Runners Take 80-46 Victory From Dukemen

Win Opening Track Meet of Outdoor Season by Wide Margin

SANDIFER SCORES EIGHTEEN POINTS

Captain of Generals Wins Three First Places and Tie for Fourth

The General's track team smothered Duke under an avalanche of 80 points to the Blue Devils 46, on a muddy track last Saturday at Durham, North Carolina, winning the first track meet of the year and starting a campaign that will possibly lead the Generals to another Conference title in May.

Lead by Captain Sandifer, the diminutive sprinter who gathered 18 points by himself, the Generals defeated the Blue Devils easily, letting them win only the mile and two mile race, which were taken by their two stars, Simmons and Heizer.

Captain Sandifer started the afternoon off by winning the 100-yard dash with his teammate Johnson close behind. Unmindful of the muddy condition of the cinders, Sandifer did the century in 10:2 which is fast time for a soft track. The next event was the mile which Simon of Duke won in 4:34. This is fast time for even a dry track and in this race Biddle, star of last year's freshman team trailed the leader by a scant margin. Biddle showed remarkable strength in this race, as he turned in his fastest time of the season. Coll finished strong and beat out a Duke man on the stretch to give the Generals third place in the mile.

In the 220 Williams and Sandifer raced the entire distance ahead of their opponents and finished closely aligned with Sandifer having a slight edge over his taller team mate.

In the high hurdles Speer, the Washington and Lee timber topper ran away from his opponent to win by a large margin but Finklestein got off to a bad start and finished in third place, dropping the second position to Freeman of Duke.

The pole vault was cut short due to the muddy conditions of the runway. Maxey having topped the field with a jump of 11 ft. 6 inches. Two Duke men, Sharpe and Turner managed to beat out Hartgrove and Pomeroy to tie for second place. Stevens, true to form, won the shot put with a heave of 39 ft. 9 in. Webster and Brewer took second and third for Duke.

In the high jump a trifle tie for first place occurred with Sandifer, Freeman, and Roberts striving for the supremacy. Fangbender hurled the javelin 157 ft. 3 in. to win the event with Green and Keegan trailing. Shepherd continued his winning streak by winning the 440 in easy fashion. Williams followed the pace set by Shepherd and loafed around to come in in second place.

The next event was the two mile race and was the only other event won by the Blue Devils. Heizer set off a fast pace and lead the entire distance to win in easy fashion with Mahler beating out his man Flinton, for second place. At the finish of the race Mahler

Accounting And Engineering Draw 36 Science Graduates

A comprehensive survey of the senior classes in Bachelor of Science shows that many of the men have already accepted positions for work after graduation.

Thirty-six men have applied for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce. Of these one was graduated last February. It is a significant fact that only one of those interviewed is accepting work with his father.

Several will return here for post-graduate work. Virtually all of the positions are in the accounting or engineering field.

Following is a list of the graduates and their proposed work:

Bachelor Of Science

D. B. Cook has obtained a position with Stone & Webster, engineers. E. C. McElroy will take a position with an engineering concern either in Pittsburgh or New York. J. T. Mosch is considering positions with several engineering companies, but has decided on nothing definite. E. F. Pilley has several positions under consideration with engineering companies, but has come to no definite decision. Merle Suter (could not be reached). Harvey L. Williams, Jr. is also undecided although several positions are under consideration.

Final Decision On Admission Is Postponed

Finals Workers to Conduct One More Campaign for Subscriptions

The final decision as to whether a door admission will be charged to the 1930 set of Finals will be delayed yet another week, R. K. Sutherland, president, announced yesterday. Sufficient money came in by the specific date, yesterday, to justify waiting until every student in the University is given one more chance to subscribe, he said.

For the second time this year, tables will be placed on the campus to receive the subscriptions of those students who have not yet paid. These tables will be placed in the usual spots on the campus and will remain there tomorrow and Friday.

Sutherland has called a meeting of the entire finance committee for tomorrow night at nine o'clock in Newcomb hall, following which the finance workers will again have names of non-paying students to see. The officers of Finals have issued a request that all students who have not yet paid to be prepared with the necessary money or else to be able to give a definite answer as to whether they intend to pay.

The committee intends to wind up its work within the next few days as the approaching dances and holidays will interfere if it is much longer delayed.

Work on the decorations started yesterday under the direction of Prof. Carl Gill.

Former Coach Visits Campus

Brett, Wrestling Coach Here In '22 Is Now at Miami

Members of the Washington and Lee athletic department were pleasantly surprised yesterday to meet an old friend and coach.

Coach Brett, of Miami university, stopped off with his wrestlers for a workout and parley with Coach Fletcher and Coach Mathis on his way to the A. A. U. meet in New York.

