

University Closes Year of Progress BRILLIANT FINALS GAIETIES RADIATE PLEASURE

GARBER SURPASSES HIMSELF IN MELODY

Final Ball Displays Beautiful Pageantry.

Number of Girls Run Well Over 150—List Incomplete.

With the Final Ball Tuesday night will be brought to a close the social life of the University for the present session. Neither time nor money have been spared to make this the most elaborate feature of Finals 1923. During the entire series of dances, the gymnasium has been a scene of rare beauty with its verigated decorations, and the hundred and more visiting girls. Tuesday night's dance will start at ten and continue until daybreak, when, with the last strains of "College Friendships" and the parting of friends, all that has been of Finals will cease to be in reality and become a mere memory. A pleasant memory indeed, for under the able leadership of Eddie Crockett, the present Finals must be numbered among the very best Washington and Lee has ever had. Every detail has been well taken care of, and nothing has been left undone that would in any way add to the gaiety or brilliance of the hop. The ball tonight will be led by President Crockett with Miss Rosalie Cofer of Norfolk, Va., assisted by Vice-President Carr with Miss Black of Memphis, Tenn. As in past years, the figure will be quite elaborate, and has required a great deal of hard work on the part of the various committees to acquire perfection.

The week's festivities were opened last Friday night with the annual Interfraternity dance, which was led by Charles B. Wright, president of the panhellenic, with Miss Fannie H. Young, assisted by Forrest McGill with Miss Amie Cheatem. The regular decoration scheme was made more effective by the use of fraternity banners of the various Greek letter organization. The opening dance established a good precedent for those which followed, and all present were liberal in their praise for the music, decorations, and the manner in which the dance was handled. The Senior Law German Saturday morning was led by A. L. McCarthy with Miss Margaret Causey and was greatly enjoyed by those who braved the early morning elements after a none too full night's rest.

Saturday night the Sigma Senior Society gave their dance, and it fully came up to the standard of the others. The unique headgears, worn by the men and girls in the figure proved a feature. The short time allowed to a Saturday night dance proved the only adverse factor to an otherwise good dance. Perhaps the brevity acted as an incentive to keep

ALUMNI-VARSITY GAME A TIE

Battling for the honor of the new and old the varsity and the alumni baseball teams fought seven hectic innings on Wilson field Monday to a 5-5 tie. The game throughout was replete with some pretty fielding and also some grievous errors, but all in all amply repaid those who attended the game.

The varsity used their regular line-up with McCallum doing his bit on the mound. The alumni were represented on the hill by Pierotti and Graham, two men who in the history of past nines of the University have shone brilliantly. They continued their shining.

Pierotti suffered an unfortunate injury in sliding to second which detracted greatly from the pleasure of the game. It was regretted by all.

DR. SMITH GIVES RESUME OF UNIVERSITY'S PROGRESS

Commends Method of Assimilating Freshmen—Congratulates Student Body.

The Ring-tum Phi has received the following communication from President Henry Louis Smith including a resume of the development of the University during the past term, and also his opinion on the success of student government.

In regard to the functioning of student government during the present session, President Smith says:

"The new method of governing freshmen, I consider a marked success. The number of freshmen withdrawing during the year has been far less than the average. During the first month of 1922, 15 to 18 new men withdrew from the institution, last fall only three or four. This in my judgment was largely due to the entire absence of hazing and the wise government of the Freshman Council. I regard this method of assimilating the freshmen as the most important step taken in student self-government during recent years.

"With reference to the supervision of the dances and general student conduct my opinion is as follows: While there has been some regrettable lapses and some drunkenness at intervals, I believe that on the whole the past year has been marked by an appreciable and gratifying advance in student attitude and behavior. There have been no outbreaks of rowdiness, no destruction or defacing of any college or private property, and no dissensions or lack of harmony between the students and faculty.

"The number of scholastic failures has been decreased and student control of university dances has been both zealous and effective.

"It is evident to me that the W. and L. student body is continually growing in maturity, good order, habits of study, and also in the difficult art of self-control. The honor system has been rigorously upheld and enforced by the student Executive Committee, and also every student organization has loyally co-operated with our faculty committees. If the new officers and the new Freshman Council prove as zealous and effective as those who are retiring, the University and Student Body are to be heartily congratulated."

During the past year the Board has been bereaved by the loss of Colonel Robert E. Lee, a devoted alumnus, a zealous and faithful Trustee since 1915, and the last member of the Lee family actively connected with the administration. The University has also lost the services of Mrs. C. B. Tate, the Custodian of Lee Chapel, and was also greatly bereaved by the death of Mr. D. T. Prince, Jr., '26, and Mr. Garland Alexander, '23, one of the most valuable campus leaders. The University will also lose the services of "Ted" Shultz, Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

Notwithstanding these great losses the 1922-23 session has been marked by great success and the inauguration of many improvements. The total enrollment for the year reached 783, the largest in the history of the institution.

The most important work done last year has been the remodeling and enlargement of the athletic field. The Athletic Association has already invested in this enlargement from $12,000 to $15,000 and the University about the same amount. An expert stadium architect has laid out the plans which are to be steadily carried out till the Wilson Field has become one of the largest and best equipped stadiums of the South.

The teaching of the past year represents a distinct gain in efficiency and success as the number of col-

HOLIDAYS GRANTED WITH DANCES

Gala Times Are Planned For the Social Functions of 1923-24.

The dance schedule as passed by the Faculty for next year shows a long step forward in the regulation of social functions due to the hearty co-operation of the Faculty and Student Body.

One of the most progressive features of the schedule is the provision for holidays immediately after each dance. This plan will eliminate class cutting to a great extent and make for its more effective control.

The first formal dances will be held Friday and Saturday of Thanksgiving week. These days have been set aside as holidays. Immediately following the first semester examinations which end on Monday, there will be a two-day holiday. Thus the dances will come on Monday and Tuesday with Tuesday and Wednesday as holidays. Easter dances are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday following Easter Sunday, and Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday are holidays.

At Thanksgiving (mid-winter, and Easter, the dances shall close not later than 1:30 a. m., except the Fancy Dress Ball, which shall close not later than 2:30 a. m. and the Saturday night dance, which shall close not later than 11:45 p. m.

