

FOOTBALL IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC

Season Reviewed at Home and Abroad—Outlook For 1914 Favors W. & L.

The Washington and Lee schedule opened with what was reported at that time to be a very strong team, the eleven from the Virginia Medical College, but the "Meds." failed to develop the expected strength and the generals won by the score of 27 to 0. Donahue and Young gained at will on open plays and the visitors seemed to be woefully weak in the tackling department.

GALLAUDET

The Mutes from Gallaudet made their appearance on Wilson field the following week and they went down 24 to 0, as a result of three touchdowns and a drop kick by Donahue. The Mutes forced the Varsity to extend itself and during one quarter it seemed that they would cross the goal line. This was Miller's first game and his work on the defense was a feature. Young's brilliant broken field running was the direct cause of two of the tallies and a forward pass from Miles to Heatt netted the third.

ST. JOHNS DEFEATED.

The third fracas was with St. Johns College when that team was in the best form of its career, due to the fact that then it had not been depleted by injuries and it had the services of its famous half back, Wilson. The Annapolis cadets proved adept at the use of the forward pass, which frequently netted long gains, but the final score was 19 to 0.

W. AND L., 34; J. H. U., 3

On Oct. 18th Washington and Lee met Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, and 34 to 3 tells the tale of that struggle. The Black and Blue played the Varsity to a standstill during the opening period, in the meantime registering three points, thus gaining the signal distinction of being the only team that had scored on the White and Blue up to that time and the only team that scored on them until the last five minutes of the 1913 season. The "Pride of Hinton" continued the work in this contest that was to cause him to be selected as All South Atlantic guard. Young, Friend and Donahue were in the lime light, the latter getting two field goals.

WAKE FOREST EASY.

In the presence of the Randolph Macon College girls the Varsity put up a great game against Wake Forest, running up 33 points on a heavy field. The Baptists were rushed off their feet in the first quarter, two touchdowns coming in that period, but they rallied in the sec-

THE BACKFIELD

In Donahue, Lile, Beuhring and Young, W. & L. possessed probably the strongest combination of brains, speed and line-plunging ability ever seen on Wilson Field. It was also unusually strong on the defensive. With Donahue's rare generalship and ability as a drop kicker and in advancing the ball, with Young's speedy broken field running and excellent punting, with Beuhring's unstoppable rushes, and with Lile as a brilliant defensive half—it was a treat to watch this quartet in action.

WASHINGTON AND LEE'S '1913 RECORD

THE LINE

That Washington and Lee was able to go until the last five minutes of the 1913 season without having a touchdown scored on her was largely due to the stellar work of this line. It could always be depended on in a crisis to hold the opposing backs to inches or throw them for a loss. The average weight of the line from end to end was 180 pounds. In Shultz and Miles it possessed the best pair of tackles in the Division, and in Miller probably the fastest man for his weight, 250 pounds, on any team in the country.

AS COACH DOWD SAW THE SEASON

White and Blue's 1913 Mentor Gives Views—High Praise For Team

BY COACH DOWD

The student body, alumni and friends of Washington and Lee have given very full expression to their estimate of the 1913 football team, and such wonderful appreciation has made the players and coaches deeply grateful. The record made by Washington and Lee this year is remarkable, and while we were deeply disappointed at Norfolk in our ambition to achieve a clear title to the South Atlantic championship, and to keep our goal line uncrossed, a comparison of our record with that of any other team in the South Atlantic, or the entire South, will show that we had fewer points scored against us, and our goal line crossed but once.

The team played very consistent football throughout the season, though hardly the kind of game they were capable of against A. and M. With so much at stake and lined up against the stiffest proposition of the year, and with A. and M. at her best, we were in reality carrying the short end, when apparently the odds were in our favor, based on the season's record of eight victories and a goal line uncrossed. But we take off our hats to A. and M. for they both outwitted and outplayed us in a fair fight. Football is a rough game, and there is a lot of give and take that is legitimate, so we are not "sobbing," nor do we want sympathy for having failed to keep our eyes open and play the game as it has to be played, sometimes. We will play over that A. and M. game many times this winter, and think what we might have done, but each time we remember that wonderful record of 200 points scored against opponents in eight games, and only three points in their favor, the memory of the A. and M. game will grow more dim, and soon will be lost sight of, until next Thanksgiving day, when we are confident the outcome will be more than reversed.