He was wrestling coach at W. and L. in 1922-23 and went to Miami in 1924. He is carrying four of his wrestlers to the match and has high hopes for a victory. Coach Brett gave his men a rather strenuous workout in the gym and asked Coach Mathis for any criticism. The Miami heavyweight will be a match for any contestant and the squad is built around him, Mathis said.

Brett produced a winning team while at Washington and Lee and has met with the same success at Miami.

Arne Borg Quits Tank Stockholm
—Arne Borg, Sweden's aquatic wizard who holds a number of international swimming records has become a business man and may never enter another competition.

W. T. Alsop is undecided. T. C. Atwood is considering several positions but has decided nothing definite. T. L. Bauer will probably take a position with the Fisher Body Corporation, a subsidiary of the General Motors Corp. E. P. Bledsoe will return for post-graduate work. W. B. Brown will take a position with a steel corporation in Birmingham, Ala. H. F. Bullard has as yet decided nothing definite. T. G. Cooke will accept a position as salesman for some steel corporation. F. O. Evans will enter the Law School at the University of Georgia. W. H. Fields is undecided. W. V. Gilbert will enter the Law School at the University of Alabama. C. W. Gordon (could not be reached). E. L. Greshman Jr. will enter the accounting field in New York City. H. T. Groop has made no definite decision. W. H. ## Costumes For '30 Production Are Completed

Wilkinson Finishes Script of Musical Comedy--'College Daze'

Costumes for the choruses of "College Daze" are virtually completed and are said to be the finest ever yet secured by the Troubadours for a production. These costumes were designed by Mrs. A. C. Lee and much more effort has been put forth on them than for any previous play due to the large part that they will play. The costumes which have been secured are expected to add much to the color and beauty of the show.

Dan Lindsey, president, on his recent trip to New York personally selected much of the material in these costumes from Dalcens' which has quite a reputation for furnishing theatrical materials. The wigs to be worn in the presentation were also selected by Lindsey. These wigs are to come from Tam's in New York and are to be especially prepared and treated before they are shipped for this production.

There will be at least five changes in costumes for the chorus cast, and each set is being especially worked out to harmonize with the setting.

O. J. Wilkinson finished the book for "College Daze" the latter part of last week by completing the second act. He has received much praise on his work. The show has been highly commended by those who have seen the script and Wilkinson is also taking a good part in the directing of the production. He is coaching the leads and other minor parts, while Brad Haley, Joe Magee, and Tom Walker have charge of the chorus work.

Work on the set construction has begun under the direction of John Devine, property manager, in order that there will be no delay in rehearsals when the sets are used for practice.

Floodlight Battery Is Installed For Use West Coast Relays

The nationally famous West Coast Relays, to be held in the Fresno State College Stadium, California, on April 26 in connection with the Raisin Day celebration, is to be a night event this year. This will permit the automobile races to be held that afternoon, and will make the track meet the first major one ever held at night.

A battery of floodlights that will give an intensity of five foot-candles over the entire area is being installed at the stadium, and in the fall the projectors will be adjusted so that an intensity of eight foot-candles will be projected on the football field alone for night games in that major sport.

The lighting installation includes sixty General Electric projectors with 1000-watt incandescent lamps, mounted in batteries of ten atop six 90-foot steel towers. Power is supplied by an underground cable system. Each lamp will be individually fused and provided with a disconnect device at the top of the tower.

CANDIDATES ASKED TO TURN IN PHOTOS

All men who intend to run for office in the student body elections to be held on April 17, are asked to send pictures of themselves to the Ring-tum Phi, P. O. Drawer 899, or to give them to a member of the staff.

The last date pictures will be received has been set for Tuesday, April 8. This much time is necessary that the pictures may be sent off to be made into cuts.

No picture received later than this date will be published.

Lambert And Williams To Lead Formal

'13' Club Dance Saturday Expected to be Successful Affair

Arrangements for the "13" Club Formal Saturday night at the Doremus gymnasium have been completed, and all indications point to one of the most successful formal of the year. B. J. Lambert, with Miss Shirley Newbold, of Hollins, will lead the dance. He will be assisted by Harvey L. Williams, with Miss Nannie Jackson of Richmond.

The announcement that Russ Bolin and his original "Cotton Pickers" have been engaged to play for the dance has been well received by the students. The "Cotton Pickers" is an eleven piece Brunswick recording orchestra of national renown. Many students who have heard them play in other cities proclaim them to be outstanding, and thoroughly capable of furnishing the type of music desired for dances here. The band offers five soloists, vocal trio, and many novelties.

Although Russ Bolin and his orchestra have never played for dances here, they have had ample experience along the line of College dances, having played at Davidson, North Carolina Univ., Clemson, Cornell, Ohio State, and Bucknell. They are booked to play for the Easter dances at North Carolina State. On tour of the country they have played at the leading ballrooms, colleges, and country clubs in thirty states.

