GENERALS DEFEAT A. AND M. 48 TO 13

FALL DANCES OPEN NEW GYMNASIUM

Sophomore Cotillion and Cotillion Club Affair Add to Thanksgiving Festivities

To the Class of 1918 fell the honor of opening the new Doremus Memorial Gymnasium, their cotillion given Monday night being the initial occupancy of the new structure. With sixty couples, and a good number of stags and chaperones present, the opening event was a decided success. The dancers by no means crowded the huge floor, as has often been the case in the old gymnasium. The young ladies present were handsomely gowned, and with their escorts in evening dress presented a beautiful scene for the many spectators who thronged the gallery.

A number of dances were allotted to the Freshmen present, and dancing continued into the late hours.

The figure was led by J. H. Sorrells, President of the class of 1918, with Miss Julia Robinson, of Newport News, Va. He was assisted by J. J. Izard, with Miss Margaret Bolling, of Roanoke, Va., and by E. P. Anderson with Miss Virginia Mason, of Hampton, Va.

Those dancing were:

- J. H. Sorrells with Miss Julia Robinson, of Newport News, Va.
- J. J. Izard with Miss Margaret Bolling, of Roanoke, Va.
- E. P. Anderson, with Miss Virginia Mason, of Hampton, Va.
- A. G. Paxton with Miss Mary Boulding, of Clarksburg, Miss.
- G. T. Offenhouser with Miss Evelyn Hoge, of Staunton, Va.
- W. M. Marshall with Miss King Nelson, of Sweetbriar.
- M. W. Paxton, Jr., with Miss Frances Eakle, of Sweet Chalybeate, Va.
- J. A. Rew with Miss Lucile Williams, of Roanoke, Va.
- Tucker Harrison, of Norfolk, with Miss Placide Clark, of North Carolina.
- W. J. Bryan with Miss Juliet Robinson, of Newport News, Va.
- W. F. Taylor with Miss Mary Oliver, of Bedford City, Va.
- W. R. Burton with Miss Marjorie Brown, of West River, Md.
- G. M. Hearne with Miss Helen Scherer, of Roanoke, Va.
- C. L. Christian with Miss Lois Hickson, of Lynchburg, Va.
- E. A. Donahue with Miss Laura Noell, of Danville, Va.
- A. L. Pierotti with Miss Scarritt, of Sweetbriar.
- H. C. Fisher with Miss Adkins, of Sweetbriar.
- B. F. Tillar with Miss Warden of Washington, D. C.
- L. L. Mackinnon, with Miss Frances Carrington, of Richmond, Va.
- T. T. Hassell, of Newport News, Va., with Miss Thelma Kirk, of Maysville, Ky.
- T. S. Jones with Miss Mary Graham, of Washington, D. C.

Annual Thanksgiving Game in Norfolk Proves Easy For W. and L.—Aggies Score From Intercepted Passes

W. AND L. SOUTH ATLANTIC CHAMPIONS

Outbattling the North Carolina Aggies in every department of the game, the Generals piled up a thirty-five point margin on their old adversaries in the annual Thanksgiving game in Norfolk, winning with a final count of 48 to 13. After the first part of the second quarter the game was a walkover for W. and L., but during the first quarter and the first few minutes of the second part the game was a hard fought one, and was at one time tied by brilliant work on the part of Riddick and Sullivan in intercepting two forward passes and making beautiful runs.

The Generals' scored in the first few minutes of play after Bagley intercepted a pass from Riddick on the first play after the kickoff. The second counter for the Generals came in a few minutes when Jim Izard blocked Riddick's punt and recovered the ball on the A. and M. 20 yard line.

RIDDICK'S LONG RUN

The Aggies counted first when Riddick intercepted a pass and made the longest run of the game, going 75 yards, outdistancing Bethel, who was hot in pursuit and who forced the runner outside within a step of the goal line. Sullivan made the remaining distance with comparative ease on the first down. A. and M.'s other score came directly as the result of an intercepted pass, when Sullivan made 35 yards through a clear field and crossed the goal line. When Riddick kicked goal, the score was tied, but it remained so for but a few minutes, for before the close of the quarter John Harrison caught a beautiful pass of about 25 yards from Barrett, dodge two Aggies and then outran them for a touchdown.

