

GENERALS PRIMED FOR KENTUCKY STATE GAME

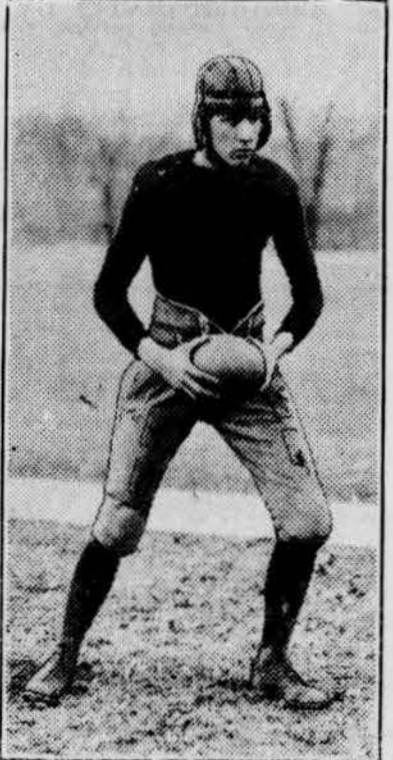

Twenty-three Men Made the Trip

Hard Practice Has Put Men in Good Shape.

HARD GAME EXPECTED

Budnick and Van Horn Will Be Back in Line-up To Strengthen Team.

Twenty-three men, together with Coach James DeHart, Graduate Manager R. A. Smith, and Manager M. F. Hummer, constituted the party of Washington and Lee men that left Lexington Friday afternoon at four o'clock for Staunton to take the C. & O. train for Lexington, Kentucky, where they will battle the Kentucky Wildcats today. The Generals are due to arrive in the Bluegrass city at 8:30 a. m. Headquarters will be established at the Lafayette Hotel.

VAN HORN

Star Linesman of the Generals, whose work this year has been sensational, will get back in the line-up today against Kentucky.

Coach DeHart held the last practice for his men on Thursday afternoon when the entire time was taken up in running through signals, wind sprints, and punting by Rauber and Perry. Friday afternoon was a holiday for the athletes who are eager and ready for the game today with Kentucky State.

The entire week has been devoted to hard practice. The earlier sessions of the past week were given over to the correction of faults that the various blue clad warriors were guilty of in the game against the Demon Deacons.

The Generals will have both Budnick and Van Horn back in the line-up, and with these two men, the team will be materially strengthened. The White and Blue backfield will be composed of the same quartette that

Debating Council Holds First Meeting

Debaters Selected From Delta Sigma Rho and Literary Societies.

The debating council held its initial meeting recently, at which time a very extensive schedule for the year's debates was announced and the officers for the council were elected. Professor Fulbright presided as chairman of the meeting. The faculty members present were: Dr. R. G. Campbell, Dr. Coan, Dr. Tyree, Dr. Moffett and Dr. Riley. The old men present of last year's debating team were Masinter, Roach, Hamilton, Lowry and Gould.

The representatives from the Washington Literary Society were W. L. Wilson and W. M. Roach. Those representing Delta Sigma Rho were Ralph Masintre and H. M. Gould. J. S. Strahorn was the representative from the Graham-Lee Society. Strahorn was elected secretary of the council and Gould elected manager.

A very extensive schedule has been arranged for the team, which will make southern and northern trips, meeting a number of the prominent schools of their sections. The team will meet Amherst, Virginia, Johns Hopkins, University of North Carolina, University of Pennsylvania and University of Syracuse. Three of these debates will be held in Lexington. With the quantity of material present the Generals should make a very creditable showing in forensic activities.

APPLICATIONS FOR DEGREES NUMBER 121

Bachelor of Science Leads All Others With Forty-four—Lawyers Fall Off.

One hundred and twenty-one students filed applications for various degrees to be awarded by the University next spring. Up until closing hours of the registrar's office on Wednesday night, October 15, the time limit for making application.

