VOL. XXVII WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 27, 1924 No. 37

GEORGE IRVING COMES TO CAMPUS WITH OTHERS' HIGH ENDORSEMENT

College Man Will Bring Inspiring Messages To Washington and Lee.

The high endorsements given George Irving by Georgia Tech, Alabama and V. P. I., the Southern universities at which he has held meetings this year, show that he is not an emotional evangelist of the ordinary type, but a modern man who understands college men and who is capable of presenting to them in a clear-cut, unprofessional way a Christian message and laying before them the claims of Christ in a vital way.

Mr. Irving thoroughly understands college men and college life, first because he is a college man, being a graduate of the class of '02 of McGill University in Montreal, and second because for the last ten years he has been speaking to college and university groups in every section of the United States and Canada, thus being continuously and intimately connected with students during a large part of the time since his graduation.

Mr. Irving is a native of Canada. At McGill University, he took a leading part in student activities, being a member of the winning inter-university debating team, President of the "Y," and later General Secretary of the Association.

At present, George Irving is with the international Y. M. C. A. committee related to the religious department. W. and L. is one of three colleges at which he is going to speak. The invitations which he now has from colleges and city associations will keep him busy far beyond the present year.

Besides serving in the American war camps during the World War, Mr. Irving went overseas with the Canadian army, in which he held the rank of captain.

The place and schedule of meetings are announced elsewhere in the Ring-tum Phi.

Otis Howe is chairman of the Evangelistic Committee which arranged for George Irving to come here. A. T. Roy, Russell Jordan, George Spragins, John Leggate, and D. R. Stone, chairman of other committees, worked with him.

The following is the schedule of meetings which will be held by George Irving in the Chapel on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 29—
10:30 A. M.
7:30 P. M.
SATURDAY, MARCH 1—
10:30 A. M.
7:30 P. M.
SUNDAY, MARCH 2—
11:00 A. M.
11:00 A. M.

The faculty has consented to have assembly day schedule on Friday and Saturday, thus making it possible to hold the meetings without conflict with any classes.

MANY RECOMMENDATIONS OF IRVING FLOW INTO "Y"

Tech and Bama All For Him—V. P. I., Local Men and Alumnus Praise Him.

In view of the fact that George Irving, a prominent evangelist, is going to speak here during the latter part of this week, it is interesting to note the impressions which he made upon certain well-known Washington and Lee students who heard him talk at Indianapolis last December, and other men who have heard and enjoyed Irving in other places.

J. N. "Jack" Thomas, President of the Y. M. C. A., says: "George Irving appears to be a frank, open and sincere man—one who has the courage of his convictions. He seems, moreover, to understand college students well."

J. M. "Johnnie" Lovelace, Vice-President of the W. and L. Student Body, is even more enthusiastic in praise of Mr. Irving. He declares: "George Irving represents the finest type of man I have ever met. He is not a professional evangelist; he is an earnest worker and one who has the ability to interest and influence college men."

Paul Brawner says in regard to George Irving: "In my opinion he is a straight forward and religious man who has a sound and practical mes-

S. I. C. TOURNAMENT BEGINS THURSDAY

Georgia Looms Up As Generals' First Opponents In Atlanta.

V. M. I. MAY BE SECOND

Possibilities Large That We May Meet V. M. I.

The annual tournament for the Southern basketball championship starts Thursday night when the University of Florida meets Clemson in the first game. The rest of the first set of games will be played on Friday afternoon and night, with the Generals meeting the University of Georgia at eight o'clock Friday night. According to the Atlanta papers Georgia is slated for an easy victory over the Blue and White and it is considered a pretty sure thing that they will at least get into the second run off. From all reports, Georgia has a good team, and one that is going to put up a stiff fight for the championship. The Generals, although they have seemed to be losing out of late and have lost the last two games, and play North Carolina tonight, are still in there. With a day in between the Carolina game and the Georgia game in which to make the trip to Atlanta and rest up, they should be ready to step in and give the crakers a surprise.