In the third quarter the Generals counted for the fourth time when, after Barrett was forced outside on a forward pass, Bagley crawled through Pierotti's legs for a touchdown. In the final frame Barrett Izard and Shultz added touchdowns, and Bagley added two goals while Shultz kicked a third.

CAPTAIN SHULTZ SCORES.

When Izard crossed the line after receiving a pass from Barrett, Captain Shultz tried his toe at a goal and made his first counter during his four years of stellar work as left tackle for the Generals. His teammates congratulated him heartily, but within a few minutes this feat seemed insignificant when they witnessed their big Captain cross the goal line after catching a pass from Barrett and fatten the General's score to sufficient proportions to enable them to make a clear claim to the South Atlantic Championship, having overcome the big Georgetown score against the Aggies. Viewed from any angle, the Generals had the edge on the Aggies. In gaining ground they threbled the number of first downs made by the Back Homers, getting fifteen to their five. In total ground gained by straight football the Generals more than doubled that made by the Aggies, the figures being 181 yards to 69 yards. With forward passes the Generals excelled in spite of the unfortunate "break" which resulted in the Aggies two touchdowns. Out of seventeen aeriels attempted, five succeeded, three were intercepted and six failed. Of the five successful passes three resulted directly in touchdowns. The Aggies attempted nine passes, none of which succeeded, three being intercepted. The Aggies suffered reversals of sixty yards by penalties while the Generals were set back but half that distance.

STARS WERE MANY

For the Generals Barrett was the outstanding star on the offensive. His carrying of the ball was up to his usual standard, his punts outdistanced those of Riddick and his passing the ball was wonderful and of great success. The other members of the backfield worked consistently but not in such a spectacular manner as did Barrett. Bagley ran the team well, made two of the seven touchdowns

RIBBON SOCIETY SHOWS AMUSE

White Friars Monday and P. A. N.'s Tuesday Present Good Programs at Lyric

The Lyric theatre was crowded to its doors Monday afternoon when the White Friar Ribbon society gave its "One hundred and ninety ninth annual show." Opening with the White Friar Goat Song a humorous show resplendent with musical numbers delighted the audience for one hour.

The first act of the show consisted of a minstrel number, "Cy" Young acting as interlocutor. A collection of clever jokes interspersed with numerous chorus selections of popular ragtime, and solo numbers by Mercer Graham, Johnny Sorrells and Pat Anderson gave evidence of real glee club talent. A quartet composed of Mercer Graham, Johnny Sorrells, Pat Anderson and Jimmy Faulkner was the chief feature of the first act.

Act two depicted, in farce comedy, a burlesque PAN meeting, giving all the comic features of the rival club. Ripley Walker as Angus McKinnon, and T. S. Jones as Bill Rafferty played the leading roles. Pat Anderson took off "Heine" Gilliam in a most amusing manner. The whole show was well formed and reflected great credit upon the Society.

At two thirty on Tuesday afternoon the PAN goats formed in a spectacular parade and marched across the campus, up Main street and then to the Lyric Theatre. Here they produced their show, "Imbecile Ike's Initiation," a one act musical comedy featuring Jimmy Ambler in the star role. The musical numbers consisted of parodies on some of the popular songs while the body of the show was devoted to a farce fraternity meeting ending with the initiation of "Imbecile Ike." Eob Gardner and Jim Izard in a duet number, and "The Virginia Military Music Makers," Bob Vance, Henly Gilbreath, John Stephenson and Dick Campbell, were the prime performers.

DR. BRECK GAVE INTERESTING LECTURE

A most interesting lecture on the subject, "Naval Warfare, with Special Reference to the United States Navy", was delivered at the Chapel last Tuesday night by Dr. Edward Breck of Washington, D. C. Dr. Breck is an excellent lecturer and is fully acquainted with his subject. He came here in the interests of the Navy League of the United States, the object of which is to interest the citizens of this country in a larger navy for the better protection of the country.

An enjoyable informal Dansant was given from four to six thirty Tuesday afternoon in the Doremus Memorial gymnasium.

W. AND L. WILL DEBATE AGAINST PENNSYLVANIA

Forensic Encounter Will Be Staged Here in February

Since the announcement of the intercollegiate debate to be held with Trinity College at Durham, N. C., the W. and L. debating council has arranged for an encounter with the forensic talent of the University of Pennsylvania to be staged here. Thus far the details of the debate to be held with Penn have not been arranged, but the date will be set for some time during the latter part of February.

