"Y" SECURES DR. WINFIELD S. HALL

Noted Sex Authority to Speak Here Thursday

Dr. Winfield Hall, one of the country's leading authorities on Sex Education, will speak here next Thursday at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A.

As well as being a lecturer in the field of Sex Hygiene, Dr. Hall is also a writer and medical teacher of note, having held a position on the faculty of the Medical School of Northwestern University for a number of years. He has spoken at practically every large institution of learning in the country and on two previous occasions addressed the students of Washington and Lee.

Our local association is to be congratulated on being able to secure an eminent speaker to present this subject which is of vital importance to College men.

The first dance of the year, an informal affair, given by the Cotillion Club, was held in the gymnasium last Saturday night, following the game with Roanoke College in the afternoon. Miss Beckman of Staunton, Va. with C. W. Hall.

Miss Della Brown of Lexington, Va. with J. W. Long.

Miss Sallie Carter of Lynchburg, Va. with G. T. Holbrook.

DUAL MEET TO BE IN LEXINGTON

Date Undecided; Football Returns During Meet; 14 Men to Compete Here

A dual cross-country meet will be here between W. & L. and Delaware College on either the 6th or the 13th of November.

Each school will enter seven men but the scores only of the first five will be counted. The winner of first place will be credited with one point, second place will receive two points, and so on. The school with lowest aggregate number of points so awarded will be declared the winner.

During the meet, which will begin at 3:30, returns of the football game played that day will be received play by play and read on the field.

The cross-country tryouts held last Friday afternoon revealed remarkable time for the course and Coach Fletcher expressed himself as being very well-pleased with the results.

The first seven men to finish were, respectively, Garard, Stevens, Loving, Caldwell, Burch, Leake, and Partlow.

ON TO LYNCHBURG; HOLIDAY SATURDAY

Special Train Secured; V. P. I. Corps Will Be Present

On next Saturday morning, promptly at nine o'clock every Washington and Lee man will be at the depot to board the Washington and Lee Special for Lynchburg—the scene of one of the biggest 1920 football classics of the state. In many respects this is the biggest game on the Fighting Generals' schedule this season—certainly one that it will mean much to win.

It will be the one big game of the season that every student has a chance to witness, and for this reason Manager Bryan of the football team has arranged with the C. & O. to run a Student's Special Train, leaving Lexington at nine o'clock in the morning. In order to secure the Special it was necessary for Manager Bryan to guarantee the sale of approximately 550 tickets, which means that every student is not only urged, but expected to ride the Special.

Tickets, both for the Special and the game, will be on sale at McCrum's Tuesday. The price of the railroad tickets is $3.54 plus tax, and general admission tickets are $1.25. Since the entire V. P. I. corps will accompany their team to Lynchburg, it means Washington and Lee must likewise back their team by turning out as a unit, and going to Lynchburg.

As has been the custom in the past, the faculty has granted a holiday for this game, so there can be no excuse for not supporting the "Fighting Generals" by your presence in the grand stand next Saturday afternoon. The band has been practicing for the past several days and promise to furnish plenty of music for the occasion.

ON OTHER GRIDIRONS

With four of the eight scheduled games played, the Generals are looking forward to the heavy part of the season's work. First comes the contest with their old enemy, Va. Tech, on the Lynchburg Fair Grounds gridiron Saturday.

Following Poly's memorable defeat on these same grounds last year when Silverstein's toe gave the Blue and White team a 3-0 victory, the Blacksburg team swore vengeance, and are coming out this year with the intention of making up for their defeat.

Tech's pigskin history for this fall is as follows: Their first game was with Hampden-Sidney, whom they defeated 35-0. The next Saturday, they met William and Mary, and ended with 21 points holding the eastern team scoreless. October 9, they rolled up a stupendous score on Emory and Henry at Blacksburg.

In Rutgers, however, they met a tarter, and suffered their first defeat, the score being 19-6 in favor of Rutgers. Last Saturday, with four men out of the line-up, they went down before Maryland, the score being 7-0. Even with the crumpled lineup, Tech carried the ball to their opponents 9 yard line once and several other

COGBILL AND SINCLAIR STAR FOR W. & L.

