

Deferred Rush Starts Soon With Stiffer IFC Penalties

By LARRY BOWMAN

Charlie Hurt, IFC president, announced at the IFC meeting last night that deferred rush, originally scheduled to begin yesterday, had been set ahead to October 20. This coincides with Article Five of the rules for rushing which sets the beginning of deferred rush four weeks after official rush week closes. Also clarified was the fact that after depleting two weeks must elapse before dates may be had with other fraternities.

The first step to change the power of the IFC judicial committee was also taken. The step taken was to raise the fine limit for illegal rushing to $250 and/or suspend deferred rushing privileges. Gene Girard, who headed the committee which made the suggestion said, "This will give the judicial committee more of a leeway in accessing a just fine." Previously the only penalty possible was a fine of $50 to $100 or suspension of the rushing privileges for an entire year. The one-year suspension clause is still included in the IFC by-laws, however. A final vote on this amendment will be taken next Monday.

The blood drive will be held the 14th and 15th of October. Fraternities are asked to have their cards ready tomorrow night as members of the blood drive committee will be in the houses to pick them up.

Tom Gowenlock was named to head the annual IFC Song Fest which will be held early in December. Fraternities are asked to participate and prizes will be awarded.

Fraternities were also reminded to sign up for their official house parties with the IFC. The next big weekend for house parties to be signed up for is December 13.

The IFC also went on record in favor of the idea of having a classroom for each individual fraternity to use as a study hall.

Hurt closed the meeting with the reminder for fraternities to be hospitable toward all W&L exchange students.

Deadline Set For Fulbrights

Competitions for 900 Fulbright and Latin-American scholarships for graduate study abroad will close November 1, it was announced by the Institute of International Education. The scholarships offer Americans international travel expenses in most cases and partial or complete tuition and maintenance for study in 39 foreign countries during 1959-60. The Institute of International Education is administering the awards for the Department of State under the Fulbright Act and the Inter-American Cultural Convention.

Fulbright awards for study and research in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area cover international travel, tuition, books, and maintenance for one academic year. The Inter-American Cultural Convention grants provide for transportation from the U.S. Government and tuition and maintenance from the government of the host country.

General eligibility requirements for the awards are U.S. citizenship, a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent before departure, language ability sufficient to carry on the proposed study, and good health. A good academic record and demonstrated capacity for independent study are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age.

Persons interested in these awards may write to the Institute of International Education or to any of the Institute's regional offices for "U.S. Government Grants," a brochure explaining the Fulbright and IACC Programs. Students now enrolled in colleges or universities should consult with their campus Fulbright advisor for further information and application forms. Dr. Charles Turner is the Fulbright advisor at Washington and Lee.

Requests for application forms must be postmarked before October 15. Completed forms must be submitted by November 1.

Kaleidoscope Show To Feature Folk Songs

Old sea chantys and American folklore drinking songs sung by Burl Ives and Oscar Brand will be featured on "Kaleidoscope" when the half hour show begins the 1958-59 season Thursday night.

According to Paul Plawin, director of "Kaleidoscope," the show will be built around collections of folk ballads and sea chantys that were prominent in the early development of this country.

Ballads scheduled for the show include "I've Been a Moonshiner" with Oscar Brand on guitar and Eric Darling on banjo, "The Sailor's Grave" by Burl Ives, "Three Jolly Coachmen" by Oscar Brand and other English and American ballads of tavern and sailing shop.

Kaleidoscope is produced at the Communications Laboratory of the Journalism Department and is heard every Thursday at 9:30 p.m. Engineer for the show is Harvey Allen.

Lee McLaughlin's Father Is Subject of New Book

A new book featuring the life of the father of football coach Lee McLaughlin has been presented to the library by President Gaines and will soon be available for students to read. Glorious Ride by the Rev. James M. Carr is the biography of Dr. Henry Woods McLaughlin, and the book makes frequent mention of "Lee," the youngest in the family of nine children.

Dr. McLaughlin was pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Brownsburg, Virginia, which is only twelve miles from Lexington, and which is the birthplace of Coach McLaughlin. The doctor, an honorary alumnus of W&L, was a leader of the Country Church movement in the United States.

E. C. Notice

The University requires "There be no public drinking at any athletic event held on the Washington and Lee campus."

The cooperation of all students in this matter is sincerely asked by the Executive Committee. This rule will be enforced—any violators will be asked to withdraw from the University for a specific period of time.

Moot Court Squad Will Compete In November Meet at Chapel Hill

Washington and Lee's four-man, three-alternate moot court team will definitely defend its championship in the regional meet.

The general opinion of moot court members is that the meet will be held during the first part of November, probably at Chapel Hill, N. C., probably on a weekend, and definitely against North Carolina, Duke, the University of Virginia, and Wake Forest.

The top men in the law school were chosen last spring to the team. Chairman Bob Stroud, Pi Kappa Phi and Phi Delta Phi, is editor of the Law Review and on the Board of Governors of the Law School.

Walter Burton, Beta Theta Pi and president of Phi Delta Phi, is on the Law Review and Board of Governors.

