

PHI BETA KAPPA CHOOSES 14 STUDENTS

Prof. Louis D. Rubin To Conduct Seminar

By MAC McCLUNG

Louis D. Rubin, Jr., chairman of the Department of English at Hollins College, will be the third speaker in this year's series of Seminars in Literature.

He will speak Thursday, March 24, in duPont Auditorium at 8 p.m. A native of Charleston, S. C., Rubin will speak on "The Two Worlds of Modern Southern Writing," a study of the two forces of continuity and change operating on modern southern writing and life.

SPE Granted IFC Approval By 16-0 Vote

Winning a crucial vote without a trace of opposition, the Sigma Phi Epsilon colony last night was admitted into the Intefraternity Council. The council's vote was 16-0, with one house evidently abstaining.

The next step for the colony is approval by the Faculty Committee on Fraternities, which will meet some time this week.

Approval by the whole faculty, which meets next Monday, is the next step.

After the faculty has okayed the admission of the colony into full fraternity status, the colony will apply to its national headquarters in Richmond for a charter. Formal installation and initiation would follow the granting of the charter.

Clint Anderson, the colony's vice president and IFC representative, said after the meeting, "We hope to gain our charter if the faculty approves us." He said that if the charter is granted soon, the colony would become a full fraternity chapter before the end of the semester.

The SPE house is reapplying for admission to the W&L campus. It was chartered here in 1906 and remained here until 1941 when it folded because of financial difficulties.

The action to reopen the chapter here was begun in the summer of 1958 because of the urgings of some 400 SPE Washington and Lee Alumni, and was facilitated by the fact that there were six SPE alumni of other colleges in the law school then.

Blood Drive Set For Thursday; Goal 150 Pints

The University Blood Drive, with a goal of 150 pints, will run from 10:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. this Thursday. The Student Union will be donor headquarters.

Ralph Elias, chairman of the drive, has stated that all donor cards must be turned in to him by Wednesday at the latest, if they were not turned in at last night's IFC meeting. Elias is at the PEP house.

Houses winning kegs will be the one with the largest percentage of donors, and the one with the greatest number of donors.

Elias urged donors to conform to the times of donation listed on their cards.

ROTC students should pick up their ROTC slips when they give blood, and return them to Elias, so that they may get their 8 merits. Slips not given to Elias by Friday morning will not be honored.

Participants in baseball, lacrosse, and track will be excused from giving.

Dr. Marshall Fishwick To Lecture Tonight

The University Christian Association's lecture series on "The Crisis of Our Era" will continue tonight with a talk by Dr. Marshall Fishwick on "Crisis in the Arts." The American studies professor will speak at 7 p.m. in the Student Union.

Thursday at 7 p.m., Dr. R. D. Whitaker, professor of chemistry, will speak in the Student Union on "The Scientific Crisis." (See editorial comment on page 2.)

Dr. John G. Kemeny

Math Professor John G. Kemeny To Speak Here

Prof. John G. Kemeny, chairman of the mathematics department at Dartmouth College and author of the textbook used in W&L's faculty math seminar, will speak here next month.

The Budapest native will talk at 3 p.m. on April 6 in duPont 102, on "Application of Mathematics to the Social Sciences."

He wrote "Finite Mathematics," which is the basis of a seminar now being conducted by a group of professors from the math, commerce, philosophy, and social science departments. The seminar is a possible prelude to the addition of finite mathematics to the freshman curriculum.

At Dartmouth Prof. Kemeny introduced a special honors course, which requires rigorous work in "modern mathematics"—math that is directly applicable to everyday life.

Prof. Kemeny is the author of two books, and is working on five others. He was recently appointed chairman of the U.S. Commission on Mathematical Instruction.

Kemeny, 32, came to the United States from Hungary before World War II. In 1948-49, he was chief assistant to Albert Einstein at Princeton's Institute for Advanced Study. While still in his teens, he had served with the U.S. Army in World War II as a mathematician with the Los Alamos atomic bomb project.

The seminar at W&L on Kemeny's book is composed of fourteen W&L professors and one from VMI. Attending the seminars are seven members of the accounting, commerce and economics departments; four from the math department and three from philosophy and history.

G. A. Mahan Competition Ends April 4

The contest for the George A. Mahan Awards for Creative Writing will be sponsored again this year by the Department of English.

The awards, which will be announced at the June commencement program, are open to the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes.

There are two awards for freshman prose entries, one for sophomore prose entries, and one for junior prose entries. There will be one verse award for entries submitted by men from any class with the exception of the senior class.