Playing their last home game of the season, Saturday, Oct. 23, the Generals won an easy victory over Roanoke College by the score of 49 to 7. At no time during the contest was the team called upon to put forth its best efforts and before the end of the game the entire team was replaced by substitutes with the exception of Big Barrow who played the whole game.

The varsity backfield of Cogbill, Silverstein, Mattox and Tucker opened the struggle, and in eight plays which occupied just three minutes they had scored the initial touchdown. For Washington and Lee Cogbill and Sinclair were the outstanding stars. The first string backfield men, Cogbill excepted, were in the game hardly long enough to justify any claims to the limelight, but the feature of their play, aside from carrying the ball which was a simple matter, was their irresistible interference. Silverstein was the backbone of this protection and again and again he would clear the field of would be tacklers in the wake of Mattox and Tucker.

Too much cannot be said for the playing of Mac. Cogbill. Tacklers would grab him, but he would shake them off with an ease and agility that would do justice to an eel. Beyond a doubt the feature of the game was his return of Mahler's punt, for a forty-yard run through midfield. The interference of the White and

ALUMNUS DROPS 500 FEET TO DEATH

During the flight of a hydroplane at Wachapreague, Va., on September 26, William P. Bell, '11, aged 30 years, and a passenger, Charles Boulter, were instantly killed when their plane plunged to the earth from a height of more than 500 feet.

The bodies of both victims were buried in the earth and had to be dug out. The tragedy was witnessed by a large number of spectators who were watching Bell make pleasure trips for the people of Cape Charles.

Mr. Bell was an alumnus of Washington and Lee. He received his degree in 1911. During the war he was an instructor at the aviation field at San Antonio, Texas. He was also an instructor for Wright Brothers, Dayton, Ohio, and a well known aviator. He leaves a wife and one child.

SHULTZ HAS JOINED; HAVE YOU?

FELLOW ALUMNI:—

Have you ever lived a number of years close to a marvel of nature and failed to take time to enjoy it? Do you remember Rockbridge county people who have lived within easy travelling distance of House Mountain, Natural Bridge, and Goshen Pass all their lives and never visited them? That is my fix with the Washington and Lee Alumni, Incorporated. Living in Lexington, enjoying the benefits of the Alumni Association, Inc., cordially welcoming alumni to the campus whenever I have the opportunity, writing other alumni to join the Alumni Association, Inc., and yet failing to take the time and spend the money to become an active member myself. I have been a slacker. The sad part of it all is that thirty-seven hundred of the four thousand living Alumni of our dear old school are in the same boat. Will you not, with me, join when you read this letter. There! my check is written.

The trouble was not that I was disloyal, but I always figured that my particular five didn't much matter. As long as thirty-seven hundred of us figure that way the Association is going to continue piling up a deficit. We have all gotten tired hearing about this five dollars, but until we have remitted that said amount to C. S. Glasgow, Treasurer, we have not heard enough.

Alumni celebrations are not spontaneous. They have to be planned and engineered. A lot of us will see each other in Lynchburg, October 30 at the V. P. I. Game. The Alumni Association is back of that engineering. I had the privilege of playing in 1912 on the first W. & L. team to beat V. P. I. after nine defeats, and for the next four years we defeated them. This year I am having the pleasure of helping Coach Raftery turn out a team that is expected to administer another defeat to our dear rivals. It will be a splendid football battle; and these two teams have a record for more fight against each other than in any other contest. One of the big pleasures of the game, and one of the big stimulants to the team is the return of hundreds of alumni to see the game and the messages received from loyal alumni from all over the country, hoping for the predicting victory. Even if you cannot be there you want your fellow alumni to have a real celebration and to justly honor our Alma Mater.

Join the Alumni Association which is responsible for such alumni events!

Loyally yours,
 Ted Shultz, '16.

MR. PENICK WRITES INTERESTING LETTER

October 22, 1920.