The number of Saturday night informals has not been limited. There will thus probably be several of these to break the monotony between the formal dances throughout the year. Nothing was said in the Faculty resolution concerning the Finals' dances.

With the formal dance schedule fixed and considerable freedom left as to the number of informals, the

REV. DR. LINGLE DELIVERS SERMON

Lee Memorial Chapel Thronged By Commencement Crowd.

"What I Must Do To Be Saved" Topic of Sermon.

Commencement crowds thronged the Lee Memorial Chapel to capacity Sunday morning, June 3, when Rev. Walter Lee Lingle, D. D., LL. D., of the Union Theological Seminary of Richmond, delivered the annual baccalaureate sermon.

Dr. Lingle took as the text of his sermon Acts 16: 30-31, which embody the question "What must I do to be saved," and the answer: "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." He then drew from chapters I and verses 12 of three different books—John, Ephesians and Timothy, conceptions of what it means to believe in Jesus Christ, and found from these that it means, to know, to believe and to commit. Believing in Jesus Christ is trusting in him, he said, with all that we have—with our heart, our soul, and all our earthly possessions. This is true faith, which comes by thinking, reading and studying the Bible, and when you begin to study your Bible you will find that eternal life and all that is connected with eternal life is the gift of God.

In conclusion he said to the graduates that the greatest thing that he could do for them was to direct them to God. "I pray that this Commencement Day may be a dedication day upon which you will commit your souls to God."

The complete program of the services was as follows: Processional: Jerusalem the Golden Chair; Doxology; Invocation; Hymn: congregation; Scripture Lesson: John 3:16 and 35; Anthem: Kipling's Recessional, choir; Baccalaureate sermon: Rev. Dr. Walter Lee Lingle; Hymn: congregation; Benediction.

Preceding the services a processional of faculty and senior graduates was held from the Washington College Building to the chapel. Seats at the front of the auditorium were reserved for the seniors while the remainder of the lower floor and balconies were given over to parents and friends of students and townspeople. The chapel was profusely decorated with roses, wild flowers and potted plants.

EDWIN B. SHULTZ TO TAKE UP DUTIES AT UNIV. OF KANSAS

Has Served as "Y" Secretary Here For Past Seven Years—Leaves August 1st—Will Receive Master's Degree With 1923 Class.

E. B. "Ted" Shultz, for the last six or seven years general secretary of the Washington and Lee Young Men's Christian Association, on his departure from our campus for that of the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kans., about August 1, will leave behind a record of Christian work and influence that long will be remembered by the faculty, students and graduates of Washington and Lee University.

"Ted" has made himself and Washington and Lee well known because of his athletic prowess, and his Christian work. He came to our campus in the fall of 1912, and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1916. He is a renowned football athlete, being the first choice for tackle on the All-American team in 1914 and 1915, captaining the "Fighting Generals" during the gridiron year 1915. During the 1915-16 session he was president of the Student Body. Besides being a member of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity he is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa.

After his graduation in 1916, "Ted" became "Y" secretary here, and has been very successful in the work, and popular with the "Y" men. He is now president of the National Association of Student Y. M. C. A. Secretaries.

"Ted" has continued his studies while supervising our "Y" work, gaining his Master of Arts degree here this year. He is married and has three children, all girls, and "Ted" says they'll be "Fighting Generals," too, when Washington and Lee becomes Co-ed.

Last Tuesday evening members of this and next year's "Y" cabinet called around to see "Ted" and his family, and left a silver service as a token of their love and high esteem. Washington and Lee surely regretted to give "Ted" up, as did Ga. Tech in regard to Karl P. Zerfoss, who will succeed "Ted" as "Y" secretary here, but since "Ted" will go to a much larger field at the University of Kansas with its five or six thousand students, all are pleased with his promotion. He was released from here at his own request, and the members of the Faculty and Student Body regret very much his leaving, but Faculty, students and townspeople all join together in best wishes to him in his new work, and bid him God speed.

LAW SCHOOL SOURCE OF GREATER NUMBER

Dr. Harry W. Chase Delivers Principal Address.

Many Honorary Degrees Are Awarded During Exercises.

Tuesday, June 5, 1923, brings to a close the one hundred and forty-first session of Washington and Lee University. Tuesday, June 5, one hundred graduates leave this institution to seek their way in the world and uphold the best traditions of that university which above all others was honored by Washington and Lee.

The commencement exercises were held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Chapel. At 10:45 the Seniors formed at the historic Washington College building and marched with the faculty to Lee Chapel. Dr. Henry W. Chase, a native of Groveland, Mass., a graduate of Dartmouth, the President of North Carolina University, and an educator who in the last two years has directed the spending of over three million dollars in buildings and equipment alone for his university, delivered the principal address.

The valedictory address was given by T. J. Ellis, a student whose numerous achievements have rarely been equaled, a student whose honors have been capped by the highest

HARRY LEES CAPTURE ANNUAL BOAT RACE

Leave Albert Sidney Crew A Length and a Half Behind.

In the finals boat race between the Albert Sidney and Harry Lee crews held on the North river course yesterday evening, the Reds swept down and crossed the finish line approximately one and a half lengths ahead of the Blues. The winners got a slight lead at the start but at the bend the crews were even. A crab on the Harry Lee's stick, however, gave the Harry Lees their lead a little later and the Albert Sidney's could not cut it down.

After the race, John Copper was elected to captain the Blues for next year and Ed. Oast was chosen as captain of the Reds.

The crews are as follows:

Albert Sidney	Harry Lee
Beard	Quarrier

Sattes	Oast

Copper	Dunn
Steele	Shropshire
Murphy	Thompson

SECOND CREWS COMPETE

In the race between the second crews of the two clubs held on the North river course Saturday evening, the Albert Sidney were victors. The race was very close with no open water showing between the crews at any time. The Blues came in a half length ahead.

"FINALS" (Meaning the Last)

With this issue the Ring-tum Phi passes out of the hands of the old administration into the hands of the new. Strangely enough the words come as slowly as they did in the beginning, for it isn't easy to choose from the many things that might be said in a "Finals" editorial.

It has been the function of the editorial column to comment on the year's developments. Forgetting the many things specific, our fact stands out above the rest, namely, the optimism with which Washington and Lee faces the future. The University is on the threshold, ready to step into even a greater existence than she has enjoyed. The spirit is reflected in the faith every Washington and Lee man has in the institution and in their growing loyalty to it.

