PHI BETA KAPPA INSTALLED

Chapter of Fraternity Inaugurated With Fitting Exercises—Distinguished Alumni Present

Lee Memorial Chapel was last Friday night the scene of the installation of a chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity in the University. The chapel was filled with students and townspeople, to witness the ceremony, while on the stage were many of the distinguished alumni of Washington and Lee who had returned to their Alma Mater to be received into the fraternity. There were also present upon the stage, as guests to the University, the following: Edwin Augustus Grosvenor, LL. D., Professor of Modern Government and International Law, Amherst College, Massachusetts, who, as President of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, presented the charter of the Washington and Lee Chapter; Armistead Churchill Gordon, LL. D., Rector of the University of Virginia; William Waugh Smith, LL. D., President of Randolph Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va.; Hunter Pendleton, Ph. D., Professor of Chemistry, Virginia Military Institute, and Dr. Charles Manly, who was a member of the Alabama Alpha chapter before the war. On the platform were also the charter members of the Washington and Lee Chapter: Hon. William Alexander Anderson, Professor John Holladay Latane, Ph. D., Professor James Lewis Howe, Ph. D., Professor James William Kern, Ph. D., Professor Robert Granville Campbell, Ph. D., and Professor De la Warr Benjamin Easter, Ph. D.

The exercises were opened with an invocation by Dr. Manly. Dr. Grosvenor delivered the charter of the new chapter, which was granted by the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa in March, 1910. Dr. Latane accepted the charter for Washington and Lee with a fitting speech, in which he referred to the distinguished men who were members of the parent chapter at William and Mary, among whom was John Marshall. After the secretary, Dr. Howe, had read the names of the foundation members and of the students elected to membership, Hon. A. C. Gordon delivered an address. He said that he had come to bear the greetings of Virginia Alpha to Virginia Gramma, of the oldest chapter of the fraternity to the youngest.

Dr. Grosvenor's address closed the public exercises. The speaker reviewed the history of Phi Beta Kappa from its foundation at William and Mary College in 1776. Dr. Grosvenor spoke of the record of Phi Beta Kappa, and outlined its aims and purposes. In enumerating the characteristics which the fraternity requires in colleges receiving charters he paid a high tribute to Washington and Lee, saying that this new chapter is as much an honor to Phi Beta Kappa as the fraternity has honored it in granting the charter.

After the public exercises the

TEAM MEETS REVERSES ON ROAD

Even Break With Georgia and North Carolina, But Two Games Dropped to South Carolina—Rain Prevents A. & M. Contest—Trinity Today

SECOND GEORGIA GAME

After being defeated in the first game, Georgia evened things up when, aided largely by the decisions of the umpire, she got the second, five to four. Three close decisions gave Georgia the game. In the first inning Thompson was called safe at home on Moran's throw in, and in the sixth McWhorter's hit went for a home run on the umpire's ruling at the plate. Webster was out at second in the fourth on a close call. W. and L. tied the score in the ninth. Erwin was safe on the catcher's error. Moran scored Erwin and himself on a drive which has only once been equalled for distance on the Georgia field. Bob Moore pitched an excellent game, time and again pulling himself out of bad holes; he allowed only four hits, struck out five and walked four. With errorless support he would have won with ease.

SOUTH CAROLINA

The loss of both games to South Carolina was a severe disappointment. The first game was close and hard to lose, but Carolina nosed W. and L. out in the ninth inning. Hitting was free, each team getting eleven singles. Errors, too, were evenly divided. Donahue and Webster led the batting, getting three hits each. Gwathmey pitched the game and was opposed by Mills for South Carolina. A sensational catch by Smith was one of the features of the game.

In the second game in Columbia the White and Blue team met a fate similar to that which befell the Gamecocks here. We were overwhelmed by the score of 12 to 5. Dooley started the game but was knocked out in the third. Erwin succeeded him, but was unable to stop the scoring. Five errors by the Varsity, coupled with twelve hits by the Carolinans, explain the outcome of the game. Wyche pitched for South Carolina and was touched up for eight saeties.

