

SEASON ENDS WITH VICTORY

Johns Hopkins Succumbs to White and Blue 14 to 0

Mattox Views His Last Game From the Sidelines

GENERALS' DEFENSE TIGHT

Cameron, Hamilton and Thomas Play Brilliantly—Line Is Stone Wall.

Washington and Lee's Fighting Generals possessing a better attack and a more nearly normal line-up than at any time since the West Virginia game, closed their 1922 season with a victory over Hopkins on Homewood Field Thanksgiving afternoon. The final score, 14 to 0 fails to tell the story of the Generals' superiority. The Baltimore American is the authority for the statement that Hopkins had reason to rejoice that the final count was not 40 to 0. Lacking the services of Captain Mattox or Frew on the dispatching end of the passing game the Blue and White depended almost wholly on a fierce running attack in which Cameron and Hamilton crashed through the line time after time while Thomas skirted the ends for good gains. Heavy penalties totaling 105 yards for holding undoubtedly operated to prevent one or more additional touchdowns by W. and L. Even so, the final count of twenty-three first downs to four for Hopkins gives a better idea of the comparative strength of the two teams.

CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD AFTER MORE HONORS

Race in Richmond Today for Cups and Medals—Five Teams Entered.

According to Coach Fletcher the "best cross country team that Washington and Lee ever had" are in Richmond to enter the harrier contest there today. The race will be different from the ordinary cross-country runs in that there will be eight men instead of the regular number of six representing each school entered that will run in the race. The men running for W. and L. are: Captain Smith, Howard, Hawkins, Swope, Pass, Guerrant, Heiskell, and Gannaway. This team will be in the best condition it has ever been, when it enters this the last contest of the year.

Coach Fletcher says, "Our team has gone over there with the determination to win, and although Virginia will make a strong bid to win, I think we are going to beat them worse than we did last season."

The winner of this event will receive a cup, and the first ten men to finish will be awarded medals, the first three of which will be gold. Those teams entered in the contest are: University of Richmond, William and Mary, Richmond Y. M. C. A., Virginia and Washington and Lee.

THE XMAS VACATION

As chairman of the faculty, I wish to announce that the Christmas vacation begins at 2 o'clock Thursday, December 21, and ends at 10 p. m., Wednesday, January 3. Every student must attend his regular recitations up to 2 p. m., December 21, unless he has been excused by the Executive Committee of the Faculty. Any one leaving without such permission before his last regular recitation has been attended, will be dropped from the rolls. This announcement is made weeks in advance that all vacation plans and dates may be made in accordance therewith.

A special bulletin giving details will be published later and sent to every student's parent or guardian.

FOUR MEN BID ADIEU TO FURTHER GRIDIRON FAME

McDonald, Potts, Arbogast and Mattox Have Seen Final Service for W. and L.

McDonald, Potts and Arbogast played their last football game for Washington and Lee when the Generals conquered Hopkins Thanksgiving. Mattox was kept out of his last opportunity to lead the White and Blue on the gridiron because of injuries. All four of these men have been prominent in other branches of sport than football.

Monk Mattox made the Varsity football team in his Freshman year and has been a regular ever since then. In addition he has caught on the baseball nine for four years.

Daddy Potts, before coming to Washington and Lee, played on the

V. M. I. THANKSGIVING HOPS NOW IN FULL SWING

First Dance Last Night Sponsored By Miss Margaret McGowan of Atlanta.

After a long period of idleness, the Cotillion Club of V. M. I., of which B. D. Mays is President, broke into the social swing of Thanksgiving times with its regular Thanksgiving dances. The first of two dances was held last night, and was sponsored by Miss Margaret McGowan of Augusta, Ga.

Music was supplied by Garber-Davis. The dancing last night continued until 2 o'clock. The dance to-night will, of course, last only until 12 o'clock.

The hall was most appropriately decorated for the occasion and more than a hundred girls were present. As usual a large number of these girls are remaining over the weekend and attending the Washington and Lee dances.

SOPHOMORE COTILLION OPENS FORMAL GAYETIES

Troub Show, Dansant, and 1922 Grid Season Dance Follow Second Day.

