Varsity Ends Season With Blue Devils

Generals Will Meet Duke At Durham On Thanks- giving

DEVILS EXPERIENCE WINNING SEASON

Year Marks Close Of Career For DeHart, Head Coach At Duke

The final chapter in the Washington and Lee 1930 football annual will be written on Thanksgiving Day when the Generals meet the Duke "Blue Devils" at Durham. This game is the first of a home and home series and replaces the annual Florida game which has been played on that day for the past five years.

Saturday Duke will battle Wake Forest while the Generals will take advantage of an open date on their schedule and gain a much needed rest before traveling to the tobacco city.

The Devils, experiencing probably the greatest football year in their history have been stepping along at a fast clip and can boast of a record of seven straight wins, losing only their first game, that to South Carolina, Virginia, Navy, Wofford, Villanova, Kentucky, and N. C. State have been converted into Blue Devil victims on successive Saturdays.

Three wins and one loss for an average of .750 has placed Duke in third place in the Southern Conference standings. A powerful offense has accounted for 120 points while only 35 has been scored against them.

This year marks the conclusion of his career at Duke for Jimmy DeHart, head coach since 1926 when he went to that school from Washington and Lee.

Coming to W. and L. in 1922 from the University of Georgia where he had served as backfield coach, DeHart proceeded to turn out successful teams here in the years 1922-25. The Virginia State championship came to W. and L. three successive years 1923-24-25.

In 1926 following an attractive offer from Duke, DeHart took over the coaching duties there and Pat Herron, then head coach at Duke succeeded him at Washington and Lee. Both coaches had been All-American teammates at

Band To Take Trip To Duke

Third Out Of Town Trip May Be Taken To Durham

The Washington and Lee band is expected to make the trip to Duke University for the Thanksgiving game between the Blue Devils and the Generals next week.

Although no definite information could be obtained from Captain Dick Smith or Professor H. V. Shelley, the band was promised this trip at the start of its organization this year. The school will pay the expenses of the band on this trip as they did on the Virginia trip last week.

The tentative plans for the band call for its departure from Lexington Wednesday afternoon. The bus is expected to arrive in Durham that night. The game which will be played at 2 o'clock the next afternoon is somewhat early, and plans for leaving early Thursday morning have been almost discarded by the authorities.

Assistant Drum Major Francis is expected to make his first appearance of the year in the role of drum-major. On the other occasions where the band has played this year Tom Moore, drum-major, has been present.

The crowd at the game next week will probably be the largest the band has played before this year. After performing before a small crowd at the St. Johns game, and fair sized crowds at the V. P. I., Maryland and Virginia games, the band hopes to make its best appearance before the spectators in the 35,000 capacity stadium of the Durham school.

This trip will end the activities of the band for a time, but plans are made to keep the organization together the rest of the school year, or at least until the end of the basket-ball season.

Strong Teams Close Season This Saturday

Harvard And Yale Will Meet For Forty-ninth Game

Next Saturday will mark the closing of the football season for a number of teams and among these will be Yale and Harvard who will engage in their forty-ninth game. Of the forty eight games played thus far, the Elis have captured twenty six, the Crimson has been victorious in sixteen and six of them have resulted in ties. This year's contest should be a close game with both teams having a good chance to win.

Army plays its last game before the annual battle with Notre Dame when it meets the comparatively weak Ursinus eleven at West Point. This game will also mark the last appearance of the cadets in their home grounds as they clash with the Rockne men at Soldiers Field in Chicago.

Navy meets the strong Maryland aggregation at Annapolis. Both teams seem to be evenly matched and a close game will ensue. The Carnegie Tech eleven will probably defeat the Temple university outfit in Philadelphia while the Lafayette team should take over the weak Lehigh team. The latter game, however, may end either way as the two teams are old rivals and the intense feeling which is worked up often overcomes the superiority of the other team. This game will probably be one of the hardest fought games this season.

In the South, Washington and Lee will rest while her Turkey Day rival, Duke, will play the Wake Forest eleven which is not expected to put up much opposition to the Blue Devil outfit which ran roughshod over most of her

Cy Young Has Strong Frosh Team In First Year As Coach

The Washington and Lee freshman football team has closed its 1930 schedule and brought to an end a successful season. This year's team was one of the best to represent the Blue and White on the gridiron in some years. Cy Young should be congratulated on molding together a well balanced team and drilling them into the fundamentals which are necessary to make them varsity material for future years.

The Little Generals closed their schedule on Friday and can boast of victories over the strong Maryland and Virginia teams. V. P. I. was the only state team to nose out the Yearling team this year and did so after a bitter struggle which was lost in the second half after the Freshmen weakened.

There are many of the freshmen squad this year who are expected to prove much ability in varsity competition next year. Joe

Kappa Alphas Beat Arcades In Semi-Final

Many Injuries Mark Hard Fought Contest Last Tuesday

In one of the closest battles of the Touch-football Tournament the K. A.'s made a desperate goal line stand to stave off a last minute drive of the Arcades, to win by five first downs to four. The game, a nip and tuck affair as long as the ball was in play, was marred considerably by the numerous injuries and time-outs of both teams.