Dear Fellow Alumni:

I am asking the editor of the Ring-tum Phi to let me announce through its columns a few items which I am sure will interest you.

In the first first place there are more students now on the campus than ever before in the history of the University. Our enrollment is now 695 and by January first we will have considerably more than 700. We could have matriculated 100 or more additional students, but for lack of room and teaching facilities were obliged to close the registration books to new students on August 30th. We feel that the University should expand to meet the increasing demand for what we have to offer, and of course this will take more buildings and equipment and teachers. Owing to the rigid enforcement of our entrance requirements we have a better prepared student body than ever before, and they are doing fine work.

Our campaign for additional endowment has resulted in the raising of over $600,000, and this is largely due to the cordial and enthusiastic help and cooperation of our alumni. We stopped work on the campaign during the vacation months, and Mr. Howard L. Hall as field secretary, assisted by Mr. Verbon Kemp resumed work on September 15th. They are in West Virginia now, and are meeting with success.

We are fortunate in being able to announce that Mr. Dan. E. Brown, of San Marcus, Texas, has accepted work with the University, beginning January 1, 1921, to help push the campaign for increased endowment. His work will be done principally in Texas and other southwestern states. He probably knows our alumni better than any other man, and is well and favorably known to them. We are sure that Mr. Brown will be very useful to our alumni in bringing them closer together and keeping them posted about the University.

The Alumni Memorial Gateway has been almost completed. The lights are yet to be wired, some grading done, and the walks put down. You have doubtless heard a number of times from our efficient president, Mr. E. L. Graham about this gate. This splendid piece of work is due to his energy and effort, backed up by our secretary Mr. E. P. Davis.

There has never been a time in the history of Washington and Lee when her prospects seemed so good, and never a time when her alumni could feel more pride in her history and traditions, more satisfaction in her present accomplishments, and more hope for her future.

Let us all get together in the WASHINGTON AND LEE ALUMNI, INCORPORATED so that by close and active cooperation we can each do our bit toward bringing about the greater Washington and Lee which is surely coming.

Yours very sincerely,
 PAUL M. PENICK.

LETTER FROM McCRUM

Dear Brother Alumnus:—

It affords me pleasure to write you briefly relative to the Athletic Situation at Washington and Lee—its present condition and its future needs.

The present is very satisfactory. The Football schedule is representative, consisting of games with schools and Universities with whom we have won a right to contest. We have a good coach, and good material with the true Blue and White fighting spirit.

While the present Season is on, the Manager of the Basket ball team is active, and busily engaged in arranging a very attractive schedule of games to be played both at home and abroad. Such teams as Amherst, Dartmouth and Syracuse, it is hoped will be played and it is also hoped that games with Georgetown, the Army, Navy and the College of the City New York can be arranged for the Northern trip.

It is a little early to predict anything concerning the nature of our baseball schedule. We hope, however, to arrange twenty odd games at home with a weeks trip which will include five or six more.

It is not however too early to predict the future needs of the Association. We need and would welcome more questioning interest from the Alumni. By joining the Alumni, Inc. it would enable you to keep in closer touch with our affairs and YOURS, and information of any description pertaining to the Athletic policy of the University will gladly be furnished you by the Grad. Manager. We welcome your criticisms, your ideas and in a word, we need your active co-operation.

(Signed) J. T. McCRUM,
Grad. Treas.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

To the Editor,
Ring-tum Phi:

Ever since I have been on the campus I have been impressed by the oddness of the name, Ring-tum Phi. Can you tell me what it means or what it stands for? I am sure there are hundreds of other new men on the campus who would be interested in the history of the name so familiar to all.

A Freshman.

In reply to the above letter we reprint the following article which appeared in the Ring-tum Phi for April 23, 1918:

Many students have, no doubt, wondered about the name of the college weekly at one time or another and would probably be interested in something of the early history of the publication. In the days of 1897 the campus of Washington and Lee was as often resounding to the echoes of "Ring-tum Phi, stigaree bum, we are the stuff from Lexington!" as now from those of marching feet. Gordon Houston, now deceased, J. S. Slicer, and the head of the present German department, Dr. T. J. Farrar were the students who started the paper as a purely private enterprise and searching for a name hit upon the first line of the most popular yell of the time. Houston was the first editor-in-chief and Slicer the first business manager.

