

S. M. A. WINS PREP AND HIGH TITLE FROM ROANOKE

Losers Put Up Game Fight But Superior Stamina of Cadets Is Deciding Factor In Win.

Jefferson High of Roanoke fell before the attack of the Staunton Military Academy Cadets last Saturday night in the championship game of the High and Prep School Basketball Tourney, losing the final game by a margin of seven points, 24-17. The Magicians fought hard throughout the entire battle, but were forced to bow to the superior basket shooting of the victors, who threw the leather through the hoops when points were needed to cinch the contest.

Hard luck camped on the losers' trail time and again whenever the high school lads would shoot for the meshes, as the ball would roll around the ring, then fall outside. The cadets shot their foul tries with uncanny ability, and Sonsire was especially crafty in this respect.

Rice and Moore played in the limelight for the visitors with their basket tossing, the former throwing a sensational overhead basket in the last half, knotting the score. Looney was of great aid to these two in the Magicians' speedy passing combination. Brown won the game for the cadets in the final minutes of the last quarter when he shot three baskets in quick succession to put the Staunton lads ahead. Sonsire was a tower of strength on the defense, and his passing was accurate and fast. Fletcher and Kivligan also played a fine game.

Line-up and summary:

Roanoke—Rice and Barnes, forwards; Moore, center; Looney (C.) and Fitzpatrick, guards. S. M. A.: Kivligan and Hoeft, forwards; Brown, center; Sonsire (C.) and Fletcher, guards.

Field goals: Rice 3, Moor 3, Looney 2, Brown 4, Hoeft 3, Kivligan 3. Foul goals: Looney, Sonsire 2, Brown, Hoeft. Referee: Gooch (Va.). Umpire: Haas (Washington).

A. M. A.-S. M. A. Game.

Augusta Military Academy fought valiantly until the final gun, but the Staunton Military Academy team captured the preparatory school championship Saturday afternoon in the first game of the semi-finals, win-

SWIMMING TEAM BENEFIT MEET COMES TOMORROW

Records Will Be Tried At By Star Swimmers—Many Humorous Features Announced.

A unique and unusual affair has been arranged in order to raise funds to enable the swimming team to make its trip to Atlanta, Ga., where it will meet the Georgia Tech aquatic stars on March 28. This will be in the nature of a water carnival in the Washington and Lee swimming pool Thursday night at eight o'clock.

Attempts will be made to break the school tank records in a number of events. Gorenflo will endeavor to lower the record of the fifty yard breast stroke, while Letcher will try the fifty yard back stroke. Others will attempt to better the 220 yard relay and the 220 yard dash record. All men succeeding in lowering records will be recommended for major monograms.

The most important part of the carnival and that which is likely to please the spectators most is the humorous program. There will be an old clothes race, in which the contestants will be required to race fully attired; a candle stick race; an obstacle race; a tandem race; a madley race; and a wash-tub race. A humorous diving contest will also be a main feature.

TOURNEY BANQUET WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Dr. Smith Presents Trophies To Winning Teams and Individuals—Many Trophies Given.

At the buffet supper held at the University Dining Hall immediately after the Staunton Military Academy-Roanoke High School clash, Dr. Henry Louis Smith presented the various awards and prizes to the members of the winning teams which they earned in the second annual All-Virginia High and Preparatory School basketball tournament.

Looney, of Roanoke High, was the winner of two loving cups, receiving one as the best all-around player in the tournament and the other as a result of being high point man in one game. Looney made 18 points in the Roanoke-Bristol tilt in the semi-finals.

Ebert, of Fishburne, won the loving cup for being the best foul goal shooter. He tied with Sublett, of Bristol, but these two players tossed a coin, and Ebert won. The record was nine successful tosses via the foul route in thirteen attempts.

The Staunton Military Academy five was presented with a regulation full size basketball as being the winners of the tourney. Each member of the team was also given a gold basketball. To the Roanoke High quint, Dr. Smith presented a half-size regulation silver basketball, which is emblematic of the high school championship of the state, and also as runners-up in the tournament. Each member of the Magic City quint was the recipient of a miniature silver basketball.