The Arcades took the ball on downs on the K. A. one-yard line with only ten seconds left to be played in the second half. The teams lined up hurriedly, and the ball was snapped to Sanders, star Arcades back. Realizing victory and defeat hung in the balance he tossed accurately to Sale for what looked to be a touchdown, but Hickman, dynamite Kappa Alpha back managed to get a hand on the ball to ground it, and save the day for the K. A.'s.

After an exchange of punts in the first quarter the K. A.'s took the ball on their own thirty-yard line, and marched steadily to the Arcades twenty-yard marker on a series of short passes and running plays by Brooks, McKenzie, and Graham. They amassed four first downs on this sustained drive, but were held just short of a score, when Pillely intercepted one of Brooks' heaves. Throughout the remainder of the first half, the ball changed hands rapidly with each team gaining only one first down.

Trailing at the end of the first period, 5-1, the Arcades came back "to do or die" in the second half. Sanders began passing with reckless abandon and Music Committee—L. L. Tignor, chairman, W. O. Thomas, J. W. Clopton, Jr., C. H. Paddock, and W. F. Stone.

The figure of the Cotillion Club formal will be led by C. H. McMillan with Miss Virginia Hall, of Sweetbriar. He will be assisted by J. R. Horner.

The figure will be short and has been worked out on new lines this year.

John Mosby, president of the sophomore class, has organized every detail for the sophomore prom. Davis Gunter, chairman of the finance committee, is still canvassing the campus in an attempt to collect the dues from all members of the class.

The favors for the sophomore prom have been selected. They are much better than they have ever been in the past.

The decorations for the Thanksgiving dance set have been completed. The gymnasium will be decorated in two shades of orange and in black. A number of men have been working in the gymnasium ever afternoon this week.

The music for the Thanksgiving dance set will be furnished by Tal Henry and his North Carolinians. The North Carolinians are a very popular orchestra and have played at the dances for many universities. Among those for whom the orchestra has furnished the music are Yale, Cornell, Princeton, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, North Carolina State, Georgia, Amherst, and Pennsylvania.

Collegian To Be Out Soon

Literary Magazine Expected To Appear Shortly Be- fore Holidays

The Thanksgiving number of The Southern Collegian, Washington and Lee literary magazine, will appear shortly before the Thanksgiving holidays, J. B. Crane, editor of the publication, said today.

"The magazine is now with the printer," he explained, "and it is hoped that the job will be completed before next Tuesday, in order that subscribers may receive their copies on that day."

A "Thanksgiving" theme will be carried out in all decorations of the book, Crane stated. The cover will be featured by a special turkey border. Turkey decorations will be used throughout the inside, also.

New body-type, and special headline type, and minor changes in cover design are the only physical alterations in the Collegian this year.

Three feature articles, two short stories, a play, a fantastic sketch, the editorial, book reviews, and humor will make up the contents for the first issue, Crane stated.

"It is my hope that the magazine will interest readers by use of material directly concerning Washington and Lee men and activities," he concluded.

NOTICE TO SOPHOMORES

Every year the Sophomore class is host to a formal dance the Friday after Thanksgiving. This year the class of '33 is planning the best dance that any Sophomore class has ever given. Tal Henry and his orchestra have been engaged to furnish the music. Burr and Patterson are furnishing very high class favors, and a mid-night supper is going to be given during the intermission. Everything points to the best dance yet.

The class as a whole, however, has not entered into the spirit of co-operation that a dance of this type needs. The dues have been coming very slowly. The members of the Finance Committee report that the Sophomores are delaying the payment of their dues. It is imperative that the funds for this dance be paid before Tuesday night. If you have not paid your dues as yet, do so at once. Not to go to this dance, the only one that the Sophomore class gives during the year, and to neglect to pay your dues at once, will result in a reflection on you as a member of the class and on the class as a whole. The Sophomore classes in the past have never gone in the hole and it would be a disgrace for the class of '33 to suffer such a disgrace.

The Sophomore Prom this year is going to be the best one ever given and it is up to the Sophomores to see that it is paid for. If you have not paid your dues and got your ticket yet, do so at once. The class of '33 needs your support; give it now.

Decrease Seen In Grades Of Mid-Semester

Fewer Men Listed As Honor Roll Students Than Last Year

The recent mid-semester grades show a marked difference from those given out at this time last year. There are almost ten less men on the honor roll this year, and the number who would fall under the automatic rule has increased by about the same number.

There can be no certain list of honor men since it has been impossible to have grades made up for some classes. Due to the illness of Dr. R. G. Campbell, there are no complete marks for his classes in Politics.

The honor roll as it stands at present consists of thirty-one men, three of them freshmen. At the first mid-semester of last year, there were thirty-nine men on the honor roll, including eight freshmen.

Under these new marks, the grades of forty men would be effected by the automatic ruling. Fifteen of these are first year men. A year ago only thirty-three students were effected by these restrictions, with sixteen freshmen on this list.