The subject of the debate and the sides to be argued by the two teams were to be discussed and probably decided upon at a meeting of the debating council which was to be held Saturday. On account of the absence from town of Professor Long and William M. Brown, this meeting was not held, and another meeting will have to be called to decide upon these details of the debate.

It is also probable that the Washington and Lee debaters will meet a team from Johns Hopkins some time during the winter, but this matter is up to the debating council and will be decided definitely later. In the past it has been the custom to have only two intercollegiate debates, but there is considerable forensic material in college this year, and it is thought that the debating council will arrange for the three encounters.

HERE'S A GENUINE

W. AND L. PATRIOT

Under the above caption the Ledger-Dispatch, Norfolk, contained the following in its issue of Nov. 25th:

"If the ever was a patriotic alumnus of Washington and Lee University, that person is Sydnor Kirkpatrick, of Lynchburg. Here to attend the football game this afternoon between Washington and Lee and A. and M. of North Carolina, Mr. Kirkpatrick started across Granby street to shake hands with 'Buck' Miles, former brilliant tackle of the Generals. He was run into and knocked down by a jitney and his left wrist was sprained, but the driver of the 'bus was flying a 'Washington and Lee' pennant, so Mr. Kirkpatrick apologized for stopping the machine and was hurried to the room of Dr. J. W. H. Pollard, faculty director of Washington and Lee, for first aid to the injured.

"It was my fault," said Mr. Kirkpatrick, as he stepped into Dr. Pollard's room in the Southland Hotel. "I saw old Buck Miles on the other side of the street and I wanted to get over there and shake hands with him. I rushed out into the middle of the street and right in front of a jitney. The fellow was flying a Washington and Lee pennant, though, by George, it was all right."

"Dr. Pollard examined the injured wrist, said it was sprained, and bandaged it. Mr. Kirkpatrick then prepared to get a Thanksgiving dinner and hurry out to the ball park.

"The accident occurred about 11:30 o'clock this morning in front of the Southland Hotel. Mr. Kirkpatrick was assisted to Dr. Pollard's room by several other alumni of Washington and Lee, who are here to attend the game."

and kicked five goals out of six attempts. Sorrells and Sweetland made consistent gains through the Aggies' line and each added a touchdown when called on to make short gains with the coveted line in sight.

For the defence Shultz played a wonderful game, throwing the Aggies' backs for losses numerous times, and following Barrett's punts so quickly that the receiver could make no advance. He also did good work offensively, catching two forward passes for good gains—once for a touchdown. He celebrated his birthday, and his last appearance as a college football star in a spectacular way, and brought his football career at W. and L. to a most brilliant close. Through his touchdown in the last few minutes of play, the Generals are at the head of the list in the South Atlantic division when scores are compared with Virginia and Georgetown, the only other possible claimants of the title.

Izard and Harrison were particularly effective on the defense, and both scored a touchdown as the result of catching forward passes. The latter made a most spectacular catch and run, which with the possible exception of Riddick's wonderful run, was the outstanding single feature of the game. Bryan played a hard game, getting two tackles behind the Aggies' line, reversing their backs. Pierotti and Ignico played consistently and succeeded in checking the Aggies' progress through the line as well as breaking up their passes. Bethel held his position at guard to advantage. His only chance to "shine" came when he undertook to halt Riddick on his long run, but the Aggie back was too fast.

For the Aggies Riddick was the outstanding star, while Sullivan was also effective when called upon. He was especially strong on the defensive, but caused his team reversals for rough work. Riddick kicked off for A. and M., punted, threw their forward passes, and gained most against the Generals. Several times his kickoffs carried out of bounds and had to be called back for a second attempt.

Not a substitute was used by the Generals during the entire game, while the Aggies used five.

The attendance at the contest was estimated at 4,500. A detailed account of the fray follows:

THE GAME DETAIL

Captain Shultz won the toss and chose to defend the south goal. Pierotti kicked off fifty yards to Temple, who advanced about ten yards. On their first formation play, the Aggies attempted a forward pass, but Bagley intercepted it on their 40 yard line.