As last year, the largest number of students are applying for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce, a total of forty-four having applied. However, the Arts degrees will find only one less claimant this year than those for B. S. in Commerce, with forty-three applicants. Bachelor of Science applicants number eight, an increase of five over last year. In the law school, however there is a notable falling off, there being twenty-three applicants for the LL. B., while last year there were thirty-seven.

There are three applicants for Masters degree, two in Arts and one in Science, making a total of 121 applicants in all. In addition there are eight applications for certificates.

CAST SELECTED FOR TROUBADOUR SHOW

Thirteen Chosen For Places in the Thanksgiving Show.

Final tryouts for the Troubadour Thanksgiving show, "The Seven Keys To Baldpate," were held at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the Troubadour room. President J. C. Roberts is very enthusiastic over the interest shown in the organization this year as evidenced by the number of men seeking parts in the first production. He expresses his regret, however, that, due to the nature of the show, so few could be given a place. It is urged that all return for the spring tryouts, as the Easter show will probably be a musical comedy, and therefore afford opportunities for quite a few men.

The Thanksgiving production will have the following cast:

Mr. Quimby, John Maher; Mrs. Quimby, George Harsh, Jr.; MaGee, W. Wirt W. Donnelly; Bland, R. H. Thatcher; Mary, C. W. Meadows; Mrs. Rhodes, R. P. London, Jr.; Peters, C. F. Stuart; Myra, H. Sutton, Jr.; Max, T. H. Fausett; Cargon, A. W. Pierpont; Hayden, G. F. Maynard, Jr.; Kennedy, E. E. Smith; Owner, F. E. Bade.

VERBON KEMP OFF ON TRIP THROUGH CAROLINA

"Jack" Thomas Will Accompany Him in Interests of Lee School of Journalism.

Mr. Verbon Kemp, alumni secretary of the University, left yesterday for a two weeks' trip through North Carolina in the interest of the Lee Memorial School of Journalism. Mr. Kemp will be accompanied on this trip by "Jack" Thomas, '24, and will introduce latter as the new field secretary in this work.

Thomas, who is remembered as one of the most prominent students on the campus last year is to be congratulated for his efforts in the service of his Alma Mater. While attending the University he was presi-

TENNIS TOURNAMENT GOES TO SEMI-FINALS

DeBiaso, Crenshaw, Payne and Gould Will Fight It Out.

The tennis tournament is now well under way and the finals should be played off by the middle of next week. The semi-finals will be completed by the time this issue goes to press as the first three rounds have been finished. The men plays in the semi-finals are DeBiaso vs. Crenshaw, and Payne vs. Gould.

The results of the third round are as follows: DeBiaso defeated Sternberger 6-0, 6-1; Crenshaw defeated Cassel 6-3, 3-6, 6-3; Payne defeated Wurtzberger 6-2, 7-5; Gould defeated St. John 7-5, 6-0.

By far the most interesting and closest match was between Crenshaw and Cassell, a great deal of skill and ability being displayed by both. Captain St. John was not playing up to his standard game when he was eliminated by Gould.

Only one match has been played in the doubles up to date in which Glickstein and Murry defeated last year's double champions 9-7, 1-6, 6-2.

The tennis tournament has been a great success this year, due to the good weather and to the great number of contestants out. Thirty-two men started in the singles tournament and ten in the doubles, so there was an abundance of good material to make for keen competition and interest. If everything can be arranged, Washington and Lee may play the University of Virginia in tennis on October 24th.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN WILL BE LAUNCHED MONDAY

Sixty Student Workers To Dine Monday Night and Then Proceed To Raise $2,925.00.

The services, lyceum course, privilege ticket, a comfortably equipped room, socials and many other opportunities which the Y. M. C. A. gives to every student in the University regardless of creed or standing, is made possible by subscriptions from the students and faculty.

An examination of the budget which is printed in this issue of the Ring-tum Phi shows that $1800 must be raised from the students and faculty. The other $1125 will be received from the campus fee and lyceum tickets sold to the townspeople.

