TWO SPECIALS TO LYNCHBURG IF NECESSARY

Very Important That All Going Sign
Up Early; Big Entertainment
Planned For Students.

Two cards will be placed in front of the Co-op the first of next week on which all desiring to go on the special trains to the V. P. I. game in Lynchburg next Saturday are urged to sign. The C. & O. Railway will possibly run two special trains, returning after the game, provided there are sufficient men on each to pay. It is extremely important that everyone intending to see the game should sign up early in the week for one of the two trains in order that it may be ascertained whether the running of both specials is possible.

The Washington and Lee Alumni of Lynchburg as usual are making extensive plans for the entertainment of the Student Body next Saturday, the day of the annual V. P. I.-Washington and Lee game.

Practically the entire Student Body will make the trip. It is planned to have a parade formed at the station upon arrival of the Generals' special. The students will march en masse to the Virginia Hotel, where Fred McWane, president of the Washington and Lee Alumni in Lynchburg, will welcome the student in behalf of the alumni and the city. As was the case last year the keys to the city will be turned over to the Student Body for the day.

An important feature of the day in addition to the game will be the dance given that night. It will be an invitation dance and all Washington and Lee men will be admitted free of charge. Another event of the day will be a show with a cast directly from New York. This will be given in time for the students to have an opportunity to attend the dance afterward.

There will probably be two specials returning that night, one at 8 o'clock and the other at midnight. In the event of failure to operate two specials there will be one, leaving Lynchburg at 11 o'clock.

Tickets to the game can be bought at the Co-op for $1.25. All of these tickets are for reserved seats in the special Washington and Lee section of the bleachers. Those who wait until their arrival in Lynchburg before purchasing their tickets will have to pay the full price of $2.00.

FANCY DRESS LEADERS NEGOTIATING WITH A NUMBER OF ORCHESTRAS

Garber-Davis, California Ramblers,
George Olsen and Benny Krueger
Being Considered Now.

Negotiations are being carried on by R. D. Maben, Jr., president of Fancy Dress, and J. D. Carter, business manager, with several nationally known orchestras to perform at the nineteenth annual Fancy Dress Ball. Among the orchestras being considered are Garber-Davis Orchestra of Miami, The California Ramblers, George Olsen's orchestra, and Benny Krueger's orchestra of New York City. Negotiations are also being carried on to secure a ballet dancer for the occasion.

Arrangements for Fancy Dress are being started in ample time this year, and President Maben announces that he and his co-workers expect to make this year's ball live up to the high standard set by its predecessors.

DRIVE OVER TOP

"Y" drive went far over the top the past week, but official figures will not be available until Secretary Zeffoss returns from Atlanta Tuesday.

HENRY WILSON IS APPOINTED VICE- PRES. FANCY DRESS

This Is the Latest of a List of Honors
That Wilson Has Received
Recently.

Henry M. Wilson, star quarterback of the Generals' football team, has been appointed vice-president of Fancy Dress, according to an announcement by R. D. Maben, Jr., president of Fancy Dress Ball for 1926.

In addition to his ability on the gridiron and on the basketball floor, Wilson is a member of the following campus organizations: Kappa Alpha, Omicron Delta Kappa, Alpha Kappa Psi, Cotillion Club, '13 Club, and White Friars.

PRESIDENT SMITH MAKES ADDRESSES

Kiwanians and Lynchburg Alumni Receive Stirring Messages of Current Interest.

Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of the University, was the principal speaker at the weekly meeting of the Lynchburg Kiwanis Club at their luncheon yesterday. His subject was, "General Lee, the Engineer of a New Era."

In his address, Dr. Smith made a brilliant summary of the achievements of the great man as warrior, peacemaker, and educator. Special emphasis was placed on that fruitful period of Lee's life spent as head of Washington College. In five years, Dr. Smith said, General Lee transformed the college endowed by Washington from the ultra-conservative college into an ultra-modern institution half a century ahead of its time, with undergraduate departments doubled in number and a number of professional departments organized. In conclusion, Dr. Smith paid a short but eloquent tribute to the man he termed as "the engineer of a new era."

Dr. Smith was again the main speaker the following evening at a banquet at the Virginia Hotel of the Washington and Lee alumni of this section.

