DR. SMITH ANNOUNCES COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Hon. Josephus Daniels Will Address Graduates--Dr. Vander Meulen to Preach Baccalaureate Sermon

President Smith has just announced that the two principal speakers for the 1914 commencement will be Hon. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, and Dr. John M. Vander Meulen of Louisville, Ky. Mr. Daniels, who will deliver the address before the graduating class on the 17th of June, is one of the best known men in the country and is a polished speaker of rare accomplishments. He has for a long time been in newspaper work, being the owner and editor of the Raleigh News and Observer when appointed to his present cabinet position by President Wilson.

Secretary Daniels has always taken an active interest in politics and has always been a consistent Democrat. He was a delegate to the Democratic National convention in Baltimore and had frequently served in that capacity before. He is a graduate of Wilson Collegiate Institute of North Carolina and, at present, is a trustee of the University of North Carolina. His active interest in education is evidenced by the fact that he is often called upon to address educational gatherings and institutions of learning.

Rev. Dr. Vander Meulen will preach the baccalaureate sermon on commencement Sunday in the chapel. He has been pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in Louisville for the past two years, and he is rapidly becoming known as the most dramatic and eloquent minister in the state and it will be a great privilege to hear him. The baccalaureate sermon last year was preached by a Baptist divine, the plan being not to have a minister of the same denomination twice in succession, but rather to have each denomination represented in turn.

The students and friends of the University are to be congratulated on having the opportunity to hear two such distinguished men as Mr. Daniels and Dr. Vander Meulen.

DAVIS RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF MINSTREL

Pressure of Work Assigned as Reason—Manager Will Be Chosen

E. P. Davis has resigned as manager of the minstrel which the musical clubs are preparing to stage on the 24th of this month. When asked about his resignation Mr. Davis said that his sole reason for doing so was due to the pressure of his work as a Senior lawyer, and that he was unwilling to take any chances with his degree.

As to prospects for the minstrel, they are reported to be exceedingly bright, and while Mr. Davis resignation is regretted, another manager will be chosen at once and preparations will continue as in the past.

RALPH A. WAITE TO SPEAK HERE

Prominent Y. M. C. A. Worker Will Deliver Address on Feb. 17th

Mr. Ralph A. White, who will address the local Y. M. C. A. as previously announced, on next Tuesday night, Feb. 17th, will arrive in Lexington Tuesday afternoon and will go immediately to the V. M. I. where he is scheduled to speak at 6:30. He will return to the University in time to deliver an address at 7:30. The speaker is well known all over the country and a talk by him is an attraction out of the ordinary.

Mr. Waite graduated with the degree of A. B. from Syracuse University in 1901. While in college he was an active participant in the various phases of undergraduate life. In the athletic realm his specialty was track work. He made an enviable reputation as a sprinter and still holds the University record in the 100 yard dash and 230 yard dash. He was a member of the Intercollegiate teams and more than once carried off prizes from these greatest of all American contests. He also ran on the winning relay team at the spring games of the University of Pennsylvania. College athletics did not take up all of his time for Mr. Waite carried off honors in his studies, winning the coveted Phi Beta Kappa Key and was elected valedictorian of his class. He was very active in the Student Young Men's Christian association. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity.

On graduation Mr. Waite entered the ministry, but was soon called to act as general secretary of the Stu-

TIE SCORE WAS RESULT OF BRILLIANT BASKETBALL GAME

PROSPECT BRIGHT FOR BASEBALL TEAM

Captain Donahue Predicts Successful Season—Number of Candidates for Infield

With the basketball season nearly over, along with the news that Dan Mahoney has been secured to coach the White and Blue baseball men, has served to rouse interest in what will be the prospects of the Generals on the diamond. The answer is that they are exceedingly bright for this time of the year. There are seven monogram men in college and these, together with the large number of new candidates, should make things lively on Wilson Field in about one month.

