

BENNY GOODMAN TO PLAY AT SPRINGS

In VMI Fieldhouse

Miss Virginia, Huff At Spring Sport Show

The Lexington-Rockbridge Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor its first annual Valley Youth Fitness and Sports Show at the VMI fieldhouse on April 7-8. At a business meeting Wednesday night, Mr. Hugh Slusser, President of the Jaycees, stated that this would be "the biggest show of its type ever to take place in the Shenandoah Valley, possibly in the state."

The purpose of the show is to promote athletic interest and physical fitness in people of all ages. The grand scale on which this spectacular was originally planned is being realized because of the concentrated efforts of the Jaycees. The program of events is long and varied; it contains "something for everyone" and includes many topics of direct interest to Washington and Lee students.

Ray Robrecht, intermediate law student and 1959 Golden Gloves Champion, will box Saturday night. At the present, Ray has a 9-0 record and is trying for his tenth win tonight.

"Twenty girls in leotards," to use Jaycee Don Huffman's phrase, will perform a modern dance and ballet. The dance group is from Sweet Briar. There will be a fashion show featuring sports and casual wear, which will be modeled by local beauties and members of the Vogue Club from neighboring Southern Seminary.

Assisting in the fashion show will be Miss Virginia of 1961, Miss Cathy Birch of Staunton, Va. She will also give a twenty minute skit on some item of sports interest. It has been said that she will appear in a baseball uniform.

W&L men will be featured in other events. Hunter Tracht, a Beta, and Spence McEvoy, a Phi Delta, will give exhibitions on the trampoline. Two members of the Washington and Lee wrestling team will demonstrate various wrestling holds.

Sam Huff, rugged all-American and all-Pro lineman of the New York Giants will also appear at the Jaycee spectacular. He will be present on both days to sign autographs and to assist in the drawings for the many door prizes which are to be given away.

Further highlights of this many-faceted show will include the appearance of Roger Webb and his gymnastic team from U.Va.; an exhibition by Curtis Weaver, expert fly caster; a demonstration on the fundamentals of skiing by Sepp Kober; and discussions and demon-

Benny Goodman

'King of Swing' Will Perform For Formal Dance Friday Night

The signing of Benny Goodman to play at the Spring Dance Set on Friday night is now dependent only on a phone call. It was stated by his New York agents that there was no reason why confirmation should not come through late today, according to Dance Board president Jim Vann.

The concerts given by Benny Goodman and his all-star Trio, Quartet and Orchestra in Carnegie Hall are renowned the world over. It was Goodman who helped make "swing" a household word in the thirties.

Benny Goodman is one musician who refuses to grow old. He has not become a collector's item, but has remained as the greatest clarinetist in the entertainment field. Because he is the center of whatever band he plays with, he demands and gets technical perfection, and marks each performance with the stamp of "Goodman."

Goodman's great achievement was that he freed jazz from the limitations of a small, cliquish audience and awakened an interest in this very basic American art in a wide public which had never been reached by it before. This was proved by the many spontaneous demonstrations which followed his performances in the thirties.

The now-famous Goodman arrangements of popular tunes were contrived with the aid of some of the finest creative jazz talents available. The Goodman arrangements of "Riding High," "Always," "St. Louis Blues," "Stompin' at the Savoy," "Moonglow," "One O'Clock Jump," and many others have established for him an international following that has given the name of Benny Goodman a unique place in the world of jazz.

The Trio and Quartet which skyrocketed jazz to immortality—Harry James, Lionel Hampton, Gene Krupa, Teddy Wilson, Ziggy Elman, Jess Stacy, Chris Griffin—has now divided into many segments. But the stabilizing influence which bound these men all together—Benny Goodman—has retained that same greatness while adapting it to the present decade's tastes.

The appearance of Goodman at the Friday night dance, which has a "Shangri-La" theme, will mark one of the most outstanding highlights in the history of Washington and Lee social life. Bill Outman, president of the Dance Set, is centering the theme of the dance around James Hilton's famous novel, Lost Horizon. The oriental motif combined with the Goodman jazz and idiom will set the 1961 Spring Dance apart as one of the most unique ever held.

This year the schedule of the Spring Dance Set has been changed in an effort by Jim Vann to gain more student interest in the dance and concert. Last year Claude Thornhill played for a Friday night formal dance and Joni James gave a concert on Saturday night supported by Thornhill's band. The plan this year is for a Saturday afternoon concert given by an as yet unannounced jazz group and Benny Goodman's performance Friday night.

SWMSFC Sells Nearly All Seats For April Show

Seventy-five per cent of the tickets for Heads or Tails, the 1961 SWMSFC musical production, have been sold, SWMSFC officials said today.

