A. M. A. DEFEATS SOPHS.

Close and Exciting Game Won by Roller's Men 5 to 0—Collinswood's Punting for Cadets of Varsity Class

The Sophomore class football team surprised its most ardent admirers last Tuesday, when they held the strong A. M. A. team to a single touchdown. Much interest was centered on the outcome, owing to the Junior score against the same team the week before. If the results of the two games can be depended upon it looks like a fight to a standstill between the two class rivals for the interclass championship.

When hard pushed the Soph. defense stiffened and the line held like a stone wall. In the third quarter the cadets rushed the ball to the one yard line, using a series of end runs and forward passes; but here after three attempts the ball went over. A kick put it in the center of the field.

Through the excellent work of the ends and backs A. M. A. pushed the ball over for the only touchdown in the fourth quarter. Collinswood failed at a difficult goal. The prep boys victory was due to the almost perfect handling of the forward pass and the great broken field running of Gallagher, who seldom failed to return a punt less than 15 or 20 yards. Collinswood's toe also played an important part, his punting being of varsity class.

Richardson and Elliott were the only consistent ground gainers of the Sophs. The all around work of Whitehead caused much favorable comment, while the defensive work of Crist was of the highest order. Peoples handled the punt of Collinswood in good style and often returned them for substantial gains.

The entire team is loud in its praises of the excellent treatment received at the hands of the cadets. Captain Richardson stated that his team got all that was due them and a great deal more.

The team lined up as follows:

A. M. A.	Position	Sophs.
Cunningham	C.	Crist, McKee
Moore	R. G.	Gardner, Potter
Reid	L. G.	Worth
Acree, Rawley	R. T.	Turbyfill
Travel	L. T.	Dillon
Ashby	R. E.	Gibson, Peebles
Moray	L. E.	Barton, Gibson
Landes	Q.	Whitehead, Gibson
Gallagher	R. H.	Erwin, Peebles
Graham	L. H.	Elliott
Collinswood	capt. F. B.	Richardson, capt.

Referee—Major Roller of V. M. I. Umpire—Miller of W. & L. Field Judge—Whitshire of U. Va. Head Linesman—White of A. M. A. Time of Quarters—10, 8, 10, 8.

At the meeting of the Chemical Society last Wednesday night Dr. Howe gave an interesting lecture upon chemical industries in Scandinavia. The lecture was rendered even more interesting by the excellent stereopticon views of Dr. Stevens.

GEORGETOWN LEADS SOUTH ATLANTIC TEAMS

Ed Grillo of the Washington Evening Star Reviews Work of South Atlantic Division Up to the Present—Open Formation Not Greatly Developed

Ed Grillo sporting editor for the Washington Star reviewed the work of the teams in the South Atlantic Division in the issue of Nov. 2. He says:

"In considering the relative merits of the teams in a certain section, about the only method to pursue that will not give rise to criticism is to judge each team's strength by comparative scores. But every one who follows the sport closely knows that there are certain conditions that may and do often arise to give one team a victory over its opponent when that team is not as good as the one defeated. Hence it may not be surprising to note that in one instance, in the following, a team has been placed in front of a team that, according to comparative scores, is its superior.

"At the present time the work of the teams in this section would seem to warrant their being placed in the following order:

- Georgetown.
- Virginia Polytechnic Institute.
- Virginia.
- North Carolina A. & M.
- North Carolina University.
- Davidson.
- Washington and Lee.
- George Washington.

"Georgetown is undoubtedly the best selection for first place. The only basis on which the position can be disputed is the game with A. and M. at Raleigh in the beginning of the season, which was not a fair criterion of the strength of the two teams. It was played on a muddy field in a driving rain and such conditions are not conducive to the style of play so far exhibited by the Hill-toppers. If the two teams were to meet now under favorable conditions there could hardly be any doubt as to the result. The fine showing of the Blue and Gray aggregation against Washington and Lee at a time when they showed to advantage, in comparison to the recently stubbornly contested games played by that school against other teams in the section, gives to Georgetown the undisputed right to the leadership of this section so far.