In case that the Generals win they will play the winner of the Maryland-V. M. I. game. Judging from the result when these two teams met on the V. M. I. floor, it would seem that the Generals are likely to meet V. M. I. in athletics for the first time in many years. This is bound to cause some stir, but since the game is played in Atlanta no trouble should come of it and there are two "ifs" that have to be settled before a meeting between the two teams will take place.

The first run off of games is as follows:

Florida vs. Clemson.
Tulane vs. South Carolina.
V. M. I. vs. Maryland.
Alabama vs. U. of Mississippi.
Vanderbilt vs. winner of Florida-Clemson game.
Mississippi A. & M. vs. Tennessee.
Georgia Tech vs. Auburn.
W. and L. vs. Georgia.
North Carolina vs. Kentucky.

IMPORTANT REGULATIONS PASSED BY FACULTY

Unexcused Absence Rule Is Modified and Academ Exams Made Shorter.

The faculty has passed some important resolutions recently governing unexcused absences and length of examinations in the academic department. During the early fall the faculty adopted the rule that for two unexcused absences in any one class during the term, the student was liable to a call from the Executive Committee of the Faculty for explanation and discipline. This rule has been modified and amended so that for four unexcused absences, or two unexcused absences in any one class, the student is referred to the Executive Committee of the Faculty.

In a resolution passed by the faculty at its meeting on February 4, the examination periods in the academic department were shortened to four hours instead of five hours, as has been in force since the change was made from the three-term year to the two-semester session. Due to the habitual lateness and growth of

GENERALS FALL BEFORE VIRGINIA IN FINAL STATE APPEARANCE

SWIMMERS LOSE TO CATHOLIC U. AND NAVY

Latham Is Individual Star of Team During the Trip.

The Washington and Lee swimming team suffered a twin defeat last week—first at the hands of Catholic University in Washington Friday by the score of forty-eight to twenty-four, and by the Naval Academy Saturday by the score of forty-eight to five. The score of the former does not indicate the closeness of the meet. In only one event did the Catholic University swimmers distance those from Washington and Lee to any appreciable degree.

Latham was the highest scoring man for W. & L., winning the forty-yard dash in twenty-three and two-fifth seconds and getting second in the dive. Stevens for W. & L. carried off first honors in the plnnges, making the sixty-foot mark in forty-eight seconds. For Catholic University, Sullivan, captain, was the outstanding star. He swam in the winning relay, won first in the 220-yard swim in two minutes forty-eight seconds, and first in the hundred in sixty-nine seconds.

The meet with the Navy resulted in a perfect score—Washington and Lee winning all third places.

Rule of the Navy was high scorer, winning the forty-yard dash in eighteen and four-fifths seconds, tying the inter-collegiate record for that distance, and getting second in the hundred yard swim.

The men making the trip were as follows: relay, Jenkins, Whitfield, Merke, Latham. Plunge: Stevens. Forty-yard swim: Latham, Merke. Dive: Latham. Breast stroke: Sternberger. Back stroke: Allison, Whitfield. 100-yard swim: Hood, Jenkins. 220-yard swim: Walker.

INTERFRATERNITY SERIES ARE WELL UNDER WAY

Zeta Beta Tau's Win First.

After a hard fought struggle the Zeta Beta Tau's were the winners over the S. P. E.'s, in the initial contest of the interfraternity basketball tournament, the score being 8 to 6.

The game was closely contested throughout, the winning goal being made only in the last 40 seconds of the play. The game, while not especially brilliant, moved fast, due to the even balance of the respective teams. Lebow and Hammel showed up best for the victors; and for the S. P. E.'s, H. C. Moore and Carter played the best game.

Line-up:

Z. B. T. (8)—May, l. f.; Lebow, r. f.; Hammel, c.; Bucholtz, l. g.; Glickstein, R. G.

S. P. E. (6)—Moore, H. C., l. f.; Carter, r. f.; Jones, l. g.; Smith, C. T., l. g.; James, r. g.

Sigma Nu's Win Out In Second Half.

