VARSITY LINESMEN BEING COACHED

Squad Profits by Experience Gained in V. P. I. Game

The work of the football aggregation during the past week has been lighter than in any previous week of the season. Up to the time of the V. P. I. game a week ago the men were driven hard and were that day in top notch shape. Tyndal was the only man to get a serious bump in that game, but the coaches adopted a very wise course and have given the men several days in which to catch their breath before beginning the heavy work which must come in preparation for the game against A. and M. at Raleigh on next Saturday. The comparatively easy game against the Medicos has made this light work possible and thus enabled the coaches to keep the bunch full of pepper by using easy, interesting and pleasant tactics.

A bucking machine, an article long needed in the practice on Wilson field, made its first appearance Tuesday afternoon. The poor work of the line, due to the lightness of charge, convinced Dr. Pollard that something had to be done and he lost no time in having the machine fixed up. The bucking practice has been a feature of the week's work and in the future games the line will have a quicker and a heavier charge.

In the varsity line Rogers and Miller have changed places, Miller going into guard. Miller has not shown ability to get under interference, but is a tower of strength in stopping line plays. Rogers has been breaking through the line consistently all the season and now that he has been moved to tackle his low hard charge ought to carry him well into any interference.

Dr. Polard is still using two complete sets of backs in the varsity backfield. The wisdom of this method was shown in the V. P. I. game when nine men were used in the backfield and when the men who were known as the second team backs showed better form than the four who started the game.

There has been a lot of work too on punting. The ends learned in the V. P. I. game that it was absolutely necessary to keep wide going down under the punts and with the work of the past week directed along this and similar lines other opponents will not find it so easy to run back their punts, especially when the line is learning how to hold just long enough and then thunder down on the opposing backs by the time they receive the punt.

DR. DENNY AT Y. M. C. A. TONIGHT

The Y. M. C. A. is to be addressed by Dr. Denny tonight. His talks have always been among the most popular and best attended of any that the association presents. The meeting tonight should be especially well attended because in the short time that remains for him to be with us Dr. Denny will not be able to speak to the students in such gatherings very often.

MEDICOS ARE EASY

University College of Medicine Defeated 31 to 0

While the game last Saturday added another victory to the already creditable record of Washington and Lee, yet the contest was far from interesting, it being generally felt by the team and spectators that the University College of Medicine was "easy money." The final score, 31 to 0, by no means represents the comparative strength of the two teams, since the White and Blue warriors went into the battle with the air of participating in a frolic, and no really serious playing was exhibited until the third quarter, when the scrubs were put into the game. Anxious to show up favorably in comparison with the Varsity, they went in with a lot of snap and ginger, and the Richmond boys were rushed off their feet by the reserves. Interesting features in an otherwise colorless game were the pretty drop kick by Raftery from the thirty three yard line, and the long run of Buehring for a touchdown.

It is said that the Richmond boys came with the secret hope of "showing us up" and perhaps carrying off a victory, but they will have to seek smaller game. Their team is by no means bad, and few bad plays were perpetrated, excepting fumbles, which were largely due to bad passes. They showed lack of practice and team work, but several of them were evidently good players in their day.

THE GAME IN DETAIL

Miller opened the game by kicking to the Medicos' five yard line, and Miles pulled Neblett out of bounds after he had returned ten yards. Two attempts at W. and L.'s line decided the Medico quarter to resort to a kicking game, and Parrymore booted to Buehring in midfield. The latter was given the ball for three successive tries at the line, and averaged nine yards at every plunge, Burke shot through center for seventeen, and Lile on a crossback play gained twelve yards and a touchdown Miller kicked goal.

On the kickoff, Miles again made a good tackle, and after a fumble and a bad pass that cost two downs. Raftery drop kicked a pretty goal from the 33 yard line. W. and L.'s line holding in fine style on the play.

Seymour grabbed Miller's kickoff on the five yard line and brought it back twenty five yards. Two end runs proved resultless for the Medicos, and a kick was in order, but W. and L. was penalized five yards for offside play. A fumble on the next down gave W. and L. the ball on the Medicos' thirty five yard line, and after Buehring and Lile had carried the ball within eight yards of the goal line, the former fumbled and a Medico back secured the pigskin after a hot scramble. The Doctors then punted to Raftery, and the latter pulled off his zig zag run, returning 15 yards. A quarterback run around left end gained three yards, just as time was called for the first quarter. Score, 9 to 0.

