

FINAL BALL TONIGHT ENDS GAETIES OF FINAL WEEK

Will Be Led by S. L. Raines with Miss Edith Kelleher--1921 Finals Acclaimed a Great Success

SAMUEL LUCAS RAINES
Of Raines Tennessee, Pres. of Finals, 1921, Who Will Lead the Final Ball Tonight, in Doremus Gymnasium

MISS EDITH KELLEHER
Of New Orleans, Who Will Lead Final Ball Tonight With Sam Raines

Final Ball tonight will bring to a close the social features of the 139th Commencement of Washington and Lee University. By those who graduate, by those who have returned and by those who will be back another year Finals of 1921 will be one of the most memorable events in their history as students of the University. The ball this evening, led by S. L. Raines, President of Finals with Miss Edith Kelleher of New Orleans, Louisiana, assisted by H. E. Henderson, Vice-President with Miss Guy Bratton of Marlinton, W. Va., will be one of the prettiest and extensive ever held in the Doremus Gymnasium.

To the Finals week committee, composed of S. L. Raines, H. E. Henderson, W. B. Dew, H. A. Holt, G. M. Long, R. B. Price, W. M. Everett, R. D. Howerton, L. S. Musgrove, S. H. St. Clair should go the credit for the weeks entertainment and also to the unusually large number of beautiful young ladies that have been present is due no small amount of the success of the festivities.

Final Week dances were opened last Friday night with the Inter-Fraternity dance, led by R. M. Barker with Miss Louise Brinkley of Suffolk, Virginia. The interior of the gymnasium was decorated with large fraternity banners, hung from the balcony, each of the fraternities upon the campus being represented. The attendance was unusually large for the first night, some seventy-five or eighty beautifully gowned young ladies being present and at least three hundred students, alumni and guests.

The dancing began at nine o'clock to the strains of Weidermeyer's Orchestra, which brought back fond memories of the recent Fancy Dress Ball. Supper break was at eleven-thirty, the refreshments consisting of sandwiches and coffee.

The P. A. N.-White Friar German, held Saturday morning after the Inter-Fraternity Dance Friday night, was a huge success from beginning to end. Practically all the fair sex visitors were present, which together with a large number of stags made

Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of the University, left New York City for England Saturday morning, June 11th, on the Red Star liner Lapland, and accompanied by Mrs. Smith and a distinguished party, will reach Plymouth on the 20th. Dr. Smith has been appointed personal representative of Governor Westmoreland Davis of Virginia, to present to the government and people of Great Britain a bronze replica of the famous Houdon statue of Washington, partly as a token of friendship and partly to celebrate the conclusion of a century of peace and good feeling between England and America.

The British government has signified its acceptance of the statue and has constructed a pedestal for it in Trafalgar Square, directly in front of the National Gallery of Art, with the statue of Lord Nelson on one side of it and the monument to Edith Cavell on the other.

Upon their arrival in England, the whole party will become official guests of the British nation and will be at once taken to the formal dedication and opening of the Washington Home, Sulgrave Manor, Northamptonshire. The Sulgrave Committee, consisting of Lords Bryce, Cowdray, and Weaverville, and its secretary, Mr. Perriss, is in special charge of the party during the trip to Sulgrave Manor and return. When the Americans reach London, they will be in the immediate

VANDY WINS 2 TO 1 IN TIGHT GAME

Fair Visitors and Alumni Witness Stars in Action

The game Monday was all that one could ask for. Two well coached teams started the battle at two-thirty and it was not until the last man was out that Washington and Lee had been beaten. Thomas for Vandy started the ball rolling when he got a two bagger and was scored by Brown, the next man at bat, who hit clean for three bases. Then Brown scored on an error. W. & L. scored when Burke got a clean hit and it was followed up by Terry with a three bagger, bringing Burke home. W. & L. had another chance in the fifth to score with two men on and one out, but the batters failed to come through at the crucial moment.

The stands were filled by three hundred of the best looking girls in the South, but they were not alone for many of the old Alumni were on hand to see W. & L. go down honorably in defeat. In addition to a real baseball game the spectators were given a chance to see that Capt. Hisle is the best in the South while Burke on second base caught some beautiful ones that looked almost impossible. McCallum pitched a great game, only allowing 3 hits but W. & L. seems to always get the short end of the piece of luck.

This is the first time W. & L. has competed with Vanderbilt in five years and it is highly commendable that the management saw fit to give all those up for Finals a chance to see the baseball team in action.

SEVEN "SHARKS" INITIATED INTO PHI BETA KAPPA

Two Alumni and English Professor Honored

The Phi Beta Kappa society, election to which is considered the highest scholastic honor which can come to a man at Washington and Lee, added seven students a faculty member, and two alumni to her roll at the initiation last Friday night. The private initiation ceremonies were followed by an elaborate banquet at the Dutch Inn, at which the new men were welcomed into the order and toasted under the direction of Dr. D. B. Easter, toastmaster and head of the local chapter.