The awards consist of a 100-dollar exemption from college fees during the year following the one in which the award is made, or the recipient may take the option of $60 in cash.

The student may receive no outside assistance in preparing an entry, and no student may submit more than two prose entries and one verse entry.

All entries must be submitted by the first Monday after Spring vacation, April 4, to Dr. Marvin Perry or Dr. Fitzgerald Flournoy.

No student is eligible to win both a class award and a verse award in the same year, and no awards will be made in any class, unless, in the judgement of the Department of English, entries meet the required standard of excellence.

Prose entries may be short stories, literary criticisms, biographical studies, one-act or longer plays, or informal essays. A minimum of 1,500 words is required. A prose entry may consist of several short selections making up the 1,500-word total.

A poetry entry must consist of a minimum of approximately 30 lines of verse, which may be made up of one or more selections.

Debate Team Fails To Place

The W&L debate team, participating in the North-South Debate Tournament at West Virginia University this past weekend, failed to place.

Arguing for the affirmative side were Peter Straub and Dick Hoover. Tom West and Pete Bennett were on the negative team.

Northwestern University took the Northern division title, and Florida State won the Southern division.

The topic of debate was, "Resolved: that Congress should have the right to reverse decisions of the Supreme Court."

Ten Seniors, Two Law Students, Two Juniors To Receive Keys

Fourteen Washington and Lee Students were named to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, last night. The names of the new men were released today by Dr. L. J. Desha, secretary of W&L's Gamma Chapter of Virginia.

Included in the list are 10 academic seniors, two law seniors, and two juniors.

Academic seniors elected are:

John J. Barnes, Jr., Sigma Nu from St. Louis, Mo., A.B.; Leonard F. Bryan, Shaker Heights, Ohio, A.B.; Nathan C. Claunch, Kappa Sig from Chattanooga, Tenn., A.B.; and James B. Duckett, SAE from Houston, Tex., B.S.

Also James N. Hardin, Jr., Pi Kapp from Greenville, Tenn., A.B.; Sanford Larson, Beta from Washington, D.C.; Peter J. Lee, SAE senior from Pensacola, Fla., A.B.; John K. McMurray, Lusuku, Luluabourg, Belgian Congo, A.B.; and Michael D. Poole, Vancouver, B.C., Canada, A.B.

Law students elected are: Nicholas W. Bath, Richmond, Va., A.B., and Manley P. Caldwell, Jr., Lambda Chi from Palm Beach, Florida, who was graduated summa cum laude from Law School here this past January. He received his A.B. from W&L in 1958.

Academic juniors elected are George P. Pardington, SPE from Houma, La.; and Brian H. Vitsky, ZBT from Richmond, Va.

The Calyx picture for Phi Beta Kappa will be taken at 1:00 p.m., Friday, March 4, in front of Washington Hall.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek-letter fraternity in the United States and was founded at William and Mary in 1776. Secrecy was abandoned years ago, and since 1846 the society has been strictly an honorary scholastic fraternity. Membership in Phi Beta Kappa has long been one of the highest academic distinctions.

The purpose of the organization is to recognize and encourage scholarship and cultural interests. Qualifications for membership are high scholarship, liberal culture, and good character.

The local chapter, Gamma of Virginia, was founded in 1911. Since that time, the chapter has annually conferred membership on students with outstanding academic records. It now has over 600 living members. In recent years, juniors who have exceptionally distinguished records, not below the requirement for summa cum laude (2.75) have been selected for membership.

Election of academic seniors is based upon seven semesters of work, including the freshman year. Election of LL.B. candidates is based primarily upon law grades but pre-law academic records are now considered, Dr. Desha said.

Faculty, Staff Life Insurance Increases Today

Group life insurance for the faculty and administration increased today from $1,000 to $20,000, in a move heavily supported by the Board of Trustees.

In addition, disability insurance has been allowed for the faculty, administration, and other employees for the first time.

The Board, in its January meeting, agreed to pay one-half of the group life program, in which faculty and administration members will be insured for $20,000, and other employees for $5,000. The insured individuals will pay for the other half of the program.

The Board will pay 60 per cent of the disability insurance premiums. The insurance will pay 50 per cent of a disabled person's salary, plus 15 per cent of the salary as premiums to the Teacher's Annuity Insurance Assn.

According to Dean Adams, chairman of the faculty's insurance committee, over three-fourths of the faculty, administration, and employees are signed up under the new program.

Modern Music Thomson Topic

Virgil Thomson, noted American composer, critic, and lecturer, will speak here Thursday on "The State of Music Now."