The growth of that intangible thing "school spirit" and love for the Alma Mater is undeniable. More and more, Washington and Lee is producing alumni rather than mere graduates, and accompanying this same increase of active alumni, are the many new projects to be undertaken by the University in which the united support of the alumni will be needed. 'Tis said a football team is as strong as its substitutes or reserves, and so with any University. The school is as strong as its alumni association, and Washington and Lee deserves to have one hundred per cent support from the alumni. This support may be expressed in any one of several ways. First perhaps, is the duty of influencing men to come to W. and L.—men of the kind to make the University proud of them. Only through the co-operation of the alumni is it possible to keep the standards of the Student Body on the highest plane.

Next comes your duty to contribute, as your means permit, to the Stadium fund, a project which, when completed, will give the Generals the best athletic field in the South. During the past two years there has been much agitation for a "Homecoming Day," preferably on the date of the biggest home football game. The thing is under way, and next fall at the time of the Virginia game, every alumnus who can possibly do so, is not only invited, but is expected to be present. With the completion of the new athletic field, more big games will be brought to the home field, and alumni who are unable to attend the regular "homecoming" event, will be permitted to see other good games.

There is no better way to keep in touch with your Alma Mater than through the medium of the various school publications, particularly the newspaper. Every alumnus should be a regular subscriber to the Ring-tum Phi and as many of the other publications as possible. Keep abreast of the things going on back on the campus; follow the FIGHTING GENERALS as they engage opponents; be informed as to the various projects being undertaken by Washington and Lee.

Last, but certainly not least, every alumnus should be a paid-up member of the Alumni Association. It is your organization, and if your support is not forthcoming, the organization is handicapped by exactly that much—perhaps more, for the "follow the crowd" idea works here as in other things.

Your Alma Mater has witnessed the greatest year in its history; Washington and Lee has taken a high place among the educational institutions of the country, and bids fair to rise even higher. Truly, the old school has entered upon a new era. An era, the progress of which, cannot be measured or determined. In a big way, the future success and achievements of Washington and Lee, on the athletic field, in the school room, or in matters of administration, rest with the Alumni. TAKE YOUR PLACE, GRADS, AND LEND YOUR SUPPORT TO WASHINGTON AND LEE!

VOLUME TWENTY-SIX

With this issue is brought to a close the work of the 1922-23 staff, and volume 26 is complete. Complete, yet perhaps the paper has not attained its goal, or achieved the success the staff had hoped for at the beginning of the session. Volume twenty-six has assumed its place among its twenty-five predecessors who have found room for existence and service in a critical, but just world of scholars and campus activity.

The 1922-23 Ring-tum Phi has enjoyed one of the best years of the paper's existence. We have tried to serve the Student Body the best we know how; we have endeavored at all times to give subscribers the liveliest news available; we have attempted to inaugurate several new features that would add to the worth of the paper; in short, we have done the job the best we could. We realize, however, that many mistakes have been made, our policies have been criticized, and that the paper has not met with the unanimous approval of the faculty and Student Body. We have satisfaction, however, in the feeling that we have served the Student Body in some measure, and perhaps have said or done something that has been worth while.

We understand that the 1923-24 Ring-tum Phi is to be a six-column publication, and the new venture should meet with success. No school in the South the size of Washington and Lee boasts the same number of extra-curricular and undergraduate activities. For this reason, we believe the paper next year will succeed in a big way. To those who will have charge next session, we extend our best wishes, and predict for them even greater co-operation than we have enjoyed.

A. M. A. HAS GOOD DIAMOND RECORD

Twenty Games Won With No Losses
Batting Average Was .370.

Augusta Military Academy at Fort Defiance, Va., experienced one of the most brilliantly successful seasons in its baseball history this year, and likely set a new record for the military academies in the valley and possibly in the county.

During the season they won 20 games and lost none. In these 20 games they played four college teams and the Freshman team from four large universities. The Augusta team made 213 runs to their opponents' 38.

There were twelve letter men on the squad. Every one hit over .350 and the twelfth man hit .386. The average hitting percentage for the twelve letter men was .370.

The leading batsmen on the squad was Crawford, second baseman, and also Captain of the team, who for the 20 games batted .526. As far as the writer has been able to observe this is a record never before equalled by any preparatory school in this country.

The team was coached by Captain Curry Carter, graduate of Hampden-Sidney College and a letter man on the baseball team of Hampden-Sidney.

J. T. McCrum RESIGNS AS GRADUATE TREASURER

J. T. McCrum has tendered his resignation to the Athletic Council as Graduate Treasurer. Due to the fact that there is a Graduate Manager, this office has been combined with the Manager's office now so as to save work. Captain R. A. Smith who is Graduate Manager will take over the job immediately.

Mr. McCrum, who is a W. & L. alumnus, has been Graduate Treasurer for the past ten years and during that time has served as a member of the Athletic Council for several sessions.

Freshmen Teams Create Stir By Last Season's Performance

Fifty-fifty Average for the Football Season—Basketball Greatest Success—Baseball and Track Season Also Good.

Starting off with a rush in the realms of athletics last fall, the Freshmen teams were never headed, and their stellar work in all the sports brought credit upon their coaches. From past records of the Frosh teams of by-gone days, it looks as if the athletic abilities of the past year's team has surpassed them all, and shines forth as the leader.

The Frosh had representation in five branches of sport, four being of the major variety, and one, swimming, of the minor branch. All branches put forth prominent men in the field, and all will be eligible for next season's varsity. All of the teams met the best opponents that any first-year team of any high institution put out, and in the majority of the games played with them, won out.

Football was the first sport engaged in by the newly-arrived men. Using the system and tactics employed by Coach Brett's teaching, the Frosh were able to break even in the season's playing in this sport. There were six games on the schedule, and the end of the season showed a fifty-fifty average. The men particularly shining in this sport were: Bruder, playing fullback, and starring in every game; Henry Wilson, sensational half of the eleven; Taylor, other speedy half, using his toe to a good advantage; Daugherty, big and powerful lineman, who is expected to make the '23 eleven; and Daves, cracker-jack receiver of aerial work. The whole team was especially good.