"Jiggs" Donahue, captain and catcher, will be on the job, and when interviewed recently, said that he was pleased with the prospects and predicted a successful season. The pitching staff should be much stronger this year. Larrick of the 1913 team and Lile of the 1912 team, will both report for duty. During the 1912 season Lile pitched five games, winning them all. Among the new men who will try for twirling honors are Jennings and Carson, both of whom are reputed to be dependable flingers. The former pitched for the New Mexico Military Institute where he won eight out of nine games, his team being rated the best in the state. Carson is the big hurler who played with Milton high school of Boston last season.

Twyman, substitute catcher in 1912, is in college again and will be out for a place on the receiving staff. He was a catcher at Randolph-Macon academy before entering W. and L.

The job at the initial sack is left open and it will be hard to find a man to fill "Woodrow" Peoples shoes, but Wadsworth of Bingham school, Milner of Marion Institute, and Burton of Brooklyn Polytechnic Preparatory school are all prepared to put up a fight for the position. Lancaster will apply for his old place at second base if his ankle permits, and at present, there does not seem to be much competition, but several candidates will probably show up when the call is issued.

Walter Terry, shortstop, is in college and will play at his old position if he does not try for twirling honors.

There will be a number of applicants for the "hot corner" and some good infield men should be developed from the recruits. "Kid" Arnold has had experience at William and Mary and is reputed to be a reliable hitter. Walling of Branan and Hughes, is said to be a sensational fielder and good hitter. Lingle is also an infielder. Then there are Thornton and Hobson of last year's squad. But these men will have to contend with Colville, the regular third baseman, who played an exceedingly strong game during the lat-

W. & L. and Virginia Evenly Matched—Bear, Lile and Stickley Star—Championship Unsettled

In a game which will long be remembered as one of the fastest and most exciting ever played in the state, the Generals and the University of Virginia quint battled to a tie, the final count being 35 to 35. From the first tossup it was evident that the outcome would be in doubt until the final whistle blew, and the score was even in doubt after the end had been declared. There was no official scorer and at the conclusion of the fracas many announcements were made as to which team was the winner, some having the score in favor of Virginia while others declared that the White and Blue were the victors. The referee and umpire did not know the correct score and consequently made no effort to keep the quints on the floor in order to play off the tie. The crowds surged on the court and all was confusion for a short while. Meantime the newspaper men got together and carefully checked over the scores and it was found that 35 to 35 were the correct figures.

From the standpoint of the ordinary spectator, the contest left nothing to be desired for it was a classical exhibition of the sport, but from the standpoint of the partisan rooter the tie score was very unsatisfactory.

Many fouls were called on both teams, but this was due more to the strict work of the referee than to the roughness of the players, for the game was as clearly fought as any such nerve racking battle can be.

Washington and Lee seemed to have the advantage during the last part of the first half, this period closing with the score 22 to 18 in favor of the Generals. The White and Blue continued its victorious onslaught in the second half, only to be checked by the removal of Miles for having committed four personal fouls. Here the Orange and Blue rallied and rung up seven points, the last, a foul by Strickland, putting both fives together. The whistle blew and the game was over, the tie not being played off for reasons mentioned above.

The whole Washington and Lee quint played stellar ball, but to Miles, Bear and Lile go the individual honors for the Generals. "Buck" outplayed Strickland all the way, always getting the jump on the big Virginia center. On the defensive he was a tower of strength, breaking in on the Virginia plays and passing the ball back into White and Blue territory, or taking the ball himself, he would make a sensational shot for goal.

Captain Bear was all over the floor, and though a little off in locating the basket, his work was of a high order, and when compelled to go to the center position, he performed there like a veteran.

Lile gave the prettiest exhibition of guarding probably ever seen in the state. He was pitted against Nichols, the rangy Virginia forward, who had been heralded as the principal scorer for his team, but so well did Lile do his work that Nichols was unable to register a single point.

Stickley, the former Virginia Christian college player, was the shining light for the Orange and Blue. In the first half he gave a display of goal tossing when he threw five successive baskets, and his long dribbles were a constant source of danger to the Generals. Strickland also did great work, registering three goals from field while his deadly aim in shooting fouls wrought havoc.

