122 APPLICANTS FOR DEGREES

Increase of 39 Over Last Year; Lawyers Represent 27 Of These

A marked increase in the number of applications for degrees next June over the number of a year ago is to be seen in the list compiled at the Registrar's office. Last year there were awarded eighty-three degrees, an increase of thirty-five over the previous year, while this year there are one hundred and twenty-two applicants, or thirty-nine more than last year.

The increase in number of applicants for the degree of Bachelor of Laws is greatest, there being almost twice as many applying for this degree as last year, and more than six times as many as the year before. Thirty-five degrees were awarded by the faculty of Tucker Hall at commencement last June, while sixty-two applications, or an increase of twenty-seven, have been filed for the Bachelor of Law degree this year.

There are no applications for the degree of Master of Arts this year, as was the case in the previous session. The number of aspirants to the Bachelor of Arts degree this year is less than the number of obtaining that degree last year by five. This is the only case of decrease in any of the divisions, there being thirty-six applications as against forty-one last year.

The applications for the Bachelor of Science degree in the School of Applied Science number thirteen, which is an increase of eight over the previous year. A new division of work leading to a Bachelor of Science in Commerce has resulted in the application of six men for this degree. Five men have applied for a certificate in the School of Commerce as against two last year.

LYNCHBURG TRIP GREAT SUCCESS

Over 300 Students See Va. Tech. Defeated at Hill City Fair Grounds

Over one-half of the Student Body went down to Lynchburg last week end to see the Generals administer a setback to Va. Tech. Although a good many students had left on Friday evening and early Saturday morning, yet the Special was very comfortably filled when it left the station at nine o'clock. The band, although lacking numbers, made up for this deficiency in quality and volume, and several times on the trip, the Swing brought the students to their feet.

Immediately upon the arrival of the Special in Lynchburg, the student body, led by the Sponsors and cheer leaders, paraded through the principal thoroughfares of the "hilly city" until they reached the Virginian Ho-

On Saturday, Oct. 30, Washington and Lee defeated her most ancient rival, V. P. I., by the score of 13 to 0, in the 18th game that has been played between the two institutions. The contest was staged in Lynchburg before a crowd estimated at 5,000.

The Generals clearly outplayed Tech and won by virtue of their varied attack and the superb generalship of their heady quarterback, Mac Cogbill. The analysis above tells the story of the game and the relative strength of the two teams in eloquent fashion. Not a single first down was made by either side during the first quarter. With the beginning of the second quarter V. P. I. took the ball in midfield and by a number of forward passes succeeded in working the ball to the Generals' 20 yard line. Here the Blue line stiffened and three plays still left ten yards to be gained. Rutherford was substituted to try a drop-kick, but his assay went wide and the ball went over to W. & L. At this point of the game the Generals exhibited the most perfect offensive they have presented in two years, and began an eighty yard march which was only terminated when their opponent's goal had been crossed.

A series of line plays sucked the hostile defense in close, only for them to realize too late that a successful forward pass to Arbogast had been completed for first down. More line plays and a perfect double pass netted another first down. And finally came the touchdown contributed by Dorr Tucker when he circled left end on a criss-cross for fifteen yards.

The second touchdown came in the third quarter after Arbogast, who played brilliantly the whole afternoon recovered a blocked punt on Tech's twenty yard line. On the first down Mattox received the pass, darted five yards to the right, wheeled suddenly and shot one of his baseball passes to Tucker, who once more cantered across the goal line.

Sutton, half-back for V. P. I., threw an awful scare into the hearts of the White and Blue cohorts when he received Silverstein's kick-off, two yards behind his own goal line and ran down midfield for about thirty yards, then cut to the right side line and sped down this past every opponent for a touchdown on the kick-off, except for the tiny oversight of putting one foot out of bounds on the White and Blue's 45-yard line. For this he was called back, but his beautiful run was easily the feature of the game.

For Washington and Lee Cogbill and Tucker stood out. Aside from his generalship, Cogbill illustrated his claim to the limelight by his ability to run the ends and negotiate a broken field. Tucker also played a stellar game. Of the four passes completed by the Generals he was on the receiving end of three of them. Both touchdowns fell to his credit, and his speedy

WEST VA. NEXT AT CHARLESTON

Saturday's Contest Will be Long-Delayed Rubber; Teams to be Royally Entertained

Diplomatic relations will be reopened between the University of West Virginia and Washington and Lee University next Saturday when the Generals journey to Charleston to engage the Mountaineers. These two teams have not played since 1915, in which year, Coach Sol Metzger, of West Virginia took his team from the field because of alleged unfairness on the part of an official.