Due to the fact that there will be a dance set at V. M. I. this week end, some of the students have encountered difficulty in getting girls to come up for the dance. This fact is not expected to hurt the attendance in any way, however, as many girls have already accepted bids.

Saturday night, preceding the dance, the members of the "13" Club will give a banquet at the Dutch Inn at 6:30 o'clock. Immediately following the banquet at the Dutch Inn they will go directly to the dance in order that it may start promptly at 9:00 o'clock. Lambert again urges that all students come at this early hour.

Alumni Day Set June 2

Completes Plans for Activities For Final Week of 1930

Monday, June 2 has been named as Alumni Day. Dr. R. H. Tucker announced today. This, with the arrangements already made for the speakers at the 1930 commencement, completes the plans for Final Week. The Reverend Dr. M. Ashby Jones, of St. Louis, Mo., has accepted the invitation to deliver the baccalaureate sermon, and Robert B. Tunstall, of Norfolk, Va., will give the commencement address.

The sermon will be delivered Sunday morning, June 1, at the address Tuesday morning, June 3. On Monday there will be a meeting of the board of trustees of the University at 10 a. m. in Newcomb Hall. At the same time the Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting in the Carnegie Library. At 1:00 p. m. a luncheon will be given for the alumni and at 9:00 p. m. the usual reception will be held for the alumni and the 1930 graduates. This will be followed by the Alumni-Senior Ball.

The Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago will celebrate its 100th anniversary this fall.

Library Staff Greets 250 At Room Opening

RARE VOLUMES PUT ON EXHIBITION SAT.

Dr. and Mrs. Tuckers Receive Guests in Carnegie Library

The Washington and Lee Library Browsing Room was opened to the officers, faculty, students, and alumni of the University at an informal reception Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The library staff welcomed some two hundred and fifty guests as they entered the building, and showed a few of the most valuable books in the library, which were displayed on tables in the reading room. In the art gallery on the second floor, the library committee, with Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Tucker, received the guests on their way to inspect the Browsing Room.

Cases of antique walnut hold the fine editions of the Patterson Collection; there are low reading lamps beside the wing chairs in the room. Soft hangings, and several oil paintings which are genuine works of art, lend dignity and beauty to the substantial comfort of a room which reproduces in a public building the atmosphere of a home book room.

The collections of books on exhibition on the first floor included selections from the library's choice volumes of Virginia, Fine Arts, Foreign Literature, and Old Classics. Several treasures were withdrawn from their seclusion in the university vault for the occasion. These consisted of such early editions as Withers' "Chronicles of Border Warfare," Kercheval's "History of the Valley of Virginia," as well as Keith's and Beverley's histories of early days in Virginia.

Two pieces of incunabula were among the items on the table reserved for Old Classics: "Epistole Variorri," 1499, and "Rationale Diuinor," 1488. Ovid's "Metamorphosis," as translated by George Sands was of interest both in its association with Virginia and with the classics. The Fine Arts tables contained a number of well illustrated volumes, among them Blomfield's "History of Renaissance Architecture," Byne's "Rejería of the Spanish Renaissance," and Fielding's "Gilbert Stuart."

Among the out of town guests who visited the new room on Saturday evening were President Meta Glass of Sweet Briar College, Dr. Harrison E. Howe, the speaker of the evening before the Southwest Virginia Chemists Club, and several other members of the club.

Light refreshments were served in the Biography alcove at the rear of the library, where Mrs. Forest Fletcher served punch. One particularly interesting feature of the evening was a loan exhibit of Fresh posters of the European war period, owned and collected by Professor Frank J. Gilliam, associate professor of English. Compared with the more commercial character of such work in this country, these posters stand out as things of real quality and beauty.

The Browsing Room is now available for use. Students who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity must procure a set of rules governing its use from the library and return this signed not only with their own names but also signed by some member of the faculty who recommends them for this privilege.

New Tennis Courts To Be Ready Monday

The six new tennis courts just built by the University behind the varsity baseball diamond will be ready to play on Monday. The backstops and the net posts are now up and the process of conditioning the courts is not going on.

There are no restrictions as to whom may play on them, the first three courts of those under the bridge being the only ones reserved for the varsity team. Plans are now being made for a tennis tournament to be held among the gym classes after their forthcoming track meet.

Ibarra, capital of the province of Imbabura, is threatened with an invasion of 10,000 Indians.

SUTHERLAND CALLS FINANCE COMMITTEE

All members of the Finals finance committee are urged to attend a meeting of the group tomorrow night at 9:00 o'clock in Newcomb hall.

R. K. Sutherland, president of Finals, asks that every member attend as a comprehensive drive that will wind up the committee's activities is to be outlined at the meeting.

It is hoped that this meeting will be the last one that will be held, and every member must be there, Sutherland said.