All Honor

All honor to the football team of 1913! It has carried the banners of the White and Blue further into the enemy's camp than they have ever been before, and only by the narrowest of margins did it fail to place the old colors in triumph above all the rest. But it placed them where they wave proudly in the South Atlantic breezes in a position equalled by few, and surpassed by none. The way has been cleared for the final advance to complete victory. So here's a toast to the team of '13, as true sportsmen and as game fighters as ever trod a gridiron—and the forerunners of a championship in 1914.

This is the last issue of the Ring-tum Phi until after Christmas. The delay this week has been due to late arrival of some of the cuts.

PERSONNEL OF VARSITY SQUAD

FIRST TEAM

Miles, Captain—Right Tackle—Third year on team. Expects to return. All South Atlantic for three years.
Miller, Ex-captain, '12—Left Guard—Fourth year. Unanimous choice on All South Atlantic.
Beuhring, Full Back—Third year. Return uncertain. Runner up for All South Atlantic.
Young, Left Half—First Year. Will return. Second All South Atlantic.
Lile, Right Half—Second Year. Will return.
Donahue, Quarter Back—First Year as Regular. Will return. Runner up for All South Atlantic.
Barrow, Center—First Year on Varsity. Will return. Second All South Atlantic.
Neblett, Left Guard. Will not return, due to graduation.
Shultz, Right Tackle—Second Year. Will return.
Barker, Right End—Second Year. Return doubtful.
Hieatt, Left End—Second Year. Will probably be back.

VARSIY SUBSTITUTES
(Awarded Monograms)

Terry, Half Back—Second Year. Will return. Handicapped by injuries most of season.
Smith, Half and Quarter—First Year. Will return. Remarkably good punter.
Friend, Full Back—First Year. Will return. Player of great prominence.
Bryan, Guard and Tackle—First Year. Will return.
Dingwall, Guard—First Year. Will return.
Those on the Varsity squad not awarded monograms were: In the backfield—Milner, England and Harrison, all of whom will return and add materially to the strength of the Varsity. Injuries handicapped England this season. On the line—Nolly and Seeley at end, and Jones and Harris at tackle and guard. Seeley played a great game for his weight, while Nolly was dependable at all times. Jones should make a great linesman next year, as he would this year, but for illness. Harris' improved work promoted him from scrubs to Varsity towards the season's close. All will return in 1914 except Harris.

DONAHUE TO CAPTAIN WHITE AND BLUE IN 1914

E. A. Donahue, better known as "Jiggs" was elected captain of the football team for next year Tuesday afternoon. Donahue has the personality for an ideal leader. He captained the 1912 baseball team, and was re-elected for this year. He is also president of the Athletic association.

RECEPTION TO FOOTBALL TEAM GIVEN IN LIBRARY

Coach Dowd Presented With Silver Loving Cup—Captain Miles With Gold Watch, and Moomaw With Scarf Pin

A reception was given the coaches and the members of the Varsity football team in the Carnegie Library last Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock. In the presence of the many fair visitors attending the Thanksgiving dances, and with a large outpouring of students, the occasion was one of amimation and brilliance, and brought to a fitting close a season that has been remarkable not only for its victories, but for the splendid display of spirit by the student body. A beautiful silver loving cup, eighteen inches in height, and bearing the inscription: "B. Lawrence Dowd, from Washington and Lee Friends, Football Season, 1913," was presented Coach Dowd by President Smith.

Dr. Graham presented Captain Miles with a gold watch, bearing a raised monogram on the case, while Dr. Granville Campbell spoke in appreciation of the services of Assistant Coach Moomaw, and gave him a scarf pin set with pearls, as a remembrance from the student body.

Miss Annie White was the hostess of the affair. Iced refreshments were served, under the supervision of Mrs. Withers and Miss Carrington, by a bevy of Lexington girls, presenting a very pretty picture in their white costumes.

