

GENERALS PREPARING TO MEET THE STRONG CENTRE OUTFIT

Claim to Southern Title May Depend on Saturday's Outcome

Opponents Have Formidable Record and White and Blue Will Have To Muster All Strength To Bring Victory—Frew May Be Out.

With the South Carolina game a matter of history now, Coach Jimmy DeHart is preparing the Big Blue team for their second trip of the season to the Bluegrass section where they will hook up with Centre College at Parkway Field this coming Saturday in Louisville. This contest will mark the third meeting for the Generals and the Colonels, and in the past the Danville aggregation have emerged victorious from the fray.

All three of these contests have been played in Louisville. In 1921 the Generals journeyed there and were defeated by the score of 25 to 0. The following year they succumbed to a 25 to 6 score, and this year, DeHart has hopes of changing the luck of the team and bringing back a victory from the Colonels.

Everybody on the team with the exception of "Student" Frew came through last Saturday's contest in good shape, and they suffered only minor bruises and injuries which "Red" Gillam will heal by this coming week-end. "Student's" return to the game this week is very problematical and in the event that he doesn't get in the game, Henry Wilson will take his place and chirp signals with Captain Eddie Cameron doing the punting.

The probable loss of Frew for this coming Saturday is a hard blow to the Big Blue team, but to offset this, both "Terrible" Terry and Dorr Tucker are both back in uniform and no doubt will get into the game before the final whistle blows. This will mark Tucker's first appearance in a uniform this season, as he suffered a broken ankle a week before the first game with Western Maryland. Dorr was one of the mainstays of the team in 1920 and 1921, and his ability as a broken field runner and defensive man has made him feared by every team that he plays against. "Terrible" Terry, who was forced to the sidelines in the early part of the season with a bad shoulder, return-

INTER-CLASS FOOTBALL SEASON NEAR AT HAND

Practice Being Held Every Once In A While Already—At Most Any Old Place.

As the time for the inter-class football season draws near, enthusiasm and interest among the members of the various classes is steadily increasing. From indications so far there will be more class spirit shown this year than was ever aroused before. Already for some time, irregular practices have been held in front of the Doremus gymnasium. A call for candidates will soon be issued by the various class presidents and regular practices will be held.

The first game of the season will be played just after Thanksgiving at the present Varsity football season. As yet no definite schedule has been made out. The rules of eligibility have also not been thoroughly gone over and decided upon, but it is understood that Coach Brett will call an important meeting of the presidents of the respective classes to be held on Thursday at 3 o'clock in his office in the gymnasium. At this meeting the schedule will be arranged and the rules of eligibility will be determined upon.

Everybody Out

Rally and "Send-off" for the team leaving for the Centre game. Time—Thursday afternoon 3:15 o'clock. Place—Doremus Gym. Every man who possibly can and who is a real W. & L. student will be there. Show that Big Team that you are behind them.

LITTLE GENERALS MEET V.P.I. FROSH SATURDAY

Opponents Said To Be One of Strongest Frosh Teams In State—Loss To U. Va. 7 To 6.

Saturday the Little Generals will meet one of the strongest Freshman teams in the state. So far the "Goblets" have been defeated only once, and that came as a result of the battle with the freshmen from the University of Virginia. In this game the Techmen claim to have lost the 6 to 7 game through a fluke.

Their schedule is as follows:
Oct. 13—V. P. I., 27; Hampden-Sidney II's, 0.
Oct. 20—V. P. I., 32; Roanoke College II's, 0.
Oct. 27—V. P. I., 6; U. of Va. Freshmen, 7.
Nov. 3—V. P. I., 27; Roanoke High School, 0.
Nov. 10—V. P. I., 51; V. M. I. Freshmen, 0.
Nov. 17—V. P. I., 20; Naval Apprentice School, 0.
Nov. 24—V. P. I. vs. Washington and Lee Freshmen.