NORTH CAROLINA

On Friday afternoon Moran lost his first game since he has been pitching for the White and Blue, but the result was in no measure attributable to the premier southpaw's work. In fact Moran played the whole game for us. Although the score shows twelve hits for Carolina, most of them would not ordinarily have been safe. The infield was broken up. Erwin was out of the game with a sore arm, and Webster had to be moved in from the outfield to short. Smith's arm, too, had gone bad, and calls went through that should have been fielded. Eight errors were barked up against the Varsity, and they came at critical times. The final score was 9 to 2.

On Saturday, however, Washington and Lee surprised their opponents by getting away with a close game. The team had gotten a good rest and played with renewed spirit. Moran played second, Smith took right field and Erwin was back at short. Gwathmey pitched a good game and was well supported. The Tar Heels were let down with only six hits, while our boys coralled ten. Donahue, Erwin and Smith led the hitting with two singles each. Peoples got a three bagger, and played one of the best games at first ever seen in Chapel Hill. The score was 4 to 3.

The game with A. and M. in Raleigh yesterday had to be called off on account of rain. This would in all

WILLIAM GRAHAM'S BODY RE-INTERRED

Remains of First President of the Institution Laid to Rest on the Campus

The reinterment of the remains of Rev. William Graham, A. M., Princeton, 1773, founder and first president of Washington and Lee University, while it was known as Liberty Hall Academy, was effected here Friday with impressive ceremonies, after a rest of over 100 years in St. John's church at Richmond, Va. The services were held at the Lee Memorial chapel at 11 o'clock under the direction of Rev. Dr. G. B. Strickler, rector of the University. Upon the platform were seated loyal alumni, prominent in many walks of life. Among them were Senators Chamberlain and Owen, Professor Vance of Yale, Hon. Wade H. Ellis, and Hon. W. A. Glasgow of Philadelphia.

The services opened with the anthem; "Abide in Me," rendered by local talent, with the assistance of Mr. Frank Merchison of Houston, Tex., who has been known for his great accomplishments as an opera singer. His tenor-solo work was greatly appreciated and added much to the impressiveness of the occasion. After a fitting prayer by Dr. Howerton of the University faculty, and the singing of "Asleep in Jesus" by the choir, Dr. George H. Denny introduced the speaker of the occasion in a few well chosen words. He referred to the present position of Washington and Lee University in the educational world and the breadth of its sphere of influence. He recounted its recent growth and the many great privileges and impressive incidents that have occurred during his term as its executive head but in his opinion the occasion of the day stood out ahead of all others, except the great tribute to General Robert E. Lee, by Hon. Charles Francis Adams four years ago, upon the occasion of the Lee Centennial celebration. He referred to the trials of this classmate of "Light Horse" Harry Lee as first president of the institution, which bears the name of the son, of his dogged perseverance in the face of difficulties that swept other similar institutions into ancient history, and of the steadfastness and worth of this representative of that stern, sturdy, stiff-necked strain of the Scotch-Irish. The creator Graham was esteemed worthy of a place alongside of him who resurrected the institution from the wreck of Civil war, Robert Edward Lee. At the conclusion of these remarks Dr. Denny introduced Hon. William A. Anderson, who delivered the principal address of the day.

Mr. Anderson said that the name of Graham has been distinguished ever since Scotland first began to possess a national fame and history. Rev. William Graham, though less conspicuous in his retired position, was a worthy representative of the name which through eight centuries had stood for so much in Scotland. He was born in Pennsylvania, and shared in the hardships of the pioneer members of the new chapter adjourned to the Carnegie Library, where a business meeting was held at which the constitution of the charter was adopted and officers elected for the ensuing term. A sumptuous banquet followed this meeting, which presided over by toastmaster Mortimer N. Wisdom, was enlivened by happy speeches from Dr. Grosvenor, Dr. W. W. Smith, Colonel Hunter Pendleton, Senators Chamberlain and Owen, Hon. Jas. L. Slaydon, Hon. W. A. Glasgow, Judge Mestrezat and Hon. Wade H. Ellis. Music was furnished during both the public exercises and the banquet by the University orchestra.

The following alumni of Washington and Lee were received into the chapter:

Jacob D. M. Armistead, B. A., Ph.D., '97, Professor of English, Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Ga.

John M. Glenn, M. A., '79, director of Russell Sage Foundation, New York.