Previous to this game in '15, the two teams had met six times on Laidley field, and each eleven took three victories. The game Saturday will be the long delayed rubber. Since the last inter-collegiate contest, both teams have improved perceptibly and both have turned out stars who have received nation wide recognition.

From accounts received here, the mountaineers are very enthusiastic for the battle, and are making numerous preparations for it. Tickets have been on sale at Charleston for five days, and the West Virginia town is decorating for the visiting teams, according to reports. Arrangements are also being made to take care of the crowd that is expected to be there for the game.

Both teams will be entertained at a theater party at the Plaza Theatre Friday night, and after the game on Saturday night a dance will be given in their honor. Charleston alumni are leaving nothing undone to make Saturday a red letter day for the teams from Morgantown and Lexington.

Press Club Will Issue Call Tomorrow; Wide Field of Service to University

The Washington and Lee Press Club, an organization whose object is to "put Washington and Lee on the map" in the newspapers of the country, will issue a call tomorrow for candidates for its editorial staff, according to an announcement of E. D. Campbell, president of the club, and D. R. Snively, manager. All men with any journalistic talent or desire to gain newspaper experience are urged to try out for positions on the staff.

The need of greater publicity for Washington and Lee in the newspapers of the north, south and east has become more manifest every year with the growth in fame of the Generals' athletic teams and the general expansion of the University. The papers of the country are evidencing more and more desire for live news from a reputable campus agency, and there is open at the present time a wide field of service in the dissemination of news of Washington and Lee.

INELIGIBLES IN RICHMOND TODAY

Strong Team Opposes Bethels' Athletic Club at Capital

The appearance of a new football team on Wilson Field in the last week or ten days, composed of men ineligible to play regular Collegiate football, or to play for Washington and Lee this year, has aroused considerable interest and talk on the campus.

The squad is made up of men who have played Collegiate football for four years or are kept off of the W. and L. squad by the Athletic Eligibility Rules and contains some fine material. Though practices have been undertaken the managerial part of it, has arranged the first game to be played with the John Marshall Athletic Club of Richmond in that city today.

Prominent among those who made the trip are: Shultz, All-American Tackle; Potts, All-Southern Tackle; Brett, All-Connecticut Valley Fullback; Blain, of W. & L.'s 1917 team; Ward of Trinity College, Texas; Erwin, of Austin College, Tex.; Asbury of Emory and Henry.

For the first game though the Lexington team is matched with a very powerful eleven. The J. M. A. C. team is captained by Turner Bethel of last year's W. and L. team and the line-up contains many stars of Southern football history, such as Hunter Carpenter, Lew Stringer, Chink Graham and Doug Roden of V. P. I., Bobby Go. of Virginia, Bob Whittet, Kemper Yancey.

BROOKS MELL TO BE MARRIED

The Atlanta Journal announces the engagement of Mr. Brooks Mell to Miss Mary Brown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin Brown of Atlanta, and the grand-daughter of the late United States Senator Joseph Emerson Brown.

Brooks Mell graduated from Washington and Lee with an A. B. degree in 1912. During the war he received his commission and was detailed as naval instructor in aviation at Pensacola, Fla. At present he is associated with his father in the Mell Realty Company of Atlanta.

BANKER GIVES $5,000 TO WASH. & LEE

First of 100 Founders to R. E. Lee School of Engineering

The honor of being the first of the hundred founders which Washington and Lee University desires for its new Robert E. Lee memorial school of engineering has fallen to Henry S. Fox, Jr., a prominent banker of Houston, Texas. The Confederate veterans at their annual convention in Houston last week reaffirmed their purpose to endow such a school in honor of their great commander, and immediately after resolutions to this effect were passed, Mr. Fox made a contribution of $5,000 to the university for this purpose. The sons of Confederate veterans passed similar resolutions at their convention which took place at the same time.