BAKER ADVOCATES LEAGUE OF NATIONS SOCIETY HERE

Ring-tum Phi,
Washington and Lee University,
Lexington, Va.

Gentlemen:

I believe that in every College in America, there should be formed a branch of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, not only to study the subject of International Relations in a dispassionate and non-partisan way but to consolidate the voice of the scholarship of America and make it heard in leadership and with authority.

Whether we believe the League of Nations to be the best way to preserve the peace of the world or not, we are obliged to face the fact that it is the only way now being seriously tried in the world and we ought either to help the League or give the world a better hope.

For the last four years, our attitude toward the League of Nations has been that of a man who stands on a sidewalk and watches another racing breathlessly down the street to the scene of a fire to rescue the trapped inmates of a burning building while the bystander contents himself with adverse comments upon the clothes of the rescuer and indulges in speculative doubts whether he may not, after all, have in mind the setting of more buildings on fire rather than the rescuing of the persons whom, he says, he is seeking to save.

Cordially yours,
NEWTON D. BAKER.

Al Orth, of Lynchburg, Va., a former coach at W. and L. and a famous old-time pitcher of the big leagues, has been engaged at V. M. I. to coach the pitching staff.

WRESTLERS DEFEAT ARMY IN THRILLER

Every Bout But One Goes Into Extra Round—Holt Decides Match By Decision Over His Man.

The Blue and White grapplers ended a glorious season this year by defeating West Point who had heretofore not lost a meet the entire year. However it was not a walkaway for the Washington and Lee wrestlers as every bout but one went overtime. Both teams forged ahead twice during the meet and the score was tied three times only to be broken in the final bout in which Holt won a decision over his man, thus winning the meet for Washington and Lee.

Walters in the 135-pound class was the only man who had his own way. He had his West Point opponent on the mat in 3 minutes and 40 seconds.

Both Tilson and Holt won decisions over their men after they had wrestled overtime, which was the first bout their opponents had lost during the season. Wigglesworth also won his bout on an overtime decision.

Summerson and his Army opponent went nine minutes, Summerson finally losing by a 12 second disadvantage.

After the meet was over the team broke training and had a large banquet at which Tilson was elected captain for next year. Their trip was one of the most enjoyable taken by any team this year.

Coach Brett has good reason to be proud of such an aggregation and he wishes to thank the men from the bottom of his heart for their untiring devotion and hard work.

FRESHMEN BATTERYMEN BEGIN OUTDOOR PRACTICE

Other Positions Are Held Up By Lack of Place To Practice—Will Begin Soon.

The entire freshman baseball squad has not yet begun practice because of adverse conditions, but expects to get under way within the next week or ten days. The battery however began practice out of doors Tuesday afternoon and will continue until regular practice begins, if the weather permits.

Due to the fact that Varsity baseball and spring football practice are being held daily in the afternoon on Wilson field, and that a large section of ground in front of the grandstand is being plowed up in preparation for the making of a suitable baseball diamond and football grid nearer the stadium, the freshmen have been left without a suitable place to practice. The completion of the work on the new field is expected within a week or two at the most. After this time, the freshman baseball candidates will report to Coach Twombly at 4:30 p. m.

State Students to Meet Here Soon

Volunteer Movement For Foreign Missions Holds Meeting Here March 20, 21 and 22.

About 200 young men and women from the colleges and universities of Virginia will attend the annual meeting of the state Student Volunteer Movement for foreign missions, which will be held in Lexington on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 20, 21, and 22.

The assembly will be addressed by many well known speakers, among whom are the following: Mrs. Mott Martin, missionary to Africa; C. C. Williamson, of Mexico; Mr. Ranson of India; Mr. McNeal Potea of China, and Mr. Stauffer who is Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement in the United States.

The fraternities will keep 50 boys,

GYM DEPARTMENT ARRANGES NEW MEET

Indoor Athletic Hexathlon and Swimming Meet Will Be Held By Various Groups.