Greenbrier M. A. fell before the Freshmen on September 30, 20-6, in the opener of the season. A week later Augusta M. A. went down, 6-0. Staunton M. A. was the next victim in a fast and furiously-played contest, 7-6, Taylor's toe winning the game. The Virginia Frosh licked us here on October 20, 9-6, a drop-kick spelling defeat for the locals. On Armistice Day, our Frosh dropped a loosely played game to the Mountaineer first-yearmen, 23-0. Two weeks later, Tech Freshmen administered us a 32-0 whitewash, ending the season.

The next sport, basketball, demonstrated our success in this branch, six of the eight games played being won. The court season put forth a few stars, Henry Wilson leading the rest, with his flashy and great playing at the forward position being outstanding. Lane showed his worth, being a fine mate for Wilson. Wice, the short, was a dependable guard, and his all-around playing stamped him as a star. The foe met, defeated, and lost to are of the best in the state. S. M. A. was the first victim, 40-19, Wilson's playing being sensational. Virginia came here a week hence and lost to us, 25-19. On the trip, V. E. S. gave the locals the first setback in a great game, 33-30. Then followed three victories in a row, Chatham, 30-10; D. M. L., 44-7; D. H. S., 25-19. Then came S. M. A. for revenge, 35-26, and the season ended with an overwhelming victory over V. P. L., 53-18.

Swimming was next, the locals winning from Fishburne, 41-26, but losing to Augusta by a point, 36-35. Frost, Allison and Cooke were the bright luminaries in this sport.

Baseball was successful under Coach Cy Twombly. Four games were won, two lost, and one resulted in a tie. Perry's pitching was of the best; Smith's work with the stick and at first was good; and Seehorn's fielding in the garden was of fine taste. Rutgers was the first to go down, during Easter, 4-2. The victories were over Va. School for D. & B.; V. E. S.; Roanoke Hi. We lost close games to Tech Frosh and Virginia. The game with Woodbury Forest resulted in a tie, 4-4.

Coach Fletcher's yearlings on the track were the first in this branch at the school. There were three meets, two being won, and one lost. Virginia was our Waterloo, 64-53. Wiping up Augusta M. A. 74 1-2 to 42 1-2, we followed it up with a victory over Tech, 69-48, the locals being too fast for the cadets.

LOOKING THE MANAGERS OVER

Harry Clemmer, who was recently elected manager of the 1924 baseball team, is a Phi Kappa Sigma, a member of the Cotillion Club, Circle 11, and Kappa Beta Phi honorary society. He was also on this year's Press Club staff.

PUBLICATION BOARD ENJOYS FIRST BANQUET

Certificates and Keys Are Awarded—J. H. Drullard Speaks of Editors' Problems.

The first annual Publication Board banquet was held on Friday night, May 18, at the University Dining Hall. This was the first of its kind ever held on the campus. It was attended by members of the Ring-tum Phi, Calyx, and Mink staffs.

Among the various speakers of the evening was Mr. J. H. Drullard, representing Baker, Jones, & Hausauer Co., printers of this year's Calyx, who made a short speech on how the various problems of the college editor come up during the year and how they are solved. The next speaker was Dr. D. B. Easter, faculty member of the Publication Board, who spoke on the problems of an editor during his college days in the nineties. Jean Ellis, ex-president of the Publication Board, who has been endeavoring since he began work on the publications of Washington and Lee to have such a meeting of this sort, was the next one on the program and he said that he was glad that all the members of the three publications were there together as he knew that this would ultimately mean better publications on the campus of W. & L.

The certificates for one year's service on a publication were awarded by Jack Thomas, toastmaster, and the names of those who were awarded the Publication Board keys were announced. These keys have not arrived and they will not likely be received before next fall.

A three course supper was served and the expense was borne by each publication as to the number of men it had on the staff who attended the banquet.

UNIVERSITY SUPPLY STORE LOOKS FORWARD TO BIG BUSINESS

"Buck" Simmons Will Hold Managerial Reins—Tilson Assists.

The Co-op, according to Greenberry Simmons, assistant manager, has had the most prosperous year since it was started up several years ago. The profit for this year cannot be determined until stock has been taken, which will be done in several days, but it is certain they show an increase over those of last year.

The management for next year has been given to Greenberry Simmons, this year's assistant, and "Tex" Tilson has been appointed as assistant for next year.

The Co-op will handle a complete line of text books starting next year, and has been buying a large number of second hand ones from students selling them. Everything in the athletic line will be sold at the Co-op next fall and a large order of athletic goods has already been placed with a leading sporting goods establishment. Both fraternity and Washington and Lee seal stationery will be handled; also a big line of candies and soft drinks will be had just as this year.

This is the second year that the Co-op has been in existence and from the amount of money that the Athletic Association gets from its profits, shows that it is a paying business.

DE HART CONSENTS TO COACH '23-'24 SEASON

James De Hart will again coach the 1923 Generals on the gridiron next fall, as he has been secured by the Athletic Council to coach through the season of 1923-24. His assistants will be Dick Smith, Forest Fletcher, and Eddie Parks Davis, who will have charge of coaching the Frosh team.

Coach De Hart will not coach basketball this coming season and a new coach will be selected by the Council in a few days. Many applicants are being considered and a good one will no doubt be chosen. Captain Dick Smith will again have charge of the Generals' baseball team on Wilson Field during the 1924 season. The season has been a great success and with Captain Dick at the helm again, the Generals will have one of the best ball teams in the South.

GENERALS SUCCESSFUL ON THE DIAMOND

Sixteen Games Won and Four Lost Is Record—Team Practically New.

One of the most successful of Washington and Lee baseball seasons has gone into history. Starting the season without a single veteran infielder, and two outfield position to be filled, prospects did not look so bright. But Coach Dick Smith shifted the material around and drafted stars from the Freshman team of the year, with the result that he built up a powerful nine. The team won sixteen out of twenty games, slugging the ball for the remarkable average of .339 in the twenty games.

Two men will be lost to next year's Varsity. They are McCallum and McDonald. Coach Dick Smith will again be in charge and will have a large number of varsity men back to build his team around. The pitching staff will, however, have to be built up as the loss of McDonald and McCallum will be keenly felt.

