Princeton Head Here On Founders' Day

Nassau President To Address Assembly At Annual Program Commemorating Founders' Day.

Dr. J. G. Hibben, president of Princeton University, will address the entire student body and faculty at the annual Founders' Day ceremonies at 11 o'clock Tuesday, January 19. Dr. Hibben will speak on the subject of "The Historic Connection Between Princeton and Washington and Lee." Dr. Henry Louis Smith will deliver the progress report for the past year.

The ceremonies will begin with a procession of faculty members in academic gowns from Newcomb hall to the gymnasium. Every student is required to be present and no leaves of absence will be granted on this day. Classes are suspended for the day.

January 19, Gen. R. E. Lee's birthday, was set aside by the trustees of Washington College as a memorial to Gen. Lee immediately following his death. Resolution adopted by that body at a meeting held October 15, 1870, reads as follows:

Resolved, that this Committee be requested to make arrangements for the delivery of a eulogy on the life and character of General Lee in the College Chapel on the 19th day of January, and we further express the hope that this anniversary, like the birthday of Washington, will be hereafter always celebrated in this College.

Ten years ago, in addition to the celebration of January 19 as the birthday of Lee, the Board of Trustees provided for its celebration as Founders' Day each year. The following by-law establishing Founders' Day and providing for its due celebration was passed by the board at a meeting held June 13, 1916:

Resolved by the Board of Trustees of Washington and Lee University that the 19th day of January in each year, the anniversary of the birth of Robert E. Lee, be designated and set apart as Founders' Day and that that day (or when it shall fall on Sunday, the preceding day) shall be observed annually forever, with appropriately commemorative exercises, including an address upon some subject, before the President, Faculty, Officers, Student Body, Alumni and Friends of the University, by some speaker of high character and distinction to be selected by the President.

NEW WRESTLERS MAKE DEBUT AGAINST DUKE

Burton and Rule Newcomers With Walters and Tilson Veterans In Match of This Afternoon.

Coach Mathis conducted elimination bouts in his grappling aggregation during the current week and the wrestlers are trained down to their respective weights to meet the Duke limb-twisters here this afternoon.

Summers, the Generals' 115-pound flash, defeated Goldstein in the last elimination bout, but Drner will grapple in that class. Burton was victorious over Wigglesworth in the 125-pound division. Rule will meet the Duke wrestler in the 135-pound division, with Walters, veteran grappler, wrestling in the 145-pound weight. Woolwine, the new 158-pound addition to the team, is showing remarkable form and gives promise of aiding materially to the success of the season. Captain Tilson, veteran wrestler, will match holds with the Duke grappler in the 175-pound division.

BOXERS MEET V. P. I. IN OPENER TONIGHT

Wilkinson and Spotts To Battle In Heavier Divisions, While Hood, Ginsburg and Felsenthal Will Contend For Laurels Of Lighter Divisions.

The Washington and Lee mittmen will meet their first opposition of the season tonight, when the V. P. I. boxers open the fistie schedule in Doremus gymnasium. Coach Mathis has been conditioning his men and the pugns are expected to show mid-season form in their clash with the Gibbler aggregation.

Hood will scrap in the 115-pound weight with Osterman matching mitts in the 125-pound class. Felsenthal, veteran boxer, will defend honors in the 135-pound class. Ginsburg, clever fistie artist and veteran if the ring, will fight in the 145 division. Captain Wilkinson will box in 164-pound class. Spotts, one of last year's veterans, will fight in the light-heavy division.

V. P. I. comes heralded as having an exceedingly fast and scrappy aggregation and Coach Mathis holds no light consideration for the Gobblers, although he refuses to make predictions as to the outcome of the match. Mathis believes his men will make a good showing.

SWIMMING TRIALS SHOW GOOD MATERIAL

Good Time In Fifty Yard Dashes Also In Other Events Made By Tank Aspirants.

Swimming team time trials, for the first time this year, were held in the Doremus gym tank yesterday afternoon. The trials were for the fifty yard dash only, and uncovered some promising material in this event. Coach Twombly was pleased at the time and prophesied the best swimming team that Washington and Lee has ever had. The men who showed up best were: Moffat, Frost, Harrison and Lynn. The times were: Moffat, 25.2; Smith, 28.4; Lynn, 26.3; Bush, 28.2; Harrison, 26.1; Porter, 27; and Frost, 26. These are for the men who swam in under 29 seconds only.

