Volume LXV

LEXINGTON, VIRGINIA, OCTOBER 20, 1964

Number 8

INDEPENDENT FRESHMEN STOP CLIQUE

Weekend of Activities Planned for Parents

sponsored jointly by the Parents' Ad- important mission: the education of visory Council and Washington and young men." Lee University, will take place here on October 30 and 31 and November 1.

yesterday 885 parents had registered for the occasion. This number is already larger than the attendance at last year's weekend. A total of 185

Registration and Appointments

Parents' weekend activities begin on Friday afternoon and run through Saturday night. The Friday program begins with registration and includes faculty appointments, which must be made in advance by the students. There will also be campus tours, a meeting of the Parents' Advisory Council, and a weekly Chemitsry Reverend Charles Swezy will be Seminar on Friday afternoon.

Friday evening there will be a number of faculty-student programs, giv- from the faculty and staff of Washen in an attempt to provide a picture ington and Lee to lead the morning of the diversity of the academic and extracurricular programs at W&L. These will be followed by a reception HO 3-5717 or coaches McLaughlin held by President and Mrs. Cole in or Canfield at extension 226. Evans Hall.

Report to Parents

On Saturday time will again be set aside for parent-faculty conferences, and guided tours of the campus. At eleven a.m. the "Report to Parents" will be given in Doremus Gymnasium. Speaking for this occasion will be Jim Kulp, president of the student body; Dr. William Pusey, Dean of the College: Dr. Fred C. Cole, President of at the ZBT house from 1:30 to 5:30. the College, Dean Edward C. Atwood, The price is $1.50 per car and all Jr., Dean of Students; and Dean James proceeds will go to the United Fund. D. Farrar, Director of Admissions. Dean Lewis W. Adams of the School of Commerce and Administration and arship Fund Committee will be sell-Dean Charles P. Light of the Law ing class rings Thursday, October will be taken up by a buffet luncheon | Co-op from 9:30 until 2 p.m. and a varsity football game against Bridgewater. A Saturday night Glee planned weekend of activity.

cil and the University that the par- deliver their short stories, poems, ents and guests will, through their vis- book reviews, etc., to Ariel's mailbox October 30, an enlivened cross-examit, be able to develop a better under- in the Student Union, or should ination debate will be given here on standing of Washington and Lee and submit them to Jim Ledbetter.

The tenth annual Parents' Weekend, find "a closer partnership with it in its

Invitations have been sent out to all parents of W&L students and as of

A brand new venture has been unguests have also accepted invitations dertaken by the Washington and for the weekend.

Lee Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This group is now sponsoring morning devotionals.

The success of the idea is going to depend on the faculty and students of the University.

Last Friday, Coach Vernon Can-Lee McLaughlin, Dr. Hodges, and called upon to lead these devotionals.

The plan is to ask for volunteers

The group meets at 8:05 a.m. Monday through Friday in the Student Union. Everyone is cordially time that Washington and Lee's debatinvited to attend.

Notices

There will be a car wash for the United Fund on October 22 and 23

The Student War Memorial Schol-School will also speak. The afternoon 22. The rings will be sold in the Ariel requests manuscripts for officially mark the end of the well- date is tentatively set for the week will be announced. of November 23.

It is the expressed hope of the Coun- Student writers on campus should Steve Saunders, independent . . .

Richard Nash, University Party

Frosh To Debate Varsity Teams field led the way by holding the first of these meetings. This week Coach At Rosemont Over Next Weekend

George Dover and Rusty Meyer.

This will be the first time that an all-freshman team has been sent to an opening varsity debate, and the first ers have participated in the Rosemont

Thirty Entered

Nearly thirty schools will be in the Rosemont Tournament debating this year's national debate topic, Resolved: That the federal government should establish a national program of puborthodox style, that is, with ten minute constructive and five minute rebutparticipate in each of the five rounds, two rounds on Friday and three on Saturday. The first round will start at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, and the last Club concert in the gymnasium will its autumn 1964 issue. Publication Saturday, at which time the results

On the Friday of Parents' Weekend, the national topic. The affirmative case

This Thursday afternoon, an all- will be presented by Sam Frazier and freshman varsity debate team will Dave Marchese, and the negative case tee. leave for Rosemont College, a girls' by Ed Fitzgerald and Dave Grant. A school outside Philadelphia. Coach W. cross-examination debate differs from Roscoe Reynolds was elected Presi-W. Chaffin will take a four man team an orthodox style debate in that the dent of the freshman Law Class, consisting of one affirmatime team, constructive speeches are each follow- while Herbie Smith was selected Tommy Baremore and Jeff Wain- ed by a three minute period in which Vice-President and Joe Logan was scott, and one two man negative team, the opposition questions the team chosen Secretary-Treasurer. which has just spoken.

Meet Schedule

Succeeding inter-collegiate tournaments are scheduled in this order, beginning with the weekend following Parents' Weekend: Appalachian State Teachers' College, the Delta-Sigma-Rho-Tau-Kappa-Alpha regional at American University in Washington, Pace College, the Georgetown tournament, Pittsburgh University, and finally the Dixie Classic at Winston-Salem in North Carolina. Mr. Chaffin is also lic work for the unemployed. This tournament will be conducted in the with three rounds, to which Randolph with three rounds, to which Randolph fore Christmas Vacation, there will be local dual matches.

