

GENERALS AND OLD DOMINION NINES! CLASH AT CHARLOTTESVILLE TODAY

Governor E. Lee Trinkle of Virginia To Witness Game—The Climax of Founder's Day Exercises At University of Virginia.

The first baseball contest of the season between the Orange and Blue of the University of Virginia and the White and Blue of Washington and Lee will come as a climax to the Founder's Day celebration which is being given in Charlottesville today in honor of the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, founder of the University. A large number of visitors who are in Charlottesville attending the Founder's Day exercises will see the game.

Many notables will be present at the game, among whom will be Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia, who will be a guest of the University of Virginia Athletic Association. Fifty New York school children who are visiting Monticello as the guests of David Ansbacher, of New York, have been given complimentary tickets to attend the game. Visitors to the annual conference of alumni secretaries will also witness the contest.

This contest will mark the first one of the season between the two teams, and from the dopester's viewpoint the Cavaliers have the edge on the Generals as they have not been defeated this season while the Big Blue team have yet to enter the win column. The Orange and Blue handed Cornell two stinging defeats in the two game series and the Generals had to take the small end of the score in both of their games against the Ithacans. Virginia also holds victories over Roanoke College, Amherst and Hampden-Sidney College. Their game against Richmond Univ., which was scheduled for Thursday, was cancelled on account of rain.

The Cavaliers under the careful guidance of Coach "Greasy" Neale have whipped a good ball club into shape this season. Their wins have been due to the masterful pitching of Maphis, Holland and Lee and the slugging ability of McCoy and Bronough. This pair have proved the

Gobblers May Play Here on Monday

Is a Possibility That V. P. I. Ball Team May Remain Over After Playing V. M. I.

There is a possibility that the game with V. P. I., which was scheduled for Friday, will be played Monday afternoon on Wilson Field instead. The game was called off because of wet grounds, but as V. P. I. plays V. M. I. here today they may stay over till Monday and play the Generals Monday afternoon if they can re-arrange their schedule to make this game possible.

V. P. I. has a game scheduled for Monday to be played at Blacksburg, but it is believed Friday night that there is a possibility of moving that game up to a later day in order to allow the Gobblers to stay in Lexington and meet W. and L. here Monday.

If all the arrangements can be made, notice will be posted in plenty of time. Coach Smith hopes to know whether the arrangements can be made in time to post a notice in the Corner tonight.

WHITES AND BLUES MEET AGAIN TUESDAY

The second football game between the Whites and the Blues will be held Tuesday at 3:30. Enjoy a good game and help the Stadium Fund by attending.

BOTH BOAT CREWS ARE HARD AT WORK DAILY ON RIVER

Harry Lees Suffered Damage To Practice Shell—Many Men Are Out.

Both the Albert Sidney and the Harry Lee boat crews have been hard at work for the past two weeks, in preliminary preparation for the annual race during Finals. About forty men have signed up for each crew, and are working every afternoon on the North River. These men are assigned to their crew each day by a notice posted on the main bulletin board. Due to the large number of men out it is hard to say just who is showing up best at present. A cut in the number out will be made soon, though, and competition promises to be keen.

The Harry Lee crew had the misfortune to cut a large hole in their boat when they struck a snag near the river bank. This did not damage the shell very badly, and it has been repaired. Accidents have been very rare so far this season, only a few upsets having occurred.

Many of the old men are back, and with these and a number of new men who have had some experience, both crews have high hopes for developing a winning combination. Some of the old men back are: Walton, Mayhew, Acevedo, coxswains; Copper, Edgerton, McVay and Fischer, for the Albert Sidneys; and Nichols, coxswain; Reynolds, McMath and Dunn for the Harry Lees.

"Y" ANNOUNCES LYCEUM COURSE FOR NEXT YEAR

Scotch Company, So Well Liked, Will Return To Campus Again Next Year.