The second quarter opened with the ball in W. and L.'s possession in mid field, and on the first lineup Seymour tackled Buehring before the latter could gain. Another line play failed, and the ball went over. In two plays the Medicos could do nothing in the way of gaining, but W. and L. was penalized fifteen yards for holding. Parrymore kicked to Lile on W. and L.'s twenty five yard line, and after two short gains Francis punted out of bounds at Richmond's thirty five yard line. An exchange of kicks gained little for either side, but a fumble in mid field gave W. and L. the ball. Buehring rushed through center for ten; a forward pass, Raftery to Francis, was incomplete. A cross back play by Burke gained nine, and the full back a minute later worked Wake Forest's famous play through center for eleven more. Raftery added six on an end run, and Lile five through tackle. After another short gain a forward pass to Burke failed and the Medicos secured the ball. On a quarterback run Seymour was thrown for a two yard loss, and Parrymore punted from behind his goal line to Raftery, who returned ten yards. Lile failed to gain, but Miles shot through center for fifteen and Buehring added five more on a line plunge. A tumble by Burke that gave the Medicos the ball on their own five yard line came just as time was called for the first half. Score W. and L. 9; U. M. C. 0.

DEATH OF FRANK T. HOWARD

New Orleans Philanthropist Leaves Bequest to Wash- ington and Lee

A telegram received last Monday by Mr. John L. Campbell from Mr. Mortimer Wisdom of New Orleans, announced the death of Mr. Frank T. Howard, capitalist and philanthropist, and an alumnus of Washington and Lee.

The telegram stated that Mr. Howard had left a bequest to his alma mater, which statement was later confirmed by Mr. Howard's wife. The amount of the bequest will not be known until the will is probated.

Mr. Howard was born in New Orleans in 1835. On the maternal side he was a descendant of Lieutenant Pierre Boulemet of the army of Napoleon I, who, after Waterloo, settled in the West Indies, the family later moving to New Orleans.

Frank T. Howard was financially interested in many enterprises from which he reaped a fortune. He devoted his means to benevolent undertakings. He built the Confederate Memorial hall in Camp street and endowed its excellent library, probably the most complete Confederate library in the world. He also gave to the city two primary public schools. Mr. Howard was a student at Washington and Lee from 1871 to 1874, and has always shown a deep interest in his alma mater, subscribing liberally to various movements in her interest from time to time.

DR GRAHAM TO THE Y. M. C. A.

Dr. A. T. Graham, pastor of the Presbyterian church, addressed the Y. M. C. A. on Halloween night. He gave in an informal talk a statement of the purpose and aim of the book of John, in the hope that some might find a new desire to read the book again.

He said that the four gospels present four views of the life of Jesus. The first three are histories. The last is a statement by John about the divine character of Christ. This statement was written by the apostle near the close of his long life. It comes as the direct testimony of a close associate of its subject. If there had been any falsity in Christ it must have been seen by those who lived with him. One of them, in particular, had thought at the start that this man could not be the Christ because he came from Nazareth, but after association with the man he freely acknowledged, "Thou art the Christ." It is such testimony from the closest witnesses that the book of John presents. But it goes further and brings the life of Jesus into particularly close touch with human life. It shows how essentially and truly human Jesus was as well as how divine he is. It is a book written that we may believe. A book that will speak for itself if given any sort of careful or interested study.

A very pleasant feature of the meeting was a fine violin solo by Walter Steves.

PLAN FOR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Correspondent Proposes Sure Way of Raising Definite Sum

In the Ring-tum Phi of the 17th the Athletic association shows the students, by "A Calculation," how to save $9 or $10.

Year after year the A. A. must send out a call to buy tickets so that they may have money to do their work, and the recent raise of $2.50 on tickets and the appropriation of the contingent fee shows that they need more money and need it badly.

