ANNUAL HOMECOMING PLANS COMPLETE FOR WEEK END

All Students Must Have Tickets
By Thursday Night Or Seats
Will Be $2.00.

FRATERNITIES MAKING ELABORATE PLANS

Extra Seats Have Been Added and
Accommodations For 10,000 People
Are Made.

Home-coming and the annual clash of the Generals and the Cavaliers will undoubtedly attract a record breaking crowd to Wilson field this Saturday, according to the advance sale of tickets recorded in the graduate manager's office. Mail orders for tickets have been swarming in to the office from all parts of the state and from other states. Several blocks of good tickets have been put on sale in Roanoke and other surrounding towns.

Extra seats have been added at each end of Wilson field and every available foot of space will be converted into seating capacity by Saturday afternoon. There are accommodations for more than 6,000 now and it is expected that there will be plenty of room for a crowd of over 10,000.

A petition will be made to the local merchants to the effect that they close their stores so everyone may attend the game.

All students who do not have tickets by Thursday night will have to pay the regular price of $2.00.

The Phi Delta Phi goats and the Lexington High School football team will serve as ushers for the game.

Special rates to Lexington from all parts of the state are being given by the railroads for the game. A special train will be run from Charlottesville, arriving here just before the game. The entire student body of the University of Virginia will be present for the occasion, occupying the stadium seats, while the Washington and Lee students will be located on the opposite side of the field in the new bleachers recently purchased by the athletic association.

Most of the fraternity houses here are planning to receive their alumni this week-end, to help in the celebration for the big game, and to participate in a general reunion.

WALTER'S INJURY LOSS TO MATMEN

Early Preparation For Meets Making
Great Headway—Va. Met On Mat
and Ring First.

Though the teams have by no means been picked, the practices have enabled Coach Mathis to tell much about his boxers and wrestlers. Lancaster, considered the best in the 115-pound division, who defeated the clever Yale boxer several years ago, is again on deck. Felsenthal, who has only lost two battles in a career covering three years, is as strong as ever in the 125-pound class. In the 135-pound division there are three boxers of exceptional ability, Mann, Hearon, and Ginsberg. Price and Lyon are showing up well in the 148-pound class. Captain Wilkinson will make an effort to come down to the 148-pound class, but if unable will probably defend the heavier weight. Due to the conflict with football season the heavier weights are lacking in material at present. Of these men are Spotts in the light heavyweight class, and Durham and Budnick, middleweight and limited respectively.

The wrestling team was dealt a severe blow this week when Walters was injured in practice. He was a veteran of last year and had a commendable record. Walters was thrown to the mat and his shoulder dislocated. He is in hopes of being

SECOND INFORMAL FOR VIRGINIA GAME

Southern Collegians To Furnish Music;
Freshman Rule Effective;
Also Gentleman's Agreement.

On Saturday the second informal of the year will be held, which is at the same time the first that the members of the football team will have been present for. As this date is the same as that of the game with the University of Virginia, the dance is being looked forward to with much eagerness by the members of the student body. The Southern Collegians who are making their debut for the season on local dance floors, will furnish the music for the evening.

Freshman rules regarding their conduct at the dance will be in effect and the time limit for them will again be from 10 to 11 o'clock. Members of the frosh football squad are not subject to this rule.

The dance is to be sponsored by the Monogram Club who will function in conjunction with the floor committee.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO AGAIN SATISFIES WITH EXCELLENT SERVICE

The Chesapeake and Ohio railway has again demonstrated its ability to satisfy the Washington and Lee students when it allowed the special rate to go into effect last week-end on the trip to Charleston even though only 100 of the 150 men guaranteed made the trip. According to the reports from the railway company the athletic association will not be held responsible for the difference of fifty men that did not make the trip.

Through the efforts of Mr. M. L. Murray, traveling passenger agent of the road in this section, special service was given those students returning to Lexington on the early morning train on Sunday. A dining car was attached to the train at Clifton Forge, thus adding to the service of the passengers on the last few miles into Lexington.

SENIOR CLASS RINGS

Orders for the class rings may be handed in to K. A. Durham at the Phi Delta Theta house. Specifications for obtaining the 1926 class ring are as follows: Any senior having ninety hours credit at the end of the first semester, and any junior having seventy-five hours at the end of the first semester will be eligible for orders.

NO POOL PROSPECTS

As yet there are no prospects of opening the swimming pool in the near future. When interviewed upon the matter, Coach Fletcher stated that at a meeting of the town council it was said that until sufficient rain had fallen to relieve the shortage of water it would be impossible to spare enough for the pool.