The grades issued at the middle of each semester are not formally recorded. They are given out in order that the students, their parents, and the administrative officers may know where each student stands in his work. They also give the individual man an opportunity to pull up the standard of his work by the end of the semester.

Detroit College Editor Says Paper More Than A Mirror

Pitted on the one hand against a dean who demanded censorship of his paper's editorials and articles, and on the other hand against a group of influential students who object to his editorial policies, A. S. Kosciely, editor of the Detroit Collegian, of the College of the City of Detroit, is waging a battle and a half.

At present writing neither question has been settled definitely. Apparently the student editor has most of his fellow undergraduates on his side in the censorship battle, and the majority of them appear to be behind him in his fight to edit the paper as he believes it should be edited.

A group of students who published an independent newspaper under the auspices of the Kappa Chi fraternity, started the fuss when they claimed that, among other things, the Collegian was giving too little space to sport campus events which they con-

January 29 and 30 Are Dates For Fancy Dress

Theme to be Selected Next Week; Mrs. Beverly Tucker Takes Place as Decorator; Students to Work Under Her Direction

Three dances, as in former years, will comprise the Fancy Dress set, according to William Tallyn, president of Fancy Dress. The junior prom will be held Thursday, January 29; Fancy Dress, Friday, January 30, and the morning dansant, Saturday, January 31.

The committee composed of Tallyn, F. M. Smith, secretary-treasurer, Houston M. Minnicie, business manager, and Mrs. Beverly Tucker, director are working on a theme and expect to come to a definite conclusion next week.

"Since Mr. Gill is not back to help this year with the ball, we will be working under particular difficulties," said Tallyn. "I was very fortunate, however, in securing the aid of Mrs. Tucker who will attend to the intricate and fancy decorations. Mrs. Tucker has had experience as a decorator and we are counting on her to take the place of Mr. Gill. She will serve as director, and the students will work under her supervision."

While no definite orchestra has been booked, Tallyn has been corresponding with the leading orchestras in the country and reports that now it is only a matter of elimination before the final selection is made. During the summer he went to the Music Corporation of America but failed to make a definite decision for one of their bands. Last week Tallyn and Raymond Ade, president of junior prom, went to New York where they interviewed five orchestra leaders.

"Every director was eager to play for Fancy Dress, as all of them heard about the social prestige of our dance," said Tallyn. "Everywhere we went the musicians were anxious to come down."

Decorations will begin as soon as the Thanksgiving dances are over and there has been a meeting of the junior class. Ade will call a meeting of the class immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays. He announces: "It is important that we have a meeting soon, but we decided to let it go until the sophomore prom is over and the men are not dividing their time between school work and the holidays."

The committee expects an unusually large attendance at the dances this season as the first dance is the night the final mid-semester examination is over. Often in previous years many men have gone home between semesters because the dances did not start until the day after the term.

Mathis Busy With Matmen

Varsity To Be Built Around Mitchell, Tilson, And Mathis

Varsity wrestling practices are being hurried up now by Coach Mathis in order to have his team ready for the match with the Richmond Y. M. C. A. which will be held in the gym, December 13.

Immediately after Thanksgiving, the squad will be strengthened by a number of men who are now playing football. Evans, the fast little 115 pounder promises to be a strong peg in the wrestling machine this year. Harris, 145 pounder, Tilson and Devan, 175 pound men and Mitchell and Wofford heavyweights are the other men who will trade football uniforms for wrestling togs.

Coach Mathis plans to build his team around the three undefeated men from last year's team, Mitchell, Tilson and Mathis.

Three undefeated freshmen from last year's team will see service this year on the varsity if they keep up the good work. They are Evans, Abramson and Thomas.

After the match with the Richmond Y. M. C. A. an all-University meet will be held in which there will be no eligibility rules, the purpose of this meet will be to uncover any new material and to give the freshmen and new varsity men experience.

The freshman team promises to be as strong as last year's team. Marshall, Eicholtz, Brennen and Stevens have just come from the freshman football squad to be as strong as last year's team, and several others will be out after Thanksgiving.

Coach Mathis expressed the opinion that he would have a well balanced freshman team and a few men that would give the varsity trouble in competition matches.

EDUCATION FOR THE NEW SOUTH

The new president of Washington and Lee University on taking office has declared his intention of developing that institution along the lines laid down by General Robert S. Lee. In so doing President Gaines calls attention not only to his own plans and those of his institution but to the necessities of the South itself.

For, in the five years in which Robert E. Lee undertook to reorganize the instruction at Washington College, he visualized the needs of the South, then war-battered and bewildered. The little college had been devoted to the old formal classical education.

Lee's idea was to change the entire outlook on life and its problems. He declared that the college must aid in the development of the natural resources of the South. It must prepare men to build up commerce and industry—and especially must it contribute to the spread of well-balanced public opinion.

To this end he organized schools of engineering, commerce and journalism. He did not overlook fundamental culture—but he did insist that the studies should be a practical answer to the building up of the new South.

What was a novelty sixty years ago when General Lee led out with his program has affected all modern education.

Today as never before a South which discovers itself a richer depository of undeveloped resources than it dreamed of and with unlimited power to use them, needs to be reminded that the way out is through education.