Charles Swope, Phi Kappa Psi and president of Phi Alpha Delta, was president of the freshman law class and is a member of the Student Bar Association.

Dick Anderson, Pi Kappa Phi and Phi Delta Phi, is the only returnee from last year's moot court team. He is a Phi Beta Kappa, a past editor of the Ring-tum Phi, and is president of ODK.

There are three alternates. Charlie McCormick, Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Delta Phi, is on the Law Review, a member of SWMSFC, a past president of the Forensic Union, a past vice president of IFC, and a former member of the golf team.

Jordan Smith, Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Delta Phi, is on the Law Review and is a Troubadour.

Tom Branch, Sigma Chi and Phi

Flu Epidemic Probable Again

A flu epidemic similar to last year's may break out at W&L again this year. The rapid spread and highly infectious qualities of this Asian flu endangers any group in close contact with one another. Already epidemics have broken out all over the country.

Former flu infections and immunization shots do not offer immunity after six months. The process of immunization includes three shots.

Students are reminded of the postponement of Openings last year and are urged to get their shots. These shots can be obtained at the Medical Office and will be given at cost. Fraternity presidents are requested to call Nurse Allen to arrange a schedule for their men to be given shots. It is advised that all W&L men should begin their immunization immediately.

Notice

Students who have not registered their cars should do so at once in the treasurer's office or be subject to the police regulations.

American Bar Assn. President To Speak Here at ODK Assembly

Ross Malone, 1936 W&L Grad, To Keynote Dec. 11 Ceremony

Ross L. Malone Jr., President of the American Bar Association, will visit this campus in December to deliver the principal address at the annual Omicron Delta Kappa Tap Day Ceremonies, Dick Anderson, ODK president announced today.

Mr. Malone is a 1932 graduate of W&L law school, and was

Religious Week Begins Nov. 10

The University Religious Conference, an annual event sponsored by the University Christian Association, will be held this year from Monday, Nov. 10, through Thursday, Nov. 13.

Three nationally prominent speakers have already been selected for the four-day meeting. They will speak to members of the student body on various phases of a general theme, which will be announced in the near future.

Art Grove, chairman and director of the conference, said that the theme selected is "broad enough to cover virtually every phase of student interest."

During that week the speakers will talk at three university assemblies and will hold discussions in the classrooms and at various fraternity houses. In addition, seminar discussions will be held in the afternoons.

The purpose of the conference, Grove said, is to "help open the way for discussion of problems with which students at Washington and Lee feel themselves confronted and to make them aware of the functioning of the University Christian Association."

He added that the "whole school is invited to participate in each and any of the activities that are slated for the week."

"Last year," Grove went on, "the student body showed a great deal of interest in the conference, and even greater participation is expected this year."

In addition to the activities scheduled for that week, pre-conference discussions will be held in the Student Union. At these discussions outstanding members of the faculty will speak on topics relating to the conference theme.

Heading the various conference committees are Zack Blalock, assembly committee; Davis Reed and Jack Hisley, publicity; Rard Beville, faculty relations committee; and Tony Gray and Bill Harrison, fraternities and activities committee.

Delta Phi, is on the Law Review, is a member of the Sazeracs, was a member of the IFC, and was on the golf team.

If the team wins at regional, as it did last year, it will go to New York for the national finals.

The men started at the beginning of school preparing briefs of both sides of the case, working together once or twice a week and separately whenever there was time. They will work until the meet begins.

The moot question this year involves a case paralleling one now on appeal to the Supreme Court. It concerns the constitutionality of a federal statute having to do with contributions to political campaigns by corporations and labor unions.

The grueling regional meet, usually about three days long for those who go to its finals, and the even more tiring week-long championship tournament are organized the same way. Teams are judged according to their oral argument first, and to their written brief second.

Washington and Lee won both at last year's regional, and was judged to have the best brief in the nation. W&L lost to the University of Pennsylvania, eventual national champions, in the oral debate in New York.

A Word From the Coach

Optimistic Coach Mac Says Team Will Test Franklin and Marshall

By LEE McLAUGHLIN

When the game was over Saturday night it hurt to know that the word was going back to Lexington that we had failed in our first outing. Things had not gone well. Centre had outplayed us and deserved to win. However there was feeling in the locker room that it was not the "same old story." There were flashes of good football, and the feeling was that this team is bound to improve.

A depth-shy Franklin and Marshall wilted in the heat this past Saturday and lost 20-8 to a strong

Johns Hopkins team. However, Coach Boyd Williams calls the F&M first team the best that we will see this year. A week earlier they beat Dickenson by 32-0 and will be looking for their second win this Saturday on Wilson Field. Their wide-open type of football features the running and passing of the quarterback, Fred Hesse and the plunges and speed of George Durrah.

Washington and Lee will be strengthened by the return of Jack Groner and Hunter Tracht. We will be working hard this week so that we can give you a good game on Saturday.

Come out and see the freshmen play Fushburne on Friday. They need your support too.

New Motel To Be Built

Lexington's first modern, full-scale motel will be ready for operation next spring, according to an article in the Rockbridge County News.