FROSH HOLD LEAD FOR STATE TITLE

Final Game With Bluefield Armistice Day Away From Home To Be Hardest.

The local freshman eleven maintained their place at the top of yearling teams in the state last Friday when they held the V. P. I. frosh to a scoreless tie on Wilson field. Coach Davis' outfit has closed its season as far as games with other freshman teams are concerned, and has made a record which stands out as one of the most brilliant in recent years at Washington and Lee.

The sole remaining game for the frosh is that with the strong Bluefield college eleven. This game will be played at Bluefield on Armistice Day, next Wednesday, and should be one of the hardest and most hotly contested games of the year for the Little Generals. Nothing in the way of records for past years is at hand, and the only medium by which the comparative strength of the opposing teams can be estimated is a comparison of the scores of the two schools against the Greenbrier Military team, of Lewisburg. The cadets, coached by Eddie Cameron, former Blue and White football and basketball star, were defeated by the local eleven in the opening game of the season by a 19 to 0 score. In the fifth game of their schedule, and after the Lewisburg lads had struck their stride, they met and defeated the Bluefield outfit at Lewisburg 6 to 0.

Statistics on the weight of the team which the freshmen will meet a week from today show that the Bluefield squad outweighs both West Virginia University and West Virginia Wesleyan, the two leading teams of the mountain state.

ADDED ATTRACTION FOR SATURDAY'S GAME IN CROSS COUNTRY MEET

As an added attraction of the Virginia game and Homecoming Day the athletic authorities have scheduled a match between the University of Virginia and the Washington and Lee harrier teams. The freshman team as well as the varsity will compete in the meet. Coach Fletcher is in no way discouraged by the defeat dealt to the team by V. P. I., as the team has improved greatly. Gordon is the best bet of the varsity, but Holmes, Fulton, Nance, Lee, Duffy, and Wigglesworth have all made very good time.

Coach Fletcher states that the freshman team is one of the best freshman teams ever turned out by the university, and though they have had no meets so far have been showing remarkable time in the trials. Pillely has won all three time trials in under 17 minutes for the three mile course.

The teams will start and end at the stadium if the day is clear. The two teams starting immediately after each other, and will run the Brushy Hill course. If the day is rainy, however, the teams will run from the gymnasium through the main street course and finish up at the starting point. The freshman course will be only three miles this year and the varsity will be over the whole five mile course.

KIRBY PAGE SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY

Eminent Authority On International Relations Describes Past and Future Wars.

Making his first appearance before the Washington and Lee student body, Mr. Kirby Page, eminent authority on international relations, spoke at the assembly Monday morning. His excellent address on war, its prevention, and the disastrous effects of war, was extremely interesting.

Mr. Page began his address by picturing the sufferings of humanity through the ages due to the wars that were blind and inconsistent in their nature and endeavors. He emphasized the complete failure of war in its attempt to succeed in that which it endeavors to correct. This point was firmly established by an example of the disastrous effects experienced in the World War. In closing the speaker showed how another war with modern methods of warfare would end in the utter ruin of civilization.

RIBBON SOCIETIES PLEDGE 16 EACH

Goats' Antics Will Be One of Features of Virginia-W. & L.
Grid Clash.

"Service, goat," will again be a familiar call on the Washington and Lee campus as the Pan and White Friar elections were held last week. Each society elected sixteen goats.

P. A. N. and White Friar are local ribbon societies organized in 1911, primarily for the purpose of promoting a better inter-fraternity feeling. The new men are ordinarily selected from the sophomore and junior classes and must have been on the campus at least one year.

Both societies are planning some novel performances for the amusement of the spectators between halves of the Virginia-W. and L. game.

DORR TUCKER, FORMER ATHLETE, TO MARRY

An announcement has been received of the marriage of Dorr Tucker, former Washington and Lee football star, to Miss Elizabeth Warren, of Fayetteville, West Virginia, which will be held on November 7th. The wedding will be solemnized at the home of the bride and is the culmination of a high school romance. The young couple will spend several weeks in the east, after which they will make their home in Charleston, West Virginia. Although handicapped by injuries during his last year in school, Tucker made an enviable record as halfback on the football team while here. He is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

State Championship and Contenders For Southern Title To Be Honors Fought For.

"BONESETTER" PUTS WILSON IN GOOD SHAPE

Student Bodies of Both Schools and Huge Home-coming Crowd To Witness Battle.