The workers, about 60 students who will secure the subscriptions, will meet for supper at 6:30 Monday night, Oct. 20, at the Episcopal Church. Each man will be assigned a certain fraternity, floor of dormitory or boarding house.

It is hoped that $1500 will be subscribed the first night. Reports on the progress of the campaign will be received up to twelve o'clock Monday night in the Y. M. C. A. room.

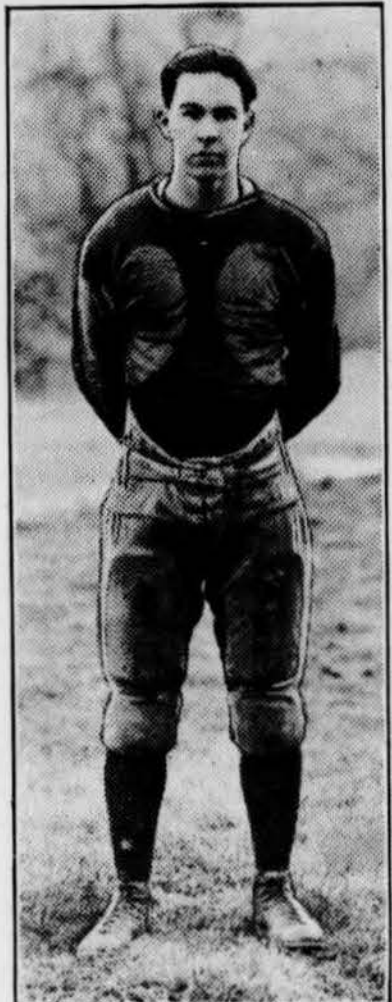

John D. Mayhew, '26, is the student treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. and Dr. T. J. Farrar is the faculty treasurer. The books of the Association are always open to students and faculty for inspection. Questions concerning them are welcomed.

The Budget.

The budget for 1924-25 of the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington and Lee is as follows:

THE "Y" CAMPAIGN

On Monday night the Y. M. C. A. will launch its annual financial campaign for the purpose of raising the funds for its current running expenses. The campaign will be a short one, but every student and professor on the campus will be given an opportunity to subscribe to this most worthy cause.

Of all the many and varied activities on the campus, this is one that should be supported by the Student Body to the fullest extent of their ability. There is no fixed amount asked by the "Y" and each and every man is left to his own means and discretion as to what he will give. However, the organization's budget for the current year calls for an expenditure of eighteen hundred dollars and this is the sum total of the amount asked. This is indeed a very small amount with which to carry on any effective work among a student population of over eight hundred for a period of nine months, and many are the activities of the Y. M. C. A. to draw upon this relatively small sum. Therefore, while the students are being asked for eighteen hundred dollars, the work of this active campus organization will be made far more effective if the fund is oversubscribed.

The Y. M. C. A. is a highly altruistic enterprise. All the proceeds of the fund that will be raised on Monday night will be used for student welfare work here on the campus, and a very large portion of it will go directly for student entertainment. Every year the Y. M. C. A. conducts a lyceum course, and brings to Lexington high class musical and dramatic entertainments. To these lyceum numbers every member of the Student Body is admitted free, whether or not he is a member of the Y. M. C. A., or whether or not he has subscribed to the general fund. If you are a student in the University you are invited to these lyceum numbers.

Again the Y. M. C. A. conducts on Sunday afternoons during the mid-winter months, student entertainments in the Y. M. C. A. room and again invites every member of the Student Body. Musical and other entertainment is always provided for these Sunday afternoon entertainments, and refreshments are served.

However, the main feature of the Y. M. C. A. activity is its work in maintaining spiritual solidarity among the students. It is indeed the "mother church of the campus." This and this fact alone should enlist the wholehearted student support behind the campaign Monday. It is indeed an opportunity and should not be passed by without a full consideration of the great work that the Y. M. C. A. is conducting on the campus.