Keen interest was shown by the alumni throughout Dr. Smith's address, being especially marked in regard to the president's plans for the expansion of our institution. Dr. Smith took as his subject for this occasion "Recent Developments and Possibilities of Washington and Lee," telling in detail the things which have been accomplished by the school during the last three years.

Among the more important things which he enumerated were the creation of a department of electrical engineering; creation of a department of education; establishment of the Lee School of Journalism; building and equipping of a new chemistry building, judged one of the finest of its kind in the country; establish-

Troub Orchestra Planning Concert

The first practice of the Troubadour Orchestra was held Friday, October 9. Twenty-six men answered the call for players, among them eight violinists and six saxophone players. The violin material is especially promising.

New music has been secured for the orchestra. This year will witness a change in the policy of the orchestra as to the type of music played, as dance music will not be featured. Instead will be selections from the various light operas. The orchestra plans to give its first concert about Christmas time.

L. Vaughan Grady is conductor of the organization the present year.

KEEN RIVALRY FOR RING TEAM

Wrestlers Also Compete For Places; Heavy Men Report
After Football.

Added progress and interest is being shown in the wrestling and boxing teams in the last week, the two teams having finished the preliminary practice and entering into real competition. A few letter men are again out for the team and also several new candidates of much ability. Lancaster is the best that Coach Mathis has seen an amateur competition in the 115-pound class. Manager Felsenthal will box at 125 pounds this year. Felsenthal won his monogram last year in this class.

Almost all of the heavier weights will be contested for by men who are out for football. Hearon, a veteran in the 135-pound class, has not reported yet, due to the conflict with football season. He will find plenty of opposition from Ginsburg, who is showing up well in that weight. Durham in the 145-pound event is also a football man. Captain Wilkenson is showing exceptional ability in the light-heavy class. Spotts of the 175-pounders and Budnick in the unlimited class will report as soon as the football season is over. Both of these men are veterans of last year.

The wrestling team is progressing equally as well as the boxing team, though it is handicapped a great deal by the conflict with football. The 115-pound class has Summerson, a monogram man, back this year. Driver is showing up well in this weight along with several other men. Burton is doing nicely in the 125-pound class and threatens to give Wigglesworth, who is out for cross-country, a real tussle for the leadership. The 135-pound event is without a veteran and is being competed for by eight men who are showing up well.

Walters wrestled at 135 pounds last year, but is back this season weighing in the next division. There will be keen competition between him and Yankee, who is the monogram man in that class. The middle weight class is minus a veteran this year, but Woolwine is leading the other candidates for the honors. Captain Tilson has not started practice due to football, but will again be seen in the 175-pound division. There are no candidates in the unlimited class, but Holt, a veteran and a football man, will report as soon as that season is over.

Coach Mathis expects several candidates in the heavier weights soon after the pigskin season is over.

CANDLELIGHT SEXTETTE IS FIRST ON "Y" LYCEUM

"The Candlelight Sextette" comes to Lexington Thursday night, Oct. 22, as the first number of the Y. M. C. A. lyceum course for 1925. The sextette is under the direction of Miss Marie Caslova, violinist. The New York Evening Sun is quoted as saying of her, "A most brilliant tone and wonderful technique." Associated with her are other artists with violin, viola, cello, flute, and piano.

The two other numbers which with the "Candlelight Sextette" compose the lyceum course are "The Swedish National Quintette" and Dora de Philippe, who will be accompanied by the Moeller Trio, including a tenor, violinist and pianist. All the numbers will be held in the auditorium of the Lexington High School.

Students and faculty members are admitted free to all three numbers.

GENERALS SWAMP KENTUCKY WILDCATS FOR INITIAL WIN 25-0

Henry Wilson, Generals' Quarter, Stars With Forward Passes---Rauber Rips Kentucky
Line at Will

Washington and Lee's Fighting Generals scored their first victory of the 1925 season when they upset the dope in defeating the University of Kentucky Wild Cats by the score of 25 to 0. The Generals' goal line was never threatened, the "Cats" getting no further than the Washington and Lee 45 yard line, while the Generals battered the opposing defense, gaining through the line of scrimmage at will and completing numerous forward passes, netting considerable yardage.

Rauber, gaining a total of 134 yards at scrimmage was the leading ground gainer for the Generals, while Wilson and Palmer each ran up a total yardage that was too much for the Kentucky team to withstand. Alumni from many of the surrounding cities were on hand to cheer the Generals on to their smashing victory.