The following students were awarded the historic Phi Beta Kappa key at the initiation Friday night:

Samuel Edwin Baylor, Poundin Mill, Va.

John W. Bowyer, Lexington, Va.
William T. Caldwell, Tiptonville, Tenn.

Fitzgerald Flournoy, Bay View, Va.
H. Gray Funkhouser, Dayton, Va.
Laird Y. Thompson, Lexington, Va.
Lachlan W. MacLean, Richmond, Va.

Faculty member:

Dr. Edgar F. Shannon.

The two alumni members initiated this year are both physicians. They are:

Hugh Johnson Hagan, '10, Roanoke, Va.

Solomon W. Schafer, '04, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dr. Schafer was unable to be present at the regular initiation ceremonies, and was taken into the society at a special meeting two weeks ago.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON BY DR. BROUGHTON

Dignified Cap and Gown Procession—Chapel Crowded To Capacity

"The Ministry of the Helping Hand" furnished Dr. Len G. Broughton of Grace Street Church, Richmond, the subject for a brilliant and eloquent address at the Baccalaureate service in the Chapel Sunday morning.

About 10:45 a large number of black gowned figures, Seniors and Faculty, began to gather in front of Newcomb Hall. Here a procession was formed, led by Law Seniors followed by the Scientific and Academic Seniors, who on reaching the Chapel, opened ranks and stood at attention while the faculty, trustees and speaker marched between the ranks.

The platform was beautifully decorated.

NINETY-EIGHT MEN AWARDED DEGREES THIS MORNING

Commencement Address By Ex-Gov. Bickett; Noble B. Hendrix Is Valedictorian

The 139th session of Washington and Lee University was brought to a close this morning with the awarding of degrees to ninety-eight Seniors in Arts, Science, Commerce and Law, comprising the largest number of graduates in the history of the institution.

Hon. Thomas W. Bickett, ex-governor of North Carolina, made the commencement address to the members of the graduating classes, while Noble B. Hendrix of Houston, Texas, delivered the valedictory to his fellow students.

At eleven o'clock, in cap and gown, the long line of graduates, faculty and trustees marched slowly down the slope from the old Washington College building and in reverse order entered the chapel which, adorned with flowers, was crowded with relatives and friends who had come to witness the culminating feature of the commencement season.

Following the preliminaries there was an interesting part of the program in the awarding of the various prizes and scholarships to the students successful in collegiate endeavor during the past year.

Ex-Gov. Bickett delivered an able and eloquent address to the assembled classes. Mr. Bickett was followed by Noble Hendrix who as spokesman for his classmates delivered the valedictory.

Due to an oversight the name of Fred C. Parks was omitted from the list of graduates. His name properly belongs in the list of those receiving the degree of L.L.B.

As the closing act in the four years of college life and training, the respective degrees with diplomas were awarded. Three honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws were conferred upon prominent men of the South, Governor Westmoreland Davis and Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, and Dean Charles Payne Fenner of Tulane University, New Orleans, La.

Dean Henry Donald Campbell, who in the absence of Pres. Smith awarded the degrees said as follows:

"Westmoreland Davis, graduate of the Virginia Military Institute; bachelor of laws of Columbia University; lawyer, scientific farmer and publisher of the Southern Planter; Governor of Virginia, distinguished as the originator of the budget system of the State; promoter of penal reform and exponent of business principles in the administration of state affairs—I take pleasure in admitting to the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

"Carter Glass editor; member of Virginia Senate and Constitutional convention; for sixteen years in the House of Representatives where he won special prominence as father of the federal reserve act; secretary of the treasury in Wilson's cabinet, in which service he gained additional reputation as a financier; now honoring the Old Dominion by his presence in the United States Senate—I take pleasure in admitting to the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

"Charles Payne Fenner, graduate of the Virginia Military Institute; bachelor of laws of the University of Virginia; distinguished New Orleans lawyer and Louisiana statesman; for the past seven years Dean of the Tulane University Law School, recognized as one of the best in the South—I take pleasure in admitting to the honorary degree of doctor of laws."

With the awarding of the last degree there was brought to a successful end the most splendid year of the University's existence.

Due to an oversight the name of Fred C. Parks was omitted from the list of graduates. His name properly belongs in the list of those receiving the degree of L.L.B.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF ALUMNI HELD IN CARNEGIE LIBRARY MONDAY

Wm. M. Brown Delivers Welcome Address--President J. L. Campbell Conducts Lively Meeting--Reports of Treasurer and Norman Burgess Read

Much interest was manifested in the meeting of the Washington and Lee Alumni Association, Inc., on Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Carnegie Library. A large number of prominent alumni were present at the meeting, and it is felt that a closer bond of fellowship and mutual co-operation has been secured among the sons of Washington and Lee as a result of it, and that greater service will be rendered to their Alma Mater from now on.