THE GAME

The contest started with a rush, fouls being called on Lile and Young, but Stickley failed to register on either attempt. The first score came when Campbell passed to Stickley who dribbled and followed with a dazzling toss. Young fouled and Stickley counted. Luck infringed and "Buck" missed his free attempt, but the big center rung up a field goal a moment later. Virginia was penalized, two men on the ball, and Miles added another point. Strickland caged the ball. Miles got a foul goal as result of Campbell's penalty. Bear made his first goal from floor and "Buck" caged another foul shot. Bear rung up two more points. At this point Stickley, showing great outbursts of speed, caged five successive baskets, putting his quint in the lead. "Cy" made a long dribble which he converted into a counter. He fouled a moment later and Stickley made the shot good. Again the Orange and Blue left forward eluded his guard and tossed another basket. The W. and L. center added another on Campbell's third foul. As a result of clever passing Bear registered one and McCain two field goals, while Miles made the sensational toss of the evening, caging a basket from the middle of the court. Nichols and Stickley each fouled, Miles making both tries good.

SECOND HALF

Young and Miles each fouled soon after the second period had opened and, as a result, Strickland, added two points for his quint. Miles got a basket which was offset when the big Virginia center made two more fouls go good. "Buck" received a well directed pass and tossed an easy basket. Stickley then got busy and did likewise, being closely followed by Bear. The speedy Stickley repeated. McCain received the sphere after some neat passing, and pitched an easy one. Strickland duplicated Miles' feat of the first half, when he registered a wonderful tally from the middle of the floor.

At this juncture, Miles was sent from the game, four personals having been called against him. Captain Bear went to center and Seeley took Bear's place. Nichols fouled twice, Seeley making both attempts good. McCain tallied and Seeley added one more point on foul shot. Young and Bear each fouled and Strickland did not miss either try. Waddill who had relieved Nichols, tossed his first field goal. Strickland tossed another. Bear was penalized and Strickland made good, tying the score, just before the whistle blew.

WITH THE STATE CLUBS

"The Alligators" met a few days ago in the Biology lecture room, and organized for the year. The following men were chosen as officers: J. Nixon Daniels, president; Noman Bie, vice president; R. L. Nelson, secretary and treasurer, and C. P. Finlayson, historian. They also levied a Calyx assessment and a committee was appointed to make the plans for a banquet to be held later in the year.

During the past week two more state clubs made their plans for the year's work. Calyx representation was the main item of discussion.

The "Travelers" honored R. D. Ramsey with the presidency, Ray Smith with the vice presidency, H. C. Stuck with the secretary-treasurership, and J. L. Hughes with the position of historian.

The Sons of Rockbridge made T. A. McCorkle, president, E. S. Moore, vice-president, E. H. Seal, treasurer and Cumberland, secretary.

NOTICE

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. for this week will be held Wednesday night instead of Tuesday night.

The board of overseers of Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology have agreed to unite the engineering departments of those two institutions. This is regarded as a great step toward the conservation of educational forces.

Just a moment please while we hammer in the fact that the young men who sell our clothing at nearly all the large Eastern universities are going to stop off at Washington and Lee on Wednesday and Thursday, February 4th and 5th.

We're hope you fellows will be interested enough to look us over for we've lots of interesting things to show you.

Smart clothes--good clothes--clothes we can back with "your money back" if you want it, and clothes which we can sell at most moderate prices thanks to the great volume of our New York business.

The game booked for April 13th, has been cancelled by Rutgers who will be unable to make the Southern trip, and that date is still open. The game scheduled with the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has also been cancelled as was the one with Davidson, the cause of the latter cancellation being the inability to secure grounds at Charlotte on April 16. Guilford College has been given April 22nd, and Trinity of Durham will be played on the 23rd and 24th. Arrangements for the Southern trip have not yet been completed and dates for April 15th, and 16th are still pending.