Coach Twombly is also enthusiastic about the other events and has held several competitions, although no official time trials have been held.

JOURNALISM SCHOOL GETS PRINTING PRESS

Southern Papers Give Press and Equipment For Practice Purposes For Journalists.

Many prominent southern newspapers have contributed to the R. E. Lee Memorial School of Journalism within the past few days. Foremost among the contributions is an eighteen hundred pound proof press. This press is capable of holding a double case. This same type of press is used in the newspaper offices of today to take proofs of whole pages and also to do small jobs such as printing posters and the like. During the time of the Civil War this type of press was used by the Confederate states for printing their money. This press is to be used by the Journalism classes studying copy reading.

Shortly before this, the Roanoke World-News donated three complete fonts of type to the school. These fonts were of regular Gothic face to be used in the making up of headlines. They were of three different sizes, being 36, 18 and 12 points, respectively.

At the Junior Prom of the University of North Dakota this year no corsages were allowed to be worn, due to a rule passed by the Interfraternity council there.

Will Sing Here

Swedish Singers Perform Jan. 22

Second Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course Will Feature Swedish National Quintet At High School Auditorium January 22.

The Swedish National Quintet, the second number of the Y. M. C. A. lyceum course, will give a vocal program at 8 o'clock Friday night, January 22, at the High School auditorium. Sweden is famed for her singers and for her folk-songs which are among the oldest of any country. Hundreds of years ago, the minstrels of Sweden traveled from one castle to another, singing tales of heroic deeds of great men. These songs were called "Sagas." These beautiful melodies are still sung and danced in Sweden today. The Swedish National Quintet will sing several of these old songs.

All students and faculty members will be admitted free, and are cordially invited to attend.

FROSH WIN FIRST TILT OF SEASON WITH A.M.A.

Group and Ebert Show Up Particularly Well; Former Scores 17 Points For Frosh.

In their first encounter of the season, the yearling quintet defeated the Augusta Military Academy five by the score of 33 to 16. The feature of the game was the remarkably good passing of the frosh at so early a date and especially was this noticeable under the handicap of playing on a small court.

The men who played particularly well for the Freshmen were Group, who scored eight field goals and one foul, and Ebert. The line-up for the game was: Ebert and Lowry, forwards; Edwards, center; Lowdon and Group, guards. Mann, Smith, and Sproul also made the trip.

DR. BROWN SPEAKS AT CHEMICAL MEETING

Open Meetings of Chi Gamma Theta Addressed On Subject of "Psychology and Medicine."

Dr. W. M. Brown, professor of Psychology, addressed an open meeting of Chi Gamma Theta, honorary chemical fraternity, on the subject of "Psychology and Medicine" on Wednesday night in the Chemistry building.

Dr. Brown discussed the problems of psychology and its relation to medicine, and demonstrated various tests of the nervous condition and of the general intelligence of an individual. Dr. Brown said that psychology courses would have a very definite place in the curriculum of the medical school within the next ten years.

In 1742 Harvard was the scene of the first commencement ever held in America.

LEADERS FOR FANCY DRESS BALL CHOSEN

Decorations Work Progressing Rapidly, and Artistic Color Scheme Promised For Ball.

Leaders and partners of the figures for Fancy Dress Ball were announced yesterday. J. D. Carter will lead the opening figure with his sister, Miss Ella M. Carter of Denton, Md. He will be assisted by J. T. Martin with Miss Mary Louise Ohley of Charleston, W. Va. R. D. Maben, Jr., will lead the main figure with Miss Margaret Bumgardner of Staunton, Va. H. M. Wilson will assist with Miss Bessie Graves of Lynchburg, Va. The figure will start this year promptly at 9 o'clock so that more time can be given for dancing.

Work on the decorations has rapidly progressed and has kept those in charge of the ball and several freshmen busy every afternoon. Under the supervision of Mr. C. E. I. Gil the artistic color schemes promise to surpass his former successes. Prices for the dance are to be $3.75 for the dance and $3.75 for the costumes, which totals $7.50 for all. It has been announced again that no one will be allowed on the floor unless they have costumes which have been approved by those in charge of the ball.