Sorrells made five yards on the first play, and Barrett made first down on the next one. Sorrells annexed three yards and Sweetland added two more. Barrett then made first down. A. and M. was offside at this point and was penalized five yards. Sweetland made a yard on the first attempt, Barrett made five and then one and Bagley went through center for a touchdown on the fourth down. Bagley kicked out to Sorrells, but missed goal. Score W. and L. 6; A. and M. 0.

Pierotti kicked off 45 yards to Riddick, who was thrown outside on his 23 yard line by Shultz. Shultz was hurt by falling on his head on this play, but returned to the fray. Sullivan made five yards. Riddick an-nexed three more and added first down on the third play. Rice made two yards on a cross buck and Temple made three. Sullivan then lost a yard and A. and M. was adjudged holding and suffered a fifteen yard reversal. Sullivan was held for no gain by Shultz on the next play. Riddick then essayed to punt, but Jim Izard got around the A. and M. line, and blocked the boot, recovering the oval on their 20 yard line.

GENERALS SCORE AGAIN

The Generals were set back fifteen yards on their next play for holding. Barrett made this distance back on a an end run, being halted by Young. Sorrells made eight yards. Barrett was held, but on the next play Sorrells went through center for the second touchdown. Bagley kicked goal. Score: W and L. 13; A. and M. 0.

Riddick renewed the fray by kicking off to Barrett who received the ball after a boot of 55 yards and returned it to the W. and L. 41 yard line on a beautiful broken field run. Sweetland made 18 yards on an end run and was stopped by McDougall. Barrett made three yards on the first down. Sorrells added two and Sweetland three more. Sorrells then made first down by a close margin, it appearing that he had failed to gain the distance until the chain was brought onto the field for measurement. Forward pass to Izard failed and a lateral pass to Barrett lost two yards. Riddick intercepted the next pass and made a beautiful run of 75 yards, going outside within one stride of a touchdown. Sullivan and Seifert ran perfect interference for the runner.

On the next play Sullivan went over for the counter. Riddick failed in his attempt to kick goal. Score: W. and L. 13; A. and M. 6.

Pierotti kicked off to Riddick who returned the ball 30 yards. Temple made two yards and Sullivan annexed first down on the next play. Rice fumbled the ball on the following play and was thrown for a 12 yard loss by "Tex" Bryan. Sullivan regained three yards on the lost territory, but Sorrells ended the Aggies, gains by intercepting Riddick's pass on the 35 yard line, just as the quarter ended. Score: W. and L. 13; A. and M. 6.

AGGIES TIE COUNT.

Summer replaced Temple as the second frame began.

Sweetland made two yards. Both teams were adjudged offside and the ball was returned to the line of scrimmage on the second down. Sorrells added two yards, but on the next play Sullivan caught Barrett's pass and raced through an open field for a touchdown. Riddick kicked goal, tying the count. Score: W. and L. 13; A. and M. 13.

Riddick kicked off 55 yards to Barrett who returned to midfield. Sorrells made five yards. Barrett made three. Sweetland added one more and Sorrells made first down on the fourth trial.

W. and L. was penalized 15 yards for holding. Barrett was thrown by Summer after crossing the field on an end run which netted but one yard. Barrett then punted beyond the goal line, the ball being put into play on the 20 yard line.

Summer made seven yards and Sullivan made first down. The Aggies were penalized for offside. Riddick made two yards and Sullivan was held. Riddick then punted to Barrett who was forced outside

PASS TO HARRISON

On the first play Barrett made a pass of fully twenty-five yards to Harrison who made a beautiful catch

OUR DELAY

The Ring-tum Phi is issued Wednesday this week instead of Tuesday, its regular publication day, so that the accounts of the various activities scheduled for Tuesday might appear this week. The delay was made primarily on account of the PAN ribbon society show at the Lyric and the cotillion club dance. We trust that the paper is better for the delay, for that was the intention, and assure our readers that the regular publication day will be adhered to in the future except upon such occasions as those arising this week.

A FOOTBALL ISSUE

Next week the Ring-tum Phi will appear in a six column form in its annual football issue. It will be the final issue before the Christmas holidays. The paper will contain a picture of the Varsity squad, the coaches, the manager, and each of the first string players. A review of the games for the entire season will be made, the team's and the individual players' records will be compiled and published, the monogram winners announced, the newly-chosen captain and manager will be talked about and the schedule for 1916, as far as is possible, will be announced. A feature of the issue will be Head Coach Elcock's opinion of the 1915 season.