Charles Alfred Graves, B. A., M. A., '78, LL. D., Professor of Law, University of Virginia.

Fortinatus Sydnor Kirkpatrick, B. L., '83, attorney-at-law, Lynchburg, Va.

Stephen Leslie Mestrezat, B. L., '71, justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Sidney Turner Moreland, B. S., B. A., M. A., G. E., '76, principal McDonogh school, McDonogh, Md.

Edward West Nichols, Superintendent, Virginia Military Institute.

Robert Latham Owen, M. A., '77, United States Senator, Oklahoma.

Matthew White Paxton, '76, Editor Rockbridge County News, Lexington.

Mosby Garland Perrow, B. A., M. A., Ph. D., '06, health officer, Lynchburg, Va.

Thomas D. Ranson, B. L., '60, attorney-at law, Staunton, Va.

James Luther Slayden, '73, Member of Congress, San Antonio, Tex.
Thomas Hugh Somerville, B. L., '72, dean of law school, University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss.

James Bell Bullitt, B. A., M. A., '95, M. D., professor of Anatomy and Pathology, University of Mississippi, Oxford, Miss.

Givens Brown Strickler, '67, D. D., LL. D., Professor of Theology, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va.

William Taylor Thom, B. A., M. A., '70, B. L., D. Litt., editorial staff United States Geological Survey, Washington.

William Reynolds Vance, M. A., Ph. D., B. L., '95, Professor of Law Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Harrington Waddell, B. A., '93, Principal Public Schools, Lexington.

George Armstrong Wauchope, B. A., M. A., '86, Ph. D., professor of English, University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.

Mortimer Norton Wisdom, B. L., '73, Equitable Life Insurance Company, New Orleans, La.

There were also ten students of the University who were elected members. They were: Thomas Walter Fred. B. A., George Thurman Knotte, B. A., Philip Wilhelm Murray, B. A., Noble Deak Smithson, B. A., Virgil Preston Sydenstricker, B. A., Robert William Dickey, B. S., Edward Emerson Brown, John Turner Gray, Jr., Henry Clapham McGavack, William Thurmond Riviere.

The four last named will receive their baccalaureate degrees this year.

The installation of Phi Beta Kappa is an honor long deserved and fully appreciated at Washington and Lee. Its institution is largely due to the efforts of the charter members, who are professors in the University, and especially to the work of Dr. John H. Latane. There are but two other chapters in Virginia—at William and Mary, where the fraternity was founded, and at the University of Virginia, and there are only a few chapters throughout the entire South.

COMING

The Ben Greet Woodland Players
May 13

The Ben Greet company will give two of their admirable performances on the Washington and Lee Campus May 13th, at 3 p. m., and 8 p. m.

The plays to be given this year will be "The Comedy of Errors," in which Mr. Ben Greet himself will take the part of Dromio, in the afternoon and "She Stoops to Conquer," Goldsmith's charming comedy at night. Price $1.50 for the two performances, $1.00 for a single performance.

The two plays are so irresistibly amusing and the acting of these well known players is so good that we feel that all who attend will be richly repaid.

Informal lectures, free, will be delivered by Professor Currell on these plays at 4 p. m. Friday, May 12th in the high school auditorium, and all who may be unfamiliar with them are cordially invited to attend.

MISS A. R. WHITE,
W. S. CURRELL.

NOTICE

It is urged that all payments of Final Ball subscriptions be made at once as it is necessary that certain advance obligations must be met immediately.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

NOTICE

University Assembly

There will be a meeting of the University Assembly, Saturday, May 13th, at 11 a. m.

The address will be delivered by Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, of Washington. Dr. Radcliffe is a distinguished and eloquent speaker.

Lectures will of course be suspended for the hour. In view of the number of absences from the last meeting of the Assembly, it becomes necessary to call special attention to the regulation requiring attendance at these meetings. Irregular attendance will inevitably result in the establishment of the monitor system which the faculty has desired to avoid.

INTERFRATERNITY LEAGUE GAMES

The interfraternity baseball games were started off last Thursday afternoon when the Sigma Chis met and defeated the Alpha Tau Omegas in a close game. Larrick for Sigma Chi was very effective, striking out fourteen men, and allowing only two hits. Anderton also pitched well, but was not well supported. The final score was 7 to 6.

