WASHINGTON AND LEE TRIUMPHS OVER VIRGINIA

Generals Capture State Championship—Virginia Was Out-classed—Score 43 to 28

Eliminating the University of Virginia quintette, her most formidable opponent, Washington and Lee virtually captured the South Atlantic championship when the White and Blue downed Virginia in a sensational battle, 43 to 28. Previous to the hectic struggle both teams presented an unblemished record, neither aggregation having suffered defeat. But Virginia's hopes were ruthlessly swept aside when the White and Blue displayed such marvelous form that the Virginians were unable to cope with the pace.

Realizing the intense import of a victory, both sides fought with zealous determination to win. Fast team work and brilliant individual playing was exhibited by both sides while subtle dodging and sensational shots at the basket from afar enlivened the struggle.

The mode of play was diverse. Neither team resorted either to entirely defensive or offensive tactics. When the White and Blue were in possession of the pellet, the Virginians would cover up and adopt defensive tactics but as soon as the ball was wrested from the champs Virginia changed tactics. Both teams were accurate passers and clever on their feet but Washington and Lee excelled in basket shooting and subsequently won.

Washington and Lee played under disadvantage. The improvised court was longer and wider than the Lexington court while the basket was placed at a greater distance from the back board. Although Thorpe refereed an impartial game and gave general satisfaction, he was more alert to see infringements than the former officials and the White and Blue suffered more than their rivals. However Virginia was outclassed.

To choose a star would be a difficult task as all the members of the triumphant crew put up a rattling good game and played quite consistently. Miles, Bear, Burk, McCain and Francis were an unbeatable combination. Perhaps the most sensational plays of the game were made by Miles and Bear. Often during the thrilling battle, Miles or Bear would cage the ball from the middle of the field, the sphere going through the rim without touching it.

Although McCain was not as sensational as the above duo, he was the most consistent scorer of the game. Evading his guard he was often in opportune and took advantage of these. Burk and Francis starred at guard, holding the Virginia forwards safely and also aiding in the success of Washington and Lee's offense. Burk made several pretty shots at the basket, caging the ball under great difficulties in the second half.

Miles led the march to victory, caging the pellet seven times, five

INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT MAY 7

The Chairmen of the Committees Have Been Appointed—Plans Are Being Formed for the Occasion

Looking to the formal inauguration of Dr. Henry Louis Smith as president of Washington and Lee University, a number of preliminary arrangements have at last been perfected.

Wednesday, May 7th, has been fixed as the date of the official installation of Dr. Smith. The first intention was to have the inauguration about the middle of last October, but on account of several reasons the occasion was postponed. Among the reasons as given out which prompted the executive committee, who have charge of the arrangements, to put off the date of inauguration, was the fact that many of the distinguished alumni of Washington and Lee were taking active part in the national presidential campaign, and that it would have been impossible for them to attend if held last fall. In the second place, it is the plan to have a large number of presidents of the leading universities attend the inauguration, but this would have been an impossibility, since college presidents are steeped with work at the beginning of the college year. A postponement was specially desired by President Smith, who considered himself better able to outline his own policies by spring, when he would be thoroughly familiar with conditions at Washington and Lee.

Early in the fall, an early date in April was believed to be the likely choice for the time of the inauguration, but now the important University event has been put off until the second week in May.

Arrangements for the occasion are in the hands of Treasurer John L. Campbell, Dean Harry D. Campbell and Dr. Smith, who compose the executive committee. Dr. James Lewis Howe is chairman of the faculty committee on the inauguration. Dr. W. L. Stevens is chairman of the invitation committee, and Dr. D. B. Easter is chairman of the committee on entertainment. Prospects are now bright for a highly successful event. A large number of distinguished alumni will be present for the occasion of the formal change in the University presidency. The last inauguration was held during the final exercises in June, 1902, when Dr. Denny was installed. Dr. Smith is the thirteenth president of the institution since its incorporation.