In addition to the large amount of football news and pictures, the paper will contain several columns of alumni news notes and the general college news as usual. It will be a big issue and one which will be of special interest to students and alumni. Extra copies may be had upon application to the business man, and students will find the paper one which their friends away from here will appreciate. Look for the sign on the bulletin board and sign up for some extra copies of the Ring-tum Phi's special football issue.

Athletic Comment

The Ring-tum Phi's All Virginia Prep Team:

Davis, Augusta, Right End
O'Brien, Fishburne, Right Tackle
Moses, Staunton, Right Guard
Wood, Episcopal, Center
Robbins, Augusta, Left Guard
Brown, Episcopal, Left Tackle
Leech, Augusta, Quarter Back
Dechert, Woodberry, Right Half
Prather, Staunton, Full Back

Our reasons for making the selections as named will be given in our next issue, since space forbids their publication this week.

The following are some extracts from a story about the Generals published in the "Public Ledger", Philadelphia, Nov. 28, 1915:

"Until this year few paragraphs got into the newspapers about Southern elevens, but when Virginia defeated Yale and Washington and Lee almost defeated Cornell the 'experts' sat up and took notice of what was going on, and realized that football was not restricted to two sections of the country.

"Washington and Lee is one of the best known teams in the South. In three years only two games have been lost, which is some record. In 1913 the Generals, as they are called by those familiar with the team, lost to North Carolina 'Aggies' by the score of 6 to 0. Last year the team went through the season without a defeat, winning from Swarthmore, West Virginia and North Carolina A. and M. in the important games. The Cornell defeat was the first in years and came only after one of the hardest battles fought by the Ithacans in years."

Then after a brief history of Washington and Lee the story continued:

"The record of the eleven this year is marred by only one defeat, Cornell winning out in the second half by a score of 40 to 21. The Southerners quickly scored three touchdowns and outplayed the Big Red team until the middle of the third quarter. Then Cornell, aided by a few 'breaks' and Charlie Barrett, scored a flock of touchdowns and won by a wide margin.

"This was the first big team the Generals have met and they covered themselves with glory."

The "Public Ledger" also printed pictures of Elcock, Raftery, Donahue, Izard, Pierotti, Bagley, Barrett, Sweetland, and Manager McDougle.

Says the "Virginian-Pilot" of Norfolk in regard to the clash with N. C. A. and M.: "Washington and Lee was so far superior in all the fundamentals there was no comparison."

The All-South Atlantic eleven picked by the Richmond "Times-Dispatch":

White, end, Virginia.
Shultz, tackle, Washington and Lee.
Barron, guard, Georgetown.
Pierotti, center, Washington and Lee.

Coleman, guard, Virginia.
Ramsey, tackle, Carolina.
Homewood, end, Carolina.
Berley, quarter, Virginia.
Gilroy, half, Georgetown.
Mayer, half, Virginia.
Anderson, full, Virginia.

This selection would have been vastly more satisfactory to General supporters had our own John Barrett been placed in the full back position rather than Anderson of Virginia. We fail to see where the latter is Barrett's superior. Barrett can do everything in the game that Anderson can and more too.

After the Vanderbilt-Virginia game the "Times-Dispatch" made the following comment in regard to Anderson's fumbling, "Without meaning to detract from the fine performance of Ed Anderson, it appears that the local boy does not run with the ball very carelessly held, but he relaxes his arm as he nears the ground after a tackle. It looks like he tries to break the shock of his fall, and that the ball gets out of his grasp.

"None of the above is meant as a serious reflection on the Virginia backfield. There is no question that it is a wonderful combination, and one that is justly entitled to credit for its performances. There is no reason, however, to alibi poor work when no alibis are needed."

Certainly John Barrett cannot be accused of not being able to carry out the fundamentals of the game.

His remarkable run against Cornell certainly stamps him above the ordinary. Neither was this run a piece of luck. It came only as the result of a remarkable interference on the part of his team mates coupled with Barrett's wonderful ability as a broken field runner. Barrett can also drive through the line for more than substantial gains.