Sponsored by the Department of Fine Arts, Thomson will speak at 8 p.m. in duPont Auditorium. Free admission tickets are available through Prof. Robert Stewart.

Thomson, who has written in virtually all musical forms, is best known for his "Four Saints in Three Acts," and "The Mother of Us All," operas set to texts by Gertrude Stein. Other works include symphonies, symphonic suites, string quartets, piano selections, songs, and motion picture background music.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Thomson graduated from Harvard in 1938 and studied composition in New York and Paris.

Sensabaugh Announces Policy for Summer Credits

Dean Leon F. Sensabaugh has announced that students planning to attend summer school and wishing to receive credit for these courses must receive permission from the head of the department or departments concerned and from the Dean of the University before entering summer school.

No credit will be given for courses taken if prior permission has not been obtained.

Applications for credit for summer school work may be obtained from the office of the Dean of the University.

Qualifying for Golf Team Set To Start Next Week

Practice for the varsity golf team will start this week. Qualifying rounds will be played March 8, 10, 11, 15, 17, and 18 at the Lexington Country Club to determine the team membership.

The first match of the 1960 season will be against Dartmouth on March 22.

All men who are interested in trying out for the team should contact Coach Cy Twombly.

A joint concert, presenting portions of Haydn's "The Seasons," will be given tonight at 8:30 in the Lexington Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mr. Robert Stewart, W&L professor of music.

Dyer Leads Wrestlers Over UVA, 16-13

Last night the General matmen avenged last year's loss to the Wahos as they defeated our neighbors to the North, 16-13, in what Coach Dick Miller described as "one of the hardest fought matches of the season."

Led by Danny Dyer, the Generals squeaked by a very strong UVA team. Dyer pinned his man in the 137 pound class, after 123 pound Dave Montgomery had started the evening off by decisioning his man. Sandy Mersereau added three more points to the General tally as he decisioned his man, and Drew Danko followed at 157 pounds by decisioning his opponent. After this the Wahos took the next two weight divisions, and heavyweight Graham Fulton tied to give the Generals a final three point edge. This was their last match, and they ended the season with a 7-2 record.

Cavaliers Defeat Hoopsters 86-59

The Washington and Lee basketball team ended its season on a sour note Saturday night, dropping an 86-59 decision to the University of Virginia in Charlottesville. The loss gave the Generals a record of 7 wins and 11 losses for the year, quite an improvement over last year, when the Generals won only one game.

Virginia took the lead from the opening whistle and never was headed. The game was close for the first 12 minutes, but then the Cavaliers scored 8 straight points and as far as the Generals were concerned the game was over.

The Cavaliers were paced by sophomore Tony Laquintano and senior Bob Mortell. Laquintano scored 27 points on 12 field goals and three for four from the free throw line. Mortell added 19 more points and hauled down a record high of 25 rebounds. The only other Cavalier in double figures was flashy ball handler Paul Adkins with 12 points. Rocky Gaut was high for the Generals with 17 points, a lot of them coming on tap-ins. The only other General to do any appreciable scoring.

Whites Down Blues 12-0

The "White" team of Coach Charlie Harrington defeated the "Blue" team of Coach Boyd Williams, 12-0, Saturday in the annual spring intrasquad game.

Sophomore fullback Doug Martin was the leader of the White offense, as he figured in both touchdowns. Martin scored the first touchdown early in the second half on a pitch-out from quarterback Robin Wood from the 14-yard line. The second score came with only four minutes left in the game, when Martin passed eight yards to sophomore end Ned Hobbs for the score.

The Blues did score one touchdown when Steve Suttle raced 52 yards in the fourth quarter. However, the touchdown was nullified by an illegal procedure penalty. Other than that, the Blues didn't come within reach of the White goal line.

Both teams featured running attacks because of the muddy field and the lack of an adequate passer. The leading ground gainers were Suttle, halfbacks Dave Sharp and Jim Hickey, and fullbacks Bob Funkhouser and Jack Kowalski. As usual, Terry Fohs was a terror on defense, along with linebacker Courtney Mauzy and end Dan Blaine.

Frosh Swimmers Sparked By Stevenson, Gummey

Led by Charlie Stevenson, Charlie Hart, and Charlie Gummey, this year's freshman swimming team compiled a 5-1 record, almost as good as that of the varsity.

The team's wins included a rout over Lynchburg College Varsity, and two wins against Augusta Military Academy. The "Baby Generals" lone loss came to a strong Staunton team.

Stevenson and Gummey, who both swim the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, were the teams top point getters.