The address of welcome to the alumni and to the graduating class was delivered by Mr. William M. Brown, '14, Professor of Education at Washington and Lee. Mr. Brown pointed out the splendid services of the Association in the past, and predicted that the near future would, with co-operation as the keyword and better organization as one goal, find the Association performing a still greater service.

The President of the Association, Mr. John L. Campbell, presided at the meeting in a very efficient manner, and the entire program was carried out smoothly and efficiently. The reports of the Treasurer, Mr. C. S. Glasgow, with regard to the business of the Association, and of Mr. Norman Burgess, concerning the Memorial Gateway, were submitted and approved. An increase in interest and membership was shown from Mr. Glasgow's report, there being some 300 per cent greater membership now than at this time last year when only 121 active members were enrolled.

In the absence of Dr. H. L. Smith, President of the University, who is on his way to England on a mission of friendship, Dean H. D. Campbell reported on the progress and changes of the past year, and read a message from Dr. Smith. Dr. Campbell emphasized the fact that the success of the Million Dollar Campaign to date has been in a large measure due to the cooperation and financial aid of the loyal alumni. He summed up some of the most important things concerning Washington and Lee that have been done in the past year, and some of the changes that go into effect during the coming session. The standards have been raised, no special students will be admitted, a Department of Education has been added, a course in Accounting has been added to the Commercial School, three years will be required for the Law course, a resident manager of Athletics has been secured, a graduate of Princeton will be at the head of the School of Engineering in the person of Dr. Lyle, Graham Dormitory has been completed, and among other things a student may secure the B. A. and LL. B. degrees in six years.

Two trustees of the Washington and Lee Alumni Association, Inc., were re-elected for full terms, Mr. E. P. Davis and Judge Lacy. Two others were elected to fill out unexpired terms, Mr. J. R. Caskie for Mr. F. S. Kirkpatrick and Judge E. C. Caffrey for Mr. E. L. Graham.

Mr. E. B. Shultz and Mr. C. S. Glasgow were re-elected as members of the General Athletic Association, while the two out-of-town representatives are Mr. James Izard and Mr. F. W. McWane. Mr. Shultz gave a brief account of the work of the Association during the past year, and his report was very favorable.

The meeting was closed by resolutions on the three distinguished mem-

REDS WIN FORTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REGATTA ON NORTH RIVER

Harry Lee First Crew Wins By Three Feet; Albert Sidneys Take Second Race By Four Boat Lengths

Racing over a course which was lined to the water's edge with one of the largest and most enthusiastic galleries ever witnessing the annual regatta on North River, the Harry Lees were victorious over their ancient rivals, the Albert Sidneys, in the forty-fourth annual boatrace between the two clubs Monday afternoon by the scant margin of three feet. Previous to the Harry Lee's victory Monday, each club had won twenty races, while three were tied and two not rowed.

Long before six o'clock, the time scheduled for the event to begin, the banks along the course were filled to overflowing with an unusually large crowd of spectators, in automobiles in other conveyances and on foot. The weather was ideal with a cool breeze from the north, though not enough to retard or interfere with the shells progress, while the sun was directly up-river.

Promptly at six o'clock, the long, glistening shells, one bearing a bright red streamer in its bow and the other flaunting a like streamer of blue from its sharp prow, slid into position at the starting line. There was but little jockeying or delay. With the crack of the starter's pistol eight oars flashed simultaneously in the sunlight and the race was on.

through the water. Both crews were working smoothly.

At the half mile, there was scarcely an inch between the bows of the two rivals, with each raising the stroke. As they rounded the bend into the three-quarters, the two were practically tied, with red and blue pennants and streamers waving frantically from either bank as the galleries cheered their favorites on to victory.

Here the Harry Lees made a final sprint which carried the nose of their shell by inches away from that of the Albert Sidneys until only three feet separated them, crossing the finish line winners for the twenty-first time.

The second crew race, which followed the first race, was taken easily by the Albert Sidneys, four lengths separating the two crews at the finish. From the start, the Albert Sidneys began to leave their rivals in the rear and they were never headed. They used a snappy regular stroke, which proved to be too great for the Reds to overcome.

The crews as they lined up were as follows:

First Crews		Albert Sidneys

Thompson	No. 3	Stuart
Bear	No. 2	Potts
Steer	No. 1	Riddick

All matter of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief.
 We are always glad to publish any communication that may be handed to us. We desire to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

