

Trackmen Defeat N. C. State Here In Close Meet By One Point

Generals and Wolfpack Cinder-men Vie For Lead At Intervals and Score Is Undecided Until Last Event.

CAPTAIN DAVIS IS HURT

Excellent Time Is Made In Many of Events In Spite of Strong Wind Which Raked Wilson Field During Meet.

The Washington and Lee track team won its second victory of the present season Monday afternoon by defeating the North Carolina State team on Wilson field by the close score of 63 1-2 to 62 1-2. The State cinder artists on the previous Saturday had defeated V. M. I. 74 to 52.

The meet was unusually close throughout, with first one team in the lead and then the other. It was not until the final event, the pole vault, that the victor was decided. With the score 59 to 58 in favor of Washington and Lee, Lowry and Felsenthal clinched the meet for the Generals by taking four and one-half points in the pole vault. Lowry tied Bremer for first place in this event, while Felsenthal tied for third place.

State annexed seven firsts, while Washington and Lee managed to triumph in six of the events. The other event was a tie. In spite of the strong wind which raked Wilson field, and the hardness of the track, some excellent times were made. Especially was this true of the 220 and the mile events. The Generals romped away with nine points in the 880, taking all three places.

Reardon and Milbank of the victors shared high point honors with eleven points each. Reardon took first place in the javelin throw and broad jump, while Milbank broke the tape in the 100 and took second in both the 220 and 440. Sides was high point man for State with 10 points.

Captain Davis, star hurdler, pulled a tendon while running the low hurdles and was forced to drop out of the race. Davis is not expected to be able to run for a couple of weeks. His absence will be greatly felt Saturday when the Blue and White team meets Harvard and William and Mary in a triangular meet at Williamsburg.

KAY THOMAS SIGNED AS ASSISTANT COACH

Will Be Assistant To Herron In Fall—E. P. Davis Also Signed To Take Entire Charge of Freshman Athletics.

J. K. Thomas, captain of the Generals' football team last fall, and at present president of the Athletic Council and a senior in the Law school, has been chosen by the Athletic Council as assistant to Head Football Coach "Pat" Herron for the 1926 season, Forest Fletcher, head of the Department of Physical Education, announced yesterday. Thomas has played an end on varsity elevens here for the past four years, during which time he earned a wide reputation and an All-American mention by the late Walter Camp on his mythical eleven. He, together with "Tex" Tilson, captain of the 1924 team, assisted Herron in the spring training grind which ended Friday.

E. P. Davis, who has coached freshman football teams for several years, and who has also assisted with varsity teams when not busy with the frosh, was signed by the Council at the same time to take charge of freshman athletics for the year 1926-27. This is considered a forward step for the University, as heretofore no one man has had the yearling teams under single supervision.

COMMUNICATION

The attention of the Athletic Council has been called to the misuse of the Washington and Lee monogram by members of the student body on slickers, automobiles, and other improper places. The constitution of the Athletic Council reads in regard to this: "The W. and L. monogram shall not be used in any manner or form except by a monogram man."

This means that only a man who has been awarded a monogram is entitled to use it in any form whatever. Hence, the Athletic Council requests that all monograms worn on slickers, automobiles or otherwise improperly, be removed at once, before stringent means have to be taken.

Signed:
J. K. THOMAS,
President Athletic Council.

Blue Ridge Conference Will See Many College Men Gathered Together

Many Prominent Speakers Will Address Assembly During Days of June 15-24.

W. AND L. WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED

Practically Every College and University in the South To Be Represented At Beautiful N. C. Resort.

The largest gathering of college men in the South, the Blue Ridge Conference for Southern Students, which is held for consideration of the great issues of life and for recreation, comes this year on June 15-24 at Blue Ridge, North Carolina. Outstanding speakers of the United States and from foreign countries will address the assembly. Practically every college and university in the South will send from ten to fifteen representatives. Washington and Lee has a well equipped cottage, which will be filled with W. and L. men if the applications prove to be as large as expected. Anyone interested is eligible to attend.

"Inspiration and recreation" are the key-words to the attraction that Blue Ridge has for hundreds of Southern students. The mornings are taken up with inspiring addresses on campus, national, social, industrial, and international questions as well as the usual religious problems. After the general assembly for the principal speakers, the conference breaks up into groups of fifteen or twenty men to discuss the addresses or some problem in which the group is interested. These open forums are led by trained students.

The Blue Ridge conference is held by the Young Men's Christian Association. About eight similar conferences are held for other section of the United States. These conferences have proved very helpful and are commended by the leading educators as well as by the students that attend.

Blue Ridge is said to be an ideal place to hold such a conference. It was especially selected by Dr. Weatherford for this purpose. It is in the heart of the Blue Ridge mountains and is properly called "The Land of the Sky." Well paved roads lead to many nationally known places of in-

GENERALS MEET V. P. I. ON WILSON FIELD FRIDAY

Date Changed From Thursday—Will Meet Lynchburg College In Postponed Game.