The Sophomore Cotillion will formally open the social season at Washington and Lee for this session. Tuesday afternoon the Troubadours will present their annual Thanksgiving production. This will be followed by an informal beginning promptly at four-thirty. A recess will then be allowed for dinner, and the program will be completed by the Cotillion Club dance Tuesday night.

Brigode's orchestra will play for all the dances. It is a West Virginia troupe and consists of eleven pieces, arranged very much like the Paul Whitman orchestration, which was heard at Washington and Lee last Easter.

The Sophomore Cotillion will be led by Richard Beard, with Miss Rachel Hooper, of Nashville, Tenn. Miss Hooper is now attending Stuart Hall. Mr. Beard is a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, the Cotillion Club, President of the Sophomore class, and member of the Varsity football team. The gymnasium will be decorated with blue and white shields bearing the class numbers "25." White card cases and blue cigarette cases will be given as favors to those in the figure. Richard Bradley will assist in leading the dance, with Miss Virginia Herbert Wilson, of Rock Hill, S. C.

The Cotillion Club Thanksgiving dance will be led by C. W. Hall, with Miss Mayreene Corley, of Clarksdale, Miss. He will be assisted by Alec W. Mosby, with Miss Anne Brockenborough, of Richmond. Both dances will end at one-thirty o'clock.

The regular rulings in regard to alcoholic beverages will be enforced. These regulations proved very satisfactory at the informal and every one is expected to observe it strictly during these festivities.

In Spite of Dope Upsets, Major Teams, Except Yale, Run True To Form.

The curtain was rung down this afternoon on the football season of 1922. For the most rabid fans there remain the annual East and West games to speculate upon, and there is to be a great game between "all time stars" of East and West in the Ohio Horseshoe in which the backfields of the East will be represented by Kaw of Cornell, "Bo" McMillan, Eddie Casey and "Red" Barron, but for the average fan the 1922 season is a thing of the past.

In spite of some bad upsets to the dope bucket, the major teams, with the exception of Yale, ran more nearly true to form than for any season in years. Bill Roper by winning a clean-cut championship of the "Big Three" and engineering a successful invasion of Stagg Field put the Tiger in undisputed possession of the Eastern title. West Virginia undefeated and tied only by W. & L. finished strong with a victory over W. & J., a thing desired above all others by the Mountaineers. Cornell with a hand-picked schedule came through with a clean record by taking her only really man sized game from Penn Thanksgiving Day.

In the South, Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt and Auburn have the call in about the order. Vandy did not lose a game and held Michigan to a scoreless tie but Tech, though she did not win all of her games was undefeated in the South and played the harder schedule of the two, capping her season by defeating Auburn in the final game for the Southern crown.

In the South Atlantic section V. P. I. and North Carolina University are tied for premier honors. These two

TROUBADOURS TO SPONSOR 1923 FANCY DRESS BALL

Following a conference of the Faculty Committee on Social Functions, held yesterday afternoon, January 29 and 30 was named as the date for the mid-winter hops. This announcement will be well received by the Student Body, all of whom will welcome the break following semester exams.

Festivities will be ushered in by the Junior Prom the 29th, with C. H. Minich, president of the class, leading the figure. The following evening, the seventeenth Annual Fancy Dress Ball will be given. The Troubadours will sponsor the dance, which will be under the personal direction of C. E. L. Gill, president of that organization. For the first time in its history the Ball is to be given by a student organization.

It need hardly be said that the conduct at the Thanksgiving dances will determine to a great extent just how far student control will go with the Fancy Dress Ball, and just how successful the dance will be. Elaborate plans are under way and the Troubadours will leave nothing undone that will in any way add to the "South's most famous dance." The rest is up to the Student Body. The dance will be just as good as the students wish it to be, as evidenced by their conduct at Thanksgiving Dances.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE URGES COOPERATION

Control of Remaining Dances This Session Dependent On Conduct Dec. 4 and 5.

