WILL DURANT

Washington and Lee is fortunate in having the opportunity to hear the address of Dr. Will Durant next week. Dr. Durant is an internationally known author, lecturer, and philosopher and his activities in the fields have created world-wide interest. He is perhaps best known for his book, The Story of Philosophy, the most widely read of his many books dealing with social progress and philosophy, among which are Philosophy and the Social Problem, Transition, and The Case for India.

The students of the University are deeply indebted to the Christian Work Committee under the leadership of Dr. Morton for this opportunity. Their work in this capacity is comparatively little known but nevertheless of great value to the University. Few schools have better speakers than Washington and Lee, due to the splendid work of Dr. Morton and his committee.

The address of Dr. Durant is the first scheduled for the ensuing year. It is the purpose of the committee to engage speakers who are not only authorities in their lines of endeavor, but also well known to the public. During the past two years the speakers engaged have been nationally prominent figures and have been accorded an excellent reception by the student body.

We congratulate the Christian Work Committee on bringing Dr. Will Durant as the first speaker of the year.

HOMECOMING DANCES

For some unknown reason, plans for the Homecoming Dance have failed to materialize. Students are beginning to think that one of the established features of this occasion is to be eliminated or that there will be a half-hearted attempt at a dance. It means much to the success of the dance that the orchestra is announced in advance along with the plans.

Interest cannot be stirred up over an event if no news is forthcoming from the dance committee. With plans hanging in mid-air, the uncertain state of affairs tends to discourage students from asking girls to attend the dance. The festivities of Homecoming make a hectic period and the student body wants to know what to expect and how to plan for it.

Ever since it was announced that there would be a chance for the Homecoming game students have waited for the orchestra to be named. Twice a week they have anxiously scanned the columns of The Ring-tum Phi for some announcement from the Monogram Club, which is to sponsor the dance, and just as often they have found nothing concerning the affair but a small notice stating that the orchestra was as yet unchosen.

The Washington and Lee Homecoming always has been a big social event and it should remain so. It is one of the biggest occasions of the year for the University to play host. Those in charge of the dance have a large responsibility weighing upon their shoulders. The reputation of Washington and Lee is at stake. Guests and alumni will judge the University by its dance. There is no reason for giving them an unfavorable impression of Washington and Lee social life. We do not want to hear the alumnus boasting of the better dances they used to have when he was an undergraduate or the girl friend telling someone else's girl friend how much nicer the dances are at some other school. We want to hear that they have never seen a better Homecoming dance here or anywhere else.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

For the first time in many years there has been a decided interest shown in the Graham-Lee and Washington literary societies. Perhaps the reason is the political campaign, perhaps it is just a revival of interest in things that are going on outside of the town of Lexington. World politics have been the cause of many a bull session and there is no reason in the world why these arguments should not be brought out in open debate so that others that are interested in this subject may get some benefit from these meetings. In this University, as in a community of any size, there is a diversified opinion of who should be president of this country and what his policies should be. Therefore it is only proper that there should be several societies that will serve as a means for expressing opinions.

The Washington Society has already challenged Graham-Lee to a debate scheduled for election eve on "Who should be President and Why?" This should prove to be very interesting in view of the fact that the winners will have the opportunity, the next day, to see if they were better talkers than thinkers.

Not only are these clubs interested in politics but also in what the rest of the world is doing in social, economic and foreign affairs. After the elections are over they will be able to settle down to discussion on those events everyone should know about, but so few do.

The freshmen are to be congratulated on the interest that they show in these worldly activities and they set an example that should be followed by the upper-classmen.

DUTY BOTH WAYS

Although there have been a large number of complaints on the part of upper-classmen that the present freshman class is particularly negligent in their observance of freshman rules and regulations, members of the Vigilance Committee report that the number of violators that escape the customary reprimand greatly outnumber those that are punished. The number of freshmen sent to V. C. at the last two meetings was so small that the supposition may have been gathered that the frosh class was a model in good behavior and decorum—which is patently far from the truth.

We do not mean to advocate promiscuous use of the Vigilance Committee by the upper-classmen to satisfy petty dislike and special purposes, but we do advocate that those freshmen constantly observed breaking the rules be sent up. Some members of the first year class have committed flagrant violations so repeatedly without subsequently visiting Newcomb Hall that they are beginning to believe V. C. exists only as a perpetuation of a custom and not as a proper institution of quick correction.