OPEN AIR PLAYERS FOR NEXT SPRING

Frank Lee Short Company Will Appear in "Pomander Walk" and "Robin Hood"

Arrangements have been made here for two open air performances by the Frank Lee Short company in the spring. The plays chosen are Louis N. Park, "Pomander Walk" and "Robin Hood," the latter, a play adapted from Tennyson's Robin Hood Ballads and The Foresters.

These two delightful comedies have a very wide appeal as open-air presentations and in view of the fact that this company specializes in comedies a smoother and more perfect performance is given than if a comedy was played at one performance and a tragedy the next. A considerable amount of scenery is used in addition to the usual background of green boughs and this adds in a great measure to the effectiveness of the presentations. The costuming is particularly attractive and correct to the minutest detail.

The only Universities in the South visited by this company last year were those of Virginia and Tennessee; the impression they made was very favorable and they have been invited to appear at practically every University and College in the South next April and May.

The Bureau of Education publishes that there are 1,200 fewer persons studying medicine than in 1912. The percentage of women studying medicine is increasing.

The Commencement Speaker

When Woodrow Wilson chose Josephus Daniels to be his secretary of the Navy, a pretty general note of criticism was heard, usually something like this: "What does a North Carolina editor know about running the United States navy anyway?" And it was thought in many quarters that the marine portfolio had been sacrificed on the altar of political expediency.

But in the ten months that have elapsed since then, a marked change of sentiment has taken place. Doubting Thomases have been converted by the wholesale, and it is now recognized that even if the former editor did not know how to run a navy when he entered office, he has at least been marvellously quick to learn. Long known for the trenchancy of his editorial pen, for his gifts on the public platform, and for his influence in National politics, he has now convinced the country that he also possesses the executive ability, and the power of constructive statesmanship demanded in an able secretary of the navy. His policy of "less money on shore and more on the water" for his department and his midway position between the exorbitant demands of the navy board and the "one battleship" element in his own party, are both sound.

The future may hold its surprises, but the record of Josephus Daniels augurs well, and evil omens are not apparent.

Meanwhile we congratulate President Smith on securing a man who is in the forefront of the battle for cleaner government, who stands for honesty in public life, and who has fought organized grafting wherever he has found it, to deliver the address to the graduating class of 1914.

Concerning Two Words

The highest possible expression of a man's love for humanity or some portion of it, such as Lexington, is met when he attempts to save it from threatened danger at the cost of great personal sacrifice. To love Lexington is to desire to save it. And so the printer was not, after all, so far wrong when he made the caption of our "call to arms" last week to read "Love the City" whereas we intended "Save the City!"

The language which succeeded was put in print merely because of the fact that we harbor a deep personal affection for this, the home of the great guiding spirits of the Lost Cause, and dislike, above all things else, to see it made the center of an agitation so out of harmony with the spirit of the place, and so fraught with danger—unintended though it is—to that chivalric regard for women which has been proverbial of the men of the South and of Virginia.

We are gratified to see that our warning has not gone unheeded, and that an organization has sprung into existence, officered by men who realize the gravity and importance of the problem, and with a membership already large, and growing daily. No hullabaloo is desired. The league is working with definite purposes towards a definite end, which it intends to reach.

A Word to the Wise

During the present year several complaints have been made concerning books which have been misplaced in the various libraries. In the Commerce library several books have entirely disappeared. One set of seven parallel books was placed in the outer reading room for the use of the class in Economics I, and, at the time when most of the men wanted them, only two were to be found, and later on, four were in place, thus three having been entirely lost. One or two copies of other books have either temporarily or permanently disappeared.