On Friday and Saturday, March 13 and 14, the department of physical education will offer an indoor athletic hexathlon and swimming meet. This is something new at W. and L. and much interest is being manifested. The events will include swimming a distance of two lengths of the pool, running high jump, four laps on the indoor track, weight lifting, foul shooting, boxing, and wrestling.

The object of the meet is to get as many as possible to compete so that the best all-around individual and the best all-around team may be determined. It is also thought that by this meet many non-athletes will become interested in healthful sports. The following rules have been drawn up for the contest:

1. Each fraternity, club, dormitory, etc., or any non-fraternity organization is to select five men to be represented as their team.
2. No individual can compete for more than one organization.
3. No individual can compete in that sport in which he has received a monogram.
4. Every entry will be given credit for his position in each event.

A cup will be awarded to the team scoring the highest number of points and a medal to the individual scoring the highest number of points. It is hoped that every fraternity and as many non-fraternity organizations as possible will enter.

It is very important that those desiring to enter hand their names to either Coach Fletcher or Coach Brett before Thursday night.

CAPT. FELSENTHAL WAS STAR OF BOXERS

Has Made Envious Record In Three Years of Boxing—Northern Trip Gave Him Distinctive Honors.

Ed Felsenthal, who was recently elected captain of the W. and L. pugilists to succeed Harry Rand, won distinctive boxing honors when the ringmen recently made their northern trip. He won all three of his bouts, one of which was with Leyden, intercollegiate champion in the 118-pound class of last year and runner up in the Olympic tryouts for the 125-pound class.

As Felsenthal was the only man to win his match at the University of Virginia in 1923, he was chosen to captain the Generals' boxers. Last year he was again honored with this selection and again this year when Rand, who had been elected, had to abandon the ring.

Felsenthal made an enviable record his first two years as a boxer and his performances on the Generals' northern trip have placed him at the peak.

In his match with Adams of Yale the honors of the first round were evenly divided, but in the last two, Felsenthal easily outpointed his man, the judges awarding him the decision.

Peter Leyden, Felsenthal's opponent at Colgate, was slated by all sport writers to win his match eas-

DR. SMITH RETURNS FROM CAROLINA TRIP

Made Six Addresses To Civic Organizations In Raleigh On Lee School of Journalism.

Dr. Henry Louis Smith, President of the University, has recently returned from his five-day trip to Winston-Salem, one of the largest cities in North Carolina. Dr. Smith was in Winston-Salem March 3, 4, and 5, and during that time made six public addresses to civic organizations, among them Rotary, Kiwanis Club, Women's Club, U. D. C., and the city high school. By this means, Dr. Smith reached over two thousand citizens and future citizens of North Carolina.

This trip was but one of the many beneficial results arising from Dr. Smith's conferences with all the leading newspaper editors of the South about four years ago. Since that time, at three conventions of Southern newspaper men, these men have heartily endorsed the Lee Memorial School of Journalism, and at the last convention pledged themselves to put across a campaign for $500,000 for that purpose.

The editors of the papers of Winston-Salem have given a typical illustration of the work such men are doing for Washington and Lee and its new school. With the aid of Mr. Verbon Kemp, '23, and Mr. J. L. Thomas, '24, field agents for the campaign, arrangements were made for Dr. Smith's coming to that city, and an extensive schedule of publicity of the best type preceded his coming. During his stay there the newspapers carried every day editorials on the subject, reproductions of Dr. Smith's speeches, descriptions of Washington and Lee, and so on, without limit. By such means Washington and Lee is fast on the road to becoming the best known of Southern institutions.

Alumni Magazine Out This Week

Interesting Articles On Three Large Bequests Appear—Also Review of Basketball and Minor Sports.

The March issue of the Alumni Magazine has gone to press and will appear the latter part of this week. Among the most interesting articles are one on the life of Doremus, news of the Doremus, McCormick, and Harvey bequests, an article on "Lexington," and reviews of the winter sports for the season just closing.