George F. Sanford has been offered a three-year contract to coach Yale's football team at $10,000 per year.

The Board of Regents of Sewanee have decided to open a medical department in Nashville.

DAVIS ANNOUNCES SUPERB BASEBALL SCHEDULE

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR GYM TEAM

Many Old Men Back and Promising New Material—Dual Meets Are Being Arranged

Prospects are exceedingly bright for a successful season in the gymnasium. A good quota of last year's men are in college, who have been practicing on difficult stunts every afternoon. Among the old men gymnasts are: Captain Bush, Manager J. L. Larrick, Webster, W. M. Miller, Davidson, Davis, all of whom figured in last year's exhibition, and Glasgow, who was on the team several years ago.

On account of the strenuous training which an average of fifty men undergo every day under the direction of Dr. Pollard, assisted by Miller, Bush and Larrick, there have been developing a large number of likely candidates for the squad. Showell, Dillon, Horner and Oglesby are among the promising new men.

The annual gym exhibition will be held during the first or second week in March, when medals are awarded to winners in different events. It is also likely that meets will be held with other colleges. The Washington and Lee team easily overcame Davidson last winter, and a return meet may be held this year. The manager is also trying to arrange dual meets with North Carolina and V. P. I. A challenge has been received from the naval academy for Washington and Lee to meet the mid-dies in Annapolis at an early date, but as the local gymnasts have been a little tardy in rounding into shape, the challenge will in all probability not be accepted.

Remarkable Interest Shown in Bible Classes

Remarkable interest has been shown in the Bible classes that have recently been organized, one being led by Dr. J. R. Howerton, and the other by Dr. J. L. Howe. The classes are two month courses, meeting during February and March for one hour each week. The class under Dr. Howerton meets every Thursday evening, the subject of the discussional lectures being the Present Forces in Negro Progress. The meetings are made particularly interesting by Dr. Howerton, who has wide practical knowledge of the Negro Problem. There are twenty-eight in the class. The subject of the course under Dr. Howe is the Decisive Hours of Modern Missions. Dr. Howe is especially qualified to lecture on the subject of Missions, and has frequently lectured on Mission Work in China. There are about fifteen men in the class, meeting every Monday evening.

According to investigation at Iowa it has been found that only one out of every eleven college engagements result in marriage.

Yale, Holy Cross and Roanoke League Among Teams to Be Met by the White and Blue Team

Every lover of baseball will be pleased when he looks over the baseball schedule which has just been announced by E. P. Davis the manager of Washington and Lee's baseball team. A grand total of twenty-six games will be played. Nineteen games will be played on Wilson field. The number of games scheduled for this year as compared with the number last year is smaller, but the grade of team which will be played is much higher. Last year Manager Jackson scheduled thirty-two games, twenty-four of which were played on the home field. The last two games of the season last year were canceled. They were with Georgetown and the Navy.

The first game on the schedule is Holy Cross. Washington and Lee met Holy Cross the first game of the season in 1910. In this game the White and Blue team was victorious by a score of 5 to 6.

Washington and Lee plays Yale in Norfolk, Va., March 21st this is the second game of the schedule. Manager Davis should be congratulated in landing this game as it is one of the biggest of the season. This will be Yale's first game. This is the first time Washington and Lee has ever met Yale in baseball and the fact that they are on the schedule this year in both basketball and baseball speaks well for the different managers and will lead to further relations with Yale in other branches of athletics.

Penn. State the hefty team of sluggers who have appeared on the schedule for the past several years will meet the White and Blue team again in two games. Last year it will be remembered that Washington and Lee broke even with them. Among other games, will be two with Lafayette, one with St. Johns and two with the Roanoke League team. The two games with the Roanoke League team is the main feature of the whole schedule and will no doubt attract great attention. This is the first time for some years that Washington and Lee has met league team and the game will be watched with much interest by many lovers of the sport.

The White and Blue team will not meet the University of Vermont this season. It will be remembered that the team from the University of Vermont was one of the fastest ever seen on Wilson field. Coach Al Orth said, in remarking about the game: "boys you can never see any better ball than that in the leagues."