State champions and contenders for the southern title will be the honors at stake for the Fighting Generals when they clash with the Virginia Cavaliers this Saturday on Wilson field before the student bodies of both institutions and a large homecoming crowd. Not the least bit discouraged over their showing against the powerful West Virginia Mountaineers last Saturday, the Generals are now at work perfecting their defense for the fast backs that are the power of the strong Neale machine.

Henry Wilson, veteran field general of the Washington and Lee eleven, who was forced out of the V. P. I. game with serious injuries and who has since then been on the hospital list, will be ready to don his uniform Saturday when the University of Virginia Cavaliers play here. Wilson watched the West Virginia game from the sidelines and immediately following the game left for Youngstown, Ohio, to interview "Bonesetter" Reese who successfully repaired Wilson's injured limb. With their diminutive quarterback in the line-up the Generals will be able to present their entire first team in Saturday's fray.

The varsity emerged unscathed from the tilt in Charleston and will be in fine shape for the Virginia contest. Showing up in an excellent manner in the last part of the game Saturday the second team played the West Virginia subs off their feet in taking the ball to within the shadows of the Mountaineer goal posts. The line plunging of Stearns was especially noticeable, he being responsible for several first downs made in the closing minutes of the game. Playing well on the defense and showing a powerful drive the late entrants into the contest gave a good account of themselves and insured the coach of excellent reserve material.

Captain Carter Diffey of the Cavaliers will start his first game in many weeks this Saturday. He was severely injured in one of the first contests of the year and has been forced to watch the last three games from

EDDIE CAMERON MAKING GOOD AT GREENBRIER

Greenbrier Charges of Former Generals' Star Going Good With But One Loss.

Coach "Eddie" Cameron, former plunging back and captain of the Washington and Lee football team, and second among the high point scorers of the entire east in 1924, is meeting with much success as athletic coach at Greenbrier Military School. Cameron has some excellent material at Greenbrier and has welded them into a winning combination. Cameron's charges have defeated Roanoke High, Penick High, Hampden-Sidney Reserves, and Bluefield college, whom the Little Generals play in their next game. Greenbrier's only defeat this year was at the hands of the strong Washington and Lee frosh. Huntington High was clearly outplayed in Huntington, but earned a 12-12 tie on a trick play which knotted the count towards the end of the game. Greenbrier has three more hard games on its schedule, meeting Staunton Military Academy, Charleston High, and Kentucky Military Institute.

The World Court.

The Washington and Lee campus is at present deluged with much information and literature concerning the World Court. It is indeed a subject of timely interest and one which vitally concerns the future welfare of the world.

There was a pamphlet tacked up on the main bulletin board last week bearing the caption "Are American Students Thinking Beyond the Borders of the Campus?" No, they probably are not and the students of Washington and Lee are no exception to the rule. A chance is being given them though.

Perhaps many members of the student body wondered just what the World Court was after sitting through a compulsory assembly Monday and listening to Mr. Kirby Page talk for forty-five minutes on the bad things done by human beings before he said that the World Court had been organized four years ago. Their interest was further aroused when he went back to his introductory subject then without explaining the facts about the court which they had supposed would be presented to them in a speech at a compulsory assembly, since any other type of assembly is very unpopular.

With their interest thus piqued many students are wondering about the World Court and, we hope, are becoming better informed on the subject. It is an important issue and one which is now being discussed on campuses all over the country. The Ring-tum Phi plans to help in the dissemination of this important information, and if possible, help our students to think some of these international questions over for themselves.

What Was Wrong?

The last issue of the Ring-tum Phi carried in its editorial column a paragraph praising the spirit of the students displayed in contracting to go to Charleston on the special train. But that paragraph was written Friday night in the heat of departure when it was not known the exact number that made the trip. When the conductor had finished punching the tickets there were only 93 fares to Charleston including the team and band. Where were the rest of the number that signed up? The spirit failed at the crucial time.

In spite of the dearth of passengers to Charleston from Lexington the C. and O. lived up to their end of the bargain and furnished very excellent accommodations to the students both going and returning. As noted elsewhere in today's paper a dining car was attached to the Generals' special at Clifton Forge, giving unprecedented service to Lexington.

We appreciate greatly the service given us by the Chesapeake and Ohio, especially their generous action in not holding the athletic association responsible for the difference in fares between those that made the trip and the number guaranteed. This railway has always co-operated with

Washington and Lee and we hope that our pleasant relations will continue.

Introducing Our Cubs.