McDonald, whose pitching has been a feature of the season, will get his degree this year. "Mac" has turned in seven victories with no defeats and has, in addition, aided to win his own games by his batting ability. His average having been .361. He is also a three letter man wearing monograms in basketball and football, besides baseball.

Ex-Captain "Bill" McCallum is the second member of the pitching staff to be lost. He has been handicapped all year by a bad arm but has handled his share of the pitching burden in splendid shape. His most notable victory was that over the Navy on the Northern trip, in which he held the Midshipmen to six hits. This makes his fourth year on the baseball team. Bill was captain in 1922.

Captain Frew's playing has been the feature of the season. He has been practically the unanimous choice of writers for catcher in picking all-sectional teams. He hit for the remarkable figure of .455 in twenty games, making 11 more hits than any other player on the team, and fielded .935. Frew has been, in addition, an ideal leader, keeping the team on its toes at all times. "Student" has one more year of college baseball and his presence next season will add much to the strength of the nine.

"Monk" Mattox, who has held down the shortstop position so creditably this season, will also, it is hoped, be back next spring. He has completed his four years of college football but has one more year of baseball. "Monk" has been the home run king of the Generals and the leading scorer. His fielding has been of the highest order, his powerful whip turning many potential hits into outs.

Captain-elect Switzer has served for three years on the Varsity. He has held down the right field position this year in splendid style. In the twenty games he only made one error and hit very close to three hundred. Frank is an expert sacrifice hitter and in his position as lead off man has been responsible for many of the runs scored by the Generals this year.

First baseman "Buddy" Aylmer is playing his first year on the team, he having been a member of the 1922 yearlings. He takes them high, low and wide at first and led the team in fielding with an average of .970.

George Wilson at second base is also playing his first year of Varsity baseball. He did not start the season on the team but grabbed a berth soon after the season opened and has been playing regularly since. George has two more years to play.

Bo McMillan, third baseman, is the second member of the 1922 yearlings to make a berth on the Varsity. "Bo" has a strong arm and the long throw to first doesn't bother him. He is one of the cleanest and most consistent hitters on the team, averaging .326 for the year.

"Tip" Gwaltney in centerfield is another man playing his first year of Varsity ball. He is very fast, covers a world of territory in centerfield and beats out a large number of infield grounders on which slower runners would be thrown out. He was the second highest hitter on the team, averaging .328. "Tip" has one more year.

Harry Dawson, in left field, played on the 1922 Freshmen also. In fielding and batting he is among the leaders, being the third highest fielder on the team and the fourth batter. His batting average was .361. Harry tied with Gwaltney for stealing the largest number of bases during the season.

"Jim" Lackey, pitcher, makes the fourth member of last year's Freshmen nine to make his letter on the Varsity this year. Jim has all kinds of stuff and should be an important cog in the 1924 machine. He pitched the only shut-out of the season against Hopkins. The Doctors did not get a single safe hit.

"Doc" Woolwine, also a member of the 1922 Frosh, only pitched one game, but showed great promise in that. He held Randolph-Macon College to four hits and also pitched the eighth inning of the Hopkins game holding the Doctors hitless.

Among the substitutes are Stuart, who caught several games, Lovelace, Bock, Lake and Weaver. Bock has the highest batting average of any man on the team, getting five hits out of eight times up. He plays both infield and outfield positions. Lake has shown considerable promise, hitting the ball hard, and is a good fielder. Johnny Lovelace has made two home runs on coming to the bat as a pinch hitter. "Johnny" is a natural born hitter. Weaver started the rally, as a pinch hitter, which defeated N. Y. U. in the first game of the season. All four of these are all outfielders and will be available to the team next year.

Among the scrubs, Red Hawkins, a first baseman, Shorty Franklin and Darby Brown, both infielders, Johnny Leggate an outfielder, and Tom Bemis, who plays both infield and outfield will furnish good material for next year's team.

Coach Dick Smith will also have a wealth of material to draw from the Freshman team. Hickman, a southpaw, and Perry, a right-hander, have shown considerable ability along the pitching line, and Smith, a first baseman, and Seeborn and Lane, outfielders, will furnish considerable competition for Varsity positions next spring.

CLEMMER AND MITCHELL GIVEN MANAGERSHIP

Of Baseball and Track Respectively—Defeated Junior Manager—Manages Frosh.

Harry Clemmer was elected manager of baseball for the coming season at the recent Athletic Council meeting over H. H. Hancock. According to a new ruling of the Association, the Junior manager who was not elected manager of the Varsity will assume the managership of the Freshman team next year. Max Terry and C. E. Hinkle were chosen as the Junior manager for next year, with J. D. Reynolds as alternate manager.

E. R. Mitchell was chosen to manage the Track team for next season over T. M. Harmon by the council. Harman will have charge of the managerial duties of the Frosh track team for next year. T. R. Harrell and W. K. Payne were chosen as the Junior Track managers for the season of 1923-24. S. P. Walker was selected as alternate.

According to a new ruling made by the Athletic Council, all Sophomores who wish to try out for one of the managerships will have hand in an application blank to the council who will select the number of men that they think necessary for the sport. A large number will be chosen for baseball and football. Also that the defeated Junior manager will have charge of the Yearlings in his sport for the coming season.

PUBLICATIONS ENJOY SUCCESSFUL YEARS

Campus Journalism Has Made Rapid Progress—Plans for Next Year.

The publications of Washington and Lee are just completing one of the most successful years in their history and much credit for this success is due the respective editors and business managers.

Ring-tum Phi.
The Ring-tum Phi under the leadership of Editor A. C. Kelley and Manager J. N. Thomas has inaugurated a number of new features which rank it among the leading college newspapers of the South. The "pink" sheet with its columns of sporting and football dope for the Saturday's during the gridiron season has been quite successful and well worth the time and money spent on it. Another very original feature of this year's paper has been the bulletin board box. This has helped quite materially in the matter of giving publicity to the various events on the campus in a systematic form, without the necessity of posting paper signs all over the campus to inform the students of what is taking place. The letters from the Executive Committee to the Student Body through the columns of the Ring-tum Phi have also proved very beneficial to the students by giving them an idea of the workings of this committee and the problems that it has had to face.