Attention of all students, alumni, and any others expecting to attend the Thanksgiving dances is especially called to the article printed below from the Executive Committee. To the Student Body and Alumni:

It will be remembered by those who attended Washington and Lee dances last year that these were governed by a resolution passed by the Student Body providing for more orderly conduct and especially for less drinking of intoxicating liquors by participants. Improper dancing is also in violation of the resolution. These rules are still in force. They were passed because stricter control was needed, and we wish to call the attention of all those planning to attend the dances that these regulations will be rigidly enforced at the dances Monday and Tuesday of next week.

This applies to both new and old men, alumni spectators and visitors. Any person may be declared ineligible to attend the dances who partakes of intoxicating liquors later than five hours before an evening dance or twelve o'clock before an afternoon dansant. Improper dancing will be severely dealt with. All cases will be tried before the dance control committee, composed of the Executive Committee, and the floor committees for this series of dances. The minimum penalty for the first offense is debarment from attending the other dances of that series and the entire next set of dances. Penalties for repeated offenses is left to the discretion of the committee.

We feel that our dances were con-

COACHES LIMITED IN DIRECTION OF TEAM

One of the most interesting developments of the past football season has been the movement to limit the function of the coach in directing his team. It is being more and more widely appreciated that the coach should teach his men football and that his man should stand or fall on their own efforts, that the coach should not be allowed to communicate with his men once the opening whistle has blown until the game is over. This matter has been brought to a head by the fact that other members of the "Big Three" have protested against the action of the Harvard coach in establishing observation posts on the top of the Stadium whence members of his staff may observe errors in play not visible or at least not apparent from the side lines and phone such information to the head coach on the bench. As a result it is said that no coach of the teams of Harvard, Princeton or Yale will be allowed on the sidelines in 1923.

AN APPRECIATION

The Ring-tum Phi feels that it is correctly interpreting and expressing the sentiment of the whole Student Body by taking this means of publicly conveying to Coach Jimmie De Hart its full-hearted appreciation for his work this season on the gridiron.

Handicapped by a lack of seasoned material with which to go through in imposing schedule, the coach entered upon his first year as football mentor here with anything but roseate prospects. But it soon became evident that he knew football from the ground up and that his was the sort of personality to inspire his men with confidence and determination, pep and scrap. He whipped his material into shape and startled the sporting world by outplaying and tying the yet undefeated West Virginia eleven. This game in itself is sufficient indication of his success.

And then came injuries and misfortunes and the Generals lost to Virginia, Centre, and V. P. I. in succession. The weakened team, only a semblance of its greatest strength as seen at Charleston, showed its mettle by scoring on each of its powerful opponents. A long rest and Thursday the Big Team swept Johns Hopkins off its feet with ease in a glorious 14-0 victory.

Those familiar with the handicaps mentioned realize the difficulty of De Hart's task and appreciate how well he has done his work. We are proud of him and of his record and we are glad to take this opportunity to say so.

It has been decided to allow the balloting of All-American and All-sectional teams to continue for another week. Due to the fact that but a third of the men in the Student Body have thus far cast a vote, we feel it would be a mistake to announce a selection at this time. As a result, the teams will not be announced until a week from today, during which time all men who have not voted, are urged to do so.

WEAR THE CAP, FRESHMAN!

We have noticed of late, many members of the Freshman class who have started the annual custom of going without the regulation Freshman cap. We are aware of the fact that the time has come when the Sophomores take upon themselves the task of cutting the caps, and in this we see no harm.

We believe, however, that few caps have really been "cut to pieces" by careless Sophs—at least not to the extent that the Frosh is able to save but a bare shred, which he delights in wearing over his right ear in the "approved fashion."

It seems to be a case where the members of the first year class, in order to save the much-prized "head-gear" hide it away, find a small piece of cloth which may easily be taken as the remains of the cap, and wear that instead of the "ventilated" head-piece.

This makes it much more difficult, and at times well nigh impossible to distinguish Freshmen from upper-classmen.

The habit has become quite general and yet no action has been taken to correct it. The Freshman Council, we feel, should take this matter in hand, and see that all Freshmen are required to wear the "cut" cap until the Christmas holidays.

DEBATING TEAM IS READY FOR DAVIDSON

Tryouts Making Rapid Progress—Challenges Received From Many Schools.