LYNCHBURG ALUMNI HOLD BANQUET

The Lynchburg Alumni of Washington and Lee University held their Annual banquet last Wednesday night at the Virginian Hotel, about forty members being present. Eddie Parks Davis, the general secretary of the Alumni association was the guest of honor, and Jas. R. Caskie, the president of the Lynchburg alumni association presided.

The principal subject of discussion was the W. & L.-V. P. I. football game to be held Saturday in Lynchburg. Plans were formulated towards giving the Generals' team and student body a rousing welcome on their arrival in Lynchburg.

President Caskie called on a number of alumni for speeches and all responded, some in a serious vein and others in a facetious mood, but all were interesting to those present. Among the speakers were Eddie Parks Davis, J. T. Noel, Dr. W. G. Pendleton, F. S. Kirkpatrick, A. E. Strode, F. W. McWane and D. P. Halsey.

Those present were: D. P. Halsey, W. W. Manley, Jr., C. E. Binks, H. B. Glass, F. M. Davis, G. M. Penick, Carter Glass, Jr., I. M. Lynn, C. M. Gooch, Jr., T. W. Gilliam, 2d., J. P. McCarran, F. S. Kirkpatrick, A. L. Ward, F. W. McWane, T. S. Kirkpatrick, S. G. Auspach, D. A. Phelps, S. H. Williams, D. R. Boatwright, A. E. Strade, Rev. W. G. Pendleton, J. T. Noell, Jr., Carl McHenry, M. H. Hester, C. M. Roberts, J. D. Christian, G. G. Craddock, C. L. Christain, D. E. Witt, Edward Sheffey, J. R. Caskie, John Craddock.

Orange W. Richardson, '10, is General Manager of the Laurel Fork Railway Company, Braemar, Tenn.

EXCHANGES

Johns Hopkins

Two new student publications are making their appearance on the Hopkins campus this fall. A "Daily Bulletin" will be gotten out every morning containing announcements of meetings and the plans of the various activities of the day. The first issue of the new literary and humorous monthly magazine, "The Black and Bluejay" will first see light about Nov. 25.

William and Mary

Masons of the student-body have organized the "Rough Ashler Club," membership in which will be open to all Masons both in the faculty and student-body. At present the club numbers fourteen on its rolls.

Lynchburg College

Four gold medals have been offered by one of their alumni to the students of Lynchburg College to encourage special effort in literary work. They will be awarded to the writers of the two best poems and the two best prose articles published in the "Autocrat" this year.

Trinity

Trinity staged her comeback on the football arena after her twenty-six year absence by another victory, defeating Emory and Henry 7 to 0. In intercollegiate tennis her prospects for capturing the state championship of N. C. seem good. Victories have been annexed from the University of N. C. and Guilford.

Davidson

Of the 492 students enrolled at Davidson this year, 406 are Presbyterians. Among the remaining students only 13 are non-church members. In the line of professions seventy-five expect to enter the Ministry while fifty-six are looking forward to medical work.

Rice Institute

Signs we have seen:
On a restaurant: "Coffee and roll downstairs, five cents."

In a department store window: "Ladies' dresses on third floor, one-third off."

In a newspaper: "Automobile skidded and struck woman in safety zone."

From a school boy's essay: "Among memorable dates in history was Antony's date with Cleopatra."

On a furniture store: "For sale—twin beds; one slightly used."

The local basket ball team will wear their new skirts on Friday night. The trousers have not yet arrived.

Tulane

Sutton Titus, world championship oarsman, only American holder of the English diamond oars and one time crew coach at Cornell, will help "Pick" Avengo coach the Tulane eight now being formed.

V. P. I.

For an hour each Friday during the session there will be an assembly which all cadets must attend. The purpose is to create closer co-operation between the faculty and students in solving campus problems. All new students meet for an hour twice each week for a class which is to help them to a wise selection of further courses and to a better use of their college opportunities.

Tulane

The Y. M. C. A. confronted with the problem of securing a full attendance at weekly Cabinet meetings has solved the problem by holding a Cabinet Luncheon at 12:30 every Saturday. No time is thus taken from other activities and the idea has become popular.

All matter of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matters should come to the Editor-in-Chief.

