on the bases, pulling himself out of more than one critical place.

Mahoney, who pitched for Fordham, allowed the 'Varsity only two hits, one of these being a single by Stras in the sixth inning, the other a two-bagger by Anthony in the ninth.

Fordham scored the first run of the game in the third inning. McCaffrey was walked. Gargan struck out. Caffrey was safe on Speed's wild throw. Mahoney singled, scoring McCaffrey. Both Fordham and W. & L. scored one run each in the sixth, while Fordham made three more in the seventh. The first man up in this inning was hit by Paredes, a couple of errors and a single netted the visitors three runs.

W. & L. scored their only run in the Sixth. Paredes, the first man up, struck out. Shuford grounded to short and was safe on a wild throw. He stole second and scored when Scanlon dropped Hood's fly to right. Hood went to second. Herring struck out. Stras then singled, Hood going to third. Stras took second. With two men on bases and two out, the rooters made things lively, but Anthony could not connect with the ball, and he struck out.

Clarke made a pretty catch of Egan's long fly in the third.

The Fordham team were a fast set of ball players, and only recently shut out Princeton by a score of 2 to 0.

The 'Varsity's weak spot is with the stick. Only one man is batting as much as .300. This is Rectenwald, having a percentage of Rectie let one through and Dobbins scored. Chapman hit through short, and on Hood's throw to home three men scored. Chapman went out, second to first.

W. & L.—Anthony lands on one which the center fielder fails to hold, Anthony went to second, and then stole third, and scores on a wild throw. Gannon fled to center, Speed fanned. Hodgkin was substituted for Gwathmey and singled. Shuford singled, but Hodgkin was caught at second.

6th.—Colgate.—Low went into the box for W. & L. Buck was walked. Sturgis fouled to Rectie. Buck reached second on an error. Switzer fanned. Dobbins singled, Buck went to third. F. E. Leonard went out via short to first.

THE ROOTING.

It is not hard to root for the team when they are playing winning ball. But how about it when the reverse is the case? This is the time when the most support is needed, and this is the time when it is the hardest to show any spirit of enthusiasm. The rooting so far this season has been very good. We hope it will increase as the season advances, and that a contagious spirit of enthusiasm for the team may be shown regardless of whether they are winning or losing. As a matter of fact this is easier said than done, because it is a well known fact that when we are winning there are always spontaneous outbursts of applause. When we are losing there cannot be the same spontaneity, but there can be rooting just the same. Loyalty to the team, and college spirit demand it. Why not show to our visitors an appreciation of the sport regardless of victory or defeat? Show them that we can root and support our team even when odds may seem against us. Show them that we can appreciate a good play on either side, and that we are not so narrow minded that we cannot applaud it.

Above all, show that we have confidence in our own team, the team will then have confidence in themselves. In other words, show the real and true "Washington and Lee" spirit.

ST. JOHN'S CLEAN SPORT.

The clean, sportsman-like manner in which St. John's teams have always conducted themselves on the local diamond is worthy of the highest praise. Though they were defeated in the recent game, they put up a good, clean, manly game, and bore the defeat in the same manly spirit.

We are always glad to welcome them here, and hope that relations with them on the gridiron will be as pleasant as those on the diamond.

tion by R. B. Lloyd. His balance on the wire was perfect. With remarkable ease he balanced himself on the wire, and at the same time kept objects in the air, such as balls, knives, dumb bells, etc. Walking in the hoop and sack, sitting on a chair, and lying on the wire were other very difficult acts which were performed with remarkable skill.

The boxing match between Robbins and Rinehart was a unique affair. Rinehart, who took McClure's place, did well, although odds were against him in the skill of Robbins. After four rounds they parted with a hand-shake. "Cob" Henly was referee, and Bootay and "Windy" Ordeman were seconds.

In wrestling, Beddow and Williams were well matched. For ten minutes it was a lively tussle, with first one and then the other seeming to get the advantage.

The double tumbling by Scott and McCutchan was much enjoyed by the audience, as was shown by applause.

The pyramids by the entire team was a fitting close to the excellent performances of the evening. The prizes were awarded by Dr. James Lewis Howe. In a few brief remarks he congratulated the team upon their excellent work, and thanked them in behalf of the audience for the performances of the evening. The winners of the prizes were announced as follows:

All-round Cup—E. R. Taylor.

On the Mats—L. H. Scott.

Horizontal Bar—C. Dawkins.

Parallel Bars—H. S. Tucker.