Due to the crowded conditions which will exist on the floor, it has been suggested that the "Charleston," which has been banned at several southern schools, be limited as much as possible.

M. E. Church Secretary To Speak Here Sunday

Mr. Marion Culbreth, Student Secretary, To Visit Town January 17th and 18th.

Mr. Marion Culbreth, student secretary of the Southern Methodist Church, who is visiting different colleges of the South, will be in Lexington on Monday and Tuesday, January 17 and 18. He will speak at the Methodist Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

He will also speak at the Cabinet meeting Monday afternoon and at the supper for Methodist students Monday night at 6:15. Mr. Culbreth was one of the speakers at the Blue Ridge conference of Southern students.

ITALIAN STUDENT TO ENTER NEXT SEMESTER

Quota of Students From Other Countries Will Total Four With Entrance of Representative From Sunny Italy.

Another foreign student, Umberto Quattar, will enter Washington and Lee next semester. Quattar is from Italy, and has been in this country about four months. He has been sitting in on some of the classes at Washington and Lee the first semester, but will enter as a regular student the second semester.

There are three other foreign students in school now. They are K. O. Davajan, K. M. Hoh and J. Y. Louis. Davajan is from Russia. This is his second year in the law school. Hoh and Louis, from China, have been here for several years and are well known. Several other Washington and Lee students are registered from foreign countries but are of American parentage.

Trailing behind their opponents throughout the game Washington and Lee lost a hard fought game to the University of Maryland, Thursday night in Doremus gym by the score of 33 to 20. The defeat was at the hands of one of the contenders for the Southern Championship, who recently defeated the Navy. The Old Liners secured the lead early in the first half when Troxler, sunk a field goal which was closely followed by Woodward and Adams. Wilson scored the first goal for the Generals on a long toss from the side lines. The Generals failed in their attempts to penetrate the Old Liners' defense and were forced to resort to long shots. The half was marred by frequent roughness on the part of both teams. The Blue and White failed to take advantage of their opportunities on free throws as almost all attempts rolled off the hoops. The half ended 21 to 11.

In the second half the Generals staged a short rally that failed to overcome the lead and the Old Liners again forged to the front. Troxler and Boyd were mainly responsible for the tallies in this half, tossing the ball through the hoop from angles of the floor.

Every man on the Maryland team was responsible for tallies and the team seemed to be a well-regulated machine, instead of a group of individual stars. Lane and Wilson were the outstanding players for Washington and Lee.

Line-up and summary:

VOLCANIC ASH FOUND CLOSE TO LEXINGTON

State Geologist Says That Find Probably Comes From America's Oldest Volcano.

A layer of volcanic ash in Rockbridge county of a thickness of ten feet is the discovery of Dr. Wilbur A. Nelson, state geologist, according to an item in the Staunton News-Leader of January 13. The deposit was found four miles south of Lexington.

"This layer was probably ejected by one of the oldest known volcanoes in America. The occurrence of this layer of volcanic ash in the valley region of Virginia ties in with similar deposits of ash discovered by Dr. Nelson several years ago in Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee.

"Virginia's ash deposit is the thickest so far found, says the state geologist. It shows that in early geological times, millions of years ago, the mountains just to the west of Virginia, now buried under the Cumberland plateau, were a region of great volcanic activity," says the story.

Hit 'Em Hard!

Examinations begin next Thursday. That sentence may or may not strike terror in the heart of the student here at Washington and Lee.

The chances are that it does strike him in a terror spot. Not that he fears exams exactly, but that he does not really enjoy them. They constitute the summary of his work thus far, and hence are important.

For our three hundred freshmen, this set of exams will be the first real tests which they have had. For other members of the student body, it is merely the recurrence of ten days which have to be endured each year. Whatever his status though, the student will be put to the test.

Almost everything depends on getting through them successfully. Even the student himself feels better when he has a good mark to his credit. Dig in then and hit exams hard!

And After Examinations.

After the necessary evil of examinations has ceased to be a black cloud on our horizon, come the brilliant mid-winter dances of Washington and Lee. In the past they have been noted for their brilliance, but the Fancy Dress Ball of 1926 promises to surpass all of its predecessors in magnificence.