According to their statement not half of the students have as yet bought season tickets and it is fair to judge that as the football season, here, is about over, very few if any of those who have not bought will buy a ticket this year. This then gives the association about $2,500 from tickets. Now the highest number of games they can expect each of non-ticket holding men to see is about ten, and it is impossible that each man will see ten games [out of the balance to be played here this college year; for he would buy a ticket if he expected to see ten games at 50 cents. This would give the association, figuring high, about $2,000 more. The above with the contingent fee of about $2,700, which they hardly had a right to take without the students' permission, gives them about $7,200, with which to do business. The above figures are taken very high and it is probable that $6,000 is nearer to the amount they can expect. Even if all students get tickets the association would only have with the contingent fee about $7,500, and this is about as improbable as the previous statement.

Now what a great many well thinking men would have is this: Let each man, upon matriculation be charged $10 Athletic fee, and have games free to all students. The men would then feel the loss of that $10 very little for the money would not come out of their pockets. If a man wants a ticket now the money goes out of his pocket money, unless that man has a "dad" who "coughs up" whenever "son" yells for money. But if the Athletic fee be included in the matriculation check it will be easy to the students, great for the association and O. K. to all. The association will have about $6,000 to start with and they would still get, as heretofore about $500 of the contingent fee. I have for the past two years, given my contingent fee to them and would have done so again. They are now taking about $4.50 from each man and giving nothing in return, so why not take $5.00 more, which is less than $7.50 and give something in return. This would be fair to both parties. With so much ready money they could probably arrange better schedules, buy new outfits for the teams, especially such things as blankets for our football squad. They would also be able to lower the admission to twenty five cents so that town men could afford to go. I know of many men who would pay twenty five cents but who very seldom see a game at fifty cents. This would be another gain for the association.

Then too, the above plan will promote the so-called "College Spirit." If the games will be free, men who think they can't afford to see games will not claim "too much lab. work, etc." There was a notice upon the bulletin board to the effect that only men holding tickets had right to vote on election of association members. If students have some say, why not, at the next assembly, discuss this plan. I hardly hope to see this excellent plan succeed for there will be some men who will brand this as "smartness in the head," but I think that the friends of the association are many and should be able to do something for it.

So why not think about this and see if it isn't for the benefit of both parties.

A DIXIE YEAR BOOK

The Ring-tum Phi is in receipt of a Southern year book, the "Dixie Book of Days" arranged and edited by Mathew Page Andrews, a master of arts of Washington and Lee, 1901. The book aims to present the history, biography and poetry of the Southland in an attractive form, each day of the year being accompanied by a quotation or bits of historical fact. It is needless to say that the editor is an ardent Southerner, though free from bias. A student of history, he brings to light many unfamiliar facts which, if more generally known, would place the South in a different position before the nation. The quotations are not from Southern writers alone, but authors, like Charles Francis Adams, who have treated of Southern themes, are cited.

The poetry is tastefully selected and arranged, appropriate extracts being prefixed to the different months, which voice the Southerner's keen feeling for the seasonal changes—joy at the approach of spring, the languor of summer, regret at the death of the flowers in autumn, and a benumbed sorrow at the deadness of the icy December days. The work is very pleasing and attractive, and represents considerable research and ingenuity in arrangement.

JOINT SESSION OF THE LITERARY SOCIETIES

On Saturday night in the hall of the Washington Literary society the following program was carried out: Mr. C. L. Saeger of the Wash. delivered an oration on "The Present Condition of Municipal Government." Mr. C. P. Heavener of Graham-Lee spoke on "The Greatest Need of Virginia." This was followed by a declamation, "The Private Soldier," by Mr. H. S. Campell of Graham-Lee. Mr. R. M. De Shazo, and Mr. E. S. Delaplaine argued that women should have the right to vote in the United States, being opposed by Mr. Claude Smith and Mr. W. L. Hopkins. The judges, Messrs. Harbert, Ranson and Ruff, rendered a decision in favor of the Washington society team, which upheld the negative.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO COLLEGE YELLS

In response to the request last week that the poets get busy, the Ring-tum Phi is in receipt of the following yell which looks good, and should sound good. It ought to have a trial at the next rooting practice:

JAPANESE EXCHANGE PROFESSOR COMING

(From College Topics)

Virginia is to have a Japanese exchange professor in the spring, this institution being one of six American universities that have entered into an agreement with the Japanese government for exchanging professorships. The others are Johns Hopkins, Columbia, University of Illinois, Yale and University of Minnesota.