Track Team Much Improved This Season

Bolestered by the return of 15 lettermen the Washington and Lee track team has a good chance to improve on its 1959 record of six wins and two losses.

Led by senior Captain Skip Rohnke, the Generals will participate in seven dual meets. Also, the Generals have been invited to take part in four invitational meets.

Coach Norm Lord is very pleased with the large turnout he has had. He is very enthused about a few freshmen who have looked extremely good in practice. One of these is Dave Munroe, who set a new shot put record in the intramural meet this year.

Another promising candidate is Tab Bunkley who ran indoor track this year. In the VMI relays, freshman division, Bunkley won the broad jump and was very impressive in the 440 and 220 yard runs.

Coach Lord is especially pleased with the large group of returning lettermen. Included in this group are sprinters Jim Hickey, Jack Blakeslee, and Nathan Simpson; hurdlers Al Corwin, Drew Danko, and Joe Smith; pole vaulters Eddie Myers and Dave Calloway; and javelin throwers Al Painter and Rohnke.

GENERALLY SPEAKING

By BILL LOEFFLER

A couple of weeks ago an area sportswriter wrote a column discussing the relative merits of what he termed the greatest college basketball teams in the history of Virginia. Among others, he mentioned the University of Richmond teams of the early 1950's and the Washington and Lee squads of the 1930's.

But one team with a fabulous record that he failed to mention was the W&L squad of 1916-17. True, this was in the days of the center jump after every basket and it was a time when defense was still considered a part of the game. The scores were lower, but this General squad had a record which is not likely to be touched by another W&L team.

Their record that year was 13-0. They were South Atlantic and Southern champions. And among their victims were some of the present powers of big-time college basketball.

Jiggs Donahue was coach of this team. He used a type of zone defense in which all five players were strung out across the center of the floor. And this defense held W&L opponents to an average of less than 16 points per game. As the 1917 Calyx puts it, "This sterling defense was coupled with brilliant personal playing by every man on the team."

This "brilliant personal playing" seems a bit strange to us now, since most of it was done on defense. Cy Young was the top scorer on the team although he only averaged 12.4 points a game, not much by the standards of such as Wilt Chamberlain, Oscar Robertson and Bevo Francis. But it's not bad when one considers that he averaged only about three points per game less than the teams that W&L met that year.

W&L's biggest total that year came in their opening game, a 53-11 romp over Virginia Christian College. Included in the victory string that year were wins over Richmond 34-18, Vanderbilt 26-8, West Virginia 32-19, North Carolina A. and M. (now N. C. State) 24-18, Roanoke 38-15, Tennessee 28-19 and the University of North Carolina 40-23.

North Carolina was the only team to score 20 points against the Generals that year. Tennessee and Roanoke were both undefeated when they ran into W&L, and Roanoke had not lost a game for two years.

Of course, it's debatable as to how well this squad would stack up against some of the teams today. The game has changed almost completely in 40 years. But even so, it's not likely that W&L will have another team like that one while any of us are still watching basketball.

Deferment Test Set April 28

Students interested in taking the April College Qualification Test of the Selective Service System should apply at once to the local draft board, above Bierer's Pharmacy. After receiving an application and a bulletin of information, the student should fill out the application immediately and mail it to Selective Service Examining Section, Educational Testing Service, Box 586, Princeton, N.J.

The test will be given on April 28, and applications must be post-marked no later than April 6. Results of the test will be reported to the student's local board for use in considering his deferment as a student.

(Continued from Page 1) Virginia considers each graduating class by itself, and each individual elected. Election is not based on any fixed percentage of the class and there is no strict numerical requirement for membership.

Dr. William A. Jenks is president of the local chapter. Present student members of Phi Beta Kappa include J. E. Kocen, F. W. Ling, William O. Goode, Jon B. McLin, Sandy C. Marks, Thomas W. Weiting and F. C. Bozeman.

Fifteen students were elected to membership in the fraternity last year.

Freshman Tank Schedule To Be Improved Next Year

Both were undefeated in the 50, each one participating in three meets.

Hart swam the breaststroke and 200 freestyle and performed very creditably in both events. Towards the end of the season he took part in several of the varsity events.

Several other of the frosh who are expected to give the varsity additional strength next year are divers Bob Kowalski and Tim Brown, freestylers Herb Jahnce and Nick Monsarrat, and breaststrokers Steve Stull and Ed Johnson.

Coach Norris Eastman plans to schedule better freshman meets next year. Eastman, who will be elevated to head swimming coach next year, feels that this year's freshmen will give the varsity the strength it needs for another excellent season in 1961.