Other games that will be played in Lexington are: One with V. P. I., two with Davidson, one with North Carolina and one with South Carolina and one with A. and M., two with Trinity, N. C., one with Guilford, and the home season ending with two games with the West Virginia University, the last game being played May 1.

COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS MAKE INITIAL APPEARANCE

Make Great Hit Before a Packed House—Next Performance Thursday Night

The initial performance of the Washington and Lee Combined Musical clubs, at the Lyric, last evening was one of the most successful events of this character which has been given in Lexington for some time. The whole performance from beginning to end was attractive and lively and pleased the audience greatly. Without exception the character of the performance which was given would do credit to any institution of the country.

Those in charge of the concert were given many compliments by those who were present. This performance will be practically the same as will be given at Randolph-Macon Woman's College at the end of this week.

The program was attractive and well arranged and each number called forth great applause from the audience and the young musicians received many encores. The first number on the program was Tuscaloosa, by the Mandolin club, led by Stuart Moore. They received many encores which showed the appreciation of the audience. They also played On The Mississippi.

The Glee club was probably the best of the entire performance, all though it would be hard to discriminate between any individual club. The four principal numbers rendered by the Glee club were fine in every respect and the audience was well pleased. The Glee club is led by W. C. Coulbourne, who was one of the members of last year's club.

The Scrap Iron quartet perhaps received greatest applause. Their performance was good and they added brightness and color to the program which made it very pleasing. This quartet was first instituted last year and made a hit at every performance. The leader of the Scrap Iron quartet is the famous E. P. Davis. The attractive part of their performance was the originality of it.

The quartet made a hit in the one number in which they appeared. They received a great ovation and every one was much pleased with them.

The last number on the program, the Washington and Lee Swing, sung by the Glee club and the Scrap Iron quartet was very good and added the finishing touch and the right college spirit to the whole performance.

The musical clubs this season are in charge of R. D. Ramsey, president of the clubs, and Frank Bonzer, manager, and Rolph Millar, assistant manager. The directors were well pleased with the large and enthusiastic crowd and the house was filled to its capacity. The students supported the performance very well, but the audience was made up chiefly of townspeople.

The Combined Musical clubs will again appear Thursday night in the High School auditorium. This performance will be for the benefit of the Washington and Lee track team.

At this time Miss Louise A. Williamson of Georgia, known as one of the most delightful entertainers on the platform, will give her unique and artistic impersonations of the passing old Negro.

The following program was rendered by the Combined Musical clubs:

PART ONE

1. Tuscaloosa, Mandolin club.
2. The Dixie Kid, Glee club.

3. My Curly Headed Babby, Jack Campbell.
4. Far Away in the South, Scrap Iron quartet.
5. Goodbye Rose, Glee club.

PART TWO

1. On the Mississippi, Mandolin club.
2. Don' Yer Cry My Honey, quartet.
3. Honey, I Want Yer Now, Glee club.
4. Shine, Scrap Iron quartet.
5. W. & L. Swing, Glee club.

CLASS BASKETBALL WILL BE LIVELY

At a meeting of the class basketball managers, the schedule for the current season was drawn up, and plans discussed. The race for the championship this year promises to be a lively one, from the arguments of the managers. The fact that the Varsity places were to be filled, practically, by last year's team, kept many from going out for that, leaving a wealth of material for the class organizations. The Freshmen have already been out practicing, for a week or so, with a promising bunch of about eighteen huskies. The Sophomores have also been busy, with a smaller squad, but a hard working bunch. The Juniors and Seniors have been loafing up to the present time, but expect to hold up their end through the fact of so many old men back. However, they expect to get busy on the work at once, so as to help their averages in the early games. The championship will be decided by the percentage of games won at the close of the season. The schedule:

- Feb. 7—Sophomores vs. Freshmen.
- Feb. 11—Seniors vs. Juniors.
- Feb. 15—Juniors vs. Freshmen.
- Feb. 17—Seniors vs. Sophomores.
- Feb. 20—Juniors vs. Sophomores.
- Feb. 27—Seniors vs. Freshmen.