"V. P. I. came slowly during the early part of the season, but has developed wonderfully in the last two weeks. The Navy was recently played to a standstill in a game in which there were no flukes to detract from the laurels won, and Washington and Lee was defeated last Saturday by 23 to 0. On account of their excellent work in these two games the Techs are given second place.

"Virginia, which has been placed third in the list, is more or less of an enigma. No team has as yet been played that is in her class and a very clear line on the real strength of the team cannot be gained. It has showed up strong in the opening games, but it is generally conceded that the Charlottesville eleven, is not up to the standard of former years.

Whether it will have a chance to beat Georgetown in their annual game next week will probably be shown in the contest Saturday with the Indians.

"The North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College is out with its usual strong aggregation of players, and there is probably very little difference between it and the teams that have been placed before it. The eleven is without the services of a classy punter, and its defense is not developed as well as that of the teams that are judged to be its superior.

"North Carolina, although defeated by Davidson, has been placed in front of that team because Davidson caught it unawares. Carolina had lost three of her best men the week previous to the game, and the coach was unable to develop men to fill the vacancies in the three days remaining before the contest. Carolina lost 6 to 0, but if she had been able to present the lineup that she did in the Georgetown game there is little doubt that there would have been a different story.

"Davidson is given the preference over Washington and Lee, although defeated by that team, 14 to 12. It was a game in which according to the competent judges who witnessed it, the winners were clearly outplayed. The performance of this team is especially meritorious, as it averages only 147 pounds, an average far below that of the teams against which it has been pitted.

"The Lexington school is not represented by as good an aggregation as in former years. The eleven is way below the standard set heretofore. Overwhelmingly defeated by Georgetown, 52 to 0, and losing to their most bitter rivals, V. P. I., 23 to 0, Washington and Lee's season has so far been anything but successful.

George Washington is also going through a disastrous season. The Hatcheties have already been defeated by one second-rate school and have failed to cross the goal line of two others.

"All of the teams are using about the same style of play. Notwithstanding the many statements of some coaches and devotees of the game during the early season that cup formation and spread plays would supersede the old methods of play, and that the quarterback position would be done away with entirely, it is apparent that they either did not believe what they were saying or else experiments have proved that style of play useless. Probably each is partly true. V. P. I. is at present using the most open work, but the same success that attended its efforts last year has not been evident this season. Georgetown has had more success than other teams because it has combined the open with the close style of play so judiciously that

RIBBON SOCIETIES

HOLD ELECTIONS

P. A. N. and S. B. C. Choose New Men for Membership. Initiations to Take Place Sometime Around Thanksgiving

P. A. N. and S. B. C., the two rival ribbon societies of the University, are now holding their regular fall elections of new members, the invitations to be sent out at an early date. Formerly, before the old chapter of T. N. E. had been changed into P. A. N., there was no restriction as to joining both societies, but according to an agreement reached in 1908, membership in only one of them is now allowed, putting them on a strictly rival basis. Sigmas, the Senior society, is composed of men chosen from the combined personnel of the two. This year, for the first time, there are no men in college who belonged to both P. A. N. and S. B. C. before the rule stated above went into effect.

Written invitations will be issued the Saturday before Thanksgiving and while the exact date of the invitations has not been decided, it is understood that they will probably take place the following Saturday. Replies to the invitations are signified by putting on the ribbons of the respective societies, which are enclosed in the invitations.

The present membership of the two societies is as follows:

P. A. N.: R. G. Thach, J. M. Barker, Jr., W. K. Lemey, R. A. Waddill, D. B. Earwood, Bruce Richardson, J. L. Campbell, Jr., V. E. Manor, J. A. Young, Edward Brown, R. P. Beaman, R. C. Hood, Mulford Stough, B. R. Hooper, W. H. Dew, William Paxton, J. H. Campbell, Jr., J. L. Ryan.