COMMUNICATION

To the Student Body:

The "Fighting Generals" have already made the season of 1923 a success by their defeat of both V. P. I. and Virginia, and what's more they have done so with very little organized support from the Student Body. Practically every send-off has been a failure in that it lacked both enthusiasm and numbers. This is a deplorable state of affairs since it does not indicate the true spirit which we believe is behind the team. Next Saturday Washington and Lee meets Centre College's "Wonder team of the South," and upon the outcome of this game depends largely the status which we will be able to claim at the close of the season. If we win, we will be as strong as any contender for the Southern Championship. If we lose, our scope will be limited to South Atlantic and Virginia.

There will be a send-off for the team, Thursday afternoon, which should prove to them beyond a doubt that the entire Student Body is behind them. This rally will start at the gym at 3:15 p. m., and headed by the band will march to the station. Every man, without exception, should consider it his personal duty to be there and participate and in so doing do his bit toward putting W. & L. where it should be in athletics, and prove that the Student Body, when tried, will not be found wanting.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE STUDENT BODY.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM AT DURHAM SATURDAY

To Race Against Harriers of Three Schools In Important Meet On Trinity Course.

At Durham this Saturday afternoon the Washington and Lee harriers will run against the cross-country runners of North Carolina, North Carolina State, and Trinity over a course of three and a half miles. Coach Fletcher has been giving his men stiff workouts for this very important meet and he expects the Washington and Lee runners to romp home to victory.

The cross-country team has had a successful season so far, defeating Virginia and Maryland, but last Saturday lost to V. P. I. Coach Fletcher declares that the tables will be turned if V. P. I. runs in the "Richmond Times-Dispatch" race at Richmond on December 1. This race will bring to a close the schedule of the White and Blue distance men.

The following men were selected by Coach Fletcher after the time trials yesterday afternoon to run this Saturday: Howard, Hawkins, Gannaway, Swope, Heiskell and Wilson.

TROUBS FACE THEIR MOST DIFFICULT PRODUCTION

"The Bad Man" Is Requiring Intensive Study and Effort for Perfection.

The Washington and Lee Troubadours have undertaken the most difficult production of their career in the presentation of "The Bad Man," for which rehearsals are now reaching a point of perfection. The time required to prepare the show for the students places greater demands on the individuals than any previous performance.

The part of Pancho Lopez has required much serious study on the part of Johnny Morrison in order that he may give a comprehensive interpretation of this character. Al-

XMAS HOLIDAY BEGINS DEC. 21

There have been many and various rumors on the campus concerning the exact date on which the Xmas holidays will begin this year, and to quell these rumors, it is announced that Friday, December 21, will be the last day of classes before Xmas and that at 11:45 a. m. on that date the entire Student Body will be released. Dr. Smith has sent notices to this effect to all agents of railroads carrying students from Lexington in order that the Washington and Lee Student Body may be adequately provided for. Students returning after the holidays will be required to register by 10 p. m. on Thursday, Jan. 3, and classes will be resumed on Friday morning.

First Section of Stadium Will Be Completed By Next May

Contract Calls for Completion of First Section of 2,500 Seats Within Five Months—Will Be of Steel and Concrete Construction.

LECTURE IN CHAPEL BY JUDGE CHRISTIAN

"Law As a Life Work" Will Be Subject—Law Students To Attend In Body.

Judge Frank P. Christian, of the Lynchburg Corporation Court, is to speak in the Lee Chapel at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening. Judge Christian is well known to people in this section of Virginia as an able speaker, as well as one of the best lawyers in the state. He has chosen for his subject, "Law As a Life Work From a Christian Standpoint."

As a professional courtesy, and in view of the importance of the subject, Dean W. H. Moreland, of the Law School, has requested that the entire Law School and Faculty attend in a body. A special reserved section will be held for them in the chapel.