If any member of the class has removed or hidden any of these books he has violated the written pledge which he signs to his papers. But under the honor system as it applies at Washington and Lee a written pledge is no stronger than any other kind. In the inner Commerce library various books have been misplaced or hidden. A person who conceals a book in a drawer by placing other books and papers upon it or, by putting it on the wrong shelf, has violated the written pledge which he signed when he received permission to use the library just as much as if he had stolen it. The point is just this. When a student goes out of the library, though, perhaps, just to go to a meal, the book must be left where the next man who wants it can get it. The reason for the regulation is manifest. A similar trouble has been reported from the Law library. We believe most of these offenses have been due either to an oversight or to carelessness, but they have been entirely too common. An unconfirmed report has reached us to the effect that the student officers have had some such violations of the honor system under consideration. All such investigations are more or less secret unless the accused desires to vindicate himself, and, even if some one was asked to withdraw from college the reasons would probably never be known. In view of these facts it would be well for all to be careful in using library books and thus avoid trouble and uphold the honor system, Washington and Lee's one most prized asset.

Class Basketball

So far as we have been able to ascertain only one class in the University has taken any steps toward getting out a class basketball team which seems to indicate a condition of affairs that ought not to exist. It has been customary here for the past few years for each class to organize a team in every branch of sport to begin playing just as the Varsity season in that particular branch is over. There are two perfectly sound reasons for maintaining class teams. They serve to develop class spirit and to develop players for the Varsity squads.

This matter of class spirit is one on which many of our leading institutions lay great stress, realizing that where there is the proper class spirit there will be the proper college spirit, for one is but the reflection of the other. Indifference breeds discord in the class and ultimately leads to personal selfishness. As will always be the case, certain classes have a more prominent career in college than others, and from what we have been able to observe and learn from other sources, some of the best classes at Washington and Lee in the past have been those which were represented by a team in every branch of athletics throughout the four years of their existence here in the University.

Every man who goes out for a class team does not make the Varsity, but recent history has shown that many do so, as has been illustrated in the case of certain members of the 1912 and 1913 football teams. Keep the class spirit alive.

NO SKATING ON WALKS

The faculty recently passed a resolution to the effect that the University walks were reserved for pedestrians and baby carriages which is taken to mean that roller skates, bicycles, tricycles and wagons will be prohibited. This is a wise regulation, for the use of the walks as a play ground had become quite a nuisance.

An intercollegiate glee club contest will be held in New York City in May. The participants so far announced are Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth, Columbia, Cornell and Pennsylvania.

Athletic Comment

J. N. DANIEL

Lile's work was a distinct feature in Saturday's melee, as is evidenced by the fact that Nichols, who has been doing most of the scoring for the Orange and Blue, failed to register a single point.

The editor of the "Wau Gau Rac" says that W. and L. seems to be rejoicing over a false report that Tenny and Sullivan were not allowed to register after Christmas. Why our good brother got this construction out of a plain statement, taken from the newspapers, without comment, we do not know. On the contrary, we hope that Messrs. Tenny and Sullivan will continue their studies at A. and M. next year, as they doubtless will, whether they registered in January or not. We would much prefer a victory over a team with these two in the lineup, than with them absent.

The dispute over the correct score was due to the fact there was no official scorer, a situation which led to much confusion, as well as a failure to play off the tie.

Stiekley showed great form, many of his baskets being of the sensational order.

Bear is one of the most versatile players we have ever seen. He was an all South Atlantic guard in 1912, and he is now considered one of the best forwards in the division. Saturday he played center like a veteran.

A. and M. of N. C. will meet the Generals here Thursday night. The Aggies have had a very successful season, notwithstanding a recent defeat at the hands of Wake Forest 24 to 14. W. and L. fans will have the opportunity to see Van Brocklin and Ferderber, of football fame, in action.

Young's speed was evident in the M. A. C. game when he got away with several long dribbles which resulted in goals.

Baseball practice has started at V. P. I., A. and M., and Virginia. About seventy five men have answered the call of the Tech coach, while the A. and M. squad numbers fifty. The Virginia battery candidates are having daily workouts. The prospects at all three schools seem to be bright.

"Jap" Ebird, for two years a twirler for the White and Blue, has been drafted by the Atlanta club of the Southern league. He was one of the leading hurlers in the Virginia league for the two past seasons.

