TROUBADOURS SHOW NOV. 30

Galaxy of Stars; Peck's Skit to Feature

With tryouts and rehearsals held nightly, the Troubadours are rounding out the program for their first show, to be presented on the afternoon of November 30, during the Thanksgiving dances. This will partake of the nature of a regular vaudeville entertainment and some "big time" stuff is promised.

In addition to the musical numbers on the program, the Dramatic Club, under the direction of J. L. Peck and supervised by J. W. Dupree, president of the Troubadours, will introduce several interesting specialties with a galaxy of stars, old and new. The renowned blackface comedians, Osborne and McClintock, have teamed up in an act which should outshine all their previous presentations. "Hippo" Peck will have something to say of interest to the assemblage, and Edgar Thompson and John Morrison will contribute their respective bits to rout gloom.

A novelty feature of the program will be "Movie Land" under the direction of Stuart Moore, featuring

WEST VA. WINS BY NARROW MARGIN IN THRILLING GAME

Score 14-10—Mountaineers Win in Last Few Minutes---All Generals
Play Stellar Game--Beck Responsible for W. Va's Victory

West Virginia won the seventh game between the Generals and the Mountaineers Saturday in Charleston 14-10. It was not until the last five minutes of the game that the Generals were overcome and then only after a most brilliant fight. This is the first time that West Virginia has defeated Washington and Lee since 1902.

To Beck, goes the credit for the General's defeat. Without him it is safe to say that the Mountaineers would not have won. It was Beck who tore around the ends for consistent gains and it was Beck who carried the ball down the field for the last touchdown.

Too much cannot be said of the playing of Silverstein and Tucker. Both played the game of their lives and time and time again cheers came from the W. Va. stands for these Charleston boys. Joe ripped through the Mountaineers line continually and many a first down came as a result of his terrific plowing. His touchdown and drop kick tallied our ten points. Tucker, with his off-tackle and long-end runs gained consistently. His defensive work with Mac Cogbill stopped the Mountaineers several times when they were on their way to the goal. Cogbill once again showed his ability to lead the team and to this plucky quarter can be given the credit for many of the marches down the field. The one, ending with Joe's touchdown was similar to the march at V. P. I. last week. Monk Mattox threw his passes with ease and remarkable accuracy. He gained through the line and along with Joe backed up the first defensive with a mighty punch.

Captain Lindsay Moore and Sanford tore up the Mountaineer's line. Shifty played rings around the much touted Herrick besides getting down under the punts and breaking up the mass formation of the backs. Paul played hard and with a fight clear thru the game. His terrific tackling upset many a play. Quite a few times he was thru the line and on the play before it was started. Too much praise cannot be given him.

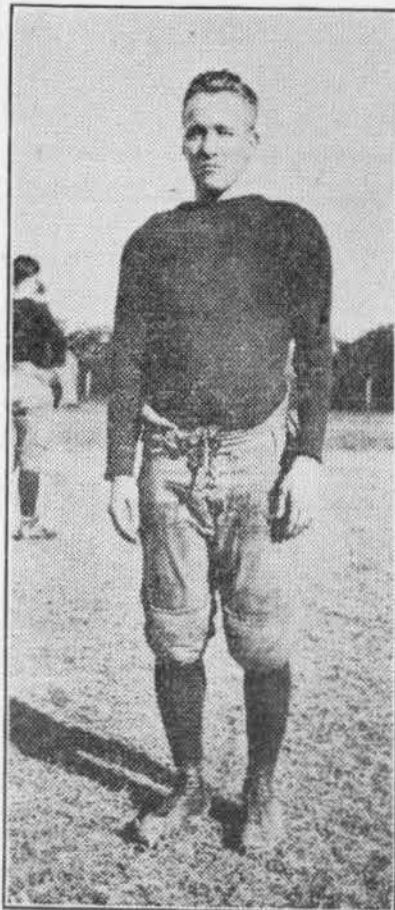

Fats Barrow played his best game of the year. This big guard held on the defense, came out of the line for tackles and went so far as to get down under Joe's punts. At center "Heavy" Henderson passed the ball back without one slipup and his defensive work was of the highest order. Patterson fought hard thruout and along with Lindsay, held back their side of the line consistently.

Joe Herndon tackled hard and broke up several passes while Arbogast lived up to his performance at the V. P. I. game. Bemis, although playing his first big game came through and exhibited great ability at catching passes.