A recent count of the records in the office of the Registrar shows that there are 111 students in the Academic and Commerce Schools in addition to the Law students, who have chosen for their life work the law profession. About as many more have as yet decided on no particular profession. To these would-be lawyers, and those as yet of no opinion, this address should be of particular interest. It is felt that this meeting Thursday night will fill a need on the campus and will help some students to decide an important question. A crowded chapel will show the Student Body's appreciation for Judge Christian's visit, and the students will in turn receive benefits in advance from a man whose advice is of much value, because of his wide experience.

Work on Washington and Lee's new stadium has actually begun, and in a comparatively short time visible signs of the much heralded and widely discussed plans will begin to appear.

The contract for the work now under way calls for the completion of the first section of the stadium within the next 150 days. The first section will contain 2,500 seats, will be nine tiers high, and will extend the entire length of the field. As many sections as desired can later be added to this. The present plans are to build 2,500 more seats on to the ones now being erected, just as soon as the money is available.

The Atlantic Bridge Company has the contract for the construction work now under way. The plans of the stadium call for a brick front, steel framework, supported by concrete, and cypress seats. There will be four main entrances from under the stands. There will also be rest room accommodations under the stadium.

The work now going forward merely consists of a small part of the original plans which, when carried out in full, will give Washington and Lee one of the finest stadiums and athletic fields in the South.

ROANOKE SIGMA CHI CHAPTER IS REVIVED

Local Chapter Attends Ceremonies—Football Game and Banquet On Program.

The Tau chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity at Roanoke College, which has been inactive since 1901, was revived on last Saturday, Nov. 17. The initiation and installation which was held at Mr. McVidie's country estate near Salem, was attended by the following members of the Washington and Lee chapter: A. S. Gifford, '24L; V. C. Strawhand, '26; T. W. Menefee, '26; H. A. Ray, '25; J. W. French, '24; A. T. Roy, '25; W. K. Horton, '26; J. W. Ross, '26; G. B. Wilkinson, '26; J. W. Wilkinson, '24; W. R. Henderson, '25; M. P. Matheny, '24L; and G. B. Carey, '26.

There was a dance Friday night, and the installation and initiation took place Saturday morning, and was followed by a football game between William and Mary and Roanoke College in the afternoon. The ceremonies came to a close with a banquet at Hollins that night. Dr. Smith, the President of the college, presided at the banquet as toastmaster, and Judge Howard Ferris, who has been a member of the fraternity for fifty-two years, was the principal speaker of the evening.

More than seventy-five members of the fraternity were present for the activities, exclusive of the twenty-one members of the local there who were taken in at this time.

All the members of Dr. Howe's Bible class are cordially invited by the ladies of the Lexington Presbyterian Sunday School to attend a supper given by them on Friday night at 6:30.

It is said that Highland College of Kentucky had the lowest enrollment of any in the country this year with twenty students. Authorities at Columbia are expecting their total enrollment to reach the 30,000 mark during the 1923-'24 session.

Correct this sentence: "Yes, John, I have attended every rally and send-off this year."

Congratulations To Dr. Moffatt.

Southern Champs????

"To be or not to be" is a rather hackneyed phrase that we have inherited from friend Shakespeare, but in its numerous applications to moments of human doubt and indecision lies its fame. . . . There is no indecision or doubt as to our desiring such an alluring title as Southern Champs, yet there is the question whether we want it bad enough to give our best in every way to obtain such an appellation.

In Centre we will find a tartar who has behind her many brilliant victories over the outstanding teams of the South. Only once has she been defeated and that by the strong Penn eleven. She has as the result of her victorious march through the Southern universities one of the pre-eminent claims to the title. One can imagine what a victory over the Colonels would mean. Washington and Lee would be heralded throughout the South as the coming claimant of the mythical throne.

