

Easter Holidays Replete With Many Festivities To Enliven the Occasion

Many Girl Visitors and Good Music Make Dances a Complete Success.

TUESDAY A BIG DAY

Sigma Senior Society and "13" Club Are Hosts At the Easter Set of Dances.

The Easter social festivities, presenting a combination of jubilant frivolity and rare beauty, held supreme dominion of campus activities during the Spring holidays. The mellow beams of the full moon clothed the campus in its brightest gala attire during the entire set of gaieties, producing a noticeable effect upon the festivities.

The social season was ushered in Monday night by the Cotillion Club dance led by J. C. Morrison, Jr., president of the Club, with Miss Bunny Martin of Mullins, S. C. He was assisted by T. H. Broadus with Miss Virginia Perry of Bluefield, W. Va.

Tuesday presented a full calendar. The dansant, beginning at 11 o'clock and lasting until one, was followed by the annual Troubadour musical comedy which scored a phenomenal success at the New Theatre. It was truly the best directed and most enjoyable the local thespians have produced. The numerous original songs and dances called for many encores from the audience. Following the Troubadour show the Generals swamped Johns Hopkins at baseball by the score of 18 to 4. The "13" Club banquet and dance that night climaxed the day.

The festivities were well closed by the "13" Club dance Tuesday night, led by W. W. Manley, Jr., with Miss Ione McKenzie of Montezuma, Ga., assisted by F. C. Switzer with Miss Eleanor Sublett of Harrisonburg, Va. The attractive strains of Wiedemeyer's aggregation and the increased number of girls made this last dance very enjoyable to all. The complicated figure was the essence of beauty, first forming a Washington and Lee monogram and then the figure "13."

The unique Spanish effect of red, yellow and black gave Doremus Gymnasium an artistic atmosphere which added greatly to the success of the dances. The ceiling was formed by red and black festoons draped from the walls to a lantern at the center of the room. Spanish coats-of-arms bordered the balcony and pensile lanterns, which hung from the balcony and in the midst of the festoons, completed the most beautiful and artistic decorations seen at the Spring dances in many seasons. The decorations were an essential part of the success of the dances and much credit should be given to C. E. L.

SWITZER AND ADAMS ON SAME PREP SCHOOL TEAM

It is coincidental and of interest to learn that Adams, captain of the Lehigh nine whose mound work kept the Generals guessing in Saturday's game, was a member of the nine of Mercersburg Academy at the same time that Frank Switzer was playing to prep game fans on the same team. They both left the Academy in the same year and with the passing of an equal lapse of time have earned the enviable position of captain of their respective teams. Adams and Switzer seized the opportunity to hold a confab on the "old times" when their efforts were not as much at cross purposes as indicated in the battle for supremacy Saturday.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI IN DISTRICT CONVENTION AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

W. and L. Chapter Is Represented By Clyde Allen and Clarence Meadows.

The Southern District Convention of Alpha Kappa Psi was held at Charlottesville Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19. Washington and Lee, University of Virginia, William and Mary, University of Georgia, and Georgia Tech constitute the Southern District. The University of Alabama has since been granted a charter.

This was the first district convention ever held by the fraternity, but others will follow soon. The present plan is to have district conventions every other year, and national conventions in the years between, so that the two will alternate from year to year.

Alpha Delta chapter of Washington and Lee was represented by Clyde Allen and Clarence Meadows. Several addresses formed part of the convention, one being by Everett W. Lord, Grand President of Alpha Kappa Psi, and dean of Boston University. The delegates from the various chapters read papers on relevant subjects. The article submitted by Georgia Tech told of the service rendered by Alpha Kappa Psi as a buffer between the faculty and the Student Body. One of the delegates from the University of Georgia gave a talk on the social events of the various chapters, and Earl Bibb, 1923-1924 president of the local chapter, prepared one on alumni relations, which was read before the gathering. The convention closed with a formal banquet Saturday night.

Interesting Lecture By State Official

Col. W. M. Lee of Game and Fisheries Commission Lectures Before Biologists.

By all means the most interesting program of the Biological Society this year was held Thursday evening in the Chemistry-Geology lecture room when Colonel W. MacDonald Lee of the Virginia State Game and Inland Fisheries Commission gave a lecture on oysters and crabs. Colonel Lee when a young man was an engineer, and in 1890, while working for the Norfolk and Western Railway, helped to survey the Luray Caverns. Later he took up his present line of work which he has pursued for thirty-five years.

Dr. W. D. Hoyt of the Biology Department introduced Colonel Lee. The speaker in his opening words expressed his recognition of the value of technical knowledge. He advised securing technique first and then securing actual practice, saying that practice alone gives only a limited success. He admitted that he himself has not "got beyond the A. B. C.'s of sea life."