EDITOR'S NOTE

It is customary here for the usual regrets to be expressed concerning omissions and mistakes which almost necessarily occur in connection with an edition of this nature, but we feel that none are required at this time. We have done our best, working hastily and under handicaps, to publish a good final issue. Difficulties arose in every department, especially in the pictorial section, which some may feel is incomplete. The necessary half-tones were hard to obtain. Apparently prominent men are either so busy or so excessively modest that they are extremely averse to the printing of their pictures. The ones finally secured came from all sources, and were cut, sliced, trimmed, sawed and filed to proper proportions. Because of the before-mentioned failing of those who bask in the campus lime-light, some could not be obtained at all. Therefore, we sincerely regret all omissions but offer no apologies. The acting editor wishes to express his sincere appreciation of the manner in which the entire staff with but one or two exceptions, responded to his call for help. Those who left early contributed their quotas before their departures, and those remaining for Finals worked nobly to make this edition a success. Particularly to H. Gray Funkhouser, R. M. Whitley, J. L. Allgood, R. M. Bear, D. R. Snively, J. W. Bowyer and J. H. T. Sutherland is credit due, and to F. J. Daughtrey, J. C. Morrison, J. L. Silverstein, J. W. French, Turner Rice, and J. E. Wells, who are not members of the staff, but who freely offered their services, and rendered invaluable aid, gratitude is expressed thru this source. The acting editor and manager wish also to thank E. D. Campbell, B. F. Woodruff and all others who made suggestions or contributed in any way to the making up of this issue.

A PARTING WORD

Finals 1921 closes one of the most successful years in the long and sacred history of Washington and Lee University. More students have been enrolled in all departments than for many sessions past, the Faculty has been enlarged, an extensive building program is in process of consummation, and means are being obtained to carry out the plans of the South's greatest warrior and educator, whose hallowed bones lie beneath our chapel. A hundred and three Southern men go forth today college trained, with all the benefits of historic surroundings and honorable associations. Even amid the joy and care-free light-heartedness of a final celebration, this realization brings sobering thoughts. Educated, polished, and prepared to a degree according to their own foresight and determination, they are rapidly nearing the test of fire which marks pig-iron from the tempered steel. May the best not weaken, and the feeblest be nerved to great deeds. May they each remember, be he lawyer, business man, engineer or chemist, that he is truly representative of his Alma Mater, whose graduates lead the nation.

His days on her campus are over and beyond recall. She wishes him god-speed as he departs from her revered halls and walls, and may the mention of her name ever cause each man to life his head with pride and the echo of her holy traditions breathe to him the spirit of her immortal founders:
 "Ye will not walk ignoble ways;
 Ye dare not seek unworthy aims,
 Ye cannot do a deed that shames
 Those heroes of the holiest days!
 Your oath a Roman oath must be,
 Sworn on a faith that will not yield—
 Sworn on the doubly sacred shield of Washington and Lee."

A PREDICTION

Since the days of the Spanish-American war, this paper has been published by the students on the campus, endeavoring, with varying degrees of success, to serve the Student Body and further the interests of the University.
 The Editor of this year consistently strove to make it better, more live, and representative of campus opinion. Whatever criticism there might have been is now stilled, but there can be no doubt that the Ring-tum Phi progressed toward a definite goal under his direction, and the staff will feel keenly the loss occasioned by his tragic and untimely death. His plans were broadly expansive for the growth of these columns.

As far as possible, these plans will be fulfilled next year. The paper will be issued on Wednesdays and Saturdays of each week for the fall term, and semi-weekly for the entire session, with a short intermission at the end of each term. A pictorial section will be printed monthly, and the size will be changed to four pages with five columns each. The subscription price will necessarily be raised, and will be three dollars, payable in advance. Various other improvements not mentioned will be added.
 More live news, and an unbiased editorial policy will be continually sought after. If the loyal support of the entire Student Body is accorded, we will have a college newspaper of which the University can be proud, but whatever criticism is received, we are secure in the knowledge, and safe in the prediction that it will not be "the same old Ring-tum Phi."

Y. M. C. A. HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The work of the Y. M. C. A. for 1920-21 began before the session opened with a Setting-Up Conference, which set the tone for the whole year's work. In addition, many "Y" workers were back early to aid in the reception of the new men and everything was done to make them feel at home.
 The "Y" program for the year has been a varied one. It has consisted of bi-weekly religious meetings, promotion force meetings, Bible discussion groups, a Lyceum course, and most constant of all—the Canteen. The latter has been the drawing card that made the "Y" Room a popular winter resort. As usual Ted Shultz rendered valuable service by his gratuitous football coaching. However varied the work may have been the expressed purpose of it all was to bring W. & L. men into closer fellowship with their God.

The culmination of the year's work was the Trotter meeting in early March. The Y. M. C. A. had been spending its energy for over a month in preparation for these meetings, Bill Patterson being in charge of this work. When Trotter arrived he took advantage of every possible opportunity. Rarely has a man been able to win for himself such a big place in the students' hearts as he did. It is to be hoped that he will return to our campus again.
 The key-note of the work since March has been personal work. Also throughout the spring a quiet but active campaign has been waged to secure a large delegation at Blue Ridge, the summer training conference, for which a number of men have enrolled.

MEMORIAL FUND PROGRESSING WELL

The Memorial fund which the student body has undertaken to raise for the purpose of a bronze tablet in memory of Roland Hall, late Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, is progressing nicely, and altho no definite amount can be stated now due to the fact that all contributions are not in, collections are being rapidly made.
 W. T. Tillar has been made permanent chairman of the fund and the work will be carried forward this summer. All who wish to make contributions can address them to Tillar at his home in Emporia, Virginia.