There is no particular amount of red tape connected with the process of sending freshmen violators to V. C., and there is no particular reason why the numbers of freshmen who have been repeatedly exhibiting negligence in speaking, obnoxiousness, late hours, and breaking the relatively small number of other specific regulations should not profit from a visit to V. C. And with this reminder to the upper-classmen let it also be remembered that V. C. was never created and will never exist solely for those upper-classmen who wish to unjustly send up freshmen who have unknowingly and unintentionally irritated them outside the pale of freshman regulations.

Clarence Darrow, best known and most popular of America's agnostics, has joined the First Unitarian Church of Minneapolis, and is to lecture on humanism in the large cities of the East under the auspices of the church's Humanist Extension Bureau.

The soviet government has renamed the great city of Nizhni-Novgorod, principal center of navigation on the Volga river, Maxim Gorki, in honor of Soviet Russia's greatest living author. The occasion of the renaming of the city was the 40th anniversary of the beginning of Gorki's literary activities.

Harvard University students are mourning the death of John Amee, 72, for 50 years a prominent bookseller on Harvard Square.

CAMPUS AND POLITICS

Socialists are the only politically conscious students on the campus. They seem to be the only ones of a vast student population who are interested enough in their own and their country's welfare to do something about it. Colleges are becoming known as hotbeds for Socialism and Communism. There are plenty of loyal conservatives left on the campus but they sit idly by and leave politics to their parents and the political bosses. The college radicals are the only ones who are not afraid to blow their own horns and let the world know what issues they support.

With the presidential election only a month and a half away, every student on the campus should know the issues at stake and the platforms of both parties or at least of his own preference; and yet out of three students questioned only one could name more than two planks of either platform.

Students, being the cream of the nation's intellectual crop, should be tearing their hair over political issues. Instead, their most important topic of discussion is their last date or the next one.

Every student who feels that his future well-being is of any importance should understand the current political issues and should be supporting those that are worthwhile. Those who get into politics know the great attraction it has for its participants. Phrased pendantically, there is no more thrilling adventure in present day life than to enter into the political jumble.

Students can lobby at conventions, talk to friends, write their congressmen, and influence their parents to vote in favor of worthy projects. Make the Union Grill a meeting place to discuss political questions of the day after the manner of the English campus coffee shops. The least that can be done is for all students to take an interest in campus politics; they at least serve as a kindergarten to the politics of the nation.—Daily Northwestern.

Front Row

JOE MAGEE

"Hat Check Girl," with Sally Ellers and Ben Lyon, will be midnight matinee this evening. Various reviews pointed out the fact that although the rubberstamp plot, reshaped, contributes nothing to the art of motion pictures, the play is well acted and sprinkled with good dialogue, all of which combines to furnish a good evening's entertainment.

George Arliss in "A Successful Calamity," at the New Theatre Monday and Tuesday, again has the type of role which he does so well—that of whimsical humor. Mr. Arliss disappointed quite a few in "The Man Who Played God;" although his role was a melodramatic one at best, it was something of a millenium when his dramatic acting in one of the tense moments brought forth a storm of laughter, and rightly so. For the scene was overdone. "A Successful Calamity," however, gives him the opportunity to indulge himself in a fine time without taking everything so seriously as he did in the last picture. The critics gave this one excellent writeups.

It has often been remarked that Virginia must have the strictest censorship laws of any state concerning various phases of motion pictures. In comparison with some of the strange taboos practiced in other states, Virginia is broadminded. In New York, for instance, no character in a picture may say, "Have you heard the one about the traveling salesman?" Also, it is forbidden for anyone on the screen to shout "Fire." And a gun pointed at the camera is strictly taboo. Another state prohibits the showing of Mickey Mouse characters unless they are in appropriate costume. Several states do not allow both principals of a murder scene to be shown. With societies for the prevention of things we have a queer one: women's clubs, parent teachers organizations, and private individuals have written to Hollywood insisting that Roscoe Ates be stopped from stuttering because their children are imitating him and endangering their future lives as habitual stutterers.

One of the neighborhood theatres in a large city recently advertised the showing of two features for the price of one. The plays listed in electric lights were "Blessed Event," "Illegal."

The general consensus of opinion seems to be that "Reserved for the Ladies," made in England, was one of the best shows that has been here. Ralph Daves informs this column that because of the interest shown in the picture, he intends to try and bring other notable foreign productions to Lexington, such as "Congress Dances" and "Maidens in Uniform."