This agreement was made a short time ago. The exchange professor will be Professor Nitobe, one of the leading educators of Japan. He holds a Ph. D. of Johns Hopkins, and speaks English fluently. He is the author of a number of monographs and books on history and economics. Professor Nitobe will spend from four to six weeks at the University in the spring, when he will lecture and conduct conferences with the students and faculty.

SENIORS AND JUNIORS
OPEN CLASS SERIES

Neither Side Scores

In a game that was filed with as exciting football as could be crowded into thirty six minutes of play, the Seniors and Juniors opened the inter-class series on Oct. 30th, by playing a scoreless tie. If credit is to be given to either team it must go to the Juniors, as the ball was held in the Senior's territory most of the game and on one occasion the pigskin was in the possession of '13 on the Senior's eight yard line, but the Juniors were unable to push it over the line in three tries.

Peoples of the Junior's was the individual star of the game, his running back of kicks being especially brilliant; but he was hard pressed for honors by both Glasgow and Elliott. The former made most of the gains for his team by long end runs while Elliott's line plunging brought him into the limelight. Crist was also an "old reliable" on the Junior line.

The lineup:

FRENCH CLUB ORGANIZE

Several members of the faculty and a few students have effected an organization, the purpose of which is to cultivate a closer acquaintance with the French as "she is spoke." The members meet once a week to practice gesticulation and pronunciation. For one hour English is strictly tabooed. Dr. Easter usually monopolizes the conversation by common consent. The others expect to be great linguists, however, with a little more practice.

The membership is composed of Drs. Easter, Farrar, Hancock and Currell, and students W. W. Newsom, W. T. Riviere, W. J. Flagg, J. G. Herndon, Jr., B. R. Somers, B. H. Farquhar, J. M. Daniel and Ira Lemmon.

A CARD OF THANKS

The Athletic Association takes this opportunity to thank Mr. E. D. Hines of Roanoke for his kindness in making the arrangements for our game with V. P. I. on October 28th. His kindness in handling the tickets, managing the advertising, putting the grounds in shape, and attending to numerous other details was a great help to the management, and was sincerely appreciated.

LAW NOTES

William R. Vance, '95, who for the last five years has been professor of law at Yale University, has recently been elected Dean of the University of Minnesota Law school. Mr. Vance will not assume his duties at Minnesota until the fall of 1912, and in the meanwhile will continue to teach in the Yale Law School.

Archibald H. Throckmorton, '00, who for the past nine years has been dean of the law school of Central University of Kentucky, resigned that position last September to accept a professorship in the University of Indiana Law School.

At the recent State Bar Examination of Florida there were ten applicants for licenses to practice law. Six of these applicants were Washington and Lee men and the other four were prepared elsewhere. All six of the Washington and Lee men passed the bar and only one of the other four passed successfully.

Judge Frank H. Rudkin, LL. B., '86, chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Washington, is said to be one of those under consideration by President Taft as Justice Harlan's successor on the supreme court of the United States.

THE NEWSPAPER GUY

I find a man pushing his way through the lines

Of the cops where the work of the fire fiend shines.

"The chief?" I inquire—but a fireman replies:

"Oh, no; why that's one of those newspaper guys."

I see a man walk through the door of a show,

Where great throngs are blocked by the sign "S. R. O."

"Is this man the star that no tickets he buys?"

"Star nothin'! He's one of those newspaper guys."

I see a man start on the trail of a crook,

And he scorns the police, but he brings him to book,

"Sherlock Holmes?" I inquire—some one scornfully cries:

"Sherlock Holmes, h—! Naw, that's one of those newspaper guys."

And some day I'll pass by the great Gates of Gold

And see a man pace through unquestioned and bold,

"A saint?" I'll ask, and old Peter'll reply:

"No, he carries a pass—he's a newspaper guy."