Today's issue of the Ring-tum Phi carries the names of those members of the student body who have survived the recently ended tryouts for its staff. It was a stiff competition and one that gave each man a chance to display his ability to the best advantage.

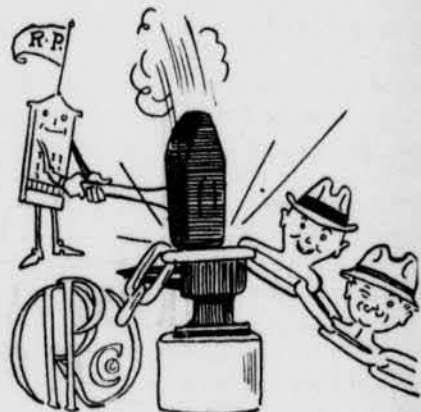

We welcome them with pleasure to our midst and trust that they will enjoy the noble work of journalism on the Washington and Lee campus.

The christening of a new shell for the Albert Sidney Boat club took place at the boathouse on June 11, 1902. A bottle of wine was broken across the bow of the shell by Miss Rosa Johnston Tucker, a great granddaughter of General Albert Sidney Johnston, after whom the club was named.

DANCE ADMISSION

Admission to the Monogram Club dance on Saturday night for visitors will be by card only. Cards may be obtained from the Corner or Co-op from tomorrow on. Every visitor must be vouched for by a student. All townspeople must have cards to gain admission. The Gentlemen's Agreement will be strictly enforced, and students will be held accountable for the conduct of visitors they vouch for.

A dance was recently given by the new girls of Ward-Belmont, in Nashville, Tennessee, for the old girls and it was even spoken of as an enjoyable affair—and the new girls were the "men." Moral—imagine the freshmen of Washington and Lee giving the old men a dance and no girls present.

Here's hoping our first trip strikes you as opportune.

A Conflict of Loyalties.

May I, with absolute frankness, tell a few plain truths to my student fellow members of the W. and L. family circle?

The W. and L. man who conspires with a bootleg law-breaker to bring his poisonous stuff to the W. and L. campus that he and his friends may drink it is loyal to his bodily appetite, to his animal nature, and to his natural desire for self-indulgence. These are his controlling and, alas, degrading loyalties.

But he, through such an attitude and action, is a disloyal citizen of our nation, trampling its constitutional law underfoot; is disloyal to the State of Virginia, bribing a weak citizen to become a law-breaker and risk deserved punishment; is disloyal to the University, whose specific laws concerning intoxicants he is conspiring to break and whose priceless reputation he is besmirching; is disloyal to his fellow-students whose welfare and character and success are all endangered by the poison he is helping to bring in; and is utterly disloyal to his own higher and better nature as a campus-citizen, for he bears upon his heart and shoulders an active citizen's responsibilities for the campus attitude and the campus loyalty with respect to Law and Order and twentieth century Self-government.

The Washington and Lee baseball team had a walkaway in the game with William and Mary played on April 19, 1902, winning by the score of 40-0. William and Mary made 16 errors, while it could collect but three hits off the offerings of Crawford, who was pitching for Washington and Lee.

RING - LINGS

The executive committee is, at present, raising an odor, for which Richard Hudnut would undoubtedly deny all responsibility, over our attitude on the floor committee.

We heartily approve of the present floor committee so far as we are acquainted with it. We think the executive committee's selection was an exquisite piece of diplomacy and sound judgment, but at the same time, it had a comic angle, and that is what this column deals in. If the sinking of the Lusitania appealed to our perverted sense of humor, we'd tell it to the world. In short, we reserve the right to bring out the humorous aspect of a funeral, a Graham-Lee meeting or any other disaster.

Of course, whenever the members of the executive committee demonstrate to the satisfaction of the science department that they can walk on water, we will stop criticising them altogether—maybe.

In an isolated region, almost inaccessible in winter, this 6500 h.p. hydro-electric plant located on the Deerfield River in New England, starts, protects, and stops itself.

A Self-Starting Power Plant

Dawn—the slumbering city awakens and calls for electric current. Many miles away the call is answered. A penstock opens automatically, releasing impounded waters; a water turbine goes to work, driving a generator; and electric current is soon flowing through wires over the many miles to the city. This plant starts and runs itself.

Power plants with automatic control are now installed on isolated mountain streams. Starting and stopping, generating to a set capacity, shutting down for hot bearings and windings, gauging available water supply, they run themselves with uncanny precision.