The Theatre Guild's production of "The Good Earth," which opened in New York Monday night, was a flat failure. The critics condemned it as being an excellent book but hardly dramatic material. The Abbey Irish Theatre Players, however, met with much praise for their prize winning play, "The Things That Are Caesar's." Grace George, who made a comeback in "The First Mrs. Frazer," opened in "Made; moiselle" on Tuesday night, and her play received very favorable notices.

Unless someone changes his mind, the next vehicle for the Marx Brothers will be called "Oo—la—la."

Congressman Sirovich, who last year introduced a bill into the House of Representatives to do something about dramatic critics and their attempts to ruin the drama, has announced a play of his authorship which deals with the critics. It is called "Tin Boxes." Several seasons ago, Mr. Sirovich attempted a play about his pet hates, the critics, but it was a lot of wind wasted.

During one of the particularly chilling moments of "Criminal at Large," last thriller of the late Edgar Wallace, John Mason Brown reached over and choked Brooks Atkinson, critic for the New York Times. The ungodly howl he let out showed how much he had been affected by the play.

THIRD SERIES OF NSFA RADIO BROADCASTS OPENS
New York—(NSFA)—The third series of National Students Federation broadcasts opened on Monday, October 3rd, with an address by Dr. C. R. Hennings, a graduate of the University of Freiburg and an expert on economic conditions in Europe.

Speaking on the subject, "Germany's Right to Re-arm," Dr. Hennings outlined the circumstances leading up to the recent withdrawal of Germany from the Disarmament Conference at Geneva and the part that the Versailles Treaty has played in the present tense situation. "Franco-German understanding is the keynote to a healthy condition of Europe," said Dr. Hennings. "When Germany had to disarm under the peace treaty, her national security was, of course, not considered. When in 1926 she joined the League of Nations she became entitled to equal standing with all other members. Will re-arm? Germany will cooperate in any general disarmament. She only wants equal treatment, not an increase in her armaments necessarily."

Through the courtesy of the Columbia Broadcasting System, the programs will continue weekly on Monday afternoons from 2:00 to 2:15 P. M., Eastern Standard time. Announcements of future speakers will be made as the fall schedule is completed.

"Three types of men go to college; those who are willing to be educated, those who want to be educated, and those who are determined to be educated," said Newton D. Baker in a recent article written for the Princetonian.

Mathis Plans School Meet

All-University Wrestling Tournament Will Be Held In December

Coach Mathis will hold an all-university wrestling meet some time in December. Every man who is now out for the squad and those who are coming out after football season are eligible. The purpose of the meet is to give the new men experience in actual matches and also to give the coach a chance to see what his men will do "under fire." No meet of this nature was held last year.

A medal will be given to those winning first, second, or third in each event. Events will be held in the following weights: 118, 126, 145, 155, 165, 175, and the unlimited class.

Although no definite day in December has been set for the university meet, it will be held soon after the intramural wrestling has been concluded. All wrestlers are eligible for the intramural except the numeral and letter men.

Coach Mathis has been drilling his squad of tusslers for some time in the fundamentals, gradually getting down to the real thing.

The University of Chicago reports that a year's trial of their new system has proven its practicability. The new plan includes voluntary class attendance, abandonment of quizzes, and only a comprehensive examination at the end of the year.

New York University comes to the fore again as a pioneer. The newest course offered there is one in "personality development." I think we would do well to add that to our curriculum. I know a lot of profs who would like to teach it.

GHANDI SUPPORTERS URGED TO MOBILIZE

New York—(NSFA)—A drive has recently been instituted, according to Mr. Hans Stefan Santesson, president of the League of Youth for India, to organize all Ghandi sympathizers in the United States for the purpose of spreading his teachings.

"This is an effort to unify the believers in the Cause of India, who, united, will represent powers as yet only too latent. It is an appeal to the love of justice inherent in American youth—an appeal which cannot fail," said Mr. Santesson. "All sympathizers in the high schools and colleges, whether pacifists, or from other reasons, are urged to send their names and addresses to the National Headquarters at 31 Union Square, New York."

In answer to a questionnaire sent out to Princeton graduates of the class of 1922, fifty-six alumni stated that in their opinion the average girl can struggle through life pretty nicely with the equivalent of a high school education and that they would not send their daughters to college. One said that he planned to do so until he had taught for a while at a co-educational college.—New York Evening Sun.

.. Following the BIG BLUE ..