First Quarter.

FROSH OUTCLASS ROANOKE HI 33-0

Whitlock Makes Two Long Runs
60 and 70 Yards Each
For Touchdowns.

Completely outclassing their opponents of the Magic City in Roanoke this afternoon, the local Frosh gridgers came back to enjoy the informal with a 33 to 0 victory chalked up over the strong Roanoke High School eleven.

Rushing the high lads off their feet in the first few minutes of play, Whitlock ran seventy yards for a touchdown. Making sure of the victory early in the game, the Yearlings sent Smith over for another score after the back had caught a pass and run twenty yards with the ball.

Soon after the start of the third quarter, Whitlock, got away for a sixty yard run which placed the ball

SOCIAL SEASON USHERED IN BY INFORMAL TONIGHT

Zu-Zu Orchestra of Staunton To Furnish Music—Benefit of Sweater Fund.

With the opening selection of the Zu-Zu orchestra of Staunton tonight the social season of Washington and Lee University will officially commence. The dance is being given under the auspices of the Cotillion club for the benefit of the sweater fund. Those in authority have expressed the hope that there will be a large attendance at the dance in order that athletes may have their usual rewards.

Rules that generally prevail at Washington and Lee dances will be enforced. Freshmen will be required to wear the traditional green ties. It has also been requested that all men taking girls will sign the cards given them at the door. In addition to this all visitors are required to have cards before being admitted to the function. These may be obtained from J. T. Bernheim at the Sigma Nu house, and F. M. Hearon at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

The officials of the Cotillion club have been working in anticipation of this first dance for some time. From the word that has issued from headquarters, this dance will uphold the reputation made by those in the past.

Van Horn kicked off to Tracy, who returned the ball to his own 30 yard line. On the next play Tracy fumbled, but Schulte recovered and Tracy made two yards around right end. Smith punted to Palmer on the W. and L. 30 yard line, where Wert downed him. Palmer made three yards through left tackle, and Rauber netted 27 through center. Rauber made seven yards on two successive line plays, when W. and L. was penalized five yards. Palmer made three yards off tackle, and Rauber made first down on Kentucky's 19 yard line by going over center. Rauber made first down in three plays, and on the next play carried the ball to the one yard line, where he took it over for a touchdown on the next play. Thomas kicked the goal. Score: W. and L., 7; Ky., 0.

Van Horn kicked off to Ross, who returned the ball to his 37 yard line. Tracy made four off left tackle, and Smith gained four in two plays at center. Ross made two yards and first down. Tracy fumbled on the next play, and Tilson recovered on the W. and L. 43 yard line. Kentucky was given the ball, however, as the recovery was made out of bounds after a nine yard gain. Ross and Smith were both downed without gaining on the next two plays, while Ross was again stopped by Thomas, making it W. and L.'s ball on downs. Wilson made 19 yards around right end, after which Rauber failed to gain in two attempts. A pass, Wilson to Palmer, was good for 11 yards and Rauber gained a yard on the line. Palmer made nine yards and first down on the next two plays, placing the ball on Kentucky's 17 yard line. Palmer made two yards at center, and Rauber gained two in the same place. Tipps failed to gain, and the ball went to Kentucky on downs on their own ten yard line. Smith immediately kicked to Palmer in the center of the field, the Generals' back returning the ball ten yards. Wilson passed to Thomas for a nine yard gain, and Palmer made first down. Rauber made two yards at center, and then one in the same place. Palmer lost two yards as the quarter ended. Score: W. and L., 7; Kentucky, 0.

Second Quarter.

Wilson passed to Thomas as play started, the captain catching the ball on the six yard line and going over for a touchdown. Thomas' attempt at kick was blocked. Score: W. and L., 13; Kentucky, 0.

Mohney kicked to Wilson on the seven yard line, the ball being return-

The West Virginia Trip.

How many Washington and Lee students will see the annual clash between the Mountaineers and the Generals in Charleston on Oct. 31?

Just how many depends on several things, but mainly upon whether or not the individual student wants to go. Of course he wants to go if he is a loyal supporter of the Big Blue team. Then why not make arrangements now to be there?

According to the Generals' football schedule the Student Body will be able to witness only three more games, V. P. I., Virginia, and N. C. State. Of these, V. P. I. is so near that it is almost a home game, even though we will get a holiday for it. Every loyal follower of the fortunes of the Blue and White wants to see more grid battles than he will be allowed by the present arrangement.