There is no question in our mind that he is more deserving of the full back position than Anderson. Besides, Virginia has no right to five men on any All South Atlantic pick.

Y. M. C. A.

The regular Y. M. C. A. meeting was held in the Library Tuesday evening. W. M. Brown led the meeting and centered his remarks on the power of prayer, stating that intercessory prayer was the hardest and highest form of prayer, and that it tended to make one unselfish.

The purpose of this meeting was to discuss and to encourage silent and voluntary prayer. There will be a similar meeting in the early part of next term. A special invitation is extended to those who were not present at the last meeting

Several weeks ago a comparison of the scholastic standings of the various college organizations was made. The ranking of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet was not compiled at the time. It will be noted that their percentage is higher than that of either the leading fraternity or athletic organization.

A comparative scholastic standing for the last session follows:

Y. M. C. A. Cabinet	8.51
Albert Sidneys	8.32
Phi Gamma Delta	8.13

LARGE PAINTING IS ADDED TO ART GALLERY

General Lee Mounted on "Traveller"
Latest Addition to Bradford Collection

Another valuable addition to the Bradford Art Gallery in the Library was made recently. While in New York a few weeks ago, President Smith purchased a large oil painting of General Robert E. Lee on "Traveller" from Mrs. Kirby-Parrish, a southern lady, but now living in New York. Before completing the purchase, Dr. Smith had one of the officers of the Metropolitan Museum to inspect it. Although the price cannot be made public, the amount paid for it was not small by any means.

The picture is about ten feet square and is enclosed in a black gold frame. It was painted in 1902 by Mrs. Kirby-Parrish from one of Miley's photographs, taken while General Lee was living in Lexington. With its verdure background, the painting is a thing of beauty and of artistic work throughout. The bearing and facial expression of the heroic leader are particularly showing in the picture. It has been hung on the south side of the gallery above the main reading room of the library and covers an exceedingly large space, making it particularly noticeable as one arrives at the head of the staircase.

The Lee Collection of oil paintings, mostly family portraits, is one of the most valuable collections in the whole country, and thus adds a particular interest to the University. Besides this special collection there are also many other valuable paintings, which were donated to the University by different persons. The addition of the large painting of the famous head of this family makes that collection complete, and it also adds to the pictures in the gallery one of extreme interest to the University on account of the intimate connection the famous general bore to this institution.

A. T. BARCLAY, UNIVERSITY TRUSTEE, DIED SATURDAY

Mr. Alexander Tedford Barclay, since 1885 a trustee of Washington and Lee University, died at his home in Lexington Saturday morning after a lingering illness. Mr. Barclay was a native of Rockbridge county, having been born near Lexington in 1844. He had been closely associated with the development of the county and with Washington and Lee, both as a student and for years as a zealous trustee.

While a student in this institution, which was then Washington College, Mr. Barclay enlisted in the Liberty Hall volunteers and served as a gallant soldier in the Confederate ranks in the War Between the States.

During his early years Mr. Barclay led an active life and was a power in the upbuilding of Rockbridge county. For the past several years he had been in declining health. Since last spring he had been suffering from acute bright's disease.

Mr. Barclay is survived by his widow, who was Miss Virginia Moore, also of Rockbridge, and three daughters, Misses Mary, Elizabeth and Virginia, and three sons, David M., A. T., Jr., and W. Houston, all three of whom are alumni of Washington and Lee.

The funeral services were conducted Monday morning at the Presbyterian church, interment being made in the Presbyterian cemetery. Classes were suspended during the hour of the funeral.

STUDENTS SIGN PETITION TO "JOGGER'S" BOSS

A petition addressed to Percy H. Wilson, secretary of the Association of Portland Cement manufacturers, Philadelphia, is being signed by the students here asking that he do whatever he can to make it possible for Head Coach "Jogger" Elcock to return to Washington and Lee next fall. The petition will bear the signature of every student in college and will be sent immediately.

Coach Elcock had planned to give up coaching football and devote his time exclusively to business and had made arrangements to do so. Since "Elcock Day" when the coach expressed his willingness to return here in 1916 the question of whether he would be released from his other contract arose. By means of the petition it is hoped that the desired release for the next football season will be granted.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

WASHINGTON

The Washington Literary Society Hall was the scene of much balloting Saturday night, the officers for next term being elected, and also the officers, orators and debaters for the annual celebration of the Society, which will be held on the evening of February 22. As the two elections had taken so much time, the debate for the evening was dispensed with, only the declamations and orations being delivered.