Nor is material and practical instruction all the South requires. The fineness of spirit which was exemplified in the Leader of the Lost Cause ought not to be overlooked.

As President Gaines himself phrases it, there is something a little finer than culture, a little rarer than competence, a little nobler than success. It is that old-fashioned quality which Lee made so much his own—honor.

LET'S HEAR SOMETHING

The Carnegie Institute of Technology students were treated to four outstanding speakers not long ago when Clarence Darrow, the noted criminal lawyer, told why he is an agnostic; Rabbi Samuel H. Goldman, of Pittsburgh, told why he is a Jew; Quin O'Brien, Chicago attorney, supported his position as a Catholic, and Dr. Albert E. Day of Christ M. E. Church, Pittsburgh, upheld his beliefs as a Protestant.

Wouldn't it be great if Washington and Lee students could hear such a series of lectures? There have been rumors and threats of having some good speakers this year, but that is as far as things have gone. It will be a few days until Christmas. It will be impossible to have lectures between Christmas and examinations. Something will have to be done soon if we are to hear something besides touring prima donnas and negro quartets before the end of the year.

We venture the suggestion and guess that the above men would come to Washington and Lee for slightly more than their expenses. Washington and Lee needs some speakers on subjects like those mentioned above. Religion would be doubly interesting to Washington and Lee students.

Subscriptions have been taken for speakers. That is all we've heard of the matter. If speakers are going to be secured, we suggest the above series of lectures and we would be willing to wager money that these speakers could be secured for the amount of money that has already been raised. We would be willing to wager more money at larger odds that these series of lectures or something similar would be received with enthusiasm by students.

FANCY DRESS

Definite plans for Fancy Dress Ball have been made by Bill Tallyn, president. This dance, known as "the outstanding collegiate social affair in the South," promises to be as good if not better than previous dances.

By the date of the dances everything will be in readiness. Decorations have been planned, figures are being studied, the orchestra has been picked. The cooperation of the students is accepted as a fact.

Once again will days of dances, beautiful women, old friendships, and wonderful memories be here. Everyone who has attended a Fancy Dress Ball will remember it all his life. Those days stay as vivid in your memory as a train wreck.

Soon the call for freshmen to help in the decorations will be made. Every fraternity will send out their pledges to aid. Every upper-classman will make plans for the affair. Juniors will be interested in Junior Prom. Seniors, their last Fancy Dress. Sophomores have learned the ropes and will know how to get the most out of the season and freshmen will be looking forward to a new experience.

The spirit of it all will pervade the University. Everyone is interested in Fancy Dress and everyone will do his best to make it a success.

ABOUT THOSE BOOKS

With the coming of the autumn rains an old, established, and unfortunate custom of the Washington and Lee student body comes into evidence once more. In spite of threatening skies and presages of rain, students will leave books around on the campus to get ruined. There's nothing quite so be-draggled looking as an unfortunate volume which has been left out in the rain. Warped and faded, it pleads with silent eloquence against such undeserved treatment.

Of course it's none of our business if students want to ruin books. They have their books. But still, we have to look at them, and it is distinctly painful to see those mud-spattered and almost melted texts lying out in the rain so disconsolately.

Aside from the esthetic part of it, there is an enormous waste in this custom. Without definite statistics, we cannot hazard a guess as to the financial damage which the rains do to student pockets in this respect. But it must be considerable, and it is deplorable. It is so unnecessary.

One supposes college students are naturally gamblers, and like anything which has an element of chance in it. Thus they bet their labor necessary to carry the books to some safe repository against the result of an unforeseen shower.

A glance at the campus almost any morning after a rain will show how often they lose.

We don't suppose anything can be done about it. It is a custom too deeply imbedded to be hastily changed. As long as students are lazy, so long will damp books lie on the campus.

The Critic's Seat

Madam Satan

Sticking to gorgeous bedrooms for part of his plot, although tiring for the moment of diamond studded bathrooms, Cecil B. de Mille needed a new thrill for his "Madam Satan," so one of the lines in the talkie runs: "You must come to my masked ball aboard the Zeppelin tonight." There happened to be a Zepp hanging around, fortunately enough, so the big scene takes place in the air. It was no common garden variety of airship either. Rather one of those giant affairs with a grand staircase, gold-plated cuspidors and all the elegant fittings of the customarily elaborate De Million sort. Plenty of room, too, for a thousand guests attended the affair and were entertained, when they were not entertaining themselves, by the usual Zeppelin crew of toe dancers and adagio artists. When the gayety was at its height a bolt of lightning, conjured up by the remarkable Mr. de Mille, bumped into the blimp. By a lucky chance there were almost enough parachutes aboard for every one of the entertainers and guests. As a matter of fact, the supply was only one short and Reginald Denny, big he-man hero of the drama, stood by the ship until the last galoot was ashore. Then Mr. Denny went into a nose dive, earthward, and, as luck would have it, the New York City reservoir was convenient and the next thing you knew he was back home and reconciled to his wife, who, up to that time, was a little undecided about loving him. You just can't beat a Zeppelin wreck for bringing husbands and wives together. But even with all of this, "Madam Satan" is a good meller. Denny and Kay Johnson do some singing which is way above the ordinary. Roland Young is excellent as the man who furnished the airship and the Zeppelin crew dances as only a Zeppelin crew can.