The most novel and interesting portion of Colonel Lee's lecture was concerning the oyster. The female oyster spawns about 11,000,000 eggs in a season, a rate of increase so great that if the offspring of a single oyster were all to live and propagate they would be sufficient in ten years to clog up every harbor on the Atlantic coast from Maine to Texas. An interesting story was told of the finding of a pair of false teeth on which several oysters were growing. They are extremely sensitive and develop an inner coating of pearl to prevent irritation. Sometimes a grain of sand lodges next to the

Why Candidates Are Being Appointed

There seems to be some misunderstanding in the Student Body in regard to the action of the Executive Committee in appointing a student to run against those candidates running for Student Body offices of their own account and unopposed. The Committee has absolute confidence in the ability of these candidates, but are merely complying with the Constitution in making these appointments.

Article VII, section 6, of the Constitution reads as follows:

"It (the Executive Committee) shall see that for every position to be filled by a Student Body election, at least two capable men are running."

SEVERAL NEW CANDIDATES ARE NOW IN THE FIELD

Five New Men Enter Race To Fill Vacancies—Several Withdrawals.

The dances having passed into pleasant memory, political clouds have begun to gather rapidly and next week should see "politikin" at its height. Due to the provision in the constitution of the Student Body that at least two qualified men shall run for each position, the Executive Committee has appointed men to fill most of the unopposed positions. Francis Plowman, erstwhile unopposed candidate for Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, has withdrawn his name due to inability to return to the University next year because of the serious illness of his father, leaving this position without a candidate.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee last night Donald Kaylor and William Hellier signified their desire to run for the editorship of this publication and have made plans accordingly. Both men are well qualified by experience for this position. T. R. Nelson was nominated to oppose Kay Thomas for Vice-President of the Student Body, while Marvin Walton will probably be opposed by Frank Lowe for Secretary-Treasurer. Lowe is at present out of town, but it is thought very probable that he will enter the race.

T. S. Hubbard has become a candidate for Cheer Leader to oppose H. E. Reitze. George Wilson for President of Finals and C. W. Rex for Manager of the Galyx are as yet unopposed. However, future developments are looked for. The candidates for the other positions remain the same as published in the last issue.

COL. L. HODGES LECTURES TO COMMERCE STUDENTS

Col. Le Roy Hodges, managing director of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, lectured this morning at 10 o'clock before students of the Commerce School.

Col. Hodges, who is an alumnus of Washington and Lee of the Class of 1910, has been actively associated with recent developments for the economic and political improvement in Virginia. He took as the subject of his address the Five-Five Plan of development in Virginia and outlined a tangible program for future development along five lines of endeavor. After this lecture he made a few remarks on state government in general before Prof. Granville Campbell's Politics class.

TRACK TEAM WINS OVER N. C. STATE BY WIDE MARGIN

Generals' Runners Take Seven First Places In Meet Held At Raleigh April 18.

The Generals' track team made it two straight in as many starts when they defeated N. C. State last Saturday afternoon by the score of 72-54. The major factor in the score was the ability of the Generals to walk off with the second and third places and on top of that to collect one more first place than the Tarheel team. In fourteen events the Generals took seven firsts, State came in first in six and in one event the result was a tie.

One state-wide record and one N. C. college record were broken in the meet. Hamrick, the weight man for State, broke the N. C. record in the discus with a throw of 125 feet 8 inches, while Davis on the Blue and White team cleared the high hurdles in 16-1-5 seconds, a new N. C. State record.

Those on the Generals' team who came in with the coveted five points in a single event were Jenkins in the quarter, Hill in the half, and Howard in the two mile. Davis took first in both hurdles, Harrell in the javelin, Norman tied with Pridden of State for first in the pole vault and Lowry, Norman and Biddle tied for the first in the high jump.

Summary:
100 yard—Byrum, State; Summer-son, W. & L.; Manning, W. & L. Time: 10 1-5.

220 yard—Byrum, State; Summer-son, W. & L.; Manning, W. & L. Time: 22 4-5.

Quarter mile—Jenkins, W. & L.; Curtis, State; Johnson, State. Time: 53 3-5.

Half mile—Hill, W. & L.; Rushton, W. & L.; Johnson, State. Time: 28 1-5.

"13" CLUB BANQUETS DURING RECENT DANCES

Immediately preceding their annual dance, Tuesday evening, the "13" Club banqueted at the Dutch Inn, about twenty-six couples being present. W. W. Manley, president of the club, acted as toastmaster and short talks were made by C. B. Wright and J. T. McVay. Music for the occasion was furnished by Wiedemeyer's orchestra.