The officers elected for next term are as follows: President, C. E. Worth; Vice-president, M. B. Ridenour; Secretary, W. O. Burtner; Treasurer, re-elected, E. F. Grossman; Censor, M. L. Masinter; Critic, A. L. Bennett.

The officers for the 104th celebration of the Society are: President, J. C. Rivers; Vice-president, E. F. Grossman; Secretary, G. S. Watson; Chief Marshal, Homer Powell. The assistant marshals will be appointed by Mr. Powell.

A. L. Bennett and M. B. Ridenour were chosen as orators, while E. S. Smith, W. C. Revercomb, M. S. Cannon and W. O. Burtner were elected to debate. The debaters will decide upon the subject for discussion and will also select sides.

C. E. Worth, D. A. Falk, M. S. Cannon and J. C. Rivers were appointed a committee to assist the Chief Marshal in the arrangements for the celebration and also to arrange for a banquet to be held directly afterwards.

The election then being over, the program was taken up. This was opened by Charles Lombardi, who declaimed Ingersoll's "Address to a Jury against Alcoholic Manufacture." J. R. Collins followed with a declamation of Milton's "Ode on His Blindness."

W. J. Dodd was the first orator of the evening, taking for his subject, "Duty." M. B. Ridenour closed the program by an oration on "The Significance of the Resignation of W. J. Bryan."

The meeting Saturday night was the last one before Christmas for the Society alone. Saturday the Graham-Lee and the Washington Literary Societies will meet in joint session, three of these meetings being held each year.

GRAHAM-LEE

The regular meeting of Graham-Lee took place in the society hall Saturday evening, the chief objects of the meeting being the installation of officers for the second term and the election of officers and speakers for the annual celebration of the society which will be January 19.

The meeting was called to order by the retiring president, W. J. Cox. He then installed the newly-elected officers and committeemen, whose names were published in last week's issue.

The new president, E. L. Junkin, announced that in view of the amount of work to be disposed of by the society he would postpone his inaugural remarks until the next meeting. He then announced that the floor was open to any desiring to speak voluntarily as a tryout for the approaching election. Laurence Williams responded with a debate, and E. L. Junkin followed him with an oration. The election of speakers was now declared in order. E. M. Bell and E. L. Junkin were elected orators, and Laurence Williams, L. D. Arnold, H. S. Baker and W. J. Cox were chosen for the debaters. For officers, R. N. Lature, F. M. Davis, H. J. Blackford, and W. M. Junkin were elected president, vice-president, secretary and chief marshal, respectively.

In view of the elections, the program for the evening was dispensed with. Next week will be held the joint meeting with the Washington society.

and ran more than that distance for a touchdown.

As he caught the ball, the speedy end sidestepped Sullivan and Rice and then outran both of them crossing the line right at the goal posts. Bagley kicked goal. Score: W. and L. 20; A. and M. 13.

McCoy was sent in for Young. Riddick kicked 55 yards to Barrett, who returned 20. Barrett then punted outside but the Generals were declared offside and the ball brought back. Sweetland made two yards. Sorrells added three. Ignico then dropped a long pass from Barrett. Barrett's punt was a fizzle, the halfback's toe hitting the ground as he kicked, but Sorrells recovered the ball for a gain.

Weathers was sent in and Anthony called out. McDougall shifted to Anthony's end and Weathers took McDougall's place.

Shultz made 15 yards on a forward pass. Sorrells made two yards. Second pass to Ignico failed. Rice intercepted pass to Shultz and was downed in his tracks by Harrison.

Ignico held Sullivan for no gain. Riddick made ten yards on an end run. Sullivan made one, and Rice annexed three more on a cross buck just as the second quarter ended.

Score: W. and L. 20; A. and M. 13.

THE THIRD QUARTER.