The debate tryouts are making rapid progress under the training of Professor Fulbright and will soon be in shape for the Davidson debate. The coming contest with Davidson is to be the first that W. and L. has ever held with that school, and is expected to be very hotly contested. Davidson should put up a very strong team as practically every member of the student body belong to one of the literary societies. Since this is to be the initial debate with Davidson a good crowd is expected to attend and to support Washington and Lee.

Arrangements for several other debates besides the usual triangular debate are now pending. Challenges have been received from Bates College, Ohio State, Rutgers University, University of Richmond, and University of Cincinnati. These are now under consideration by the Debating Council. Probably the challenge from the University of Cincinnati will be accepted but this is not certain yet.

As usual, the triangular debate between Johns Hopkins, University of North Carolina, and Washington and Lee will be held this year. This debate has been held for several years and has occasioned a great deal of interest. The time when tryouts for this debate will be held has not yet been definitely decided on, but it will probably be after the Christmas holidays.

LOUISVILLE "Y" WRITES

November 20, 1922.

Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.
Gentlemen:

We sincerely thank you for allowing our disabled ex-soldiers to attend your game with Centre here two weeks ago. About fifty of the men saw the game and enjoyed one of the finest exhibitions of football we have ever seen in Louisville. It was a treat for these men, and in their behalf, I thank you. I would appreciate your extending our thanks to your Athletic Director, to your Coach and the men of your team, your Faculty and Student Body.

Centre came out with the long end of the score, but we have never seen a defeated team put up a better fight, and Louisville is proud to have had these representatives of Washington and Lee University in our city.

Yours truly,
F. G. GREGG,
Religious Work Secretary.

Memories of Other Meals Recalled by Thanksgiving

American Student Relates Personal Experiences In Europe.

Thanksgiving with its turkey, and cranberry sauce, and celery, and plum pudding, and a thousand other little et ceteras has passed for this year; but Thanksgiving dinner will never stand out in my mind like the dinner our party of American students sat down to in the city of Warsaw, Poland, where there were thousands of Polish students with no better meal than we were receiving. It was only a one-course meal, but it lacked a lot of things besides a napkin and some butter. It consisted of one bowl of clabor (sour milk), one piece of barley bread, and a cup of tea.

I think also of another meal—one served by the students of Cologne University, Germany. The regular meal wouldn't do for the American visitors. A special one was prepared, one the like of which they had not had in two years—one bowl of thin gruel, potatoes, questionable meat, and still more questionable string beans, brown bread and water.

And so on down through the list of countries. Some fared better; some worse. Nowhere did we find students attempting to show poverty. Instead we found them trying to cover the signs, just as you and I would be proud enough to do if foreigners visited us in a time of great need.

Conditions were better than we had expected, because we were there in the summertime. Many students were out working to make enough to come back to school in the fall. Seventy-five per cent of the students of Cologne University are working their way through; seventy-five per cent of the Polish students are doing the same thing. Yet when those students got back to school this fall, after a summer's work, they found they had nothing. A dollar bought 300 marks in Germany in April. A student might reasonably be expected to save 2,500 marks during the summer, enough to keep him about three months. Today an American dollar buys about 3,000 marks. He can live for about ten days on his summer's income. You can buy 70,000 Austrian crowns for a dollar now. When we were there the rate was 40,000; and prices in Austria are almost as high as in America. Wages, of course, lag behind the exchange.

We were taken out to a summer resort outside the city of Budapest, where there is a wonderful lake for bathing. After we had enjoyed ourselves to the limit and were coming out, I turned to the Hungarian beside me and said, "I suppose you come out here very often, don't you?"

"No," he said, "I haven't been out here in over a year." It cost 200 Hungarian crowns—ten American cents.

American dollars have made possible the establishment of self-help enterprises in all of these countries whereby the students may help themselves. They pay for everything, though, of course, less than cost. We furnished the equipment. It was hoped that after last year the self-help schemes would continue without foreign aid. The rapid fall in all of these currencies has made the situation critical and has done away with that possibility for the present year.