Seven Declare Candidacies For Athletic Board

Bledsoe, Williams, Hanna, Faulkner, Cox, Tilson, and Mattox Post Names

Seven candidates for election to the Athletic Council had, by last night, their names posted on the Washington college bulletin board. The election will take place Tuesday, April 8, in the Y. M. C. A. room. All candidates who wish to run for this election must hand in their names to Frank O. Evans, secretary-treasurer of the student body, by six o'clock Saturday night, April 5.

Those who have already announced their candidacy are for President—Page Bledsoe, captain-elect of football and member of Sigma Chi, and Leigh Williams, captain of baseball, all-state basketball center, letter man in football, and track. He is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma.

For Vice-president—Frank "Red" Hanna, letter man in baseball and all-state guard in basketball. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi. For Secretary, Johnny Faulkner, varsity football, track, and boxing squads, and member of Alpha Tau Omega; and Harris Cox, all-state basketball forward, and member of Sigma Nu.

Two members at large are to be elected for which the following have announced their candidacy: C. E. "Tex" Tilson, football squad, Southern conference wrestling champion in the 175-pound class, and member of Lambda Chi Alpha; and W. W. "Monk" Mattox, varsity football, baseball, and member of Kappa Sigma.

Frosh Show Up Well In Track

Opening Meet With S. M. A. Scheduled for This Saturday

The freshman track team settled down to daily workouts and all the aspirants are practicing hard in preparation for their first meet of the season with Staunton Military Academy next Saturday. It is expected that Staunton will prove very formidable foes in the curtain-raiser. Last year they defeated the freshmen with an overwhelming score. This year they will bring several individual performers of much ability, but the strength of the team as a whole is not known.

Quite a few freshmen are showing up exceptionally well, and much will be expected of them on Saturday, as Coach Fletcher has not had sufficient time to develop all of his entries. The complete list of entries has not been definitely decided, but it is certain that: Edmunds will run in both the 100 and 200 yard dashes; Abbot and Black will run the 440 yard dash; Squires and Bladerman will run the half mile; Henry will run the mile; Bowyer will throw the javelin; Curtis will pole vault, as well as high jump, with Ward, Rivers, and Cook. The weight and broad jump men will be decided later this week when trials are held.

Stockholm—A regulation size umbrella which can be folded away and tucked in a woman's overcoat pocket has just been invented by C. A. Kihlstrom in Stockholm. It has telescoping shaft and struts and weight only a few ounces.

Venezuelan bandits accompanied by members of the Guahabos Indians tribe have raided farms at Cocote. Several attackers were killed and many wounded when the farmers resisted.

Plans Laid To Assure Yearly W. and L. Band

Executive Committee Adopts Resolution to Raise Band's Prestige

WOULD PUT FACULTY MEMBER IN CHARGE

Lack of Permanent Organization and Leadership Brings Action

The Executive Committee adopted resolutions at its meeting last week to assure the yearly existence of a University band, recommending that a faculty member be put in charge and that students serving in the band be given some sort of University credit.

The Committee, in giving its reasons for the adoption of the resolutions, set out that a college band has become a well established and highly desirable supplement to college football and has much potential power as a beneficial advertising factor of the school.

The bands representing Washington and Lee in former years have not been representative, according to the Committee report, and have been a source of embarrassment to alumni, faculty, and students.

The primary factor contributing to failure in this respect has been the lack of permanent organization. There has also been no one responsible for the band and difficulty has been encountered in holding the men together because of the lack of sufficient inducement.

The Committee recommends that a plan be worked out whereby members of the band be given credit either in semester hours or in quality credits. In the case of freshmen and sophomores, it is suggested that members of the band be excused from their required gymnasium work in connection with the Hygiene courses.

The committee expressed its belief that financial assistance may be obtained from the Athletic Association, and in the event that a Student Body fee is put in operation, a small percentage of it will be apportioned to the band. Recommendations of the Executive Committee regard the band.

In order to assure the yearly existence of a Band truly representative of Washington and Lee, the following recommendations are made:

1. That a member of the faculty be employed at a suitable salary to take complete charge of the University Band, its training, equipment, etc. (This Committee takes the liberty of recommending Mr. John Graham as a faculty member eminently qualified for the position.)

2. That a plan be worked out whereby students serving regularly in the Band be given credit, either in semester hours or in quality credits. In the case of freshmen and sophomores, it is suggested that members of the Band be excused from their required gymnasium work in connection with the Hygiene courses.

Intramural Tennis Tourney To Be Held After Holidays Here

A tennis tournament to decide the champion player of the University will be held immediately after the Easter holidays. This tournament is to be conducted by the department of Physical Education, and announcement will be made soon as to the exact date for entries. All men will be eligible to play except those who play or have played on the varsity team. Cups or medals will be presented to the winner and runner-up.