S. B. C.: J. N. Montgomery, W. L. Freeland, W. L. Webster, R. R. Witt, Jr., J. F. Clark, R. J. Coke, F. A. Hahn, G. T. Knote, J. T. Watson, R. M. Winborne, J. R. Blackburn.

SEVEN W. & L. STUDENTS

GET LEGAL LICENSES

Thirty-eight applicants went before the state board of law examiners last Wednesday for licenses to practice. Of this number only 15 succeeded in passing the examination. Seven of the 15 licensees are now students in the Washington and Lee law school and only 10 men from Washington and Lee were applicants. None of the men from this law school are graduates, but they expect to get degrees next June. The successful men from Washington and Lee were:

W. R. Dodd, C. O. Dunn, J. N. Harman, Jr., H. A. Sacks, N. W. Schlossberg, C. C. Scott and L. G. Scott.

H. L. Garret, H. B. Gregory, William F. Clarke, F. B. Richardson and R. M. Winborne decided not to take the examination at this time, although they had qualified, but to wait until the June examination, which will be held on the fourth Wednesday in the month at Roanoke.

REMOVAL OF REV. WILLIAM GRAHAM'S REMAINS

Plans are being perfected for the removal to the grounds of Washington and Lee University of the remains of the Rev. William Graham, the founder of that institution. It is now expected that this will be done this month.

Former Attorney General William A. Anderson, who is a member of the board of trustees of the University, has undertaken to arrange for the removal and is understood to have secured from the authorities in Richmond the permission to make it. The remains lie under historic St. Johns church in Richmond. They were buried in the churchyard on the death of Mr. Graham in that city in 1799, and were made to lie under the church by reason of a later addition to it. The executive committee of the University have chosen Messrs. A. Graham Robinson and Edward L. Graham as representatives of the alumni to accompany the remains from Richmond. They are among the closest kin of the Rev. William Graham in this vicinity, being descendants of his brother, Edward Graham, an early professor in Washington college.

The remains will be received in Lexington with appropriate ceremonies and Hon. William A. Anderson will deliver the address of the occasion. The interment will be made, it is now expected, in a spot on the University campus, very near to the Lee mausoleum. Temporarily the grave will be marked by placing upon it the slab which was originally erected over the grave in Richmond. This will be removed later to make way for a more imposing monument to be erected by the University.

NAME SELECTED FOR LEGAL DEBATING SOCIETY

The members of the Senior law class, who a few weeks ago organized a legal debating society, have settled upon a name for the organization. It will be called the Goode Law Debating Society. The name is in honor of the Hon. John Goode, a graduate with the first law class turned out by Judge Brockenbrough's law school in 1850. This school became, during General Lee's administration, the "School of Law and Equity of Washington College," with Judge Brockenbrough as professor in charge. Mr. Goode was a member of the Secession Convention, represented Virginia in the Confederate congress and president of the Virginia Constitutional Convention in 1862.

At the regular meeting last Friday afternoon in Tucker Hall Messrs. Kaylor and Engleby had the affirmative side and Messrs. Rhodes and Freeland the negative of the question: "Resolved, That a railroad company is liable for a wrongful injury to or wrongful death of a person riding on a free pass." The decision of the judges, Messrs. Brown, J. F., Gregory, and Scott, C. C., was for the negative.

S. Craig and J. L. Campbell, Jr., became members of the society.

At the University of Arkansas a league of nine members is proposed, three to be chosen from the faculty, three from the student body and three from the alumni. These nine are to draw up bylaws for a system to improve the looks of the campus. This committee is then to collect money and lend it out at interest until enough has been gotten to materially beautify the campus.

Hear Mr. Little at 8 o'clock tonight in the Chapel.

JOINT MEETING OF LITERARY SOCIETIES

The regular monthly joint meeting of the two societies was called to order at the usual hour by President Straley of the Washington society, in the Graham Lee hall. After the roll call, the minutes of the last joint meeting were read and approved.