The "Y" lyceum course for next year will contain three numbers by some of the most talented artists touring America.

The Scotch company which presented the "Cotter's Saturday Night" will give another musical play depicting Scotch life, which promises to be equally as good as the entertainment given this year.

Della Baker, a lyric coloratura soprano who has been highly praised wherever she has appeared, and who is well known as a Victor artist, will render the second number in conjunction with the Russian Balalaika Orchestra. After Miss Baker's appearance before the Music and Art Club of Cumberland, Md., the President of the club made this statement: "Miss Della Baker was a delightful surprise with her beautiful voice and charming personality. No artist since Galli-Curci (and we have had many of the big ones) has pleased us more. "The Balalaika Orchestra is considered one of the finest and most representative of Russian orchestras in this country. The balalaika, an instrument with a romantic history, has amazing possibilities.

The third number will be presented by the International Artists. The members of this company are: Nicholas Vasilieff, tenor; Ary Dulfer, violinist; and Fela Rybier, pianist. Nicholas Vasilieff will be remembered as a member of the Russian Cathedral Quartette and Russian Cathedral Sextette which appeared here last year. All three members of the company are distinguished artists.

Senior Class Holds Important Meeting

Dues, Gowns and Rings the Subject of Meeting Held In Newcomb Wednesday.

GOWNS MUST BE WORN

Class Dues Placed At Four Dollars—Juniors Now Eligible To Wear Rings.

Gowns, dues and rings were the subjects for discussion and action at the meeting of all the Senior Classes last Wednesday night in Newcomb Hall. There were present a good representation of the graduating classes of the three schools over which J. S. McMath, president of the Academic class, presided.

By the ruling passed by the Faculty last year the men in the graduating classes are compelled to wear caps and gowns to the Baccalaureate Sermon and during the graduation exercises. To provide for this, C. E. L. Gill was appointed as a committee of one to get the best price possible on the robes and to arrange to obtain and distribute them.

The dues of the class were placed at four dollars, this comparatively small sum to provide for the Senior Ball during Finals, in assisting Dick Wilson, paying for programs and supper. The Finance Committee as appointed met after the regular meeting for conference and collection plans. Henry W. Jones was appointed chairman of the committee. The membership of the senior classes was divided among them to be seen personally in the future for the dues.

It was indicated that John Lovelace was the agent for the jeweler manufacturing the official senior ring and that any one desiring one might see him for it. Juniors who have passed the term's work are eligible to wear the ring.

President McMath urges that all seniors co-operate with him in the matter of dues, that his hands are tied without a monetary basis to work upon. Checks, good now or post dated, are acceptable and naturally the cash is. Those who desire to pay their dues may pay him, H. W. Jones, or "Sinky" Phillips.

Osterman For Blue and White Pitches Air Tight Ball With Ten Strikeouts.

The Washington and Lee Freshman baseball team met its second defeat of the season Wednesday afternoon at the hands of Shenandoah Collegiate Institute coming out on the short end of a 3-2 score, after eleven innings of fast and interesting ball had been played.

The game was featured by the heavy hitting of both sides and the errorless plays which they carried out time after time. For the Little Generals Osterman was probably the star both because of his work on the mound where he struck out ten men and his reliable stickwork. Taylor on first accepted ten chances faultlessly and helped holding down the S. C. I. score by his splendid fielding. In the eighth inning the score stood

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN OF Y. M. C. A. ARE SELECTED

These Men and Officers Will Form Y. M. C. A. Cabinet For Year 1924-25.

The chairmen of the various committees, who with the officers who were lately elected will compose the new Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, have recently been selected.

The chairman and their committees are as follow: Bruce Gannaway, chairman of Bible Study Committee; Bob Smith of Religious Meetings Committee, George Burks of Social Committee, R. W. Jordan of Social Service of Intercollegiate Relations and Literature Committee, John Leggate of Church and Sunday School Co-operation Committee, E. A. Nabors of Publicity Committee, R. W. Simmons of Membership Committee, and T. T. Moore of Vocational Guidance Committee.