West Virginia scored first in the second quarter. The ball was on the 15 yard line and Joe dropped back to kick. Herrick tore through the line, blocked the punt and then fell on the ball for the first score. Johnson kicked goal.

The Generals came back in the same quarter with the fight and spirit that they are noted for and scored after a triumphant march down the field. Starting at the 30 yard line Cogbill brought the Generals play by play to the coveted goal line. It was during this period that Bemis, of last year's scrubs, broke into fame at Washington and Lee. Tucker received Lentz's kick on the 5 yard line and ran it back 34 yards. Joe made 3 yards and Tucker 12 more. Then Mattox heaved a long pass to Bemis who, after juggling the ball on his fingers for a short time, caught it and ran to West Virginia's ten yard line. Bemis' catch was one of the prettiest ever witnessed on Laidley field and it was a big factor in the first score. With the ball on the ten yard line, Silverstein plunged for 4 yards and Tucker 2 yards. Then the old dependable "Bulldog Joe," who

W. & L. Ineligibles In Richmond
Election Day Put Up
Strong Fight

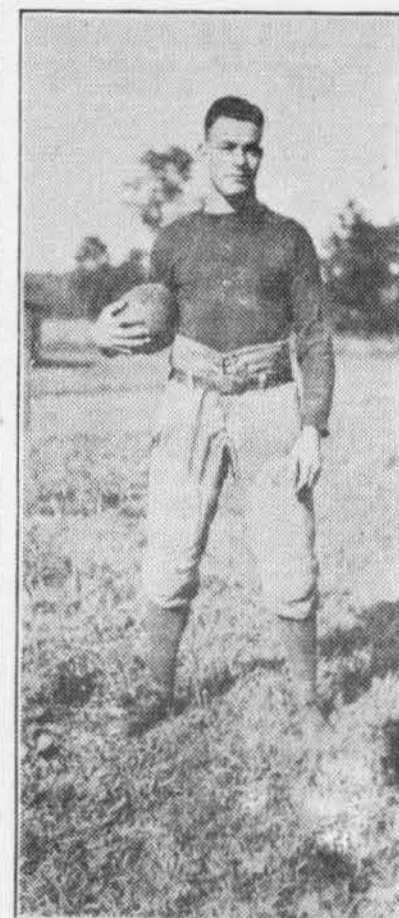

Under the name of the Lexington All-Stars the football team of Washington and Lee Ineligibles last Tuesday, Nov. 2, went up against the strong John Marshall Athletic Club of Richmond in their first game and held the Capital City eleven to 14 to 0 on their own grounds.

Though the ineligibleibles had been practicing for less than a week for the first half of the game they played their opponents off their feet. Lack of a good punter to kick out of the danger zone and a little overconfidence in the last half were responsible for both touchdowns. Ted Shultz, playing a star game at tackle, kept the whole side of their line opposite him busy. Though out weighed about twenty pounds per man in the line and more than this in the field, the ability of the All-Star line to hold their powerful opponents' line plunges

JOIN WASHINGTON AND LEE UNIVERSITY ALUMNI, INC.

LETTER FROM
F. W. McWANE

Fellow Alumni:

How many of us failed to notice the football score of W. & L. last Saturday? Are there any of us who are not interested in the progress of W. & L.—her athletics or any other important part of her activities—that we do not experience a thrill of pride and pleasure at her successes, and a tinge of pain at her reverses? God forbid.

How many of us accept congratulations of our friends because our Alma Mater is successful? And do we, each of us, deserve such felicitations? Do we, each of us, contribute to the material success of the dear old University by any constructive act? Let each of us answer for himself.

Perhaps I should feel proud of the fact that I am one of less than four hundred members of the Alumni, Incorporated. But I do not. Rather I feel ashamed that I have not done more for the name which I love and should honor. And I feel ashamed that thousands of other men—just as much sons of Washington and Lee as I am—you men alumni,—are not sufficiently impressed with a sense of privilege and duty to enroll yourself as constructive members of the Alumni, Inc.

In the past war, the term "slacker" was more odious than "spy," and only one step behind "traitor." The "spy" was more or less energetic, even if his energy was misdirected. But the "slacker"—the man who does nothing, and is not even patriotic—the lip curls with contempt when the term is pronounced.

I am sure that not one of us thinks that the Alumni, Inc. is not a good institution. Even if we should feel that way, our duty would be misdirected, and I positively do not feel that way, our duty would be to join and see that our efforts are used to properly direct its activities. On the other hand, if its efforts are right, it deserves to be supported, and those of us who fail to join are guilty of neglect of duty. Will any alumnus neglect Washington and Lee, with all the rich heritage that she has endowed us?