A CO-ED FOOTBALL MANAGER

Fannie Seiferth, 17 years old, daughter of a New Orleans editor, is the manager of the Tulane University football team this season, an honor that never before has fallen to any college woman. Miss Seiferth confers with the coaches concerning the best methods of training, attends all the practice games and daily scrimmages and has full charge of arranging details when the squad makes an out of town trip. Moreover, it is said her election to the position was carried almost by unanimous vote of the student body, and that her opponents frankly admitted afterward that she has shown more ability than any football manager in the University for several years.—Exchange.

We are always glad to publish any communication that may be handed to us, but we desire to state that we will not be responsible for sentiment expressed.

COMPARATIVE WEIGHTS.

The editors of the Tech (V. P. I. weekly) have just told us that W. & L. is a good loser, and we are able to return the compliment by saying, as we have always said, that if W. & L. cannot be the winner, we would have the game go to the Techs. Perhaps they do not lose often enough to understand how that feels, and we hope they will not have occasion to experience that feeling (except where our own team is concerned). As calm and reasonable victors we will have to yield the palm to the boys from Blacksburg, for they have always conducted themselves with restraint and decorum, even after their greatest victories.

The story got abroad early this season that W. & L. had a promising squad, and that things were going to be shaken up. Of course we had been "laying for" our friends, the enemy, V. P. I., and had it in mind to give them the battle of their lives when the whole student body followed Dr. Pollard's boys to Roanoke. Neither side is in a position to regret the outcome of that game, as the best team won and neither gained the victory. These reports which got out of Lexington by wireless of course spread all over the State and before long everybody knew it was going to be a battle royal when the Roanoke game was played.

We would not like for a moment to intimate that our opponents were frightened by these tales which came into their camp, but we do believe that the size and speed and effectiveness of our boys was a trifle overestimated. At any rate from the official organs about Blacksburg weird and wonderful rumors emanated, whose ever-recurring refrain was something about "thirty pounds to the man".

As the strength of the opposing force is often overrated before the battle, but when the test comes, the terror of it wears away, so it was with the boys who played football for V. P. I. Thirty pounds or fifty would not have scared that bunch out of the signals, nor prevented them from putting up their customary fight against anybody.

Whatever the truth may be in regard to the comparative weights, it is a fact that unbiased men (who had no cause to add the weight of their own apprehensions to actual avoirdupois) sized the two teams up as about equal in weight. This is the verdict of the Times Dispatch and the Roanoke Times in their accounts of the game.

We wish that our warriors were forty pounds heavier than any team they meet. But there is somebody at Blacksburg who still says that he thinks that the W. & L. squad was some thirty pounds heavier to the man, and we write this to ask him not to force his own frightened misapprehensions on the people of the country by putting any more of this into print. Is it possible that he has lost on the game some thirty cents as a "wager of battle", and haunted by the memory of his departed shekles runs up and down nightly, crying in his fitful sleep, "A penny a pound, a penny a pound"?

The Ring-tum Phi knows too much about the Techs to think that this is the general spirit, and what we ask is that the old good feeling of accuracy and honesty continue between us, and we wish to assure them that when V. P. I. meets her other opponents our hopes are all for the boys at Virginia Tech.

MID-TERM.

Reports have gone out for the mid-term, and the results of scholastic work for the first period of the session are ancient history. The men who have made good grades can feel assured that, with the same amount of application throughout the rest of the year, their tickets will be chalked up to their credit against the great day of reckoning, when degrees are handed out. An index has been provided, showing just how much study is necessary to obtain a certain mark, and the student can calculate for himself how much more study is necessary to attain a higher mark. On the other hand the man who did not make a good grade—who perhaps did not make a passing grade—need not feel discouraged. Most of the faculty regard these mid-term grades simply as pointers; as factors, if you please, in the "probability curve"; and where the result is not up to standard, it is simply a sharp demand for more steam. And, with the football season about over, with little to distract the mind, there could be no better opportunity to make up for lost time. Indeed, the prospect of long winter evenings in the warm, well-lighted room, becomes almost tempting to the most uninterested student.