The final match will be held between the winner of the tournament and the winner of the elimination matches to be played between the members of the varsity team.

In accord with the increase in interest which has been shown by students in the net games during the past few years which has resulted in the tournament, more and better courts have been built and improved teams resulted.

The tournament is expected to give a line on material for next year's varsity team as well as furnish interesting competition for the many men who play every day for amusement.

DIRTY POLITICS

Now is the time for oily smiles, back slapping, and much calling by name. Politics are upon us and from observances made since September, it is easy to see that this campaign will equal the most bitter.

The rule that the Executive Committee has passed is intended to correct a very present evil—that of squandering huge sums in political campaigns. It should have a very beneficial effect, and no doubt will do a great deal toward cutting down expenses. The part of it that has to do with forbidding the use of liquor in electioneering is particularly well passed. The disgraceful and disgusting campaigns of the past, and of last year especially, should not be repeated.

The Executive Committee will have some difficulty in enforcing either rule to the letter. Those who are determined to violate them will believe that they can get away with their outlaw tactics. It will be difficult to prove that a man who bought another a soft drink or gave him a hard one did so in the interests of someone's campaign. On the other hand, the backers of one candidate will be eager to uncover evidence against another. The two groups will balance their activities evenly, perhaps.

All in all, the rule is a good one and will certainly lessen the evils that have made Washington and Lee politics as dirty as Chicago's. The night before the election will not bring a drunken riot and the entire week will be easier on the candidates and voters alike.

The men who have been guilty of spending huge sums for election will tell you that they were forced into it by their opponents. When neither candidate spends over the limit of twenty-five dollars, things are as equal as if they both spent five hundred. Pocket books are much better off.

The question of cliques is, of course, up again. There is an old saying that you can take a Washington and Lee man's word in anything except politics. In politics, the man who would not stoop to any such depths ordinarily, will lie like the veriest rascal. With great protestation of friendship and admiration, he will assure one candidate that he is getting a solid block of votes and then casually cut his throat. He will promise the votes unasked in an effort to "fix things up for the fraternity." He will promise the same to the other and then let his votes go the way he thinks wiser.

There is no one on the campus, least of all the candidates, who would not like to see the self-crowned political bosses eliminated. It would be a happy day here when elections were decided on merit alone and kept free from crookedness, scheming, and fraternity throat cutting. The Executive Committee has taken a splendid stride toward the realization of such a day, and it is to be hoped that further advances will be made.

Last year the candidates agreed to do away with the practice of swapping solid houses. Their agreement was more honored in the breach than the observance for the reason that they were overpowered by high powered "smoothy smoothies" in their fraternities who could not conceive of an honest election.

We do not say that candidates are paragons of virtue. Often as not, they are quite willing, nay, anxious, to fall in with the plans for a little neat throat cutting. But, as a whole, they are willing to stand upon their merits, providing their opponents do likewise. It is the organizer, the arranger, the meddler, the fixer, who is responsible for dirty politics.

VOTING CONVICTIONS

It is interesting to note the results of the poll on Prohibition that was taken at some of the leading colleges and universities last week. They were, in more ways than one, staggering. The poll included 24,000 men at fourteen colleges. Thirteen of the colleges were shown to be overwhelmingly wet: Princeton, Harvard, Amherst, Assumption, Brown, Colgate, Cornell, Dartmouth, Lafayette, M. I. T., Pittsburgh, and Purdue. Only one, Pennsylvania, returned a dry majority. Of the 24,000 voting, 16,595 declared themselves in favor of repeal or modification, with 4,517 advocating strict enforcement, and only 893 in favor of the present situation.

Fifteen thousand admitted drinking, while 8,569 asserted they never touched liquor. Princeton holds the doubtful honor of having the largest per cent of drinkers with 79 per cent admitting their use of liquor. The others ranged from 42.6 per cent, at Penn to 73 per cent, at Amherst.

Whatever might be said about the conditions which these figures represent, the encouraging fact remains that college students, wet or dry, took at least an open attitude on the question. Independent thinking need not be despaired of. The students voted their convictions which is something that too few of their elder fellow citizens can boast of doing.

The famed Dr. Clarence True Wilson, who spoke down at Richmond the other day said: "I am glad there are men in congress big enough to drink and still vote for what is right. If a man drinks, he ought to vote dry."

Thus the good doctor endorses a double set of morals and challenges the doctrine that a man's actions should square with his words. He admires as a "big" man, the political demagogue who runs with the hare and rides with the hounds, voting dry and drinking wet. A Congressman may applaud the killing of a bootlegger (someone else's, no doubt), and tell the rest of the people what to do, but if he, himself, chooses to do otherwise, he is all right with Doctor Wilson.