The weekend of April 14-15 is completely sold out, and the sales of tickets for week-night performances have hit 60 per cent.

The musical's writer-director, Steve Danzansky, says he believes the show will show a profit, especially since the show is being presented at Hollins and possibly at Randolph-Macon. The profits from the show will go to the Student War Memorial Scholarship Fund.

After Spring vacation the price of tickets will be raised to $2.50.

Enlightened Version

Heads or Tails is Danzansky's enlightened version of Anstophanes original play Lysistrata which was written about 400 B.C. The revised version, though retaining the same theme as the original, that of the women of Athens and Sparta going on a chastity strike to prevent war between the men of their two city-states, is longer and more involved. From the original half-hour play Danzansky has created a lively two-hour musical. Besides spooking sex, the Danzansky show also brings to mind, via the use of clever dialogue, the ever-present North-South conflict—this one of course between Athens and Sparta.

Good Rehearsals

Rehearsals are going well, the director says, and the cast is very enthusiastic about the show. When asked his opinion of the audience's reaction to the numerous cave scenes, a serious male member of the cast replied, "Might as well hit 'em where it hits home."

Journalism School Begins Series of Educational Films

"The Informer" a film directed by John Ford, will be screened in the Washington and Lee University journalism lecture room at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 4.

The film is one of a series of movies for students in the journalism communications department's course on the motion picture medium. The screening is open to the public.

Other films to be offered during the semester include "Window on Canada" and "Filming of On the Beach." All films are instructional, on the nature of the medium itself, or illustrate notable periods and styles of films.

Dr. Allen Ragan In Council Race

Dr. Allen E. Ragan, a W&L political science professor, has entered the race for election to the Lexington Town Council.

Dr. Ragan, who teaches municipal government among his courses, has filed his entry for the elections which will be held this June.

Six Seats Open

Dr. Ragan's entry into the race brings to five the number of men who have filed their candidacy for the six council seats. Of the incumbent councilmen, one has stated he will not run in June, two have said that they will run but have not filed their candidacy, and two are still uncommitted at this point.

A senior member of the Washington and Lee faculty, he has been at W&L for 15 years.

A native of Kentucky, Dr. Ragan came to Lexington from a teaching position at Tusculum College in Greenville, Tenn.

Interested in Good Government

Dr. Ragan told the Ring-tum Phi today that he wanted to enter the race because "I'm interested in the welfare and the good government of Lexington."

He said he had never been a member of such a group, and that his entry for the coming elections was his first attempt at Lexington politics.

Dr. Ragan said that he filed his application for election last Monday with Harry Wright, the clerk of Rockbridge County's Circuit Court.

Four Juniors, Three Sophs Invited To Join Fraternity For Journalistic Excellence

Bob Diehl, president of the Washington and Lee Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi announced today that nine students have been asked to join the national-professional journalism society.

Diehl, a SPE from Manheim, Pa., said that two seniors, four juniors, and three sophomores have been asked to join the fraternity.

He said that the following were named to join: R. J. O'Brien from Newport News and Robert Holley, Jr., from Moorestown, N. J., both seniors.

Juniors asked to join are Roy Goodwin, a KA from Augusta, Ga.; Michael P. Keating a PiKA from Centerville, Md.; Richard L. Kelley, a Pi Phi from Towson, Md., and Charles Via, a Kappa Sig from Martinsville, Va.

The three sophomores are Bill Bowen, a SAE from Brooklyn, N. Y.; Clarence Renshaw, from Mt. Lebanon, Pa., and Bob Holland, a Lambda Chi from Richmond.

Unique Seminar Set

Dr. William R. Mueller, chairman of the Department of English at Goucher College, will be the speaker in Washington and Lee's first seminar in religion. The Seminar which will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 4 and 5 will be jointly sponsored by the English and Religion Departments.

The theme of Dr. Mueller's lectures will be "Religion in Contemporary Literature." During his visit at Washington and Lee, he will deliver two evening addresses in duPont auditorium. The topics for the addresses will be "Literature of Biblical Commitment" and Literature of Ultimate Concern." Also Dr. Mueller will meet several religion classes and hold a special seminar for English majors.

Dr. Mueller is currently Chairman of the Department of English at Goucher College, Baltimore, Md. In the field of English Literature he holds the A.B. degree from Princeton and the M.A. and Ph.D. from Harvard. He holds the M.A. in the field of Religion from Union Theological Seminary, N.Y. Before taking his present post at Goucher, Professor Mueller taught at Williams College and the Women's College of the University of North Carolina.

He is the author of two books, The Anatomy of Robert Burton's England, and The Prophetic Voice in Modern Fiction, and the editor of a third, That Souveraine Light: Essays in Honor of Edmund Spenser, 1552-1952.