A COMMUNICATION

To the Editors of the Ring-tum Phi:

There appeared in a recent issue of the Ring-tum Phi an extract from a Virginia paper advocating the qualifications of Dr. G. A. Wauchope, professor of English in the University of South Carolina, as successor to Dr. Denny. I would not speak against the justice of these claims; but I believe that the chair of English in our own University can furnish a man as fully qualified and equipped for the position mentioned. I refer to Dr. W. S. Currell.

Having been closely associated with him for two years, I can testify knowingly to his executive and administrative ability, his unflinching industry, and his magnetic personality. He, too, is proud to claim Washington and Lee as his Alma Mater, from which he received three degrees, and there is nowhere a more loyal alumnus. An extended eulogy of the man would be unnecessary, I am sure, to students now at Lexington; but if this brief word shall help some of them to realize that no fitter head could be found for our University, it will not have been in vain.

ALUMNUS

Although it is a well known fact that the students of nearly all the colleges and universities of the country issue publications, few realize to what a considerable extent this journalism in colleges has in recent years grown. There are now being issued 461 student publications at the colleges and universities of the country. Out of this number, there are 286 monthlies; 86 weeklies; 40 bi-weeklies, and there are 19 colleges that issue a daily student paper.

APPLICANTS FOR DEGREES

The following men have made application for degrees in June, 1911. The number of those applying for the A. B. degree is exactly the same as that of last year—fifty-one. Last year there were twenty-four applicants for the B. S. degree, against nineteen this year. Three men applied for this master's degree last session, and five are candidates this year.

PERSONALS

Mr. W. O. Brinker of Colorado Springs, Col., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Joseph R. Long.

Mrs. S. E. F. Rose of West Point, Miss., is visiting her son, Clifton Rose, at Castle Hill.

Dean H. D. Campbell went to Morgantown, W. Va., last week to represent Washington and Lee at the inauguration of Dr. Thomas E. Hodges as president of West Virginia university.

Dr. John H. Latane has gone to Cincinnati to attend the National Conference of the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes. Dr. Latane will deliver an address before the Society on Tuesday evening on the subject, "The Arbitration Treaties and the Proposed Amendments." President Taft is expected to be present at the conference.

Announcements of the weddings of two alumni, one of which has already taken place, the other to take place tomorrow, have been received here, and will prove of great interest to their friends and acquaintances. John Wall Lykes, B. A., '09, will wed Miss Ruth Freeman of Tampa, Fla., on Wednesday evening, the ceremony to take place at St. Andrew's church, that city. The other wedding is that of James Warren Bagley, B.S., '99-'00, and '04-'05, who was married in Seattle, Wash., on Oct. 26th, to Miss Agnes Estelle Stevens. Mr. Bagley is connected with the United States geological survey.

VOTING CONTEST

The results so far in the Fraternity Voting contest which is in progress at the Lyric are:

Sigma Nu	322 votes
S. A. E.	305 "
Sigma Phi Epsilon	303 "
Phi Kappa Sigma	202 "
Kappa Sigma	100 "

Fraternities having less than 100 votes are not given in the above list.

The prize in the contest is a handsome phonograph. Everyone attending a performance at the Lyric is given a coupon which he can place in the ballot box in favor of his favorite fraternity. Harry Moran is managing the contest in behalf of Mr. Weinberg, and the votes are counted each week by a committee composed of one man from each fraternity. The contest will close just before the Christmas holidays.

MISSISSIPPI CLUB

The Mississippians met in English room at 4 p. m. Monday in order to elect officers and to arrange for social meetings during the year, so as to get better acquainted with each other. Mr. John Heath presided, as he was the only old officer present, and the following men were elected officers:

John W. Heath, president.
James Somerville, vice president.
H. S. Gilleylen, Jr., secretary and treasurer.
S. C. Rose, historian.

HANNIS WILL LEAD QUINT

Last Year's Captain Re-Elected— Basketball Schedule Nearly Completed

Herbert E. Hannis has been re-elected captain of the basketball team, taking the place of T. M. Glasgow, who could not serve on account of press of work. Captain Hannis was at the head of the basketball squad last year and made an excellent record as a player and captain.

