WEATHER PREVENTS BASEBALL WORKOUTS

Workouts In Field-House and Gym Continue; So Far One
Outdoor Practice.

The weather is the arbiter of baseball events as far as the White and Blue nine is concerned. Work has progressed as far as possible under cover and it but needs warm weather and a dry field to start things booming. Under Twombly's coaching the batteries have been working out in the field-house, while the rest of the candidates have once or twice warmed up in the field house. Last Monday saw the first workout on the field for this season. Peppy games, in-field practice, and hitting were the order of the day, the novelty of being on the diamond doing much to enliven things. However, there could not be any sizing up of new men or predictions made regarding old men from the results of the first field practice.

According to Coach Raftery the prospects for 1922 season look good and he is waiting for good weather to get down to work in earnest. At present he is trying to get the gym for the use of the team, without which, if the weather remains inclement, the nine will enter the season under a serious handicap.

Coach Cy Twombly will be with the squad until about June 1 to look after the twirling part of the Varsity. Under R. A. Smith the outfielders are getting their workout. Coach Raftery is taking upon himself the task of working up a stellar infield.

INTER-FRAT TO OPEN ON FRIDAY

Handsome Trophy Will Be Awarded Winner; 19 Games
To Be Played.

The Interfraternity basketball season will open Friday with a game between the Delta Tau Delta's and the S. P. E.'s. Eddie Crockett is managing the games this year, and with the assistance of Geo. Hepburn and "Snake" Maben, has issued the following rules, announcements, and schedule:

"No man who has played in a varsity game of basketball at W. & L., or who has made a monogram in basketball at any other college is eligible to play.

"The winner gets a silver loving cup which is now held by the Sigma Nu Fraternity for the second time.

"If any fraternity wins for two successive years, or if it wins for any three years, the cup becomes its own property.

"Each game will consist of two ten-minute halves, starting promptly on the hour indicated, so as to allow the other fraternities some time to practice."

Schedule:
A—Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon on March 10th, at 3 p. m.
B—Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Chi, on March 10th, at 4 p. m.
C—Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Pi Kappa Alpha, on March 10th, at 5 p. m.
D—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Alpha Chi Rho, on March 11th, at 3 p. m.
E—Phi Kappa Psi vs. Arcades Club, on March 11th, at 4 p. m.
F—Pi Kappa Phi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, on March 11th, at 5 p. m.

FORM IS SHOWN BY CLASS QUINTS

Senior and Junior Lawyers Have Close Game; Juniors Have Five Varsity Scrubs.

The first of the interclass games were played off yesterday, the Junior Lawyers and Senior Academics being eliminated by the Senior Lawyers and Junior Academics, respectively.

Junior-Senior Law Game.

In the opening game the Senior Lawyers defeated the Junior Lawyers 11 to 8. The game was hotly contested throughout and it was anybody's victory up to the final whistle.

The first half ended 6 to 3 in favor of the Junior aggregation, but they failed to maintain this lead, due largely to unwise substitutions and an evident lack of defense. The two fives divided honors on field goals, each team registering three, but once more the free toss proved its importance and the Senior victory was the result of "Pete" Hisle's ability to ring them up from scratch.

The victors played the entire game without a single substitution, while the losing team made seven changes. Hisle and Terry were the shining lights for the Senior barristers, while Riche and Shuey did the best work for the Juniors.

Junior-Senior Academic Game.

The Junior Academics swamped the Senior Academics by the decisive count of 15 to 3 in the second interclass game which immediately followed the "legal" fray. The entire Junior team was composed of this year's Varsity scrubs, and although the prospective graduates put up a valiant fight, they were no match for Bill Raftery's "dirty five."

It was the old story of organized teamwork versus individual determination and as usual teamwork won with ease. The final score is a very fair indication of the game, since the three lone points registered by the Seniors were made from foul shots by Caldwell.

Kelly and Snively starred for the Juniors, while Dunlap and Tillar put up a good defensive game for the Seniors.

OUTDOOR TRACK MEN HAVE FIRST WORKOUT

More Candidates Needed; First
Meet Only One Month
From Today.

Coach Forrest Fletcher has issued the call for all outdoor track candidates to report to him. The first practice was held at 3:30 yesterday afternoon.

Prominent among the men who should go to form the nucleus of a team are as follows: Dashes, Thomas, DeSaussure, Humphreys, and Garber; middle distances, Williams, Child, Weiskell, McCartney, and H. A. Hall; mile-run, Smith, Pass, Gannaway, and Swope; two-mile, Howard, Smith and Guerrant; field events, Lewis, Rhodes, Ward, Norman, Riggs, Hall, and Potts; hurdles, Stolz, Bibb, Simmons, and Rhodes.

The schedule arranged by Manager Raymond Smith is as follows:

April 8—Virginia at Charlottesville.
April 15—Maryland at Baltimore.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL BEGINS AFTER EXAMS

Schedule Being Arranged Calls
For Four Trips and Nine Games.

Coach Brett announced today that Freshman baseball practice will begin immediately upon the termination of exams. Candidates for battery positions begun practice on March 7 with the regular Varsity candidates, under the supervision of Coach Twombly. The "Frosh" up to date have a very strong schedule, including some of the best teams in this section.

The schedule so far includes five games, Covington High, University of Virginia Freshmen, Shenandoah Valley Academy, Staunton Military Academy and Shenandoah Collegiate Institute, while three other games, John Marshall High of Richmond, Chatham Training School, and Danville High are pending, and in all probability will soon be scheduled.

A review of last year's season shows that the Freshmen were fairly successful, considering the strong teams played, winning the first two games with Buchanan and Fishburne, 8 to 1 and 5 to 3 respectively, but losing the last three to A. M. A., Covington High, and John Marshall, by the scores of 10-1, 4-3, and 1-0. The games secured so far on this year's schedule are, as a whole, much stronger than those of last season.

Dr. J. R. Long, dean of the law school, concluded a series of lectures on "Reform of Government" to the Woman's Club of Lynchburg last Monday evening.

GENERALS MADE BRILLIANT 1922 BASKETBALL RECORD

FRESHMEN CLOSE
SEASON AT V. P. I.

Victory Over Tech Scrubs
Closes One of Best Seasons
For First Year Team.

The Freshman basketball team closed a successful season last Friday night in a fitting manner, when they trounced the V. P. I. Junior Varsity by the close score of 27 to 24. The game was hotly contested through the entire forty minutes of play, and there was never more than five points difference in the score. The "Frosh" played their fastest game of the season, their passing and dribbling being good at all times and often brilliant. Every man played a bang-up brand of basketball and the individual stars would be hard to pick. Gaines with four baskets and McMillan with three led the attack. A singular feature of the contest was that only one foul was called on V. P. I.

Coach Brett's charges have made an enviable record, winning four games out of six with a schedule that included five of the largest prep schools in the state. First, Fishburne was easily trimmed 45 to 32. Next, Augusta Military Academy was forced to lower her colors 19 to 15 after a hard battle. The third game saw the strong Staunton Military Academy win a heartbreaking struggle in the last few seconds of play, 20 to 19. On a two-day trip Chatham Training School was walloped handily 35 to 10, but the clever Virginia Episcopal School five proved a little too strong and they finally won out 55 to 40 after a grueling fight.

NOTICE TO GYM TEAM

All gym team men report at Miley's Studio Thursday at 2:30 prompt. Bring uniform.

WORK ON THE CALYX NEARS COMPLETION

All Work To Be Sent To Publishers By March 15; Books To Be Out By May.

Practically all the Calyx work is now in the hands of the publishers. The contract requires that all the contents be in by March 15 and the week which remains will be spent in putting on the finishing touches. A few more jokes of local color, however, could be used in the humorous department and anyone turning them in, whether on the staff or not, will receive recognition. Because of getting the work in this early the delivery of the annuals by May 15 has been guaranteed.

The art work this year is of especial note. The artists have been working overtime to make this branch one of the features of the Calyx and they have succeeded exceptionally well. The illustrations in the athletic department by D. G. Kaylor are worthy of mention as those by P. W. Mullins, T. Rice, R. M. Over-

WON ELEVEN; LOST THREE

With Entire Team Returned Next
Year Generals Face Great Outlook On Court In 1923.

In defeating the University of North Carolina five in Raleigh last Thursday night, the Generals' quint closed a most successful court season, marred by but three reverses. Included in the eleven victories were drubbings administered to Tennessee, V. P. I., St. Johns, N. C. A. & E., and the U. of N. C., both the last named teams falling twice before the White and Blue.

The season opened at home when Coach Raftery's men downed Emory and Henry, 39 to 21, in a game that was surprisingly fast for an opener. The next contest was a local walkaway over Hampden-Sidney who received the short end of a 48-18 score. This game marked the initial appearance in Doremus Gym of "Red" Schneider, who was substitute for Jimmie Thomas in the closing minutes of the game.

The third victory of the season came with the next game when Roanoke College was snowed under to the tune of 51-16. The visitors never had a chance before the swift attack of the Hines-Glenn-Lake combination and could not penetrate the guarding of Cameron, Schneider, and Thomas. Elon College came next and secured the distinction of receiving the worst defeat handed out by the Generals

DEBATES RESULT IN TRIPLE TIE

Each Team Wins One and Loses
One; W. & L. Defeated
North Carolina.

The Annual Triangular Debate between the University of North Carolina, Johns Hopkins University and Washington and Lee was held on Saturday night and resulted in one victory and one defeat for each school.

Johns Hopkins met North Carolina in Lee Memorial Chapel and the result was a victory for North Carolina by a three to two decision of the judges. At the same time Washington and Lee was debating North Carolina at Baltimore and Johns Hopkins at Chapel Hill. J. N. Thomas and J. G. Ragsdale, members of the team who represented Washington and Lee against North Carolina were the only debaters from the three schools who were able to gain a victory through a unanimous decision from the judges. These two speakers outclassed their opponents in a spirited debate before a large audience.

S. A. Glickstein and E. W. Poindexter, handicapped by having the more difficult side of the question, were less successful and were defeated by the Johns Hopkins team by a four to one decision.

The fact that none of the entrants won both debates ended the triangular affair without a victory for any one of the three schools.

GET OUTSIDE

The gymnasium exhibition held night before last officially closed the indoor athletic season. Incidentally, it showed that excellent results are being achieved by the University's program of compulsory physical training for Freshmen and Sophomores.

In spite of frequent rains and March winds, when a day such as this one has been sheds its balmy warmth upon the Blue Ridge there comes the thrill of Nature's annual awakening. Gentle spring is at last really on the way, "with the blue-bird singing sweetly down the lane." The man is to be pitied who does not feel renewed vigor and mounting strength at such a time of sure promise. Baseball bats crack merrily on old Wilson Field, track candidates are limbering up their muscles, boat crew and tennis are being discussed.

Preparations for the outdoor season will soon be fully under way. Get outside and take part in the work!

A CHANCE FOR WRITERS

Two worthy contests of exceptionally interesting nature have been offered to W. and L. students. One is being conducted by The Schoolman, a prominent church paper, and exhibits unusual frankness and understanding in the choice of a title. "Why I Should Not Enter the Ministry" is a subject not ordinarily chosen by a church paper, but it is the side discussed and upheld by many students, as the lack of ministerial candidates shows. Further information is posted on the Main Bulletin Board or may be had from Rev. Gibson. It is certainly worthy of investigation.

The other is an editorial contest, under the auspices of the S. I. N. A. of which the Ring-tum Phi is a member. The subject is "The Contributions of the College Newspaper To College Life." Although this is of primary interest to publication men, it is a matter that can be discussed by any student who is interested in newspaper work or has intelligent knowledge of college newspapers.

The rewards and the honor in each of these should prove stimuli to appropriate literary contributions. We commend these contests for your consideration.

"PIRATES" PLEASSED WITH JIMMIE MATTOX

Former W. & L. Baseball and Football Star Makes Good Showing In Pittsburgh Camp.

According to the following, taken from the Pittsburgh Post, Jimmie Mattox, the Generals' star on the diamond in 1920 and hero of the Georgia Tech game, from the showing made in the Pittsburgh camp, is considered a likely candidate for the backstop position with the Pirates this season.

West Baden, Ind., March 3.—Jimmie Mattox, the wiry little catcher who did such clever work for the Rochester Internationals last year, is a popular kid in the camp. This young textile engineer is quite a scholar. He obtained his education at Fishburne Military Academy and Washington and Lee University, being a star in baseball and football there. His greatest achievement was on the field of Georgia Tech when he defeated the Golden Tornado in 1919 by planting a drop-kick between the posts for the only score registered in the game. It was the first beating the Georgians had suffered in four seasons.

Mattox incidentally showed the Pirates a neat little trick today. He is one of those ambi-dextrous lads who can peg either right or left-handed. The catching position calls for right-handed throwing but those who have watched this bird in action declare that he has a record of having nailed runners on several occasions with his left whip.

The Voice of the Student Body

Editor of the Ring-tum Phi:

Dear Sir:—One of the most sacred traditions of Washington and Lee is the democratic spirit that has always existed among the students. Strangers comment upon it and spread reports broadcast concerning it. We are all proud of this spirit, and undoubtedly we should all endeavor to keep it alive.

It seems that one of the most fundamental factors of this spirit is being disregarded every day. This is the habit of every Washington and Lee student speaking to every other student, whether he be a Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior, or Post-graduate. To illustrate the truth of this statement we might consider the experiment which one of our alumni professors tried a short time ago. This professor walked from the main building to the postoffice and, against his custom, spoke only to those men who spoke to him first. His report is that only about one-third of the students whom he met spoke to him.

No one will dispute the fact that there is a laxity on the part of some of the students in regard to this. Of course, a man will occasionally have his mind concentrated on something and fail to recognize and speak to some few students. However, if this habitually occurs there can be no other than two conclusions to draw.

There seems to be only one remedy for this state of affairs. No one but the Student Body itself can afford a remedy. The responsibility lies with every student in the University. One of the best methods is to train the Freshmen from the beginning. If he gets this habit and lets it become indelibly stamped upon his mind, he is likely to continue it through his college career. One of the Freshmen rules approved by the Executive Committee, is that all Freshmen shall speak to all students and shall speak first. The writer suggests that every upper classman turn in to the Vigilance Committee the names of those Freshmen who fail to speak.

Nor will this be a complete remedy by any means. Not only are the Freshmen violators of this traditional custom. There are also a number of upper-classmen, men who are always proud to boast of the W. and L. spirit, but are unwilling to uphold it.

Let every true-spirited student look around him and "brand" the fellows who habitually walk by with their heads in the air and unassumingly violate this sacred principle. Freshmen, you have the most responsible position in regard to this matter. Start right by speaking yourself and then insist that the other fellow speak to you. Then, if you still find students who violate this principle constantly, you can be reasonably sure that they are too proud to speak to you, or else they are too everlastingly lazy.

Let's everyone strive to maintain this democratic spirit, and not let W. and L. be referred to as a bunch of snobs. It is an ideal that we will appreciate even more than we now appreciate it when we return in a few years as an alumnus. This will probably be an old subject to some of us, but it is a subject that we all should take to heart, and one that is constantly in need of rejuvenation.

A STUDENT.

FIFTH ANNUAL GYM MEET PROVES TO BE BEST YET

Rhodes and G. Simmons Set New Indoor Standing Broad Jump Record; Other Attempts Fail.

One of the largest audiences of the season filled the Doremus Memorial Gymnasium Monday night to witness the Fifth Annual Gymnasium Exhibition. The gym team, composed of C. E. Lambert, W. N. Rankin, W. K. Taliaferro, C. H. C. Braden, A. M. Pickus, H. A. Spang, and K. A. Goode, opened the program with a series of pyramids, followed by a wand drill by the Freshman class. The gym team next put on a lively exhibition of apparatus work in which Pickus and Taliaferro showed unusually good form. Following this, Hock and Hamilton gave a fine display of boxing prowess. The pyro-technic club swinging by W. R. Henderson and the comedy sketch by the Gotten brothers were also exceptionally good. M. Ottenberg as the clown successfully aroused merriment during the whole evening.

G. Simmons and R. Rhodes both succeeded in setting new records for the standing broad jump, Simmons jumping ten feet, one and one-half inches and Rhodes nine feet, eleven inches. Simmons also tied the previous record for the forty yard hurdles in five and one fifth seconds, while other attempts to set new records in the pole vault, forty yard dash, half-mile and two mile failed. The gym team closed the evening's entertainment with a Sailors Hornpipe dance.

this season, falling beneath a 63-19 avalanche. The fifth court contest was a fifth win when the local cagers took St. Johns College into tow by playing rings around the visitors who were able to run up but 11 points while the Generals scored almost at will, amassing 49. Tennessee came next and what was expected to be the first hard game of the season resulted in an easy victory for Washington and Lee, 40 to 11.

The first reverse of the season came when the Generals took the road and met West Virginia at Huntington. The locals were admittedly far off their usual form and the Mountaineers won 34-17. Inability to shoot was in great measure responsible for the loss, since an analysis of the game shows that the victors were able to register 16 of their 83 chances at goal while the Generals were successful in but 7 of their 74 opportunities. The Jinx took to the trail of the Big Team who dropped the next game, unrivalled as a spectacular exhibition, to Kentucky State, last year Southern champs, by the score of 21-20, the winning point coming as a result of a successful foul shot in the last half-minute of action. Schneider and Hines were out of this game, and Lake played with a badly injured foot, which in measure explains the unexpected result.

Despite predictions to the contrary, the Generals defeated V. P. I. in the next game which was played in Lynchburg. The team was still badly crippled but defeated its old rivals 38-32 before a record crowd of townspeople and accompanying students. North Carolina State came next and was easily defeated on the local court, 35 to 12. The University of North Carolina followed and lost a brilliant game, trailing on the unsatisfactory end of a 38-25 verdict. In both these last named contests, the White and Blue completely outclassed the powerful Tarheel teams.

Then came the Virginia catastrophe in Lynchburg, the Charlottesville crew celebrating the resumption of major athletic relations between the schools by winning from Washington and Lee 35 to 25. That loss seems inexplicable since it is highly improbable that there is a fair-minded W. and L. man who does not conscientiously believe that the best team lost.

The Generals went to Raleigh to close the season again, stacking up against N. C. State and the U. of N. C. The former was defeated 32-31, the closeness of the score indicating more of a slump on the part of the victors than a tremendous improvement by the losers. The final contest of the season was a fitting climax, the "Southern Champions" losing to W. and L., 39-36.

MOVEMENT STARTED FOR W. & L. GOLF TEAM

Plans for the organization of a golf club are now under way and correspondence is being carried on with the University of North Carolina, Davidson, University of Tennessee, and the University of Virginia in regard to tournaments. Ted Simmons and Roger Jones are in charge of this movement and although a call for candidates for the team will be issued soon anyone wishing information prior to the call concerning the club may obtain it from these men.

There is no reason why Washington and Lee shouldn't have a golf club and one that will uphold the standard of its teams since there is such excellent material to be found on the campus. G. L. Gibbons, amateur champion of Florida, and others who have played in championship tournaments are behind the movement.

Dan Blain, '21, now instructor at Augusta Military Academy, was in Lexington Sunday.

OUTDOOR TRACK MEN HAVE FIRST WORKOUT

April 18—Johns Hopkins at Lexington.

May 1—University of Richmond at Lexington.

May 6—Virginia Tech at Blacksburg.

May 12 and 13—South Atlantic meet at Charlottesville.

With such a hard schedule as this, Coach Fletcher is anxious to have every man in the University with ability report to him and try out for the team. If any man is handicapped by having laboratory or anything else at 3:30 every afternoon he may report to the coach and special hours for practice will be assigned him.

The fact that the first meet of the season will be with Virginia at Charlottesville one month from today makes it necessary that the squad get down to hard work as soon as possible.

Last fall a game was scheduled for Charlottesville and February 25 tentatively selected for a return game at Raleigh. No definite arrangements were ever made in regard to this game."—Lynchburg News.