It would be well for each of us to use the little Sunday school rhyme, adapted for our own use, and ask this question, "If every alumnus was just like me, What kind of Association would the Alumni be?"

Yours for a Greater Washington and Lee,

F. W. McWANE.

ALUMNI AT CHARLESTON

About seventy-five alumni saw that game in Charleston last Saturday. Everyone of them will say it was some game. Washington and Lee had the big end of the argument as far as the spectators were concerned. Both teams were treated royally by the Charleston Alumni.

NOTICE: CULVER CLUB

The meeting of the Culver Club will be held on Saturday instead of Sunday night. The next meeting will be next Saturday, November 13th at the Dutch Inn at six-thirty.

$1,000,000 CAMPAIGN IN
W. VA.

The Million-Dollar Campaign, under the energetic direction and leadership of President Smith, is being rapidly pushed forward in West Virginia. Messrs. H. L. Hall and V. E. Kemp, working in conjunction with Dr. Smith, have been in that territory for some time, the results being very satisfactory to those in charge.

Over thirty-thousand dollars was raised during the month of October, an average of a thousand a day. At this rate the University is gradually nearing her goal of long-desired expansion.

WEST VA. WINS BY NARROW MARGIN

had figured in every play, smeared the Mountaineer line for 4 yards for the Generals' first score. Joe then kicked goal making the score 7-7.

With the score tied at the end of the third quarter the Generals came down the field to the 30 yard mark, where Joe drop-kicked, the ball going directly between the uprights.

Then, after the ball had changed hands several times and with but five minutes to play the Mountaineers began a terrific onslaught. Beck carried the ball on several plays to within striking distance and Martin plunged over the line for the winning points.

The breaks were against the Generals. West Virginia first touchdown on a blocked kick from the right side of the line was a 100-to-1 chance but it came at a most crucial moment. Again in the last quarter the Mountaineers intercepted a pass when we had put a few minutes to play.

All alibis aside the Generals take their defeat gamely—but—West Virginia knows that he has been through a battle.

First Quarter

During this period neither side scored. The ball was carried most of the quarter by W. Va., and Silverstein was forced to kick twice. The period ended with the oval on W. & L.'s 19 yard line. Score—W. & L., 0; W. Va., 0.

The Game in Detail After the First Quarter:

Second Quarter

Martin started the second quarter by making five yards at right end and Lentz followed with four yards at right tackle. Martin's pass went over the General's final stripe for a touch-back and the pigskin was placed in play on the 20-yard line. Silverstein made eight at center and Tucker made three and a first down at left end. Mattox made eight at right end and Silverstein made three through center for another first down. The Mountaineers were penalized five yards for offside, and the ball was at the 50-yard mark. A lateral pass with an attempted forward pass lost 15 yards when Mattox was downed by Kiger. A forward pass was grounded. Silverstein went through center for three and then he kicked to Beck on West Virginia's thirty yard line, Beck returning five yards. Martin threw an excellent pass which Dawson caught but the latter fumbled when tackled and Mattox recovered in midfield. Tucker was thrown for a two-yard loss by Harrick. Harrick threw Mattox for a two-yard loss.

Silverstein kicked to Beck at the West Virginia 25-yard line. Martin made eight at center and Lentz made three and a first down. Bemis went in for Arbogast for Washington and Lee. Two line plays failed and Beck got off a wonderful kick to the Washington and Lee ten-yard line out of bounds. Three line plays for Washington and Lee gained five yards, Silverstein went back 15 yards to kick on the fourth down but Big Joe Harrick came across the line like a flash, blocked the kick and when it bounded over the goal line, picked it up for a touchdown. Johnson kicked goal and the score was: West Virginia, 7; Washington and Lee, 0.

Washington and Lee received the kickoff. Lentz kicked to Tucker who caught the ball on the five-yard line and returned to the Washington and Lee 39-yard mark. Lentz was injured and Simon was substituted, at half-back. Silverstein made three yards at center and Tucker made twelve and a first down at left end. Silverstein again made three at center. Bemis made a wonderful catch of an excellent throw from Mattox and ran 35 yards to West Virginia's ten-yard line. Tallman was substituted for Johnson. Silverstein and Tucker together made six yards in two downs. Silverstein bucked center for four yards and a touchdown. Silverstein kicked goal and the score was tied: Washington and Lee, 7; West Virginia, 7.