The facility, which will be constructed at the southern intersection of Rt. 11 and the Rt. 11-A by-pass, will consist of approximately 50 units.

The Lexco Corporation, planners of the enterprise, has approved designs for a modified colonial brick structure, with one-story wings extending from each side of a two-story central structure.

president of Alpha Circle of ODK in his senior year. After practicing law in New Mexico and holding numerous governmental positions, he was elected President of the ABA in August of this year.

His visit to W&L for Tap Day will be his second to this campus within a year. He was here in June to receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University.

The December event will be W&L's 44th annual Tap Day. In the ceremonies, to be held on Thursday, Dec. 11, outstanding leaders among students, alumni, faculty, and administration will be tapped for membership into ODK. Anderson, President of the Alpha Circle this year, in making the announcement today, said that the assembly will be compulsory, and that classes will be shortened to provide time for the noon ceremonies. The assembly will be held in the gymnasium.

Besides being president of the leadership society while he was at W&L, Mr. Malone was a member of Sigma Nu social fraternity and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity. Included among his numerous positions in campus activities were a post on the Executive Committee and the vice-presidency of the Student Body.

Since graduating, he has served on the Alumni Association and the Law Association, and wrote the lead article in the latest issue of the W&L Law Review.

The 82nd President of the ABA, Mr. Malone at 48 is one of the youngest men ever to hold this post. That he practices law in a small community, Roswell, N. M., makes the honor of his post even greater.

Prior to his election as President, Mr. Malone was chairman of the ABA's Committee on Individual Rights as Affected by National Security. From 1951 to 1954 he served on the Board of Governors.

He is a fellow of the American Bar Foundation, and is a member of its Research Committee.

Mr. Malone served as Deputy Attorney General of the United States from 1952 through 1953.

His legal career began after his graduation from W&L in 1932, when he was admitted to the New Mexico Bar. Since then he has been a member of the firm of Atwood and Malone in Roswell. In 1949 he was chosen as a member of the state's Board of Bar Examiners, a position he still holds. The writer of numerous articles in the fields of oil, gas, and public utilities, he has also served on the Legal Committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

Mr. Malone has also served for five years as a member of the ABA House of Delegates from New Mexico. (Continued on page 4)

Nine Senior ROTC Men Chosen to Scabbard-Blade

Nine seniors have been chosen to be initiated into Scabbard and Blade, the national honorary military society. Jim Crews, Cadet Regimental Commander of the W&L ROTC unit, announce today their names as follows:

Charles Duby Ausley, KA from Tallahassee, Fla.; Robert David Bohan, Phi Delt from Akron, Ohio; Robert Edward Collett, Phi Delt from Fort Worth; Eugene N. S. Girard, DU from Stuttgart, Germany; Robert S. Grady, KA from Atlanta, Ga.; William K. Hughes, DU from Lake Success, N. Y.; Edward R. Lilly, Beta from Louisville, Ky.; James A. Mason, Pi Phi from Bowling Green, Va.; and Laurence M. Smail, Phi Gam from Pittsburgh.

Mason, a Cadet Major, is serving as Regimental Adjutant this year. Lilly, also a Cadet Major, is Executive officer of one of the battalions. Smail a Cadet Captain, is company commander of the band; while Collett and Hughes are commanders of B and A Company respectively.

Concerts Begin On November 3

A concert on Nov. 3 by the National Symphony Orchestra will open a season of four attractions for the Rockbridge Concert-Theatre Series. The Symphony, under the baton of Howard Mitchell, will be paying its eleventh annual visit to Lexington as part of the Concert Series program.

The Vienna Octet on Dec. 4 will give the second concert in a return visit to this town. The Octet is composed of first-chair and solo string and wind instrumentalists from the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra.

A change of pace will be provided on Jan. 16 by Jose Greco and his company of Spanish dancers. Greco, who was seen in "Around the World in 80 Days," will present a program reminiscent of a Spanish fiesta, replete with "gay costumes and dark-eyed beauties."

Baritone John Langstaff will conclude the series on March 11 with a program of classical and contemporary songs.

Students may purchase tickets for the series from membership co-chairman Mrs. J. H. Wheeler, or from any of several faculty members. The price is $5.00.

Automatic Rule Gets Stiffened

The Automatic Rule of the University was tightened slightly at yesterday's faculty meeting, it was announced today. The requirement for sophomores to make at least 12 quality points was increased to a requirement for 15 quality points. The requirement for juniors and seniors, formerly 18 quality points, was increased to 21 quality points. Although these new requirements are slight, they will require sophomores to make at least half-way progress towards graduation at the end of their first two years.

In other faculty action yesterday, Dr. Jenks and Dr. Griffith were elected as the two faculty members of the Administrative Committee.

President of the Student Body Royce Hough spoke to the Faculty concerning the Honor System.

NOTICE

Baseball Coach John Poston asked that all men interested in varsity baseball report to the gym at 7 p.m. this Thursday. He especially urged freshmen and lettermen to come out.