For two years the paper was published outside of Lexington, which made it very inconvenient for those in charge. Dr. Farrar became the second editor, thus facing a difficult task since they had failed to gain anything the first year and advertisers were hard to secure. He had to guarantee the appearance of the paper thirty times during the session in order to secure any advertisers and then it was understood that the account was more of a personal nature than an investment. But that second year the editor and manager paid all expenses and divided eighteen dollars equally.

Then these three men graduated and went their separate ways. Dr.

Farrar, however, was recalled to the University to act as an administrative officer and when he returned in the ninth year of the existence of the Ring-tum Phi he found it still in the hands of private individuals and not officially connected with the University, while the men in charge were making as much as $500 a year from it. He decided that some of this should go to the treasury of the student body, which should take charge of it and bear its proportionate expenses in supporting it for the benefit of all.

This was carried to the faculty and there it was decided to place it upon the present basis where it belongs to the student body, is their spokesman, and is for the benefit of Washington and Lee as a whole, for the Alumni, who are merely old students, and a means of stimulating loyalty to Alma Mater.

DO COLLEGE MEN THINK?

(An editorial by Prof. Franklin G. Dunham, Columbia University)

At no time in the intellectual development of the citizens of our country has the obligation of the college and University towards politics been so great. The guidance of the Ship of State is in the hands of men who have tried decisions in matters of public policy. This has always been so in our country and is the secret of the permanence of the nation. Public opinion is largely generated by the attitude of men for whom the great masses of people have sincere admiration and unqualified respect. How many men who mold public opinion are products of or are at present living in our great college communities?

John Erskine in "The Moral Obligation to be Intelligent" would have those of us who have been trained at great costs to our families, ourselves, or University Endowments, return in some measure, the results of that training to the community in which we live—the Nation to which we owe allegiance. This Nation demands of us that we bear arms in time of war; why can it not demand that we use our minds in time of peace? There is a vast fund of evidence for and against the League of Nations. There are many minds whose mental convolutions are not affected by evidence nor by the digging into the propaganda or truth, (as the case may be, behind it). Propaganda is not always a whole cloth of lies, but its origin does not bespeak its sincerity.

It is a part of the training of the College University to be in a position to make his decision on the basis of the facts in the case. What those facts are can only be found by a clear analytical study of the causes, the occasions and the events which have led up to the crisis before us in the settlement of the greatest war the world ever engaged itself in. For what? For aggrandizement, for imagined wrong, for commercial supremacy of a group of Nations, for reprisal on a war-crazed foe—no, none of these, but for the purpose of preventing future wars in this world of ours where men might live together in peace, in perpetuating great constructive enterprises, living as God wished his children to live.

Do College Men think? Yes, college men are capable of thinking. Are they thinking in this great political crisis when the world's security rests on a preference in Presidential candidates in one country? Unless they do, there is little hope that the rest of the vast electorate will receive from the University and College communities any help, any guidance in making this Nation's Great Decision.

LITERARY SOCIETY HAS SNAPPY MEETING

A short but interesting program was rendered by the Graham-Washington Literary Society last Saturday night, and the fair sized audience present was proof that a large number of students are desirous of reaping the benefits that come with active participation in the debates, orations and other phases of the Literary Society's work.

Mr. J. T. Collins opened the program with a very good interpretation of "Black Hawk's Farewell" to his Indian warriors. After this, a volunteer staff of speakers for the most part, gave an excellent account of themselves in the debate, "Resolved that Theodore Roosevelt's attitude toward Columbia, regarding the Panama Controversy, was justifiable." Messrs. Abbott and Dawson upheld the affirmative of this question, while the negative views were presented by Messrs. Loving and Joyce. The decision of the judges, Messrs. Stanton, Sutherland, and Tuck, was in favor of the negative, two to one.