The regular program was then taken up. The first orator of the evening was Mr. Nall of the Graham-Lee, whose subject was: "The University as a Training Place for the Future." The second orator was Mr. Werth of the Washington society. The declaimers were Mr. Heaven for the Graham Lee and Mr. Converse for the Washington.

The subject for debate was: Resolved, That a voter can better serve his country by consistently supporting one part than by voting independently. Messrs. Harvey and Ranson upheld the affirmative for Graham-Lee, and Messrs. Light and Taylor, the negative for the Washington. The debate was excellent and showed careful preparation on both sides. The judges rendered a decision in favor of the negative.

After the consideration of a few matters of business, the joint session adjourned. No meeting of the Washington society was held after the joint session, but there was a short business meeting of the Graham-Lee. Mr. Campbell was admitted to the membership of the society, there being a vacancy caused by the dropping of one of the members for non-attendance. Mr. Hundley's name was added to the waiting list.

TENNESSEANS ORGANIZE

Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock a meeting of Tennesseans was held in Reid Hall for the formation of a state club. Calyx representation was decided upon and the secretary and treasurer of the club empowered to attend to the matter.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were:

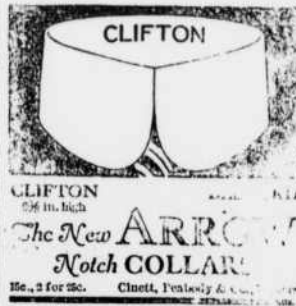

- N. D. Smithson, president.
- J. M. Barker, Jr., vice president.
- R. K. Williams, secretary.
- W. L. Webster, treasurer.

The number of Tennesseans in college this year is 26, as follows:

- H. N. Barker, J. M. Barker, Jr., H. Baumgardner, S. Bejack, E. E. Brown, P. D. Converse, Arthur Fant, J. T. Gray, Jr., C. N. Grosvenor, Jr., F. A. Hahn, J. B. Hoyle, T. M. McGallie, H. F. Mathis, W. W. Newsum, A. Partlett, Jr., J. C. Powers, G. B. Peters, C. C. Shelton, N. D. Smithson, N. L. Thompson, J. D. Thornton, S. M. Tunnell, R. K. Williams, W. L. Webster, T. J. Raines and J. Willis.

Syracuse University will not send crews to the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie nor engage in any regattas with colleges next year. The Athletic Governing Board of the University has voted to eliminate intercollegiate rowing from the list of sports for the present college year. The services of Coach James A. Ten Eyck will be retained. The temporary suspension of crew work is necessitated by a financial problem that has long vexed the athletic authorities. As rowing necessitates the heaviest expenses and bring no financial returns, it was deemed best to drop that sport for the present to effect economy. The governing board expects that rowing will again be taken up in 1912.

Do not fail to hear Mr. Little tonight. His subject is "The Negro in the South."

CLASS ATHLETICS

Athletic Committee Takes Steps Leading to Interclass Organization for Basketball and Baseball

At a meeting of the Athletic Committee held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Newcomb Hall a resolution was adopted that the letters "2nd" be awarded the men who work during the football season but do not make the monogram, according to the merit of the men. Class athletics were discussed. The classes are requested by the committee to meet at once and elect managers for their respective basketball and baseball teams. These managers will be called together by E. E. Brown, chairman of the athletic committee for the formation of basketball and baseball schedules for the interclass contests. The Junior and Senior law students are requested to combine and elect one manager to represent them at this meeting. But if they see fit the law classes may form separate teams. It was considered too late in the season to take charge of the class football games. The committee deemed it wise to encourage the wearing of class numerals and will have charge of awarding them on a meritorious basis.

Eligibility of men to play on class teams was considered and the following rules adopted:

"No 'varsity men of this or previous years may participate in an interclass game, and no member of the squad, after it has been chosen shall be eligible.

"First year men are classed as Freshmen.

"Second and third year men are Sophomores and Juniors, respectively, unless they are applying for degrees, in which case they shall be classed as Seniors. Fourth year men are classed Seniors."