At once the University of West Virginia-Washington and Lee game presents itself as being the nearest and most accessible. Charleston is only about eight or nine hours by rail from Lexington. Excellent connections are made by the Chesapeake and Ohio between the two points. Now the question arises as to the expense of covering that distance. As was announced a few days ago in the Ring-tum Phi, the C. & O. is offering a special rate of $9.06 round trip if as many as 125 make the trip. This rate will be effective on the regular trains to and from Charleston, allowing the student to return on whatever train he desires Sunday or Saturday night. In case 200 passengers are guaranteed a special train will be run.

Washington and Lee has always been noted for her spirit. The team has it and we hope the Student Body has it. Let its members demonstrate it by signifying their intention of attending the West Virginia game. We understand that the University authorities under the system of cuts allowing each man six absences will let any man attend the game if he did not get more than two E's or F's on the last report. Then there should be nothing to prevent your being there.

The Charleston Alumni are making unprecedented efforts to insure the success of the day. The presence of a large number of students to make the cheering section will be essential. The band will probably be there also.

Shall we support the Blue and White against the Mountaineers?

How many then will be at Charleston?

Hall of Fame Nominees.

We are again pleased to see the names of two famous Virginians and former citizens of Lexington among the nominees for the Hall of Fame in New York. While neither of them were connected with Washington and Lee they were members of the faculty of her neighbor, V. M. I., and known to the faculty and students of W. and L. during their lifetimes. They are Matthew Fontaine Maury, "Pathfinder of the Seas," navigator and scientist, and General Thomas Jonathan "Stonewall" Jackson, soldier, teacher, and able associate of General Lee in many of his campaigns.

ECHOES OF PRINCETON

Washington and Lee's firm stand against the strong Princeton Tigers last Saturday has brought considerable comment from many members of the alumni who were fortunate enough to witness the close struggle in Palmer Stadium last week. From New York came a letter to the Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, which is as follows:

"Editor of the Ring-tum Phi,
"Lexington, Virginia.

"Dear Editor:

"As one of that ever too large percentage of the Alumni whose interest and devotion to our dear old W. and L. have not been permitted the same freedom of expression as those who are fortunate enough to live near Lexington, may I add my expression of appreciation of the splendid team which we put on the field Saturday against Princeton.

Their splendid conduct in the face of an almost unprecedented series of bad breaks and unfortunate circumstances won the admiration of all present. They bore themselves as true "Generals" and worthy representatives of the traditions inherited from and inspired by the immortal founders of the University.

"They did not leave the field the victors, but their marvelous defense of their goal line and their superb conduct won the respect and allegiance of everyone. There is no better advertisement in the world than to demonstrate as they did the mettle of the type of spirit that prevails at W. and L.

"It was a great pleasure to meet my friends and associates among the alumni present at the game. Enclosed find my check for subscription to the Ring-tum Phi. If possible would like to have the issue covering the Princeton game.

"Yours for Washington and Lee,
"M. S. SANDERS, '17."

President's Paragraph

No. 6. 1925-'26.

The Mark and Proof of a "Collegebred" Man.

The power to control and direct that mental effort called "interest" or "attention" is the aim, the measure, and the unerring proof of a real "higher education."

If you can't learn lessons or solve problems that "don't interest you," if you can't study subjects that you "don't like," if you fail to learn an important course because you "can't bear the teacher," then rest assured you are not yet a "college man." You have not now and are not now acquiring an Educated Mind. Know also that such a habit and such a disability are fatal to success in the competitive warfare of modern social, political, and industrial life.

The lawyer, the contractor, the engineer, the surgeon, the architect, who cannot give his energetic and whole-hearted attention to a notable trial, a big bridge or building, or a critical operation, entrusted to him regardless of whether it is "interesta fool and a failure.

If, therefore, you are not learning to control and direct your own intellectual attention and interest you are not at present a college man getting a college education.

GENERALS GO 3400 MILES THIS SEASON

Seven of Games Scheduled Are Away From Home—Longest Trip 1100 Miles.

Playing seven of their ten scheduled games on enemy territory this season, the Fighting Generals will cover a surprising amount of ground going to and from the fields of battle. It has been estimated that a total of about 3400 miles will be covered by the time the gridiron togs are doffed following the return from Jacksonville, where the last game of the season will be played against Florida on November 26.