Spectators Monday afternoon were treated to a fast game between the Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi fraternities. This game marked the second of the interfraternity games of the year. During the first two quarters neither team could ring up a single basket; but the play was fast and long shots from near the center of the floor were frequently missed. At the beginning of the second half Montague, for the Sigma Nu's, scored two field goals in rapid succession. The best the Sigma Chi's could do in this half was gather four

Championship of State Goes to Cavaliers

White and Blue Are Never Able To Overcome Initial Lead.

In a game featured with close guarding and phenomonal shots on parts of both teams, the Virginia Cavaliers scored a victory over the Fighting Generals last Saturday night in the Lynchburg auditorium by the score of 42-29. This win gives the Orange and Blue an undisputed title to the state championship as neither teams had tasted defeat from a state team prior to this game.

Old Lady Luck was not with the Generals on that night, as time after time the ball would roll around the iron part of the hoops and then fall to the floor, while the University of Virginia team seemed to have their eye on the basket and made many difficult shots.

The game started out with Virginia obtaining the lead by Miller sinking two foul goals but the Generals came back with Burke scoring two double counters in succession, which put them out in front for five minutes. At this juncture of the game, the Calvaliers forged into the lead never to be headed again. The half way mark ended with Virginia leading by a 19-13 count.

At the beginning of the second half, the Hinesmen seemed to have taken on new life and began sinking goals until they were close on the heels of their oppoents. This happened when Virginia was leading by 23-18 score that "Panther" Lake sank a goal through the hoops and at the same time a personal foul was called on a Virginia man for "hacking,"

EDGAR MASTERS MAKES LEXINGTON QUIET VISIT

Famous Poet Came To See Lee Chapel and Relics of the General.

Mr. Edgar Lee Masters, a lawyer of Chicago, but more noted as a poet, the author of the famous "Spoon River Anthology" and the "Doomsday Book," made a quiet visit to Lexington a few days ago. Mr. Masters came to see the Lee Chapel and the Lee relics, from which he hoped to gain an impression of General Lee's character and environment as they were after Appomattox.

Mr. Masters' father, although he lived in Illinois, admired General Lee very much. When he gave his son the name Edgar Lee, he thought he was giving him the last two names of General Lee which were, however, Edward Lee. Mr. Masters' interest in the life and character of the man after whom he was named was the motive of his visit to Lexington.

Dr. Riley's book, "Lee After Appomattox," had been especially interesting to Mr. Masters in his research, and he was glad to have the opportunity of interviewing its author. Mr. Masters also talked with President Smith and Dr. Shannon about General Lee.

The military career and life of General Lee did not concern Mr. Masters; he was interested only in his life after Appomattox. Since General Lee lived in Lexington from soon after the war until his death, Mr. Masters rightly sought the richest field in his search.

George Irving.

We look forward to George Irving's coming to the campus with anticipatory pleasure and interest. A man so highly praised and endorsed must have something worth while on his mind which he wishes to speak of. We believe that. He comes—a man's man, a college man and further a Christian man, knowing his audience, possessing a message of worth and beauty backed by the fervor and fire of his own devotion to his subject. Humor he has galore and if he can connect Christ and smiles then he is all right. The touch of the infinite and the divine beauties of life should be happy and Irving, standing near the border with a glimpse into the glories, can possible waft to us a wee bit of them.

The sawdust is taboo. Irving is not a professional evangelist but a worker among and with students. A constructive message, vital and straightforward he is bringing, which we may absorb as we will, with open mind are strained through prejudice. They will be no strong emotional appeal capable of making a brass bed shed salty tears. Having been a student Irving knows student psychology and will bring a message based on that knowledge.

Most of us have signed up for the first meeting. Irving is assured a crowded welcome in his initial appearance and he wants nothing more. A salesman of his wares he is willing and anxious to face the critical and the unconvinced. There is many a sale between the coming and the going. We are going. 'Tis the foolish man who closes his ears to conviction and is content to ride old prejudices through life. We are going prepared to enjoy a thoroughly intrancing and instructive speech.

THE COLLEGE WORLD

Nevada State University has a most unique secret society called "Sundowners of the Sagebrush." It consists of twelve men who have bummed their way for at least 1,000 miles.