Student Prexy Attends Meet In Washington

Jim Kulp, president of the student body ,was among 230 campus leaders from throughout the country who attended a conference organized by desire to serve the freshman class as of system, or against the new Party President Johnson to interest po- a member of the Executive Commit- and the underhanded, wornout way tential leaders in political careers.

The conference, held in Washington on Oct. 3, had two important aspects: the familiarization of the students with various governmental activities, and the introduction of a

This fellowship plan represents the present administration's desire to acquaint posisble leaders of our country with governmental opportunities and obligations. The program consists of a fifteen month period news, might have been appropriate of close association with a cabinet member or other administrator.

The meeting itself was opened by addresses by Rusk, McNamara and Wirtz on their various cabinet positions. President Johnson then intoduced the White House fellowship program. Later in the evening Lynda Bird Johnson acted as hostess for the group with entertainment provided by the Chad Mitchell Trio.

Representatives from colleges in all fifty states were present. Virginia was represented by W&L, VPI, Randolph-Macon, and Mary Washoffice, he will begin his fellowship volves the common, everyday quite beneficial to both the students program next summer. Fifteen will events which often appear insignifi- and the professors. be chosen to participate by a com- cant to most of us. And so readers mittee headed by David Rockefeller, find that I must resort to reporting They will be paid salaries by the the common everyday events which Carnegie Institute.

REUNION D'ORGANIZATION DU CERCLE FRANCAIS VENDREDI 23 OCTOBRE A DEUX HEURES MAISON DE FRATERNITY ZBT

Nash And Saunders In Run-Off; Heinzerling Is Law EC Winner

By FRANK L. FAIRCHILD, JR. Staff Reporter

Failing to receive the needed 133 majority in last night's election, the University Party's nominee, Richard Nash, and an independent candidate, Steve Saunders, have gone into a run-off for freshman EC.

The final count last night gave Nash 111 votes against Saunder's 83 votes. Placing third, Jody Kline, the Liberty

Party's choice, received 36 votes,* while John Reynolds, another inde- preferential poll conducted by the pendent candidate, polled 31 votes. editors of the Ring-tum Phi last The Nash-Saunders run-off was anweek. nounced for Thursday night, the election of officers for qualifications, Doughtery stated that the freshman class of the Law Nash was vice-president of his sen-School was held in Tucker Hall, for class in high school, a member The final tally of votes gave John of the National Honor Society, and Heinzerling a victory over Louis a varsity football and baseball play-MacNeace by a count of 26-21 in er. At Washington and Lee, Nash the contest for freshman Law repre- is president of his pledge class, a sentative on the Executive Commit- member of the Dance Board Advis-

Law Elections

Additional results showed that

Freshman Speeches

The freshman election took place at 7:30 p.m. in Evans Dining Hall last evening under the direction of student body President Jim Kulp. Each candidate, preceded by a brief nominating speech, was allowed five minutes to express his feelings regarding his personal intentions and qualifications for the office of freshman Executive Committeeman.

nominated ZBT pledge Steve Saun- for me in this election. I urge all ders for the office. Enumerating his those who voted for me this eve-Macon, Bridgewater, and Richmond candidate's qualifications, Baremore ning as well as those who didn't, to would perhaps be invited. In addition stated that Saunders has served as vote for me in the run-off Thursday tal speeches. Each school's team will to the nine intercollegiate debates be- co-editor-in-chief of his high school newspaper The Oracle, Chief Justice of his school's student court, and Each speaker in a tournament round governor of the New York District debate is judged on five points and of Key Club International. He also Adams summarized his feelings reevent will be the 3:00 p.m. tea on ranked from 1-poor to 5-superior on cited Saunders' activities here at garding the results of the election. each of those points. The five points W&L which include participation in "First, I think the election shows of qualification of the candidates, played a smaller part than usual. and (2) the political system of Wash- "If you compare the campaigns of ington and Lee. Verbally lashing Nash and Saunders, I think you ton Churchill's statement: "Never would have to say that freshmen had have so few fooled so many for so a louder voice in this election. Perlong." He emphasized his qualifica- haps, this indicates a trend. This tions and conclused by expressing a may be a reaction against the type

Saunders' Talk

Dave Doughtery nominated the University Party's Candidate Rich-Also in campus elections last ard Nash. Listing the nominee's ory Committee, and a member of the recently established Food Control Committee. Dougherty further stated that Nash's entire campaign had been organized by members of the freshman class.

Richard Nash

Richard Nash, a Beta pledge, said that the main issue of the campaign was the sincerity and responsibility of the individual aspirants. He encouraged the freshmen not to vote for or against a political party, but rather to consider the personal qualifications of each candidate. Nash placed fourth in the preferential poll.

Reaction to the election results was mixed. Commenting on the outcome, Richard Nash stated: "I would Tommy Baremore, speaking first, like to thank everbody who voted morning.