The Ring-tum Phi is a student newspaper, and, as such, the opinions or assertions contained in this publication are the private ones of the student writers and are not to be construed as official or as reflecting the views of Washington and Lee University Board of Trustees, its administration or faculty at large. The editorials represent the opinions of the editor or of the editorial board.

The Duties of the Board

On Friday of this week, a small group of distinguished men will meet in the President's office to decide issues which will determine the future of this University. The University's Board of Trustees, which meets quarterly, will decide sometime this year on the next president of Washington and Lee. The Board hires and fires members of the faculty, and decides the policy of Washington and Lee.

Although this group of men is certainly the most important single organization within the University community, it is probably also the group about which least is known on campus. Yet, a brief perusal of the records of the gentlemen who are members of the board is sufficient to show that Washington and Lee is fortunate in having Board members who are respected leaders in many fields, and distinguished alumni of this institution.

We believe that the present members of the Board of Trustees are now in a position to guide this University into a new era of growth and prosperity. The thirty years of President Gaines's administration have been among the most important years in the history of the University. Dr. Gaines is a dynamic and respected educator and administrator, and his administration has been of inestimable benefit to Washington and Lee. Now, the present Board must select a man who will be able to lead this University into another such period of development.

We hope that the student body will realize the significance of the actions which will be taken within the next year. Within our four years, this university is experiencing a change from one era of development into what we hope will be a new period of growth in academic standards and material facilities.

The duties of the Board of Trustees this year are monumental. The Board's action will affect each of us. It is, therefore, to the advantage of every student to be aware of these actions and to do everything within our power to aid this University as it begins this new period of growth.

We look to the members of the Board of Trustees with confidence that they will again provide Washington and Lee with dynamic and aggressive leadership as they did in selecting President Gaines thirty years ago. The student body stands willing to support the Board and the new president in their efforts to maintain and to improve Washington and Lee as a leading collegiate institution.

A Means of Expression

One of the major responsibilities of the student newspaper is to provide a medium whereby students and faculty members may express their opinions. The editorials and the columns usually represent various opinions, but there are still viewpoints which are not expressed. One of the most valuable means for expressing these viewpoints, we believe, is through the Letters to the Editor in the Ring-tum Phi.

We cordially invite all members of the University community to use this means of expressing their opinions. Letters on various subjects are welcome. They should, of course, be limited by standards of good taste, and should not exceed two typewritten double-spaced pages. Letters should be signed, but if there is reason for doing so, letters may appear in print without their authors' names. Letters should be sent to the editor, in care of the SAE House, or brought by the Print Shop behind Washington Hall on Mondays.

Throughout the years, letters to the editors have been influential and interesting features in the student newspaper. We hope that many students will take advantage of this opportunity to contribute to the welfare of Washington and Lee. It is through the expression of different ideas that a university maintains its vitality and its spirit.

Thirteen of Trustees Are W&L Alumni

By The Tuesday Staff

The fourteen members of the Board of Trustees of Washington and Lee are men who are leaders in various fields and thirteen of them are Washington and Lee alumni.

The Board is the sole governing body of the Washington and Lee corporation, and in this position, sets down general policy for the University and selects members of the faculty on the recommendation of the president. The board also selects the president of the university.

The rector of the Board is Mr. James R. Caskie of Lynchburg. Mr. Caskie is the senior active member of the board. A 1906 graduate of Washington and Lee, Mr. Caskie is a successful Lynchburg businessman. Mr. Caskie has been a member of the Board since 1924.

Dr. Walter L. Carson of Richmond graduated from Washington and Lee in 1915 and is now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Richmond. His service to the University as a board member began in 1926.

A distinguished Richmond physician, Dr. James Morrison Hutcheson, graduated from Washington and Lee in 1902 and became a member of the board in 1935.

The only active educator on the Board is Dr. John Newton Thomas of Richmond, who is a professor at Union Theological Seminary in Richmond. A 1924 W&L graduate, Dr. Thomas became a Board member in 1938.

The Honorable Homer Adams Holt graduated from Washington and Lee in 1918 and became a board member in 1940. He is a prominent West Virginia attorney and was one time

Governor of West Virginia. Mr. Holt now lives in Charleston.

Mr. Joseph Taliano Lykes graduated from Washington and Lee in 1909 and has served on the Board since 1941. A member of one of the most illustrious Washington and Lee families, Mr. Lykes is Chairman of the Board of the Lykes Brothers Steamship Lines, one of the largest steamship lines in the nation. Mr. Lykes now lives in Tampa, Florida.

A 1927 Washington and Lee graduate, Dr. Huston St. Clair, from Tazewell, Virginia, became a Board member in 1943. Dr. St. Clair has retired from the active practice of medicine and is now president of the Jewell Ridge Coal Company.

Mr. Walter A. McDonald graduated from Washington and Lee in 1910 and became a Board member in 1945. He is now president of the McDonald Printing Company of Cincinnati.

Becoming a Board member in 1950, Mr. Christopher T. Chenery of New York City graduated from Washington and Lee in 1909. Mr. Chenery is a prominent utility executive and is presently chairman of the boards of both the Southern National Gas Company and the Offshore gas company.