The game Friday afternoon between Alpha Chi Rho and Theta Chi resulted in a victory for the latter, 19 to 8.

On Saturday a double header was played. Sigma Alpha Epsilon succumbed to Kappa Sigma, being able to amass only three runs to their opponents 15. The batteries were S. A. E. Campbell and Frost, K. S., MacDonald and Davidson. In the second game Sigma Nu was almost shut out by Phi Kappa Psi. Chaney was able to hold them to only one run in seven innings, while Wood, Paxton and Tressler were not effective against their heavy hitting rivals, who scored 16 times.

Yesterday morning the Phi Delta Thetas and Delta Tau Deltas met at seven o'clock, having been unable to get any other convenient time. The game, which was the best of the season to that time, was won by the Deltas, 6 to 4. Both Hogue and Harman were effective, allowing five hits each, but errors and poor headwork lost the game for the Phi Delta Thetas. Glasgow knocked a home run into the tennis courts, scoring Thompson ahead of him.

The last games of the first round were played yesterday afternoon. In the first contest the Pi Kappa Alphas got away with the Phi Gamma Deltas, getting seven runs to their opponents' four. The batteries were: For P. K. A. Williams and Curry. For Phi Gamma Delta, Barker and Coiner.

Phi Kappa Sigma lost to K. A. in the second game. Blackburn was hit freely, and errors behind him contributed to their defeat. In the seventh it seemed that the Phi Kappa Sigmas would tie the score, but with the bases full Chandler was thrown out at the plate, and the score stood 6 to 3. Hill pitched a good game for K. A.

The first round in the championship contest eliminated seven fraternities and the remaining eight will go into the second round. The schedule for this week has been completed and is as follows:

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10

Kappa Alpha vs. Kappa Sigma.
Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon.

FRIDAY, MAY 12

Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Kappa Psi.
Sigma Chi vs. Theta Chi.

The winners in these games will continue the fight next week, playing on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Mr. C. G. Hounshell, who was heard by a great number of students on Sunday, will speak to the students at their meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Library Building. Mr. Hounshell was a missionary for seven years in Korea, and is now at home on a visit. He is at the present time a secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement. His subject tonight will be "The Evangelization of the World in this Generation." Mr. Hounshell is a pleasing speaker and worth hearing.

The events of the past week have been full of significance in the history of Washington and Lee. The re-interment of the body of Dr. William Graham has called to our minds the life of a man to whom, as much as to any other one man, the college owes its existence. It has brought to the attention of the present student body, with renewed emphasis, the self-sacrificing endeavors of a noble man, who, through difficulties not sufficiently appreciated by us of later years, labored diligently to a worthy end. It was fitting that such an honor should be paid to the man whose connection with the college was so intimate and that he be laid to rest amid the scenes where he labored. It will make the surroundings of the University if possible even more sacred, to realize than another such honored patriot has his last resting place on the campus.

The installation of Phi Beta Kappa at Washington and Lee was a distinct recognition of the worth of this college in the educational world. As stated by Dr. Grosvenor in his address on Friday evening, there was a time when chapters of the fraternity were granted for the asking to whoever would receive them. But that time has passed, and of later years it has been increasingly difficult to secure charters, so that last year, out of thirty applications, only six were favorably passed upon. In granting charters the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa examines not only the history of the applying college, but also its faculty, its curriculum, and especially its alumni. It is most gratifying that the head of the society should have said, that in granting a charter to Washington and Lee, no hesitation whatever was felt. It is with no small degree of pride that we think of the granting of the charter as a distinct recognition of Washington and Lee's standing and worth.

The record of the baseball team in the South has been rather disappointing, particularly in the case of the South Carolina games. But we have the consolation that all of the teams met were good ones, and further, that any team that gets away with games with Georgia and North Carolina on their home grounds is doing well. Anyway, we might take the defeats philosophically, knowing that the situation will not be bettered by the abundance of "knocking" in which practically the whole college is indulging. If the men who are so free with criticisms have done their whole duty in the support of athletics, perhaps they have a right to criticize. But the three hundred odd students in college who have been too tight and mean in spirit to buy season tickets have no right to open their lips. Even those who have bought the right to voice their opinions should reflect that there is a vast deal of difference between constructive and destructive criticism. They would do well to refrain from beclouding the atmosphere with ill-considered words, and to do a little quiet brain-work toward bettering conditions, if they can point out wherein they need betterment.