Beck returned Silverstein's kick ten yards to West Virginia's 30-yard stripe. After Martin and Beck failed to gain through center, Beck ran around left end for six yards. Washington and Lee was penalized two yards for time out for the fourth time. Beck failed to gain and West Virginia lost the ball on downs, on her own 38-yard line as the half ended. The score was still a tie.

Third Quarter

Martin received the kickoff at the beginning of the second half and returned the ball 28 yards to his own 35-yard stripe. Martin made four yards on a line plunge and Washington and Lee was penalized for offside, placing the ball on the 44-yard mark. Beck again broke loose for 27 yards at left end. Simon made four at right end, Dawson made two at center and Martin made two. Johnson, who had returned to the game in Tallman's place, dropped back for a placement kick but the oval missed its mark by inches. Washington and Lee scrimmaged on her 20-yard line. Cogbill and Tucker jointly made eight yards and Mattox went thru the line for a first down.

Kay held Cogbill to no gain but Silverstein made six at center. Dawson interfered with Bemis' catch of a forward pass and West Virginia was penalized the length of the pass. Two line plays gained two yards and the ball was Washington and Lee's on West Virginia's 42-yard line. A pass failed. Silverstein drop-kicked out of bounds on West Virginia's 26-yard line.

Martin ploughed through center for four yards. Simon followed with a seven-yard gain and a first down. Tucker broke up a long pass but another pass, Dawson to Beck, gained four yards. Beck kicked to Cogbill on the Washington and Lee 30-yard line. Tucker made a yard and was stopped by Emsweller. Mattox made two. Silverstein made ten yards at right tackle and Washington and Lee was penalized 15 yards for holding. A line play and a pass failed and Silverstein kicked to Beck who by a great sprint and superb dodging, returned the ball 28 yards to midfield. West Virginia was offside on the kick, the ball was brought back and West Virginia penalized five yards. Silverstein made two yards. Mattox made a yard at center. A pass, Mattox to Tucker, gained eight yards and a first down. Tucker made five yards at left end. At the end of the third quarter Washington and Lee had the ball on West Virginia's 30-yard line. The score was seven all.

Fourth Quarter

Mattox failed to gain on a plunge at the beginning of the fourth quarter. A forward pass failed and Washington and Lee was penalized five yards for offside. A pass, Mattox to Bemis, made a first down at West Virginia's 21-yard line. Mattox and Tucker in three tries gained two yards and Silverstein dropped back a field goal, which he booted squarely between the bars from the 36-yard line. The Generals took the lead, the score standing: Washington and Lee, 10; West Virginia, 7.

ARMISTICE DAY— A HOLIDAY?

Next Thursday, November 11th, will be Armistice Day. It will be observed by practically all civilized nations as a day that brought relief and hope to a stricken world two short years ago. It will be remembered by a large number of men in our university who were fighting in France as a day that aroused new dreams of home and friends.

The states have declared Thursday a holiday, and the United States has added November 11th to the small number of national holidays. A large proportion of colleges and universities thruout the country have suspended classes and lectures for the day.

Will we be allowed to commemorate this National Holiday with a suspension of classes at W. & L? That is the interesting point that has not yet been decided by the "powers that be."

Seriously speaking, why shouldn't we have that holiday along with the rest of the world? The Freshman Football team will be at Harrisonburg Thursday, and the Varsity en route to Birmingham would certainly appreciate the decrease in work to be made up that a Holiday means. And as for the rest of the Student Body that doesn't play football, and the professors who do play golf—this beautiful fall weather won't last forever, and a little let up now and then is advocated by the wisest men.

CONTEST

Contributing Editor Wanted

The Ring-tum Phi is in need of a Contributing Editor. This position on the staff of your college weekly is at present vacant and it is our desire to fill it with a capable man. We feel sure that there is some latent journalistic ability on the campus and it should be given a chance to come to light. Hence the announcement of a contest open to all for the purpose of selecting a Contributing Editor.

Here is a chance to break into fame through the columns of your local newspaper. Submit a good editorial on some live campus question, a humorous sketch, an original article of interest—in short the field is wide open. So use your originality and send in some good material for the Editor's approval.

The rules governing are as follows: Every student in the university not on the Ring-tum Phi staff is eligible. Each competitor will be required to hand in two articles, the first before Sunday, Nov. 14, and the second before Sunday, Nov. 21. The best articles will be printed in the Ring-tum Phi. Brevity is desired, length of each article being not over four or five hundred words. Competent judges will decide upon the winner.