THE SCRUBS

There are many who consider the scrubs martyrs. They are not, in spite of the tendency to make them so by neglect of appreciation of their work. But they are heroes! Any man who goes out for the team, naturally with the hope of making the varsity—and remains out until the end of the season, evening after evening after all hope is gone, is as much of a hero as the best player on the Varsity. Many appeared on Wilson field at the start of the season, but as the season drew to a close the squad dwindled smaller and smaller; the men who stayed sticking because they knew their presence on the field each day would add a little improvement to the Varsity. Thus did they contribute to the victories of the White and Blue and thus did they serve their alma mater. Their spirit is the true college spirit, the spirit of Washington and Lee. Here is the honor roll—the list of the men who stuck through the season:

Bagley, captain, quarter.
Holbrooke, full back.
Jennings, left half.
Birdsall, right half.
Polk, center.
Morgan, center.
Craig, right guard.
Pettit, left tackle.
Woodruff, right tackle.
Wadsworth, left end.
K. H. Smith, right end.
Walling, right end.

SOPHS DEFEAT JUNIORS 21 TO 0

In a game characterized by frequent fumbling and bad passes the Sophomores came out victors over the Juniors Thursday on Wilson field. The game was scoreless throughout the first and second quarters, but the last half favored the Sophomores, aided by the stellar work of Tarleton, and the game ended 21 to 0 against the Juniors.

DAN HOLLIS PASSES AWAY

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30th, at the home of his parents in Atlanta, Dan Hollis succumbed to an attack of tuberculosis after an illness of about eight months. He was one of the very best students and a most promising member of last year's Senior class, but was forced to leave the University on account of ill health at the end of the second term. One who knew him well has truly said: "Not a purer character ever walked on the campus of Washington and Lee."

DOWD, Head Coach

and third, the third period being scoreless. In that quarter the Baptists relying on line plunging tactics, rushed the ball consistently, but they were checked before the line was crossed. Fullback Beuhring made his first appearance in this contest.

DECISIVE DEFEAT OF V. P. I.

One week later in Roanoke, was staged the first championship battle when the Tech went down in defeat. Twenty-one to 0 was the score. The White and Blue defense held well and only once did the Orange and Maroon threaten to tally. Young played with an injury and it fell to the "Human Cannon Ball" to smash through for the first six points. Forward passes from Donahue to Miles resulted in one touchdown and paved the way for another.

CAROLINA IN LYNCHBURG.

Carolina was the next victim. It was in Lynchburg and the gridiron was a sea of mud. Both teams were forced to play straight football. Three times were the Generals inside of the Tar Heel ten yard line, in the first quarter, only to be set back with severe penalties. In the second "Cy" was pushed over for touchdown number one. In the same period the same "Cy" dropped back as if to punt, but he gathered the ball in and sprinted seventy-five yards for touchdown, number two with Captain Miles running splendid interference.

With the rain coming down and darkness falling fast, the second half was a matter of guess work with Carolina having a little the best of the guessing end.

EIGHTH VICTORY.

The eighth victory was at West Virginia's expense, and 28 to 0 was the score. The Varsity showed more form in this game than in any other, the line charging as it should.

THE ONE DEFEAT.

Having easily won eight games, and with an uncrossed goal line the Generals journeyed to Norfolk, determined to take A. and M.'s measure, but fully aware that the Aggies at that time were the best eleven in the division. Three periods were scoreless, but in the middle of the last Tenney went over and the game ended 6 to 0. The hopes of an undisputed championship were gone, but the satisfaction of having the most consistent record of any team in the South Atlantic still remained. The team had scored 200 points to 9 against them. This speaks for itself. None can rank above us and few with us.

REVIEW OF THE SOUTH ATLANTIC SEASON

The A. and M. team seems to have been the one of the best that ever represented that institution. On paper the backfield was a wonder, but it was never able to develop its great strength until the last game. The Red and White was heavy and aggressive. This team suffered only one reversal, that at the hands of V. M. I. Lut the Aggies were without the services of several of their stars and were taken by surprise.

Virginia made a great start, winning handily from Vanderbilt, but this game seemed to mark a turning point, and few weeks later Georgetown, whose team was not up to standard, had defeated her. While the Orange and Blue won from Carolina, it was not the clear cut victory that was expected. The Tar Heels threatened to score often and they did succeed in making one touchdown.