Adams Comments

Liberty Party spokesman Patton are: analysis, reasoning and evidence, organization, refutation, and delivery.

the Young Republicans, membership in the U.C.A., and chairmanship of the W&L Civil War Round Table.

that the new University Party isn't as united as it thought it would be. Secondly, it re-inforces the fact that the political system of this campus, as it now stands, has to go through Candidate Saunders emphasized a full re-evaluation to see if it really that he felt there were two main is- is the best system. Thirdly, I think sues in the election: (1) the degree it is an election in which fraternities

tee. Saunders placed third in the in which it was formed.

Bus Services Widened; new program, the White House fellowship program. This fellowship plan represents the Leave Driving To Them

By DAVE MARCHESE Tuesday Columnist

The old saying, no news is good mother were hoping that they telegram. Howsituation today esege campus like Lee. And yet, we not be fantastic, racy, sensational cussion and rapport is anything like If President Johnson remains in or even yellow, but that news inoccur on campus.

> Last night's meeting of the IFC brought no earth-shaking news to the press but Ed Allen, IFC Social Chairman, who had worked on the plans for the bus transportation to Sweet Briar, has now established a similar plan at Macon and Hollins and hopes to have Baldwin in the fold before this weekend rolls around.

during World War feel like the late night road trip this weekend, he sure to arrange for her to take the bus. As this wouldn't receive past weekend's venture was a suca state department cess it is probable that seats will be at a premium.

ever, we don't that on Wednesday, October 28, there will be an IFC-Faculty dinner pecially on a col- at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, A committee is now in the process of de-Washington and veloping suitable and interesting topics for the after-dinner discusmust remember that all news need sion groups. If this evening of dislast year's program, it should prove

> The final note of business concerned the establishment of a used book concession to be activated at the end of this semester. If anyone has any idea involving the mechanics of such a program, please contact your IFC representative or Steve Hibbard.

> A very final note regarding this weekend: Why not take the bus and leave the driving to the IFC.

For the first time in recent history Openings Dances went off com-

Saturday night, Doremus gymsee "Mr. Dynamite" in all his Feather. sweaty glory.

by being on time for once. The Shir- "Please, Please," students ball game, the KA lodge presented elles performed better than usual and their dates provided a very re- the "Little Boys" who managed to being back at full strength after ceptive audience to the antics of the provide very appropriate sounds for having temporarily lost a member to Flames and their emotional "High a much needed three or four hours Priest.

edly engaged in sin elsewhere, were ing to "spice up" his life, surely all dates, and the ABC store.

she not say, "Take All of Me"? Hairy would like to know what nasium was bursting at the seams was in the punch that caused him as a capacity crowd turned out to to "Bend Over and Shake a Tail

The Thornton Sisters again returned to W&L staging an enjoyable, paratively smoothly. James Brown Thrilling to the sounds of "Try gyrating "monkey time" at the Pi reached a milestone in his career Me," "If You Leave Me," and Phi house. Saturday after the footof cocktails, etc.

The only hitch seemed to come when the Saints and Sinners, undobt- one once said. If anyone was want- be remembered by the students, their

The King-tum Phi

Friday Edition

Member of Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

The First W&L Primary

Page 2

In what was essentially a primary election last night, the freshman class nominated two men to run for the office of Freshman Executive Committeeman next Thursday: Richard Nash, the Clique candidate, and Steve Saunders, an independent.

The difference in backing between these two candidates is the decisive factor in the election. It is the difference between a nomination by party bosses and one by popular demand. It is true that Saunders appears, on the basis of his record, to be the better "qualified" of the two men; and it is true that Saunders has out-campaigned Nash and has done so on his own-unlike Nash. Moreover, at least two of the candidates who did not make the runoff favor Saunders over Nash. But outweighing these factors is another: a vote for Nash is a vote for domination by the Clique; a vote for Saunders is a vote for a free primary system by which the student body will finally be able to nominate its own candidates.

There have already been pompous threats from fraternities in attempts to force straightparty voting. But pressure itself will probably convince the freshmen not to let the Clique dictate to them. If the movement which has carried Saunders this far can elect him, it will be a serious blow to party pettiness and chacanery. If this movement puts Saunders into office, we believe that a man will have been elected who is exceptionally competent and eager to serve; and that Saunders will not be another "disappearing" freshman EC representative.

Ignoring The Issues

History was made in a frighteningly rapid whirl last week. But as the world moved from one major news event to another, Barry Goldwater failed, as usual, to keep up. In the Soviet Union two leaders relatively unknown to the free world replaced Nikita Khrushchev, a known quantity, who had led the Communist world through a softening of east-west tensions. In Great Britain, a weak Labor Party took over from the Conservatives on a campaign which promised to withdraw much cooperation from the U.S. in the defense of the free world against Communists. And in Red China an atomic device was detonated to underline the threat posed by the Chinese.

Mr. Goldwater, however, had little to say about all this. During his campaign he has had little enough to say on foreign affairs, but his failure to meet these latest questions is especially disappointing. The Senator has offered no answers, affords no reasons why the American people should vote out an experienced leader and put into office a new one. We could expect as outspoken a man as Mr. Goldwater to point to last week's events and show exactly how he would have met each crisis; but the Senator is surprisingly silent. President Johnson, on the other hand, has given the people every reason for continued confidence in him in several statements on the recent changes.