Scoring all of their points in the second period, University of North Carolina humbled its annual adversary, N. C. State, on the gridiron last Thursday at Raleigh, 10-0. The game was slow, due to the hot weather, and the State defense crumbled up before the heavy attack of the Chapel Hill eleven.

FOOTBALL FLASHES

Lafayette, reaching its peak when it defeated the Pitt Panthers earlier in the season 10-0, will oppose the Bucknell aggregation this week on the white-chalked lines. Charley Moran, famous mentor of the Centre "Praying Colonels" for the past few years, is now coaching the Bucknell warriors.

The W. & J. Presidents stay at home to entertain Carnegie Tech this week-end; while the Pitt Panther, fresh from its victory over the West Virginia Mountaineers last week, will swap plays with Johns Hopkins.

The Gobblers hook up with Coach Byrd's Old Liners this Saturday; while Tulane and Vandy will tussle with each other further south.

The Western division has a few bright head-liners for this Saturday when the Chicago Maroons tackle the heavy Indiana bunch, and Minnesota plays Wisconsin in the annual struggle.

The Michigan Wolverines, lead by Captain Stegar, who has the unique record of not having played on a losing team in nearly a score of games, will meet the Illinois eleven, including the mighty Grange, of All-American fame, this Saturday. Neither team lost a game last year, both being tied for the Big Ten Conference title.

The greatest gridiron card since King Football started his reign in September will be presented in the East this coming Saturday. The Army Mule travels south to the Polo Grounds, where it will oppose the Notre Dame eleven, tutored by the great Knute Rockne. The Big Green team from Dartmouth stacks up against the Big Blue eleven of Old Eli in the Yale Bowl. The Navy Midshipmen go over to Tiger-jungle to engage the Princeton warriors. Cornell's Big Red team will oppose the husky Rutgers aggregation at Ithaca. Columbia comes to Franklin Field for its annual contest with the Blue and Red of Pennsylvania.

Colgate's heavy team will go west to tackle the Cornhuskers of Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb.

The classic game of the South this week-end is being staged in Atlanta when Bezdeck's powerful Penn State eleven lines up against the fast-traveling Georgia Techmen. Although they stopped Florida last week, 7-7, the Georgians will have to uncoil some spectacular playing to come out on the long end of the verdict this Saturday.

HARRIERS READY FOR TRINITY COLLEGE

With the first meet of the season with Trinity College only two weeks away, the W. and L. harriers are seen daily "dusting off" the Brushy Hill course.

Time trials were held last Thursday afternoon and the results shown were good on the whole. Capt. Howard, running in top-notch form, crossed the tape a quarter of mile ahead of Bean, the second man to finish. Howard's time was exceptionally fast and he seems to be in first class condition. Wigglesworth and Lee, both new men on the squad, made very creditable showings, finishing sixth and seventh, respectively. The results of the time trial are as follows: first, Capt. Howard; second, Bean; third, Gannaway; fourth, Clark; fifth, Fulton; sixth, Wigglesworth; seventh, Lee.

Five Successful From Field of Sixteen.

The competitive tryouts for the editorial staff of the Press Club which have been in progress for the past two weeks, ended Friday. From the 16 men trying out, five were selected for their ability along journalistic lines. The five successful tryouts as announced by Director W. G. Sale, Jr., are as follows: S. B. Avis, C. H. Hamilton, E. W. McCorkle, Jr., E. A. Nabors, and B. F. Ward.

THE COLLEGE WORLD

The latest craze to be affected by the co-eds at the University of Oklahoma is the flavored lipstick. These lipsticks are said to be highly flavored and very appetizing, and the flavors range from lemon to tutti-fruitti. This latest weapon of womankind has literally swept the university town.

A new game called speedball has been established as an intramural sport at the University of Missouri. The game is a combination of football and soccer and is played on the regulation football field.

Pictures are to be filmed of the most important activities at Princeton University this year. These will be kept as a reference which can be used in the future.