The Doorway To Hell

And speaking of thrills, "The Doorway to Hell" makes all the former efforts of the screen to show how Chicago rum runners take pot shots at one another look like a Sunday school picnic. There are more battles and funerals and killings in this film than in all the earlier efforts put together. Chicago gangsters, who look like the real thing, battle it out from start to finish and no picture goer could wish for more excitement. The story is not entirely new but it has a real kick and Lewis Ayers, who got his training as a machine gunner in "All Quiet on the Western Front" is a baby-faced killer well worth seeing—if you want to see killers.

What a Widow

But if former stage people run away with most of the other shows in town this week, Gloria Swanson demonstrates that the screen has provided a real actor or two in "What a Widow." Miss Swanson, who wears a million dollars worth of clothes, more or less, during the course of this epic of high life in Paris, shows that she knows something about her art as well. She gives a highly interesting performance of a young widow with a fortune to spend and a determination never to marry again—anyway, not before reel eight. The scenes are laid on shipboard, one of those magnificent gold plated trans-Atlantic liners made in Hollywood, and in France, and if you want to see how Our Set lives, and dresses, on a holiday, drop into Loew's this week. Gloria, who has a splendid voice, sings several times most pleasingly and the story, if light, is amusing and entertaining. The direction of the picture and the photography is about the best the screen has seen since the talkies came in.

Eddie Cantor in "Whoopie" is coming Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

GENERAL GOSSIP

Edited by J. M. Dean

A number of casualties resulted from the hard-fought Arcades of Tuesday. Henry McKenzie of Kappa Alpha touch-football game K. A. had three stitches taken in his head as the result of his collision with Russ Morrow of Arcades. Morrow had $175 worth of dentistry lost when four teeth were knocked out as the result of the collision. Graham of Kappa Alpha is on crutches, Hickman, Taylor, and several others are suffering from minor ailments.

Arcades suffered more than K. A. as the result of the game. Besides Morrow Arcades has Dick Sale in the hospital with torn muscles in his leg, while almost the entire team is suffering from bruises of some nature obtained in the hard-fought yet very rough semi-final contest in which the K. A.'s were victorious.

Due to the great number of injuries Kappa Alpha has asked that a postponement be made of their game for the intra-mural championship with Tourist Inn as they are unable to put eleven men on the field in physical condition.

Coach Cy Young of the freshman cage team saw his football men who have just reported for basketball beat the cagers who had been out for basketball since the first call was issued in an informal game.

Two of the best football teams in the country lost a backfield star this week with Notre Dame losing Joe Savoldi, as the result of a matrimonial misadventure and Army's backfield ace, Cy Letzelter being tackled by the age limit which was suddenly brought to light. Savoldi has withdrawn from school while Letzelter will remain in the Academy.

Mohler of Southern California scored as many points as "Red" Grange did in the Michigan game of 1924 in about the same number of minutes, when he scored four touchdowns against California recently, as the Trojans walloped the Golden Bears 74-0.

Arcades almost beat Kappa Alpha by a "Frank Merriwell" play Tuesday afternoon. With five seconds to play and the ball on the Kappa Alpha one yard line Sanders passed to Camp over the goal line, but the Arcades end dropped the ball.

By not having an active captain this year the wrestling team will have one of its eight regulars acting as captain at least once, as there are eight meets. This means that Mattox, Palmer, Evans, Mathis, Osterman, Mitchell, Abramson, and Thomas will each be captain during the year.

Ned Wilson caught one of "Stu" Sanders' lateral passes on the 40 yard line and was not brought down by the Arcades' quarterback until he had reached the 12 yard stripe. It was not long after that that Sanders intercepted a Kappa Alpha pass behind his own goal, but managed to get over before being touched.

A California graduate suggested that instead of California and Stanford meeting this year that they get together and both play Southern California at the same time as the Golden Bear and the Cardinal coach have protested against Southern California getting all of the athletes in the state.

Coach Bill Roper of Princeton paid Albie Booth a big compliment the other night over the radio by saying that the best two backs that he had ever seen play were Coy and Booth of Yale. This is great praise considering that Roper coached Jake Sagle himself.

After having lost their first game to South Carolina 23-0 Duke has stepped out and defeated every opponent since. Added to the fact that Jimmy DeHart would like to defeat his former proteges the Duke-Washington and Lee game will have plenty behind it in the matter of sentiment.

Seminary Students Will Be Guests Here This Week

Two students of the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond are to be in Lexington this week end as the guests of the university through the Christian Activities of the campus.

Mr. Jim Appleby, one of the men, is to speak at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday night at eight o'clock, in a program designed especially for the students of Washington and Lee.

Mr. William E. Hill, Jr., will speak at V. M. I. at the same time. Mr. Hill is a graduate of Davidson College and was on the wrestling team there.

Both men will probably speak on the ministry as a profession. All the students are invited to attend the meeting at the Presbyterian Church.