Youth naturally despises sham, hypocrisy, and two-facedness. Perhaps, when some of the students who voted in the poll get into congress they will not meet with Doctor Wilson's approval. And it will be to their everlasting credit if they do not.

GIVE US THE MEDAL

Mentioning the medal Coach Oberst is offering Washington and Lee players to stimulate their attendance at spring football practice, a writer in the Orange and White of the University of Tennessee goes on to say:

"We expect a bulletin anytime now that will say the team flower is the daffodil and that tea was served between halves of every scrimmage."

This gratuitously offensive remark hardly deserves answering, and were it not for the fact that these two columns are often hard to fill, we would not attempt it. Inanity is irritating, too.

It has always been this paper's policy to avoid any statements that cast reflection at a sister institution, and we shall say nothing spiteful about the University of Tennessee's football team. Nor about its players nor whether a medal is as good a stimulus as coin of the realm. The latter, so the famous Carnegie Report tells us, has been found effective in interesting football players. We rather prefer the medal here.

THE W. AND L. BASEBALL team looks like a lot of laundrymen in their new suits. With that "Washlee" on the front, they ought to clean up in every game they play.

AN INTERESTING story of Charlottesville is told in the "New Yorker". It seems an old lady from the north was sight-seeing, and in Charlottesville she wanted particularly to see the home of Edgar Allan Poe. She got in a taxi, and asked the negro driver to take her "to the Poe House." A few minutes later, the taxi stopped in front of a huge, pretentious structure.

"Is this the Poe House?" asked the lady.
"Sho, Madame—there's the sign," and the dusky chauffeur pointed to the huge letters "County Alms House."

"FATHER ORDERED To Spank Girl Red In New Jersey Court," reads a headline in a New York paper. My, my, has sovietism no sense of decency?

THE RED BULBS that hang around the edge of the balcony and on the walls of Lee Chapel have long been a source of wonder and curiosity to students. Investigation proves that they are fire extinguishers, "to be thrown at the base of flames," according to the instructions on each bulb. Whoever put those bulbs high on the walls and balcony edge, and in the arch in front of Lee's statue had, it seems, more desire for artistic arrangement than for fire prevention. It would be quite amusing, to say the least, to see some of the more rotund members of the Washington and Lee faculty shinning up the posts that support the balcony, to secure bulbs to throw.

THE SPELLING BEE between members of the House, Senate, and the Press held at the Press Club in Washington Saturday night was won by the Press. The word "kimono" spelled defeat for Representative Luce of Massachusetts, and victory for Ray Tucker, news correspondent, when the former placed an "a" in place of the final "o."

FIFTY YEARS AGO today, the House of Representatives was in a deadlock over a tariff bill. We knew it was pretty old, but that's a little more than we realized!

What Other Editors Say

THE SLAVE MARKET

Students who are forced to work at a low wage, say from sixteen to twenty-five cents an hour, as most working students on the Hill must, soon come to a realization of the gross injustice of such a wage. Being in narrow financial straits and seeing other students who have plenty of money, automobiles, and such things, drive many a student worker to ruin a good disposition. Trying to put the elements of the problem together he soon directs his scorn upon the city of Lawrence and then upon the employers.

The state spends much money in Lawrence each year, and students coming from over the state swell this total past the million dollar mark. It is self-evident that Lawrence could not be what it is if it were not for the University. Therefore, the working student reasons, since the University supports Lawrence, Lawrence in turn should support him. He does not ask for charity; he asks a job where he can get adequate pay for services rendered.

On the other hand, the people who live in Lawrence view with alarm the hiring of such student help by the local business firms. In the first place the prevalence of student competitors, most of whom must work or leave school, lowers wages. Wages for the working men in Lawrence are lower than in similar positions in other towns of the state. In the second place these student workers are here only nine months of the year, and a great many work in places where the employer could hire a full-time man and displace two or three students.

By the time the working student comes to realize the existence of these conditions, he wishes he had never started college until he had saved up a little more money.

Some take their case to a faculty member and ask for advice. The present faculty advisory system for freshman and sophomore men and women seems to offer consolation. After stating the case the student eagerly awaits some word of encouragement, but alas, what he hears is often more disheartening than brooding over the problem in the confines of his own mind. The advisor may ask why he came to college, and then tell him that the best thing for him is to quit working or else drop a large part of his scholastic work. And so his bubble is broken. Hadn't the county clubs told of the glory of the working student on Mt. Oread? And hadn't literature put out either by the University or by some of the many organizations connected to it boasted of the same thing?

It is at this point that the working student starts to propose a remedy. Generally a student labor union does not appeal to students. The very nature of student working conditions would cause a union to defeat its own purpose. Students of this class divide here. Some quit. Others go on working as best they can, making the best of a bad situation, dropping out if necessary for a year or so but always hoping for the best.—Daily Kansan.