The Honorable Harry Flood Byrd is one of the most famous members of the Board of Trustees. Senator Byrd is the only member of the Board who is not a Washington and Lee graduate, but Senator Byrd's son graduated from W&L. Nationally known as one of the most powerful and respected members of the United States Senate, Senator Byrd became a member of the Board in 1951. His home is in Berryville.

Judge Kennon Calthness Whittle of Martinsville graduated from Washington and Lee in 1914. He became a member of the Board in 1952. Formerly a prominent Martinsville attorney, Judge Whittle is now a member of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

One of the younger members of the Board is Mr. James Stewart Buxton of Memphis, Tennessee. Mr. Buxton graduated from Washington and Lee in 1936 and became a board member in 1953. He is an investment broker in Memphis.

Mr. Joseph Lamar Lanier from West Point, Georgia, became a member of the Board in 1953. He graduated from the University in 1927. Among other interests, Mr. Lanier is chairman of the board of the West Point Manufacturing Company.

The most recent addition to the Board is Honorable John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans. Judge Wisdom is judge of the United States Federal District Court in New Orleans and became a member of the Board in 1957. He graduated from Washington and Lee in 1925.

Members of the Board will meet Friday for the regular Fall meeting.

Chapel Service: Prayer at 12:05

By ROY FLANAGAN

This is intended to illuminate, clear up slander about, and generally outline one of the functions of the University Christian Association—the Thursday 12:05 Worship Service. It is to prevent the false assumption of those who believe that a religious service of this sort must be for "weenies" and "meatballs" and not for "normal" people. Also, this is a plea for the incorporation of the Service into Washington and Lee tradition—to make it as much a part of campus life as tweeds and beer, at least, if not more.

For those who didn't attend the Service last year this is non-sectarian and it is participated in by students, faculty, and visiting speakers. Its purpose is to provide a quiet resting place in the middle of the day. It has not become a stomping ground for religious bigots, nor does the Service extend over a long period of time. No monumental thinking need be done; one idea is usually advanced, and it is usually an inspiring one. There is plenty of time to gather one's thoughts and also to do something which most of us have forgotten how to do, pray.

Students hold part of the Service. These men are selected. They are leaders on campus or their respective fraternities, and there is one representative from each fraternity and one from the Non-Fraternity Union. They aren't necessarily "gung-ho" religious; they are just students who have an interest in the spiritual well-being of themselves and that of the campus. Also, the speakers at the Services are chosen as men who are sure to put forth an extremely provocative and interesting thought.

At the end of the busy school day and at the beginning of the afternoon, go to the Chapel and sit and have a small talk with God.

Students Given Financial Aid

Scholarship assistance for undergraduate students at Washington and Lee University is now at its highest level in the history of the 209-year-old institution.

This year, 184 students—representing 19 per cent of Washington and Lee's 959 undergraduates—are receiving $119,280 in financial assistance, according to figures announced by the university's Committee on Scholarships.

Of 313 freshmen entering this fall, 53 are receiving scholarship aid totaling $34,510. Of these 13 are Virginians. They include:

James C. Hickey, Jr., South Boston; Henry D. Holland, and Phillip D. Sharp, Jr., Richmond; George E. Honts, III, Eagle Rock; Robert D. Lewis, Alexandria; James W. McClung and Simon M. Painter, Jr., Staunton; Kerford A. Marchant, Jr., Sterling; Roswell Page, III, Beaverdam; William L. Roberts, Jr., and Lloyd C. Sullenberger, Williamsburg; I. Reese Smith, Lynnhaven; and Charles W. Via, Martinsville.

Most funds are derived from endowed scholarships entirely administered and awarded by the university. Nineteen scholarships, involving a total yearly stipend of $14,500 are awarded by outside sources, including the Union Carbide Educational Fund, National Merit Scholarships, Burlington Industries Foundation, General Motors Educational Fund, and the student Interfraternity Council.

Not included in the $119,280 undergraduate total is $18,000 in scholarship aid administered from endowed funds by the School of Law. Twenty-seven students are sharing in these grants this year, says Dean Clayton E. Williams. The average undergraduate annual stipend for Washington and Lee scholarships is $645. Five years ago this figure represented the maximum yearly aid extended by any Washington and Lee grant. Freshmen receive an annual stipend of $651.

Today, Dean of Students Frank J. Gilliam points out, endowed scholarships carry an annual stipend ranging up to $1,600 in value. The most coveted of awards, the Robert E. Lee Scholarships, range in value from $1,000 to 1,600, and are extended to five freshmen on a four-year basis each year. Two Letitia Pate Evans Scholarships of $1,250 and six of $650 are awarded each year to freshmen. Although some awards require special qualifications as requested by their donors, virtually all Washington and Lee four-year scholarships are extended on the basis of character, academic record, clear demonstration of financial need, and promise of leadership and future usefulness to society.

Most upperclass scholarships, endowed and otherwise, are based

The Hammer and Spade

Blorb, Diller, Teach S. B. Oxfoot Fine Points of Phys. Education

"The battle of Gettysburg was won on the playing fields of Washington and Lee."—Old saying

"Oxfoot! Oxfoot!"