Perhaps Senator Goldwater is silent on world affairs because he realizes that they burt his candidacy. If the Soviets have retired Khrushchev at the behest of leaders who favor more aggressive policies toward the west, as seems likely, should this country take the bit in its teeth and put Goldwater in office because he too favors a more aggressive policy in international relations? Our interests would be much better served by sticking with the steady Johnson-Kennedy policies. It would be senseless in this situation to imagine that peace could be better preserved by a leader with Goldwater's uncompromising attitudes than by a man of Johnson's political genius.

The British changeover from Tory to Labor government is a peculiarly unfriendly one to Mr. Goldwater. Like all our European allies, the British are strongly inclined against Goldwater, and if he were elected he would face terrific problems in establishing good relations with the new Labor administration. Yet this is precisely the time when we need a president able to work closely with the British, because of their increasing reluctance to join in North Atlantic defense. Now is the time for a firm hand on relations with Englandnot the hand Senator Goldwater has shown us.

The explosion of a nuclear device by the Red Chinese presents another problem which Mr. Goldwater appears ill-equipped to handle: as an atomic power, Red China will seem even more qualified to be recognized in the world diplomatic councils. But Mr. Goldwater seems to be adhering (for once) to his strong determination to have no dealings at all with the Red Chinese. His comments on the recent developments have been centered on the evils of trade with the mainland Chinese, which is hardly the basic question. The Johnson administration, though not ready to recognize the Red Chinese, has at least made progress toward a framework for dealing with them realistically.

Everywhere he has gone, the Republican nominee has hammered on the theme of the Bobby Baker scandal; it is reported that he considers this his best campaign issue. So far, Bobby Baker has indeed been his best issue. But whether the voters will be convinced that this is a more important issue than our relations with the Russians, British, and Chinese, is doubtful. Mr. Goldwater has also spoken forthrightly and effectively on some domestic issues, but more than this has to come from a presidential candidate. He must give evidence of a certain ability to deal with a world situation of increasing complication and delicacy. Mr. Johnson has proved willing to face the fact of this complication, this delicacy, and to bear the burden of seeming often unwilling to give the "right" answer to embarrassing questions.

Senator Goldwater continues to give simple answers which are not real solutions. He will not, he says, deal with the Communists, he will not tolerate increasing presidential power; he spoke out most notably last week in favor of school prayers, "moral leadership," and freedom of association. His arguments are sometimes powerful ones, but the Senator is ignoring the even more powerful considerations of international relations. More and more Mr. Goldwater convinces us that we must place our confidence in Lyndon Johnson, who has shown himself able to understand and to deal with problems of an age which demands a strong president and a skillful negogiator.

"Time For A Change"

With all the deans, assistant deans, associate deans, and faculty members who play handball, we could expect the handball courts to be kept in the peak of condition. Somehow, though, they are continually in a state are in almost constant use. Whereas the campus grass is raked over with a fine-tooth comb and enough fences are placed around the lawn to turn the campus into a labyrinth, the handball courts languish in neglect. If just a little of all this effort were turned toward the courts, the results would be more than gratifying to the high percentage of students and elite faculty members who play handball.

Handball is Washington and Lee's own peculiar "national sport," played by everybody from the President to aspiring faculty members to student gym classes. This is just what makes it so amazing to find holes in the walls, piles of plaster in the corners, doors without latches or handles, and faulty lighting. Things are actually so bad that players often lose handballs through the holes in the walls, or are trapped inside the courts because the doors have no handles for opening from the inside. Perhaps these conditions are suffered because somebody later collects the lost balls for resale. But the howling which is put up by the typically infuriated trapped handball player should become insufferable in time and perhaps will soon drive the coaches to ask that repairs be made.

Of course the most basic problem of the handball courts is the same which dominates Washington and Lee's entire athletic program: we need new facilities. When (?) the new gym is built, hopefully many more handball courts will be included in the plans; and hopefully the new courts will be kept in such condition that they will not become a menace to the life and limb of their users. Meanwhile, the Ring-tum Phi urges that action be taken promptly to prevent the present handball courts from falling into disuse because of neglect. We have one fine ruin already, Liberty Hall; we don't need any more.

Gee! At this rate I'll have 52% by next July!

Mystery Over Khrushchev's Fall Brings Varying Interpretations

By GARETH ADEN "Mister K . . . he dead."

Joseph Conrad Heart of Darkness

No one around here seems to where ex-premier Nikita Khrushchev is, but everyone is willing to make predictions about the coup last week.