Mr. D. C. Burch was the extemporaneous debator, and he brought out some facts that the other speakers had overlooked. The President reminded the Society that there would be no meeting next Saturday night, on account of the holiday and football game at Lynchburg, but urged every one to come out and bring some one with him Saturday week.

A MAN'S PRAYER

TEACH me that sixty minutes make an hour, sixteen ounces one pound, and one hundred cents one dollar. Help me so to live that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and that in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and to the rustle of unholy skirts. Blind me to the faults of other fellows, but reveal to me my own. Guide me so that whenever I look into the faces of my friends I will have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with the children, and sympathetic enough to be considerate of old age. And when comes the day of soft footsteps and the crunching of wheels in the yard, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple—"Here lies a man."—Selected.

times made the Marylanders catch their breath.

The four men who were out of Tech's line-up Saturday will be in condition for the game at the Hill City, and the following will probably be the lineup, with the statistics:

Parrish, left end, weight 188, height 6:3, age 23.

Effinger, left guard, weight 178, height 6, age 25.

Hardwick, center, weight 158, height 5:10, age 17.

Resh, right guard, weight 174, height 5:11, age 20.

Saunders, right tackle, weight 176, height 5:8, age 20.

Washington, right end, weight 148, height 5:8, age 21.

Lybrook, quarter, weight 141, height 5:7, age 22.

Martin, left half, weight 167, height 5:10, age 21.

Sutton, right half, weight 154, height 5:7, age 18.

Shaner, full, weight 185, height 6:2, age 20.

West Virginia was trounced Saturday by Yale, the score being 24-0. Despite this score, the Western team is known to have a strong set of warriors, and the locals are expecting a battle royal.

Auburn, the allent, has at last been heard from. They smothered Vanderbilt, Saturday 56-6. Formidable as this score appears to be, it shows that it is possible to score on the far-southern team, for the touchdown made by Vandy was the result of straight football.

Another so-called "impregnable defense" was broken when Georgetown allowed Fordham to score 17 points on them, contenting themselves with the larger score of 49. This is the largest score made against this Washington team for some time. The game with Georgetown will close the season of the Generals on November 20 at Georgetown.

Princeton, who humbled the Generals' pride October 16, continued their "carry on" policy last Saturday by defeating the Navy 14-0. This New Jersey eleven bids fair to have a say-so in the Champ contests this year.

Our neighbors across the campus, V. M. I., entered the Northern limelight again by defeating University of Pennsylvania by score of 27 to 7 before a crowd estimated at 16,000.

ALL-STAR FOOTBALL TEAM

Coach Hesseltine has announced the line up of his W. & L. All Star Football Team for the fall games. After a month of severe training and gruelling competition during which study and chewing gum were tabooed, he has selected the following men from over forty aspirants:

- L. E. Warhorse Cranford
- L. T. Heavy Dingess
- E. G. Battling Kern
- C. Fats Levi
- R. G. Fighting J. Melton
- R. T. Pile Driver Harrison
- R. E. Hammer-lock Coots Miller
- Q. B. Tough Pollock
- L. H. Slats Phelps
- R. H. Ulysses Woodson
- F. B. Rauscious Roy Grimley
- Half-a-mile Back Skeet Bryant

The coach is considering a game with the Faculty Team on next Sunday. It is doubtful if this can be arranged, however, as several of Hesseltine's star players are opposed to Sunday football. This game, when it is staged, will be one of the most spectacular exhibitions of football in the history of sport.

Fair One: I suppose you carry a memento of some kind in that pocket you wear on your fob.

Eddie C.: Yes. It is a lock of my father's hair.

F. O.: But your father is still alive.

E. C.: Yes, but his hair is gone.

Shorty Vest: They charge by weight on this train.

Fats Barrow: Well, if they do they won't stop for you.