The door burst open and an untidy freshman shambled into the gymnasium.

"Here, sir!"

A sneer began to curl Mick Diller's lip as he looked at the hapless Oxfoot. At that moment, however, the door opened again and a large, bleary-eyed fellow, red-faced and out of breath, stumbled onto the floor. It was G. Wellington Sniffing, taking freshman gym for the fourth time. He came puffing up to Diller and said:

"I'm sorry I'm late, sir, but I sprained my ankle running over here from duPont Hall."

"That's no excuse, Sniffing," snarled Diller. "You'll never pass freshman gym if you keep this up. Take twenty laps around the track upstairs."

Sniffing sighed wearily and climbed the stairs. Diller turned to Oxfoot and said:

"Let that be a lesson to you, boy. Now you've got 38 seconds to get dressed."

Moments later Oxfoot returned in his regulation $300 gym suit. (Which he got out of his locker, for which, plus towel fee and squeeze to the coaches he had to sign a note at the Rockbridge Bank.)

The hushed silence was broken by an eerie yell, only duplicated in the early Tarzan movies, and Lorm Blorb bounded into view. Without saying a word he leaped onto the spring-board, bounced off, doing a triple somersault, vaulted the long horse, turned once in the air and landed on his head, where he spun around three times. He flipped onto his feet and turned to the dumfounded class.

"All right, men. We're going to do fifty pushups and meet upstairs one minute later for tumbling. We'll have no dawdlers in this class."

After the exhausted class climbed upstairs, Blorb explained the first exercise: "We're going to leap off the balcony onto the rope, turn a back-flip in mid-air, vault the long horse and do three forward flips on the mat. It's real easy; something every boy can do with no trouble at all." He grabbed a nearby freshman. "You try it, sonny," he said and threw him over the rail.

The freshman let out a blood-curdling scream as he fell, arms flailing, and missed the rope. He crashed to the floor and lay there writhing with a broken spine. After Blorb had given the same treatment to several others he turned to Oxfoot, who blanched and escaped, locking himself in a hand-ball court. The bell rang before the door could be forced, so Blorb left Oxfoot with the thought that there would always be another day.

Downstairs Diller was kicking at the form of the first freshman, saying: "Get up and quit faking, you gold-brick!"

Upstairs Sniffing was still puffing his way around the track.

Interviews Postponed

The Student Service Society will not hold interviews for membership tomorrow, as originally announced, President Joe Craycroft said today. Craycroft said the meeting has been postponed to next Wednesday so that members and applicants may watch the World Series.

Flick Team Says Don't Miss 'Cat'

By HECHT and SCHLESINGER

What a ridiculous week this has been—rain—terrible, dismal, disgusting, Lexington-like rain. Those cats not digging Father Dave's "Cat" should seriously sit down and think about the reasons that they came to college; and in addition should turn in their letter sweaters for the "58" FLICK TEAM schedule. Know ye all that Burl, Paul, and Liz (yum yum again) will be in town for one solid week. It would be superfluous to hand out any advice on what the future holds at the State until Maggie and Co. move on. Man, like how would you like to be that "tin roof?"

Meanwhile at the Lyric, where movies are still 65c a throw, a disaster called 08/15 has had a three-day run. This flick sports a cast of virtual unknowns who would do best to remain so. We are not sure that this movie has a point but it was touted as being a story about the brutality of the German Army in training. The whole deal seems to be something on the order of From Here to Eternity with enlisted men revolting etc. The result was fairly revolting at that. (Sorry Ed, you can't win 'em all.) For those who like canned sex i.e., on film, a teaser carrying the silks of Roitfeld, Inc. called the "Adorable Creatures" will be here for a two-day meeting. If there ever was a movie in it, the Gallic bedroom pattern, this is it. A host of lovelies headed by Martine Carol will trot around the course in roughly 108 minutes—good shew (pronounced shue).

That man Side has done it again, because on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the reappearing corpse in from of "The Trouble with Harry" will be here again. For the third straight year yet. Speaking of bodies lying around, Shirley McLaine walks away from Harry in what many will call—"a boat race."

Dr. Junkin Reports That Art Exhibition Is Success

An exhibit of 27 prints in duPont Hall is proving popular among students, reports Fine Arts Professor Dr. Marion Junkin.

Almost as soon as the prints went on display Monday, said Dr. Junkin, nine of them were sold, and options had been taken on three others. "This appears to be the best print show in the past four or five years," remarked Junkin.

All of the pictures are by European artists living in France. The most popular etchings among them seem to be "Paysage aux Chevres," by Johnny Friedlander, and "La Noyee," by Stanley William Hayter. Other well-liked artists are Hans Erni (Swiss), Gino Severini (Italian), and Jean Luceat (French).

Replacements for the prints which were sold have been ordered from Baltimore. Dr. Junkin expects practically all of the pictures to find buyers before long.

TODAY'S DEMONSTRATION WILL BE ON HOW TO SET A BROKEN ARM.