We are always glad to publish any communication that may be handed to us. We desire to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Erratum

Several times during the past week our attention has been called to the fact that the article in our last issue under the head "Fall Track Meet at Univ. of Va." was a piece of highly imaginative fiction. We are sorry the mistake occurred, for it is not our purpose to manufacture front page news articles merely to fill up space. It is not a Track Meet but a Cross Country Meet that is to be held at Charlottesville on November 20. We failed to verify the article, and printed it as reported.

ENTER THE MINK

And now another has been added to the traditions of Washington and Lee, for the "MINK", our new humorous monthly magazine has made its initial appearance on the campus. The first issue, we believe, will compare most favorable with other college humorous magazines, as for instance, "The Harvard Lampoon," "The Yale Record" and "The Virginia Reel."

In looking over the magazine we find it contains thirty-six pages only eight of which are advertisements. The front is done in black and white showing a drawing by Edward Harris entitled "Close Harmony." There are four full page cartoon cuts besides numerous half and quarter page cuts.

Of course the "Mink" contains a whole lot of a good many things, but we many roughly divide its contents into humorous verse, original jokes, a large exchange, cartoons and a snappy story or two. The humorous verse is very good and would do credit to any college magazine. Practically all the jokes are original, and include almost every subject from ordinary college life to the more specialized forms of industry as represented by the theatre and the drawing-room. There is an unusually large exchange and the editors have used rare precision in most cases in selecting those clippings which will appeal to the average college student. The exchange is run under the title of "Wash-Lee-Wash", rather an appropriate title it seems to us for such a division in the paper.

We have not room for a lengthy criticism of each individual piece and so will mention only a few of the features of the issue. One of these is a romantic short-story called "Romance—Sepia Tinted." It is well-written and interesting. Other features are a sketch called "The Doctor's First Case." By Louis Joel, "The Children's Page" and "The Knocker's Club." These last two are clever satires upon certain phases of student life as found on this particular campus.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor, Ring-tum Phi.

Dear Sir:

The student who wrote so enthusiastically of the sportsmanship shown by Princeton to the W. & L. team, voiced the proper sentiment. Every courtesy, every gentlemanly attention is given to visiting teams. It is a joy to see the occasional Yahoo, whose idea of supporting his own team is that of insulting the other team, get squelched here. Two years ago I saw a Princeton track manager step in front of the grand stand and inform a couple of Bowery sports, that, if they didn't care to act like gentlemen, to get out of the grounds.

But if Princeton fair play was apparent to the W. & L. men, no less so was the spirit of both W. & L. team and rooters to the Princetonians. A member of the Tiger team told me after the game that he was astounded to witness the fight left in the W. & L. linesmen, even after the latter had played a whole game almost without relief, and were on the verge of physical exhaustion. And the constant efforts of the little band of Lexington rooters, singing and cheering in the face of certain defeat, was noticed most favorably by every undergraduate in the opposing stands.

If possible we should play Princeton again next year. There is tremendous inherent power in the W. & L. team: With more experience in playing together, it should be the very instrument to reverse this year's unwelcome decision.

Princeton, N. J. ALUMNUS.

TRYOUT FOR EDITORIAL STAFF

The material which is sent out to the Press Club may be divided into three general classes: First, regular news stories of general or special interest to papers in different sections of the country, second, special news campaigns in particular cities, especially before big athletic events; third, items of local interest concerning individual students, which are sent to home papers. Members of the press club staff will be assigned regular work in one or more of these fields, and will have an opportunity to gain newspaper experience along any line for which they prove fitted. Athletics, social and general news stories, individual write-ups and "human interest" stories furnish a wide range of journalistic practice for the future editors of the country at Washington and Lee.

Following the game Saturday afternoon with V. P. I. the sports Corporation held a dance in the Lynchburg Auditorium. Quite a few students attended, there being about twenty-five men to each girl on the floor. Music was furnished by Bill Manley's celebrated "Southern Seven."

sprints contributed long gains for his team. Mattox too played exceedingly well. He intercepted four of V. P. I.'s passes and Tucker obtained three by this method. Silverstein's defense was again of the variety which has stamped him one of the best full-backs in the South.

In the line two men covered themselves with glory. One was Lindsay Moore, who does this so often it is to be expected, and the other was Hop Arbogast, playing his first game of the year as Varsity end. Lindsay was ever the terror of the Tech punter, Lybrook, while his speed in getting down under punts and nailing his man was one of the features of the contest. Arbogast was in every play. He was one of the ends who only allowed a total gain of eight yards around this position, and he was right down under punts with Shifty Moore. His perfect catch of a 12 yard pass from Mattox aided materially in the scoring of the first touchdown and his recovery of Lybrook's blocked kick resulted in the second score, on the next play.