The cover contains a picture of Dr. M. P. Burks, now a member of the Virginia Supreme Court, who was connected with the Law Department from 1899 to 1918, and was Dean of Law for fifteen years from 1903 to 1918. This issue also contains a double page picture of various prominent alumni of the classes from '08 to '12, taken while the men were students at Washington and Lee.

"The Life Story of Robert Parker Doremus" has been written for the Alumni Magazine by Charles A. McDermott who is attorney for the Doremus estate. Interesting information concerning Washington and Lee's three gifts of recent years, the Doremus bequest, the McCormick Endowment Fund, and the Harvey Loan Fund, is contained in the magazine.

Summaries of the basketball, boxing, wrestling, and indoor track seasons are given in brief form. "Lexington" is an instructive and amusing story of the town of Lexington by Stuart Moore, an alumnus and local business man. There are also several other articles and news of the alumni.

The faculty of Yale University has expelled one of its leading football stars for violation of the regulations forbidding a student to marry during his college course.

The Honor System.

The Honor System and its intricate workings on the Washington and Lee campus has just undergone another trial in which it has emerged victorious. The working of this sacred and renowned rule in the every-day life of the campus has again proved itself to be beyond the shadow of a doubt, so steadfastly imbedded in the hearts of the students that not even the most infinitesimal breach of its rules will be tolerated. A system which is so rigidly upheld by the Student Body and is so inclusive and far reaching as ours is, is a wonderful attribute to any school.

Our system here is one of the oldest and the most perfected of any in use in the schools throughout the country. Small wonder it is then that nearly every college or university which contemplates or has contemplated installing such a system in their own school has first sent their representatives here to look over its application on this campus in order to pattern and model theirs by it.

Students in colleges which have not such a system are amazed when informed of a system which covers so many matters regarded by them as unimportant. They look on an Honor System as a miracle and a thing which is impractical, if not impossible in the field of colleges.

We, here at Washington and Lee have come to look on the system as a time honored custom just as it should be regarded. Immediately upon entering the school life here, the principle is explained from then on it is a thing which is taken as a matter of fact and never questioned. We glory in the fact that we are left to ourselves to do the right thing and at no time have anybody watching us to see whether we are conducting ourselves as true gentlemen.

Of course there must be exceptions to every rule and as in the course of all human activity there will be someone who perhaps not realizing the wrong which he is doing, will break the rules of such a system. Just such a painful situation have we gone through and as a result the Honor System has come through stronger and more honored than at any previous time. It is just such breaches and subsequent testings of the rule which enable it to be the force for good which it undoubtedly is.

In order to stimulate interest in chess, the students of California University are holding a correspondence chess tournament with Stanford, their rivals in all other forms of sports. The various plays are sent from the two teams every day by postcards.

A course in meat packing is now a regular course at the University of Chicago.

THE COLLEGE WORLD

The Harvard University Student Council recently rejected the honor system as "impractical." The plan was rejected on the report of an investigating committee, which reported that the changing nature of examinations was detrimental to an honor system.

The women of Union College, Uniontown, Pa., have been given three days in which to lengthen their skirts, put collars around their necks, throw away cosmetics, or otherwise be barred from school.

A law student at Stanford University picked up a hearse at a bargain and took seven of his friends to their homes in Los Angeles to spend the holidays. The passengers paid three dollars each for fare.

At a recent meeting of the Rocky Mountain Press Association, at which the editors and business managers of most of the college and university papers of the states of Colorado and Wyoming were present, it was decided that the association should go on record as being opposed to the present plan of election of editors by popular student vote. It was pointed out that the student body as a whole had no way of knowing the inside workings of the paper and who was best fitted for the position, and that as a result, these positions were too often filled on a basis of popularity rather than merit.

Motion pictures of the life at the University of Florida will be shown in that state as an advertisement for the institution.

To climb three of six designated mountains is the requirement for membership in the hikers' club of the University of Utah. The official pin of the hikers' club is a small book of gold.