Generals Bow to Centre College in Opener 27-8

Blue Gridders Will Face F&M

The W&L Generals opened their 1958 football season by losing to Centre College 27-8. The game was marred by bad breaks for the visitors to Danville, Kentucky. Four times W&L penetrated deep into the Colonels' territory only to lose the ball by a fumble or an intercepted pass.

On the ground, the offensive line did well opening up the holes for the backs. Defensively the Generals were weak at times, but as the game progressed Centre was finding it hard to move the ball and was forced to punt on several occasions.

First Quarter

W&L kicked off and Centre returned it to their own 26 yard line. In eleven plays they moved the ball 74 yards with the fullback crashing over from the three for the tally. Bill McKee's extra point kick was wide.

On the kickoff, Doug Martin ran the ball back to the W&L 33. On the first play from scrimmage, Myers intercepted an Aberson to Hoss pass and ran it back to the Generals' 43. In six plays Centre had another T.D. with halfback Dave Ray going 20 yards for the score. This time McKee's extra point was good and the Colonels led 13-0.

Martin again returned the kickoff to his own 31. Then the Generals went on the warpath and largely through the efforts of halfback Bill Young and fullback John Dinkle, got four straight first downs. As the quarter came to a close with W&L on Centre's 27-yard line, the score still stood at 13-0.

Second Quarter

On three plays the Generals drove to the Centre 18 where an off-side penalty set back to the 23. On the next play Aberson's pass was intercepted on the 13 by Kaelin, who returned it to the W&L 44. Thus the visitors' first real threat was halted.

Centre punted and W&L took to the offensive. Bob Funkhouser ran a statue of liberty play for 31 yards behind some beautiful blocking, but losses on the next couple of plays forced W&L to punt. Centre started on their 19-yard line and picked up five first downs in a row to penetrate the visitor's 12. At this point center linebacker Terry Fohs intercepted a Centre pass on his own 7 and returned it to the 9 to stave off that threat. The Generals ran the ball twice before the half ended with the score still 13-0.

Third Quarter

At the start of the second half, W&L received. Backed by two straight first downs, the Generals moved the ball to Centre's 31, only

KA and SAE Favored in Golf, Tennis

Under the direction of Peter Merrill, the intramural program has gotten into full swing again. As this paper goes to press, the golf and tennis matches are still under way. Intramural track has been cancelled for a week in order to give each member a chance to get in his five practices.

to lose the opportunity on a fumble. Not discouraged, W&L's defensive team dug in and forced Centre to kick on fourth down. On downs the Generals moved to Centre's 37 only to fumble again as Centre recovered on their own 38. Once more W&L's defenses were too much for Centre, and after suffering a 19-yard loss, they were forced to punt. Doug Martin returned the ball to his own 49. After running a play of 3 yards and Centre's being called offsides, Rich Aberson hit Muntz Lea on a beautiful pass down the middle and the co-captain hauled it in and sprinted for the goal line. Aberson's run for the extra point was good and Centre's margin was cut to 13-8.

W&L kicked off and with the third down on his own 33, Ray again

Intramural Board

Two fraternity representatives to the Intramural Board will be chosen on Monday, October 13. The two will be elected by the Fraternity Athletic Directors.

The two new officers will complete the membership of the board which includes: E. P. Twombly, president; Charles Harrington, secretary-treasurer; and Pete Merrill, senior fraternity athletic director.

The Intramural Board has many duties pertaining to Washington and Lee fraternity athletics. The Board formulates rules for each sport.

not given a wide margin to repeat.

Most of the fraternities have begun informal practice of the most hotly contested intramural sport, football, which begins on November 2. The Phi Delt was the number one team last year and should repeat their performance, although they have lost several "letter men" as a result of graduation.

The Phi Delt also won the bowling championship last year, but are going to be met with much stiffer competition when November 5 comes and the campus' keggers take to the alleys.

Three Letter Man Rohnke Cited As One of W&L's Top Athletes

By ROBERT O'BRIEN

This week's sports tribute goes to Skip Rohnke, and deservedly so. Skip, a PiKA and only a junior, has made quite a name for himself in his two years of participation in varsity athletics at W&L, having won a total of six letters in 3 sports (track, soccer, and swimming), captured 3 Southern Conference championships, and cracked 3 school records. He is also a member of Sigma Delta Psi, the Washington and Lee athletic fraternity, and has twice captained the track team.

In the mind of Cy Twombly, who has been associated with the W&L athletic department since 1921, Skip's only rival for being "the most remarkable athlete in school history" is Lee Williams, who was outstanding in baseball, basketball, football, and track in the early 1930's.

There is certainly no arguing with Coach Twombly's point for, indeed, Skip's record at W&L reads like an all-star report.

In track he was Southern Conference javelin champion in 1957 and was named to the Conference All-Star team in both 1957 and 1958. Not only does he hold the school mark of 189 ft. 3 1/2 in. in this event, but he also recorded last year's best efforts in the discus. At the annual athletic banquet last year, Skip was presented the Forest Fletcher

Track Trophy, given to the trackman who not only accumulates the most points but also displays qualities of leadership and sportsmanship.