Coming after the ten-day grind of books, these dances furnish the outlet for all our pent-up energy. But we should not give vent to it too freely by partaking of intoxicating liquors. We should remember that the Gentlemen's Agreement is still in effect and that a Washington and Lee man is always looked upon as a gentleman. Throngs of visitors will be on our campus for the dances and will judge our students by their conduct. Good conduct will leave a good reputation, as well as support a good one already established.

About George Washington.

In the New York Times of January 14 appeared an article concerning an attack made upon the morals of George Washington by Mr. Rupert Hughes in which he pictured the "Father of Our Country" among other things as "a whiskey distiller." This attack aroused the ire of many patriots there assembled. And why shouldn't it?

In the days of George Washington, the manufacture of intoxicants was a perfectly legal and moral occupation. An example of this is found here in Rockbridge County. From the steps of one of her largest country churches, the smoke of a dozen distilleries could be seen. And half of them were owned by elders in the church. An old negro woman when asked about the situation replied: "Why, it use' to be that 'stillin' was de spectablest business there was." And so can George Washington be assailed for something which was legal and moral in his time? We think that Mr. Hughes should look more carefully into the customs and ideas of those days

A Hundred Years Existence.

Recently we saw an editorial in a fraternity magazine under the title of "A Century of Fraternities" concerning the beginning of the modern fraternity system in 1825 at Union College with the founding of the Northern order of Kappa Alpha.

It contains some very excellent advice which we beg leave to reprint here:

"The celebration this past fall of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of one of the American college fraternities serves to remind us not only of the age of the fraternity system, but likewise of the fact that college fraternities have a background and a history interwoven with the development of the colleges themselves. And the general principles underlying the fraternity system extend even further back, for a year from now Phi Beta Kappa will be celebrating its one hundred-fiftieth anniversary. In the beginning, Phi Beta Kappa was not greatly different from the regular social fraternities. It emphasized brotherhood, loyalty, service, morality and scholarship, used a Greek name and motto and was secret in character. The Greek letter fraternity system is thus of about the same age as the Republic itself.

"Although fraternities have changed and developed in many respects during the past century, yet the fundamental principles are essentially the same today as in 1825 or 1776. That all the fraternities have been a force—and usually a force for good—cannot be denied. It is well for fraternity men to pause and think, however, of the heritage that is theirs and of the responsibility to carry forward, unblemished, the light that was first started so many years ago."

President's Paragraph

A VITAL QUESTION. Can You Answer It?

As a W. & L. man, looking forward to future leadership, endeavor to formulate and write down your independent individual answer to the following question, before the next issue of the Ring-tum Phi. Your personal reaction to this problem and your personal solution of it will largely determine your future success on life's 20th century battlefield.

What, IN YOUR JUDGMENT, is the essential and most important difference between a CHARMING PERSONALITY and a WINNING PERSONALITY?

Another distressing result of the automobile craze was revealed at the University of Rochester when the freshmen were given their physical examinations. More than one sixth of the class had deformed shoulders from the habit of holding the left arm on the window ledge of a car.

EXAMINATION CRAMMERS ARE GHOST HAUNTED

Much excitement was aroused at Columbia University when a group of students staying at Furnald Hall were unjustly punished for their diligence in pursuing studies during holidays. An apparition appeared in the window of the adjoining Journalism building.

The ghoulish students in desperation wrote a letter to David M. Updike, acting superintendent of the department of buildings and grounds, saying:

"We the undersigned, tenant rooms on the campus side of the Furnald dormitory. For the past two weeks we have been obliged to behold upon glancing through our windows the morbid spectacle of a human skeleton occupying, it seems, a special place of honor in one of the rooms in the Journalism building. This room is on the upper floor and faces outside of the dormitory."

The letter implored that some action be taken to do away with the grim spectacle.

It first appeared as though the guilty party was a skeleton used in the anthropology class of Professor Boaz. But the skeleton was found innocent. Then the true offender was discovered on the cornice of the dormitory is a macabre gargole which throws its reflection on a window of the Journalism building.

Tie a tin to trouble

A TIDY red tin of Prince Albert, to be exact. There's the greatest little trouble-chaser in the known world. Smoke P. A. and pipe-grouches choose the nearest exit.