V. P. I. and Lynchburg College will be the guests of the Generals' baseball team on Friday and Saturday afternoons, respectively, on Wilson field. The Virginia Tech game was recently changed from Thursday afternoon to Friday. V. P. I. is fresh from a victory over the University of Virginia, having defeated that nine by a 6 to 5 score last Monday. The Hornets have been going strong so far this year.

The Gobblers are said to have one of the best baseball nines that has represented Virginia Tech in recent years. The probable line-up for the Techmen will be: Alexander, second base; Adams, left field; Dear, short-stop; Arrington, right field; Willey, first base; Gallup, center field; Lawson, third base; Elliston, catcher, and either Crummitt or Wood, pitcher. It is likely that Crummitt will get the call.

Lynchburg College's Hornets have real athletes in Sutfenfield, Perry, and Leitman. These men are three letter men at the Hornets' nest. Sutfenfield will probably take care of the receiving end for the visitors, while Perry and Leitman will parade in the outer gardens.

Captain "Dick" is drilling his cohorts hard for the two games this week. The Generals lost to the Cavaliers, 5-2, and the Cavaliers lost to the Gobblers Monday afternoon, 6-5. The Blue and White are working hard and are determined to upset the present dope. The probable line-up for the Generals will be: Palmer, second base; Eigelbach, short-stop; Captain Seehorn, third base; Stearns, right field; Spotts, first base; Tips, catcher; Jolliffe, center field; Johnston, left field, and the pitching will be taken care of by either Maben, Folliard, or Wilkinson. It is not definitely known which of the three will get the call in the V. P. I. game, but it is thought that it will be "Snake" Maben and that Wilkinson will do the hurling in the Hornet contest.

Jones' hand, which was hurt in the Rutgers game, is steadily improving, and it is hoped that by next week he will be able to get back into the game and share the catching burden with "Horse" Tips.

As a preliminary to the varsity-Lynchburg College game Saturday afternoon, the Little Generals will meet the Jefferson High School of Roanoke. The high school boys have a fine team and have been going well this season. The freshmen will use the same line-up that started the Oak Ridge game. Rainer will in all probability take care of the pitching for the frosh, while Cooper will be on the receiving end. The game is scheduled to start promptly at 2:30 o'clock and the varsity game will begin immediately following the preliminary contest.

FROSH DIAMOND TEAM TO PLAY VIRGINIA TODAY

Have Lost Last Two Games—Virginia Said To Have Strong Team—So Far Undeclared.

Washington and Lee's freshman baseball team, unsuccessful in its first two starts, attempted to break into the win column today at the expense of the Virginia frosh. The game was played in Charlottesville, with a return engagement scheduled here on May 30. The Cavalier frosh are unusually strong this year and are undefeated thus far.

The following men made the trip: Black, Smith, Baxter, Lowdon, Hearne, Taylor, Newberry, Rainer, Edwards, Cooper, Hickman, and Ewell. The starting batteries were not announced.

Generals Meet First Defeat of Season At Hands of Cavalier Nine

Generals Get Off To Good Start But Fail To Deliver Punch When Needed.

EXCITING GAME

Blue and White Ball Tossers Field Well, But Show Bad Form In Base Running; Folliard Pitched Well.

Washington and Lee's undefeated baseball team succumbed to the University of Virginia's nine Saturday afternoon on Lambeth field by the score of 5 to 2.

The Generals got off to a flying start in the first inning when Eigelbach and Stearns rode home on Spotts' long double to left field. After this frame, however, Darlington tightened up and held the Blue and White ball tossers scoreless during the rest of the contest.

Folliard, on the mound for Washington and Lee, was invincible in the first five innings and with few exceptions retired the Cavalier sluggers in order. He weakened in the sixth, however, and allowed Virginia to knot the count at two all, when Friedburg and W. Stearns, after making infield hits, scored on Lee's drive to right. Virginia clinched the contest in the eighth by scoring three more runs on four hits and a sacrifice fly.

Washington and Lee threatened in the ninth when Tips and Jolliffe opened with singles. Folliard and Wilkinson, hitting for Johnson, were easy outs, but Palmer was safe on Lee's fumble. This loaded the sacks, but Eigelbach ended they game by lining out to Darlington.

The Generals fielded perfectly and cut off several men at the plate. Their base running, however, was

STEARNS HEADS LIST OF BATTING AVERAGES

Has Per Cent of .414—Has Hit 12 of 29 Times At Bat—Nearest Rival, Spotts, Has .320.

Tom Stearns, hard-hitting right fielder of the Big Blue nine, is setting the pace for his teammates in batting with an average of .414. Official figures show him leading his closest competitor, "Babe" Spotts, by nearly a hundred points, the Generals' first sacker, having acquired an average of .320 in the games thus far played.

Stearns has played throughout the entire seven games in which Coach Smith's charges have competed, and in this time has come to bat twenty-nine times and has connected safely on twelve occasions. Other men who have played regularly are Captain Seehorn, Spotts, and Eigelbach. Palmer, Jolliffe and Johnston have missed only a fraction of a game each.