REV. W. C. BELL ADDRESSSES Y. M. C. A.

A good crowd of students came out to Y. M. C. A. meeting last Tuesday night to hear an address by Rev. W. C. Bell, the Episcopal rector. Mr. Bell took his text from the parable of the tares. He said that good and evil in the world were intertwined and intermingled like the tares in the wheat; and not only good people were mixed with the bad but each individual himself was made up of good and bad. He said the problem of evil in the world was not one of good or one of bad but that it was one of good and bad. He showed how it was the divine plan of God to let the wicked remain with the righteous until the time of the harvest, when they will be separated.

The speaker proved that it is nearly impossible to exclude evil from the human heart, as it had been tried in the cloisters of old, but he added that the best way of stifling evil is by overcoming it with good; that the best way of curing selfishness is to do something unselfish.

The Lynchburg Academy announces the booking of Elsie Ferguson on Monday evening, November 14, in her new four-act play entitled, "Ambition," written by Byron Ongby, author of "Brewster's Millions" and in which Miss Ferguson is scheduled to appear at the Hudson Theatre New York two weeks hence.

L. R. Craighill spent the week end at his home in Lynchburg.

its opponent is always up in the air as to what is coming off. A. & M. has also used the open methods with success, but, having no close formations the plays are easily solved, and after being used once or twice are ineffective. Davidson has been very successful with the forward pass. Virginia's main offensive tactics has been wide end runs, quick short runs off tackle and a few split plays. The other elevens in the division have been depending on about the same methods for their gains.

"Georgetown is the best defensive team. None of its rivals compare with it in this department. This, combined with the fact that it has the best kicker in the South, makes the team a hard one to score points against. Virginia would probably come second in this department, with V. P. I. third.

"As far as punting is concerned Georgetown is in a class by itself. Walsh and Wymard can easily average from five to ten yards better than any of their rivals. With the graduation of Hodgson from V. P. I. last year, these two are about the only real classy punters left. No team can boast of a man the equal of either of them.

"Among the second rate teams the Maryland Agricultural College has shown about the best form. While Dame Fortune has favored the efforts of its team in several instances, it has undoubtedly put up a wonderful game for a team so light. St. John's is far below the standard set last season, while Washington and Richmond College are about on a par with their former productions. V. M. I. is out with a stronger aggregation than usual and is probably stronger than any of the others. Eastern College is on the football map for the first time with a creditable team, one that would compare very favorably with any of the elevens in its class. Gallaudet has a representative team, while Western Maryland is working hard to uphold the reputation made by former elevens.

"While there may be many changes in the playing strength of the different elevens before the end of the season, it would not be at all surprising to see them finish in the order named, as each seems to be doing consistent work."

THE A. & M. GAME

A storm of unavailing protest arose among the students of the University last Wednesday when it was definitely announced that the faculty committee on athletics had decreed the cancellation of the A. & M. game. Caustic comments have not yet ceased, and echoes of indignation are likely to be heard for some time to come. Unusual as was this action for Washington and Lee, and founded upon the flimsy pretext offered as a reason therefor, it has been received with almost absolute incredulity by the friends and alumni of Washington and Lee. Writing under the caption "What is the Real Trouble?" the correspondent of the Lynchburg News from Roanoke says:

"Roanoke football fans are still wondering why the faculty of Washington and Lee cancelled the game with North Carolina in Lynchburg Saturday. It is not believed that injuries to players led the faculty to take such action. Washington and Lee has not been known to cancel scheduled games because of a crippled team and alumni and fans here are waiting anxiously to learn what is at the bottom of the trouble."

By our enemies this move has been received with glee as an example to which they can point attributed to fear of defeat. The Times-Dispatch of Nov. 5 says editorially:

"The Washington and Lee faculty had an acute case of academic cold feet when it thought about letting their men tackle the corn-fed North Carolinians at Lynchburg Saturday, so the game was called off. The Washington and Lee students were game, however, had a mass-meeting, and may yet persuade the faculty to change its mind."