Eight of these men and Jack Thomas, A. T. Roy, A. S. Moffett, and Karl Zerfoss will attend the Cabinet Training Conference on April 11, 12, and 13 at Lynchburg College. This conference is held annually under the direction of the Virginia Student Council to prepare the new cabinet men and officers for their work.

"Eyes Up," the new musical comedy to be presented by the Troubadours during the Easter festivities, has gotten well under way and from all appearances will be up to the standard of the organization. There will be twenty-one musical numbers during the performance which is by far the most ever given by any other Troubadour show. It is seldom that a professional show contains as many musical scores.

John Martin, '26, deserves special recognition for his untiring efforts in composing the music for the production. His songs are very clever and contain fascinating lines filled to the utmost with harmony. With this vast array of musical numbers the show can be assured of a musical setting that is difficult to surpass.

One of the biggest features of the show will be the Pony Ballet, presented by the chorus. After many weeks of diligent work these men are mastering the art of this difficult dance, which for the first time is being staged by a collegiate production. Some critics have said that the men taking the female parts in the chorus would be unable to learn the difficult steps of this ballet, but by hard work the members of the chorus are attempting to prove that nothing can stop them from producing a show on an equal basis with Mr. Ziegfeld's many attractions.

An orchestra of twelve pieces will furnish the necessary accompaniment for the production. All of the men connected with the show, have been hard at work and together with the encouraging reports from the towns and schools where the show is to be played after the Lexington performance, the show has very bright prospects. On the trip after Easter a special Pullman will carry the players on their "swing around the circuit," including Lynchburg, Roanoke, Raleigh and Greensboro, N. C. The first performance and the only one in Lexington will be given at the New Theatre on April 22 at 3 p. m. Seats will be put on sale in the near future.

The University of Michigan has a "Hall of Fame" made up of famous alumni of the university.

Our Centennial.

History tells us that Washington College—the present main building—was erected in 1824. Standing as a monument to the building skill of those who planned and constructed it, the historic edifice has lost none of its grandeur and beauty, notwithstanding the ravages of time and the elements. Rather than negate to Washington College its former dignity, we should appreciate that with age comes dignity which is accentuated with the passing years.

New buildings have their place and must come with an increasing Student Body. We cannot, however, in our admiration for the new structures, lose sight of the old. To the Alumni of past generations, many of whom have risen to high positions in public life, Washington College stands out as "the University" for that building, along with the Lee chapel, comprised the entire school in that day.

While other institutions the country over stage anniversary celebrations, honoring the founders and founding of their schools, and the erection of buildings, nothing has been said concerning a like celebration commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the erection of Washington College. Institutions right in our own state, have planned and will conduct elaborate exercises on similar occasions, though certainly none have any structures so deserving of commemoration as Washington College.

The matter has been mentioned to certain Student Body officers, but thus far no concerted action has been forthcoming from any group whose power fit it for the launching of a movement to the end that the present session shall not pass without suitable memorial exercises. A historical pageant requires more than mere talk—it necessitates an expenditure of time. If the present Student Body favors such a celebration, its wishes must be made known and work begun immediately.

With the new stadium awaiting to be dedicated, what could be more appropriate and at the same time act as a greater drawing card to bring Alumni back to Finals, than an immense historical pageant covering the history of the institution, as we know it today, from its oldest piece of architecture on down to the most recent one!

We believe there are enough men in the Student Body to put such an undertaking across. It remains alone for some organization to sponsor the movement and set the wheels in motion.

Convention Time!

With John W. Davis gaining strength every day for the Democratic nomination, what would be wrong with W. & L. reverting to the ancient and honorable custom, which once occupied a conspicuous place in campus life, of a mock nominating convention?