The game in detail

First Quarter—Captain Moore won the toss and elected to receive. Crisp kicked off to Cogbill on his 15 yard line, who returned it to his own 30-yard mark. Washington and Lee was penalized five yards for off-side. Three line plunges by Cogbill and Mattox netted seven yards and with eight to gain Silverstein punted 35 yards to Sutton who reeled off seven before he was tackled.

Sutton fumbled on the next play and Mattox recovered for W. & L. on his own 46 yard line. Silverstein and Mattox gained six yards off tackle, but a fifteen yard penalty forced Silverstein to kick and V. P. I. resumed play on their 40 yard line. Three line plays netted but two yards. W. & L. was penalized 5 yards and V. P. I. 15. Lybrook punted 25 yards out of bounds. The rest of the quarter settled down to a punting duel between Silverstein and Lybrook. The period ended with the ball in Washington and Lee's possession on their 27 yard line.

Score—W. & L. 0; V. P. I. 0.

Second Quarter—Three plunges by Mattox netted one yard and Silverstein kicked 30 yards to midfield. A criss cross by V. P. I. was effectively smeared for a loss of one yard. A try at left end gave them two, and a short pass to Parrish added eight yards and the first first down of the game. Sutton gained a yard at left tackle and a criss cross pass to Parrish tacked on eleven more and first down. With the ball on their own 20 yard line the Generals steeled themselves and three mass plays resulted in no gain. Rutherford, a substitute, attempted a field goal which went wide, and the ball shifted.

Mattox began the great offensive with a contribution of 8 yards off left tackle. Cogbill made all but one foot, and Silverstein got three and first down over left guard. Mattox circled right end for seven yards and Cogbill wormed his way off left tackle for six and the second first down. Silverstein plunged center for four and a perfect pass, Mattox to Arbogast, covered 12 yards and first down. Cogbill ran left end for six yards and Tucker hit the left side for five more and another first down. Cogbill got one around left end and a clockwork double pass, Cogbill to Mattox to Tucker accounted for 20 yards, placing the ball on V. P. I.'s 15 yard line.

A criss cross starting with Mattox around right end which sucked the whole V. P. I. team over, and ending with Tucker around left end resulted in the first touchdown. Silverstein failed to kick goal by inches.

Silverstein kicked off to Sutton who ran 102 yards to a touchdown, but was called back for stepping out of bounds after speeding 55 yards. Two forward passes for 7 yards each gave Tech first down. A third pass was intercepted by Tucker on his 20 yard line, and Frew was sent in to punt for Silverstein. His punt was perfect and well placed to the right, covering 50 yards before it stopped on V. P. I.'s 40 yard line.

Score—W. & L. 6; V. P. I. 0.

Third Quarter—Silverstein kicked off to Martin who ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. A forward pass grounded but Tech was given the distance of 15 yards on illegal interference. Arbogast smeared Sutton for a loss of one yard around his end. A pass was incomplete and Lybrook's punt rolled to the 5 yard line. Silverstein standing behind his own goal line kicked to his 35 yard line. A line play and a forward pass was ineffective and Tucker intercepted a pass on his own 15 yard line. Two plunges by Mattox gained 4 yards and Silverstein punted to Sutton in midfield who returned to the Generals 35 yard line. Tech fumbled and Paget recovered for W. & L. on his 34 yard line. A fifteen yard penalty nullified good gains by Mattox and Cogbill and the Generals punted to Sutton who was downed on his 49 yard line. A criss-cross and a tackle play netted five and Mattox intercepted a pass, running 20 yards before he was downed. Cogbill and Tucker gained six, and an attempted criss cross was smeared for a loss. Silverstein booted the ball to V. P. I.'s 20 yard line where the Red fumbled but recovered.

Lybrook's kick never lifted higher than the line of scrimmage and Arbogast recovered the loose ball on V. P. I.'s 13 yard line. On the next play Mattox received the pass, darted to the right, wheeled suddenly and shot Tucker who was free, a fast spiral. Tucker dashed over the line for the second touchdown and Silverstein kicked goal.