Powerful Line In Souths Teams

Outstanding Ends Run n Paris While Other Forward Stars are Scattered.

Atlanta, Southern gridiron experts agree that no recent campaign has furnished so many outstanding linemen as are found on Dixie football teams this year.

Outstanding ends seem to run in pairs. Tulane has Dalrymple and Holland, Georgia lists Maffett and Smith, Vanderbilt boasts Schwartz and Scheffer and along with these are Roski, Duke, Greshette, South Carolina; Moore, Alabama; Jones, Georgia Tech, and Nolan, Florida.

Most observers point to Freddie Sington of Alabama as the leader of Southern tackles. Close behind comes Waters, Florida; Maree, Georgia Tech; McCause, Tulane; Clements, Alabama; Cobb, North Carolina State; Wright, Kentucky; Shants, South Carolina, and Davis, Clemson.

Georgia has two powerful guards in Leathers and Maddox, while Steele, Florida; Bodenger, Tulane; Forquer, Kentucky; Davis, Duke; Thayer, Tennessee, and Howard and Miller, Alabama, are all outstanding performers.

Lloyd Roberts, center, has been a bulwark of strength in all Tulane games. Other good centers include Lipcomb of North Carolina; Williams, Kentucky; Boutwell, Louisiana State; Greece, Vanderbilt; Stimson, Sewanee, and Clemons, Florida.

Of these linemen, three were named on all-Southern last year. They were Smith, Georgia, end; Sington, Alabama, tackle, and Roberts, Tulane, center.

Cadets Clash With Gobblers

Victory Over Va. Gives Gobblers Edge, State Title At Stake

Virginia Military Institute and Virginia Polytechnic institute will meet in Roanoke, Thanksgiving, in one of the largest attended and most historic football games of the South. The Gobblers are a strong favorite by virtue of their 39 to 13 victory over Virginia who defeated V. M. I. 13 to 0, however the Flying Keydets have pulled off more than one upset this year and may spring another.

A victory for V. P. I. will make them the state champions, whereas a loss will place Virginia at the top. The Gobblers have beaten all of the major teams in the state except Washington and Lee who fought to a 0 to 0 tie. However, as W. and L. was beaten by Virginia they hold a slight advantage over them. If the game had resulted in a tie they would still have the best record.

The two outstanding northern sector teams in the Southern Conference are Duke and Maryland. Duke after losing their first game to South Carolina, has won seven straight games, including victories over Navy, Kentucky, and North Carolina State. Maryland, after losing their first two games, has victories over Washington and Lee, V. P. I., Virginia, and V. M. I., all four of Virginia's big teams.

Swimming Squads Show Promise In Tank Work-outs

The varsity swimming is showing up well in the fundamentals after two weeks of practice. The interest in swimming at Washington and Lee, as elsewhere in the South, is greater than it has ever been before this year, according to manager Walton.

Coach Twombly has a large number of men from last year's squad and he is looking forward to a successful season. Those from last year's varsity who are practicing now are; Richmond, Harris, Stapleton, Zachary, Nichols, Edwards, L. Richmond, and Erickson.

An even larger number of men from last year's freshman team are on the squad this year. These men are; Walker, Cline, Rudes, Morehead, Bear, Sherwood, Booth, Clark, Muzer, Shaw, Weinstein, Cohen, Rivers, Cook, Nuckols, and Edgar.

The candidates for the frosh swimming team are working out with the varsity. There are many promising men among them.

Campus Survey Work Progresses Slowly

Alex Veech and Herb Winston, who have been surveying the campus for their thesis work since school started, hope to finish their work by the end of the Thanksgiving holidays. The work of looking up the old deeds showing the sales of land were very hard to trace, but they have all been checked up and as soon as the actual surveying is done, they will begin the drawing of their maps. This is the first time since 1879.

Managers Last Season Win In Annual Contest

Featuring Lewis Powell, senior manager of the Generals last season, and Raymond Russell, midget ball carrier and speed merchant, in a fast running attack, the football managerial staff of last season defeated the managerial staff of the present season 6 to 0 in a splendid exhibition of touch football in the annual manager's clash on Wilson field Wednesday afternoon.

The team of last season managers presented not only a superior running attack but an impregnable defense which would not yield at any time during the game.

The team of this year led by Johnnie Ladd, present junior manager of the Blue and White and former Wright's school athlete, played well except in the second period when their leader was forced to retire from the game to carry Red Conway, present senior manager, to the physician's office after he had been injured while attempting to punt.

A passing attack netted several yards and a running attack was substituted by the winners when in the goal line territory. With the ball on the loser's ten yard line Powell and Russell skirted the ends three times to place it on the five yard marker and one down to score. Behind perfect interference Russell swept around left end on the final down to score. The try for an extra point by Powell was blocked.

Ladd returned to the lineup for the losers at the beginning of the second half and gave an added impetus to their attack. They cut loose with a running and passing attack with the leader and Garrison leading, that was only stopped when Price, center for the 1929 team, blocked a punt near mid-field and gaye the ball to the Powell clan.