Professor Mueller's special interest in the religious insights in modern "secular" literature is based upon his conviction that "much of our ostensibly religious writing is hardly worth the time of a person seeking religious insights or aesthetic satisfaction."

McPherson Will Lecture

Dr. Harry McPherson, General Counsel for the Democratic Platform Committee, will speak on "Regionalism and National Interest" Friday, April 7 at 8:15 in duPont Auditorium.

The announcement of Dr. McPherson's visit to the campus came today from Dr. Marshall Fishwick, professor of sociology at the university.

On the Floor

The current activities of Dr. McPherson keep him continuously on the floor of the United States Senate, and in frequent conferences with Vice-President Lyndon Johnson and the Democratic Majority Leader, (Continued on page 4)

Dr. Patton To Speak On Geology

Dr. John B. Patton, chairman of the Indiana University department of geology, will speak at Washington and Lee April 6 on "Geology and World Affairs."

The talk is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in duPont Auditorium. The public is invited.

Agelasto To Head UCA

By C. C. FLIPPEN
Staff Reporter

The University Christian Association officers for the coming year were elected in a regular meeting of the UCA last night.

A Phi Psi junior from London Bridge, Va., was elected to head the UCA. He is Peter Agelasto who held the office of chairman of community service in the UCA. Agelasto replaces Malcolm Brownlee, a senior from Rockbridge Baths, Va.

Chosen to serve with the new president were Arnold B. McKay, a Phi Kap sophomore from Sandston, Va., vice-president; and C. Mark Whitehead, KA junior from LaGrange, Ga., secretary. Keith A. Carr, Beta sophomore from Chevy Chase, Md., was re-elected treasurer of the group. McKay had previously served as chairman of worship. Ashley Wiltshire, a Delta sophomore from Richmond, Va., is the outgoing secretary.

The newly elected officers will serve throughout the entire 1961-62 session.

Dr. Patton will visit the campus April 5-7 under the auspices of the 1961 Visiting Geological Scientists Program of the American Geological Institute. The program is being sponsored "to improve the understanding of the geological sciences on the campus and in the community of the host institution." The visit chairman at Washington and Lee is Dr. Edgar W. Spencer, head of the department of geology.

Dr. Patton holds A.B., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Indiana University. He is a member of the Association of American State Geologists and the Geological Society of America.

Two outstanding geologists have appeared here in recent years under similar programs. Dr. T. S. Lovering, of the U.S. Geological Survey and Mr. Raymond Moore of the University of Kansas both have visited the campus.

"The American Geological Institute is a federation of scientific and technical societies operating under the National Academy of Sciences to advance the science of geology and to serve the needs of geological scientists," AGI officials say.

Dr. William R. Mueller of Goucher College will deliver a series of seminar lectures on "Religion in Contemporary Literature" April 3 and 4. The lectures will be sponsored by the English and Religion Departments.

Don't Become A Statistic

The National Safety Council usually predicts the number of persons that will lose their lives on our nation's highways during a given holiday period. Each Spring Vacation, they estimate that between 300 and 350 people will lose their lives.

Publicized statistics and repeated appeals from the National Safety Council have failed to influence American motorists to any great extent. The record of the fatalities and permanently maimed continue to soar out of proportion to the population but quite in proportion to the almost suicidal "horsepower race" that exists in the American automobile industry.

We only wish to bring into effect some serious thought concerning the obligation that each of you holds in your hands as you grip the wheel of a car while driving the big "20-hour push, non-stop" to home, to the girl, or to the favorite vacation spot.

Your judgment and discretion or the lack of same will have far-reaching consequences of either uninterrupted happiness or the setting for a grief-stricken tragedy. In either case, the net result will affect you and your immediate family and also the lives of many whom you have never considered.

Let's hope no Washington and Lee student will be among the toll figures for Spring 1961. Maybe Washington and Lee will be lucky enough to have all of its students returning from a happy holiday.

Incidentally, the idea that high speed will cut down on travel time is pretty foolish. The only thing high speed will cut down on is drivers and passengers.

The Friday Edition wishes each student a happy holiday, and we hope that you will make it back safely to Lexington and not to a hospital bed or funeral parlor.

The Executive Committee Should Have Most Prestige

By MALCOLM BROWNLEE
Friday Columnist

I suppose it is impossible to hope that the main weaknesses of our student body elections will be corrected in a timely manner. These corrections would mean the scrapping of our present political system, which, of course, no one wants to scrap despite its absurdness.

But there is one change which I hope we can make. This change would correct a conspicuous flaw in our voting system and at the same time would let us keep the party factions which are so dear to us.