Articles should be mailed to the Editor or left in the Office, third floor of Newcomb Hall.

THE ELECTION

The Harding-Coolidge-Slemp Club makes the following statement:

The expected has happened. The solemn referendum on Tuesday showed that the people of the U. S. do not care to have a one-man government, however, good that one man may be. The overwhelming defeat of the league of nations in its present form is evidence that the people preferred to continue to live under our present constitution and are unwilling to enter into a combination of force to which there was the remotest possibility of being compelled to surrender our rights as a nation.

The success and calm appeal of Sen. Harding and Gov. Coolidge on the issue of the campaign and the clean and dignified manner in which they conducted it, seem to have met with the approval of the great body of the electorate in every section of the country.

Sen. Harding's election puts America back on the main road. The air is clear and we can face the future with calm assurance. The next administration will meet with great success in our domestic affairs by the application of the principles of economy and humanity to its problems. America will not shirk her duty to the world. She is now the free and untrammelled advocate of international justice "with malice toward none and charity for all."

The Democratic Club of Washington and Lee congratulates the Republicans on their victory and authorises us to publish this statement from them:

As Democrats we accept defeat with clean hands and a clear conscience. We are not making apologies because we are of this party. We are proud of our wonderful record of the past eight years which will go down in history as the greatest administration America has ever experienced. We promised and we fulfilled; we stood ready to fulfill again. But as a majority of this nation thought best on Tuesday to elect the Senator from Ohio from the Republican ranks, to him, as citizens, we pledge our support on every thing that is for the betterment of our country and speaks the true spirit of Americanism.

MISS HOWE TECHNICIAN OF PHYSICAL EDUC. DEPT.

Miss Gwendolen Howe, daughter of Dr. J. L. Howe, arrived in Lexington recently from Philadelphia and took up her duties as Technician in the department of Physical Education of the University. For the past two sessions Miss Howe has been the assistant Technician in the Pepper Laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania.

CIRCLE INITIATES NOTED LECTURER

On October 30, the Omicron Delta Kappa Society held a meeting at which Dr. Wingfield Scott Hall lecturing here at the time, was initiated. Dr. Hall was made an honorary member of the circle shortly after his visit here in November, 1916, but it has been impossible for him to be initiated until this year.

Dr. Hall is a Phi Beta Kappa man, which is one of the highest honors that can be received in Arts, he is a Sigma Psi, which is the highest honor in the Sciences, and he is also an Alpha Omega, which is an honorary fraternity in medicine. He was president of the last named fraternity for nine years.

BLOCK WILL SPEAK

Rev. Carl Morgan Block, Rector of the largest Episcopal Church of Roanoke, will address the local Y. M. C. A., Thursday night, November 11. Mr. Block was for two years the Chaplain at Woodbury Forest and established a reputation there as one of the most popular men who has ever worked with young men. Being refused for active Army service, he served in the camps for two years in connection with the Y. M. C. A. and his own church. His message is sure to be one worth a hearing. Announcement will be made later of his subject. He will speak Thursday, Nov. 11th, 7:45, Y. M. C. A. Room.

MEETING OF ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Crew Monograms Awarded; Cohn Tennis Manager

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Council of the University crew monograms for 1920 were awarded and managers of Tennis were selected.

The first crew men of the boat clubs of last year who received monograms were: W. B. Patterson, R. Jordan, W. Holt, J. R. Strum and J. W. Miller of the Albert Sidneys; F. M. Thompson, R. Cherry, H. F. Madison, W. D. Morrison and J. C. Henderson of the Harry Lees.

L. D. Cohn, monogram man of last year's Tennis Team, was made Manager of Tennis for the current year. D. R. Snively and H. L. Elias were selected Assistant Managers.

AUBURN SATURDAY

Tomorrow evening, the Generals start their long journey southward to Birmingham, where they will renew athletic relations with the strong Auburn team. Auburn has been fairly successful this season, and came back last Saturday after their defeat by U. of Ga. the preceding week with a 49-0 victory over Birmingham Southern.

Auburn's lineup for their game with the Generals has not been received here, but it is understood that the team is in good shape, and the lineup will be as usual.

Georgetown, the Generals' remaining rival, met her first defeat of the season when the Navy Middies walked over them by a 21-6 victory. This score was contrary to popular opinion at Lexington, and has raised the hopes of the students some hundred per cent.