Columbia University has completely abolished physical means of enforcing Freshmen rules and has substituted committee action and the introduction of an "Irresponsible List." The Dean will keep this list and as the new Freshman rules are heartily approved by him, it appears that it will behoove the class of '28 to watch their step.

A forty-piece band has now been assured for Furman University. This band will enlist in the R. O. T. C. service and the War Department is to furnish uniforms.

All class treasurers must give bond at Ohio State this year. This rule has long been a part of the student council constitution, but has never been rigidly adhered to before.

LEXINGTON HAS SLIGHT LEAD IN NUMBER OF STUDENTS

Birmingham, Ala., is a Close Second, While Charleston, W. Va., Comes Third.

It is of interest to those who take pride in the nation-wide patronage of Washington and Lee to know that such far away cities as Birmingham, Ala.; New York, N. Y.; Washington, D. C., and Pittsburgh, Pa., rank second, fourth, eighth, and tenth, respectively, in the number of students at the University.

Among the distant cities which are well represented here are Mobile, Ala.; St. Louis, Mo.; Jacksonville, Fla.; New Orleans, La., and Miami, Fla.

As is to be expected, Lexington, Va., ranks first with 23 students, while Charleston, W. Va., is third, having 18 men in attendance. Memphis, Tenn., is tied with New York City for fourth place, both having 17 men here. Roanoke, Va., with 16 students is sixth, Louisville, Ky., is seventh, having 14 men on the campus, while Richmond is ninth, providing 12 students for the University.

Other cities having five or more students in attendance are: Staunton, Va.; Danville, Va.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Harrisonburg, Va.; Hagerstown, Md.; Portsmouth, Va.; Norfolk, Va.; Pensacola, Fla., and Petersburg, Va.

GYM CLASSES ARE NOW HELD ON FIELD

All Freshmen and Sophomores Are Required To Take This Work Unless On Some Squad.

Work in the gymnasium classes so far this season has been carried on in the gymnasium, but now that the weather has improved, Coach Brett has been recently taking the men out on the athletic field for games of soccer and other outdoor sports. The Freshmen and Sophomores have been having almost the same kind of work. As has been customary heretofore, this exercise will be continued during the fall and spring. During the winter term, which will start soon after Thanksgiving, the physical education classes will be instructed in calisthenics, drill, instructive gymnastics, wrestling, boxing, and swimming. Graduation requirements are that all men must pass a specified swimming test.

All members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes who are not on some Varsity or Freshman squad are required to attend the regular gymnasium classes. Coach Brett wishes to make clear to the men who are contemplating going out for some varsity sport that they are exempted from these classes only during the season of that particular sport.

Those men who are expecting to go out for any strenuous athletics should first report to the physical director for an examination, as this is compulsory in order to be eligible to take part in any strenuous exercises. All Freshmen receive a physical examination in the fall and the Sophomores must undergo one during the spring term.

PROGRAMS FOR LITERARY CLUBS

The Graham-Lee Literary Society has for its program a debate on the question: Resolved that drinking of spirituous liquors should be considered a violation of the Honor System. The Affirmative will be represented by C. T. Altfather and W. R. Gilbert. The speakers on the Negative are: A. R. Coleman and J. A. Scoggin, Jr. Frank Charlton will give an extemporaneous talk.

All men have been invited to attend the meetings of the society on Saturday nights at 7:30 in Washington College.

Program of the Washington Literary Society. Current events by Cadmus; open discussion of the preceding paper by the Society; debate on the question, Resolved, that examinations at this University be abolished. Hamilton and Harper will uphold the affirmative, while Roach and Miller will defend the negative. The meeting will begin at 7:15 and be over promptly by eight. All students and especially the new men are invited to attend.

SEEING EUROPE THROUGH A PORTHOLE

By L. F. Hancock, '27.