German Horse—C. B. Pritchett.

Flying Rings—O. P. Searing.

Good music was furnished for the occasion by a string band composed of "Tubby" Derr, Chidestes, Dodd, and Willson.

WASHINGTON LITERARY SOCIETY.

After an intermission of two weeks, due to examinations, the society convened Saturday night, April 3rd, and was called to order by President Dameron. The regular order of business was carried out, the following officers being elected to serve for the spring term of 1909: H. S. Caldwell, president; A. W. Ruff, vice-president; W. E. Moreland, secretary; Claud Smith, treasurer; O. H. Breidenbach, critic; J. G. Pelter, censor. Messrs. L. B. Stanley and R. H. Spahr were elected final orators.

The inaugural address of Mr. Caldwell was very forcible and well taken. It contained many excellent suggestions and ideas that will be beneficial to the society if carried out. The newly elected officers took their respective places and the regular program was rendered. The report of retiring President Dameron showed the wonderful progress of the society during the past administration and the possibilities open to it in the future. Mr. Cozart gave an excellent declamation, his subject being "The Old Fiddler." The declamation contained much pathos, especially for those who can appreciate the close relation existing between the "old fiddler and his fiddle." The question for debate, Resolved, "That President Roosevelt had no right to interfere with the action taken by the California Legislature in regard to the exclusion of Japanese children from the State's public schools," was argued on the part of the affirmative by Messrs. Adams and Maley, and on the part of the negative by Messrs. F. R. Ruff and Riviere. The judges, Pifer, Hart and Gammon, rendered a decision in favor of the negative. On motion the society adjourned.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

LANDIS—GLASGOW.

Tuesday afternoon, at half-past two o'clock, a very pretty marriage was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Glasgow, on White street, when their daughter, Miss Grace Ellen, was wedded to Mr. Edwin Carter Landis, of Detroit, Michigan, Dr. Alfred T. Graham, pastor of the Lexington Presbyterian church, performing the ceremony.

The large bay window of the parlor was banked with ferns and other potted plants, forming a beautiful altar, while the old chapel ivy was gracefully entwined over the darkened windows. Many candles, tastefully arranged among the green plants, lent a soft light to the impressive scene.

At the appointed hour the bride, preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Lucile Landis, of Nashville, Tenn., sister of the groom, entered the room on the arm of her father. She carried a chatelain bouquet of lilies of the valley, and was gowned in white messaline, over tafetta, the bodice trimmed in old duchess lace, which had been worn by two of her grandmothers on their wedding days. Miss Landis wore white messaline, trimmed in princess lace and carried pink carnations. The aisle to the altar was formed by dainty ribbons, held by little Misses Catherine Glasgow, Sarah White, Isabel West, Emily Peniek, Frances Glasgow and Winifred West.

At the altar the bride was met by the bridegroom, attended by his best man, Mr. Samuel McPheeters Glasgow, a brother of the bride. Dr. Graham then performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party and the guests were served with a dainty luncheon, after which Mr. and Mrs. Landis were driven to the Chesapeake and Ohio station, where they took the 4 o'clock train for the West.

Although the wedding was rather a quiet home affair, and the guests were drawn only from among the relatives and intimate friends, the presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Landis were numerous and handsome.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Landis and Miss Landis, of Nashville; Mrs. Dr. Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. Glasgow Armstrong, Hon. Joseph A. Glasgow, of Staunton; Miss Mary McPheeters, of Columbia, S. C.; Misses Edmonia and Lucy Smith, of Staunton; Miss Gouher, of Baltimore; Mrs. Katherine Paxton, and the Misses Paxton, and Miss Lucy Glasgow, of Buena Vista; relatives and friends of Lexington, several members of the faculty and students of the University.

Mrs. Landis has many friends here to whom she has endeared herself by her charm of manner, and who, while regretting to give her up, extend their best wishes to the young couple in their Western home.

Mr. Landis received his Bachelor's degree at Washington and Lee in 1905, and is very pleasantly remembered by the faculty and some of the older men in college. He now holds an important position with the Burroughs Adding Machine Company in Detroit.

Miss Mary McPheeters, of Columbia, S. C., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Frank T. Glasgow, on White street.

Mrs. Gadsden and the Misses Gadsden returned on the third from an extended visit to Charleston, S. C., and Richmond, Va.

Miss Elizabeth Preston, accompanied by Messrs. William and Preston Trigg, returned a week ago from a delightful visit to Abingdon, Va.