ABOUT THE DRAMATIC CLUB

Covington, Va.,

May 3, 1911

Editor Ring-tum Phi,

Lexington, Va.:

Dear Sir:

On yesterday we had the pleasure of having the members of the Pad and Puff Club in our town, and last night a large and enthusiastic audience witnessed their splendid performance of "Brown of Harvard." As an interested alumnus I feel like writing you that the splendid performance of the play, together with the dignified, gentlemanly and unusually good conduct of every member of the troupe while in this city makes me, more than ever, proud of my Alma Mater. I do not think I have ever seen a finer body of gentlemen, without exception, from any college or university than was with us yesterday, and their uniformly dignified deportment made a splendid impression upon the people of this community, and upon those having sons to send away to educate in the near future; and it is the comment of everyone, business men and all, that this idea of sending the Dramatic Club upon the road is a splendid advertising feature for Washington and Lee University.

As to the performance of the play: While not feeling myself capable of giving any technical criticism, I desire to say that the play was excellently performed, and that it was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience, who were enthusiastic in their praise of the acting, and I have not heard a single unfavorable comment of any kind whatever. Each and every individual in the cast played his part with spirit and brought out everything that was in it. Of course Peters was good, and Shiles, as "Tom Brown," was treading pretty close to the professional line, while everybody knows that Temple is a natural born actor, and that goes without saying after you have seen him. Null played his part very earnestly and got out of a difficult role all that could be desired, while "Tubby" Anderson and "Happy" Thurston were there with the goods—but they were all good—and the play pleased the Covington audience as well as any we ever had here.

The orchestra rendered most delightful music, and deserves the very highest commendation. Everyone was charmed with the delightful work of the orchestra, and a great many people have told me that it was the best college orchestra they had ever heard. To them is due a great deal of the credit for the success of this altogether creditable performance.

While the audience was extremely pleased with the results, I doubt if they reasoned back to "first causes" as much as I did, inasmuch as I happen to be a little "on the inside." While the program states that Miss Annie R. White is the directress it does not go into details as to the exact significance of that brief statement; but I am certain that if everyone knew as well as I do, the full history of "Brown of Harvard" from its inception, including all those rehearsals, ups and downs, together with Miss Annie's untiring energy and intelligent direction, they would be quick to place the credit where credit is due. Miss Annie deserves a thousand congratulations for the excellent results of her faithful and patient work in this her most difficult attempt; and if she could see how well the boys are doing, and with what success they are meeting, I know that it would make her heart glad. So here is to your next! Covington is ready for you again whenever you come.

Yours very truly,

R. C. STOKES

DRAMATIC CLUB IN STAUNTON

There are lots of things that I might say about the Washington and Lee Dramatic Club, which appeared here last night in "Brown of Harvard."

This thought comes first. They were as clean a crowd of college gentlemen as it has been my pleasure to meet in many years. They came to town and their deportment and manners will remain as a pleasant memory long after their performance is forgotten. So often college men let their enthusiasm and other liquid things run away with them. Not so with the members of the Pad and Puff Club. Their faculty can trust them from Lexington to Timbuctoo, and I bet they will bring back to their Alma Mater more credit than all the college catalogues can do in a thousand years. With it all they were delightfully modest. They did not claim or pretend to know everything and whenever I addressed one of them I was never for a moment made to feel my insignificance.

Now, for their performance. It was for a college dramatic effort excellent. The cast was well chosen and every member had a really tight grip on what he had to do. The performance deserved a crowded house. The members of Washington and Lee, who are backing this enterprise, deserve the thanks of their university. Such advertising will mean a great deal to the Lexington institution if the Pad and Puff Club can in the future continue to produce a standard so really deserving in the matter of college entertainment.

The dramatic club taken in combination with the glee and musical clubs and the college orchestra, all of which have been heard and seen here this year, is about the best ever put out by any college in this country. I wish for it the success that it deserves.