PROF. HUNLEY WILL ADDRESS FORUM THURSDAY

Thursday evening at 8 o'clock Professor W. M. Hunley of the University of Virginia, will deliver an address before the Washington and Lee Forum on the subject of the Race Commission. Professor Hunley is secretary of the Southern Race commission. The Race commission is made up of representatives from all the Southern Universities for the purpose of making a study of the race problems in the South.

Professor Hunley comes to Washington and Lee highly recommended as a fluent and strong speaker. The members of the Forum consider it a great privilege that they are able to get Professor Hunley to address them.

While Professor Hunley is in Lexington he will be entertained by Dr. Latane at Mulberry hill.

A course of study to be known as the "special technique of football" will begin at the University of Wisconsin by order of George W. Ehler, director of physical education. The course is to be given two hours a week during December and January, and will include history of the game, theory of offense and defense, team and individual play, principles of practice, training instruction, coaching and schedules, rules, duties of officials, equipment, its selection, use and care; management of teams and financial administration.

The course will be open to juniors, seniors or graduates who have a practical experience in the game. University credit will be given under certain conditions.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AS AN AID TO SUCCESS

Dr. Smith Addresses University Assembly—Panoramic Pictures Taken of Faculty and Students

The University Assembly for February was held last Friday morning at ten o'clock in the University chapel, Dr. Henry Louis Smith being the speaker. Immediately before the campus in front of the Main building and a panoramic picture of the students and University buildings was made.

The assembly was opened by prayer by Dr. Howerton.

President Smith said in part:

Washington and Lee has entered a new field of intercollegiate activity as is evidenced by the fact that she has already scheduled two debates with prominent universities and others will follow. Realizing the need here at W. and L. the speaker took as his subject: "The Value of Public Speaking as an Aid to Success." We live in an age of mind, in an age where battles and victories are the battles and victories of the intellect. Today men wear crowns, not on their heads but in their heads. Great as is the value of physical development, yet the training of the mind is of supreme importance. But mind without expression is like a sword handle without a blade, or an engine without steam.

If one is going to be anything he is going to do it by assuming a leadership over other minds by the strength of his own mind. Spoken or written words are the only expression of any intellect, but the written word is powerless when compared with the spoken word. The printed page never has had and never will have the power of spoken words. Two things in particular are to be noticed in regard to public speaking. (1) One cannot be a public speaker without practice. It is like learning to play the piano. It is art that comes an with drill.

(2). It can generally only be learned in youth. Very few men learn to speak after middle life. The great majority acquire the art while young. Here in college is the last time most of us will have an opportunity to learn public speaking and it is the only easy opportunity to speak in public after he is out of college.

The immense value of this art may be shown under three heads. (1) It is valuable as a means of mental discipline. When a man has a debate on hand he saturates himself with knowledge of the subject. This is a real training for, after the information is gathered, it must be systematized, pruned and molded into a whole and effective instrument. One must learn to give a definite expression to the collected knowledge. The speaker went on to say that he had often seen one speech or debate raise a man to an intellectual platform that he had never reached before.

(2) Public speaking is an accomplishment which will give pleasure in the future. A man may become skilled in athletics, in music, or he may have social ease and grace, but the ability to make a speech is worth a mint to him as an accomplishment.

In business, in church work, in social work, the speaker takes the lead. This art once acquired will act as a social lever wherever you go. The ability to be a toastmaster, to introduce the speaker, to make the speech, to be sent as a delegate to some convention, these are the things that make one a leader. (3). It lifts a man into positions of usefulness and power.