Riddick renewed the fray by kicking to Bagley who returned 15 yards. Barrett made five yards. Sweetland added four and Barrett made first down. Sorrells and Sweetland made two each, and Sorrells then made first down through center. Sullivan threw Barrett for ten yards loss. Long pass to Harrison failed, and A. and M. was penalized for offside. Sweetland made four yards. Barrett made five and Sorrells was held, but Barrett made first down on the fourth trial. Sweetland made one yard on end run, being stopped by Sumner. Pass from Barrett to Sweetland netted twenty-five yards, Winston making the tackle.

Homewood substituted by Sumner. Weathers held Barrett for no gain. Pass to Barrett failed, but on the next formation the same play netted 20 yards, the sturdy halfback running outside on the three yard line. Sorrells reduced the distance by one yard and on the next play Bagley slipped through "Count" Pierotti's legs for the remaining distance needed for a touchdown. Bagley then kicked goal. Score: W. and L. 27; A. and M. 13.

Riddick kicked off 50 yards to Barrett who advanced 15 yards. Barrett counted 40 yards to Rice, who was downed in his tracks by Harrison.

Riddick made three yards Sorrells broke up pass to McDougall. Shultz three Riddick for one yard loss on attempted end run. Riddick's punt was short and was caught by Sorrells on the 45 yard line.

BALL CHANGES RAPIDLY

Sorrells made two yards. Barrett fumbled after making a substantial gain through the line on the next play and McCoy recovered the oval on W. and L.'s 47 yard line. Sorrells then caught a pass intended for McDougall.

Rice retaliated by catching a pass directed to Captain Shultz, but fumbled when being tackled and Ignico recovered the ball for first down. Sorrells made two yards and Barrett added one more. Barrett then advanced ten yards after attempting to throw the pass for a pass. A. and M. was penalized 15 yards for roughness at this juncture, placing the ball on their 20 yard line. Bagley made two yards and Sweetland added five as the quarter closed. Score. W. and L. 27; A. and M. 13.

Sorrells made five yards. Sweetland added another, and Barrett circled left end for a touchdown. Bagley kicked out to Barrett and then kicked goal. Score: W. and L. 34; A. and M. 13.

Riddick kicked off 50 yards,* the ball bouncing beyond the goal line, but Barrett recovered it and advanced 20 yards. Barrett punted 40 yards to Rice who was downed in his tracks by Shultz.

Rice dropped a pass from Riddick. Pierotti and Sorrells broke up two more attempted passes. Riddick then punted diagonally, the ball going outside on the 25 yard line.

Barrett punted, the ball making 55 yards on a bounce and was recovered by Shultz. Bryan slipped through the line and threw Sumner for a five yard loss when he fumbled. Sweetland intercepted a forward pass on the 45 yard line.

SHULTZ'S FIRST COUNTER

Rice broke up a long pass to Harrison. Barrett made three yards on a wide end run and A. and M. was penalized 15 yards for holding. Sweetland made eight yards. Bagley added another and Sorrells made first down. Sweetland added one more yard and a pass to Izard enabled the left end to make the distance needed for a touchdown. Bagley kicked out to Barrett and Captain Shultz kicked the goal. Score: W. and L. 41; A. and M. 13.

Barrett kicked off 50 yards to Sumner. Riddick made five yards, then two more, and Sullivan made first down. Barrett then intercepted a pass to Rice and ran to midfield.

Riddick broke up pass to Shultz, and long pass to Bagley failed. Sumner then broke up the third attempted pass and Barrett punted to Rice who was downed on his three yard line by Izard. Barrett caught Riddick's punt and went to A. and M.'s 20 yard line. Sorrells made eight yards. McCoy was hurt on the play and Rand went in for him. Forward pass from Barrett to Shultz made twelve yards, enabling the big Captain to score the final touchdown of the season and the last in his four years of star football at W. and L. Bagley kicked out to Barrett and then kicked the goal. Score: W. and L. 48; A. and M. 13.

Riddick renewed the fray with a boot of 50 yards to Harrison who advanced 10. Barrett punted to the 15 yard line to Rice who was downed when he caught the ball by Shultz, Harrison and Izard. The final time was called as Rice was calling signals for the first formation after Barrett's punt.

COTILLION CLUB DANCE

The Thanksgiving festivities were brought to a close Tuesday night with the first Cotillion club dance of the year. Forty-six couples and more than fifty stags were present and dancing continued into the late hours.

An intricate figure was led by C.