I refer to the fact that our dance-set presidents are elected before our class representatives to the Executive Committee. Thus some of those who would serve most ably in our student government are relegated to positions of inferior importance.

It is true, of course, that the dance-set presidents do a great deal of work. But it is a type of work that any good organization man can do. It does not affect our campus for more than one weekend, and even then it does not greatly affect it. Our dance sets are becoming less and less popular, but our dance-set presidents still hold four of the top seven prestige positions on our campus.

Couple this with the obvious fact that not all of the Executive Committee decisions are concerned with cases that are either black or white. The Honor System cannot be reduced to a set of rules which covers every incident which might be interpreted as a breach of honor. For this reason the Executive Committee should be filled with men who are capable of mature judgment.

I do not claim that the best of such men are always chosen as dance-set presidents, but often they are. Our student governing body should be considered the position of most importance and of highest prestige on our campus. That it is not is an obvious weakness in our voting system.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor: March 17th

It's almost exciting to at last read conservative views in a college newspaper! Very infrequently I run across a letter to the editor, or— even more infrequently—a feature article that voices any degree of conservative libertarian ideas. But these few voices—which are usually quite articulate, too—are worth the waiting.

To be specific, I enjoyed immensely reading the Ring-tum Phi's editorial coverage, and features on Senator Barry Goldwater's visit to your campus a few weeks ago. And although there were several qualifications and reservations in that coverage concerning Goldwater and his (and my) brand of conservatism, I can't tell you what a pleasure it was to see them stated rationally, intelligently, and constructively.

If it's one thing I'm sick of, it's this typical-typical holier-than-thou self-righteousness which stereotypes the majority of college editors. Their protests and their agreements conform—to the letter—to the moth-eaten mold from which they are pressed. These young men and women inherit, and thus fail to create, most of their ideas, patterns of thought, and phraseology.

To understand what I'm talking about, pick up any college newspaper and glance over the editorial page. The same hackneyed phrases and ideas are dragged out concerning the standard political scapegoats: HUAC, Peace Corps, sit-ins, etc., etc. Are there no other areas of political, social, and economic concern here and abroad? Or are there even any new ideas or even protests concerning these raging issues?

Politics should be of interest and concern to all students; so concern to all students; so shouldn't this mean we form a philosophy that is individual to us, and that incorporates many questions and often conflicting solutions? I just wish I could discover an original editorial

RES IPSA LOQUITUR

Spring Vacation Advice Given: Act As The Ivy-Leaguers Would

By THORNS CRAVEN
Friday Columnist

Tomorrow is tomorrow is tomorrow, and after that we'll leap in our pretty pace from day to day.

This column written for those of us who are still here on Friday, but are just beginning to attack the pre-vacation kegs in a rush of anticipation. And with the dawn we'll all flee, handovers included, to the tropical clime of sunny Florida—the ZBT's answer to California.

I had originally intended to make this column a little guide book concerning what-to-do while vacationing in the sun. The thought got so developed that I was even thinking of putting out a government pamphlet entitled "1001 Ways To Have Fun in the Sun, and Looking Cool All the While." That would sell, of course, for a quarter a copy; obtainable from the Department of the Interior, Washington 25,D.C. But I got hung up at about number eight hundred and forty-seven, or thereabouts, and gave it up. And since Warner Brothers has already shown the way, and I've never been further south than Jessup, Ga., I guess it would have been neither original nor authoritative. And, also, I'm going to New York, and my handbook wouldn't have proved functional there at all. So I guess everyone will just have to have original fun in the sun, and read the College Town Shop ads on how to look cool all the while.

But forsaking my project leaves me without a column, and far be it for me to let anyone go South for ten days without carrying a few laughs with them. Especially since almost everyone is on a limited budget.

So here are suggestions for getting laughs before going to Florida, and possibly for taking them all the way.

First of all, leave right now. Call up Dean Gilliam, tell him you can't wait a minute longer, and that the whole university can go to ????. Re-instatement only cost a couple of dollars plus final absence probation, and a good laugh is easily worth that.

Now that you've severed your connections with the university, and have come back to pick up some traveling tips, here they are: Since you've probably already stocked your car bar, and do doubt you've learned how to operate a church key (beer opener), I won't go into all that. I'll discuss, instead, sports and games. Cow poker is good, but like games of similar nature, is limited. You have to know what a cow is. Another good one is counting up state license plates until you've seen one from every state. Close your eyes on the way out of town so you won't get too far ahead too quickly on this one.

The best games, though, have two purposes, these being a test of skill and a useful function. A good beginner's game in this category is throwing beer cans at signs. This gets rid of trash while improving marksmanship. A more advanced version (for people with more skill and more expensive trash) is throwing whiskey bottles at pedestrians. Devise your own scoring system.