The student council at a Western university announces that a referendum on the proposal to have regulated dancing will be conducted in the near future. This has resulted in an overshadowing of all the underclass which will be held at the same time.

President's Paragraphs

No. 10.

Alcohol and Manhood.

1. This is an Age of Brains. Alcohol, even in small quantities, abolishes brain-power, nullifies education, and soon turns its victim into a brainless fool.

2. Personal control over one's own faculties and actions is the first requisite for leadership, marked influence, and ultimate success in any human enterprise. It is the dominant distinction between a successful career and a failure, between genuine manhood and irresponsible childhood. Every form of self-control and self-guidance as at once undermined or destroyed by alcohol. Its victims tend inevitably toward the silliness of hysteric childhood, the uncontrolled passions and fighting instincts of our lower nature, and the slow paralysis of all mental and moral self-assertion and self-control.

SIGMA UPSILON TO MEET THIS FRIDAY

The bi-weekly meeting of Sigma Upsilon, honorary literary fraternity, will be held Friday at 8 o'clock. This society which is limited to twelve members, three of which may be from the faculty, has at present only two vacancies. At the last election which occurred in November, two faculty members and three students were admitted. The organization at present has as faculty members Dr. E. F. Shannon, Dr. S. P. Neff, and Professor E. R. Clapp.

At the last meeting Anatole France, Lord Dunsay, and Edna St. Vincent Millay were discussed and criticized as representing the modern short story, drama, and poem, respectively. The discussion Friday night will be directed along the same channels.

PUBLISH LIST OF BOOKS IN AMERICAN LITERATURE
RECOMMENDED BY SHANNON

Professors In English Department,
Drs. Shannon and Neff, Compile Book List.

During the last few weeks Dr. E. F. Shannon and Dr. S. E. Neff of the English Department have spent much time in preparing a list of the American novels that they recommend to college students. After completing their list of novels they will compile a group of poems which in turn will be followed by a recommended collection of short stories. The collection of novels which is arranged in chronological order will be published in two issues of the Ring-tum Phi.

The following group represents the first half of this list and the latter half will appear in a later issue: "Wieland" (a Gothic Romance), by Charles Brockden Brown; "The Deerslayer," "The Last of the Mohicans," "The Pathfinder," "The Pioneer," "The Prairie," "The Spy," and "The Pilot," by James Fenimore Cooper; "The Yemassee" and "Guy Rivers," by William Gilmore Simms; "Moby Dick," by Herman Melville; "The Scarlet Letter," "The House of Seven Gables," "The Blithedale Romance," and "The Marble Faun," by Nathaniel Hawthorne; "John Brent," by Theodore Winthrop; "Reveries of a Bachelor," by Donald Grant Mitchell; "Prue and I," by George William Curtis; "The Minister's Wooing," by Harriet Beecher Stowe; "Ben Hur," by Lew Wallace; "The Hoosier School-Master," "Rexy," "The Circuit Rider," by Edward Eggleston; "Elsie Venner," by Oliver Wendell Holmes; "A Chance Acquaintance," "A Modern Instance," "The Rise of Silas Sapham," "Indian Summer," "A Hazard of New Fortunes," and "The Kentons," by William Dean Howells; "Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn," "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," and "Pud'nhead Wilson," by Mark Twain; "The American," "The Europeans," "The Portrait of a Lady," and "The Wings of a Dove," by Henry James; "Ramona," by Helen Hunt Jackson; "The Grandissimes," by G. W. Gable; "The Story of a Country Town," by E. W. Howe; "Democracy," by Henry Adams; "The Bread Winners," by John Hay; "John Ward," "Preacher" and "Philip and His Wife," by Margaret Deland; "Looking Backward," by Edward Bellamy; "Rudder Grange" and "The Casting Away of Mrs Leeks and Mrs. Aleshine," by Frank Stockton; "David Harum," by Edward Noyes Westcott; "Zoroaster," "Via Crucis," "In the Palace of the King" and "Saracinesca," by Francis Marion Crawford; "The Choir Invisible," by James Lane Allen; "Soldiers of Fortune," by Richard Harding Davis; "Hugh Wynne," by S. Wier Mitchell; "When Knighthood Was in Flower," by Charles Major; "Red Rock," by Thomas Nelson Page; "Prisoners of Hope" and "To Have and To Hold," by Mary Johnston; "Janice Meredith" and "The Honorable Peter Stirling," by Paul Leicester Ford.