The members of the club arrived here in the afternoon and were taken for an automobile ride about the city by members of the local alumni and were tendered a cotillion after the performance at the Virginia hotel.—Staunton Dispatch-News, May 4.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT AND SYMPATHY OF THE JUNIOR LAW CLASS

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to remove from this earth, the spirit of Captain G. M. Morrow, a brave and loyal Confederate soldier, the father of our beloved and esteemed comrade and classmate, George Allen Morrow;

Be it Resolved by his associate members of the Junior Law Class of Washington and Lee University: That we are with him in spirit in this hour of his great affliction and we extend to him our most tender and heartfelt sympathy in his great loss.

Be it further Resolved: First, that a copy of these resolutions be mailed to him; and

Second: That these words of condolence be published in the Ring-tum Phi, our University publication, also in the

THE NORTH CAROLINA GAME

In last issue of the Ring-tum-Phi, there occurred a mistake in the schedule of football games to be played next year. The mistake was the omission of the North Carolina game and was due to an oversight on the part of the proof-reader. This game will be played in Norfolk on the second Saturday in November, as last year, which occurs on the 18th.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY ON WILSON FIELD

At the annual field day last Wednesday on Wilson field Carter Glass won the all around championship with twenty points. Wood and Satterfield tied with seventeen points each. Three Wilson field records were broken. Yonan raised the distance in the broad jump from twenty feet nine inches, made last year to twenty-one feet. Kinneer threw the hammer 103 feet, the previous record being ninety-eight feet eleven inches. In the running high jump Bryan cleared the bar at five feet eight and one half inches, and Carter Glass went over at five feet seven inches. The record had stood at five feet eight inches since 1908, when that record was made by LeRoy Hodges. In the first heat of the high hurdles Satterfield and Glasgow tied for first place, running the distance in sixteen and one fifth seconds, a fraction better than the record, but it was found that only nine hurdles were in the course instead of ten, and the time does not count. Satterfield won the second heat in sixteen and two-fifths.

The order of events and places won were as follows:

2 mile: Wood first; Thom, second; Breidenbach, third. Time 11 45.

220 yard dash: Glass, first; Hayne, second; Bejack, third. Time 23 4-5.

Broad jump: Yonan, first; Anderton, second; Wood, third. Distance, 21 feet.

High hurdles: Satterfield, first; Glasgow, second; Glass, third. Time 16 1-5.

1 mile: Wood, first; Anderton, second; Miller, third. Time 4:56.

100 yard dash: Glass, first; Payne, second; Glasgow, third. Time 10 1-5.

High Jump: Bryan, first; Glass, second; Satterfield, third. Height 5 feet 8 1 2 inches.

220 yard hurdles: Glasgow, first; Satterfield, second; Anderton, third. Time 27 4-5.

880 yard run: Anderton, first; Wood, second; Thom, third. Time 2:15.

Pole vault: Satterfield, first; Wood, second Glass, third. Height, 9 feet 6 inches.

Hammer throw: Kinneer, first;; Rogers, second; Miller, third. Distance, 103 feet.

Shot put: Miller, first: Rogers, second; Boyd, third. Distance, 33 feet 9 inches.

440 yard dash: Glass, first; Satterfield, second; Hitz, third. Time 57 2 5.

STEREOPTICON VIEWS OF MONTREAT

Mr. Lee, the travelling secretary, who has already visited Washington and Lee several times, gave an illustrated lecture in Dr. Stevens' lecture room, Tuesday night, on the missionary conference at Montreat, N. C. With the aid of Dr. Stevens' lantern he was able to project upon the screen many beautiful views of the scenery as well as photographs of the different groups and crowds that attended the convention last June.

This conference has been meeting for the last eighteen years. Many years ago Mr. Moody saw the good such a gathering would do in the way of development of students for Y. M. C. A. work. One great advantage of the conference is the experience and inspiration one gets from the great men of southern colleges, and great missionaries and evangelists from all over the world. Among the speakers may be mentioned John R. Mott, Robert Speer, Dr. Weatherford, Dr. Sweets, Dr. Brown and other noted men.

The conference is systematized. Every morning the boys get up early and attend the Bible class under one of these competent leaders. After breakfast, a class in missions is conducted by missionaries who have actually been to foreign fields. Inspiring addresses are held from time to time. Special instruction in Y. M. C. A. work is given. In the evening baseball, basketball, tennis, rowing, swimming and mountain climbing are indulged in, and breakfast, dinner and supper usually go well.