Thus another milestone has been reached in the generation of electric power. And with present-day achievements in power transmission, electricity generated anywhere may be applied everywhere.

The non-technical graduate need not know where electricity comes from—nor even how it works. But he should know what electricity can do for him no matter what vocation he selects.

The General Electric Company has developed generating and transmitting equipment step by step with the demand for electric power. Already electricity at 220,000 volts is transmitted over a distance of 270 miles. And G-E engineers, ever looking forward, are now experimenting with voltages exceeding a million.

A new series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

A nation-wide vote on the World court issue will be taken by college students before December 17, the date which marks the opening of the debate in the senate on America's entrance into the World court.

"If a straw vote were taken on the West Virginia campus, would the students be well enough informed on the subject to cast an intelligent vote?" asked one of the students of that university. An optimistic senior answered: "The students will make it their business to become informed on the World court issue before December 17."

Ophthalmology, oto-laryngology, and entomology are among the courses taught at Ohio State University.

Over 80 per cent of the students of that university had no idea whether they were a kind of Russian grapefruit or Bulgarian cocktail, until an obliging professor revealed that ophthalmology was the study of the eye, oto-laryngology is all about the nose and throat, and entomology is studying the easiest and sometimes the hardest things to subjugate, the insects.

The William and Mary chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi conducts yearly a placement bureau for the benefit of the students of the college. This bureau keeps a file of the names and abilities of the students who are desirous of securing employment. Many students are thus aided in securing positions both during vacation and after graduation.

A Cincinnati university football player received an injury to his wrist in practice and it was found that even though the injury was slight, an operation was necessary. After the operation, the man found to his disgust that he had a sprained ankle. He had sprained his ankle struggling while under ether.

Megaphones, 6,000 in all, were distributed at the recent Oregon-Idaho game. These were supplied by Harold Lloyd and were sent to the University of Oregon by Harold Lloyd himself, as an advertisement for "The Freshman," his latest picture. The most promising thing about all this is that it is said all college towns where the picture is to be shown will receive them. Let us hope this is on the repertoire of the New.

CUSTIS-LEE ADMITS FOUR NEW MEMBERS

the sidelines. His return to the lineup will give the Virginia team the necessary punch to make the Generals exert themselves to the limit to capture the contest. Coach "Greasy" Neale, Captain Diffey and several other Cavalier players were spectators at the game last Saturday in Charleston.

Winning five games including three conference victories is the record of the Cavaliers to date. The conference victims were V. M. I., Georgia, and Maryland, each of these games were won by close scores and through excellent football tactics on the part of Coach Neale's charges. Since the resumption of athletic relations between Washington and Lee and the University of Virginia the Generals have emerged victorious twice to the Cavaliers' once and have won their two games in the past two seasons. Making it three in a row will be a hard task this year even on the home gridiron. Coach De Hart is drilling his men hard this week and is making every effort to have a team on the field Saturday that will be able to repulse the Cavaliers' attack and bring the state championship and other honors to Washington and Lee.

Summerson, in the 115-pound class, is being pushed a little by Goldstein and Driver. Burton is a likely comer in the 125-pound class. Wigglesworth is the monogram man in this weight and will be out as soon as cross-country is over. Ruel, Verney, and Garvin are showing signs of becoming expert matmen in the 135-pound class. Woolwine is the only 158-pounder out. Captain Tilson will be with the team as soon as football season is over and Holt will also be available.

The first match of the year in boxing is against Virginia at Charlottesville on February 6. Wrestling starts on January 15 on the local mats, also against Virginia.

W. AND L. REPRESENTED IN MOROCCO BY P. ROCKWELL, '10

Washington and Lee is represented in Morocco in the person of Paul Rockwell, '10, who is captain of the escadrille of American airmen assisting the French forces in the war with the Riff tribesmen. Not so long ago, Mr. Rockwell was "lost in the air" in a scouting expedition over the southern desert, but returned safely after a perilous fly over the Moroccan outposts.

PROF. W. COLEMAN, '89 DIES IN FIJI ISLANDS

Professor Walter Coleman, '89, died October 15 in Suva, Fiji Islands, in the South Seas, where he had been visiting preparatory to doing research work there. Prof. Coleman was well known throughout the south as the author of "Coleman's Elementary Physiology," and "Coleman's Physiology," and his death will be felt as a distinct loss to the cause of science. For the past eighteen years he has occupied the chair of professor of Natural Sciences at Sam Houston Normal Institute, Huntsville, Texas.