Souvenirs in the form of perfume bottles were given to the ladies present.

Team Gathers Total of Five Homers In Fast Game Yesterday.

HOPKINS DEFEATED 18 TO 4

Marylanders Soundly Trouped In Hectic Exhibition of Ball Tuesday Afternoon.

In a game featured largely by home runs and sensational work in the field the University of North Carolina defeated the Generals 9 to 5 in a game that was much closer and more interesting than the score indicates. Although the Blue and White of Virginia never lead the Blue and White of Carolina they were always threatening and in the last inning a rally was started that looked for a while as though it might change the story of the game.

After being touched for four hits, one of them a home run, for a total of three runs in the first inning, Gus Lindberg came back in the second inning and struck three men out in a row. In the third and fourth the Tar Heels went down without a hit or run, but in the fifth Bonner was hit, stole second, and scored on a single by Coffee. In the seventh Carolina scored four runs as the result of two errors and two home runs to the tennis courts. One more was added in the eighth on two singles and a sacrifice.

On the Generals' side of the scoring Captain Switzer opened the attack with a double down the third base line. McMillan walked and on a passed ball they went to second and third. Wilson's single scored them both. In the fourth inning Dawson tied the score with a drive to the dugout in the stadium that went for a home run. The Generals did not score again until the eighth when Seehorn drove another home run to the tennis courts. The last tally came in the ninth when Switzer scored on Seehorn's infield hit.

In the fifth inning Switzer caught a drive from the bat of McDonald that looked good for a home run by fast foot work in right field. Running back to deep right he was just able to pull it down as it was passing over his head.

Lindberg pitched excellent ball with the exception of the first and seventh innings. He walked only

An Unforeseen Dilemma.

Because of the provision in the Constitution, printed in full in another column, requiring that a capable candidate be appointed to oppose men who are unopposed in the Student Body elections, the Executive Committee finds itself in a rather embarrassing and undignified position. The provision is wrong and must be changed, but necessity of ten days notice of proposed change precludes any immediate relief in that way. In the meantime while making every effort to get around or comply with it, the Executive Committee has been the object of disparaging remarks and undeserved resentment by those who do not understand or who have blinded themselves to facts and leaped to snap judgment. The Committee is working hard to comply with the Constitution, as they should; it is just most unfortunate that the provision neglected to provide for such a situation as has arisen on the campus today.

The effect also has been to lower the estimation of the position in the minds of the students. Men are refusing to run as they may have good reason for not doing, and as each man declines of that stream of men the Committee has asked to compete there arises the feeling that it is all fantastic and cheap. It is now optional to the Committee to be "up a stump" or almost get down on their knees and beg. Naturally they have chosen to face the dilemma and remain in the quandary until some solution is hit upon.

The provision is doomed. It is narrow and was adopted without taking into consideration that an office might be unopposed either because the candidate already out deserved it more, because it would be useless to oppose him or because no one else feels himself capable of handling or does not care to have the position. It is a perfectly natural situation and in no way, that we can see, detrimental to the interests of the Student Body. Why run a man who otherwise would not have run? That part of the Constitution must be struck out, amended or revised at the earliest possible moment.

To make the best of a bad matter is now the problem. We would like to ask if it is possible to appoint men for the position who it would be understood were mere dummies in the race without any desire for the office and that the Student Body could cast their vote with this in mind? It is a question of form, compliance with the letter but not the spirit. It is justifiable under the present circumstances.

Instead of those harping criticisms and sarcastic comments, gentlemen, face the problem with the Executive Committee and apply a little sober thought to the situation. They would welcome any help that you chose to give, especially would they experience most grateful appreciation of any understanding attitude on the part of the Student Body. It is that co-operation that they want.

The Troubadours are to be praised highly for the performance which they presented Tuesday afternoon. The result of continuous and painstaking effort and the concentrated application of clever talent the musical comedy was an undoubted success, easily capturing the "first nighters."

But a month remains for work before facing the final examinations. Will this mean anything to you or not? Dig in and dig out.

The world is waiting for Washington and Lee to nominate the winning candidate of the coming presidential campaign.

Our losing streak on the nine has seemed to have bade us good-bye. Hit your stride, Generals, and big a few more.

We wonder what will be machinery for enforcing the proposed amendment, should it be passed, which prohibits freshmen at Washington and Lee from owning cars? From casual observance it appears that the emancipation of the amendment would be comparatively easy.

One Year Ago Today

The Generals split a two-game series with North Carolina State. The one they lost was only after a hard ten inning fight. McDonald scored a home run in both contests.