D. A. TAYLOR'S SPEECH AT THE LYRIC

NOTE—This speech was reported verbatim by the Ring-tum Phi reporter at the political discussion ten days ago. Lack of space forbad its appearance last week.

Gentlemen and ladies, during the Democratic administration the price of sugar jumped from fourteen cents a pound to fifty-four cents a pound, thereby incurring a debt of ninety-six billion dollars, and thirty million pounds of this was wasted, causing a loss of one hundred and seventy-six million dollars.

Over three million men were mobilized into the army and one million five-hundred thousand and six were sent over seas which meant that the United States Government was compelled to pay over seventy-five million three hundred and eighty-nine thousand five hundred and twenty-seven dollars and three and a half cents. And gentlemen, this debt does not include the forty-eight million that spent for postage stamps.

While the government was paying the soldiers thirty dollars a month which amounts to one hundred and thirty-two billion nine hundred and ninety-nine million eight hundred and eighty-eight thousand six hundred and sixty-six dollars and thirty-three cents, the munition workers were receiving an average wage scale of seventeen dollars and forty-one and a third cents a day. Figure it out for yourself.

Ninety-nine million two hundred and forty-six thousand dollars and twenty-two cents were spent on cigarettes for the soldiers which went up in smoke. This includes however the eighty-eight thousand which was spent for matches.

In conclusion, gentlemen and ladies, I beg to submit a grand total aggregation of war debts amounting to $19,643,987,024.18.

ROANOKE EASY FOR GENERALS

Blue was perfect on this play but that does not detract from the brilliancy of the run.

The work of Sinclair too was of stellar quality. He showed his versatility by accounting for gains through the line equally as well as big gains around the ends. Two touchdowns were scored by this back, the last following a beautiful brokenfield run of 23 yards, and made entirely by the runner himself, his interference melting after about six yards had been accounted for.

In the line Capt. Moore and Barrow starred. Lindsay continually sifted through Roanoke's line and nubbbed the runner for telling losses, while on the offensive he seemed always to work his way into the interference on end runs. Barrow was impassable. Not a yard was gained over his position the whole game. His speed, an asset not often taken into consideration aided him materially in recovering two fumbles, one in an open field. Moore added to his strength as an offensive player when he kicked one of the freakiest goals after touchdown ever kicked. The ball bounced off a Roanoke man's hands and caromed along the cross bar with top English.

Henderson at center played a good game and had his man in hand at all times. Of the scrubs K. Thomas at end played rings around his opponent and Terry, Hall, Marshall and Arbogast played well.

Roanoke's touchdown was of the fluke variety, and came at a time when least expected. The ball was in W. & L.'s possession on their opponent's 20 yard line. On a kick formation Heavy made a bad pass which brushed Cameron's fingers and went over his head. Marmon, left end for Roanoke came sweeping in, scooped up the leather, and dashed down the field, five yds. ahead of his nearest pursuer, Sinclair who chased him the whole way. Mahler kicked goal. This was their only score.

Washington and Lee made in all seventeen first downs while Roanoke never succeeded in making their distance once. In their forward pass attack the Generals were peculiarly successful, gaining 79 yards in this manner, two going for over thirty yards. Arbogast made a beautiful catch of Sinclair's thirty yard heave in the second quarter, and Tucker after receiving a ten yard pass from Sinclair continued twenty five more before he was brought down. The third pass was for 17 yards, Mattox to Leake and John picked it off his shoetops an instant before it would have grounded.

The touchdowns made were divided up as follows: Cogbill 2; Silverstein, Mattox and Tucker, 1; and Sinclair, 2. Silverstein made his in his characteristic manner,—plunged it over from the six yard line. Mattox's came with a 13 yard run around right end. Tucker tallied with the second longest run of the game, battering and then sidestepping 32 yards off left tackle. Sinclair's were due to a 23 yard run and an 8 yard line buck, and Mac Cogbill returned a punt 40 yards to a touchdown and bucked the other.