Alumni tell us no single campus custom called forth greater interest and enthusiasm than this one. Tucker Hall, famed for its politicians, embryo and matured, might well revive the custom of staging mock conventions every four years.

The experience to be gained from participation in such an event cannot be over emphasized. Again, Washington and Lee alumni, bid fair to play a big part in the coming democratic convention, and we should lend them our moral support through our own convention. Let's have action!

President's Paragraphs

(This space will be devoted to the regular contribution of Dr. Henry Louis Smith.)

No. 11.

The Ballot.

The whole complex machinery of modern Democracy revolves around the ballot box as our solar system around its energizing, all-controlling central sun. A freshman's individual ballot, freely cast, unbought, uncontrolled, untainted—this is the one and only foundation on which democratic self-government can be built.

A freeman's untainted vote is one which expresses the genuine, independent, individual opinion of the voter as to the merits of the person or policy for or against which his vote is cast. It is, therefore, always and fundamentally a choice between competing persons or policies, and the voter who desires to measure up to his full responsibility as a citizen has only one question to answer concerning the various candidates for any office. Which of these candidates will, if elected, best perform his task.

To vote for a candidate who, in your calm, unprejudiced judgment, is not the best one for the place is to cast a tainted ballot, however skillfully the crime against democracy may be camouflaged by such high-sounding words as gratitude, loyalty, and friendship.

Let every student of Washington and Lee, therefore, practicing on its campus his first lessons in American citizenship, resolve that in all student elections his vote shall be A FREEMAN'S BALLOT, untrammeled, unbought, untainted.

The College World

Among the customs at Georgia Tech is "hate week." During this time the Freshman has to walk backwards while in the dormitories, ask that the paddle be applied daily by every lieutenant and thank the latter for services rendered, and sign an affidavit certifying that he has taken his daily tonic and feels much better.

Students of the graduate school of business administration of Harvard have figured out that their education costs them each $4.05 per class-room hour. The figure is based on cost of tuition, living expenses and the value of a student's time if he were in outside employment, established at $30 per week.

The Freshmen of Carnegie Tech appeared in ridiculous garb on April first in keeping with the April Fool's day tradition at the school. Prizes were awarded for the most foolish dress.

The Penn Relay Carnival which will be held on Franklin Field the last Friday and Saturday of this month has the largest list of entries in its history. To date there are 110 colleges and 375 schools making a total of 485. In addition there will be numerous individual entries of top-notch performers.

All colleges and universities in the state of Texas are invited to participate in an "All-College Circus" to be given as a feature of the state fair.

COLGATE TENNIS TEAM ON SOUTHERN TOUR

Scheduled To Play W. and L. Here On Tuesday—Have Many Veterans.

Hamilton, N. Y., April 12.—Colgate's veteran tennis team left yesterday for an extensive trip through the south, meeting nine of the leading colleges in the southern states, among which will be Washington and Lee. The men who have been picked to represent the Maroon, are: Captain Al Devine of Detroit, Mich.; Horace Bromfield of Hempstead, L. I.; P. G. Rockafellow of New York City; Trenor Young of Pleasantville and Bill Storey of Brooklyn. These men are all veterans with the exception of Storey, and Young, Rockafellow and Devine have each served as captains.

The Colgate team has had three weeks indoor practice, but they have not been able to work on the outdoor courts because of weather conditions. However, they expect to make a good showing despite the lack of real practice. Young is the star of the team; and is a leading contender for the college title in the east. Last year he did not play, but this season he has returned to the courts determined to make tennis history.

Colgate has made a fine record in college tennis circles during the last three years. In 1921 they lost only one match; in 1922 the only defeat was at the hands of the strong University of California team; and last year the Maroon bowed only twice during the hardest schedule ever attempted. In 1922, the last year that Young played, he had a perfect season, his most sensational victory being over Welsh, the star of the Southern California team.