During his first years at college Hannis did not go out for basketball, was but "discovered" as forward on his class team and immediately seized on as varsity material. As soon as he had gotten a tryout he showed that his men had made no mistake, for he threw goals with wonderful accuracy and was mixed up with the play on every part of the floor.

For three years past he has been in every game, and has been a prominent figure in each one. Last year he played in his best form against the Navy and Virginia and threw a number of goals in both games.

Basketball practice will be called this week, and the squad will be tried out. There are a large number of new men who are experienced players, and the story goes around that some of last year's team will have to hurry to get a job.

Manager W. F. Null will soon have his schedule completed. He reports a good number of excellent games, including an invasion into some of the Northern states.

FRESHMEN OBSERVE

ALL HALLOWS

It is generally admitted that the Freshmen this year "put one over" last year's class in the matter of a spectacular celebration of Halloween. About 8:30 a long line of Freshmen, clad in their "nighties" and well supplied with red lights, roman candles and firewrocks of every description, marched up town. First they visited the Lyric and marched through in a body. Then they besieged the fire house, in spite of the protests of their leaders, and rang the bell furiously.

After these exploits they split into groups and carried on their operations in various parts of the town. Some went to the depot and blew long blasts on the whistles of the Baltimore & Ohio engines. Others brought over the express trucks and coasted down Main street on them. The Lexington restaurant was held in a state of siege till the proprietors appeased the crowd by the hand some present of a crate of overripe eggs. With these the proprietor of a store on the corner of Main and Washington streets is said to have suffered considerably, both in person and property.

DR. DENNY AND MR. CAMP- BELL TO ATTEND BANQUET

Dr. Denny and Mr. John L. Campbell will attend a banquet of the New York alumni to be given Nov. 13th at the Waldorf Astoria hotel. It is expected that among the speakers there will be Senators Chamberlain, Owen, Poindexter and Justice Lamar of the supreme court. While away Dr. Denny will attend a meeting of the trustees of the Carnegie Foundation and a meeting of the alumni of the University of Alabama, to be held in Birmingham.

WE congratulate you on coming to Washington and Lee University. You have gotten to the best place there is. : : To do effective work this year, be sure you have in your room the best light there is, which means an electric light with a Mazda lamp. : : We have a full line of electric toasters, irons, hot water heaters and other useful and attractive devices.

CONCERNING MR. GASS

The following article, from a Richmond paper, expresses what occurred in connection with our game with V. P. I. as well as what happened in Richmond last Saturday. Reporters were forced to stand back in a crowd of spectators and get the details as best they might. Mr. Gass is a good referee, but he might be just a little less arbitrary without affecting his merits as an official.

"Through a ruling made by Referee Gass in the football game yesterday between V. P. I. and the University of North Carolina, just three men were allowed on the side lines—none of the three being a representative of any local paper—and as a result it was impossible to give a detailed account of the game, as the press facilities at the local park are such as to make it practically impossible to properly report a game except from the field.

The decision made by the referee, while probably technically correct, was an exercise of poor judgment, in the opinion of many. Under section 4 of rule 25 of the playing rules, but three men of each side are allowed on the side lines. The rule was obviously inserted for the purpose of making it impossible, or rather to reduce the possibility, of coaching from the side lines. It is just as obviously true that press privileges were not taken into consideration when the rule was framed, for the very good reason that an infraction of the rule carries with it a penalty of fifteen yards to the offending side.

However, a man reporting the game, being a part of neither team, could not possibly cause the infliction of a penalty. Where proper provision is made for those who are engaged in reporting the game, the rule is never brought into question. But at Broad Street Park there is no vantage ground from which to view a football contest, but the field, and it is a physical impossibility to note each play as it is made unless privileges is extended to walk up and down the side lines.

By agreement, the captains of the two teams can allow an increased number of people on the side lines, and, as publicity is a great part of the life of football, it would seem reasonable to suppose that proper provision be made for the press. Aside from this, the two schools in question have enough supporters and alumni in Richmond to make it a public demand that the game be accurately and fully reported. No information was given that press privileges had been revoked. Instead, side line badges were issued to the several representatives of the papers—one for each paper—and yet when the privilege thus extended was being exercised, police interference was used to remove from the side lines those who were actually reporting the games, while a student from Chapel Hill was admitted to the side lines so that he could telegraph back to the school the detailed account of the game, play by play.