One thing is for sure, the change in the Russian government took the whole world by surprise. At first it was not clear whether Khrushly to succeed him as first party secretary was his hand-picked succesas editor of Isvestia, the government, 5) Khrushchev generally lost the paper, it was obvious that someone confidence of party leaders. gave Mr. Khrushchev his walking

The big questions being asked now are: Why was Khrushchev ousted? of the overthrow in the Kremlin. Will Brezhnev and Kosygin last in power (especially as a team)? Will basically brought on by pressure Soviet foreign policy towards the from the Chinese-Soviet split. The

Among the reasons most generally being accepted in the West (most gleaned from between the lines of chev had retired or had been forced Pravda and Isvestia articles) are out of office, as the official statement that 1) Khrushchev had not been claimed. He had spoken of retiring able to control the Sino-Soviet split before and the man that was official- with Red China 2) Mr. K. had tried to create a cult of personality, smacking of the Stalin days 3) he sor, Leonid Brezhnev. Later, how- had not shown dignity worthy of his ever, when Pravda denounced position—like pounding his shoes Khrushchev with nasty remarks and in the U.N. 4) He was not able to when Mr. K's son-in-law was ousted solve Soviet agricultural problems in the Washington Post warned against exaggerating the importance Kennon felt that the switch was West and Communist China change? only way the Moscow leaders could see of beginning a reconciliation was to sacrifice Khrushchev as a peace offering.

George F. Kennon in a column

The New York Times has stated that if the Kremlin does not make more clear why Mr. Khrushchev was forced to resign, there is a good chance that a pro-Khrushchev bloc will further split the Communist world. A number of Russian satellites have already requested a further explanation.

In an attempt to get a wider view of the situation, I talked to a number of professors on campus about the developments. Dr. Milton Colvin, political science professor, said that The reason, Dr. Colvin explained, ienced statesman, and by "getting his fingers burned" a few times, he had learned the ropes. Almost anyone that the Russians put in the top positions, including the two in power now, will be an amateur in comparison to Khrushchev. Dr. Colvin admitted that Mr. K. was no "good guy" but said that he did wish to prevent a nuclear war.

The political science teacher added his feeling that the Brezhnev-Kosygin government was merely an interthe individualistically free society, man had the dynamic personality

(Continued on page 4)

Letters to the Editor

Accommodation Gives Reds Win; the free world is going to miss old Khrushchev in the next few years. of disrepair which is more befitting the ruins of Liberty Hall than handball courts which James On Mud And Barf Cocktail was that Khrushehev was an expersion of Liberty Hall than handball courts which included statesman, and by "getting

In the editorial column of the October 6 Ring-tum Phi was presented an idea which is sharing popularity in this country and which is abhorrent to me. This is the idea that this nation must endeavor to "accommodate" the forces of commun-

If the concept of accommodation becomes an accepted and sanctioned American policy, it will precipitate modation will effect the ruination of regnum affair. He stated that neither America's downfall. The world is engaged in a battle between two incompatable ideologies, and, since 1917, we have seen that the communist ideology does not "accommodate" or "compromise."

If in this battle we appease and accommodate, we will suffer only defeat for the sake of bare existence The communists gain a major victory at each instance of our accommodation, for through our cooperation and appeasement they gained control of Eastern Europe, China, Laos, Cuba, and much of Africa. Whereever we have refused to accommodate (and unfortunately this has been seldom), we have won-in Lebanon, Greece, Guatamala, and, to an extent, Cuba

The kind of accommodation desired by Johnson and Humphrey would be disastrous. For example, it would be possible for a treaty or an executive agreement to deliver our jurisdictional rights to the World Court, and, using a provision of Article VI of the Constitution, this treaty would void sections of the Constitution which contradict it. This idea is actively promoted by the ADA and Humphrey. At the conclusion of such a "deal" where would our Bill of Rights be? Under whose law would our citizens be subject?

The result of this accommodation and dillution of our system would be chaotic, yet Humphrey supports this measure which would deny our citizens the protection of our law and permit acquittal of persons treasonous to the United States.

Thus I question the validity of the intelligence of any program of accommodation. If the world is to be saved from the ravages of collectivism and control, our system mut not be compromised.

The removal of one integral element, such as any one section of the Bill of Rights, through accom-

(Continued on page 4)

Columnist Criticizes Film's Pace: Mastroianni Lauded As Professor

By MAC RIVES Tuesday Columnist

I was disappointed in "The Organizer." Probably I expected too much of it, having regarded too unquestioningly the praise which various eritics have accorded it. Dwight Mac- the following night. They do so-or Donald was particularly effusive, calling "The Organizer" the film "moved and interested me more than anything since '81/2' statement which suggests that either through the boiler room at the time Mr. MacDonald hasn't seen a lot of movies lately or he takes his former Trotskyite affiliation too ser-

"The Organizer" is set in Turino at the turn of the last century. Its focus of attention is a group of textile workers and, indirectly, their management. The conditions under which the laborers work are execrable, but typical of the time: a fourteen-hour day, subsistence wages, and no on-the-job insurance. Some twenty per cent of the employees are eventually crippled by the machines they operate and are then discharged, without compensation.

An incident of that type touches off the main development of "The Organizer": a worker catches and loses his hand in a rolling pin; and his fellow employees, their grievances catalyzed into action by this accident determine to sound the shut-down whistle an hour early rather their representative, Pautasso (Folco Lulli) does so; but director Mario Monicelli has arranged for the plant supervisor to be passing so that no one either stops the machines or leaves his job.