FOURTEEN BASEBALL LETTERS AWARDED

Prospects for 1921-22 Excellent in Football and Basketball

The awarding of baseball monograms to fourteen men by the athletic council following the Vanderbilt games formally closes the 1920-21 athletic seasons at Washington and Lee.

The men who received monograms are: O. W. Histle (Capt.), C. E. Burke, Chas. Terry, F. W. Cobb, S. L. Raines, R. M. Frew, J. W. McCallum, R. H. Hancock, F. W. Harrelson, R. E. L. Correll, F. C. Switzer, and Manager J. L. Patterson. Several other men are still under consideration by the council.

The manager for next year will be W. T. Tillar and the Junior assistants will be E. L. Crockett and R. D. Jordan.

Naturally with the close of the baseball season the student turns to consider the prospects for the Generals of 1921-22 as being the next most important thing. Though football and basketball prospects as a rule are very uncertain things the fact seems almost certain that next year will be a most successful one for Washington and Lee in athletics.

The football team will undertake the following schedule:

- Oct. 1—Randolph-Macon College at Lexington.
- Oct. 8—Emory and Henry at Lexington.
- Oct. 15—Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J.
- Oct. 22—Morris Harvey College at Lexington.
- Oct. 29—Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Lynchburg, Va.
- Nov. 5—University of West Virginia at Charleston, W. Va.
- Nov. 12—Roanoke College at Lexington.
- Nov. 19—Centre College at Louisville, Ky.

Thanksgiving Day—Johns Hopkins at Baltimore, Md.

To undertake this schedule, according to Head Coach W. C. Raftery, a large number of varsity men from this year are returning and besides these an unusually large number of good men who were ineligible this year. They are: Capt. Lindsay Moore, tackle; B. H. Arbogast, end; J. M. Herndon, end; T. M. Bemis, end; B. H. Barrow, guard; J. W. McDonald, who played end this year will be used in the backfield next year; M. B. Mattox, half; D. M. Tucker, half; "Mac" Cogbill, quarter; "Bill" Stephens, of the 1919 Generals, backfield; "Pat" Collins, center and end on the 1919 Generals; E. M. Cameron, full-back; R. W. Terry, center; G. I. Vogel, guard; "Ty" Cobb, sub-halfback of the 1919 Generals; "Student" Frew, quarter; R. C. Potts, ineligible this year, tackle from Clemson; "Doc" Rangeley, tackle and end from Penn State and All South Atlantic tackle from V. P. L. in 1917; Kay Thomas, end; and T. W. Erwin, lineman from Trinity College, Tex., who was ineligible this year. R. P. Asbury, lineman from Emory and Henry who was ineligible this year; E. A. Ward, end from Mil. Academy. The last three are not to be judged as yet but the others new to this section and their worth are men who have been seen in action in the South Atlantic and give promise of making up one of Washington and Lee's best teams. The main weakness of the 1920 Generals was their lack of substitutes. For the coming year, however, prospects seem unusually bright for a strong line and plenty of substitutes with an equally as strong backfield. The loss of Silverstein and Raines from the backfield will be most seriously felt. The former may return as assistant coach this fall, however. Coach Raftery plans to get an early start by bringing the squad back to Lexington September 1st for practice.

1922 Basketball also seems to offer bright prospects. Though the schedule has not as yet been completed by Manager Wiley Taylor the return of most of the old men and several stars from other institutions who were ineligible this year points to the fact that the team picked will be able to cope favorably with the best in the South Atlantic division. Hines, Stephens, Arbogast Thomas McDonald, of this year's varsity will return, and also Cameron, Stevens, French, Hall, Yancey, and Snively of the scrubs. "Red" Glenn, a former Roanoke College star, and "Red" Schneider of University of Virginia, who were ineligible this year will return and be able to play. "Bill" Stephens has been elected captain of the quint for the coming year, and his well-known snap and speed should lead the gonfaloners thru a brilliant season.

MINK HAS GOOD START

Plans Laid for 1922 Mink and Calyx

The session just closing has witnessed a great revival of student publications. Not only have the Ring-tum Phi and Calyx kept pace with the change, but during the year there has arisen, from a small beginning, the Mink, which even now ranks with the best publications of its kind in the country. This humorous monthly magazine has filled a long-felt want on the campus, and too much praise cannot be given the Editor and Business Manager, and the staffs which co-operated with them, for the good start they have given the Mink.

In keeping with the spirit of the whole University to do bigger and better things next year, Editor-in-chief W. K. Smith gives out the following announcement concerning the 1921-22 Mink.

"Since the efforts of the editors this year have assured the success of the 'Mink', both as a business venture and as a humorous monthly, the magazine will be greatly improved next year. The staff for next year is busy drawing up plans for a bigger and better 'Mink', and although they have not as yet been completed, a brief summary of them is as follows: The magazine will have a snappy cover design every month, and the contents will comprise the pick of the choicest, and most sparkling of the wit contributed.