The line-up:

W. & L.	Position	R. C.
Leake	L. E.	Mahler
Moore (Capt.)	L. T.	Potter

Heretofore six unexcused absences from classes automatically dropped a student from the college rolls at Georgia Tech. This rule has been lately modified to such an extent that a student is now privileged to be absent during the term in each class the number of times that there are recitations in it per week. Think what it would mean to our Math. 1-2 sharks!

RIBBON SOCIETIES' PARADE ELABORATE

White Friars and P. A. N.'s Enliven Saturday's Game; Enthusiasm of Actors Carries Show Below Level of Decency at Times

According to campus veterans, the most elaborate Pan-White Friar parade in some time was "staged" last Saturday, between halves of the W. & L.—Roanoke College football game. The White Friar procession was led by T. X. Parsons, representing a White Friar, astride a spirited bay steed. Next came "Short Boy" Hanger, impersonating that silver-tongued bull artist Willie Wisdom, and leading a Ford Colt in which were seated several prominent members of the faculty, including "Lefty," "Granney," "Sissy," "Cutey," and "Bugs." E. C. Wood and "Ed" Bozeman made a very realistic pair of newlyweds, and were gracefully assisted by the smiling Misses Pinkard and Herriman. Misses Riddick and Jordan, the alluring bathing beauties had in tow a young man in an oil promoter's costume who looked strangely like French McKnight. It is whispered that Mack Sennett has made them a magnificent offer. A weird interpretation of the modern shimmy as translated into the original African was rendered by "Rusty" of "Midnight Bolero" to the accompaniment of stirring strains of Messrs. Wright and Hiram. Snively was very dignified as a K. V. D. from Oxford and the various other goats were excellent as blackface comedians, etc.

"Snake" Maben introduced the "Pans" from the saddle of his fiery charger. A portrayal of Lewis Musgrove, "the Nuxated Iron Man" followed, as well as characterizations of "Snake Eye" Quillen and "Daddy" Truelove. An elegant and luxurious Victoria, (age seventy-seven years), drawn by a pair of milk-white thoroughbreds, (age unknown) excited the envy and admiration of all Lexington. Misses Marie Prevost and Phyllis Haver, otherwise known as "Jimmie" Cranford, ditto Thomas, enjoyed a thrilling ride with speed demon Carr in his 257 H. P. "Mercy". "The Six Brown Brothers," ably depicted by T. K. Fontaine played mournful strains for a dancer from Abdul Hamid's harem while Dean Owens was shown entering W. & L. in 1901, "Red" Lester escorted a coopful of live chickens and Mason sold "The Newest Brogue" at the sea-level price of $89.99. Max Allen as a heavyweight boxer appeared very pugilistic but was unable to find an antagonist. It was difficult to hold the visiting girls in the grandstand when they saw "Tex" Shelton's name on a placard, with a promise to sing for them. The Grand Finale was a breathtaking race in which all were entered who were mounted or labored under the delusion that they were. While the parade was the most spectacular of several years, there can be no doubt that the enthusiasm of the actors and managers carried them at times to the border lines between refinement and vulgarity while a little more care in selecting some of the acts would have improved the general impression, and left little to be desired.

FRESHMEN DEFEATED BY FISHBURNE

The Freshman Football Team went to Waynesboro, Va., last Saturday, and suffered defeat at the hands of Fishburne Military School in a hard fought battle by the score of 21-0. For Fishburne Jacobs and O'Keaff in the back field starred, and they negotiated most of Fishburne's gains thru forward passes.

The Freshmen showed up remarkably well, considering the short time they had been practicing, and the fact that the team was picked just a day or so before the game. It would be hard to pick an individual star from the team, but Stolz, Beaudoin and McKnight in the line and Penn in the backfield showed good football ability and were good both on defense and offence. One reason for our goose-egg in this game is the fact that our men were outweighed 10 to 20 pounds to the man.

The Freshmen who made the trip with Manager Currie and Coach Brett were the following: Rivercomb, Hatcher, Beaudoin, Stolz (Capt.), Harrell, McKnight, Howe, Brown, Penn, Minnich, Pratt, Bellingham, Forman, and Wilson.