Sailing, sailing over the bounding main is not what it is cracked up to be if one happens to be working in the kitchen. Last year about this time, two W. and L. men, MacCorkle and I, seemed to hear the irresistible call of the sea. By corresponding for the rest of the year with an ex-sea captain in New York, we finally landed a job as bell-hops on the world's largest liner, the "Leviathan," sailing from New York on June 14. So anxious were we to go that not even Finals with all its glory could keep us, so away we went to New York. Arriving there, we learned that the vessel had been in port three days and that the necessary supply of bell-hops had been secured. Our disappointment knew no bounds, but still we were determined, so we accepted a job in the kitchen. After working three days while in port, doing such work as scrubbing decks already clean and painting, we decided not to go. But we had already signed on so there was nothing to do but go. I remember well the sinking feeling in my stomach when I caught a last glimpse of the Statue of Liberty through a porthole.

Although the crew was almost entirely German, we got along fairly well. Our duties were very simple. All we had to do was to get up at six in the morning, or rather be gotten up by a stalwart Boche jerking the covers off and uttering oaths—I take it—in German. The store room was the first place every day. We put in an hour or so carrying the day's stores to the kitchen. Nothing very heavy of course, other than cases of grape fruit, tubs of lard, or hundred pound packages of butter or sugar. As there were only about six flights of stairs up which to carry these things, we didn't mind this part of the work very much. After this was over, we carried dishes for three hours. The only remaining duty for the morning was to scrub the deck. This was usually done by eleven-forty, so we had until twelve to ourselves. From twelve to four-thirty we carried more supplies, carried more dishes and scrubbed more deck. From four-thirty to five was our own. At five we carried more supplies, carried more dishes and scrubbed more decks. At eleven we were through for the day, so we usually adjourned to the crew's deck and caught about an hour of air and enjoyed the beauty of the moon-light on the sea.

As English time is six hours ahead of ours, the clock was turned up an hour each night. This gave us about five hours sleep every night. And such a place to sleep it was. They called it a "glory hole," showing how well sarcasm can be expressed in German. The glory hole was two decks below the water and inhabited by two Americans, one Belgian and ten Germans.

At last we tied up at Southampton, England. A flock of dirty kids followed us for block after block, begging for pennies. They were respectful, being careful to use "sir," but they were also very persistent and we were forced to throw them all of our loose change before we could get rid of them. Southampton as a town is a failure, but was an interesting place to study the habits of the people. Most of the men seemed to smoke, and to wear very loose fitting clothes, very much unlike "the English cut" clothes that Finchley sells us to wear over here. The women are what we would probably term as not being so warm.

After a day or two in Southampton we were off for London, arriving there at four in the morning. London was just awakening. We strolled around. Here and there were small lunch wagons, surrounded by evil-looking persons who I imagine it would be very unpleasant to meet in a dark alley. A little farther on we came to the famed Trafalgar Square. Many people were sleeping on the cold stone of the square. Among them was an old woman who must have been seventy or eighty years old. She was in old and tattered clothes and presented a sight that would arouse pity in anyone's heart. We strolled down Picadilly Circus and back again along the Thames to the Parliament Building and Westminster Abbey. London bridge and the Tower of London were next. Our time was short so we saw everything possible and hurried back to Southampton and the vessel. Coming out of the harbor, one of the crew pointed out Cowl's Regetta to us. We finally learned that it was famous as the Prince of Wales' favorite place for falling from his horse.

We didn't work as hard as we had on the trip over, for we found that if one just failed to report for work, that the rest were too lazy to look him up.

When the Statue of Liberty loomed up over the horizon, I was so sick and tired of hearing German that the Star-Spangled Banner was coming from me in a lusty whistle, entirely without my knowledge.

And so ended our little experience. Many other college students are probably planning just such a summer trip. If you are, take this little piece of advice—that if you must go to sea that it is much better to be chambermaid on a cattle boat than to be a sculleryman on the world's largest liner.

LITTLE GENERALS TAKING VACATION

The Little Generals are again back on their feet after the defeat handed them by the University of Virginia Frosh last week. No injuries were sustained in the game, which will keep any of the squad out of the next fray and they are determined to go through the rest of the season with a clean slate. They will play the Shenandoah Collegiate Institution here on Friday, the twenty-fourth of October.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM SHOWN AT RALLY

Big Rally Sends Off Team To Fight Kentucky; Graham Speaks.