The world can recognize what is in him if he can speak in public, if he can give his thought expression. This in an age of organization and co-operation and he who would succeed must have the power which comes with this gift. He must be able to take his mental power and knowledge and show it and prove it to his fellow men. Ten years from now it will be too late for the men here at Washington and Lee now to acquire this art of power. The world today wants trained athletes on the field of the intellect. Influence, leadership and power depend on the ability to make a speech in public.

IS IT POSSIBLE?

Reported Extensive Improvements on B. & O.

Jan. 30th, the Baltimore officials announced that a new $8,000 modern brick passenger depot would be built at Lexington. The Baltimore & Ohio has recently appropriated something like $46,000 for improvements on the Harrisburg-Lexington section of the Valley division. This money is going for twenty-five miles of new ninety pound rails and for new ballast on the entire sixty-eight miles, according to a report filed with the state railroad commission.

With these extensive improvements the officials promise the same antiquated service in regard to coaches and engines and promise that the trains will not be less than three hours behind schedule time.

NEWS EDITOR.

The Department of News Editor has been added to the General Editorial Department of the Ring-tum Phi. Each member of the staff will be given an opportunity to get out an issue of the Ring-tum Phi assisted by the other members of the staff. The Editor-in-chief supervises all the material collected by the News Editor. Unless the News Editor does commendable work and shows he has made an effort no mention is made of him. The News Editor of this issue is E. S. Delaplaine.

OUR CIRCULATION.

There were 1500 copies of the Ring-tum Phi printed for circulation last week. The circulation of a large number of our issues has reached between 1300 and 1500 copies. We appreciate and value highly the hearty support the new administration is giving our publication.

THE MUSICAL CLUBS.

The initial appearance of the Combined Musical Clubs was indeed a very creditable one. Considering the late date these clubs got down to work the performance was very commendable.

Those in charge of the organizations have done good work. We appreciate the difficulties and obstacles which they have had to contend with. Their efforts have not been in vain and they have succeeded in organizing and training those under them so that they will do credit to the University.

There was just one thing that was conspicuous—the lack of support given by the majority of the students in attending the concert. There is no other organization in the University which deserves the hearty support of every student than the Combined Musical Clubs. Every place the Combined Musical Clubs went last year they received the highest praise for the high quality of the performance they gave. This year they have the same opportunity to advertise and add praise to the name of Washington and Lee. They cannot do this unless they have the patronage of the students. We also might suggest that those in the musical clubs would appreciate a little patronage from the faculty when they give a concert in Lexington.

SOUTHERN COLLEGIAN

The January issue of the Southern Collegian was delivered last week, and according to various criticisms, surpasses all of the previous numbers of this session.

The neat cover, with the seal of the University stamped in gold, is attractive and lures one to the interior. The first article is a poem entitled "For Day is Done." A non deplume conceals the author's identity but the article is a little gem. The essay "Individualism," by Duke Ward is a piece of workmanship of high quality. The author handles his subject in a lofty manner that is in tone with his theme. "Insincerity," a poem by G. W. D., breathes contempt for the hypocritical nature with the same ardor as does "God is All in All," by the same author.

W. T. H. has an exceptionally strong maritime story in dialect entitled, "The Eternal Question." A very good translation of Goethe's "Song of the Spirits over the Water," signed Max, is given, and although translation destroys the beauty of the rhythm, the spirit is well sustained. "Rowing, not Drifting" is an excellent essay by E. S. D. It is an old theme treated in a new light and the impression is optimistic and uplifting. A beautiful article of color is "Sunrise on the Shenandoah." "The Tables Turned" is a narrative which feels the pulse of the business world. A poem "The Awakening," by Edd can be termed a poem of hope, displaying an infinite trust in a future existence.

The magazine as a whole is excellent and the editors deserve credit for such a worthy issue.

Wisconsin is campaigning to secure appropriations for dormitories for boys.

INTERESTINE FACTS
CONCERNING ALUMNI

The Ring-tum Phi will, from time to time, publish in the alumni column the record of the members of the various classes since their graduation. This will begin with the class of 1900. It has been impossible to secure the facts in a good many cases.