Pennsylvania has more higher institutions of learning than any other state in the Union, 67 being located in the Keystone state. In order follow: Illinois, 59; New York, 54; Ohio, 53; and Missouri, 41.

LITERARY SOCIETY

Meetings Now At 7:15

A pretty large crowd was present at the Literary Society Saturday night to enjoy and profit by the bursts of oratory and eloquence that enlivened an excellent program. A touching "Tribute to the Confederate Soldier" was paid in the spirited oration of Mr. Old, who thus opened the program in auspicious style. The member to whom "Current Events" was assigned being absent, Mr. Conolley volunteered that the "current events of the week were disgusting," and the Society then passed to the phase of argument, or the debate for the evening.

The affirmative side of the debate, "Resolved, that no decrees of absolute divorce should be granted by any court in the United States, except for adultery," was ably upheld by Messrs. W. M. Tuck and W. H. Conelley, while the negative was supported by Messrs. F. C. Parks and Philo Coco. The judges, Messrs. Holloway, Parse, and Sutherland, gave their divided decision for the negative.

Extemporaneous debate speeches were made by Messrs. Funkhouser, Loving, Flournoy, Old, and others. Mr. Abbott gave an extempore talk on "Citizenship," and Mr. Cheves concluded the program with the customary remarks of the critic. Remember that future meetings begin at 7:15 every Saturday night, and be there.

GLAD HAND TO ALL

VIOLIN SOLOIST THURSDAY NIGHT

Winston Wilkinson at Library; Is a Lynchburg Product

Winston Wilkinson, the noted American violinist, will appear to Washington and Lee in classical repertoire at the University Library Thursday night, November 11, 1920 at 8 o'clock. He will be accompanied by Miss Marie Maloney, a pianist of some note.

Mr. Wilkinson has appeared before the American public with such world-famous artists as Enrico Caruso, and Amelita Galli-Curci. He toured the principal cities of the United States with John McCormack, the noted Irish tenor, last year.

His program covers the whole literature of violin compositions, which according to Press comments, he interprets with an individual charm that is irresistible. Those members of the student body who heard him last year at Lynchburg when he appeared with John McCormack, can verify this statement.

Winston Wilkinson is a Virginian, having been born and reared in the city of Lynchburg. He first attracted wide attention when a mere boy by winning the Southern District Contest of the National Federation of Music Clubs. The admission to the concert will be one dollar.

PAINT AND PATCHES CLUB SATURDAY

Fifteen Sweetbriar Girls Under R. L. Dempster to Present Three One-Act Plays

Next Saturday night Lexington will be attacked by the Paint and Patches Club of Sweetbriar College. This is a dramatic organization composed of fifteen beautiful girls who will present three one-act plays at the New Theater.

The Club is under the able directorship of Mr. Robert L. Dempster, the noted actor. He was at one time leading man for Marguerite Clark and played opposite Frances Starr for several seasons. For the past six years he has been with the Shuberts, Belasco and George M. Cohan.

The three plays to be given are entitled: "Three Pills in a Bottle," a Harvard Workshop Play, "Emily's Young Man" by Gertrude Jennings, and "After the Concert."

It is possible that a dance may be arranged for the visiting young ladies and others for next Saturday afternoon but nothing definite has been decided.

GET Y. M. C. A. MEMBER- SHIP CARDS

Out of the fees paid by each student one dollar goes to the Young Men's Christian Association. In return for this dollar every student is privileged to become a member of the Young Men's Christian Association without paying additional fees. However, membership is only granted upon application. Applicants for membership and membership cards signifying membership should be made to the Y. M. C. A. Secretary in his office. Membership cards must be shown at the door for entrance into the Lyceum entertainments. This is thought to be necessary because, due to the large number of students, it will be practically impossible for any student doorkeepers to identify all students.

The first entertainment is not until November 17. Be sure to get your membership card before that date.

JOE AND THE GODDESS OF CHANCE

Lexington, Va.
Nov. 5, 1920.

Dear Bill,

I have been having all kinds of trouble since you last heard from me. The fact of the business is that I have been financially embarrassed. The reason I am broke is because I have been taking too many chances.

You know me, Bill, I'm a real sport and money is no object to me when I gamble. I won $2.50 on the Roanoke game off a drunk from the other side of House Mountain who gave me even money on the visitors. Since I saw things were going my way I decided to take a chance on a hundred dollar raffle that the I Tappa Kegs were pulling off. Altho I took 21 chances which cost me about $35 I didn't win. Gosh but that tore a hole in my bank account.