We did not get into Russia, though, of course, conditions there are far worse than anywhere else in that section. The one ray of hope, as seen by every thinking person who comes out of Russia, is that we build up an intelligent class of students, broad-minded and friendly to the rest of the world, who will lead their country out of the darkness. Without help these students cannot get an education. Without help they will

HOPKINS AND V. M. I.-V. P. I.
GAME WELL ATTENDED
BY W. & L.

Many were the leaves of absence granted by the Dean during the past few days to students for numerous trips during Thanksgiving. Some twenty Washington and Lee students journeyed to Baltimore to witness the Johns Hopkins game there. Both students and Alumni were royally entertained by the Alumni Association of Baltimore. A banquet in honor of the football team was given Thursday night after which the team was entertained in a theatre party. The joyous hilarities of the day ended in a dance on Century Roof Garden. Among the Washington and Lee students attending the game were: Max Terry, Stuart Walker, Toad Snively, Henry Legum, Charlie Griffin, R. J. Walters, Rudolph Jones, B. O. Faulconer, L. P. Danforth, Menefee, Longshore, Henry Clay, Hagan Minnich, and H. E. Henderson.

The classic at Roanoke between V. P. I. and V. M. I. was well attended by W. & L. students. A number of students from Lexington attended the annual Alleghany Club dance given at the Roanoke Hotel on Wednesday night and an Oyster Roast and dance given at the Roanoke Country Club on Thursday morning. Among the fifteen hundred people attending the Military Ball at the auditorium Thursday night were a number of W. and L. students. Washington and Lee men making the Roanoke trip were: Willie Hampton, Fred Faircloth, Bees Carruthers, Jennison Cook, T. M. Harmon, R. B. Hauchins, C. A. Tutwiler, J. B. Doolley, L. M. Llewellyn, Frank Fulton, W. D. Richardson, Dizzie Hudgins, I. W. Stolz, J. W. French, Dow Strader, R. M. Frew, J. F. Hendon, Bryan, Thatcher, and T. H. Broadus, Locke Meriwether, Jimmie Driver, W. J. Driver, Maybank, J. V. Coe, Pete Mullins, Kent Hines and Baugher.

have little cause to believe that the rest of the world "gives a hang" whether Russia perishes or not.

Taking these facts into consideration, in addition to the recent tragedies in the Near East, and realizing that the students of Europe have as much right and need for an education as we have, and that if this world is ever to have peace they must not only be given physical aid but also Christian friendship, the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington and Lee University has decided that it would be untrue to the name Christian if it did not bring this great need to the attention of this University.

Washington and Lee's two touchdowns came as results of sustained marches up the field in the first and second quarters. Eddie Cameron carried the ball over for each of the counters. Harry Dawson made both of the tries for point by the drop-kick route. These drives were for the most part straight football only eleven passes being attempted during the entire game by the Generals' of which three were completed. Three times in the course of the afternoon the Generals pulled a play in which no signals were called, the ball being suddenly snapped back into play. Each time the play was used good gains resulted, and it disconcerted the Black and Blue team greatly.

The Blue line played at top form, Daddy Potts in particular, upholding the fine record he has made for himself this year. Presenting a stone wall from tackle to tackle the Generals' line refused to budge under fire and when W and L had the ball holes were opened fast and opened wide. Hopkins' secondary defense had hot work in holding the Generals' backs as they tore through these openings.

The Hopkins' team fought desperately, but to little avail throughout the game. Captain Tandy and full-back Turnbull, playing their last game for Hopkins, starred on the defense, while Taylor distinguished himself by intercepting three of the Generals' forward passes. As a result of one of these snagged passes, Hopkins staged a last quarter rally making two first downs in succession by the forward pass route and working the ball far down toward the shadow of the Generals' goal posts. However, as the White and Blue goal line was neared, a pass was intercepted and the Generals had an overhead offensive of their own well under way as the game ended.

W. and L. outplayed the Doctors in every department of the game with the exception of the kicking, in which Turnbull of Hopkins had a slight advantage. With ideal football weather the attendance was very disappointing, little more than half of the available seating space being occupied.