The scenery is one of the most charming assets of the convention. Mt. Mitchell, which is about 6,000 feet above sea level, is one of the mountains taken in on the mountain-climbing trip and affords some of the prettiest views in the South. The rhododendron is in bloom at the time of the conference, and decorates the mountains very beautifully. The rivers, also, afford beautiful scenery. Near the conference grounds is the castle and estate of Vanderbilt. At Asheville the young ladies gather at the same time for the purpose of getting the benefit of the great men who attend the conference.

Mr. Lee also spoke of the new building that is going to be built at Montreat. Washington and Lee men contributed $225 to the cause.

The words of Mr. Lee were endorsed by Messrs. Smith Miller and Montgomery, who attended the conference last June in person and each one of them is anxious to make up a large delegation from Washington and Lee this year. To those who make the round trip the railroad fare is a cent and a half a mile. Those going home that way would not get the advantage of this rate, but could easily stop over for the conference.

DUAL MEET WITH V. P. I. TODAY

The University track team is in Blacksburg today to meet the V. P. I. team in the annual dual meet. The only means of comparing the strength of the two teams is the scores in the meets with the University of North Carolina. These scores give Washington and Lee a slight advantage, but the result promises to be exceedingly close. The men who compose the team are: Captain Anderton, Wood, Glass, Satterfield, Hayne, Thom, Bryan, O'Quinn, Yonan, Miller and Kinnear.

BODY RE-INTERRED

days of his youth. Notwithstanding the hard labor of his boyhood he had by the time he reached his majority, learned all the school teachers could give him. With much sacrifice and effort he acquired collegiate education at Princeton, graduating in 1773 in the class with Aaron Ogden, later governor of New York, James Blair Smith, president of Hampden-Sidney College, and Light Horse Harry Lee.

Persuaded by Dr. Smith, Dr. Graham came to Virginia in 1774 as a teacher in the Mt. Pleasant classical school, which later became Liberty Hall academy, when moved to Lexington. It was Dr. Graham who secured in 1782 the incorporation of Liberty Hall Academy, and who later, in 1796, secured the donation by George Washington of the 200 shares of canal stock given to him by Virginia. This gift came at a time of impending dissolution, owing to lack of finances and in no small measure to Dr. Graham's resignation to take up new work in the Ohio Valley. His death came in 1799, after a trip on horseback to Richmond to raise funds for his work.

Mr. Anderson said that Dr. Graham as a preacher was clear, logical and convincing, as a teacher, he was able and masterful; moreover he was distinguished as a man and a patriot, believing that it was altogether in harmony with his duty to God to discharge with fidelity his duty to his country.

Among the men who received their instruction under Dr. Graham, the speaker enumerated the illustrious names of Archibald Alexander, preacher and teacher, Geo. A. Baxter, who succeeded him as president of Washington college, Merriweather Lewis, of the Lewis and Clark Expedition to the Northwest, Col. John McKee, United States senator from Alabama, and Archibald Roane, governor and judge of the supreme court of Tennessee. Upon the conclusion of Mr. Anderson's address the choir sang "Te Deum," while ten students of the University, selected from the descendants of the first president, bore the remains to the new grave on the east side of the chapel.

The event marks a new step in the effort to make the campus more hallowed save even than it now is. Many visitors were present to witness the ceremonies.

Joint Session of Literary Societies

The joint session of the Literary Societies was held Saturday, May 6th, at 8 p. m. After the roll call and the reading of the minutes the program was taken up. The declaimer was Mr. Preston of Graham-Lee, and the orators Mr. Day of Graham-Lee and Mr. Hundley of the Wash.

The subject for debate was as follows: Resolved, That the Canadian reciprocity treaty now pending before congress should be adopted.

The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. Russell and Reid of Graham-Lee; the negative by Messrs. Herndon and Scholossberg of the Wash.

The judges returned a decision in favor of the negative.

There were present Dr. Humphreys of the faculty, and Mr. Moody of Alabama, both old Literary society men, and both made some very interesting and helpful remarks which were much enjoyed by those present. After a business session the house adjourned.