But that isn't all of it. Since I was so far in debt I decided to start a raffle of my own for $100 but couldn't sell but two chances on it. One I sold for $1.70 and the other one was free and darned if the free one didn't win. I wrote dad and told him to sell my two calves and he advanced me $100 on them. You needn't tell him what I wanted it for.

We went up to V. P. I. last week and everybody said we were going to get beat. I didn't see why if we were going to lose I couldn't make a little money. out of it for you know I needed it. So I bet a Lynchburg alumnus that we would get beat. As you know darned if we didn't win. Now that it is all over, Bill, I am glad I lost. The fellow that bets vs. his Almer Matter deserves to lose.

I don't want you to think that I am pushing you at all, Bill, and there is nothing I wouldn't do for you, you know, but I could certainly use that $14 I won off you playing dominoes last summer.

Your old pal,
Joe.

ENTERTAINMENTS TO OPEN NOVEMBER 17

Free To Association Members;
Will Be Held In High School Auditorium

Three of the best concert numbers on Lyceum Circuits have been engaged by the local Y. M. C. A. to give entertainments here during the winter. The dates for these entertainments are November 17, January 5, and February 2.

The first, the Harpvocal Ensemble, is without question one of the most unique and finest in the Lyceum world. They have traveled together for two years, filling a hundred dates each season, and being returned to the largest cities of the East for second and third engagements. The company is composed of three harpists, Miss Nellie Zimmer, Miss Ethel Zimmer, and Miss Louise Harris, and two assisting artists, Miss Agnes Lindstrom, Swedish soprano, and Mario Capelli, tenor.

Each one of the five is an artist, and their combination programs are a real musical treat. The program will not be strictly classical, but it will not be a so-called popular program. The Y. M. C. A. feels that the only existing need in the entertainment line is for worthwhile music, and it is for filling this need that this number has been provided. Y. M. C. A. membership cards must be shown at the door to gain admission. Approximately four hundred seats will be available for students, and the association hopes that every seat will be filled.

Performance will begin at 8:15, November 17, High School auditorium.

The society was named in appreciation of the services of the present head of the Engineering Department, David Carlisle Humphreys, who is now on a year's leave of absence.

WEST VA. WINS BY NARROW MARGIN

Hawkins returned Silverstein's kick-off 15 yards to his own 36-yard line. The Virginians were penalized two yards for time out for the fourth time. Beck made nine yards at left end and Dawson made eight yards at the opposite end. Martin made three at center. Martin made three at center and Beck made six yards at left end. Martin punched through center for a first down. Washington and Lee was again penalized two yards for taking time out the fifth time. Beck made eight yards at left end, but fumbled and Herndon recovered for Washington and Lee.

Three line plays gained three yards for Washington and Lee and Silverstein kicked to Beck, who was downed at the West Virginia 38-yard line, but the ball was brough back and West Virginia penalized five yards for offside. Silverstein punted to Beck who by a spectacular sprint ran 21 yards to the Washington and Lee 43-yard line. A pass failed and Beck ran nine yards at right end. Simon made five yards at right tackle. Dawson failed to gain. Beck broke loose and gained 15 yards around left end to the Washington and Lee 10-yard line. Martin made seven yards at right tackle. Lytle took Dawson's place at quarterback. Martin ploughed through center for a touchdown. Johnson kicked goal and West Virginia was on the long end; West Virginia, 14; Washington and Lee, 10.

Martin kicked to Tucker who returned to Washington and Lee's 20-yard line. Another snappy pass, Mattox to Herndon, made 26 yards. Simon intercepted a forward pass on West Virginia's 49-yd. line. Beck made five yards at left end and Simon gained two. Beck made four yards and a first down. Lytle tore off 16 yards at right end and Beck made three at center. Simon made three yards but Lytle was caught holding and West Virginia was penalized 15 yards. Beck lost two yards at left end but on the next play he made 12 yards at right end and the ball was West Virginia's on Washington and Lee's 18-yard line. Washington and Lee broke up a pass. Cogbill intercepted Martin's pass on the 17-yard line. A pass was grounded. Another pass failed. The spectators could hardly see because of the darkness. Frew kicked 60 yards to Hill who returned ten yards to Washington and Lee's 25-yard line. The game ended with the pigskin at that point.