The Ring-tum Phi for next year gives promise of some more new features. Howard Leake and W. H. Cluverius, Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager respectively, are promising the University a bigger and more interesting newspaper than heretofore. They plan to make it a six column sheet if possible, and if this can not be done to give it two additional columns of news. In order to improve the appearance of the paper more cuts will be used in the advertisements and pictures of prominent alumni and members of the Student Body will be run from time to time.

The Mink.
The Mink, edited by D. H. Lindsay and managed by Dick Peamster, also seems to have completed a successful year. The circulation has been increased to about twelve hundred copies and the publication seems to rest on a rather sound financial basis. The quality of the jokes and literary contributions seems to be improving and the Mink gives promise of developing into one of the leading college comics of the South. This publication is being given more and more recognition all the time, so it is only a matter of a few years until it develops into a magazine ranking along with the best in the country.

Definite plans are now being made by J. W. French and Paul B. Yates, editor and manager of next year's Mink, to make it one of the best humorous magazines of the collegiate world. The editors plan to increase the size of the Mink to thirty-six pages and double the amount of art work in it. The artists for next year's staff have begun work already and are promising some very unique drawings and cuts. The circulation will also be greatly increased if possible and the magazine made bigger and better than this year.

The Calyx.
Since the 1923 Calyx has come out nothing but praise has been heard of it, and to Editor Snively and Business Manager Shuey goes a great deal of credit. Many new features have been incorporated into this volume and it is easily one of the best that has ever been put out by Washington and Lee. Two of the most original features of this year's annual are the Ziegfeld Beauty Contest and the Coles Phillips picture. These came out exceptionally well, especially the latter. The pictures of the campus, the arrangement of the University section, the pictures of the officers and class presidents, the copies of the paintings of George Washington and General Lee in the front, and the entire make-up of the book are worthy of unstinted praise.

The art work is especially noteworthy. No pains or money have been spared on this work and the editors are to be congratulated on their success with it.

The Calyx for 1924 promises much under the leadership of Editor W. G. Sale and Business Manager A. L. Tyree. They expect to give the University a good book and no doubt will put out one as good, if not better than the volume for 1923.

Prominent Seniors Announce Plans

Every year, with the awarding of the degrees to the Seniors, the question of what the future holds for each, is brought to the front. In the past month many Seniors have been heard to say that he had received his last check from home and that after June he would have to supply his own wants. Among the graduates this year, several are going to continue their study here, or elsewhere, while others will matriculate in that great school, called by Ralph Parlette, "the University of Hard Knocks."

W. E. HOLT, Jr.
W. E. Holt, Jr., will enter the firm of Oliver and Finnie, wholesale grocers and manufacturers in a position that will fit the dignity of Bill. Bill wound up his collegiate career by getting the Presidency of the Student Body. He is quite popular, and has served efficiently as the chief executive of Student Government.

"ROCKY" HOLT
"Rocky" Holt, who receives his LL. B. this year, will return to take X. Parson's place in the Law School. "Rocky" has been at Washington and Lee for a good while and during this time he has won the friendship and admiration of all with whom he has been associated.

"EDDIE" CROCKETT
Eddie Crockett will enter the coal business in Smalley, Kentucky. Eddie will be very much in prominence during Finals and it is to be expected he will meet with the same success in business as he has at college.

"MONK" MATTOX
"Monk" Mattox, one of the best athletes that Washington and Lee has ever produced, will continue his work along athletic lines and will coach some strong football eleven next year.

VAUGHN PENN
Vaughn Penn, President of the Senior class, will enter the firm of the Vaughn Manufacturing Co., located at Madison, N. C. Vaughn has won the admiration of the whole Student Body, both by his congenial personality and by his high scholastic standing.

T. J. ELLIS
T. J. Ellis, Valedictorian for the Class of 1923, will return next year to continue his study of law. Jean has been an outstanding man on the campus, and has won more high honors than any other man of the Class of 1923.

CARR AND HOLBROOK
Bob Carr and Doc Holbrook will practice law next year. Both of these men have been very prominent and success awaits them in their chosen field.

L. S. MERIWETHER
L. S. Meriwether will study law at either Florida or Harvard. Lock takes a degree in the Commerce School this year. He has served capably as Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body for the present session.

DICK STURM
Richard Sturm will take a position with the Engineers of the West Virginia State Highway Department. Dick is a prominent man of the Engineering School.

J. L. PECK
J. L. Peck of Troubadour and Social fame will go into the law firm with his father, who is among the prominent men of his profession on the Pacific coast.

The above is a general summary of what some of the prominent Seniors will do and all will do well to follow the example of the leaders and make Washington and Lee proud of them.

HARE AND HOUND CHASE INAUGURATED

Both the Freshmen and the Sophomore gym classes held a hare and hound chase for their last gym class of the season. Nearly forty men participated in each event and both times the hounds succeeded in running down the hares.

This is a new idea put in by Coach Brett and every member of the class has to be in the race in order to pass the course.

E. R. Mitchell, manager of next year's Track team, has been on the Ring-tum Phi staff for the past three years, having served first as a reporter and this year being one of the News Editors. He is also a member of the Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalistic fraternity.

Robert B. McDougle, '20L, was gacked on the campus a few days last week. "Mac" is remembered as manager of the Famous Generals of 1919.

PRESIDENT HOLT GIVES RESUME OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE'S WORK

Frosh Council Has Contributed Much To Assimilation of Yearlings—Standard Ring Adopted—New Song Put On Sale—Open Letters To Student Body—Constitutional Amendments.

With the close of school the Executive Committee ends one of the most successful years of its existence. Besides the multitudinous duties which necessarily fall to the lot of this committee, they have instituted and carried out many needed changes and materially increased the power of the Executive Committee over the Student Body. Something of the diversity and the importance of the work of this body can be gleaned from the short resume of the year's work which follows:

Freshman Assimilation and Control.