The figures show that the team as a whole has come to bat 226 times and has garnered 62 hits in the attempts, giving the squad an average of .274. The statistics include the Virginia game last Saturday.

MOCK TRIAL POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY NIGHT

Phi Delta Phi annual mock trial, previously announced for tomorrow night, has been postponed until Friday night at 8 o'clock, officials of the fraternity stated today. A capacity crowd is expected to pack the Rock-bridge County courthouse for the event.

The baseball game has also been postponed until Friday afternoon.

Welcome, Federation Delegates!

For the third time in as many months, Washington and Lee University will be the host of a great convention this week-end. The first gathering of this year saw athletes as delegates, the second one was composed of journalists, and the one beginning Friday is made up of men from another important field—that of the Southern Federation of Colleges.

As each of the other gatherings here had a definite aim, the federation meeting desires to bring the colleges of the South into closer touch and given mutual help to one another. This is probably the highest purpose of any of our conventions. Hence it gathers the most representative college men from the campuses of the Southern states.

And while they are here, every man at Washington and Lee is at their service. Anything that Washington and Lee can do for the comfort or entertainment of the visitors, we are sure will be done. Delegates from other colleges and universities, we are proud to greet you on the campus of Washington and Lee University. May your stay in our midst be enjoyable!

The Time Grows Shorter.

With April more than half over and the varsity baseball season lasting less than a month, it is high time for the fraternities on the campus to begin a consideration of interfraternity baseball.

Formerly these games made up one of the most hotly contested of schedules. Those players of a more amateurish calibre donned the flannels and gave exhibitions of skill and daring, with the horsehide covered sphere, seldom seen anywhere. Rivalry of the best kind between the Greek letter organizations was fostered, and everybody drawn closer in the true spirit of college life which we hear so much about, yet seldom see today. And the successful carrying out of this series of games called for very little outlay of either time or money. After it was over all the local Greeks retired to their temples with tales of prowess and a better feeling for their contemporaries.

In the last two years, though the old fraternity baseball league seems to have been forgotten. Why should it not be revived? It would most certainly be of benefit to all those involved without causing any trouble. The only thing which seems necessary to be done before arranging interfraternity baseball is to have it arranged by the Interfraternity Council, and the permission of the athletic authorities obtained. This should be rather easy for the council to do. A time immediately after the varsity trip could be selected and the games played off long before examinations.

Some action of the Interfraternity Council on this matter at once would not be far amiss.

The Blue Ridge Conference.

Elsewhere in today's issue the reader will notice several articles concerning the Blue Ridge Conference and extolling its virtues. Without a doubt this institution wields a great influence in the student life and thought of the South—especially with those who have the opportunity of attending its sessions.

Because a great many members of the student body of Washington and Lee and other schools are not reached by this conference, does not mean that it falls short of its goal in any respect. An affair of this kind amounts to just as much as the individual puts into it. If he does nothing for it, he receives nothing. If he goes into it whole-heartedly, he reaps a bountiful reward. And any student who has every attended a session of the Blue Ridge Conference will testify to the fact that he has been helped by its influence and enabled by its traditions.

The privilege of hearing the speakers of national repute at a conclave of this sort is worth the trip there and back. This, added to the spiritual and physical good which the average college student gets from the conference in the North Carolina mountains, will make it well worth the time of any Washington and Lee man to attend its sessions in June.

Wearing and Using Monograms.

Elsewhere in the Ring-tum Phi is printed a communication from the Athletic Council regarding the proper wearing of monograms and their use on slickers, automobiles and elsewhere.

The monogram is intended to be the mark of the athlete and is awarded to him after distinguished service. It hardly looks fair then for his distinctive mark to be applied to slickers, Fords and various other places where it does not belong. Such misuse tends towards lowering somewhat the dignity of the monogram as well as making it fail in the mission of pointing out the athlete.

We hope that the note of the Athletic Council will be heeded and that all the improperly used monograms be crased as requested.

DEBATERS LAUDED FOR FINE WORK THIS SEASON

Executive Committee and Student Body Praises Team in Letter From Tilson.

The executive committee and the student body have expressed their praise and gratitude to the Washington and Lee forensic teams which have come through a difficult schedule without a defeat. The Johns Hopkins University, North Carolina University, Gettysburg College, and University of Arizona debating teams were defeated by the Washington and Lee teams.

The following communication was received from President Tilson concerning the record of the debating team:

"On behalf of the executive committee and of the student body, I take this opportunity and method in expressing our sincere appreciation of the successful and praiseworthy record made by the W. and L. forensic teams under the able tutelage of Dr. S. B. Neff, who has labored diligently and who has made possible a very bright future for W. and L. forensically."

"Sneak Day" is an annual senior tradition at the University of Idaho. On a certain day all of the seniors cut classes and attend a picnic at a designated place. This cut is opposed by the juniors, who shanghai them and lock them in cellars, attempting in every way to keep them from the picnic and making them attend the classes.