Miss Tillie Page, of New York, is the guest of her cousins, the Misses Gadsden, at "The Pines."

Miss Caroline Preston left on Thursday for an extended tour to Richmond, Norfolk, and Washington, D. C.

Mr. James Caskie and Mr. Pret Holland spent their spring vacation in Lynchburg, Va.

Mrs. Townsend, of New York city, and her son, Mr. Townsend, of Yale College, are the guests of Mr. John Campbell at "Stone."

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Burks, Jr., are spending a few days at Natural Bridge, Va.

Mr. Charles Mercer McCrum is spending some time in Lexington.

Miss Rachel Howerton has returned from a very charming visit to relatives and friends in Charlotte, N. C.

Misses Lucy and Edmonia Smith, of Staunton, were among the out-of-town guests at the Glasgow-Landis wedding.

Mrs. Dillon, Mrs. Turner, and Miss Frances Dillon left last week for Indian Rock.

Mrs. Speed and Miss Roberta Speed, of Memphis, Tenn., are visiting Mr. John K. Speed, and while in Lexington are the guests of the Misses Graham, at the "Country Club."

Lawrence Witten left today for the Biennial convention of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, which convenes in New Orleans on the 14th.

Mr. Sterling Mann and Mr. Clarence Robbins have returned from a Northern automobile trip.

Miss Agnes Patton has been visiting Miss Loomis Logan in Salem, Va.

Miss Frances Howe spent several days last week with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Howe, in University place.

Dean and Mrs. Burks, Mrs. Josephine Withers and Mr. Martin Withers will leave on Wednesday for Harrisonburg, where they will attend the Tucker-Withers wedding, which takes place on Thursday, the 15th.

Miss Elizabeth Cross is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Cross, on Lee Avenue.

A wedding of much interest takes place in Lynchburg on Thursday, when Miss Jessie Apperson will be married to Mr. Gordon Leigh, of the above said city. Miss Apperson has a large number of friends at Washington and Lee, where she has attended several dances. Among the bridesmaids will be Miss Avis Grant, of Richmond, and Miss Margaret Apperson, who will act as maid of honor, both of whom have a host of admirers in Lexington.

The Easter dances are expected to be a great success, and very enjoyable, owing to the unusually large number of visiting callers who are expected, and a great many of whom have already arrived in Lexington.

J. Ed. Deaver is still at the old stand. Drop in and have a chat with him.

Mason C. Denver has returned from New York city and Westfield, New Jersey, where he spent several days during the past week.

L. M. Collins left College on Thursday for his home at Wynne, Arkansas. His health for the past few weeks has not been the best, and he is compelled to leave college on this account.

ORATORICAL CONTEST ON APRIL 17.

The preliminary contest for the position as the representative of Washington and Lee University in the State Interscholastic Oratorical contest, will be held in the economic lecture room on April 17, at 8 p. m. The speakers elected to represent the Graham-Lee Society are Worrell and Leach, those to represent the Washington Society are Potter and F. R. Ruff. Besides these speakers the contest is open to any member of either society. The winner, as stated above, will represent Washington and Lee in the State Interscholastic contest.

ROANOKE SHUT OUT.

'Varsity Plays Splendid Ball—Rectenwald Out of the Game.

Friday afternoon Roanoke College met defeat on Wilson Field at the hands of the 'Varsity by the close score of 1 to 0. The day was cold and windy, and this caused both players and spectators much discomfort. However, W. & L. put up a splendid game in the field, but failed to connect with Peery's curves for more than two hits. One of these was a two-bagger by Stras in the second inning, while Gannon's was for but one base in the sixth.

"Red" Low was on the rubber for the 'Varsity, and he pitched a splendid game. He kept Roanoke's hits well scattered, and used his spit-ball to good advantage. Five singles was the best Roanoke could do. Stras played a fine game at first, accepting sixteen chances without an error. He also did well with the stick. Speed also made several pretty plays.

Rectenwald, who was injured in the St. John's game, was unable to play, and Anthony took his place behind the bat. "Mark" caught a splendid game.

The 'Varsity scored the only run of the game in the third inning. Low reached first on Morehead's wild throw to first, Shuford fouled to McPherson, Hood hit to Peery, and on a bad throw to second, both Low and Hood were safe. Herring struck out, Stras was hit, filling the bases. Anthony was walked, forcing in the winning run.

Low and Stras made a pretty double play in the sixth.