U. S. SENATOR WISHES MINK SUCCESS

The following is a copy of a communication received by Business Manager Dick Feamster of the "Mink" from Senator Howard Sutherland of West Virginia and is self-explanatory:

U. S. SENATE

Washington, D. C.

Finance Committee.

Nov. 27, 1922.

Mr. Dick Feamster,
Business Manager The Mink,
Lexington, Virginia.

My dear Mr. Feamster:

I have your favor of the 25 inst. I shall be glad to call to the attention of the Post Office Department the matter of your application for second class privileges for the Mink, and to urge prompt and favorable action.

With best wishes for the success of your magazine, and with kindest personal regards, I am,

Yours very truly,

(Signed) HOWARD SUTHERLAND

1922 GRIDIRON SEASON THING OF THE PAST

stand well above the other teams of their section on the strength of their records. Virginia mixed good football with indifferent, while the other teams were below the standards of previous seasons.

Many changes in coaching staffs will become effective next fall. Glenn Warner leaves the Panther and will move West taking charge at Stanford. It is rumored that Tad Jones will not be in charge at Yale next fall. In the Middle West "Hurry Up" Yost threatens to retire after two decades at Michigan. In the South Coach Scott of Alabama has resigned and the supporters of the "Crimson Tide" are dangling a lure of $14,000 per annum before the astute nose of Uncle Charley Moran of Danville, Ky. Mike Donahue, beloved mentor of Auburn, has resigned, but reconsidered, to the universal joy of old grads and undergrads alike.

Clemson football eleven for two years. He was one of the mainstays of the Generals last fall and in addition was captain of wrestling, a member of the track team and of the Albert-Sidney crew in 1921.

Hop Arbogast's activities have been in football and basketball. He has been a member of both teams for four years.

"Wahoo" McDonald has won his monogram in the three major sports. He has four football letters, three basketball and one baseball letter.

NOTICE!

All men desiring to try out for Sophomore Assistant Managers in Basketball, report at the gymnasium next Wednesday afternoon promptly at 2:45.

There will be a short figure practice for the Cotillion Club dance immediately after the dansant Tuesday afternoon.

ducted in a much more satisfactory manner under these rules last year, with the exception of Finals, and we take this opportunity to explain the regulations again both for the benefit of new men and because the Student Body is faced by the most serious situation in regard to dances that has confronted it for several years.

However, we have entire confidence that when the students and alumni realize this that they will refrain from actions that will destroy the effect of these resolutions and also not hesitate to prevent other men and visitors from indulging in conduct that is a blow directed at one of Washington and Lee's institutions.

At a meeting of the dance committee early this week, composed of 30 students, it was resolved that no effort will be spared to search out and punish the wilful few that persist in such conduct and brings adverse criticism upon the University.

A copy of the original resolution is posted on the bulletin board at Washington College.

It is not too much to say that the continuance of Washington and Lee dances depends on enforcing these regulations to the letter on every participant. Co-operation is necessary.

As representatives of the Student Body we call upon every loyal student and alumnus to aid in sustaining the best traditions of our dances.

Respectfully,

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE STUDENT BODY.

R. H. CARR, Vice-President.

L. S. MERIWETHER, Secretary.

"Y" IS SCENE OF FRESHMAN SOCIAL

The regular Thanksgiving party for freshmen was held in the Y. M. C. A. room Thursday night at 8 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of local young ladies and freshmen. The room was very appropriately decorated with fall regalia, including grinning faces of pumpkins from which a very mellow light streamed out.

As the young people entered the room they were given a card with the name and number of some well-known automobile by which they were to be distinguished. Announcements as to the manner of conducting the games were very ably made by W. A. Mullinix, who assisted E. B. Shultz, local "Y" secretary. Many amusing and entertaining games were played, such as carrying peanuts on knives and blowing feathers out of bottles, thus giving the new men an opportunity to become better acquainted with the young ladies and their own fellow classmen.

After all had had a most pleasing evening the pleasure was climaxed by refreshments very appropriate to the occasion, and some of the freshmen even had the pleasure of escorting some young lady to her habitation.