Silverstein kicked off to Martin who returned nine yards to his 20 yard line. Cogbill fumbled Lybrook's kick and Harwick recovered for Tech. Ball in midfield. A pass, Parrish to Tilson placed the ball on the Generals 40 yard line. A second pass was grounded and a third was intercepted by Mattox on his 30 yard line. Two line plays lost four and Silverstein punted to Lybrook on V. P. I.'s 40 yard line, Arbogast tackling him. Lybrook was forced to retire. A pass to Parrish was completed for 9 yards and the quarter was up with the ball in V. P. I.'s possession on their opponent's 33 yard line.

Score—W. & L. 13; V. P. I. 0.

Fourth Quarter—Mattox intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards to midfield but the ball was returned and W. & L. penalized 5 yards. A play at right tackle gained one, and a short pass added six more. Shifty broke up a criss cross for a loss of two yards and the ball went over when a pass was incomplete. Silverstein and Cogbill gained a total of six yards, through the line and Joe then lost two at right tackle.

A pass was incomplete and Silverstein punted 30 yards to Sutton who was dropped in his tracks by Arbogast. Two line plays and an incomplete pass only gave Tech three, and Parrish punted 16 yards to Silverstein who was stopped as he caught the ball. Tucker and Mattox got three each and Silverstein punted 45 yards to Sutton, Shifty Moore getting him, on his 20 yard line. Parrish's kick went out of bounds on W. & L.'s 30 yard line.

Cogbill circled left end for 12 yards and first down. A criss cross lost 10 for the Generals, and Silverstein after gaining three through the line punted 35 yards to Sutton. Moore downed the safety again, as he received the ball. The ball was brought back however as V. P. I. was ruled off side. Two line plays and an incomplete pass left 7 yards to be gained and silverstein was forced to punt. Moore got the receiver still another time, and Moore plays tackle.

Paget was hurt on this play and Henderson went in for him, Mattox intercepted his fourth pass and ran 15 yards to V. P. I.'s 40 yard line. Cogbill started around left end, was temporarily stopped, left the tackler his headgear, reversed his course, and gained a yard around the other end. Mattox got one at left tackle, on their 45 yard line. Mattox threw a pass to Tucker for 9 yards. Silverstein fell back to punt but fumbled the pass and dropped on the ball. On the next play he punted out of bounds on his opponent's 30 yard line.

V. P. I. attempted their last pass from a wide formation, and Tucker intercepted it running 25 yards to Tech's 45 yard line. Silverstein hit center for three and the game was over.

Score—W. & L. 13; V. P. I. 0.

The line-up:

ON OTHER GRIDIRONS

Saturday's football results of the three yet unplayed opponents of the Generals were as a whole entirely satisfactory. While comparative scores are seldom reliable, the fact remains that all three of the teams were scored upon, and two were beaten.

The University of West Virginia suffered a decided defeat Saturday at the hands of Princeton, the score being 10-0. While the northern team was able to roll up a larger score upon the Generals than that of Saturday against West Virginia, the locals feel confident that their share of victories for the season shall go on.

Auburn was downed by the University of Georgia Saturday by a lone touchdown, the score 7-0. No detailed report of the game has been received, but these two were generally supposed to be about evenly matched, and the game should have been hard fought.

Georgetown was again scored on when John Hopkins scored 7 to 28 for the Washington team. Reports on this team would indicate that while they have a good offensive team and always succeed in piling up a good score on their opponent, Georgetown has several times allowed a weaker team to break thru their line for touchdowns.

Davidson, who opened the season with the locals, has improved and Saturday defeated the strong Citadel team 28-13. Wake Forest also showed up well and ran up 48 points against Guilford allowing them a single touchdown and a goal. Roanoke College defeated Augusta 41-0.

Mr. E. Griffith Benford is now on a business trip for the Mink. His itinerary includes Southern Seminary, Hollins, Randolph-Macon, and Sweet-briar. He carries with him condolences.

A host of friends will be interested to learn that Max Broudy, satellite of last year's graduating law class, is now married. Miss Gertrude Schultz of Pittsburg was the bride and the young couple will reside in Norfolk where Max is practicing law.

The Promotion Force of the Y. M. C. A. will meet Wednesday at 7:45 instead of Thursday, the usual day. This change in date is due to the fact that Ted Shultz will leave Thursday afternoon with the team for Charleston.