As a member of the soccer team, Skip holds down the position of first team fullback and plays halfback whenever needed. Coach Norm Lord, speaking for departed soccer coach Gene Corrigan, stated that Skip is a "fine defensive performer" and that he is a "good team man who always hustles and sets a good example for his team mates."

Last but not least, as a swimmer, Skip is probably at his best. In 1957, as a freshman, he was Southern Conference Champion in the 50-yd. freestyle and was a member of the championship 400-yd. medley relay team, which included Don Duncan, Jay Fox, and Chuck Springer. His W&L pool record in the 100-yd. freestyle is probably his most outstanding achievement, for his time of 50.8 sec. was good enough to crack a record which had stood unmoled for 17 years.

Along with Al Osher, J. F. Betts, high shots have been wailing the agonies due to the Public Menace (i.e. Lex. Telephone Co.) and the extreme difficulty encountered in reaching their "bookies" all over the country. Now we put up with this jazz the year-round with nary a whimper, but at World Series time this sort of service is not only aggravating but d--- costly.

Our hats go off to those poor souls crosstown who imported all that goodlooking head for the Minks to snap up in the wee small hours... we thank you Brother Rats.

By popular request from those members of Dr. Foster's American Lit. course, we now shall review that new best seller, "The Pathfinder," which has been on our book list for months. James Fennimore Cooper has created a masterpiece in his epoch concerning the exploits of an American scout called Pathfinder (who in real life is Clark Cohen—mild mannered newspaper reporter). A friendly Indian, Chingachgook, is Clark's sidekick and manages to keep our hero in the ball-game with his timely hitting. The Hollywood Citizens-News says: "...eunuchs, sultans, harem beauties, soldiers, and monks make a picturesque background."

This week's "Pat On The Back" goes to Mr. Riegel for his devastating work in his Law of the Press course, where he completely smashed 12 students with back-to-back quizzes, in three short meetings—we thank those poor souls (who shall go nameless) for this juicy piece.

The Dance Board held true to their promise of another hand comparable to Lionel Hampton for the Friday night dance... you can fool some of the people some of the time, etc... Hamp is playing the whole weekend and after all that is just as comparable as you get.

We award this week's Orchards (not to be confused with Orchids) to Dr. Feddeman whose timely advice in last week's Friday edition made a lasting impression on us. We agree sir; our students should not bang up girls from nearby institutions with their automobiles. About those dangerous sunlamps—we will have to start some sort of action against these evil mechanisms before the entire student body is burned to a virtual crisp.

For those stereo and Hi-Fi addicts we would like to institute what we shall call "Poop on the Platters." Stan Getz and J. J. Johnson have just finished cutting a swinging set of grooves for Verve called "Stan and J. J. at the Opera House." In the long hair department may we suggest a deep and moving performance on the BYOL label called "Sibelius Sings and Schostakovich Swings at La Scala."

That's all for this week and remember... only 28 more days left to apply for your Fulbright Scholarships.

co. He is a Director of the American Judiciary Society, a member of the American Law Institute, a Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers, and is listed in "Who's Who in America."

He succeeds Charles Rhyne as President of the ABA. Mr. Malone, described by Rhyne as "dynamic," was nominated by the House of Delegates in February and formally elected at the ABA's annual meeting in August.

Alpha Circle president Dick Anderson stated today, "Alpha Circle believes it has been very fortunate to obtain Mr. Malone for this year's Tap Day. His career, his close association with the Washington and Lee community, and his exemplification of the ODK ideal all will contribute to make his appearance here one of the highlights of the academic year. It will insure the success of the ODK program."

Omicron Delta Kappa was founded on this campus in 1914 and since then has spread to 90 colleges and universities throughout the country.

Mr. Rupert N. Latture, Professor of Political Science and head of that department, was instrumental in founding ODK here. He also designed the society's key.

Student leaders, outstanding alumni, and possibly faculty, administration, and other distinguished persons are tapped for membership at the ceremony.

Students are tapped for membership on the basis of participation and leadership in five fields of student life: student government; publications; athletics; social and religious affairs; and speech, drama, and other arts. Superior scholarship and exemplary character are also requisites.

broke of his left side and ran 67 yards for the score with 2:33 left in the quarter. Don Hubert passed to Mark Day for the two point conversion which made the totals 21-8 in favor of Centre.

Fourth Quarter

W&L received and with the aid of two first downs went to Centre's 29 yard line. A backfield in motion penalty set the ball back to the 34. The Generals were unable to get a first down and Centre took over on their own 40. They moved 50 yards to the W&L 10 with a first down and goal to go. At this point the Generals' defense made a stand.

Centre was held to fourth and five. Hubert passed to Kaelin who caught the ball but was stopped three yards short of the goal; the officials ruled interference and Centre had first and goal on the 2. In two plays they scored a T.D. The kick was wide and the final score was 27-8. The remaining few minutes of the game was spent in a see-saw battle.

SIDELINES: Freshman Bob Henderson average 46 yards on his two punts... Doug Martin returned four kickoffs for 70 yards... Although everyone was upset with the outcome of the opening game, the morale was higher than it ever has been at practice Monday so we can rest assured that Franklin and Marshall had better be on their toes this Saturday.