The information has come to this office from various sources, in many instances being sent in by fellow classmen. It has, also, been rearranged after reaching this office.

Mr. J. Randolph Tucker returned to Washington and Lee to take the law course. After receiving his LL. B. in 1902, he was a special student in law at Harvard for the session of 1902-'03. He settled in Richmond in 1906, becoming associated with the firm of Munford, Hunton, Williams and Anderson. At present he is a member of the firm of Lighfoot and Tucker.

Mr. Tucker has been engaged in politics only to the extent of being a member of the city council for one term. In Richmond, he has taken an active interest in the state militia, having held various offices, and at present, he is the first lieutenant and battalion adjutant of the Richmond Blues. For the past three years Mr. Tucker has been a professor of law at Richmond College. He is a member of the Westmoreland and Commonwealth clubs and of the state and city Bar associations.

J. E. Gish, the secretary of the law class of "Naughty Naught," and familiarly known while in college as "Judge" Gish, is independently engaged in the practice of law in Roanoke. Upon his first settling in Roanoke, he was in the well known law offices of Moomaw & Woods, and for several years ending in July, 1910, he was a partner in the firm of Shackelford & Gish. He has served upon the Democratic Executive committee of Roanoke county, and atorney for the town of Vinton. Fraternally, Mr. Gish is a member of the Roanoke lodge of I. O. O. F. and the Woodmen of the World.

In 1901, Mr. Hilton S. Hampton began the practice of law in Tampa, Fla., for most of the time practicing alone. From the time of the organization of the board of trade until Jan. 1, 1912, he has represented the board as attorney. He is now honored with the position of grand chancellor of Grand Domain of Florida, Knights of Pythias, and for the past five years has been president of the Washington and Lee Alumni association in Tampa.

Ever since leaving Lexington Mr. F. H. Anschutz has been in the employ of the Gauley Coal company, which company owns one hundred and seventy odd thousand acres of coal and timber lands in West Virginia. He has been engaged in a variety of occupations while connected with this company, that might be grouped under the comprehensive designation of "engineering." He is now chief engineer in charge of the interests of this company on the ground, the home office being in Boston.

Jan. 26, 1913.

To the Editor of the Ring-tum Phi:
Sir:—Few events in the University have given us greater pleasure than the adoption of the new eligibility rules governing athletics. We believe this to be the sentiment of the alumni generally. Students within the University and not closely in touch with the outside world, can hardly realize in how unfavorable a position Washington and Lee was placed by her adherence to standards of purity in athletics that have been discarded by the leading institutions of other sections of the country. By the extraordinary publicity given to the fact that men who had received compensation were allowed to become members of the University teams, people who had heard only one side of the case and knew nothing else of the University, believed that her athletics were corrupt in the extreme. It is to be hoped that this recent action will be given as wide publicity as were the events of last fall.

Within recent years there has grown up the opinion among outsiders that students have been allowed to enter Washington and Lee with little or no academic preparation. Happily this accusation can no longer be made.

Thus within the past few months have taken place the two most important progressive measures within the recent history of our University, the standard of scholarship, and the standard of athletics have both been raised, so as to make them commensurate with the rank of our University as a national institution. Some temporary disadvantages are bound to result; for every change, however beneficial, works some hardship. But we should not lose sight of the great and permanent gain which we feel confident will result from thus removing all grounds for just criticism of the University and its policies.

Mr. A. H. Throckmorton is now professor of law in Indiana University, which position he accepted upon resigning as dean of the college of law of Central University of Kentucky. For a number of years Mr. Throckmorton has been engaged in editorial work for the American Law Book company of New York, publishers of the Cyclopaedia of law and procedure, commonly known as "Cyc," having written the articles in "Cyc" on "Levees," "Pledges," and "Names," and being joint author of the articles on "construction of statutes." In recent years he has been one of the revising editors.