"The departments will undergo a radical change, the number of pages will be increased, and the quality and weight of the paper used will be much better. With an increase of subscribers and advertisers, the price of the magazine will be reduced to twenty-five cents. In short, the 1921-22 Mink will endeavor to become worthy of the school and of the confidence and approval of the entire student body."

Although the date for the appearance of the 1922 Calyx is a year off, plans are already under way to make the University Annual next year the "best ever," in the words of J. W. Bowyer, Editor-in-Chief. Contracts for the printing and engraving of the book have already been signed with Baker, Jones and Hausauer Co., of Buffalo, who handled the 1921 Calyx, which assures that this part of the work will be well taken care of.

"Doc" Holbrook has been named Assistant Editor-in-Chief, and fifteen men have already reported to try out for the various places on the staff, both business and editorial. It is planned to start work in earnest early next fall upon the opening of school, and continue thruout the year in order to make the Annual a typical "Year Book". Much of the art work and material for the humorous department will be worked up during the Summer, in order that this part of the book may be placed in the hands of the printers earlier than usual.

As to the particular style of several of the 1922 Calyx will be, or its several departments, nothing exactly definite has been worked out yet, other than that the Annual will have a limp leather cover, and more space in the book will be devoted to class athletics. It is also planned to feature a "beauty section" on a more elaborate scale than ever before.

The Ring-tum Phi regrets that a cut could not be secured of ex-Governor Bickett, the commencement speaker in time for publication in this issue.

I dreamt I died last night.
 What woke you up?
 The heat.

GRADUATE MANAGER TO DIRECT ATHLETICS

Dick Smith Outlines His Policies

W. & L. Welcomed the news that the long felt need of a graduate manager of athletics was to be filled next year. For this position a better man than Richard T. Smith, a graduate of Washington and Lee and a player on the three major teams while in College, could not have been found. Since his college days he has been directly connected with athletics and under his management Washington and Lee is insured of clean athletics and a progressive policy regarding their administration.

Smith takes his office next September and in a letter to the Ring-tum Phi has expressed his ideas concerning the University's athletic policy as follows:

"Before taking up my work at Washington and Lee, for next year, I wish first to express my appreciation of the confidence the committee showed in choosing me as graduate manager. I realize the very great responsibility of that position, and I shall endeavor always to keep before me those ideals that are characteristic of Washington and Lee.

"Washington and Lee's athletic policy will not undergo any radical change next year, in so far as the incoming graduate manager is concerned. However, if Washington and Lee joins the Southern Intercollegiate Conference, as most likely she will do, there will be changes necessary to meet the requirements as set forth by that organization.

"My ideas, in a general way, concerning the athletic policy of the University are as follows:

1. That athletics should, as far as possible, be put on a self-supporting basis.

2. That class athletics should be encouraged in every possible way in order to develop material for the Varsity, and for the general physical benefit the Student Body would derive from an efficient organization of this kind.

3. That Washington and Lee should endeavor to put on her schedules all teams of the South Atlantic division having satisfactory eligibility rules, or if she enters the Southern Conference, to demand that teams in that Conference be placed upon her schedules.

4. That the athletic policy of Washington and Lee be clearly outlined and stated, and rigidly adhered to under all circumstances.

Further, that every effort be made to foster clean athletics, and to uphold the good name of Washington and Lee in that respect.

R. T. SMITH.

REVISION OF FRATERNITY RUSHING SYSTEM FAILS

At a recent meeting of the Interfraternity Council, the subject of increasing the standards of the pledging system on the Campus of Washington and Lee was taken up and discussed and finally voted down by a nine to seven vote. The Circle in its meetings, had considered carefully the merits and demerits of the present system and had made certain recommendations for changes to the Interfraternity Council. These suggestions included the following: That no pledging be done before noon on the first Saturday after the opening of school in the fall and that a meeting of all new men be held on Friday, a man appointed by the Interfraternity Council addressing the men and explaining to them the methods of our pledging system and giving them an idea of fraternities. After reporting back to their fraternities and getting their opinions, the Council decided to reject the proposed measures.

EXTENSIVE BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS FOR COMING YEAR

Athletic Field Will Be Greatly Enlarged

In a recent interview with President Smith it was learned that many needed improvements, both on the buildings and the grounds are to be made in preparation for the coming year.

The power house is to be emptied of its present furnishings and fitted up for the use of the Electrical Engineering Department. In the rear of the present power house a new, up-to-date workshop will be built to which all of the machinery will be transferred. Not only is the building, which the power house now occupies, amply well lighted and admirably situated, but it is also in immediate connection with the live steam of the power plant below, and, with the dynamo, steam turbine and other apparatus of the heating plant, will thus constitute a valuable part of the laboratory equipment.