—o—

A flood of applicants recently answered the call from Vassar for three male students from Ohio State University to act as guides to Varsar girls on a geological field trip through the Bitter-root Mountains.

—o—

The Ohio State registrar says that the reason there are so many engagements among college students is that the women being in the minority the men take no chance about getting a date for every event, but anchor a fraternity pin on their choice, and avoid further difficulty.

—o—

Yellow oilskin coats among the feminine members of the University of Cincinnati caused quite a sensation when they first appeared. To hasten their sale, an enterprising clerk hired two popular girls to wear specimens of these fisherman coats, and now they are all over the campus. Another even more ambitious young salesman is attempting to introduce yellow knee boots.

The new Louisiana State University and agricultural and mechanical college will be opened in the fall of 1924. About two million dollars have been expended on the buildings and grounds. It is located two miles south of Baton Rouge and occupies a tract of 2,000 acres.

—o—

Rutgers and Stevens have broken athletic relations because of alleged unfair methods used by some of the members of the basketball team of the former.

—o—

A historical pageant of events in the history of Emory and Henry College and the immediate country surrounding it is to be presented soon by the students and friends of the college.

The University of Cincinnati is projecting a drive to raise funds for rebuilding the Louvain library in Belgium-America's part in the reconstruction of the Louvain University, which was destroyed by German forces during the war.

—o—

The University of Michigan will not only expel cheaters from the university, but will give them publicity.

—o—

Co-eds of the Dakota Wesleyan University put out an interesting issue of the college paper, the Phreno-Cosmian.

SCRUB WRESTLERS DEFEAT STAUNTON CADETS

The W. and L. Scrub wrestling team defeated Staunton Military Academy, Monday night, at Staunton, Va., by the score of 16 to 5.

Only five of the matches were held, due to lack of contestants in the 115-pound and 175-pound class. There were two matches, however, in the 125-pound class. The first of the two, Burton for the Generals won by a decision over Williams. Wiglesworth threw Barton, S. M. A., in two and one-half minutes. In the second, W. and L. lost in the 135-pound class when Keene obtained a fall from Broach in five and three-tenths minutes. Milbank, 145, scored next for the Generals by throwing Ward. The last match, 158, also went to W. and L., when Davidson gained a decision over his S. M. A. opponent.

The Scrubs' next meet will be with A. M. A. at Ft. Defiance Saturday, March 1.

RESUMPTION OF WORK ON CHEMICAL BUILDING

About Middle of March—Contract Let To Angle and Moesser, Greensboro.

According to Dr. Desha the contract for the new chemistry building has been let to Angle and Moesser of Greensboro, N. C., and work on the building will begin about the middle of March. The present contract calls for the erection of the main building only. The annex which will contain a large lecture room has not been included because of a lack of funds. Since the foundation for the building has already been placed work should proceed rapidly this spring, and it is expected that the portion which will contain the freshman laboratories will be fully equipped and ready for occupancy by next September. The rest of the main building should be completed shortly after that.

GEO. W. CAMPBELL TO LEAD SINGING

For Irving Meetings—Direction At "Y" College In Charge.

To help insure the success of the Irving meetings, George W. Campbell, director of student activities of Chicago Y. M. C. A. College has been secured by the "Y" to conduct the singing. He will also probably do some solo work.

Mr. Campbell was leader of music at the Indianapolis Convention where he was very successful in leading the mass singing of six or seven thousand people.

Mr. Campbell is a young man and he is not a professional song leader. He is coming to Washington and Lee because he is interested in college men.

IRVING CO-WORKER OF DR. JOHN R. MOTT

World Famous Student Worker Who Spoke To Student Body In 1914.

George Irving, who selected Washington and Lee as one of the three southern institutions that he desired to visit and who will be here this week-end, in a Y. .M C. A. co-worker of Dr. John R. Mott, who has spoken before students in every large university in the world.