We reprint these comments with a feeling of shame that there should be occasion for them, but feeling that it is the duty of the college publication to make clear to the authorities the light in which they have placed the University.

Only one case similar to this within our knowledge has happened in Washington and Lee's athletic history—the cancellation of a game with Richmond College in November, 1907. The circumstances in that instance rendered the calling off of the contest more justifiable than now. But even then the Ring-tum Phi registered a protest and an appeal against any future withdrawal from scheduled games where the circumstances would not clearly justify it.

We are confident that the faculty committee acted from honest motives, and that they were at the time satisfied that cancellation was for the best interests of the team and of the University. But that they misjudged the situation the students of the University think, and we believe that they themselves should now admit their mistake.

The facts regarding the cancellation of the A. & M. game briefly stated are these:

On Monday night the proposition of calling off the the A. & M. game was put before the Student Athletic Committee. It was stated that seven members of the team were so badly injured in the V. P. I. game that they could not play against A & M. and that if we went into the game on Nov. 5 probably others would be crippled so badly that it might be necessary to cancel the rest of the schedule. That committee, without sufficient deliberation, allowed the cancellation. Tuesday the sentiment against this action made itself felt and it was evident that the student body was opposed to it. The individual student members of the Athletic Committee each and every one expressed himself as in favor of playing the game, but they did not as a committee rescind their action of Monday night. In this condition with the sentiment of the student body, not expressed in any off, and with the action of the student committee unretracted although the members were individually then opposed to it, the Faculty Committee considered the question and voted to cancel. Their statement of the matter is as follows:

"At the request of the Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, the Faculty Committee on Physical Culture make the following statement regarding the cancellation of the A. & M. game.

"At a meeting of the Student Athletic Committee, held Monday, October 31, it was decided, in view of the injuries received by members of the team, to cancel the game for November 5, and a telegram to that effect was sent to Raleigh.

"A sentiment against the action of the Student Committee having developed, the Faculty Committee was called together the evening of Tuesday, November 1, to consider the question. They decided that the action of the Student Committee was fully justifiable and should stand, and that all financial obligations under the contract should be tendered to the management of the A. & M. team.

"Faculty Committee on Physical Culture.

L. W. SMITH,

H. D. CAMPBELL

JAS. LEWIS HOWE

Lexington, November 7, 1910.

In the light of present knowledge it is easy to see that the student athletic committee made their first error in allowing the motion for cancellation to slip by them. Their second error was in not officially rescinding their action when each one, after having his attention called to it, saw that the committee was wrong, and so expressed himself. The faculty committee make a simple statement of the facts. They express themselves as in no sense attempting to shirk responsibility for the action, but state the matter as it came to them for consideration.

The Ring-tum Phi gives in another editorial its opinion that the whole matter was a mistake in policy, and the communication we print is, we believe, a fair statement of the feelings of the student body.

A COMMUNICATION

The other day nearly every one saw this on the bulletin board:

NOTICE

The A. & M.-W. & L. game in Lynchburg on Nov. 5th has been CANCELLED by the authority of the Graduate Manager and the Faculty Committee on Athletics.

Nov. 3, 1910.

Now that this has happened, let want to ask a few questions about it. Who did it? Why was it done? What will it result in?

We will assume that the graduate manager has the power to supervise and that the faculty committee on athletics is in high authority. But in the real state of the case the athletic energies of the University are by and for the students. It is only right that a radical action of this kind should have been done at least with the tacit consent of the student body. But instead of that the voice is one of protest that we should lose by default rather than play as we agreed to do.

For what reason was this action taken? The team was in bad condition. Six of the regulars were out of the game for sure. But even this left five of the varsity men who would have been glad to play. And surely there were substitutes enough to put up a showing at Lynchburg. —to make it known to A. & M. or any other team that W. & L. spirit may be defeated but not killed. Yes, come out with it—the faculty committee were afraid they would lose the game. But was it theirs to win or lose?