Pautasso is discovered and sussended for two weeks. A fine is levied on the other workers. They assemble again, proposing this time to report to work an hour late. But they are interrupted by "The Organizer -professor and apparent missionary of socialism, who has arrived in Turino only the previous evening, and who now recommends a genera strike. The workers yield to his arguments, and the stage is set for prolonged confrontation between abor and management.

The film ends in what may seem a one-sided resolution of the dispute but one may infer that the

(Continued on page 4)

Generals Lose To Susquehanna, 28-0

Booters Down VPI, 4-1 For Fifth Victory

General Offense Stopped; Crusaders Dominate Play

Susquehanna illustrated Saturday why it is ranked fifth in the nation in small colleges by smashing Washington and Lee, 28-0, before a large Openings crowd.

In a hard-hitting game, the visitors held the Generals to a mere two yards on the ground, while amassing 341 yards themselves. The passing of W&L quarterback Larry Craig did give the Generals some offen-* sive punch as Craig connected 10 for 18 for 116 yards.

pounds per man on the line, Washington and Lee seemed to have the undefeated Crusaders somewhat slowed down in the initial quarter, finally allowing speedy scatback Larry Erdman to burst through from the seven for a TD. Erdman also added the two-point conversion putting Susquehanna ahead, 8-0.

Susquehanna Scores Two

In the second quarter, the Cru-Vignone and fullback Bill Galbraith stanza, Frank Metzger snuck over which knotted the score. for a score from the General one-yard line and the try for the two points was stopped short. Susquehanna scored again before halftime with a three yard off tackle burst by Bob Hirsch, who also added the two points to put the Pennsylvanians ahead at intermission, 22-0.

Hampden-Sydney, W&L's next football foe, continued on its winning ways this week by defeating Western Maryland, 14-6.

The third quarter gave the home crowd some hope as the Generals drove deep into Crusader territory with Craig passes finding their mark regularly. Halfback and co-captain Bill David contributed to this drive with a reception run that covered 28 yards. However, an alert Susquehanna safetyman intercepted a hurried Craig aerial on the goal-line to stop the General drive.

Next week Washington and Lee will seek to break a two game losing streak against Hampden-Sydney. The visiting Tigers will bring Whitey Lipscomb, their vaunted quarterback, with them in hopes of repeating last year's upset of W&L.

Only Jeff Novinger, the General center and linebacker, was injured in this week's contest, and even he may be ready for Hampden-Sydney. W&L will also have the services of John Anthony, its leading ground (Continued on page 4)

Frosh Gridders Tie GMA, Although outweighed almost 20 Baria's Interception Leads To Nash-To-Fairey TD

A clutch fourth quarter rally wiped out an early Greenbrier Military School lead as the Washington and Lee freshmen sneaked out of the loss column with an 8-8 deadlock in Lewisburg, West Virginia on Friday. Quarterback Richard Nash, getting his first real test at the controls of the Brigadiers, sader forward wall continued to acquitted himself well as he flipped open up the middle and gave the a four yard scoring strike to end visitors' halfbacks Erdman and John Strait Fairey for W&L's only tally. The same duo then hooked up running room. Early in the second for the two points conversion effort

Baby Generals March

Greenbrier did all its scoring in the second stanza by virtue of a safety and a 58-yard romp by Andy Portanova. The first break in the defensive battle came when Rudd Smith was pinned behind his own goal line for the safety by the ever-present Portanova. After the

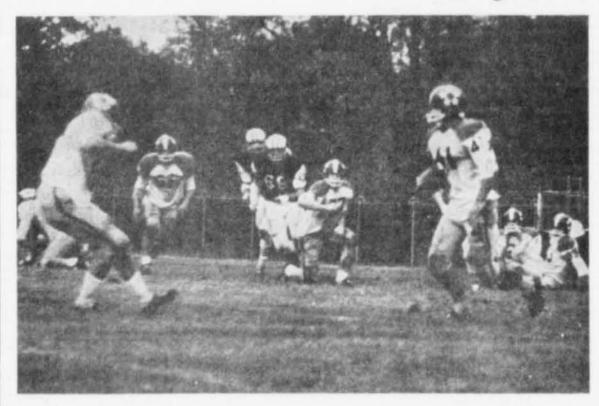

(Continued on page 4)

The Generals Never Quit

Last week I inferred that W&L's gridders were not convinced that they could handle Susquehanna, My reasons for writing that article-and it was for a purposeare not important now however after Saturday's game no one (and especially me) can say that Washington and Lee's football

From where I sat, I would say we actually hit harder than the visitors. Obviously they had a good, big, fast team, but the Generals never stopped hitting. There is no reason for any player, stu-dent, or fan of W&L to hang his head in shame; anyone who saw the game and heard the knocking must admit that Susquehanna left town with a few bruises of its own.

If we hit Hampden-Sydney like we hit Susquehanna, Whitey Lipscomb best drop way, way back. Let's get back for last year's fluke.

Washington and Lee's co-captain starts on his long third quarter jaunt which ignited the Generals' only threat in Saturday's game. Joe Miller (66) prepares to block for David in W&L's 28-0 loss.

Win A Few . . .

Lose A Few . . .