The old pep was shown at the Student Body rally held in Doremus gymnasium Thursday night. The meeting was conducted by "Ed" Reitze, cheer leader, who gave a brief talk on conduct at football games in which he warned the students against undue remarks and lack of sportsmanship. "Johnny" Morrison, president of the Student Body, and Mercer Graham, a well known local alumnus, were called upon for speeches which greatly added to the success and enthusiasm of the affair.

Morrison spoke of the Kentucky clash and the Big Blue team and the determination of the Generals to "pull the Wildcats' claws out." His talk was interrupted several times by the applause and cheering of the crowd. Mercer Graham then gave an address on school spirit. He said that the students as a whole were not backing the Freshman team as they should and that, since this team was working hard for the same cause as the Varsity, it was only just that we should back them. He gave instances to show that the old genuine W. and L. spirit has brought victory.

"On one occasion," he said, "West Virginia had us outnumbered two to one, and at the end of the first half of the game, the score was 8 to 0 against W. and L. The coach gathered his men and told them that the gang back home were yelling for them and they had to win. We made a touchdown in the third quarter and West Virginia quit. The game was won by a score of 1 to 0."

A new yell was introduced by the cheer leader, and after a little practice it was thoroughly mastered. A few other yells were given the team and the meeting ended with the singing of the Swing.

has started in the two previous games. Wilson will be at quarter, Palmer and Rauber at halves, with "Eddie" Cameron holding down full. The Kentucky team held their final practice yesterday afternoon with a light workout, consisting of a signal drill and punting practice. All of the men are in the pink of condition with the exception of "Caveman" Rice, who plays at guard. Rice received a slight sprain to his left ankle last Thursday, but Trainer Fred Mann believes that he will be in condition to start today. Without Rice in the line-up, the front wall of the Bluegrass team will not be so good. Much interest is anticipated in the game of Washington and Lee against Kentucky State, and no doubt the new stadium will be taxed to its utmost capacity. The game with the Generals was supposed to dedicate the stadium today, but the date was changed to November 1, when Kentucky plays Centre in the gridiron classic of Kentucky.

The Cats are expecting a victory and the Generals will have to be on the lookout all the time for some trick plays that Coach Fred J. Murphy's proteges might pull. The Lexington, Ky., Leader was so confident of a victory for the hometown boys that they raid State would win by town touchdowns. Every man on DeHart's team that will start today has blood in his eyes and he will be out there to win the second conference battle for the Generals in as many games.

"BULLET" JOE SILVERSTEIN ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

All-Southern Fullback and Captain of Varsity in '19 Engaged.

An announcement which will be of interest to the Student Body is the engagement of "Bullet" Joe Silverstein of Charleston, W. Va., to Miss Bertha Susman of Washington, D. C. Silverstein, who is a member of the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, was captain of the varsity in 1919, booted the dropkick that beat Georgia Tech 3-0 that year, and was all-Southern fullback, among many other honors that he won at Washington and Lee. He is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. "Bullet" Joe graduated from the Law School three years ago and is at the present time associated with the law firm of Davis and Painter in Charleston.

S AND U REPORTS WILL BE ANNOUNCED MONDAY

The S and U reports will be given out from the registrar's office on Monday morning according to an announcement by the registrar, Mr. E. S. Mattingly. The students may also obtain their reports from their various professors. The registrar will give the number of S's or U's while the individual professors will tell the students in which courses these letters were made.

Two U's or more will bring a student an invitation to call upon the Dean of the University for a conference as to the cause of the unsatisfactory work, and will also determine whether or not a student will be granted an excuse to leave town for any but the best of reasons.

The Generals lead the Virginia team in the conference race to date with one victory and no defeats. V. P. I. has a tie, while Virginia and V. M. I. play their first game today.