By DeForest Clark

Norfolk-bound with the cry of "Beat William and Mary" was in the heart of every General as the team left Lexington today. Once again the Big Blue tackles state opposition and is out to defend the state title. The game should be the best one that the Generals have yet played, because it brings their first chance to return to the win column. On the other hand, William and Mary has never secured a victory over a Southern conference opponent and they are out to do it this Saturday.

There should be a great change in the General's stride tomorrow. Morris and Sawyers will be back in the starting line-up. Elbrick, who so capably filled Morris' shoes last week in the Kentucky game, is likely to appear in another position when the whistle starts the battle. Jones, Bacon, Sawyer, and Mattox will make up the backfield combination.

William and Mary has a strong passing attack that the Generals must guard against. Last week in the Gobbler game, they completed ten forwards. Not such a bad record. Another bright spot of that game was the fact that the Indians were not penalized once during the entire game.

The Indian's strength will be boosted with the expected return of Charlie Shade, sensational sophomore quarterback, who was injured in the Navy game. It is not certain that he will start as the doctors have not given the final word.

The strength and hidden power of the Big Blue should break tomorrow. When the Generals meet a state team, it's a different kind of a battle. The Indians will find it tough going before the final whistle blows. Most of the dopesters pick the Indians to win but the Generals won't give up the state championship so easily.

What a game that will be at Blacksburg! V. P. I. and Kentucky both have title hopes. If the Gobblers can keep their pace against the Wildcats, they deserve a top position in Conference rating. If they lose, it will make Washington and Lee's Homecoming game all the more interesting.

The Gobblers really lack a punter and will have to step some to keep up with Kercheval, Kentucky's star quarterback. Charlie Morgan and Duncan Holsclaw share the burden of punting for V. P. I. but have not shown any great ability so far.

Maryland tackles St. Johns with hopes of returning to the winning side. Still St. Johns has been watching the Old Liners take several hard defeats and they are planning to make use of their chance of taking Maryland into camp.

V. M. I.'s homecoming game right here in Lexington against Virginia should be a good game for you fans to see. V. M. I. realizes its chance to win its first game while Virginia will be out to make up for the defeat at the hands of Columbia last Saturday. The reduced rates for W. and L. tickets should be an appeal.

Duke takes on Wake Forest tomorrow and it looks like a hard fought game. Wake Forest's defense has not been scored on this season. Two games were a tie. They held both North Carolina U. and North Carolina State 0-0, and later defeated South Carolina 6-0.

From the latest reports Gene Oberst is out again. Once again he is looking for another job. Canisius, where he has been coaching for the past two seasons, dropped a game last Saturday to Baltimore U. by the score of 7-6 and it didn't suit the higher-ups.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir: In several past issues of the Ring-tum Phi there have been remarks made upon the laxness of upperclassmen where Freshmen and V. C. are concerned.

Acting upon the remarks in the paper several upperclassmen sent freshmen to the last two meetings of the V. C. with results that are far from pleasing. It is indeed a remarkable state of affairs when a freshman returns from a visit to the paddle wielders with the information that he received one easy smack in return for three charges. Is not this state of affairs enough to disgust everyone? Until the V. C. decides to take real action there is no sense in sending freshmen there—as their reaction is to laugh at the whole affair.

LIBERAL CLUB FIGHTS DISMISSAL OF INSTRUCTOR

New York—(NSFA)—According to a recent release from the National Student League, the Liberal Club of the College of the City of New York will hold a meeting of protest against the dismissal of Oakley Johnson from the teaching staff of the evening session.

The release says in part that Mr. Johnson "averts that the real cause for his dismissal were his insistence on freedom for the activities of the Liberal Club, (a militant student organization) and the fact that, outside the college, he openly supported the Communist Party. The Liberal Club is taking up the fight for his return, on the grounds of academic freedom for both students and teachers."

According to the Institute of Family Relations, the college campus is rapidly replacing the church societies as a popular mating-ground. One of every six marriages end in divorce; one in seventy-five sown in college crash.—Arizona Wildcat.

Campus Comment

By BUS RUFF

Those Fighting Generals are out for an Indian scalp and from the way they have been going the past week it looks as though William and Mary is in for a tough afternoon tomorrow. This is the first state game and Washington and Lee has a state title to defend, so look out for flying feet, you Indians.