A trip from Lexington to San Francisco and return almost as far as the Mississippi river could be made by the local gridders should they disregard the schedule and take the mileage total in one long journey. Getting down to figures, more within the grasp of students here, forty trips to Hollis and return, or an average of more than one a week would have to be made before the mileage would amount to as much as that which Jimmy DeHart's charges will have covered when the season closes.

The single trips will vary in length from the Florida trip of 1100 miles and the Princeton ride of 650 miles, to that of Lynchburg and return, which will be slightly over 100 miles.

BARRETT ALMOST BEAT "RED" GRANGE RECORD

Captain of '16 Team Best Back in History of Big Blue Eleven.

Last year an article in the Ring-tum Phi, concerning Johnny Barrett, Washington and Lee football star of 1916, created considerable interest on the campus. The account was a short article from the big ten football paper of the University of Illinois.

In going further into detail it is interesting to note that Barrett's record practically equalled that of "Red" Grange. During the season of 1916 Barrett averaged close to a hundred yards gain in every game. He also averaged over the 50-yard mark in punting for the season, and his average in touchdowns was a little more than one a game. During that season Washington and Lee lost only one game and that by the score of 40-21.

The game was with Cornell and was played for the United States Championship. In the first two minutes of play Barrett ran forty yards for a touchdown. Following that he received the Cornell kick-off and dashed ninety-nine yards for a touchdown. Another was registered by him in the second quarter. However, Cornell managed to get three touchdowns in the first half, but failed to get the point after one of their touchdowns, thus making the score at the end of the half 21 to 20 in favor of Washington and Lee. Barrett was knocked out at the beginning of the second half and as a result of this and lack of fresh material, Washington and Lee was downed by the score of 40 to 21. Cornell in that year had defeated Michigan, Harvard and Yale.

Barrett was over six feet tall and weighed one hundred and ninety pounds. He was captain, full-back, and triple threat man of the 1916 team. His playing during the other games of the season was equally as spectacular as it was in the Cornell game. During this season Washington and Lee defeated West Virginia, Swarthmore, Georgia Tech, and tied Indiana.

ed to the 35 yard line before being stopped. Palmer made two and Wilson two in plays at right guard, and Rauber kicked to Mohny on the Kentucky 30 yard line. Smith made six yards around right end, and Hughes gained two at left end. Ross netted two yards at center for first down, and Hughes gained one yard thru center. Mohny was hurt and taken out as he made five yards around right end. Daves tackled Hughes for an eight yard loss, and on his attempted punt Smith slipped on the field and was run out of bounds on the 48 yard line, where W. and L. got the ball in their own territory. Palmer failed to gain at right end, although Rauber netted five in the same place. A pass, Wilson to Thomas, put the ball on the Wild Cats' 30 yard line. Rauber failed to gain, and Palmer lost six yards. A pass, Wilson to Daves, netted ten yards, while another similar pass gained two. Kentucky braced here, and took the ball on downs on their own 20 yard line. Hughes made nine yards at center, and Smith made first down. Smith made two and Hughes three yards, and Smith repeated for two more at left guard. Hughes made three and Smith two, and Smith then kicked to McVay, who returned the ball to his own 35 yard line. Rauber gained two at center, but Palmer tried two plays around end for no gain. Rauber kicked to Jenkins, who was tackled on his own 35 yard line. Smith made three at center, but McVay intercepted Jenkins' pass. Rauber made nine yards in two line plays, but the Generals were penalized five yards for Thomas' off side play. Palmer made four yards at center, but Rauber failed to make first down on the next play, and Kentucky got the ball on downs. Hughes failed to gain at right end, but Dirreck gained four at center. Hughes made eight over center, making first down. Dirreck gained two yards at center, Hughes fumbling on the next play. Holt recovered and McVay made three yards around end as the half ended. Score: W. and L., 13; Kentucky, 0.

Third Quarter.