North Carolina Meeting

After considerable delay, the men from the state of North Carolina came together and effected an organization. A number of Tar Heelers met in the English room on Thursday, and elected the following: V. M. Matthews, president; F. M. Mitchell, vice-president; E. W. DeArmon, secretary; D. G. Kelly, treasurer; L. A. Harper, historian. The club decided to be represented in the Calyx. This is the thirteenth club to be organized this session.

101st Annual Celebration of the Wash.

The 101st annual celebration of the Washington Literary society is only ten days off, and arrangements are nearing completion. The celebration will be held as usual on the night of Washington's birthday. Last year the "Wash" men held their centennial, which was an unqualified success.

A feature will be a discussion of the question, "Resolved, that our Government is spending too much money on the navy." The debaters who will participate have selected their sides and places as follows: Affirmative, P. D. Converse and M. L. Masinter; negative, R. G. Hundley and C. L. Sager.

As usual there will be two orators. This year the contestants are H. F. Day and H. L. Robinson. An orator's medal and a debater's medal will be awarded. L. V. Judson was elected president of the celebration.

The latest Harvard publication is the Harvard Musical Review which has been started this year.

DAVIS ANNOUNCES SUPERB BASEBALL SCHEDULE

The usual Southern trip will be taken and the White and Blue team will meet their old rivals, the University of Georgia in two games South Carolina in two games, A. and M. in one game and the season will close at Durham, N. C. in a contest with Trinity.

This schedule is by far one of the best schedules in which those who champion the cause in baseball for Washington and Lee have ever taken part. Aside from the spectacular features of these games, Washington and Lee's schedule will secure recognition in the South Atlantic division. The games with Holy Cross and Yale will give her prominence in the North.

This year from the present outlook Washington and Lee will be weak on the diamond. Last year's old team is badly shot to pieces and much new material will have to be developed. Thus far nothing has been done to get the squad out and no estimate can be made as to just what might be expected. All the Northern Colleges and the majority of the Southern Colleges have issued a call to candidates and it will not be long before Washington and Lee has a hefty squad on the field.

William Jett Lauck, B. A., '98, '01, '02, '03, figures in a scholarly squabble with Arthur T. Lyman in the February issue of the Atlantic Monthly. In the September issue of the magazine, the Washington and Lee alumnus had an article published, headed "A Real Myth." Mr. Lyman branded many of his statements as erroneous, and in the recent number, space was given for both of the well-known political economists to uphold their opinions. The dispute was upon the American Wage Earner and the Immigration problem.

TRIUMPHS OVER VIRGINIA

goals being made in the last half. McCain scored five goals while Bear made five. For Virginia, Gill proved to be the most consistent marksman, landing four markers. Virginia scored eight of her twenty-eight points on baskets resulting from fouls, while the White and Blue annexed but three of her forty-three from fouls.

The latter half was highly sensational. While the brilliant shots from field by Miles and Burk aroused the excited crowd, the Virginia players became desperate and attempted to rally. However the defensive tactics of the White and Blue squelched the attempt.

FIRST HALF

Before a crowd of 900 admirers of the respective teams, Referee Thorpe blew his whistle and tossed up the ball. The two lanky centers jumped too early and the ball fell between them. Churchman fouled and Miles scored the first point of the game. Miles ran with the pellet and Rixey tied the score by shooting the ball into the basket. Gill received a pass from Churchman and shot the sphere for the first field goal. Miles committed two fouls in short order, Rixey losing the first but counting on the second. Bear evaded his guard and scored a field goal and shortly afterwards Miles repeated sending the White and Blue to the front. McCain held and Rixey missed but the lanky center scored when McCain ran with the ball on the next play. "Buck" Miles made a difficult shot for the basket and then Burk pushed an opponent and Rixey failed.

Stickley and Churchman committed fouls, Miles losing the first shot but landing the second. Gill, the Virginia forward, located the basket and scored his second field goal. Miles was judged to have committed a foul and Rixey increased the score. The Virginia team slackened its pace and the Champs took advantage of this fact. McCain receiving a pass from Bear, caged the sphere. Then Stickley located the netting and McCain annexed two on easy shots. Gill boosted the score of the opposition when he landed two field goals in rapid succession, after which McCain scored again.