Only two games of touch football were played this week, the K. A.'s playing a steady game, defeated the P. E. P.'s, 13-0. In the second game the S. P. E.'s eked out a win over the D. U.'s, 1 to 0, with neither team showing anything. There are sure to be some good games on next week if the weather remains clear.

The frosh played in Blacksburg today and, if they played as they are capable of playing, they should not have had any trouble with the Gobblers. Looks like they are headed for the state title.

There are sure to be several new faces in the lineup (or should it be old faces?) in the varsity game tomorrow. Several of the regulars who have been out with injuries will be back and ready to give their best. We want a win, Big Blue, so let's go on a touch-down parade.

Did you know that the state cross-country meet is to be held here this year, sometimes near the last of November? And from the way Bond and Dunaj have been burning up the course in practice they are going to give sombody plenty of trouble.

Our old rivals, the Wahoos, are to be in town tomorrow for their annual game with V. M. I. We look for the Cadets to have a perfect day and defeat the Wahoos. It is homecoming day for our neighbors.

The football coaches are having a hard time deciding what to do with Elbrick. He played a bang-up game against Kentucky and now that Morris is back in uniform the coaches are wondering where to put his capable substitute.

Frank Bailey and Monk Mattox won't have far to go this week in their scouting duties. Last week they were able to see William and Mary and V. P. I. in action, both of which we play on following Saturdays. Frank and Monk will be watching the actions of the Wahoos at V. M. I. tomorrow.

NSFA CONGRESS TO TAKE PLACE IN NEW ORLEANS New York—(NSFA)—The 8th Annual Congress of the National Student Federation will take place in New Orleans from December 27th to 31st at the invitation of Tulane University and Newcomb college.

Plans are being made to accommodate between three and four hundred student presidents representing colleges and universities from every section of the country. Several nationally known speakers will sound the keynote of the meeting, and discussion groups will be held on student government, honor systems, athletics, publications and other problems which an exchange of intelligent student opinion helps to clarify.

Literary Club Holds Election

Washington Society Inclined To Support Democratic Nominee in Debate

In their third meeting of the year last Monday night, the members of the Washington Literary society elected their officers, who will serve until the end of the first semester. Those elected are: president, Roger Myers; vice-president, Grayson; censor, Tilford Payne; secretary, Reasor; treasurer, Giles Sechler; and critic, Joe Arnold.

The meeting opened with a long discussion as to whether the officers should hold office until the mid-semester, according to the original constitution of the society, or till the end of the first semester. Since the old constitution was to be remade, and the one one stated that the officers must be elected on or before the 30th of September, the latter plan was adopted for this year. The nominees for president were allowed two minutes each for a political talk.

The meeting ended with a discussion of whether they should take the democratic or the republican side of a debate to be held on the eve of the election. The majority of the members seemed inclined to the democratic party.

SLIGHT DECREASE NOTICED IN COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

Enrollment figures from 45 representative American colleges and universities, as reported in the New York Times for Sunday, October 16, 1932, indicate an average decrease in attendance of 4.6 percent. This figure is almost exactly the loss of Washington and Lee for the present session.

Of the 45 colleges reported, 14 showed gain, 29 showed loss, and two showed no change. The largest is by Westminster with an increase of 15.2 per cent. The second largest gain is that made by the College of the City of New York, 12 per cent.

The largest loss recorded is at the University of Cincinnati, 13.6 per cent. The second largest loss is a decrease of 12.5 per cent at Notre Dame; the third greatest decline is Oberlin's 12.2 per cent.

Among Southern institutions, Vanderbilt reports a loss of 10 per cent, Rollins a loss of 7.4 per cent and Virginia 1.3 per cent.

The total current registration at these 45 colleges and universities is 158,046, as compared to a registration for last fall of 165,811.

LOCAL CHAPTER HOST TO CONVENTION

Washington and Lee's Pi Kappa Alpha chapter is the host of that fraternity's four district convention tonight and tomorrow. All business sessions are to be held at the Pi K. A. house.

Delegates have been coming to Lexington this afternoon and registration of these men will take place tonight at 8:00 and the first business session will start at 8:30.

Saturday's session will start at 9:00 in the morning. The delegates will be guests at the V. M. I.-Virginia football game and at the V. M. I. dance tomorrow night.

Bill Stone, senior lawyer and president of the local chapter, is in charge of the convention affairs.