The Tutoring Department of the Y. M. C. A. announces a Class in Trigonometry to meet at 8:30 P. M. Wednesday night in the class room on the ground floor of Reid Hall (The Engineering Room). All men desiring help in this branch of Math are welcome.

NEW STYLE HITS CAMPUS

Latest Thing in Trousers Has Many Admirers

Of course you've seen them. You couldn't help from espying them in most any sort of a gathering. What are we talking about? Why, this latest innovation in masculine furnishings displayed by our friends, "Shifty" Moore and "Beef" Hinton. How do you like them? Frankly, we don't care for them at all. Not because they do not appeal to our aesthetic tastes, not by any means; but we are so afraid they will become all the rage, and our shanks are slim.

Saw "Beef" Hinton the other morning on Washington street, braving the chilling winds which blew down from House Mountain. Now this is nothing unusual. The only thing worth noting is that "Beef" wore a pair of those tawny, chamois-colored trousers which some varlet imported into Lexington. And entwined about his sturdy calves were those nobby green and blue stockings affected by golfers and millionaire dyspeptics. Were we not forgiven for drinking in these details? There is nothing else to drink. Even so, we could not fail to observe that his locomotive agencies were shaped like this (). We did not know it before.

Same way with Lindsay. Out on the football field we forget to look at his legs. But when he ventures forth arrayed like unto the lilies of the field, or some other model of fashion, with his costume harking back to the days when everybody rode bicycles or played croquet, then it is that his pedal extremities take on the form indicated by these $ $, the same size all the way up or down, like the legs to a piano or a old-fashioned writing desk.

Honestly, we can't see any good in this style. And we are going to do everything in our power to make it unpopular. For, as we said at the beginning, our shanks are slim. And we feel pretty sure that there are others in the same predicament. The evolution of the present day pants has been a slow and logical process. From the days when George Washington crossed his legs in the presidential affair and stretched the white silk of his pantalets until they dropped a few stitches at the knees until the present, tailors have been striving to attain the ideal garment for the covering up of unsightly calves attached to mere males. While the female of the species was endeavoring to expose to public gaze all of her charms which had hitherto been hidden from inquisitive eyes, man clung to his innate modesty and his elongated trousers.

But now the style threatens to change. We want to be like the bicycle riders of France or the hill climbers of Scotland. Flapping trousers get in the way; briars tear them and stickers stick to them. Then, too, one doesn't have to hitch them up when one sits down; that is, these new britches are models of convenience in most respects. They do not get baggy at the knees and they do not have to be pressed more than once a fortnight, thereby saving quite a tidy sum which the pressing shop would otherwise take from you. Only, a fellow gets the impression that when a person clad in these new-fangled pantaloons bends over he will hear something embarrassing give way.

Yes, sir, we believe those britches will split. (Of course, we know it ought to be spelt breeches; how could you think otherwise?) That is, unless they are reinforced at strategic places, with double thicknesses of guaranteed durability and strength.

We are going to stick to our same old trousers even if they do flap about our ankles and have to be hitched up every time we sit down. We have so gotten in the habit of pulling them up when we take a seat, that we would be wholly at a loss to know what to do with all that surplus energy if by some mischance we should find ourselves dressed up like a peripatetic golfer. Besides, our natural timidity would forbid us appearing brazenly in public clad in Fashion's latest decree. For, as we said in the beginning, our shanks are slim.

Still, we doubt not that others will adopt the trousers introduced by "Shifty" and "Beef". And presently there will be on display an extraordinary assortment of legs, furnishing remarkable contrasts in size and shape. Then may the maidens well give vent to shrieks of astonishment and consternation; then may we expect to see a pronounced lowering of skirts to conform to the demands of modesty; and then may we hear the ladies exclaim:

"Henceforth, our calves shall never be cold!"

DR. HALL SPEAKS AT Y. M. C. A.

Distinguished Lecturer Addresses Large Number of Students on Sex Problem

Dr. Winfield S. Hall, known to all the colleges and Universities of America as a distinguished lecturer on Sex Hygiene, spoke to a large body of W. & L. students Thursday night at the "Y" room. Dr. Hall, for twenty-three years a member of the Medical Faculty of Northwestern University, has spent several years of his life in lecturing before college men, and is considered an eminent authority in his field. He has a thorough knowledge of Physical Science and has the gift of putting scientific facts into forceful everyday language which makes a strong appeal to his audiences.