Now in passing, do we play only to win? Winning is good, better than the losing; but defeat is sweeter to a true sportsman than a childish loss by default. Would it have injured the standing of the University to lose this game? Every paper in this part of the country would have been bound to mention that fact and give the score. They would have said that the boys who wore the white and blue played hard and showed that they were gentlemen on and off the field. But now our opponents can truly say that those who control here have shown the white feather.

This ignoble trick of losing by default is known in other places in this state of Virginia, but it never before dared to show its visage on Washington and Lee ground. Every fair-minded student here regrets its coming and hopes that it will early depart never to return again. It means that we have lost caste with many of our sister schools and can never again stand where we were before.

Gentlemen of the Faculty Committee on athletics—all of us are sorry that the thing was done. Never, never, never let it happen again. Let us do what we agreed to do if we have to send the Freshman team to play our hardest game.

The American Law School Review in its latest number, just issued, has the following news of Judge Lyman Chalkley, '87-'89, who was Dean of the Law School of the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., until its discontinuance this fall.

"Lyman Chalkley has been recently elected a member of the faculty of the Kentucky University Law School. Judge Chalkley is a Virginian by birth. For a number of years he resided in Lexington, Ky., where he was married to Miss Ella Breckenridge, daughter of the late Col. W. C. P. Breckenridge. From 1905 to 1907 Judge Chalkley was the Dean of the College of Law at the Transylvania University, at Lexington. He left that school in 1907 to accept the deanship of the Law Department of the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn."

William R. Vance, former Dean of George Washington University Law School, and the new president of the Association of American Law Schools, has entered upon his duties as Professor of Testamentary Law in the Law School of Yale University. Professor Vance is well and favorably known to the profession through his treatise on Insurance, which was published in 1904. He became Dean of the George Washington Law School in 1905 succeeding Henry St. George Tucker, who had resigned to become president of the Jamestown Exposition. Prior to that time Mr. Vance had been Dean of the Law School of Washington and Lee University, in Virginia. Mr. Vance has been elected President of the Association of American Law Schools for the year 1910-'11.—American Law School Review.

Professor Vance was a student of Washington and Lee, '90-'95, taking the degrees of M. A., Ph.D and LL. B., here.

SOPHS. vs. JUNIORS FOR CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

An unprecedented amount of interest has been manifested this year in class football.

The various classes are to be highly commended for their action along this line of athletic activity. In the course of time this will tend to greatly increase the number of the Varsity squad each fall thereby aiding materially in the perfection of the team.

The game which is now being looked forward to with the greatest amount of interest will be played Saturday, 12th, when the strong Sophomore and Junior teams will battle for the class championship.

So far, each has suffered one defeat, and according to past records they are evenly matched and will no doubt put up a very exciting and hard fought game.

The supporters of each team are confident of victory and are anxiously awaiting the result of Saturday's game.

Let every student, by his presence, encourage this form of College athletics.

Parker FOUNTAIN PENS

Cleanly because of the Lucky Curve.

The ordinary fountain pens have straight ink feeds, which hold ink after you stop writing until it, expanded in the reservoir by the heat of the hand, forces ink into the cap, where you find it, ready to ink fingers and linen when you remove the cap to write. But the curved ink feed of the Parker—the Lucky Curve—is self-draining. No ink in the ink feed, none can be forced into the cap. The Parker is cleanly, dependable and ready to write with without wiping off the barrel, because of the Lucky Curve.

For School Work

In the class room, in the study, a fountain pen aids the student in neat written work, but it must be a cleanly fountain pen, and that means the pen with the Lucky Curve—the PARKER

The student council, formerly an influential body at Harvard, has come to an end. Two years ago, on the petition of 1,630 undergraduates to let the students themselves rid the college of the abuse of cutting, the council was started. Undergraduate enthusiasm being at that time ripe, and representative men being elected, many evils were abolished. It lessened the number of cuts, aided inter-collegiate athletics and exercised influence over undergraduate activities.