Changes In Interior Of Law Building Being Made By Prof. Light

Under the able leadership of Mr. Charles P. Light, Associate Professor of Law and newly-appointed Director of Fine Arts in the Law school, many improvements have been effected in Tucker hall, law building. Among these are the removal of photographs of former law classes from a lecture room to the walls of the main hall, and changes in the lighting system.

Plans are being made to secure some portraits of distinguished alumni to decorate further the walls of the building.

"We feel that the appointment of Mr. Light to the position of 'Director of Fine Arts' here is a most happy one, and we expect him to accomplish great things," stated Dean Moreland.

Kappa Alpha And Sigma Phi Epsilon Defeat Opponents

The Kappa Alpha eleven took a 14-0 victory from the Phi Epsilon Pi social fraternity and the Sigma Phi Epsilon crew eked out a win over the Delta Upsilon grid team in the only intramural football matches to be held since last Friday. These games were to be played last Monday but were delayed because of the recent rains.

The K. A.'s scored both of their touchdowns on long passes. Ned Wilson, right end, was the receiver in both cases. The winners rolled up six first downs to their opponents one. The P. E. P. team threatened to score early in the game, when they blocked a punt, and again in the third quarter, after they had just completed a long pass, but they lost the ball on both occasions.

The D. U.'s put up a stiff battle but were defeated by the narrow margin of one first down. This was the slowest game of the day and the S. P. E.'s first down was the only one of the game.

Tuesday's matches will be played off today as the tournament once more swings into way.

Only Four Senior Lawyers Appear Without Canes

Sixteen senior lawyers are proudly sporting canes, following the long-standing custom of the Law school. Only four of the potential barristers are without the traditional walking sticks, but these four are expected to succumb to the influence of their fellows within the next few days.

The owner's names are being engraved on the canes, and will serve for many years as souvenirs of Washington and Lee.

Boxing Squad Begins Work

Several Veterans Return; Schedule Expected To Be Difficult

Aspirants for the 1932-33 boxing team turned out in full force Tuesday afternoon for the initial practice of the season. Ring workouts this year were started earlier than usual because of the exceptionally stiff schedule that has been arranged.

Only two men from last year's squad failed to return; "Robbie" Robinson and "Tex" Tilson. Seven veterans reported. They were: Martin, who last year alternated with Tilson in the heavyweight division, Collins at 175 pounds, Pound at 160, Mincher at 145, Farmer and Seraphine at 135, and Tucker at 125. In addition to this veteran material, three sophomores came up from the ranks of last year's freshman team, Cleveland, who is expected to take Robinson's place, and Carmen and Mitchell.

Coach Tilson will be occupied with football practice until Thanksgiving, and until then, the practice sessions will be conducted by the monogram men on the squad. For the present, the workouts will be confined to general conditioning, and no real work will be undertaken for some time.

Although this year's schedule has not been officially announced, it is understood to be fully as difficult as last year's, when the team went through a six-meet program with the loss of but two matches. The schedule, however, will be announced as soon as it has been approved.

Six Upperclassmen Pledged to Honorary English Fraternity

Clarence P. Lee, president of Sigma Upsilon, honorary English fraternity, announced today that six upperclassmen have been pledged to the society, and that a banquet is to be held next week at Forest Tavern, but no definite date has been set.

The following men have been pledged: J. A. Black, H. K. Doane, D. G. Groner, J. B. Nicholson, F. L. Patton, and M. H. Williams.

Sigma Upsilon is a national fraternity which was founded at the University of the South, Seawance, Tennessee, in 1905, and installed here in 1918 by Dr. Shannon. It meets twice a month for the purpose of reading drama, fiction, and discussing other matters pertaining to English.

The officers beside President Lee are: H. L. Fitzgerald, vice-president; A. M. Sterling, secretary; Claude LaVarre, treasurer.

Washington and Lee Plays William and Mary Tomorrow

Continued from page 1 brief signal drill yesterday afternoon, using the freshmen as William and Mary. Scouts reports that the Indians take to the air quite frequently, either in long heaves or short tosses, and DeHart is taking no chances on having the William and Mary team complete too many throws.

Sawyers has been calling signals and will probably bark out the instructions in tomorrow's game, while Seaton, Mattox, and Jones stand by ready to carry the Generals to their first victory this season in the state of Virginia.

ary; Claude LaVarre, treasurer.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

RAW FURY

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Meissonier's famous painting (1855)... inspired by the savage passion held in check by Henry IV's stern edict against duels among the nobles of his court.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, the he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON. Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