V. P. I. had lost to W. and L. by the overwhelming score of 13 to 6 only the day before. Washington and Lee made twice as many hits and was better in every department of the game. Captain Switzer of this year's team was the sensation of the game.

All of the candidates for the different campus offices had been announced and they had started their campaigning. Those running for President of the Student Body, Finals, Fancy Dress, and Editor and Business Manager of the different publications were already in the race.

Mr. Thomas W. Gilliam of Lynchburg offered three twenty-five dollar prizes for a one-act play, a short story, and a poem, and these contests were well under way.

FRESHMEN CELEBRATE LIFTING OF THEIR RULES

Class Numeral Painted Over Campus —Overwhelm Sophs In Pushball Fight.

Last Saturday was "Freshman day," and last Saturday night was "Freshman Night." In honor of this day which comes only once in a lifetime, the annual push ball scrap was held in the afternoon while in the evening the Freshman class painted the town red. Red '27's are seen all over the sidewalks, and on everything else that offered space enough for a little red paint.

As seven o'clock the Freshmen brought their cans and brushes to the Geology room and were given plenty of paint and told to use it freely. Some were sent to paint the statue of George Washington, while others went to different parts of the town. It has long been the custom for the Freshmen to paint the statue on Washington College, and leave it their color for two days, then give it a coat of white paint. The statue remained red until last Monday night and was then painted a spotless white.

After '27 had been freely painted on the sidewalks and other places, all met at the Corner to make a bonfire to carry up in smoke their Frosh caps. Not many seemed too willing to part with their caps, probably because of the sentiment attached to them.

As soon as the caps were burned, a rush was made to the movies. "Ikey" threw the doors open, and the new upperclassmen enjoyed a free show. With the end of this celebration all the Freshmen rules were lifted, and campus privileges were granted to the Class of 1927.

The Frosh were particularly jubilant because of the outcome of the pushball fight which resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Freshmen. The Sophomores could not score, and the final total against them was 160. The fight furnished excitement for a large crowd, and thrills were added because of the wet field. The easy victory of the Freshmen was due greatly to the fact that they had an abundance of material while the Sophomores were handicapped by lack of men.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS HOLDS FINAL MEETING

Group Led By Dr. W. M. Brown—Five Lessons On Book of John.

The last meeting of the Bible Class on "The Life of Christ," which was led by Dr. W. M. Brown was held Thursday night. The course proved very beneficial and inspiring. Dr. Brown, being a thorough Greek scholar, was able to bring out many points which the ordinary Bible student misses. The work of Dr. Brown was appreciated and enjoyed very much.

The "Book of John" was used as a basis of study. Five lessons were held on the five logical divisions of the book. The average attendance was twenty.

The "Y" hopes to have Dr. Brown lead a class of a small number of men on a different phase of "The Life of Christ" next year.

EASTER HOLIDAY EVENTS A COMPLETE SUCCESS.

Gill and P. W. Mullins, who planned and executed them.

Nearly a hundred girls, representing the Virginia schools, especially Sweet Briar, Hollins and Stuart Hall, were in attendance during the dances. A large number made their appearance Tuesday from Sweet Briar. The unusually large number of calices at the Spring dances was due to the fact that only a few men left Lexington for the holidays.

The paramount ability of Wiedemeyer's West Virginia aggregation of musicians was well exhibited during the dances. The incessant stream of wierd music increasing to perfection Tuesday night did much to revive the past popularity of the musicians, and to give the prom trotters the best syncopation heard at Easter hops.

Character in Cravats

That subtle something that is so apparent to the eye, and yet so difficult to describe—Cravat Character—makes its presence felt in Graham's Cravats in a highly satisfactory degree—satisfactory to the man who wears them and to the shop that sells them. "Scotch Plaids" featured new. New stock every 10 days.

Hopkins Defeated 18 To 4.

Johns Hopkins fell before the Generals on Wilson Field last Tuesday afternoon in one of the most unusual games seen here in a long time. After eight and a half innings of hectic baseball the score stood 18 to 4 in favor of the Generals.

The visitors gathered only three scratch hits during nine innings; one off Lackey, who pitched a no-hit game against them last year on their own field, and two from Woolwine's delivery, who replaced him in the sixth inning. On the other hand the Blue and White landed on three Hopkins' pitchers for total of 16 hits in eight innings. Every one of the Generals got at least one hit, with the exception of Franklin and Woolwine, who went in during the latter part of the game.

When the game was only an inning and a half old the score was five to three in favor of the Generals, and only two hits had been made. One was a home run by Seehorn which went to the tennis courts and the other was a double by Gibson of Hopkins. The score was due to a combination of errors, walks, and passed balls.