Georgetown's season was poor as a whole, but she has one brilliant victory to her credit, that over Virginia.

V. P. I.'s season was disappointing to her followers. She was outclassed by Washington and Lee and later was tied by V. M. I. The victory over Carolina was the only redeeming feature of her season.

The University of North Carolina started the season with bright prospects. There was a wealth of material on hand and numerous coaches. But the necessary punch was lacking and the Tar Heels failed to win a single big game.

The V. M. I. team got away with a poor start, being held to a tie early in the season by Morris Harvey, besides suffering a crushing defeat at the hands of Virginia. But the cadets managed to nose A. and M. out in a game characterized by the loose play of the Aggies, due partly to the fact that the Red and White was without the services of several of its stars and were up against a better team than they expected.

OUTLOOK FOR WHITE AND BLUE IN 1914

Miller, Beuhring, Barker, Neblett and Hieatt are candidates for degrees this year and none of these men are expected to play next year. "Fats" has been a member of the eleven for four full years, and his allotted time is up. He has been

SOCIAL FESTIVITIES OF THE PAST WEEK

The dance given by the Cotillion club on Tuesday evening was a fitting sequel to that given by the class of 1913 on Monday. The Cotillion club figure, one of the most complicated and effective ever seen here, was led by R. D. Ramsey, president of the club, with Miss Sarah Wilson of Smithfield, Va., assisted by L. R. Hanna with Miss Virginia Williamson of Charleston, W. Va. A feature of the figure was the kickoff by Miss Wilson. The couples ranged themselves in columns at either end of the hall and Captain "Ruck" Miles brought forward a White and Blue football. To the inspiring music of the W. and L. "Swing," Miss Wilson advanced and gracefully kicked the ball to the opposing side, after which dancing was resumed. During the dance, which lasted until a late hour, more than one special extra was given the freshmen, who otherwise are not allowed to dance. Supper was served at midnight by the Pan goats.

Numerous other social events have occupied the students and their fair visitors during the past week. On Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. W. Kern was hostess at a delightful reception given in honor of the Charleston girls. From four to six an informal dance was held at the Kappa Alpha house, and a large number of young ladies attended.

On Tuesday morning a delightful luncheon was given to a number of the visiting girls by the Thirteen club at the Dutch Inn, and on Wednesday a small informal dance was given in the "Beanery" by the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. This closed the social calendar for Thanksgiving, concluding the affairs which had contributed so much to the pleasure and enjoyment of the fair visitors.

"MARK" HANNA, Manager.
Manager Hanna could not be persuaded to favor the Ring-tum Phi with his photograph—which is almost as remarkable as the fact that he is the first man in memory to have made money out of a football season at Washington and Lee. He has not left a leaf unturned to place football on a self supporting basis, and how well he has succeeded is shown by the fact that his books show a surplus of about $1,700, against deficits in past years almost as large, and often larger. And this in spite of unusually bad weather conditions for three of the biggest games.

FOOTBALL IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC

all South Atlantic guard on everybody's pick for the last two seasons and there is no doubt that he is the best in the division. Genial and good natured, but at the same time earnest and determined, he made one of the best captains that ever lead a White and Blue team. His great weight and remarkable speed made him a man to be feared and for four years of consistent and brilliant performance, there is perhaps none who ever played for Washington and Lee, whose record can equal that of the mighty "Fats."

The loss of a pair of ends will also be a severe blow. "Hinks" and "Tex" have been sure and dependable performers, and while they are both light men, their speed and football sense made them the valuable players that they have been. Their places will indeed be hard to fill. Seeley and Walling have showed form at the flanking positions, while Nolley's experience from two years on the squad has made him an exceedingly capable substitute end. All three of these men are light and have this handicap to fight against.

Nolley should make the job next season.

With Nebitt gone, both guard positions will be open, but Bryan and Dingwall are two heavy and aggressive performers and much will be expected of them next season. Another able linesman is Jones. He has an enviable reputation as a "Prep" school tackle but illness in the middle of the season prevented him from rounding into the best form.