CIGARETTE SLOGANS

In a recent unexpected quiz given by one of the instructors at the College of William and Mary, he asked his class of thirty-three students to write the names of as many advertising slogans in ten minutes as possible. The purpose of the instructor in giving such an unexpected quiz of this nature is not known, but it is supposed that he was anxious to know who and how many students observed the things outside the classroom as well as the hidden truths found in the textbooks. On the other hand, the instructor could have had in mind the effect of different means of advertising from a commercial viewpoint. Be that as it may, the quiz was given, and the results tabulated.

From the thirty-three papers handed in, 125 different slogans were named. Out of this number, eight slogans were remembered by half of the members of the class. The various types of advertisements showed that 50 per cent of the slogans were taken from cigarette advertisements; 25 per cent from automobile advertisements; 12.5 per cent from other advertisements of lesser importance. In the 125 slogans, there were 97 with five words or less and 23 with six words or less.

From the above data, the tendency of the William and Mary students seem to be to retain the slogans used by the various tobacco companies much better than the slogans used by companies manufacturing other products. Now the question may be asked why are the slogans used by cigarette companies more retentive in the minds of William and Mary students than the slogans used by companies manufacturing other products? It seems to be logical, basing an opinion on the data obtained from the thirty-three representative students, to say that the cigarette companies have conducted extensive campaigns encouraging the use of their brand and making effective their slogan. Then the cigarette advertisements are artistic and clever, which seem to appeal to students. With these facts in mind, the old saying that "It pays to advertise" must be true.—The Flat Hat.

GENERAL GOSSIP

In the list of centers given honorable mention by College Humor when that magazine picked an All-American basketball team was the name of Leigh Williams.

Johnson of North Carolina State was given a first team guard berth on the mythical All-American cage team. McGinnis of Kentucky was placed on the third five. Werber of Duke and Hood of Alabama was given honorable mention at guard and center respectively.

College Humor stated that there was never a greater forward to play on the hardwoods than Hyatt of Pittsburgh who has never been stopped in three years of competition. Thompson of Montana State was picked as All-American guard last year but didn't repeat this year, one of the main reasons being that Hyatt scored 28 points on him when Montana State came east this year.

Fitzgerald, frosh, collected four hits and two walks on six trips to the plate in the S. M. A. game.

Violet, Cremin, and Fitzgerald displayed real ability in handling their posts in approved fashions for the frosh.

Everett Cross thinks that it is better to play almost out in right field when Fitzgerald comes to bat as his drives toward second base are not seen but only whistle to let the varsity second sacker know they are coming by.

With Cy Twombly in the hospital Oberst is taking charge of the frosh baseball team and Hoffman is directing the gridders in spring practice.

Due to the fact that there were enough hurdles at Duke, "Deacon" rmour, General hurdler, did not get to compete in the Duke-Washington and Lee track meet.

Bailey got off his longest throw in competition that he has ever made when he threw the plate 132 feet 11 inches against Duke last Saturday.

Coach Dick Smith took four pitchers, three catchers, five outfielders, and six infielders on the trip to North Carolina.

"Dynamite" Evans and Nace Collins were the chief ground gainers in the scrimmage of Tuesday for the spring gridders.

The freshman scoring 5 runs and with two men on base with none out in the seventh inning of the frosh A. M. A. game were unfortunate enough to have the contest called and the score reverted to the score at the end of the previous inning 12-9 in favor of Coach Twombly's protegeses.

Against A. M. A. Cy Painter and Emerson mounted the hill with six runs being scored on Painter and three runs charged against Emerson.

Lefty Jenkins Holds Blue and White to 9 Scattered Hits

Garnering only nine hits and being on the short end of a 15-2 score the Washington and Lee Generals suffered defeat at the hands of the Duke Blue Devils in their invasion of North Carolina. Lefty Jenkins, Duke moundsman, easily held the Generals to their scattered hits while his team mates gathered nineteen.

"Babe" Wilson pitched for the Blue and White. He was credited with three strikeouts. Werber, Duke short stop, and his team mate Shore connected for circuit clouts.

Student Never Has Gone To Show Here

Believe it or not, a student at Washington and Lee has admitted that he has in his year and a half never darkened the door of a local theatre.

The New and Lyric theatres ran hundreds of shows in that period, but not once in that time did John Dean attend one of them. Random questioning of over a hundred students disclosed the fact that the average attendance at the theatres was about twice a week, but of those hundred students Dean was the only one who could claim the doubtful distinction of absolute abstinence from the local talkies.

Contrary to the usual expectations, Dean is not a bookworm, but is quite active in publications and athletics.