The Student Body one year ago passed an amendment creating a Freshman Council to be elected by the Executive Committee, to be composed of fourteen men and a chairman. This council was appointed with Eddie Cameron as chairman. This year for the first time the Freshmen were not taken out as a whole class and beaten, but instead each Freshman was considered as an individual and a gentleman until he proved himself to be otherwise. The Freshman Council performed its work very efficiently—giving a Freshman a trial—then if he was found guilty he surely received what was coming to him. We would say that this is the best system that Washington and Lee has ever had for the control of the Freshman Class. This system will work more efficiently next year as all upper classmen—that is Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors will realize that the responsibility for the control of the Freshmen is on their shoulders. There is only one possible improvement which might be made in the present system—that is to increase the number on the Freshman Council from fifteen to twenty-five men selected at large from the Student Body.

Bureau for Student Employment.

A committee appointed to secure jobs for needy students and especially for deserving athletes was successful in locating work for several students and starting a move which should take care of about ten freshmen athletes who are willing to work. The first mentioned students were placed in the New and Lyric Theatres, while the last mentioned move is to place Freshman athletes in the Beaneery, where they would be able to earn their board.

Student Body Ring Adopted.

Starting from the Academic class of 1923 a move was made to establish a standard Washington and Lee ring, to be worn by Seniors and Juniors after Easter of their Junior year. As you travel over the country keep on the lookout for the man with the W. & L. ring. There are about fifty men wearing these rings today—these men are from all sections of the country. A number of men were turned down because they could not graduate in 1924.

"Fight, Fight Blue and White" a New Song.

A new piece of music can be used with the Swing was offered the Executive Committee by Mr. John A. Graham and Mr. C. E. L. Gill, the writers, for publication. The Executive Committee decided that the song could be used with the Swing in all athletic contests and that the Student Body needed a good new song. Copies of "Fight, Fight Blue and White" have been on sale at the Corner and are going like "hot cakes," though late in arriving. All Freshmen will be required to learn this as well as the Swing next fall. All old men should know it.

Financial Reports.

For the first time in the last four years the Executive Committee has audited the accounts of all the classes, the publications and Fancy Dress and Finals, and have made public their findings through the columns of the Ring-tum Phi to the Student Body.

Changes and Additions To Constitution.

The President of Fancy Dress is now elected by the Student Body. He will have charge of all activities of the Fancy Dress period and will lead Fancy Dress Ball. The Troubadours are to back Fancy Dress.

We now have a new class—Senior Commerce—so that next Fall a new set of officers will be elected and a new organization perfected. The Commerce School is one of the largest and should have representation in the student government.

It is the sincere hope of the president Executive Committee that number of the financial calls on the students should be abolished next year. This matter has been placed in the hands of the new Executive Committee by the Student Body amendment. May the students be saved several campaigns!

The greatest forward step which has been made by the Student Body this year is in placing the matter of "cold" checks under the Honor System.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Chairman.

"Y" MAKES PLANS FOR WORK OF NEXT YEAR

Evangelistic Campaign Will Feature 1923-24 Program—Retreat At Springs.

The Y. M. C. A. has just closed one of the most successful years it ever had on this campus. The Y. M. C. A. is an organization of students on the campus devoting itself to the promotion of spiritual and moral life. Its claim is to work as an organized body, and through its members as individuals. The government of this organization is carried on by an executive council. This executive council is composed of four officers, elected by the active members of the association and the chairmen of permanent committees who are appointed by the president of the organization. These officers are appointed and the chairmen of permanent committees appointed each March to serve for the year from May until the following May. The officers for the past year were: Garland Alexander, president; Frank C. Switzer, vice-president; Otis Howe, treasurer, and J. B. Holloway, secretary. For the coming year they are: J. R. Thomas, president; Otis Howe, vice-president; Frank Switzer, treasurer; George Spraggins, secretary.

Throughout the year Bible and Mission Study classes have been held at regular intervals and the total enrollment was over two hundred men.

During the year the Y has put over two successful financial campaigns, one for local "Y" expenses and one for European Student Relief. The local expense campaign netted approximately $1,600, and the European Student Relief Fund approximately $700. This latter cash campaign was supplemented at the end of the year by an old clothes campaign for relief of Near East sufferers. A large quantity of very serviceable clothing was secured.

During the past session over fifty engagements to speak at religious services were filled by student members furnished by the Social Service Committee. Included in these engagements were two semi-monthly meetings at the county jail, service at the outpost chapels of the Lexington churches, preparatory schools, and county churches.

On May 12th and 13th, after the newly elected officers and chairmen of the permanent committees had been installed, a group of twenty-two student workers, two faculty members, and the general secretary, went to Rockbridge Alum Springs for their annual twenty-four hour retreat, in order that they might thoughtfully and carefully plan the work for the coming session of 1923 and 1924. The plans laid are somewhat similar to those of the past few years, but their scope is vastly greater. Next year's plans include the popular lyceum course which will consist of three splendid musical numbers, all of which are free to the students. Another very popular feature of the Association's program which is to be carried out next year is an evangelistic campaign. Elaborate plans have been made for one week of special emphasis on the reality of religion and its meaning to young men. This was not included in this year's plan owing to the inability to secure the right leader.

Numerous socials and speakers have also helped to fill out the Y. M. C. A. program during the past year. Among the speakers were: Frank G. Gilliam, '17; Dr. Henry Louis Smith, and C. H. Patterson, '19.

Several members of the football team will be employed at a West Virginia lumber camp this summer. Every Senior a Subscriber.

PROMINENT STUDENTS EXPRESS W. & L.'S NEEDS

Men Who Have Thought of the University's Progress Advance Ideas.

We have two-thirds of the best law school in the South. We have the best faculty, and the best student body—but the building and libraries are a disgrace to the University.

Why not adequately equip the building and keep it in repair? We are in sore need of better furniture and fixtures. The chairs are wrecks, the desks and tables could be improved and the lights, although somewhat better, are still a source of much trouble.

The library is kept by a competent student librarian, but the fact remains that many volumes of reports are torn and worn and not properly cared for. The law school needs money and attention and it should receive both.

What does the Administration do with the excess of law tuition receipts over the salary list? If the law school is entitled to share in the general endowment fund to the extent even of only heat, light and janitor service, it would appear that the income from special law school endowment and tuition is annually several thousand dollars more than is spent on the law school for salaries, books and repairs.

Why not devote this surplus to making the building and library measure up as a law laboratory to the standard of our faculty and students?

Washington and Lee has all the historic background and intangible possessions that can be desired for a University. Its greatest immediate needs are money, without which needed buildings and equipment can not be secured, a still broader spirit in faculty and students more support of our alumni and more activity on their part.