Of course the best games come when you hit Florida, as you all have seen in the flicks. So as a parting word I advise you all to say that you're an Ivy Leaguer, rape some girl, and she be run down by a capitalist as she wanders about on the Florida Freeway in complete disillusion after finding out you're really from W&L. Have fun gang.

'Operation Abolition' Is A Film Which Should Be Shown Here

By ROBERT C. KETCHAM
Friday Columnist

Operation Abolition, a 45-minute movie sponsored by the House Un-American Activities Committee, has now been seen by approximately 10 million people according to committee chairman Francis Walter.

This film is an edited short sold by Washington Video Productions, Inc. for $100 a print. The film was taken of the demonstrations and hearing while the committee met in the historic session of May 12-14, 1960, in San Francisco. The HUAC subpoenaed all the films from two TV studios ostensibly for its own files. However, the film was delivered to the above mentioned commercial studio for what the film company has termed a "speculative venture."

A young man with a familiar name, Fulton Lewis, III, did the narration of the film and travels with it to college campuses where it is to be shown. The sound track makes the dispassionate observer a participant as emotional words are tossed to the viewers: "revolution,"

"hostilities," "dupes," "elite corps," "battleground," "mob."

Says the committee of the film: (it) "exposes communism's avowed objective of destroying the Committee on Un-American Activities and our Nation's entire security program." Also strong in their endorsement have been the FBI's J. Edgar Hoover, the National Review and several conservative Baptist groups.

Many queries and doubts as to the truthfulness and thoroughness of the film have been raised notwithstanding. After making its own study of events, the National Council of Churches issued this statement to its ministers: "not to exhibit the film unless a full and fair presentation is made of all the facts."

The San Francisco police who also endorse the film have nonetheless conceded that it occasionally scrambles sequences and errs in one or two places. Another endorser, William Wheeler, the committee's own investigator, admitted of some error in a taped television debate in Los Angeles:

Student: "I am basing my discussion on the fact that the film does have inaccuracies, does have distortions."

Wheeler: "All right, we have admitted that. Let's get on to another subject."

Student: "You have admitted that, Mr. Wheeler?"

Wheeler: "Certainly."
In admitting of some factual error the committee chairman Walter insisted that "it's unfortunate, but honest and decidedly minor."

Two From W&L Attend Session

Dean of the College William W. Pusey, III, and American History Professor A. W. Moger will attend a nationwide "Conference on Outstanding Students in Liberal Arts Colleges." The Conference will be held at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., March 26-29.

The purpose of the conference is to discuss ways and means of providing the best possible education for college students who have outstanding intellectual abilities. The conference is designed for independent colleges with enrollments under 2,000. Fifty institutions have been invited to attend.

The attempt to provide improved facilities for able students in the independent-arts colleges is an outgrowth of a similar study and program carried on in the universities.

The attendance of the Dean and Mr. Moger at the conference is considered a step in line with the "New Era" at Washington and Lee.

Set up in 1947, the HUAC came into its own during the McCarthy era. It has attempted to keep its power and influence as great as it was in that period. The committee has apparently been successful, this year's vote to keep the committee was 412-6 and the group got the money requested with no strings attached.

Speculative Venture
Operation Abolition has been highly successful as a "speculative venture." Nor has it been less rewarding for the Committee in that prints of the film are booked months in advance by Army camps, American Legion posts, political meetings.

When a corporation buys this film it is guilty of nothing worse than taking the stockholders money and using time which could be more profitably utilized in a coffee break.

When a print is purchased by a Federal Agency it is wasting taxpayers' money for the improper purpose of becoming an advertising agency for the HUAC.

Present at W&L
It would be worthwhile to have this film shown on campus, however, and I would like to propose that it be done. The School of Journalism which gives courses in both films and propaganda should welcome the opportunity to bring this officially endorsed indictment to Lexington.

The menace of Communism as espoused by present day Marxists is a national threat. But to give a committee the power and prestige which it is enjoying at the present is equally dangerous. Dangerous because the committee furthers its own ends by blunt accusations and distortions of the very thing this nation's people do fear.

Propaganda Stunt
To bring the film to campus would give students a chance to evaluate the film for what it is, a propaganda stunt promoted by an agency of our government. There is much more to the film than is on its face; but to be fairly judged the film and the facts must be presented.

Examination Schedule

May 20, 1961 through May 30, 1961

It is the responsibility of each student to know the time and place of meeting of each of his examinations. The hours for examinations are 9:00-12:00 and 2:00-5:00. Any student more than five minutes late must present a satisfactory reason for his lateness to be allowed to take the examination.