Receiving a pass from under the Virginia basket in midfield, Miles glanced about to see someone to pass the sphere to. Seeing that the Virginia guards had effectively covered, he tossed the sphere and the ball went in the basket. The shot stimulated the shouts of the White and Blue and soon the roar became deafening. A double foul followed but both marksmen failed. Bear made one of the most sensational shots of the game when he scored a goal from field while standing nearly forty feet from the basket. The hefty forward fouled on the following tossup but Rixey missed. On the next tossup the ball was batted into Washington and Lee territory, where a few shots were taken at the goal without success. Warding off his guard near the side of the court, Bear made an overhand toss backward and found the basket. Miles fouled and Rixey caged the pellet. Burk was injured shortly after the tossup and the team left the field. The referee called one foul on the play in which Burk was injured and another for the White and Blue leaving the field. Rixey scored both and the whistle blew ending the first half with the score 22 to 16.

SECOND HALF

McCain initiated the scoring in the second period by tossing the ball in the basket with ease. Then a long period of scuffling ensued, the ball saw-sawing from one basket to the other until finally Campbell scored. Miles followed with a neat shot from field, after which Burk counted just under the basket. On an overhand toss, Bear caged the sphere. One of the prettiest bits of pass work was shown when the ball was passed from under the Virginia basket on five consecutive throws, Miles getting the goal. "Buck" repeated the stunt with apparent ease. Rixey was ushered from the battle, having yielded to the best man. He was replaced by Strickling. Lyman was substituted for Gill at forward and celebrated his entry with a field goal.

With Washington and Lee leading, there was no doubt as to the final result. However before the whistle blew, Burk and Miles scored several pretty shots. The final score was 43 to 28, the White and Blue making twenty-two points in the first half and twenty-one in the final session.

FRESHMEN DOWN SOPHO- MORES IN BASKETBALL

First Game of the Inter-Class Series
Results in Victory for Class of 1913

In a fast and exciting game the Freshman basketball team defeated the Sophomores in the first game of the inter class series on last Friday night in the gymnasium. Neither side was able to take any safe lead during the first half and the score was 11 to 8 when the whistle blew for the intermission.

The Freshmen showed more form in the second half making seven points while they held the Sophs to one field goal, final score being 18 to 10 in favor of 1916.

The fast playing of Nolley and Simmons for the Freshmen and Guterrez for the Sophs were the features, Simmons being especially strong on foul goals, while 1915 was very weak in this department. Keesler also played a good game for the Sophomores, he being the only man to score besides Gutierrez. The Freshmen presented a more evenly balanced team and displayed more team work.

BEANERY MANAGEMENT TAKE FRENCH LEAVE

Levied on Students' Accounts by His August Majesty Sheriff of Rockbridge

Mr. and Mrs. James G. Rishor, who had been selected by the faculty to manage the University Commons, have taken French leave from Lexington. Some time last Wednesday, both "Jim" and "Lena" miraculously disappeared, and about the dinner hour when the boarders woke up to discover what had happened, the report of the "skipping" immediately went the rounds. As a consequence of their "skipping," many students and others are out of pocket. Most of the students' board bills were due and paid on Feb. 4th. On the following day, Mr. and Mrs. Rishor left on their trip, incidentally forgetting to pay a good many of the January bills. Swift & Co. were the first to attach. There are between twenty-five and thirty students boarding at the dining hall, designed to accommodate 100. E. A. Donahue, who has been manager of the dining room for the last two years, superintended temporarily. The Rishors have been managers of the Dining hall since September, 1911. His August Majesty the sheriff of Rockbridge, has summoned a number of students who had not paid their board bill for the month to appear at the term of court.

John W. Eggleston, B. A., LL.B., '10, has formed a partnership in Norfolk, under the firm name of Baker & Eggleston.