Work has already begun on a new athletic field which will double the available area of Wilson Field. The stream behind the present grandstand will be vaulted over by a concrete tunnel on which work has already begun. The hill recently purchased from Mr. Crawford will be leveled and the material used to fill in the above valley, thus giving a new athletic field running from the present automobile entrance westward five or six hundred feet.

Lee's Dorm is also to come in for its share of the general improvements. When this dormitory was originally built the fourth floor was left uncompleted. The Board of Trustees has already authorized the completion of this floor, thus greatly increasing the capacity of the building. Both the Lees and the Graham dormitories will be repaired and completely renovated before the Fall opening of school. Elaborate plans have been drawn up for the enlargement and reconstruction of Newcomb Hall. The plans provide for the doubling of its floor space and the raising of its western half to three stories in height. It is, however, hardly probable that this extensive rebuilding can be carried on during the summer in addition to the numerous other improvements. It appears therefore that this proposed reconstruction of Newcomb Hall must necessarily be postponed until next year.

TROUBADOURS STAGE FINAL SHOW

"Let's Dance" was staged in Lexington for the second time Saturday at the New Theatre, and was a greater success than the first appearance, if such could be. The production was the same with only a very few new lines, changed to suit the occasion, and the parts were taken by the actors like veterans of the drama—or comedy.

"Sis" Hopkins and Norfleet Turner taking the parts of members of the cast who were absent, proved valuable acquisitions.

Altho this year only one real show and a tryout show were given, next year, according to President Peck, four shows will be given, all of which will be original. The first will be staged at Thanksgiving, another at Fancy Dress Ball, a third in time for the Easter dances, and the fourth at Finals. One of these plays will be a three or four act drama, and the Student Body can look forward with keen anticipation to this event.

Another invasion of West Virginia and a tour of the Old Dominion are included in next year's plans, both of which will be longer and greater than the ones this year.

FACULTY AWARDS POST-HUMOUS DEGREE

At a meeting of the faculty held last Saturday for the purpose of passing on degrees for this year, it was unanimously decided to award the degree of Bachelor of Arts to Roland Hall, who was drowned while swimming in North river one week before the final examinations.

This action was taken only after Roland's scholastic record for his four years of collegiate work had been taken into account, his general average for the four years being a high B. In studies as in every other field of endeavor, he was a hard, conscientious worker and it was in consideration of this that the faculty decided to grant the degree, which will be forwarded to his father, Rev. S. O. Hall.

GRAHAM - WASHINGTON ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

"Polyticking," was not entirely confined to the student body election of May twentieth, as members of the Graham-Washington Literary society will testify by the society's election of officers for the first term of next year. The election took the place of the regular program and proved equally as interesting. Nominations were made with flowery speeches and cigars passed around rather freely.

The new officers are as follows: President, K. D. ABBOTT; Vice-President, F. E. PASS; Secretary, T. J. ELLIS; Treasurer, J. F. HENDON; Critic, P. J. MORAN; Ring-tum Phi Reporter, M. J. CROCKER; Judiciary Committee, J. C. HOOVER, C. N. BEALER, V. MESSINA, S. A. GLICKSTEIN, and C. A. JOICE. These new officers promise to put the society on the map next year and make it one of the most interesting of Campus activities.

NEW PUBLICATION APPEARS ON CAMPUS

"Rebel Yell" Given Unprecedented Reception

The "Rebel Yell", of Washington and Lee recently made its initial appearance on the Campus in a flaming blaze of glory.

To say that the "Yellow Sheet" was given an enthusiastic reception would be stating the fact mildly, and its universal popularity was attested by the fact that, within thirty minutes after being put on sale, practically the entire student body had purchased a copy and were busily engaged in reading this most unique review of Campus scandal and gossip.

It seems that the editors could hardly have conceived a more fitting and appropriate title for their young protegee than the "Rebel Yell," for it was undoubtedly a scream from start to finish. As a sort of preliminary warning as to what was to come, the ingenious editors gave this little rhyme: "If you amount to nothing at W. & L. Your name won't appear in the 'Rebel Yell.'"

Thus appeasing those who were mentioned and causing the rest to thank their stars that they "didn't amount to anything."

As a whole the "Yell" was a masterpiece of bright scintillating wit and humor combined with choice bits of charming satire, and although the general tone of the paper was intentionally facetious, there was an undercurrent of practical philosophy, from which some inside ideas might be obtained.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN FACULTY

Dr. Pollard and Miss Annie White Granted Leaves; New Profs Added

There will be several important changes in the Faculty of 1921 according to recent announcement from the President's office, six new members having been elected to fill additional positions created or those made vacant by resignations or leaves of absence.

Dr. John W. H. Pollard, Head of the Department of Hygiene and Physical Education, has been granted a year's leave of absence that he may accept the invitation of the city of Quincy, Ill., to organize and set in motion a complete system of sanitation, medical care, etc., under a city health department of the most modern type.