The omission by a student of any regular examination causes him to forfeit his place in the class and to receive grade F for the semester, unless he is excused for reasons deemed sufficient by the Dean and the instructor concerned.

Maryland Rips Generals, 22-4 In Lacrosse

Maryland's Terrapins toyed with W&L's lacrosse team for fifteen minutes Thursday before lowering the boom and racing to a 22-4 victory.

The Terps, one of the country's top ten lacrosse teams, scored three goals in the game's first six minutes. Each score came with W&L one man short. Then they let the Generals nearly catch up.

Led by Ray Gordon and Ray Miller, the Generals bounced back to close the Maryland gap to 3-2 with 0:55 left in the first period.

Gordon tallied the first General goal as he weaved around the right side of the Maryland goal and fired a low shot into the nets.

Miller followed Gordon's goal two minutes later with a 10-yard shot from the left side.

Until two minutes before Gordon scored his goal, Washington and Lee had not had the ball in its own territory. Maryland had completely controlled the play and had muffed several scoring chances.

In the second period, the Terrapins caught fire as they pounded the Generals' nets for six tallies. Buddy Breadmore collected two of those six after scoring two of the Terp's first period goals. Breadmore added his final tally in the third period.

Three times during the game, Maryland caught the W&L defense napping as they scored two goals within ten seconds of each other.

Breadmore was in on the quick goal scoring spree twice. He teamed with Fritz Waider to score goals within a six second lapse in the second period and paired up with Jack Sadler in the third period for two goals within eight seconds.

In the final period, John Kent and Jim Herrill fired goals within a ten second period.

Following Breadmore in the Maryland scoring were Waidner and Ray Altman with three goals each; Walt Durigg, Herril and Paul Johnson with two goals each.

Baseballers Open Trip At Elon College This Saturday

Washington and Lee's baseball team leaves early tomorrow morning on its annual spring training tour. This year's trip has the Generals playing six games in eight days, against three college teams and one of the best service teams in the country, the Fort Gordon (Ga.) Signalaires.

The Generals open the tour tomorrow at Elon (N. C.) College. Last year they lost to Elon 4-3 in ten innings. Leading 2-1 in the home eighth, the Generals got a bad break when a routine ground ball hit a stone and bounded over the head of second baseman Park Gilmore, enabling Elon to tie the score and then go ahead 3-2. Although the Generals tied the game in the ninth, back to back triples in the tenth gave Elon the win, and handed Roy Carpenter the first of four one-run defeats.

Phil Sharp was scheduled to start Friday against Dartmouth, so Carpenter can pitch Saturday's game, due both to his experience and to a desire to avenge last year's setback.

After three games at Fort Gordon, the Generals travel to Greenville, N. C. to take on the Pirates of East Carolina, a team coach Joe Lyles considers to be one of the better hitting ball clubs in the South. Last year the Generals, with Carpenter again on the mound, were shut out 7-0 by the Pirates despite some stellar defensive play by centerfielder Robin Wood.

The Generals finish up the spring trip this year against North Carolina State, co-holder of last year's ACC title.

The trip is expected to provide a good testing ground for the 21 squad members who are making the trip. Not only will the veterans be able to work together on timing and defense, but the coach will also be able to take a longer look at the freshmen upon whom he depends so heavily for bench strength.

Warmer weather will also aid the Generals in working out the kinks in muscles cramped by the rain and wind here at home.

With a more experienced squad this year, and a deeper mound staff, the Generals should have better luck than they had on last year's team.

Golfers In Tournament April 1-2 At Greenbrier

Washington and Lee University's golf team, headed by defending medalist Jack Vardaman, will play host April 1-2 in the annual Greenbrier Collegiate Tournament at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Vardaman, a junior from Anniston, Ala., finished two strokes ahead of the field with a 149 in last year's tournament. He is also the defending Virginia collegiate champion.

The two-day tournament on the world-known Greenbrier fairways is the early-season highlight of a nine-match W&L schedule.

The Generals meet Massachusetts Institute of Technology here April 5 in their opening dual match.

Other teams participating in the Greenbrier Tournament are Colgate, Virginia, Davidson, George Washington, West Virginia, Dennison, and Ohio University. Ohio has won the tournament for the past two years.

Washington and Lee will have an inexperienced team this year with only two lettermen, Vardaman and Grantham Couch, returning from last year's club.

Joining Vardaman and Couch on the W&L squad are sophomores

Ronnie Stewart and Steve Henry, junior Willie Lee, and freshman Jack Neal.

Last year the Generals had a 4-2-2 record and finished second in the state tournament. But Coach E. P. "Cy" Twombly thinks this year's team should be better that mark "because of better depth and balance."