In 1924, Mr. Moot, after having spoken to 10,000 men in London, 2,000 in Constantinople, 2,000 in Calcutta, 5,000 in Mukden and in fourteen Chinese cities to an average of 2,000 men, came to W. and L. to speak for four days to the then 450 students. For over six years prior to that date a visit from Dr. Mott to W. and L. had been sought in vain, but finally, after many urgent pleas, he was secured. At that time President Woodrow Wilson sent the committee in charge a letter of congratulations to the Student Body on being able to secure his services. The Ring-tum Phi put out a Mott Campaign edition of the paper giving in detail his work among foreign and American universities. It is said that he has probably influenced student life of the entire world more than any other man.

The meetings and lectures proved a great success and the entire Student Body attended every meeting. Since Mr. Irving has been associated with Dr. Mott in Y. M. C. A. work for a number of years, it is very probable that he will bring a message equally as great as Dr. Mott gave in 1914.

A STUART PORTRAIT OF JOHN SHAW IN LIBRARY

Loaned By Professor Shufeldt—the Portrait Is Now For Sale.

The Washington and Lee Library has recently acquired by loan from Professor F. A. Shufeldt, Jr., a Gilbert Stuart portrait of John Shaw.

John Shaw, a New York financier and merchant fleet owner (1750-1820), was the lineal descendant of Wouter Van Twiller, Dutch Governor of New York. The painting passed by direct inheritance to Professor Shufeldt's mother. The story is told that Gilbert Stuart, out of funds as usual, and wishing to return from England on the occasion of his 1792 trip, was given his passage by Mr. Shaw. The portrait was painted in appreciation. It was on exhibition recently in Boston at the Copley Galleries and is now for sale

Unfavorable weather has held up the outdoor track tryouts for the past few days, but as soon as this permits, daily practices will be held.

SOUTHERN COLLEGIANS MAKE HIT AT DANVILLE DANCE

Given Warm Reception and Accorded Praise—Play In Lynchburg.

The Washington and Lee "Southern Collegians'" week-end trip to Danville, where it played for the American Legion dance given there Friday night, and to Lynchburg where it furnished the music during the game Saturday night and for the dance which took place after it, was a complete success.

The members of the orchestra were warmly welcomed in Danville upon their arrival there and every attention was shown them. The dance Friday night attracted an unusually large crowd, people from Martinsville, South Boston, Chatham, and from other nearby places attending. Washington and Lee songs were popular as was shown by the repeated requests the orchestra received to play the "Swing" and "College Friendship."

The Lynchburg dance was well attended and all those present seemed to enjoy it thoroughly.

The orchestra should be commended upon its successful trip and upon the quality of the music it produces. Such trips as the past one help greatly in making Washington and Lee better known.

GENERALS FALL BEFORE VIRGINIA ON FINAL STATE APPEARANCE

thus giving him two shots. "Panther" made them both and it looked as if the White and Blue were on their way to victory. The Lannigans then called time out, and took a much needed rest. From then on, the Orange and Blue unleashed a new attack and soon took a big lead which they held for the remainder of the game.

Virginia presented an almost impregnable five-man defense that they used very successfully against the Generals. Their height aided them very materially, as each man was from three to five inches taller than any man on our team. Holland and Miller, both six-footers, had no difficulty in breaking up the short passes of the Generals. On the offense, the Cavaliers did not fare so well and had to resort to long shots, many of which were sunk through the draperies. Miller was the star of the Orange and Blue quint with 16 points to his credit. Captain Walp, with his spectacular guarding, branded him as one of the best guards in basketball circles of Virginia.

"Panther" Lake was the outstanding man on the White and Blue five, as he was the only man that could score with some degree of accuracy against the Cavaliers. He was high scorer on the Generals' team with three field goals and seven out of eight foul goals. The close guarding of Captain "Eddie" Cameron featured the game as he prevented many goals by breaking up Virginia's pass work. "Pinky" Wilson, Burke and Lane also played creditable games.

points. The Sigma Nu team seemed to have new spirit at the beginning of the second half, and ended the game with the score 10-4, in their favor.

The game was hard fought and much closer than the score indicates. Montague was easily star for Sigma Nu, while Adamson played the best game for Sigma Chi.

Line-up:

Sigma Nu—Montague, r. f.; Fugate, l. f.; Sullivan, c.; Thomas, r. g.; Perry, l. g.