Twombly To Remain In Hospital 3 Weeks

Confined to Jackson Memorial Hospital following an operation for an infection performed last week, E. P. "Cy" Twombly is showing great improvement. If he continues to progress as he has in the last few days he will be allowed to go home in about three weeks, though it is not thought that he will be able to return to his duties in the athletic department for at least a month. His physician is well pleased with his progress.

Two students are also in the hospital: R. A. Pritchard, sophomore commerce student, and Kenneth Bank, freshman lawyer. Neither are seriously ill.

'The Drunkard' Will Be Shown Here April 3, 4

Plot of Benefit Show by English Department Will Furnish Laughs

"The Drunkard", a rival of a moral domestic drama of the 1840's, will be presented at the Lyric Theatre Thursday and Friday nights, April 3 and 4. It is being directed by Prof. A. Ulric Moore of the faculty and all the men's parts are acted by students and professors. This drama is being given as a benefit for underprivileged children in Lexington and Rockbridge county.

Christopher Morley's revival of a familiar melodrama, "After Dark, or Neither Maid, Wife, Nor Widow," was received uproariously and ran for months last year in New York, and "The Drunkard" has had a successful revival within the last few months in New York and was well received. "The Drunkard" deals with the "poor but honest" girl who loves and marries the son of her landlord, a rich but weak young gentleman. Everything goes along smoothly for several years, but through the schemes of the wily lawyers, the husband is ruined by drink, and the poor wife and child struggle through the hardships. Of course, there is the noble foster brother of the erring husband, who is much in evidence during the struggles of the young couple.

H. V. Shelly is the industrious bar keeper, and Fitzgerald Flournoy is the landlord. Miss Julia Desha as the wife, and little Miss Patsy Fletcher as the daughter, struggle through their misfortune most graciously together.

Other members of the cast are: Mr. Waxberg as the weak young man; Mr. Gordon as the scheming lawyer; Mr. Boves as the noble foster brother; Mr. Gleaton as the philanthropist who understands the hero's weakness; Mrs. J. W. Zimmerman as the mother of the heroine; Miss Mary Walker Keenan as the maniac whose condition was brought on by former schemes of the wicked lawyer; and Messrs. Blake, Givens, and Stevens, have the remaining roles. All the characters are well taken and the play is most interesting from many points of view, and the sponsors and welfare workers of the County are asking that the students of Washington and Lee help to make the production a success.

Handball, Track Contests Begin

An extensive program of dual meets and matches is being planned by the Physical Education department, between the freshmen and sophomores in track and handball. The track meet will be held on April 17 and rules of eligibility bar only those whom Coach Fletcher considers on his squad. All regular events will be held except the two mile run. In the weights a 12-pound shot will be used instead of the regular 16-pound one.

All the members of the different gym classes are required to work out on the track program and a creditable showing is expected to be made by the impromptu track men.

Coach Mathis has posted a list to be filled out by the handball candidates and there are no rules of eligibility. Medals will be given by the department to men who win first places.

Points will be in regular 5, 3, 1, order counting first, second, third. Two persons are dead as the result of an express train derailment at Tucuman, Argentina.

Runners Take 80-46 Victory From Dukemen

stepped in a hole on the track and sprained his ankle. In the low hurdles Finklestein got off to a fast start and led Speer to the tape. Both men were well out in front of Sharpe, of Duke, who made up the third man. As there were only four lanes of hurdles, Armour, the other Washington and Lee entrant in the hurdles was unable to compete. Broderick walked away with the half mile in the slow time of 2:7 due to the muddy condition of the track. Massengill managed to beat out Dickey with a last minute sprint that beat off Dickey's drive to the tape.

Bailey broke the school record in the discus, throwing it 132 ft. 11 in. to win easily from Webster and Brewer. Sandifer again came through in the broad jump winning the event with a leap of 20 ft. 11 in.

The final score was Washington and Lee 80, Duke 46. The entire meet was run off in the fast time of one hour and 45 minutes, a record for dual meets.

Lexington May Be Chosen For Vets Hospital

Local Post of American Legion Trying to Secure Location Here

Lexington will be the location of a War Veterans hospital of four hundred beds if the plans of the local post of the American Legion are passed by the United States Senate. Congressman Harry St. George Tucker of this district is using his influence at Washington to secure the passage of the bill.

The local post of the Legion is now in correspondence with the Senate and has pointed out the advantages of Lexington as a site. When Small Machines Were Big
MORE than a quarter century ago, the Commonwealth Edison Company, prophetically alive to the immense possibilities of the future, ordered from General Electric a 5000-kilowatt steam turbine—in those days a giant of electric power.
To-day, a General Electric turbine-generator of 208,000-kilowatt capacity sends out its vast energy to the Chicago Metropolitan District.
College-trained men played a responsible part in the engineering and manufacture of both machines—just as they serve in important capacities in the engineering, production, and distribution of all General Electric equipment, large or small.