WEEKLY MEETING OF GRAHAM-LEE

In spite of the excitement incident to the basketball game in Lynchburg, the meeting of the Graham-Lee society on Saturday night was fairly well attended. The declamation by Mr. E. Gary was exceedingly well rendered and was very interesting. The extemporaneous speeches by Messrs. H. M. Rowan and C. P. Reynolds were also very good. The debate was on the question: Resolved, That coeducation should be adopted at the University of Virginia. The speakers on the affirmative were Messrs. K. L. Shirk and B. T. McClure, while the negative was maintained by Messrs. M. M. Keaton and J. V. McCain. The judges awarded the decision in favor of the affirmative. An added feature to the meetings of the society is the spirited interest taken in voluntary debates.

WITH THE CREWS

Albert Sidney

President Merrill of the Albert Sidney Boat club has ordered quite a long list of supplies for both the shell and "trainer" from Dave & Sons of Cambridge.

The Albert Sidney's expect to get on the river about March 1st. They are forced to do this on account of the probability of racing with outside crews. These races will doubtless be held on the North river either in April or May.

Harry Lee

The Reds have already begun their spring training. They have signed up quite a few men and crews are at work on the rowing machine, these being coached by Miller, who learned the Red stroke from Haughton of Harvard.

SCRUB TEAM WINS OVER R. M. A. 50 TO 6

Bedford City Boys Fight Gamely But Are Hopelessly Outclassed

The valiant scrubs tied another victory to their string when they defeated Randolph Macon academy Tuesday night by the score of 50 to 6. The visitors put up a game fight, but they showed great lack of practice and team work was missing. They were by far the weakest team the Little Generals have met this season, but contrary to precedent, they registered their first tally before the White and Blue had shot a goal.

Rangely of the visitors, was easily their stellar player, the big center tossing four of the six points rung up by his team, besides doing the best work on the defense. The visitors' only other goal was tossed by Pitts. Among the scrubs, there was no particular star. They stuck together well and passed so accurately that they were as one man. Usually the shots on both sides were at close range, although Seeley registered several spectacular nets during the last half. Zaiss piled up the largest number of field goals, but his associate forward equalled him in points by goals from foul. Frost's excellent work at guard and his long dribbles kept the Bedford City contingent "in the air."

Rangely drew first blood with a basket from foul and followed it with another from the floor before Seeley scored the first tally for the scrubs. The Little varsity soon fell into its stride and scored at random, ending the first period with a 30 to 4 score.

The second half was less eventful, the final count being 50 to 6.

Lineup:
Scrubs Position R. M. A.
Zaiss right forward Mack
Shultz centre Rangely
Kerns left guard Hobart
Frost right guard Pitts

Substitutions: Joyner for Bell.
Field goals: Zaiss, 6; Seeley, 5; Shultz, 5; Kerns, 5; Frost, 4; Rangely, 1; Pitts, 1. Foul goals: Seeley, 2; Rangely, 2. Referee: Raftery.

MARYLAND AGGIES GO DOWN BEFORE VARSITY

Final Count 56 to 8—Bear and Young
Play in Great Form

The Generals added the fifth successive victory of the season when they took the measure of the Maryland Agricultural college, the final count being 65 to 8. The contest was never in doubt and it was only a question of how great the score would be. Not only did the visitors appear to be one of the weakest quints which has appeared in the gymnasium this year, but the White and Blue played in excellent form both the passing and goal tossing being of a high order.

In marked contrast to the V. P. I. fracas, the attack by the Washington and Lee five was spirited and deadly, fourteen field goals and three from fouls being the net result of the first half. The slaughter continued throughout the final period, most of the battle being waged under the W. and L. basket. That the Aggies were hopelessly outclassed is evidenced by the fact that they secured only two field goals in forty minutes of actual play.

The teamwork of the Generals was prominent, something which had been missing heretofore, clever passes and long, accurate shots being frequent. Captain Bear and "Buck" Miles often astonished the spectators with baskets tossed from the middle of the court while the long dribbles, deftly executed by "Cy" Young, were of the sensational variety. But to Bear goes the individual honors, for he led in the scoring with nine baskets, though he was closely followed by Young, who secured eight counters.