Young will play number one, Rockafellow will play number two, Devine will play number three and Bromfield will be number four. Storey will be held in reserve or paired with another man in the doubles. The doubled teams in the first matches will be Rockafellow and Young and Bromfield and Devine.

The schedule for the southern trip is as follows:

- April 12—Wake Forest at Wake Forest, N. C.
- April 14—Davidson College at Davidson, N. C.
- April 14—Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va.
- April 15—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.
- April 16—University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.
- April 17—William and Mary at Williamsburg, Va.
- April 18—George Washington University at Washington, D. C.
- April 19—U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.
- April 21—Pennsylvania Military College at Chester, Pa.

NEW BOOKS SHELVED AT CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Rafael Sabatini, "Life of Cesare Borgia," Among the New Volumes Purchased.

Miss McCrum of the Library announces that there are a number of new books ready for circulation. Among these one of the most interesting is "The Life of Cesare Borgia," by Rafael Sabatini, who is the author of the well-liked "Scaramouche," "Captain Blood" and "The Sea-Hawk."

Cesare Borgia was perhaps the most colorful figure of early Italian history and is especially famous for his crimes and his vices, which were horrible even for his times. Sabatini in this "Life" attempts to lessen the enormity of his crimes. The book is accurate in its historical and biographical basis, and at the same time benefits from the author's training as a historical novelist. The reader is assured of an interesting and worth-while book.

AN OPEN MEETING OF BIOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Several Interesting Talks Made By Members On Lives and Works of Men of Science.

Thursday night the Biological Society held an open meeting in the Engineering room in Reid Hall. Many good and interesting talks were given. The first speaker was H. C. Moore, who spoke on "Harvey's Life and Contribution to Science." He took up in regular order the application, education, and contributions to science of this great man. He pointed out in a very able talk how Harvey developed the subject of circulation.

"The Life and Works of Pasteur" was the subject which J. M. Green talked on. Green told of the parents and the early life and education of this great biologist. He touched briefly on Pasteur's work in chemistry, but dwelt at length on his work in sterilization, for it was in this field that he gained fame. He also told of the great work done by this man in discovering preventatives for a large number of diseases.

R. W. Jordan spoke next on "The Life of Lamarch." He told of his army life and then of his study of medicine. It was in the field of botany, though, that he became famous. His great work was in the determination and disfranzation of the species. He pointed out that Lamarch was a naturalist and an evolutionist. He held the theory of use and disuse in evolution.

The next talk was given by G. T. W. Hendrix on "The Life of Cuvier." This man was famous for his work in comparative anatomy. Hendrix told of his rise from poverty to court favor and gave several humorous descriptions. His object in life was to show his students that they should work for themselves.

The last talk was on "Darwin and Evolution" by J. H. Williams. He told of his early life and of his trip to South America. November 4, 1859, is marked as a great day in science, for on that date appeared "The Origin of the Species." Williams explained Darwin's theory and the result was a very good paper.

The society decided to have its annual banquet on Saturday, April 26, at Mrs. Tom Young's.

ASK MONOGRAM MEN'S AID ON STADIUM FUND

Official Insignia Will Be Issued To All Monogram Men In Near Future.

A meeting of the Monogram Club was held Thursday night for the purpose of bringing up and passing a few resolutions. The chief of which was, that the Monogram Club in the future would aid Graduate Manager Dick Smith in raising the required amount for the Stadium Fund.

Another meeting is to be called shortly at which the official monogram buttons will be issued. The date for the meeting has not yet been decided, but a notice will appear in a future issue of the Ring-tum Phi.

The sophomores at the University of California have adopted the wearing of blue jeans as their official garb. Although a failure at first, they are gradually finding better favor on the campus this spring.

As part of a plan to advance the study of designing and utilizing the commercial airplane, New York University's college of engineering has established courses in aeronautical engineering and aviation.