During his absence Professor Forest Fletcher will have charge of the department. Mr. Arthur G. Twombly, a college trained professional baseball star of exceptionally attractive personality will be added to the faculty of this department and assist Professor Brett in training the Freshmen teams and carrying on the general gymnasium work.

Miss Annie R. White, Librarian, in recognition of her long, faithful and unbroken service, has, in accordance with the president's recommendation, been granted a leave of absence of six months on full salary, returning to her duties in the library January 1st, 1922.

Professor Wm. T. Lyle, of the Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, and Prof. Hale Houston, of Clemson College, S. C., will both be added to the Engineering Department, the former taking Dr. Humphries' place as head of the School of Engineering.

Prof. L. B. Cox, who has so successfully carried on his work in the Law School, will resign from the Faculty and begin the private practice of his profession. His place will be filled by the appointment of Mr. Jas. B. Noel, formerly of Lynchburg, now of New York City. Mr. Noel was prepared for college at Lynchburg, entered Washington and Lee in September, 1908, and took the degree of Bachelor of Arts in June 1911. While here he was assistant Editor of the Ring-tum Phi and Editor of the Calyx. He then became a newspaper reporter in Baltimore, Md.

He took his LL. B. in the Harvard Law School in 1917. He was 1st Lieutenant of Infantry in the 79th Division of the Fourth Army corps during the world war and was in France fourteen months. Since his discharge from the army he has been in the office of Messrs. Taylor, Jackson, Brophy and Nash, 56 Pine St., New York City.

Professor D. H. Bacot, Jr., of Simmons College, Boston, will become assistant professor of history at the opening of next session.

Dr. J. L. Howe, now head of Department of Chemistry, has been appointed Dean of the school of Applied Science.

Capt. R. A. Smith, of Waynesboro, Va., and William C. Raftery, on the recommendation of the Athletic Council and Faculty Committee on Athletics, have been appointed by the Board of Trustees resident manager of intercollegiate athletics and resident coach, respectively.

FINAL BALL TONIGHT ENDS GAIETIES OF FINAL WEEK

the dance one of the best that has ever been held here. Wiedermeyer's seemed to get better all the time and one o'clock seemed to come all too soon. The figure was led by R. D. Howerton with Miss Roberta Ferguson of Monroe, Louisiana.

Unwearied by the previous activities of the day, the dancers once more took possession of the Doremus Gymnasium on Saturday night to attend the Sigma Cotillion. The dance was a whizz and had not Sunday stopped things at twelve o'clock nothing could have been merrier.

The dance was led by H. A. Holt with Miss Sarah White of Lexington, Va. The customary Sigma features were carried out.

The German of the Senior Law class Monday morning was led by T. X. Parsons with Miss Mae Chilson of Raleigh, W. Va. The German was well attended and did well in beginning the week with high spirits.

With Sunday to rest up the dance on Monday night was one of the best of the week. The Seniors, entering their last class dance, were at their best and with Wiedermeyer's still holding its own with the music the dance was a decided success. P. G. Harris with Miss Catherine Tannahill lead the figure.

Ending in time for some to catch the Virginia Creeper morning express the Final Ball for 1921 closed the big week's gaieties. The following took part in the figure:

Miss Edith Kelleher with S. L. Raines.

Miss Guy Bratton with H. E. Henderson.

Miss Elizabeth Pilcher with R. D. Maben, Jr.

LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS FINAL CELEBRATION

The final celebration of the Graham Washington Literary Society was held in the Lee Memorial Chapel last Saturday night at eight o'clock. This meeting had been set aside as the time for the regular annual contest between men elected by the literary society for the Society Orator's Medal.

Boone Dawson was unanimously awarded this medal by the judges. His subject was "The Responsibilities of Citizenship," and he gave a very good oration on our duties and responsibilities in a great democracy. The judges were Mr. J. B. Hill, pastor of the Lexington Baptist church, Mr. Frank Moore, an attorney of Lexington and Judge Caffery, a graduate of Washington and Lee in 1909 and recently appointed judge in the courts of new Jersey.

Though Dawson's oration was well worth the medal which he so honorably deserved, he did not have any opposition as had been expected. Messrs. Flournoy and Ellis had also been elected to try for the medal in public contest but both were unable to do so. Mr. Flournoy had been awarded the Cincinnati Medal for an oration and was not allowed to deliver both orations, while Mr. Ellis had been for other reasons unable to make the necessary preparations for an oration.

Dr. Shannon officiated on the occasion, being assisted by Mr. F. C. Parks as Chief Marshal. The contest for the Orator's Medal is the occasion of an annual celebration during Finals, this being one of the oldest institutions on the Final Week program.

ALUMNI ATTENDING FINALS

The call of the poet, "Come you back, you old alumnus, back to Washington and Lee", was too much for a large number of them at Finals. Back to the fountain of learning, to their beloved Alma Mater, came a host of them, to join in the gaieties, to meet old friends and new, and to renew their spirits in the atmosphere made dear in the days of their youth. Among the old familiar faces seen on the campus during Finals are:
