Lee Elected R-t P Editor; Other Election Is Delayed

Smith Heads '59 Collegian

Bryant to Edit Fri. Paper For Remainder of Year

Peter Lee was elected editor of the Tuesday Edition of the Ring-tum Phi and Don Morine was elected Business Manager of the newspaper at a meeting of the Publications Board Monday night.

J.M. Bryant, Pi Kappa Phi junior from Clarksville, Arkansas, was selected editor of the Friday edition for the remainder of this session. Election for editor of the Friday paper for next year was delayed until April 28. Bryant was previously managing editor of the Friday paper before his election at a special meeting of the Board Tuesday night. He replaces Kim Wood who resigned as a result of academic difficulties.

At Monday's meeting, Voigt Smith was named editor of the Southern Collegian and Joe Smith was elected business manager. Election for editor of the Friday edition of the Ring-tum Phi will be held on April 28.

Lee is an SAE rising junior from Pensacola, Florida, and has served as News Editor, assistant managing editor and managing editor of the Ring-tum Phi during the last two years. He is also a member of the Assimilation Committee and an officer in his fraternity.

The new business manager of the Ring-tum Phi, Don Morine, is a rising Sigma Chi senior from Shaker Heights, Ohio. Morine has served on the business staff of the paper for three years and this past year he has been circulation manager of the business staff.

Southern Collegian editor-elect Voigt Smith is a Kappa Sig rising senior who has written in the Ring-tum Phi besides his work as managing editor of the humor magazine. Smith is from Freeport, Illinois, and is a journalism major. He is also senior editor of Home Edition.

Joe Smith is a rising Phi Psi junior from Bethesda, Maryland who has been on the business staff of the Collegian for the past two years.

Bill Roberts, president of the Publications Board, expressed his opinion that the new editors and business managers elected for next year are well-qualified for their positions and should provide the University with efficiently operated and interesting publications.

Navy Interviews Set for April 16

A Naval Officer Information Team representing the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Washington, D. C., and Naval Aviation Information Office, Norfolk, Va., will be on the campus on Wednesday, April 16, to interview seniors interested in obtaining commissions in the United States Navy.

The Information Team will administer the Officer Qualification Test to all interested seniors at 10:15, 12, 2 and 4 in Payne 26 on Wednesday, April 16. This one-hour test may be taken at any of the above times in Payne 26. It is the mental prerequisite test required of all candidates for Officer Candidate School and for the Aviation Officer Candidate program.

The Navy Team will have a display in the foyer of Washington Hall and will have information on all Navy Officer Programs, including line, aviation, medicine, law, supply, intelligence.

Further information about Navy Programs may be secured from the Naval Reserve Liaison Officer for Washington and Lee, Lieut.-Commander Marvin B. Perry, Jr., Payne Hall 24. Telephone HO 3-5315.

Walton Elected UCA President

Irby Walton was elected president of the University Christian Association at a meeting held Monday night in the Student Union.

Walton, a Phi Delt junior from Richmond, is also assistant manager-editor of the Calyx, a dormitory counselor, and a member of the Episcopal student vestry.

In fulfilling one of the responsibilities of the office of president, Walton will attend a six week's summer session at the renowned Union Theological Seminary.

Other officers elected were Davis Calvert, Phi Psi from Baltimore, vice-president; Bob Funkhouser, KA from Charleston, W. Va., secretary; and John McMurray, a Phi Eta Sigma student from the Belgian Congo, treasurer.

The UCA also made plans to hear Dr. Myers, professor of philosophy, in Lee Chapel Thursday at 12:05. Dr. Myers will speak on the "Phrases of the Lord's Prayer." Tom O'Brien will be the student leader of the worship service.

Also in the meeting, George Thompson, chairman of the worship committee, expressed his hope that the student body would try to attend these Thursday worship services for the rest of the year. Mr. Gelwick and Dr. Gaines will be the speakers for the next few weeks.

Outgoing president Bill Goodman commended the group on its election of a man of "outstanding ability, maturity, and leadership." Goodman also stated that Walton is the "best man possible."

The University Christian Association this past year has established several new features at Washington and Lee under the leadership of Bill Goodman, president of the group. The weekly University worship services in Lee Chapel have been continued throughout the year.

British Colonial Expert To Deliver Address Here

"Colonialism and American Foreign Policy" is the subject of a lecture which will be given by Mr. Harold Cooper in duPont Hall at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, April 17. The lecture, to which the public is invited, is being sponsored jointly by the Washington and Lee International Relations Club and the Lexington Branch of the English-Speaking Union of the U.S.

Cooper, a former administrator in the British colonial service, is an expert on the transition of colonial peoples to self-government. He is particularly well informed on British foreign policy as it affects Colonies and Protectorates, having served in many of these areas in an official capacity.

After graduation from Cambridge University and further studies at Oxford, Yale, and Princeton, Mr. Cooper joined the British Colonial

McCloy To Speak On The 'Extracurricular Lawyer'

John Jay McCloy, chairman of the board of Chase Manhattan Bank and former United States High Commissioner for Germany, will deliver the 10th annual John Randolph Tucker Lectures at Washington and Lee University April 18-19.

McCloy will speak at noon Friday on "The Extracurricular Lawyer." At noon Saturday, he and Dr. Arnold Toynbee will discuss "The Role of the Lawyer in a Changing World." President Francis P. Gaines will moderate the discussion.

The Tucker lectures are usually a series of three lectures, but were modified this year to include the special discussion Saturday afternoon with Dr. Toynbee.

A large segment of the audience will be composed of Washington and Lee law students and alumni attending the annual spring meeting of the Washington and Lee Law School Association.

McCloy is a director of several large corporations, and he serves as a trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation, the Ford Foundation, Amhurst College, and Johns Hopkins University.

The lectures are conducted under the direction of the Dean of the School of Law, Clayton E. Williams.

A law graduate of Harvard in 1921, McCloy has been chairman of the board at Chase Manhattan Bank since 1953. From 1949 to 1952 he was prominent in the news as U.S. High Commissioner for Germany.

He received his undergraduate education at Amherst, and in 1921 he was admitted to the New York

Dance Board Post Interviews Planned

Interviews for the position of Assistant Business Manager of the University Dance Board have been scheduled for Wednesday, April 30, at 2:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building.

The position is open to any qualified rising junior. Interested men are requested to make application in writing before they appear for their personal interview. Applications should include personal data relative to the position and a brief statement of interest. They should be mailed at once to Joe Craycroft, care of Phi Kappa Psi, President-elect of the Dance Board.

The elected rising junior will apprentice the job of Business Manager during his junior year and will automatically assume that position in his senior year. The position carries with it a salary of $275 plus traveling expenses.

Administrative Service in 1934. During the following twenty years his assignments included such widely separated posts as the Gold Coast, Nigeria, and Fiji Islands. At the latter post, during the Second World War, he worked closely with United States forces in that part of the world.

Mr. Cooper retired from the Administrative Service in 1954 and since then he and his American-born wife have been living near Washington. He has written extensively and is frequently called upon to advise government and military groups. He has lectured on African Affairs at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced Internal Studies and has addressed many American Branches of the English-Speaking Union. His speaking ability and delivery have been compared favorably to those of Sir Winston Churchill.

Bar, serving with two prominent New York law firms until 1940. After World War II he was a full partner of Milbank, Tweed, Hope, Hadley, and McCloy for a year before becoming a key figure in international banking.

The Tucker lectures were begun in 1949 as a memorial to John Randolph Tucker, former dean of the law school, and in observance of the 100th anniversary of the school that year. Prominent judges, attorneys, and educators have conducted the lectures.

The Tucker Lectures have provided Washington and Lee with lecturers of the highest reputation and men of both national and international fame. The first Tucker lecturer was the Honorable John W. Davis, a graduate of Washington and Lee's law class in 1895, former professor at Washington and Lee, and Democratic candidate for President of the U.S. in 1924.

Six W&L Men Receive Grants

Five seniors and one faculty member have received awards for advanced study from the Southern Fellowships Fund, it was announced today by Dr. W. W. Pusey.

The students, who will hold the College Teaching Career Fellowships are Robert F. Banks, Richard A. Davis, John R. Hanson, Randall F. Robinson, and John Gill Holland, Jr. Thomas E. Ennis, Jr., Assistant Professor of Accounting, will hold a Faculty Fellowship for Advanced Study and Research for 1958-59. With this grant, Mr. Ennis will study toward a Ph.D. in Business Administration at the University of Michigan.

The five students are among 71 persons in southern colleges and universities receiving such fellowships. The SSF awards these grants, in an experimental program, to graduating seniors from 25 southern colleges and universities who wish to do graduate study in preparation for careers of teaching in southern colleges and universities.

These awards are for three years of graduate study, with the stipend rising from $1000 in the first year to $1500 in the second, and $2000 in the third, in addition to tuition.

Marine Recruiter To Come Monday

The Marine Corps Officer Procurement Officer will visit W&L for the last time this year on April 21-22, it was announced today.

Capt. William C. Holmberg will be in the Student Union on those two days to discuss possibilities for students to enroll in either the Platoon Leader Class, which is open to all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors; and Officer Candidate-Aviation Officer Candidate Courses, which are open to seniors.

To qualify for any of the programs, the candidates must make the necessary score on the Officers Qualification Test.

U.S. Army To Inspect W&L ROTC on Thursday

The annual Federal inspection of Washington and Lee's Reserve Officer's Training Corps will be held tomorrow (Thursday). Each year, every ROTC detachment in the country is subject to an annual inspection by representatives of the Department of the Army. The inspectors are usually military instructors in other colleges and universities.

Hough Opposing Alford For Pres. of Student Body

Spring political activity opened yesterday with the announcement of the slates of the University and Independent parties. The usual last minute political maneuvers were highlighted by the Sigma Chi's decision to leave the Independent Party and join the powerful University Party.

The University Party slate, headed by PiKA Royce Hough as presidential candidate, now enjoys a 10-7 ratio in Fraternity line-ups in the party system. John Alford, Phi Gam law student is the Independent Party's candidate for president.

Hough is a Phi Beta Kappa and ODK rising senior who served as President of Openings this year. He was IFC "Outstanding Freshman" his first year and last year won the Phi Beta Kappa sophomore award. Hough's opponent, John Alford, is president of the Intermediate law class and vice-justice of Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. He was Independent Party candidate for vice-president of the student body last year.

See Editorial on Page Two for Ring-tum Phi endorsement of Candidates.

The vice-presidential race now is between Phi Delt law student Ike Smith and PEP junior Mike Masinter. Masinter is a Dean's List student and former house manager of his fraternity. Smith is an ODK, former football player and dorm counselor. Smith is the University Party candidate and Masinter is the Independent Party's new candidate for the post. Previous to the Sigma Chi move last night, it was said that Evan Kemp would be the Independent candidate.

Ralph Evans, ZBT rising senior and next year's business manager of the Calyx is the University candidate for secretary of the student body. Evans faces Corky Briscoe, Delt rising senior and a member of ODK, who is the Independent Party's candidate.

University Party Chairman Vernon Holleman announced late yesterday that the Sigma Chi's have allied themselves with the University Party. Holleman stated that the party had accepted the Sigma Chi's and that the party was very happy to have the new addition.

Sigma Chi president John Hollister stated that, "Our change comes primarily as the result of a feeling, by each member of the house, that we, by so doing, shall end a conflict in our own minds between party affiliation and good conscience when we vote in both student body and individual class elections."

The Sigma Chi move is said to have begun some time ago and reached a climax during the past few days when representatives of the Sigma Chi house approached some members of the University Party to discuss the possibility of the move. These University Party members discussed the situation with the Sigma Chi's and with other University Party representatives. To insure the merger, there is a strong probability that the Sigma Chi's were offered two important candidacies for class elections later this Spring.

University Party candidate for Fancy Dress is KA Murray Wadsworth, a member of SWMSFC and twice a vice-president of dance sets. As of this writing, the Independent Party has failed to name a definite candidate, but a decision will be reached today.

Sigma Nu rising junior Dave Weaver, the University candidate, faces Lambda Chi rising senior Jerry Lindquist as the Independent's choice for president of Openings Dance Set. Weaver was an end-man in the 1958 Minstrel Show, and is currently secretary of the sophomore class. Lindquist is president of his fraternity and a member of the journalism fraternity.

Springs Dances candidates are Frank Surface for the University Party and Bill Young for the Independent.

JOHN ALFORD

Bridge Tourney In Qtr. Finals

The first three rounds of the Tuesday Ring-tum Phi bridge tournament have been completed and 16 teams have entered the quarter-final rounds. Prepared hands and duplicate play will follow for the next three rounds.

In the first round play Gingold and Levy defeated Glauser and Haine and Miller and Grabau won over Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner. All other teams received first round byes.

In the second round Strite and Ahry defeated Goller and Biberman while Ulrich and Johnson won over Hoogenboom and O'Brien. Barry and John turned back Goldsmith and Kocen, and Crews and Miller defeated Kolp and Marsh. Olds and Kleeman won over Kemp and Carter, and Slater and Sussman turned back Hudnall and Glendy. Flegal and Cummins won over Mrs. Coates and Mrs. Cook and Soper and Chadwick defeated Miller and Grabau.

In the lower bracket Clark and Riddle downed Gingold and Levy while Mr. and Mrs. Abeloff topped Mr. and Mrs. Roettger. Neff and Daniels beat Meador and Clark, and Romans and Abbott won over Hughes and Howcott. Cohn and Blank defeated Diehl and Block, and Caskie and Flora beat Schele-singer and Hecht. Friedlander and Evans defeated Vann and Fidler, and LaRue and Susskind stopped Friedman and Applefeld.

There will be a meeting of all those in the quarter-final round Wednesday at 4:30 in the Student Union.

The Qualifications. . . . NOT Party Affiliations. . . . Should Determine The Way You Cast Your Vote

Endorsement Is Presented

For the first time in several years, the Tuesday Edition of the Ring-tum Phi is engaging in an editorial policy of endorsing candidates for student body offices. This endorsement is made on the basis of the qualifications of the individual candidates irrespective of party affiliations. If the endorsement is heavily weighted in favor of one party, it is because a consideration of the individual merits of the candidates, and only that consideration, justified the result.

The endorsement is an editorial, and, as such, it represents only the opinion of the editorial board of the Tuesday Edition. It is being offered for several reasons.

First, it is the obligation of a newspaper to take a positive stand on any issue involving affairs which are of interest to the student body.

Secondly, it is the responsibility of the editorial board to provide its readers with an informational service, in this case a comparison of the qualifications of the various candidates for office.

Thirdly, much pressure is annually applied to members of the respective parties to vote a straight party ticket, irregardless of the merits of the candidates. There has, in the past, been virtually no organized or positively publicized opposition to this pressure. By offering an endorsement policy to its readers, the Tuesday Edition hopes to focus more attention on the merits of the fourteen candidates.

Finally, it is expected that the endorsement will contribute to a more stimulating campaign. The endorsement itself might be the center of considerable controversy, but in the process of that controversy each student will be led to examine and defend, on grounds other than selfish party interests, his support for the different candidates. Whether the individual reader assents or disagrees with the specific endorsements of the Tuesday Edition is of small importance relative to the end of stimulating a more lively and intelligent campaign.

If any candidate feels that he has been slighted by the endorsement, space will be provided in next Tuesday's paper, prior to the election, for him to attack the endorsement and defend his candidacy.

For Pres.: Hough

As in the past, two outstanding candidates have been nominated for the office of President of the Student Body. Both Royce Hough and John Alford are qualified for the highest student office.

John Alford has the utmost respect for his fellow students in the law school and in the undergraduate student body. As an undergraduate, he was active in intercollegiate athletics, serving as co-captain of the baseball team and on the Dean's List. He was, in his senior year, Regimental Executive Officer of the ROTC. As a law student, he has served as Vice-President of the Freshman law class and as President of the Intermediate law class. He is on the Law Review and has served as Vice-Justice of his legal fraternity and on the Board of Governors, continuing to serve the undergraduate student body as camp counselor last year.

However, the qualifications of Royce Hough make a compelling case for his election. Hough this year attained the unusual distinction of being elected to both Phi Beta Kappa and ODK as a junior. There has been no candidate presented for a student body office in many years who could bring into the campaign such strong qualifications. Comparing the undergraduate records of the two candidates for President of the Student Body leave little in question. Hough won the IFC Outstanding Freshman Award, played on the varsity football team, and made Phi Eta Sigma grades his freshman year. As a sophomore, he won the Phi Beta Kappa sophomore Award which goes to the student in that class with the highest academic average, at the same time serving actively in the Christian Council and as a member of the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee. This year, as a junior, Hough was President of the Openings Dance Set, is on the lacrosse team, and, as stated above, was elected to both Phi Beta Kappa and ODK.

Summary: both men would do a good job, but Hough's superior qualifications can't easily be denied.

For Veep: Smith

The race for Vice-President of the Student Body leaves little in question. The two candidates for this office are now Ike Smith and Mike Masinter.

Although the latter's underdog position can be justified by a comparison of his qualifications with those of his opponent, he has to be commended for his courage to run for the office in the face of adverse odds and the confusion that has clouded the selection of the Independent Party nominee for this position.

Masinter, however, is certainly not without qualifications. He has served as vice-president, Treasurer, house manager, and rush chairman of his fraternity. He has been active in the glee club, the forensic union, the minstrel show, and the troubs. He has served as Assistant Director of the Minstrel Show, and as state chairman of the 1956 Democratic Mock Convention. Furthermore, he has held several leads in troubadour plays and has been on Dean's List.

In the campaign for Vice-President of the Student Body, however, Masinter faces one of the most popular and well-qualified candidates on either slate. Ike Smith has also served as a member of the Troubadours for three years, as co-director of the Minstrel Show, as an end-man in the Minstrel Show for three years, as a dormitory counselor, and as a member of the basketball team and the football team for two years, having been elected as co-captain of the football team last year. Smith has been on Dean's List, is currently Vice-President of the freshman law class, is a member of ODK, and was selected last year for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Summary: Masinter deserves credit and commendation, but Smith deserves election.

For Sec'y: Briscoe

The race for Secretary of the Student Body also features two qualified students. Ralph Evans and Corky Briscoe have both participated actively in student affairs and have proven their ability. Both are deserving candidates.

The odds favored Briscoe very heavily prior to the political switch which occurred yesterday. This was generally recognized, and the supporters of Evans helped engineer the political maneuver in an effort to improve Evans' chances by an increase in party numerical strength.

It is unfortunate that two such qualified men had to run against each other, eliminating one from election. However, the race should still be decided on the merits of the two respective candidates as they compete in this campaign; if one must lose, it should be on the basis of qualifications and not party numerical strength. Briscoe has the edge in qualifications and it is the hope in some quarters that they can defeat a stronger candidate by strengthening a party vote.

Although both men have participated actively, Briscoe's participation has been more extensive and his work has always shown excellence. Both Evans and Briscoe have served in equally responsible positions on the Calyx staffs, but Briscoe has also served on the student newspaper. Both have been active in athletics: Briscoe served three years in intercollegiate athletics, rendering his ability and efforts in that field when it meant self-sacrifice without due recognition; Evans discontinued his efforts in this field after his freshman year. Although Evans may have felt that he could contribute more in other endeavors, the fact remains that Briscoe has carried the burden of his other activities while also continuing his service in a field where that service was desperately needed.

Evans has served as a member of the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee and has worked on its several projects. Briscoe volunteered to work in the Minstrel Show and has served as stage manager of the Minstrel in addition to serving as a member of the assimilation Committee. Evans has a slight advantage in a comparison of the grades of the two candidates, although neither has a "B" average.

Both men have served as house manager of their respective fraternities. Both also will have served as presidents of dance sets by election time, but Briscoe served as president of W&L's largest dance set, one which required considerably more organization and work than the Spring Dance Set, which is the smallest of our dance sets. Briscoe's 1958 Fancy Dress was one of the best dance sets seen at W&L in many years, showing uniqueness of design, theme, publicity, and other details. Evans may present an outstanding Dance Set and may argue that this comparison is invalid, since both had only to work with what they were given. It may be argued on the other hand that last year Briscoe was considered qualified by his own party to run for a position of greater responsibility, while Evans was assigned a much smaller post by his party.

Furthermore, Briscoe showed considerable initiative in his term of office as President of the Sophomore Class last year. For the first time in over four years, he turned what is normally a strictly honorary office into an active office. He organized a class unity party and carried it off with great success, something that had long been desired but never actually organized and put into effect. For his excellence in his several fields of endeavor, he was elected to ODK this year as a junior, giving him another strong qualification for office not possessed by Evans.

Summary: both are qualified and deserving, but Briscoe's service has been more extensive and self-sacrificing and he has seldom failed to excel in his work. Briscoe merits the election, despite the political efforts to defeat him.

Openings: Toss-up

Running for President of Openings Dance Set are Dave Weaver and Jerry Lindquist. From the standpoint of the qualifications of the two candidates, the race appears to be a toss-up.

Dave Weaver, a sophomore, is a member of the Sazeracs, is Secretary of the Sophomore class, has been on Dean's List, and has participated in Varsity Track. This spring he also served as an end-man in the Minstrel Show.

Jerry Lindquist, a junior, is president of his fraternity, a member of the varsity lacrosse team, Home Edition Staff, Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, the Ring-tum Phi, and will serve as Co-Chairman of the Colonial Conclave of his fraternity, which will be host to fraternity chapters from Virginia and North Carolina. Lindquist will also have the unique opportunity this summer to participate in a Radio Communications International Tour as a representative of W&L. He will join students from the journalism schools of 1,520 schools in a tour which will take him to the Brussels world Fair and Moscow.

Weaver

Summary: Again, both men are qualified to do a good job. Lindquist's activities have been largely confined to his fraternity and his journalism work, but his excellence in these fields balance Weaver's qualifications. It appears an even toss-up.

F.D.: Wadsworth

Fancy Dress President remains a big question mark at this time. With the withdrawal of the Sigma Chi fraternity from the Independent Party, Buddy Mower, previously their candidate, will not be running. This leaves Murray Wadsworth as yet unopposed.

It will take a popular and well qualified candidate to defeat Wadsworth. He is presently serving as President of the Junior Class. Furthermore, he has twice served as Vice-President of Openings Dances, being selected for that position for two consecutive years. This gives him valuable experience to carry into the campaign, experience which can hardly be matched by any other possible candidate for the office. In addition to his previous work on W&L dance sets, Wadsworth has served for two years on the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee and by virtue of his membership in that organization has worked extensively on its several projects.

Wadsworth

Summary: Wadsworth, who else? It will take a strong candidate to match his qualifications for a dance set office.

Springs: Surface

Frank Surface and Bill Young face each other in the campaign for President of Spring Dance Set. Both men are well-liked, both are good students, both have participated in the activities of the campus. However, Surface's qualifications are clearly superior.

Bill Young has participated for two years on the varsity football team, has been treasurer of his fraternity, and has made Dean's List. He has also worked on the Ring-tum Phi and is a member of the Cotillion Club.

Surface will be a Vice-President of Spring Dances this year, which will give him valuable experience in the organization of a dance set. He has participated on the varsity basketball and track teams, is a member of the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee, and is presently serving as the sophomore class representative on the Executive Committee of the Student Body.

Summary: The qualifications speak for Surface.

Finals: Woodson

For President of Finals Dance Set, the campaign will be between Ed Woodson and Ace Hubbard. Their qualifications leave only a thin line of distinction between the two candidates. These qualifications must therefore be very carefully drawn.

Ace Hubbard has served actively in his fraternity and has been a member of the varsity tennis team, the cotillion club. He has also been a member of White Friars and the 13 Club.

Woodson has been active on the Calyx business staff and was recently appointed assistant business manager. He has been a member of the Interfraternity Council, has served as a fraternity officer, has worked in the Minstrel Show, is also a member of the varsity tennis team. Woodson has also served in the Troubadours.

Summary: Woodson has the edge.

Woodson

Baseball Team Splits Doubleheader With West Va.

Generals Take First Game 4-2; Drop 2nd 16-0

Yesterday, the Washington and Lee nine clashed with the Mountaineers from West Virginia in an all important conference doubleheader at Smith Field. The Generals split their two games with what is considered the second best team in the conference, winning the first one 4-2 and losing the second 16-0.

First Game

It looked as if W&L was going to break the first game wide open when in the bottom half of the first inning they loaded the bases with none out on two walks and a single. However, West Virginia with the aid of a clutch double play was able to get out of the inning without being scored upon. In the last half of the second frame, Frank Hoopes, the team's leading hitter started things off with a single to left. With one out Broll walked. Then after Hoss was retired on a ground ball, the runners advanced to second and third. Just as it look as if West Virginia would once again choke off a W&L threat, Sandy Larson ramed a sharp single to left to break the scoring ice and put the blue in front 2-0. Meanwhile, Roy Carpenter aided by the fine fielding of his teammates was mowing down the Mountaineers at the plate. Carpenter aided his own cause with a booming double in the fifth when he drove in Charlie Broll and Bill McCollum with what proved to be enough to put the game on ice despite a two run uprising in the top of the seventh. Carpenter finished with an impressive five hit performance weakening slightly in the seventh when he gave up three hits.

Second Game

The second contest turned out to be an altogether different story as West Virginia capitalized on the Generals' sloppy fielding to take a commanding lead early in the game which resulted in a 16-0 whitewash for W&L. Mental lapses and errors marred the contest. Jerry Gordon started the game for W&L, but soon got himself into trouble as his control was below par and he began aiming the ball. Three runs in the second followed by a six run barrage in the third put the game on ice for the Mountaineers. Charlie Broll was brought in from left field to relieve Gordon in the third and went the route.

W&L Thinclads Beat Guilford College

In their second dual track meet of the season, the W&L cindermen scored an impressive 77½-53½ victory over Guilford College.

In the first completed event of the afternoon, Bridges and Dubose of W&L placed first and third respectively in the shot put. Kerr of Guilford took second. The winning heave was 39 feet 9 and ¾ inches. In the other field events, the Generals swept the discus as Bill Bowersok won with a toss of 116 feet 1 inch. Drew Danko and Captain Skip Rohnke placed second and third. The broad jump was a tie between W&L teammates Cherrybone and Bill Woolfolk at 19 feet 3 inches. James of Guilford was a close third. The Generals picked up another first and second place as Rohnke in his specialty threw the Javelin 168 feet 4½ inches. He was followed by Bridges. James picked up his second of three thirds of the afternoon in this event.

The pole vault was an exciting contest between Eddie Meyers of W&L and Henderson of Guilford. Both went to ten feet, but at this point Henderson soared over 10 feet 4 inches which Eddie remained at ten feet. Smith of W&L was third. The high jump was all Guilford's as their men coped a first and second place. The winning jump was 5 feet 7 inches. Surface, Hardwick, Ames, Hess and Corcoran, all of W&L, tied for third place.

In the first running event of the afternoon, Whiteside of Guilford turned in his first distance victory in the mile run. Whiteside was probably one of the more spectacular runners of the meet as he turned in a phenomenal achievement by winning the mile, the two-mile and placing second in the 880 yard run. His time for the mile was 4:47.8. He was followed by teammate Hardin and Ned Ames of W&L. Jack Blakeslee turned in one of the finest 440 times in recent years at W&L as he won in 51.9. He was followed by Webb of Guilford and Simpson of the Generals. Sprinter Dwight Chamberlain was a double winner as he took first in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. His time for the 100 was 10.4 and for the 220 he was clocked in 23.2. He was followed by teammate Bob Funkhouser and G

Stickmen Bow To Maryland 9-4, Pendleton Leads General Attack

By ROBERT O'BRIEN

In a hard-fought, mud-splattered contest Maryland's Terrapins downed W&L 9 to 4, led by Honorable Mention All-American attackman Dick Corrigan (Coach Gene Corrigan's brother) with 3 goals and 3 assists. The Generals' high scorer was attackman Ned Pendleton with 2 goals.

The Terrapins drew first blood and led 3 to 1 at half-time. A goal by midfielder Jay Stull with 3:38 gone in the third quarter made the score 3 to 2. However, Maryland went on to score 4 goals in that quarter to W&L's 2. Midfielder Bill Caspari scoring the other General Goal with 4:47 gone on an assist from Dave Nichols.

Jim Lewis

The Generals' star goalie Jim Lewis, played an excellent game on defense making 30 saves out of 58 Terrapin shots. He also showed up well on the clears, with accurate passing and good stick work. Kennedy, the Maryland Goalie, made 11 saves of the 29 Blue and White shots.

Thus far this season the Generals have won 2 out of 4 non-league contests. Both losses were to Class A competition, W&L being in Class B. The next game is scheduled for Saturday, April 20, in Baltimore, Maryland, against Johns Hopkins University. Hopkins is another Class A foe and is considered to be one of the best if not the best college lacrosse team in the country.

Good Defense

Even though handicapped by a muddy field, the W&L defensemen, Chuck Corn, Roger Doyle, and Chuck Crawford showed up well, as did Clark Lea and Corky Briscoe.

The Terrapins, however, demonstrated fine team work, all of their 9 goals being assisted. Most of these goals were scored in close around the crease in positions where it was extremely difficult for the goalie and the defensemen to stop them.

Tennis Team Tops W.Va.; Falls to Unbeaten Colgate

W&L's netmen broke even on their first two matches of the season as they dopped their opener to a powerful Colgate squad, 7-2, then bounced back yesterday to trounce West Virginia, 8-1.

Number five man Bill McWilliams was the only General to score a singles triumph in the Colgate contest, which was played here last Friday. The other W&L victory came in the number three doubles, with McWilliams and Charles Bowie topping Dick Carney and Mischa Markoff.

West Virginia

In Monday's match with West Virginia, which was played at the Homestead, the Blue took every match except number two doubles. Singles victories were scored by George Stuart, Tom Gowenlock, Mauricio Glauser, Ace Hubbard, McWilliams and Bowie. In doubles, McWilliams and Bruce Owen took the first match, Charles Hurt and Ed Woodson dropped the second, and Bowie and Tew DuBois took the third for the Generals.

W&L's next match is with the University of Virginia here at 2:30 on Thursday. The Cavaliers have a strong squad this season and rank with Colgate among the toughest teams the Generals face this Spring.

IN THE TWENTIES, up-to-date college gals wore raccoon coats, danced the Charleston and smoked Luckies. What's the rage on campus today? Raccoon coats. The Charleston. And Luckies! The conclusions are obvious. 1. Luckies were tops for taste in the Twenties and still are. 2. Smart smokers knew it and still do. So any gal who takes Luckies to a Roaring 20's party is a Dapper Flapper! And by George, the boy friend who sports 'em, too, is a Couth Youth! Prediction: In the 1980's, raccoon coats, the Charleston and light, good-tasting tobacco will still be in style!

Long Plays at Friday Formal

The dance Friday night which will open Spring Dance weekend will be formal, and will be from 9 to 1 o'clock, it was announced today by Harry Brunett, President of the University Dance Board. Johnny Long's orchestra will play for the dance.

Brunett also stated that Jimmy McPartland will play for a concert, and not a dance, on Saturday night. The concert will be from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. and the dress for it will be conventional.

The following are the Dance Board's regulations for dance weekends and will be in effect for these two events:

- 1) All W&L dances shall be free from alcoholic beverages and the effects thereof.
- 2) Smoking is prohibited at all times on the dance floor, in the balcony, and in the area around the athletic offices.
- 3) General conduct shall conform to the commonly accepted standards of good society and of a gentleman at all times.

The ZBT cocktail party honoring Dance Set President Ralph Evans will be held at the Mayflower Hotel Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 6:30. Rivers Chambers, an outstanding Baltimore band, will provide the music for the cocktail party.

teammate Bob Funkhouser and Guilfordman Merby in the 100 and by Webb and Funkhouser respectively in the 220. Henderson captured first in the 130 yard high hurdles. Chuck Day and Danko followed in that order.

Tom Eppley turned in a fine performance in the 880 as he stepped the distance in 2:04.8. He was trailed by Whiteside and teammate Bill Offutt was third. The winning time was a creditable 10:46.9. Funkhouser won the 220 yard low hurdles in 27.8. He was followed by Henderson and Webb from Guilford.

Nathan Simpson turned in a brilliant anchor leg to bring his team from a thirty yard deficit to an eight yard victory as the W&L mile relay team won in 3:48.6. Simpson's time for his leg was 52 flat.