Character in Cravats

That subtle something that is so apparent to the eye, and yet so difficult to describe—Cravat Character—makes its presence felt in Graham's Cravats in a highly satisfactory degree—satisfactory to the man who wears them and to the shop that sells them. "Scotch Plaids" featured new. New stock every 10 days.

downfall for all twirlers that they have batted against this season. Maphis, the star portsider, is the mainstay in the box for his club as he has shut out games to his credit both against Amherst and Cornell, and allowed only seven hits in the two games that he has worked.

Coach Dick Smith will use practically the same line-up in the game against Virginia today that he has used in the past games with the exception of second base, where either "Red" Hawkins or Bock will cavort. Either "Duke" Perry or Jim Lackey will get the call in the box. Lackey has not had a chance to perform this season and is about ready to turn in a good exhibition of twirling.

Last year both teams won one game apiece and this game will give one nine the edge until the second game of the schedule is played in Lexington on May 15. The Cavaliers took the first one last season by a 14 to 12 score. The Generals evened up things when the Charlottesville nine came to Lexington, and captured the contest by a 8 to 3 count. A win over Virginia will help mark out the three defeats that the Generals have suffered so far this season.

Fourteen men besides Manager Clemmer, Junior Assistant Manager Hinkle, Coach Smith, and Trainer Gillam made the trip to Charlottesville. The players who went are: Captain Switzer, Gwaltney, Dawson, Leggate, Seehorn, Wilson, Hawkins, Bock, Aylmer, McMillan, Perry, Lackey, Woolwine and Lindberg.

COACH WANTED!

Miss Osie Turner, principal of the Glasgow (Va.) High School, is desirous of securing the services of a competent baseball man to coach the team at that school during the present season. Any interested party will see Captain Dick Smith immediately.

INTERESTED?

The Business Manager has on hand a communication from the Sullins College Dramatic Club, expressing a desire to show at Lexington during the current session. Any individual or organization interested in sponsoring such a production will see Capt. Dick Smith for the letter and full details.

"Hell Bent for Heaven" is the title of a play written by H. H. Hughes, a lecturer in the English department of Columbia University. The play was so well received at its initial performance that it is now being given a regular run in one of the New York theatres.

J. D. Brady, an undergraduate at the Ohio State University, has undergone blood transfusions eight times in two months, giving up five quarts of blood and receiving $500, which is helping him toward paying his college expenses.

It took three box cars to carry to Ithaca the 50,000 volumes recently presented to the Cornell library by Benno Loewry, a lawyer of New York. The books are valued at $60,000.

CAROLINA IS HOST TO CAMPUS LEADERS

President Whittle and Committeeman Thomas Represent W. and L.

The Southern Confederation of college students, which has for its purpose the discussion of various problems confronting the students of the South, was held at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C., on April 9, 10, and 11.

President Whittle and Kay Thomas of the Executive Committee represented Washington and Lee. The former presented to the conference an able discussion of the system of student government in vogue here and urged the universal adoption of the Honor System by Southern schools.

President Whittle's discussion was well received and called forth much favorable comment.

FROSH TEAM LOSES PITCHERS' BATTLE TO SHENANDOAH C. I.

2-1 in favor of W. and L., but the Shenandoah team scored another run and caused the game to run into extra innings. Both sides played splendid ball and gave a good exhibition of faultless playing. The yearlings seemed to be in much better form than in Tuesday's game and showed great improvement in every respect. W. and L. Frosh line-up:

C. ALPHONSO SMITH ILL.

The Student Body will regret to learn that President Smith has been called to the bedside of his brother, C. Alphonso Smith, who is ill in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

The New Clothes For Spring Are Easy Fitting
The loose, straight hanging effect is the thing today. It's accepted everywhere; welcomed because it's comfortable; it's smart, however, only when it's correctly cut. The Boulevard is the correctly cut suit in this new style; an easy, loungy coat, with just a suggestion of the shaped back; a long, soft roll to the lapel; straight, wide trousers; a very evident tailored look.