"You cannot carry the pig-skin for a touch-down, unless you are a VIRILE man" was his opening remark. "Virility, the sum-total of manly qualities and virtues" was the key-note of the lecture. By use of charts and strong illustrations this theme was expanded into an excellent comprehensive discussion of Personal and Social Hygiene. His appeal, in conclusion, was his request that everyone play the Social game fair, and the game of life clean.

GLEE CLUB MEETS

16 Men to be Picked Soon

The Glee Club met on Thursday night, October 28, for the preliminary try-out of candidates. About twenty-five men were present among whom a number of excellent voices were discovered. The club will consist of sixteen members, the successful "mocking birds" to be picked at an early date. Besides the vocalists, will be at least four accompanists, who will probably compose a violin quartet.

Those interested in this phase of campus life are well pleased with the prospects, and indications point to a live and successful season.

ROANOKE RABBI ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Rabbi Joseph of Roanoke addressed the Jewish students of Washington and Lee and Virginia Military Institute in a joint meeting in the Y. M. C. A. room Tuesday night at eight o'clock. A large delegation from each school was present to hear the address. Leaflets were furnished by the Staunton synagogue on which was printed the regular "Morning Service for Week Days." This service was carried out in full.

tel, where a number of yells were given.

By 2:45 the stands and bleachers at the fair grounds were filled almost to capacity, the cadet corps occupying the grand stand, while the Wash-Lee student body occupied the bleachers on the opposite side of the field. Throughout the game, the cheer leaders were always on the job, and with the assistance of the band and the students, kept the Generals aware of their presence on the sidelines.

Between halves, the blue and white crowd gave their customary snake dance, and sang the Swing. Little Miss Henrietta Barker, dressed in a white and blue jockey costume, and riding a black shetland pony, together with the V. P. I. midget jockey, staged a thrilling race between halves, in which, true to form, the Wash-Lee representative came out winner.

The return trip to Lexington was made in the record breaking time of four hours and three minutes. Leaving Lynchburg at twelve mid-night, the Special was forced to side-track no less than half dozen times to allow a freight to pass, in some cases such waits amounting to twenty or thirty minutes.

Upon reaching the suburbs of Lexington, the train was unable to make the grade and was forced to coast back to East Lexington, from where it took a running start in an effort to make the grade, but the second attempt was no better than the first. The thought occurred to the conductor that there was too much load for his two horse-power engine, so he persuaded the occupants of the last coach to report to the one immediately ahead, the last coach was subtracted, and the "Creeper" completed its run to Lexington.

WORK ON CALYX IN FINE SHAPE

Alumnus Aids Art Dept; Buffalo Firm to Print Book; Wits Needed

Work on the 1921 CALYX is under-way in all of the departments, and every thing points to the best Calyx that has ever been published at Washington and Lee. For the Art Department the Calyx has secured the services of an alumnus of Washington and Lee, Mr. C. B. Hartley, '17, who is now a commercial illustrator in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Mr. Hartley's proved ability in this department insures the Calyx that the art work will be of the very highest quality. The cover of the 1921 Calyx will be of genuine leather and will be stamped in gold letters.

The editor and business manager are doing their very best to expand every department and give the students a Calyx that they will always be proud to own, in fact they are risking their own income, and the fiscal ends are going to be close and hard to get together. One of the departments that they expect to enlarge upon greatly is that of the Doremus dances.

Mr. E. D. Drullard of the Baker-Jones Company of Buffalo, N. Y. was here last week. Mr. Drullard came down for the express purpose of seeing the editor, and as a result they have mapped out the whole work for the year. By Christmas 30 per cent of the Calyx will be in the hands of the printers. The success of this company in publishing last year North Carolina's "Yackaty Yach," Virginia's "Corks and Curls," West Point's "Howitzer," which were among the best annuals that were printed, insures a CALYX of the best quality.

The photographer will be here immediately after Christmas. The company guaranteed their best man who is now in charge of the studio on Broadway in New York City.

The staff has been picked in part, but this announcement will be made at a later date. There is still opportunity for a few students in the humor department.