Yes, Sir, P. A. is right there with the Pollyanna stuff. Sunshine, gladness, the light heart, the bright smile. Because Prince Albert is the cheeriest, chummiest tobacco that ever tumbled into a briar or corncob.

Smoke P. A.—and smile. Cool, comfortable P. A. Fragrant, friendly P. A. Not a tongue-bite or throat-parch in a ton of it. The Prince Albert process hung the "No Admittance" sign on Bite and Parch the day the factory opened.

Get a tidy red tin of P. A. today and give pipe-worries the gate.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

GENERALS LOST TO MARYLAND AND GEORGIA IN FAST TILTS

The Georgia Game.

Washington and Lee lost its second successive basketball game in Doremus gym last night to Georgia, 47 to 24. For the first ten minutes the game was closely fought and the teams vied with each other for the lead. Florence finally secured two goals that put Georgia in the lead, which the Generals were unable to overcome. The Crackers' passing game was superior to the Generals, who were put on the defensive most of the game.

The Blue and White team failed to get the ball under the basket and Lane was forced to try long shots, while the Crackers were adept on both long and short distance tosses.

The second half was a repetition of the first and the Red and Black team again took the lead and maintained it throughout the game. Florence was the outstanding star of the game, securing 16 points for his team. He was closely followed by Keene with 11 and Richardson with 9 points. The star for W. and L. was Lane who secured 7 points, two of his goals being from midfield.

The Generals seemed to be off form and displayed an inferior brand of ball, compared with the exhibition shown against Roanoke. This may be accounted for somewhat by the fact that they have played three games in the last five days. The game was marred by the injury to Huguley and Wilson, both stellar guards for their respective teams.

REVISED ENTRANCE EXAMS CONSIDERED

Dr. Smith Quoted In New York Times On Proposed Basis For Entrance To College Life.

A new type of college entrance examination has come in for consideration by Dr. Smith, President of the University. The examination makes no reference to scholastic attainment nor mental brightness, but is a test of a preparatory school graduate's fitness for college life.

This new kind of examination has caused considerable comment by the press. An article on the proposed method of finding suitable college students was printed in an issue of the New York Times of this week. The Times quoted Dr. Smith as saying that: "Out of every hundred young Americans starting the twelve-year climb toward a high school diploma only four or five finally reach the shining goal. They are publicly applauded as victors in the long contest, are officially furnished with diplomas which certify to their intellectual training, and are officially rated at last ready for college.

"The first part of a college course is largely a continuation of high school methods and any student who will average five hours of diligent preparation out of every twenty-four should have no fear of passing his work.

"Why then out of every hundred of these ambitious, well-trained young Americans should from ten to twenty-five make a dismal and often a tragic failure of their longed-for college course before its first year of elementary study is over?

"To one who has closely observed and studied thousands of such cases the answer is painfully clear. For every failure due to lack of ability at least ten are failures because they were fatally unprepared for the intoxicating freedom of college life.

"This is the age of gasoline and azz, of a general epidemic of rebellion among the young and immature against every kind of restraint. The American campus of today is a cross-section of the fascinating whirl of American life. While high school machinery is turning out units for colleges, it is the duty of parents and teachers to prepare the entrants for college life, as well as college study."

"Are you enough of a grown-up, well-bred man to carry through a gentleman's daily personal routine, without a word of advice or suggestion or command from anybody? Do you, with reasonable regularity, go to bed at some fixed hour and rise punctually at some fixed time, with no one to remind you or order or awaken you? Have you formed the settled habit of personal cleanliness, with thoroughly washed body, with clean linen and presentable clothes, with hair and shoes and nails properly cared for, with the habit of attending to your laundry and knowing where your personal belongings are?

"Have you grown-up sense enough to take special care of your teeth during this special period when unsuspecting decay and infection may wreck your later life with crippling disease? Have you learned that the human engine whose poisonous waste is not removed each day is on the road to an early breakdown? Are you in the habit of gorging your food in big mouthfuls, washing each down with a gulp of liquid and finding ten or twelve minutes long enough for feeding time?

Dr. Smith suggests this as a self-imposed "Manhood" examination to the young men planning to attend college and declares that if one is not able to make 75 per cent on the examination he is not ready for college no matter what his text-book grades or his personal conceits may be.