Barrow, Miles and Shultz will return and thus center and the two tackles are well cared for.

"Cannon Ball" Beuhring has probably played his last game for Washington and Lee. His record is the best of any full back seen on Wilson field in many years. His understudy, "Vic" Friend, will no doubt be seen in that position in 1914.

Lile, Young, Terry and Milner, in fact the whole string of halfbacks, will return and no fear is felt in that quarter.

Although it is not definitely known yet, it is believed and hoped that "Jiggs" Donahue will once more call the signals and if he does decide to do so it will be an occasion of great joy for Washington and Lee admirers for he is one of the best in the business. In "Bill" Smith, Washington and Lee has another capable quarter and he is sure to return next year.

So it seems that this early the prospects for a brilliant eleven in 1914 are exceedingly bright.

THE COACHES

Continuing the policy inaugurated in the last few years, the coaching staff will be excellent, composed of men whose ability is not questioned. Negotiations have been pending with an All American player who was this year the first assistant coach on one of the four leading teams in the country. It is hoped that "Bill Raftery" will be on Wilson field in the capacity of assistant and efforts will be made to have prominent alumni players return at intervals and serve as mentors for the squad.

OUTLOOK IN THE SOUTH ATLANTIC FOR 1914

In looking about to ascertain who will probably be our hard opponents and championship contenders, if the dope runs right, it would be well to give a little attention to that Carolina aggregation. The Tar Heels have been bringing up the rear for several years, but they suddenly became tired of such performance and a spirited campaign has been started for men, money and coaches. The 1913 team was made up of recruits but of men who promise to be terrors before another season is over. They have one of the best coaching squads in the country on the "Hill" and everybody had better look out.

Virginia will lose four men by graduation, but it is reported that three others will not be in the University next year.

Carter, Jett, Woolford, Maiden, Redus, Ray and Landes are the men mentioned who will not return. If this is true the Orange and Blue will have to develop practically a new team.

Georgetown will lose her star backfield, as well as such men as Moriarty and Donnelly from the line.

The Techs will be minus the services of Pick and Legge, two stars, but all the other men are expected to return. The Orange and Maroon should be stronger than in the past season.

It is not thought that the A. and M. team will be as strong next year for it is rumored that three of the star backfield men will not wear the Red and White again. McHenry and Hurtt, the two great linesmen, have played their full time.

Thus it seems, that of our opponents, Carolina has the brightest prospects and if that team becomes imbued with the proper spirit they will be hard to stop. But Washington and Lee's outlook is brightest of all and here's hoping we turn the trick.

AS COACH DOWD SAW THE SEASON

Our success this year was due to the foundation laid by Jim Reilly last year; to the wonderful spirit of the team; to the fact that we had a majority of experienced men, several very brilliant individual ones, and a very heady quarterback; to their ability to play both a line smashing and an open style of football; and finally to the perfect harmony and co-operation that existed among the coaches and between them and the players.

In the small number of injuries during the season, the team was fortunate, the sprained ankle which "Cv Young" brought home from Baltimore, "Ted" Shultz's injured knee, and Donahue's bad knee, being the only accidents of any importance. The intelligent and capable training which the players kept during the season was responsible for their excellent physical condition in all the games.

One phenomenal feature of the season which should not be overlooked is the brilliant football which the team displayed under the terribly adverse weather conditions encountered at Lynchburg and Charleston.

The prestige of Washington and Lee has been established, and is here to stay. With men comprising her teams who are boni fide students, and playing for Washington and Lee, to give her all they have in them, like the 1913 team, we shall see Washington and Lee soon supreme in the South Atlantic division in every branch of sport.

TENNY OF A. AND M., HOLDER OF A UNIQUE RECORD

He scored the only touchdown made in 1913 against Washington and Lee. He made a reputation for similar performances before coming to A. and M., having played full back on Brown University two years ago, helping beat Yale 20 to 0, and gaining a place on the second All American eleven.

The White Friar and Pan Ribbon societies held their annual initiations on Tuesday and Saturday of last week. Famous characters of the day, national and local, were freely impersonated, and nobody's feelings were spared, from the President of the University up to the manager of the football team.