Through pure determination to win the game, through the combined and spontaneous enthusiasm of the Student Body and the team and the old fight of the veteran White and Blue, we can do it. On our toes from now on and ready for instant move at the sound of the whistle. The conquerors of the Auburn Tigers have the edge on us as for weight and skill, but have they the fighting qualities that have so distinguished the Big Blue team? Through that grit and stamina many a battle has been won that otherwise was conceded lost by the sport writers of the country.

We can lick them. We are going to do it.

A communication from the Executive Committee in these columns urges you to come out for the rally Thursday. Does it need that to bring you out, or are you filled with the spirit of battle that will bring you out without such urging? The latter, we are sure. How about the Student Body staging the greatest come-back of the season and let such influence the team? Are you behind them in the great fight?

A Pernicious Practice.

Whether it is the fascination of the glowing arc that the little representative of the goddess nicotine makes, whether there is excruciating pleasure found in the discomfort and loss to others, which gives the impulse to toss aloft the cigarette while in the theatre we have yet to discover. . . . Whatever the impulse, we can in all frankness state that it is extremely juvenile and bears with it the stamp of low regard for other people's feelings and the lacking in the characteristics that generally distinguish the gentleman.

To laugh at another's discomfort when ludicrous, to find pleasure in another's pain when it is caused by some funny event is said to be a quality thrown back from the time when our ancestors were in the barbaric stage. Sometimes such amusement is involuntary on the one's part, something not easily controlled because of the impulse, because of the instantaneous response before the thought of and regard for others flashes through the brain. If so, some excuse, but when someone can premeditatedly throw a lighted cigarette on another and find fun and something to tickle his risibilities in the frantic action of another who tries to save his clothes and prevent a burn, then to relegate him to the class of mentally undeveloped is easy.

We ask those who do it if they would be as prone to throw the cigarette if the sufferer knew who they were? We ask them what they would do if they should have a fifty-dollar suit ruined or a blister raised for the passing pleasure of others? It is dark in the house when such is done, and that fact brings in strongly the hint of cowardice. Can you blame a man if he desires to retaliate in a physical and forceable way? You can not. You would rejoice in punishment administered.

We admit that some of the tossing is made to places that which are not occupied. Those who do such are not included in the above and we do not object except that it encourages others who get a misconception of your purpose to throw the cigarettes upon people. It would be well to eradicate the practice altogether.

FRATERNITY ROW

What do you think of the proposed plan to have all of the fraternity houses located on lower Main Street near the school gate, this part of the campus to be known as "Fraternity Row?"

Read what some of the campus leaders have to say about this plan:

"Cap" Nelson.

"This is an excellent plan and would promote a closer relationship between the fraternities on the campus. The full details of the plan should be published in order that the various fraternities could start raising funds for new houses."

Wyatt French.

"By this plan the students would not disturb the town populace, but would be concentrated on one street where they could make their own rules and govern themselves accordingly. The carrying out of this plan would mean a larger and better campus for Washington and Lee."

J. C. Morrison.

"This plan is unquestionably very good. The fraternities would enjoy a closer relationship with each other and at the same time the new houses would add beauty to our campus."

GRAHAM-LEE DEBATE

What looks to be the best debate held so far by the Graham-Lee Society is scheduled for next Saturday. The question is the same as the one used as preliminary question for the debating team. It is: Resolved, That in declaring any act of Congress unconstitutional, two-thirds of the entire bench of the Supreme Court shall concur.

The affirmative will be handled by R. B. Hilton and E. N. Averack, while L. R. Hack and H. M. Lewis will defend the negative side.

THE COLLEGE WORLD

There is a ton of bone and muscle on the Centre College varsity team this fall. The eleven men comprising the first eleven have a combined weight of 2,015 pounds, making the present line-up one of the heaviest ever put together by Coach Charlie Moran. Three men go over the 200 pound mark. The line from end to end at present averages 188 pounds, while the backfield averages 174 pounds.

A faculty women's clubhouse has been opened on the University of California campus.