A final effort to score by the team of this year was nipped in the last few minutes when Ladd's long pass was grounded as the whistle blew.

Powell and Russell were offensive luminaries for the winners while Price and Red Phillips were the defensive stars. Ladd, Walker and Garrison bore the brunt of the attack for the losers while Bear and LaVarre were defensive high lights.

General Harriers To Run at N.C.U. in Conference Meet

The Generals cross country team will leave today for Chapel Hill, N. C., where they will enter in the Southern Conference meet. Seven Varsity men and seven freshman runners will make the trip. Manager Fleece will accompany the teams, which are to go in automobiles. The Varsity men who will run are Gladden, Mahler, Hume, Broderick, Gilmore, and Shields. In the Virginia State meet last week this team tied Virginia for third place. The freshmen who are going to make the trip are Neely, Stern, Preston, M. M. Smith, Strong, Patton and Dobbs. The freshman team won third place in the Virginia Conference meet.

The race will be run Saturday afternoon over a five and one half mile course. The freshman course is three and one half miles long. V. M. I., V. P. I., and North Carolina are strong favorites.

Father of Tech Captain to Walk To Roanoke Game

If Bird Hooper, captain and quarterback of the V. P. I. football team, runs as far as his father will walk to see him play the V. M. I. Keydets will have a lot of trouble in stemming the attack of the Gobblers in Roanoke next Thursday.

For several years Frank B. Hooper has walked to see his son, Bird Hooper run. This year he will step off the 174 miles from Raleigh, N. C. to Roanoke for the annual V. M. I.-V. P. I. game, the last to be played by Bird Hooper for Tech.

The elder Hooper will start his jaunt Sunday morning, expecting to average six miles per hour. It is not his first experience in hiking to the game, having covered the 180 miles from Richmond to Roanoke two years ago. Mr. Hooper considers hikes of twenty miles a mere morning's stroll.

Mr. Hooper, who is shipbuilder in Newport News, will be joined in Roanoke by the members of his family who will leave Wednesday by automobile.

Wrestling Is Next On Card

Mat Game Next Sport Scheduled For Intramural Competition

Now that the intramural football tournament is almost over, the attention of all campus organizations is called to the wrestling tournament which will start on December 8.

The wrestling tournament will be conducted much in the same manner as the football games were, points will be given towards the cup and elimination will be the process of selecting winners.

Wrestling, different from the football games, offers any individual not belonging to an organization the chance to enter if he wishes to do so. Medals will be given to the individual winners in every weight.

Another difference between the football games and the wrestling matches is the eligibility rule which allows anyone to enter into competition except men on the varsity squad and old monogram men, thus the Freshmen will get some experience in actual mat competition.

Fraternities may enter men in any event they wish and do not have to have a man in every weight before they can enter the meet.

Entry blanks will be sent to all fraternities after Thanksgiving and anyone wishing to secure individual blanks may secure them at the gym from Coaches Fletcher, Mathis or Twombly.

Coach Mathis states that any man planning to enter the tournament and wishing individual instruction may see him any afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock in the gym.

Kappa Alphas Beat Arcades In Tourney

Immediately hit his receivers, Hudson and Pillely for two first downs. On reaching the K. A. twenty yard line, however, one of his tosses went amiss, and Ned Wilson, K. A. end, grabbed the ball and proceeded to step seventy-five yards to the Arcades ten yard line before he was caught by Sanders. This is the longest and most spectacular run of the tourney. The teams battled on even terms the rest of the game, except for the Arcades futile thrust in the waning moments of the game. The K. A.'s played strictly defensive football in the last period, running the ball most of the time, and registering no first downs.

Morrow, McKenzie, Austin, and Graham were those who suffered injuries in the spirited encounter. The accurate passing of Sanders and the defensive work of Pillely were the features of the losers' game. The K. A.'s running attack was functioning smoothly in the first, Brooks running behind perfect interference was making seven and eight yards at a clip. In Hickman the K. A.'s sport the best blocking back in the tourney.

This game was played on Wilson Field, due to the muddy condition of the tennis courts. The K. A.'s will meet Tourist Inn for the Touch-football Championship of the University at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. This gives promise of being a battle to the final whistle, as the teams appear practically even, judging from past performances. A large crowd is expected to be on hand.

Strong Teams Close Season On Saturday

rivals so far this season. Vanderbilt meets Auburn, Washington and Jefferson clashes with West Virginia, while Alabama and Tulane, the two leading Southern teams, rest in preparation for Thanksgiving Day.

The best game of the day will probably be waged between Notre Dame and Northwestern. Both schools have exceptionally strong outfits this year with the Rockne team having a slight edge. However, Northwestern will have more of a chance since Savoldi, star quarterback for the Irish, has been forced to leave school. "Pug" Rentner, Northwestern passing star, will be out of the game with an injured shoulder, but this is not expected to be as severe a handicap as the South Bend team will have.

The only noteworthy game on the coast will be that between Stanford and the University of California. U. of C. won last year and is expected to run off with the honors again on Saturday.