Voice of Student Body

A few weeks ago the student body of the University heard a very splendid address on the League of Nations, which created a great deal of new interest on the subject. Since that time, however, nothing further has been done to provoke discussion on this very important matter, and the writer of this letter is of the opinion that the interest created so recently should not be allowed to die out.

The other day we heard a student say, "The League of Nations is a dead issue." The League of Nations is NOT a dead issue. It is the most important matter under the world's consideration today. All thinking Americans (and university students should certainly be included in this category) are realizing more and more that America's present policy of isolation is a disgrace and a dishonor to the country. Emphasis should also be laid upon the fact that it is no longer a question of party politics. It is a matter for the country as a whole to face.

It is the writer's opinion that the students are highly uninformed concerning the League of Nations. The whole question has been so colored by petty politics that it is hard to see clearly. And the lack of real information tends to cause a deplorable apathy and disinterest in the question.

We would like to see something done to give the Student Body this information. We should also like to see some pro and con discussion in this column of the Ring-tum Phi.

BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY LAUNCHES ESSAY CONTEST

Two Prizes To Be Awarded Best Essay On "Practical Application of Eugenics."

At last night's meeting of the Biological Society, an announcement was made that two prizes, one of $10 and another of $5, will be given for the best essay on "Practical Application of Eugenics."

The purpose of the contest is to stimulate the interest of Biological students in some of the practical applications of the theory learned in the classroom. Rules will be found on the Bulletin Board.

H. Pollack and P. B. Yates are members of the committee appointed by the Biological Society to conduct the contest.

The meeting was held open to a large number of visitors after J. R. VanBuren was initiated. An interesting paper on "Community Life of Lower Insects" was read by J. M. Green, and another on "Pre-Natal Influences," by J. N. Williams. Plans also were discussed for a smoker to be given soon for all biology students.

STUDENTS' PRESSING SHOP CHANGES MANAGEMENT

Also Change In Location To 14 Jefferson St., Next To Harlow's Print Shop.

The Students' Pressing Shop changed hands several days ago for the fourth time since its organization in 1923, and is now owned and operated by L. J. Rauber, H. C. Rand, and F. C. Barclay. The shop has been moved from its old location to 14 North Jefferson Street, next to Harlow's Print Shop. This is said to be a more convenient location.

The Students' Pressing Shop was started by J. Hendon, H. D. Leake, and C. E. Shropshire in 1923. The next year it was bought out by Hendon, and last spring was purchased by A. P. Sloan, F. C. Barclay and M. Baugher, who in turn have just sold it to the present owners. J. T. McVay has been connected with the business for some time.

LATE DR. HOWERTON GIVES ENTIRE LIBRARY

Three hundred and ninety-three volumes have been received by the University Library as gifts this year, in addition to the entire library of the late Dr. J. R. Howerton, former head of the department of psychology. The total number of books purchased this year is 1,493. Nearly all the novels have been bought with money derived from fines.

Use of the library is granted to the students subject to the honor system which means that removal, concealment, or mutilation of books or any other printed matter is considered a violation of the honor code.

TOWNS MAKES CHANGES IN BUS LINE SCHEDULE

The recent changes in the schedule of the Towns Bus Line together with the changes made some months ago when a bus line was established between Lexington and Roanoke have been the source of much satisfaction to the people of Lexington and students. A few days ago two additional busses were put on the run between Lexington and Staunton, giving four busses a day each way. These arrive and depart from Lexington at very convenient hours and make good connections with the trains both in Staunton and in Roanoke.