Above all and at all times her historic buildings honorable traditions and treasured ideals should be preserved inviolate for future generations of students.

T. JEAN ELLIS.

W. and L.'s system of self-government is almost as widely known as its honor system, having successfully functioned for many years. The Executive Committee, which is the controlling body, has broadened its scope of authority from being a mere court of justice upholding the reputation of the school by enforcing the rules of the honor system, and is now making its influence felt in practically every phase of student activity. With this extended field of authority there has come a growing feeling among the students that they should be entitled to know more of the actual workings of this body. This information could be transmitted to the Student Body through the columns of the Ring-tum Phi, at assemblies or on the bulletin board.

J. B. HOLLOWAY.

A Senior, looking back over the years of varying activities of College life, and looking forward to the manifold and complex activities of the business or professional life which is to begin in the not far distant future, has a little different perspective, perhaps, than the ordinary undergraduate student.

In fact all of us, being human, are often guilty of what we might term a "warped perspective" and I believe this fault is especially peculiar to the undergraduate college student. We put great stress on little things and sometimes entirely lose sight of the things of primary importance in our lives.

I recall to mind an old Latin motto which might help us, perhaps, to guard against this besetting sin of college life: "Arge Quod Argis" or "Finish What You Undertake." This motto should appeal especially to Washington and Lee men, for certainly no two men ever lived up to such a motto more faithfully than the two great Americans whose names we revere and whose ideals we cherish. They were, indeed, men who did things.

Let us resolve, men of Washington and Lee, when we first enter upon our career as a student, at this great Institution to undertake and get an EDUCATION, and then let us "finish what we undertake."

BRILLIANT FINALS GAYETIES RADIATE PLEASURE

The dancers on edge all evening and there was never a dull moment. The arrival of a number of Sweet Briar girls Saturday evening also added much to the dance.

Sunday proved a day of "retreats" and motoring parties with Natural Bridge as the favored destination. Monday witnessed the Alumni-Varsity baseball game, the regatta, and the Senior Ball at night. The dance was led by J. Vaughan Penn, president of the class, with Miss Kate Rucker Penn. The figure was an elaborate one, featured by the award of diplomas to the boys by their partners. The dance was one of the best of the entire Finals week, and brought much credit to those in charge for the manner in which it was carried out.

We cannot pass without mentioning a word about the music. Jan Garber and his Garber-Davis orchestra have given music of the highest order throughout the dances, and their presence has been one of the biggest factors in the success of Finals 1923. It is not enough to say the music has been "good." It has been the best Washington and Lee has been treated to in many moons, and members of the orchestra, individually and collectively have endeared themselves to the Student Body, and a ready welcome ever awaits them here.

Truly, Washington and Lee has realized its best Finals.

HOLIDAYS GRANTED WITH DANCES

dance leaders are already making elaborate plans for the 1923-24 season.

Hagan Minnich, President of Fancy Dress Ball, has his plans for Washington and Lee's greatest social function of the year, well under way. At this early date, however, it is impossible to give more than a general idea of the coming event. John Morrison has been chosen Vice-President and will assist Minnich in leading the ball. Carl Gill has been appointed Director.

Although the subject of the ball has not been decided, a Venetian Carnival or an Oriental Palace scheme of direction will be used. Van Horn or some equally good costumer will furnish the costumes for the occasion. There will be some specialty or novelty in connection with the figure.

The 1924 Finals will have equally as many dances as there are this year. Besides the regular attractions of Final Week plans are under way for some added attractions for the alumni. One of the objects in the past has been that, unless they dance, there are not enough other attractions to warrant, especially the older alumni, coming back.

The Student Body regrets to hear of the death of Mrs. Whittle, mother of Randolph G. Whittle, and wishes to extend its deepest sympathy to him in his great bereavement.

DR. SMITH GIVES RESUME OF UNIVERSITY PROGRESS

lege failures has been notably diminished. Twelve full-time professors and an unusual number of part-time instructors and laboratory assistants were added to the teaching force of 1922-23.

Quite a number of new courses were added to the curriculum, and a regular Department of Electrical Engineering with a four-year course and the degree of B. S. in Electrical Engineering was created.

During the past six months, subscriptions from the Editors of the South have been received aggregating $27,567. This work is going steadily on with gratifying success.

The U. D. of C. are busy at work raising the $150,000 they promised for the Lee Memorial Chapel to be built in connection with his tomb and mausoleum. Preliminary plans for the building have already been drawn up.

Work will begin on the chemical building probably in the next thirty days. A concrete mixer has been purchased and a new rock crusher ordered so that work may begin immediately after commencement. The purchase of several thousand dollars worth of new apparatus has been recommended with a liberal extra appropriation for the library.

At the June, '22, meeting of the Board of Trustees the following new members were added to the board: Judge Wm. Alexander Bell, of New Orleans; Judge Chas. J. McDermett, of New York; and Hon. Hugh Bell Sproul, of Staunton, Virginia.

Dr. Bean of the History Department has accepted a position in the Tulane Summer School as head of the History Department. We are glad to say Dr. Bean will again be with us next year.

FRESH COUNCIL PERSONNEL ANNOUNCED BY COMMITTEE

"General" Stump Will Head Council of Twenty Men To Assimilate Incoming Fresh; Tilson Vice-President.

The 1923-24 Executive Committee held its first formal meeting on Tuesday, May 29. In the absence of President Whittle, who was called to his home by the untimely death of his mother, vice-president John M. Lovelace presided.

Several matters of minor importance were taken up and discussed, after which the session took up the task of selecting a Freshman council. Feeling that greater interest in the work of the council could be had if it were made a larger body, the Executive Committee increased the membership in the body to twenty-one, the twenty-first member being the President of the Student Body who is ex-officio chairman. The other members of the council are as follows:

- J. S. Stump, '24L, President.
- W. E. Tilson, '25L, Vice-President.
- E. M. Cameron, '24C.
- R. M. Frew, '23C.

Other business brought before the initial meeting of the Executive Committee included the disposition of the unsold copies of the new song, "Fight, Fight, Blue and White." A note is to be taken out to finance the period between sessions.

Good-bye and Good Luck in the Vacation to Come.