This was all that the local writers asked for. They had absolutely no interest save to do their duty by those who would get their information from the printed account. While it might be unjust to criticize Referee Gass, who is a competent official he used poor judgment and it is as much the duty of an official to exercise judgment and discretion as it is to literally interpret the rules. As said before, were press facilities at the local park such as obtained at other first class inclosures the request from the newspapers would not be made—for instance, if the press box were in the centre of the playing field on top of the grandstand, so that a clear view of the field could be obtained. But such is not the case in Richmond, and Referee Gass should have known it.

His arbitrary action in not attempting to learn of this condition and in not trying to remedy it, thereby placing obstacles in the way of those who were attempting to do their duty, has done the game no good. It is a detail, it is true, but it is a detail which should not have been overlooked. There will be many disappointed readers who would have been glad to know of the individual work of the men, but who are now prevented because of the poor judgment displayed by the official. There is no need to criticize the police. Their duty is plain after receiving instructions, but officials should learn that courtesy is just as much expected of them as from any other source.

second team substituted, and the scrubs began at once a spirited march for a touchdown. Parrymore kicked off to Stewart and the latter came back forty five yards before being downed. Bone went around right end for nine, and the play was repeated a minute later for twenty five more. Two more plays brought the ball to the one foot line, and Slater carried it over for a touchdown. Slater's attempt at goal failed. Score, 14 to 0.

W. and L.'s kickoff went wild, but after a lively scramble a white and Blue back recovered on the Medico's forty five yard line. Two end runs by Bone gained seventeen and Slater on a kick formation went eight. Two more plays added short gains. A forward pass, Slater to Waddill, resulted in twenty yards and a touchdown. Slater kicked goal. Score, 20 to 0.

W. and L. kicked off and McCoy was tackled in his tracks, but the referee detected something wrong in the play and the ball was brought back for another try. The second kickoff also proved resultless, the ball going out of bounds, but on the third try Slater kicked to Neblett and Moore tackled the runner before he got under way. After an exchange of kicks Slater attempted a field goal from the forty yard line, but the ball went a little wide of the post. The ball was put in play on the Medicos twenty five yard line, and McCoy gained eight yards around right end, but this distance was lost a minute later, when Seymour was thrown for a loss. After an exchange of kicks, time was called for the third quarter.

The final quarter opened with the first team in again, and with the ball in the possession of the Medicos on their twenty five yard line. A kicking duel was in progress for two or three plays, until W. and L. secured the ball in mid field on a fumble. Buehring on the first lineup managed to shake off all tacklers and ran fifty yards for a touchdown. Miller missed goal. Score 25 to 0.

Slater kicked off to the Medicos' twenty yard line, and Miles threw the runner in his tracks. Neblett hit the line for four and Parrymore kicked to Slater, who returned ten yards. Lile went twelve around left end, but the ball was brought back, and W. and L. was penalized five yards. Ramsey was substituted for Buehring, and when the next line play failed the ball went over. After a short gain Parrymore punted to Lile. A forward pass to Burke made it first down. Slater went through left guard for twelve. An incompleated forward pass and a small loss on a line play forced Slater to punt, but W. and L. recovered the ball when Seymour fumbled. After a short gain Slater brought the ball to the Medicos' seven yard line, from which point Lile carried it over for a touchdown. Miller kicked goal. Score, 31 to 0.

With one minute more to play, O'Quinn kicked to the Medicos' twenty five yard line, and after several short gains by the Doctors, time was called with the ball in their possession.

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY

as shirts, collars and cuffs are injured more by improper washing and ironing than by actual wear. This is an absolute fact, as you probably know. It is also an absolute fact that your linen will wear twice as long and look better by having it laundered by the Lexington Steam Laundry, No. 1164 N. Main St. Branch office, Model Barber Shop. This you can prove by giving us your work regularly, and finding out how much you can save by it. Students get a special discount on all their work.