The busses leave for Staunton at 8 and 10 a. m. and 12:30 and 4:30 p. m.; and for Roanoke at 7 and 10:15 a. m. and 1:30 and 4:30 p. m.

STATE STUDENTS TO MEET HERE SOON

ning the contest, 21-16. This game marked the first time that the two schools had met in any athletic contest in the past four years. The battle furnished plenty of thrills to the spectators, with the Augusta lads leading 8-7 at half-time.

The Staunton boys came into their own in the last half, rallied, and defeated the Fort Defiance five in the fourth quarter. The victors were shooting with eagle-eye accuracy, and forged into the lead late in the game.

The entire Staunton team performed as a well-oiled machine, while Mann and Jacobs were bearing the brunt of the battle for the losers. Sonsire again proved his worth at guarding, playing a bang-up game on the defense. Kivligan, Hoeft and Brown formed the scoring machine of the victors, while Jacobs and Mann amassed most of the points for the losers.

Line-up and summary: Staunton: Hoeft and Kivligan, forwards; Brown, center; Sonsire (C.) and Fletcher, guards. Augusta: Diddlebock and Colvin (C.), forwards; Conway, center; Jacobs and Mann, guards. Field goals: Kivligan 2, Hoeft 2, Brown 2, Sonsire, Conway 2, Jacobs 2, Mann. Foul goals: Brown 2, Kivligan, Mann 3, Colvin, Jacobs. Referee: Gooch (Va.). Umpire: Haas (Washington).

Roanoke-Bristol Game.

Roanoke High flashed the greatest form of the tourney when it downed the Virginia High five of Bristol, in the last of the semi-finals, earning the right to meet the S. M. A. quintet in the championship battle Saturday night. The Magicians captured the high school crown by scoring 42 markers, while the Bristol lads could only amass 17 counters during the contest. The losers furnished surprisingly little opposition for the Jefferson High five, who ran roughshod over the former team when they seemed to threaten.

Looney ran up the highest score for the tourney in a single game when he sank eight field baskets and two free tries through the meshes for 18 points. Moore countered 11 markers, and ran the Roanoke pilot second high honors for the contest. Sublet showed unusually good form in foul goal tossing, making six good throws.

Fitzpatrick displayed first class ability at guarding for the winners, while Capt. Cocks fought a determined battle for the losers. Rutherford and Sublet starred on the offense for the Bristol quint, who were outclassed from the opening whistle until the final whistle.

Line-up and summary: Bristol: Rutherford and Sublet, forwards; Davis, center; Cocks (C.) and McEver, guards. Roanoke: Rice and Barnes, forwards; Moore, center; Looney (C.) and Fitzpatrick, guards. Field goals: Looney 8, Moore 5, Rice 4, Barnes 2, Rutherford 2, Sublet, Davis, Hines. Foul goals: Looney 2, Moore, Barnes, Sublet 6, Rutherford. Referee: Gooch (Va.). Umpire: Haas (Washington).

ily. He won the title in the 118-pound class last year and was runner-up in the Olympic tryouts for the 125-pound class. However, Felsenthal upset the dope by defeating Leyden in an extra round, during which he knocked him down. One of the unique features of this match was the fact that the two opponents were captains of their respective teams.

At the University of Pennsylvania, Felsenthal and Kaplan were required to box an extra round to decide the bout as Kaplan won the first round and Felsenthal the third. The second round was a draw. In the extra period, Felsenthal out-pointed his man and won the decision.

During the 1925 season, Felsenthal has lost only one bout, that at the University of Virginia on a close decision. In all others, he has either secured a knockout or a decision over his opponent. This is Felsenthal's third year and he has one more year in which to continue his college boxing career.

TUCKER REFUSES RAISE

It is interesting to note that Representative Henry St. George Tucker, former professor at Washington and Lee and for whom Tucker Hall was named, has refused to accept the increase in salary of $7,500 to $10,000 appropriated by Congress recently. He has done this because of a precedent set by his Grandfather, a member of the House in 1816, who refused such an increase in salary.