Van Horn kicked off to Hughes, who received the ball on his 15 yard line and returned it to his 35 yard line. Hughes made four yards at right tackle, but was thrown for a loss of seven yards by Tilson on the next play. W. and L. was penalized five yards for Daves' off side play. Smith kicked to the W. and L. 20 yard line, where Palmer was downed in his tracks. Rauber made one yard at left tackle, but Palmer slipped and failed to gain on the next play. Rauber punted to Jenkins on the Kentucky 35 yard line, the ball being run back ten yards. Jenkins made two yards around right end, but, after Hughes had lost one yard, Smith punted to Wilson. This was the first time the ball had been in the Wild Cats' possession in Generals' territory. Rauber failed to gain as Kentucky was penalized five yards for off side play, but Rauber made four yards on the next two plays before punting to Jenkins who brought the ball to the W. and L. 39 yard line. Wilson made four yards, but Palmer lost three around left end. The first incomplete General pass was one next attempted from Wilson to Daves, and Rauber punted to Jenkins, who signaled fair catch with the ball on his own 21 yard line. Derrick made ten yards and first down, and Jenkins made three yards at right tackle. Hughes failed to gain, and Rauber intercepted Smith's pass on the Wild Cats' 42 yard line. A pass, Wilson to Thomas, placed the ball on the eleven yard line. Rauber made one yard at center, and Wilson was thrown for a two yard loss as the Kentuckians' line tightened. Rauber made three yards at center, however, and on the next play Wilson passed to Thomas over the goal line for the Generals' third touchdown. Thomas failed to kick goal. Score: W. and L., 19; Kentucky, 0.

Van Horn kicked off to Rice, who returned the ball to his own 40 yard line. Smith made two yards at tackle, and Evans, substituting for Hughes, failed to gain. Tipps intercepted an attempted pass from Jenkins. Wilson made 17 yards around right end for first down as the quarter ended. Score: W. and L., 19; Kentucky, 0.

Fourth Quarter.

Rauber failed to gain at center, but Palmer made 16 yard around left end. Palmer made five yards at right end, and Rauber added three over right guard. Rauber made first down on the Kentucky three yard line, and went to within one yard of the line on the next play. Wilson failed to gain on the next play, and Rauber came within six inches of going over immediately. Rauber made the score on the next play, however. Score: W. and L., 25; Kentucky, 0. Thomas failed to kicked the extra point.

Ross kicked to Holt who returned the ball to his own 40 yard line. On a triple pass Palmer was down for a three yard loss. The Generals were penalized 15 yards for slugging. Rauber punted to Ross, who was thrown after receiving the ball on the W. and L. 48 yard line. Evans failed to gain at left end, but made three yards on the next play. Ross gained one yard, after which Evans kicked to Wilson on the Generals' 12 yard line. Rauber made eight yards off left tackle, but failed to gain on the next play. Rauber kicked to Evans on the Kentucky 20 yard line. Tracy made five yards around end, and Ross made two at center. Tracy's pass was intercepted by Van Horn. The Generals were penalized five yard for off side play. McVay failed to gain, and his attempted pass was intercepted by Evans on the Wild Cats' 30 yard line. Jenkins made four yards at left tackle, and Tracy added six in two more plays. Ross gained five yards at right tackle, but Tracy lost six on a criss-cross play. Evans punted and it was W. and L.'s ball on their own 20 yard line. McVay made five yards at left tackle, repeating with two on the other side of the line. Rauber added two yards at right tackle as the game ended. Score: W. and L., 25; Kentucky, 0.

in scoring position. White went over for another six points.

In the last period the onslaught continued, and Lott and Taylor added one touchdown apiece. Fitzpatrick added one extra point during the game, while Lott's toe brought the total up to thirty-three with two well-placed kicks.

Captain Fitzpatrick, star tackle and veteran of the Roanoke High School team of past seasons, played a stellar game, as did his fellow tackle, Baxter, and Ebert in the line.

DR. MURRAY ADDRESSES BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY

In an address to the members of the Biological Society Thursday night, Dr. Murray discussed the conflicts of the present day between science and religion.

Religion, says Murray, is absolutely a personal matter. It is with the individual alone as to whether he accepts religion, since it is a personal desire. The conclusions of science can be forced on an individual no matter how obstinate he may be.

ment of a "fraternity row," and a stadium partially completed.

Dr. Smith said that it was his ambition to make Washington and Lee an inter-state, inter-church, and all-southern nursery of broadly trained leadership, worthy of its founders, traditions and past leadership.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, University of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learnt 'How to Study,' work is very often a chastisement, a flogging, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Luelis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort. Get a good start and make this year a highly successful one by sending for this hand-book and guide NOW.