The fall schedule:

April 5—Massachusetts Institute of Technology, home; April 10—West Virginia at Hot Springs, Va.; April 13—Lynchburg, home; April 18—Hampden-Sydney, home; April 20, Richmond, away; April 25—William and Mary, home; April 26—Roanoke, away; May 1—State Intercollegiate Tournament, Hot Springs, Va.; May 4—George Washington, away; May 9—Randolph-Macon, home.

Trackmen Seek Second Scalp Against Wake Forest Today

After Washington and Lee blasted High Point (N. C.) College, 104-36, Coach Norm Lord did a strange thing.

He went into the dressing room and hung a piece of tape on the blackboard. Over the tape he wrote—"Scalp number one."

Turning around Lord said, "That's scalp number one. There's only seven more to go." Last year W&L had a 7-0 season. This year could be undefeated season number two.

The Generals go after that prized scalp number two today when they tackle the Atlantic Coast Conference's Wake Forest Deacons at Winston-Salem.

The meet marks the first meeting between Wake Forest, perennially the worst track team in the Atlantic Coast Conference, and Washington and Lee.

Heading the 33-man Washington and Lee squad, which will travel to Winston-Salem, are captain Jim Hickey, king of the W&L sprinters; freshman Skip Essex, one of the most promising runners at W&L in several years; Mike Shank, who is fast becoming a first-rate miler; and freshman Robin Kell, high jump and hop, step and jump artist.

After the spring break, Washington and Lee meets East Carolina College here April 10.

Swimmers Johnson, Gonsoulin Capture First, Second Places

Washington and Lee swimmers Sidney Johnson and Henry Gonsoulin captured a first and a second, respectively, in the first Virginia AAU Swim Meet last Saturday at Richmond.

Johnson, a sophomore, came in first in the 200-yard butterfly with a 2:45. He finished fifth in the 200-yard breaststroke with 2:48. Winning time in the breaststroke was 2:40.

Gonsoulin, a senior, was a distant second in the 400-yard freestyle. He swam a 4:47 while the winner Dick Herr of William and Mary turned in a 4:33. In the 200-yard freestyle, Petersburg Y's Stu Boecynski edged Gonsoulin for third, 2:13.5 to 2:21.4.

Coach Norris Eastman was very pleased with Johnson and Gonsoulin's showings.

"Next year I plan to take up a few more boys and try to win the meet," Eastman said.

Coach Eastman has not received the official team scores, but he said that Washington and Lee did well although it entered only two men.

This was the first year that Virginia has held an AAU swimming meet. Eastman said this year's meet was very successful and that the meet has potential of growing into a top notch annual affair.

Phi Psi Is First In I-M Standings

Phi Kappa Psi pushed into the lead in the intramural standings this week after placing third in bowling and first in wrestling.

PIKA, which came in seventh in bowling and ninth in wrestling, rose from third to second. Phi Delta Theta fell from first to third.

PKP has 807 1/2 points to date while PIKA has 778 1/2 points, and PDT has 766 points.

Sigma Nu is in fourth with 760 1/2 Delta Tau Delta, fifth, 752; SAE, sixth, 746 1/2; Phi Gams, seventh, 739 1/2; Betas, eighth, 723, Pi Phi, ninth, 694; and Phi Kappa Sigma, tenth, 688.

In the bowling playoffs, Law finished first; Pi Phi, second; Phi Psi, third; Phi Kappa Sigma, fourth; Sigma Nu, fifth; Non Fraternity, sixth; PiKA, seventh; and Betas, eighth.

In wrestling following Phi Psi, were Phi Gams, second; Sigma Nu, third; SPE, fourth; Kappa Sigma, fifth; DU, sixth; Phi Deltas, seventh; and Pi Phi, eighth.