Miles registered seven points as the result of fouls called against the Marylanders, Hunneman being the chief offender. Mincint and Cole each threw two goals from foul, which with a field goal by each was the total of the tallying activities on the part of the Aggies. The contest lacked lots of the rough features which often mar the game, but enough penalties were inflicted to remind both quints that the referee was about, though few of these were of the personal nature.

A second after the fray had opened, Young had dashed down the floor and, receiving a well aimed pass, registered the first two points. Miles followed soon with another counter from the floor, and then Washington and Lee was found fouling. Mincint, the visitor's tall right forward, easily tossed the ball into the netting for the first tally for his team. Here the Generals showed some clever work in passing and McCain dropped the ball in the rim. Mincint received the ball from the tossup and counted. The White and Blue scored eight successive goals from the floor before Miles' foul allowed Mincint to ring another point. Bear tallies twice and "Buck" adds one when Hunneman fouls. The first half ended with Miles, Bear and Young doing most of the scoring.

M. A. C. drew first blood in the second period, when Cole, who had been substituted for Dearstynne, tossed a foul basket after Lile had erred. A personal foul called against Hunneman, and Miles easily pitches the ball into the net. Miles registers followed by Young and Bear. Miles makes sensational shot from middle of court. Another foul goal to the credit of the tall center. Lile dashes down the floor and shoots from under the basket. Cole and Miles each tally once as result of fouls. Young makes long dribble and annexes basket.

et. A clever pass to McCain gets another. Bear adds another. At this juncture Cole makes one of the most sensational shots of the night, registering the second and last goal from floor for his quint. Young's expert dribbling results in three successive counters. Miles makes Shipley's foul count one more while the crowd yells for the team to make the score sixty. Rapidly Lile, Bear and Miles ring up a basket each, and the game is over.

Summary:
W. and L. Position M. A. C.
Bear left forward Dearstynne
McCain right forward Mincint
Miles center Hunneman
Young right guard Shipley
Substitutions: Cole for Dearstynne.
Goals from field: Bear, 9, Young, 8; Miles, 7; McCain, 3; Lile, 2; Mincint, 1; Cole, 1. Goals from foul: Miles, 7; Mincint, 2; Cole, 2. Referee: Raftery. Time keeper: Donahue. Times of halves: Twenty minutes.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE LEAGUE ORGANIZED IN UNIVERSITY

As was expected the anti Suffrage league of the University was organized last week and officers were elected. Several men in the University were notified by card to meet, the purpose of the gathering having been made plain to them. As far as can be ascertained, only a few men were requested to be present at the organization meeting, it being felt that a few men in earnest could accomplish more in the way of a start. Care will be taken that no one except those actuated by principle, will be admitted to membership. The list of organization members will not be made public until the league is well established. According to the best information obtainable, no applications for membership will be received before Feb. 15th, and then no canvass will be made, but those desiring to become members will make their wishes to the proper officer. Those who originated the movement seem to be very optimistic, saying that only one man who had been requested, failed to be present at the meeting last week. Officers elected were E. P. Davis, president; P. P. Gibson, secretary and Stuart Moore, reporter.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR BASEBALL TEAM

ter part of last season, his batting being a feature of the last few games.

Only one outfielder has returned to college, he being Harrison, who played in the right garden. "Cy" Young is an outfielder, his speed enabling him to cover lots of territory. He is a Marshall College player, as is Chambers, who is a candidate for third base. Nolly is the only outfielder from last year's squad.

Hall and Walker, outfielders, are both reported to be sluggers as well as fast fielders.

The above does not purport to be a complete list of the candidates and many equally promising men will show up later, as is always the case, but those mentioned are the ones who have been called to the attention of the Ring tum Phi man.

Dartmouth plans the building of a theatre, which is to be made a part of the general college work. Strictly upto date plays will be presented and little attention will be given to Greek tragedies and ancient comedies.