Sigma Chi—Matheny, r. f.; Adamson, l. f.; Roy, c.; Riley, r. g.; Kenny, l. g.

Alpha Chi Rho Romps On Lambda Chi 15-2.

Marking the third game of the interfraternity basketball schedule, the Alpha Chi Rho cagers succeeded in scoring a victory over the Lambda Chi Alphas by 15-2 score.

Although neither team displayed outstanding co-operation and teamwork, good material was apparent on both. Tutwiler and Huffman stood out as stars on the winning team, while the Lambda Chi Alphas were spurred on by the fighting spirit of Simpson and Limpert.

Line-up:

Alpha Chi Rho (15)—Tutwiler, r. f.; Love, l. f.; Huffman, c.; Fulton, r. g.; Ermey, l. g.

Lambda Chi Alpha (2)—Limpert, r. f.; Hamilton, l. f.; Woolwine, c.; Tilson, r. g.; Simpson, l. g.

S. A. E.'s Are Fourth Victors.

Following the first game Tuesday between the Alpha Chi Rhos and the Lambda Chi Alphas, the S. A. E. quintet conquered the Arcades, in a very interesting cage-fight, which ended with a score of eleven to three. The fighting spirit seemed to posses every player, and consequently a very fast game resulted.

The most outstanding players for the S. A. E.'s were Aylmer and Hawkins, the Arcades being upheld by Claunch.

The line-up:

S. A. E. (11)—Maynard, r. f.; Aylmer, l. f.; Lewis, c.; Hawkins, r. g.; Lowe, l. g.

Arcades (3)— Woolfolk, r. f.; Claunch, l. f.; O'Neill, c.; Taylor, r. g.; Riley, l. g.

sage for the young man of today. He is one who appeals to the intellect and not to the emotions. He is therefore particularly suited to meet the religious needs of the college man."

V. P. I.

The following statement was made by the President of V. P. I. in a letter to Carl Zerfoss:

"George Irving is a top-notcher in his appeal to live young men. His earnestness, his thoughtfulness, his sympathetic understanding, and his happy way of expressing himself are irresistable.

"Very sincerely yours,

"J. A. BARRUSS,

"President."

Mr. Miller received his Bachelor of Arts degree at W. and L. in 1914. During his stay here he was a prominent campus leader.

The following endorsements of George Irving have been received from the Southern universities at which he has spoken:

University of Alabama.

Kirby, president of Y. M. C. A., says: "Probably most practical lecture ever heard by students at Alabama." Smith, president of student body, says: "Every student at W. & L. has great treat in store; don't fail to hear Irving."

JOHN SPARKMAN.

Georgia Tech.

"I have been very much impressed with Mr. Irving; best we have had in years.

IMPORTANT REGULATIONS ARE PASSED BY FACULTY

tardiness of the students in starting work on the examinations, the resolution also contained a clause making it necessary for each student to present a satisfactory reason for his tardiness before he can take the examination.

The resolutions are as follows:

Faculty regulations in reference to unexcused absences:

"Whenever it shall appear to the Dean of the University that any student, by reason of his unexcused absences from his classes, is not pursuing his courses properly, the case of such student may be referred to the Executive Committee, where the student may be put on probation, or such other discipline applied as the case may merit.

"For the information of the Dean, but not to limit or control his discretion, the faculty expresses itself as being of the opinion that a total of four unexcused absences or two unexcused absences from any one class, during one semester make a proper case to be referred to the Executive Committee."

The following resolution was adopted by the faculty at its meeting on February 4, 1924:

"Resolved that the hours for examinations in the academic department be fixed at 9-1, and that any student more than five minutes late for an examination must present a satisfactory reason for lateness to be allowed to take the examination."

Delegates from the local chapter of Alpha Chi Rho returned Monday, '25, from the twenty-sixth annual convention of the fraternity. It was held this year at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Iillinois. Those who attended from here were: T. M. Harman, '25; C. L. Howard, '25; and H. M. Gould, '25L. This was the fraternity's first convention to be held in the middle west.