ALL-STARS HOLD J. M. A. C. TO 14-0

was a striking feature of the game. Tutwiler, and Blain in the backfield showed up best in the offense, though Potts instead of kicking made a brilliant end run at one point in the game. Ward at end and Erwin at center played stellar football. The former's tackling and ability to break up passes was sensational, while Erwin, in a position new to him, gave his man a great deal of trouble.

Lew Stringer, formally of V. P. L., was the only man who was able to gain consistently for the J. M. A. C. Hunter Carpenter, former All-American halfback handled his team well at quarter but could do nothing in the offense himself. Turner Bethel at times showed flashes of his last year's form, especially in getting down under punts.

The line-up:

J. M. A. C.	Positions	All-Stars
McConkey	Left End	Ward
Bethel (Capt)	L. T.	Potts (Capt)

Carpenter	Quarterback	Cover

Stringer	Left Half	Riggs
Kleversahl	Right Half	Tutwiler

Scoring—Touchdowns: Stringer, 2; Goals kicked: Carpenter, 2.

Substitutions—J. M. A. C.: Christian for Kleversahl, Robins for Bethel, Christian for Carpenter and Carpenter for Christian, J. Stringer for Roden, Bethel for Robins, Northern for Christian, Griffith for Oakes, Roden for McConkey, Knapp for Ferguson, Graham for King, Peasley for Brown, Ferguson for Bethel, Rogerson for Griffith. All-Stars: Cobb for Riggs, Parse for Spencer.

TROUBADOUR SHOW NO. VENBER 30TH

Carl Gill, "Runt" Carter, Bill McCallum, O. W. McClintock, G. L. Cothran, Jimmy Thomas, J. B. Rountree, Charlie Wright, A. P. Phillips, C. A. Tutwiler and others. This promises to be an expose of the real manner in which movie comedies are made, and is written and produced by Gill, Moore and McClintock of the cast.

The most important feature of the show will be a two-act skit, written by J. L. Peck. This is the first time the Troubadours have undertaken anything of a serious nature and, from what has leaked out about this act, is will furnish an excellent medium for the display of the real dramatic talent which is latent in the Troubadours. From a large number of aspirants, a cast has been picked, after a number of tryouts, consisting of J. W. Dupree, J. L. Allgood, Francis Nullmeyer, and H. K. Gibbons. Frequent rehearsals are being held under the direction of J. L. Peck who reports that he is much pleased with prospects.

SOPHS DEFEAT FRESH FOOTBALL TEAM

Class Championship to be Decided Thanksgiving Week

In a hard fought and interesting game, the sophomore football team, after thirty minutes practice, defeated one of the freshman elevens Friday evening by the score of 9-0. The two teams were evenly matched, and considering their short practice, both put up good exhibitions of football.

For the sophomores, Mason, Thomas and Lester played best, the 60 yard run of Thomas for a touchdown and the perfect drop kick by Mason being easily the features of the game. There were no individual stars for the Freshman team, but every man was in the fight at all times and never let up until the game was over.

Coach Brett, who has charge of inter-class football, is arranging for a series of elimination games to take place Thanksgiving week, at which time the Seniors and Juniors will play, and the winner of this game will play the winner of the Freshman-Sophomore game for the class championship of the school.

DELAWARE MEET DOES NOT MATERIALIZE

Northern College Fails to Explain; Practice Continues For South Atlantic

The Cross Country meet that was to have been held here last Saturday with Delaware College did not materialize. Manager Kincheloe was unable to receive a reply to two telegrams which he sent in regard to the matter.

As first proposed the meet was to be held at Newark on Nov. 6, but for some reason the Delaware team decided they would rather come to Lexington and this was tentatively agreed on. No more has been heard from Delaware and no reply received to two letters and wires sent by Manager Kincheloe.

Cross-Country practice will continue to be held regularly, however, in preparation for the South Atlantic meet which will be held this year at the University of Virginia on Nov. 20th.

COFFEE SHOP ON WASH. STREET

Mrs. J. S. Conklin Opens Sanitary Restaurant Near Dutch Inn

A most welcome addition to Lexington's culinary establishments is the new Coffee Shop on Washington street, near the Dutch Inn. It was opened recently by Mrs. J. S. Conklin but is already enjoying quite a volume of the student trade. Salads, sandwiches, and plate-lunches are included in the present menu but it is planned to considerably enlarge both the size of the neat little restaurant and its service.

Among the improvements planned will be the opening of several cozy rooms or alcoves wherein delightful private dinner- or supper-parties may be arranged. Regular table-board for students also is contemplated but not yet definitely decided upon.