At a recent meeting of the Junior class of the University of Washington it was unanimously decided that the Junior garb be a red flannel vest with small numeral '25 on the left point. Men and women of the class will wear the vests.

The University of North Dakota is conducting a campaign to determine their greatest football player, either past or present. Twelve candidates have been mentioned and only five are backfield men.

Four freshmen at Penn State have been excused from the Frosh rules because they are married.

University of Oregon Juniors had their annual shine day one day last week. On that day all, including coeds, shined their fellow students' shoes for the customary charge of 10 cents. The proceeds went to charity.

One of the recent hazing stunts at the University of New York consisted in a Commerce Freshman, with legs blackened, and with his clothes his pants rolled up and his on backwards, giving a series of speeches on several of the busiest streets, including Broadway and 42nd Street. His best effort was "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" One of great scientific interest was "Why the ocean is so close to the shore." Perhaps his most eloquent effort was made on the subject of "Our Courageous Cops."

The Women's Costume Ball at the University of Montana, given recently, was a big success. The prize for the most beautiful costume went to a shepherdess while the one for the most originality went to a girl costumed as a silver dollar. One man was reported present, garbed as a woman, but he left mysteriously during the dancing.

Washington State College has inaugurated something new along honorary fraternity lines in the Orchestis club, an interpretive dancing organization. Members are chosen for their originality, love of dancing, and skill in interpretation.

Twenty-five different athletic sports are in vogue at the University of Wisconsin and 4,200 men took part in them last year.

One of the new ideas that the New York University has inaugurated, called the Freshman Advisory Committee, is for every freshman to have a personal friend among the upper classmen to assist him in giving his best to, and getting the most out of his first year at college.

The Russian Cathedral Sextette, which is the second number of the Y. M. C. A. lyceum course, will present a very select vocal program, Nov. 26, at 8 p. m., at the High School Auditorium. The program will consist of a number of Cathedral songs and some selections in which the entertainers will be dressed in native Russian peasant holiday costumes. All students and Faculty members will be admitted free of charge.

Material for the Bulletin, which comes out on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, must be in the hands of the Y. M. C. A. Secretary the night before. Material can be left in the box outside the door of the Y. M. C. A. Secretary's office.

Between the Goal Posts

Captain Cameron gave the Gamecocks of South Carolina one of the biggest surprises that they have received in a long time when he plunged through their line for 144 yards last Saturday and did not play the whole game. The South Carolinians have prided themselves on their line all year and they had no expectation of letting the Generals gain by this method. Eddie not only gained through the line but he literally tore it to pieces and the South Carolina student body acclaimed him as one of the greatest line plungers that has ever been seen on their field.

Pat Hamilton treated the crowd at Columbia to a fine exhibition of broken field running. Pat only gained twenty yards on the run, but during that time he shook off about six tacklers and literally jumped out of the arms of another man when it looked as though he had a solid grip on him. It was a real treat to see that run, which with Eddie Cameron's line plunging was one of the few outstanding points of the Generals' play. Pat also hit the line well and was very much in evidence all during the game.

The Generals were way off form in the South Carolina game and they did not show the fight and team work that has been so evident this year. Next Saturday they meet the Praying Colonels and that game is going to have a lot to do with the question of who is going to be Southern Champions this year. We are expecting to see you back in form and playing the brand of football that defeated V. P. I. and Va. Generals, let's go! The climax has been reached; victory keeps us in first place for Southern Championship.

PUBLICATION BOARDS IN IMPORTANT SESSION

The monthly meeting of the Publication Board was held Monday night. The most important business of the evening was the report of the managers of all publications, in regard to finances. A fixed rate for the use of all cuts in the possession of the board, including all the cuts of past years of the three publications, was decided upon. This rate is to be ten per cent of the original value of the cut, but not to exceed fifty cents or to be less than twenty-five cents for each time used. Anyone desiring to use these cuts may obtain them from J. W. French, chairman of the committee.