McNeill replaced Marrian in the second inning for Hopkins, but the Generals landed on him for one hit after another and at the end of the fourth 18 runs had been pushed across. Schacht, who took up the pitching burden here, kept the hits scattered and the scoring was over for the day with the exception of a home run through the fence by Carter of Hopkins in the eighth.

In the fourth inning Dawson caught one on the nose and sent it on a line to the tennis courts. It cleared the fence with many feet to spare and was probably the hardest hit ball on Wilson Field this year.

Hawkins, Switzer, and Seehorn played a fine brand of ball. Hawkins' work on second was especially sensational, while Captain Switzer made two difficult catches in the field and connected cleanly twice at the bat at critical moments.

A mild sensation was caused by a high foul from the bat of one of the Hopkins players coming in contact with a swallow as it was flying over the field.

Strikeouts: Marrian, 2; McNeill, 4; Schacht, 1; Lackey, 4; Woolwine, 5. Base on balls: By Marrian, 6; McNeill, 2; Schacht, 1; Lackey, 3. Hit by pitcher: By Lackey (Stewart). Wild pitches: Marrian, 4; McNeill, 2. Passed balls: Holland, 3.

The Generals dropped their fifth consecutive game last Saturday in a pretty game with Lehigh, the final score being 2 to 1. From the start the game was a beautiful pitchers' battle between Lindberg for the White and Blue and Adams for the visitors, with Gus having the advantage by a good margin until the fatal ninth when the visitors bunched a double and a home run for the two winning tallies. In the Generals' half of the ninth a rally fell short after Aylmer had homered into the tennis courts. Neither team had been able to push across a run until then.

Time and again the Generals advanced into scoring position only to fail in the attack at the necessary time. Hardly an inning passed without a Blue runner getting to second or third but Adams always tightened in the pinches.

Aylmer, leading the Generals in hitting, increased his lead with two singles and a home run, while Gwaltney registered two hits. For the visitors Hess was the offensive star with a double and a home run to his credit, the final score being decided by his blow. Ambler and Rice also amassed two safe blows. In the field, Hayes was the shining light, displaying a sensational brand of fielding which robbed the Generals of at least two hits and materially affected the score. Dawson made a circus catch in left field in the sixth inning which also cut off one or two runs.

Lindberg was in prime shape and was never in danger until the last inning, allowing only seven hits and striking out eight. Neither pitcher passed a man.

The Generals, although out-hitting the visitors, were the victims of a combination of two hits in the last inning of the game that decided the issue and it went on the wrong side of the ledger.

Undoubtedly the Blue and White played a wonderful game and their steady improvement since the beginning of the season is very apparent. Lehigh 000 000 002—2 body; layers of pearl are then laid down around the foreign matter to stop the irritation.

The last part of Colonel Lee's lecture was devoted to the blue crab of the Chesapeake which furnishes the familiar crab-meat of commerce. The carnivorous and even cannibalistic habits of these crabs were told of. The legislation of Virginia and Maryland whereby the two states mutually manage and control the waters of the Potomac was described, and also the efforts to secure national legislation to prevent the pollution of waters by the oily bilge water of modern vessels.

The meeting was attended by about seventy-five enthusiastic listeners, and was ended with an invitation from Doctor Hoyt to attend a smoker at his home immediately afterwards in order to enjoy more intimate and informal discussion with Colonel Lee.

LITTLE GENERALS NINE LOSE TWO THIS WEEK

Fall Before A. M. A. 5 To 9 and State School At Staunton 10 To 8.

The Freshman baseball team returned Wednesday from a three-day trip. Monday they met and were defeated by A. M. A., 5-0, and Tuesday the Yearlings were trimmed by the State D. D. and B. School at Staunton, 10-8.

The feature of the game with Augusta was the pitching of May for the Cadets. He had the Freshmen at his mercy and twirled a no-hit game. Lyon did the mound work for the Little Generals and was touched for seven hits.

The game with V. S. D. D. & B. was a slugging match, both sides pounding the opposing pitchers hard. Osterman did the twirling for the Freshmen. Rawlings and Neville led in hitting for the Frosh with three each while Davidson, Joliffe, and Palmer connected for two each.

The New Clothes For Spring Are Easy Fitting

The loose, straight hanging effect is the thing today. It's accepted everywhere; welcomed because it's comfortable; it's smart, however, only when it's correctly cut. The Boulevard is the correctly cut suit in this new style; an easy, loungy coat, with just a suggestion of the shaped back; a long, soft roll to the lapel; straight, wide trousers; a very evident tailored look.

Our Spring Line is in. Drop in and look them over before buying.