After the 74-0 defeat which California received at the hands of the Southern California Trojans the Golden Bear coach commended the team men their playing adding that the best play they made during the game was a five-yard loss.

Civilization is nothing but a conquering of human instincts.

Rollins President Describes Radical Educational Plan

Speaking at Cleveland in the interest of a $2,500,000 endowment fund, Hamilton Holt, former editor of the Independent and now president of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., described the Rollins conference plan of education as a revolt against the usual lecture and recital system.

He declared that the traditional "cut-and-dried lecture and quiz system" turned students into sponges, and that "no one ever got an education by being a sponge."

"The conference plan is an adventure in old-fashioned education," he said. "It works on the theory that the student's mind is immature, that frequently he does not know how to study, that he most needs the professor when he is preparing his lesson and not after he has learned or failed to learn it. Instead of professors quizzing students, President Holt said, the students quizz the professors."

Varsity Ends Season With Blue Devils

Pittsburgh where they learned the Warner system under "Pop" Warner himself.

As a result of dissatisfaction with his efforts at Duke, DeHart was this spring notified that this would be his last year at that institution. Concurrent with this notice came the announcement of the signing of Wallace Wade, head coach at Alabama.

Despite the fact that three games remain on the Duke schedule, this last DeHart coached team has already made an enviable record and can be classed as one of the best in the south.

Murray, Brewer, Muller, Hyatt, and Mason have been outstanding in the Duke line-up this year and it is with these players that DeHart hopes to bring the state championship to Durham. Bill Murray, shifty halfback, has carried the ball 84 times this season for a gain of 421 yards.

Following last Saturday's game with Virginia, the Generals were granted a five day lay-off from practice and now with only one week separating them from the final game of the season the team has again buckled down to intensive work.

Coach Fletcher In Fourteenth Year at W&L

The present cross country season marks the beginning of the fourteenth year of Forrest Fletcher as coach of Washington and Lee track and cross country teams. Coach Fletcher came here in 1914 to take charge of the track teams and serve as assistant to Dr. Pollard, then in charge of athletics. With the exception of the war years 1917-18 he has been out directing the track men. It was in hurdling that he spe-

When war was declared in 1917 Fletcher formed the famous Washington and Lee ambulance unit. Three citations were received from the French government for the unit and eighteen individuals, including Fletcher, received special citation and the award of the Croix de Guerre.

Returning in 1919 he began reorganizing the physical education department and in the fall of 1920 he was made head of the Department of Hygiene and Physical Education, the position he still holds. He is also chairman of the faculty committee on athletics.

Coach Fletcher, who received his early training at the Englewood High School in Chicago, is a graduate of Notre Dame. When he entered in 1908 freshmen were eligible for the varsity squad and earning a place on the track squad he competed for four years in the dashes, hurdles and jumps. In their fall workouts each year, he was never defeated in the low hurdles and held the western conference record. He was honored with the captaincy of the team his senior year and was a member of the 1912 Olympic team at Stockholm.

Boland Chosen Frosh Captain

Former All-W. Va. Scholastic Guard Outstanding For Little Generals

Thomas M. Boland, of Charleston, West Virginia, was elected captain of the 1930 freshman football squad at a meeting of the Little Generals Tuesday afternoon.

Boland has been playing at guard all season for the frosh eleven and has been one of the most outstanding performers in the line for the Little Generals.

His defensive as well as offensive work has made him one of the most valuable assets to coach Cy Young.

Boland is a pledge of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and is an academic school student. He did his preparatory school work at the Charleston high school where he was quite prominent in athletics. He captained the high school team of 1929 and was selected for the mythical all-state scholastic team.

Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, congressman from this district, will deliver a lecture Tuesday night. His talk will be in man from this district, will deliver a lecture Tuesday night, November 25th. His talk will be in conjunction with the Graham-Lee Literary Society meeting. Mr. Tucker is an outstanding alumnus and is widely known in political fields. This is part of the plan for the literary society to bring outstanding alumni before the students. According to President Hoyt, a debate of wide interest is also scheduled for the night.

Discussion Renewed On Change Of School Name

Agitation has been renewed this year on the Wesleyan University campus to have the name of the university changed.

For some time now the change of name has been the subject of much discussion here, the chief reason for the proposed change being that the institution is so frequently mistaken for Wesleyans in other parts of the country, such as West Virginia, Wesleyan, Ohio Wesleyan, and several others in the mid-West.

It is also declared on the campus here that the name indicates a closer connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church than is warranted.

This year the university is finding it difficult to gain any publicity outside of the New England and Atlantic Coast states, because of the feeling on the part of newspaper editors that the Eastern Institutions name will be applied by readers to Wesleyans in their own territory.

Extensive investigations into scientific and literary problems are in progress in this country and abroad under the direction of the graduate faculty of Yale University by 45 students and four visiting faculty members.

A STYLE TIP
Solid color sweater and hose is Sportswear's Smartest Style...

If you want to wear what's smart, and still have a comfortable, rugged golf outfit... the Solidset is what you need.
The Solidset is a solid color, slightly brushed set of sweater and hose to match—in all the smart colors, including the new blues, browns and greys.