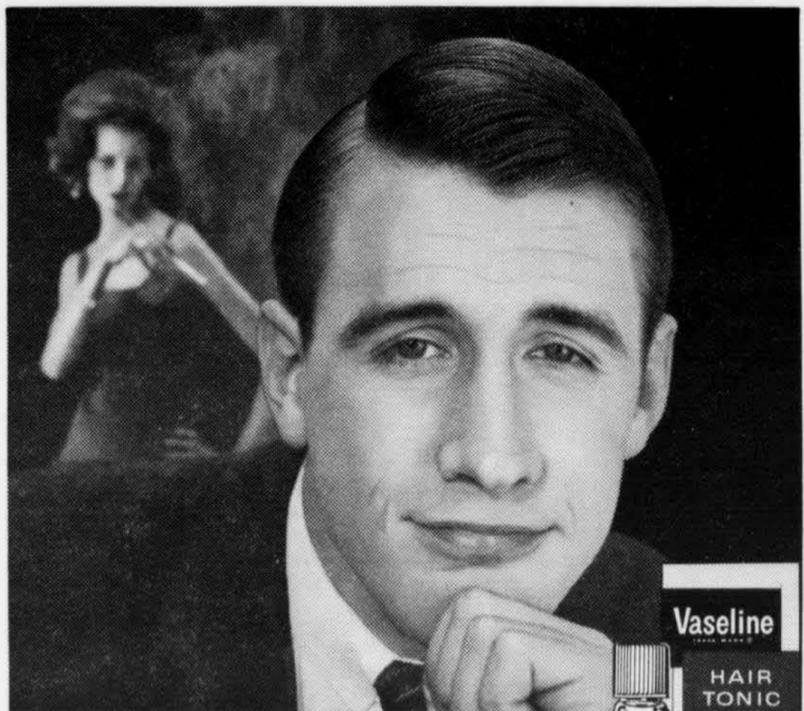

The standings now include the results of golf, tennis, track, swimming, turkey trot, football, handball, wrestling, bowling, and basketball.

how to be roaring in your twenties

Flappers positively flip over lads groomed with 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic. It's the only hair tonic specially made to use with water. Water evaporates - robs your hair of grooming oils. Alcohol and cream tonics evaporate too. But 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic won't evaporate - it's 100% pure light grooming oil that replaces the oil water removes. So don't be the varsity drag - use 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic on your hair - and oh, you kid!

strations on hunting, fishing, and skin diving.

Fencing, track, baseball, judo, soccer, and football will be represented. The Rockbridge Recreation Center will stock an artificial fish pond with real trout; a prize will be awarded to the child catching the largest fish during the course of the weekend. The list of door prizes, worth well over $500 in all, will include cameras, binoculars, and a variety of the finest sports equipment.

In keeping with their tradition of community service, the Jaycees intend to award trophies to outstanding high school students in the Group I-B Valley League. These awards are based on achievement in scholarship, leadership, character, citizenship, and sports.

The weekend will begin with a parade at 5 p.m. Friday, April 7. The parade will move through town to the VMI fieldhouse and will feature Miss Virginia and a host of high school bands.

Dr. McPherson Speaking April 7 On 'Regionalism'

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana. Prior to becoming the Democratic Counsel, Dr. McPherson was a professor at the University of Texas.

He assumed his present duties while Lyndon Johnson was a Senator from Texas and the majority leader in the upper house. He was active throughout the 1960 presidential campaign.

Interest in Regionalism

One of Dr. McPherson's special interests is regionalism, along with the political scene. He has published numerous articles and made many speeches on the theme of regionalism. He has studied Southern rhetoric and is currently doing a history of Southern oratory in the 19th and 20th Centuries.

While in Lexington, Dr. McPherson will appear in several classes along with giving his public lecture on Friday evening. The visit is being sponsored by the American Studies department.

R-t-Phi Subscriptions

Many outstanding events will take place during the Spring term on the W&L campus. To mention only a few: International Relations Week, The Phi Beta Kappa assembly, ODK selections, the SIPA convention, tennis, lacrosse, baseball, intramural events, and Spring and Final dances. These and many other events are covered by and preserved in the two weekly editions of the Ring-tum Phi.

Realizing how hard it is for us, here at school, to keep those at home informed, the Ring-tum Phi would like to offer a special rate of $2.50 for the balance of the semester in order that parents, friends, alumni and any incoming freshmen may be kept in closer contact with the school.

We would encourage you to send in your subscription as soon as possible in order that all the second semester issues be sent. We will be glad to include back issues as long as they hold out. Everyone certainly should spend 10 cents an issue to keep his parents and others informed on the school.

The attached form may be filled out and mailed to Box 899, Lexington, Va., or it may be given to either Huntley Biggs—SAE or Pete Age-lasto—Phi Kappa Psi. The payment of $2.50 may be made now or a bill could be sent to your parents.

Light Play Next for Troubs

The Troubadour Theatre will conclude its season of modern European plays with a comedy to be selected from the works of Anton Chekov or Bernard Shaw.

The works under consideration are Chekov's farce "The Marriage Proposal" and Shaw's series of comic one-act plays based on Napoleon's life entitled "The Man of Destiny."

These plays were chosen to represent the lighter side of European drama, and to contrast with the "heavy" Pirandello work, "Henry IV," which recently concluded a highly successful run. The Spring production will be presented during the first week in May.

Troubadour director Dr. Cecil D. Jones announced today that tryouts for the spring play will be held in duPont Hall on Tuesday, April 4, from 7 to 10 p.m.