By TOM CARPENTER

Last Saturday the hometown fans were unfortunate in that they caught the Generals in their worst Another factor in the defeat of the may have appeared, as it was the from beginning to end. superior play of Susquehanna. The The Generals, on the other hand visitors from Pennsylvania may have a 230-pound senior, was the leader of the line. Muir, who transferred from Tulsa, which is no small time ingg the distance in 24 min. and 6 sec. pros.

home showing in several years. This Generals was that the Crusaders poor showing was not as much the amazingly never seemed to tire. They inferior play of the Generals, as it were working at the same speed showed no rushing attack, as evibeen the best team to play in Lex- denced by the statistics, two yards ington since the 1961 edition of the net rushing. This was due partly to the weight differences in the two The The Crusaders' line averaged lines and partly to general ineffiabout 210 and moved like 170-pounders. Their trap blocking was Generals' front five appear to be fantastic and their sweep blocking more suited for protecting the passer was superior. As an indication of than for leading ball carriers. Quarho weffective the winners' line blocking was, they threw only four Oram were usually provided with passes in the entire game, and all enough time to send the ball on its in the second half. Tackle Bill Muir, way. When they were caught behind (Continued on page 4)

Cross-Country Team Beats Old Dominion, 21-40

The cross-country team won its sixth victory 21 to 40 Friday against shof Virginia, all soccer stalwarts, re-Old Dominion College on Wilson main on the schedule.

Although losing, Green of Old Dominion set a new course record coverfootball school, looks as if he is Andy Kilpatrick finished second in ington and Lee football team and capable of playing guard in the 24:41 and Lee Johnson finished third in 24:50. W&L took seven of the first ten places in the victory.

The Generals are now 6-1. Friday they meet Catholic University in Washington.

NOTICE

There will be a Freshman basketball practice on Wednesday at 7:30 in the gym. Come prepared to play and Coach Lyles asks that all candidates bring their own equipment

Football Statistics on Page Four | Miller

Record Now 5-0; As Henry Stars

By Bob Carter Tuesday Sports Writer

Washington and Lee's soccer team recorded its fifth straight victory without defeat Friday with a 4-1 win over VPI. Playing under a driving rain storm, the Generals slipped and slid their way to victory on the muddy Center forward Tim Henry led the scoring column with two goals, both coming on penalty kicks. John Van Bork and Brad Shinkle tallied the other two goals.

Wet field conditions and 20 mph winds considerably hampered play in the first half. Timing and movements on pasing were thrown off by the bad Backs Howard Busse, Pete Preston, Dave Redman, and goalie Bob Laurus played an alert and outstanding defensive game. Tim Henry, John Van Bork, Brad Shrinkle led the line in a productive offensive.

Coach Lyles was pleased with the play of his substitutes for the first time. They hustled and kept alert, he

With four games remaining the team could possibly go undefeated. Friday the booters meet King College at Bristol, Tennessee American University, Roanoke College, and Univ.

Injured Wes Horner is a question mark for Friday's game. Coach Lyles hopes he will be ready to go.

Seasonal Football Stats

Rushing

П	Flayer		muna	C80	HARS	LAYE.
	Anthony		27	123		4.6
	Chase		33	9	5	2.9
			Passing
	Player	Att.	Cmop.	Int.	Yds.	TD
	Craig	74	39	2	405	1
ŀ	Oram	8	3	1	38	0
ı		B	teceivin	E .
ŀ	Player		Caugh	nt '	Yards	TD
Ė	David		30	1	320	1
	Baker		9		96	0
	Miller		1		14	0

Your Full Service Bank

in Lexington

Rockbridge National Bank

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

DIXON'S

ESSO SERVICE CENTER

ROUTE 60 EAST IN LEXINGTON Across from the White Top Restaurant

HO 3-4214

Wash, Grease, Lube, Road Service Charge Accounts Welcome

Class of 1968:

VOTE THE BIG CLIQUE!

KEEP THE GRAVY TRAIN ON SCHEDULE!

IGNORE YOUR OWN MIND—ADHERE TO THE TEACHINGS OF YOUR ELDERS!

Adair-Hutton, Inc.

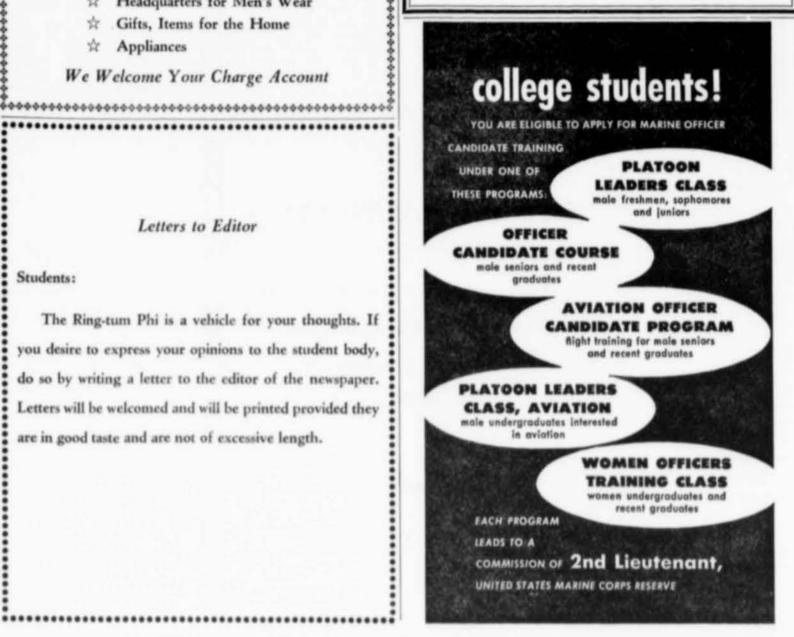

- A Headquarters for Men's Wear
- Gifts, Items for the Home
- Appliances

We Welcome Your Charge Account

Letters to Editor

Students:

The Ring-tum Phi is a vehicle for your thoughts. If you desire to express your opinions to the student body, do so by writing a letter to the editor of the newspaper. Letters will be welcomed and will be printed provided they are in good taste and are not of excessive length.

'The Organizer' Lacks Balance

(Continued from page 2) Italian proletariat consessions in later years from their employers were at least in part derivative of prior strikes and protests-as exemplified in "The Organizer."

The promary defect of "The Organizer" lies in its pace. The first three-quarters of the film are too slow the final half-hour moves more swiftly and is indeed a logical acceleration o fthe story: as climax approaches, so do the speed of the action and the sharpness of the cutting increase - appropriate techniques here, even if they are well-worn.

But the film remains out of balance. Monicelli takes too long to establish his characters, is far too deliberate in forming the structure of his plot. He is careful to give substantial development to any number of people-Pautasso, the professor, the young Omero, the inarticulate strongman Raul, Pautasso's doughter, a Sicilian "immigrant," the kind-hearted trollop. It is somewhat to Monicelli's credit that his characters emerge full-bodied but one becomes distinctly bored in the process. Of course, perhaps that was the director's intention-to induce in the audience the desolation that the laborers must have felt but if so, I think his motives were ill-founded (which leads to a larger consideration-the value one assigns to entertainment in a movie, a subject already adequately and inadequately discussed by others and to which I won't bother to offer disposition. Just for my part, I'll repeat that between the titles and the last twenty-five or thirty minutes of "The Organizer," I really wasn't too interested in what was happening).

Need a new cricket cage? Contact Lamar Lamb in the freshman dorm for the latest in cricket cages. All sizes and styles made to order.

On the other hand, I should mention what seemed to me the principal strengths of "The Organizer" its credibility, its general lack of sentimentality, and the emotion which it does manage to evoke in the closing scenes.

Of the first, one need say little, only that the story and its personalities are completely believable. Even Mastroianni is accepted as the indigent professor-a circumstance which must be attributed more to his versatility as an actor than to the imagination of his make-up artist, who stretches a point in giving his subject scumbo rags, steel-rommed glasses, and an unkept beard.

The second deserves greater comment. Monicelli presents individuals, not mouthpiece of ideology. It is clear enough that "The Organizer" is anti-management in tone but the working class is pictured as being as nearly as depraved as its oppressor. The professor picks up a sandwich that a laborer ha sleft in a meeting room. Mastroianni sets to eat it but the owner returns and claims it. It is evident that Mastroianni is virtually starving but he needed for leading the Soviet world. is given a scowl, not charity. Yet equally at fault in his self-interest. past. Thus here, as throughout "The Organizer," Monicelli is encouraging reform not just of the prevailing social structure but also of the self-And since the former has already imagine that Monicelli is more concerned with the latter.

Last, the final portions of "The Organizer" are etremely well done. now, steps up the subjective use of to intensify the involvement one feels in the conclusion. The effectiveness of that half-hour makes it all the more regrettable that Monifraction.

Letters To The Editor

(Continued from page 2)

The supports of liberty must be strengthened, not compromised, throughout the nation and world to do otherwise is to admit defeat.

CHARLES D. KIMBELL Class of 1964 Indiana University School of Law

Editor, Friday Ring-tum Phi Dear Sir:

I should like to reply publicly to the letter of Jim Stalnaker's in the October 9 edition of your paper. Dear Mr. Stalnaker:

If I were to follow the mood that cule you and "cut you down" to rallies? Why blanket them with this make you and the whole system infantile smear of mud, eggs, and look as silly as possible. I do not plan to use that tactic.

The purpose of rallies is to unite the pledge class and make the wanted to point out certain facts pledges share an experience, you about it. say. Mr. Stalnaker, does shoving a freshman's face into barf cocktail make him love his fellow pledges? Is kidnapping the pledge trainer REALLY an inspiring experience?

You said that rallies remind the pledge of his duty to stay in line and respect his older brothers. I say the pledge respects the older brother LESS when he sees him (the older brother) involved in such antics. I Ms say it ENCOURAGES the pledge to As disrespect his older brothers (of Ne course, he will be "good" more often, but look how that pledge Ph WAITS for an opportunity to throw Ed a sneering remark at an older broth- Co

Really, Mr. Stalnaker, we ARE in college, and many of us are physically over 21 years of age. Are there barf cocktail?

Strange. I did not MEAN to make the system appear foolish-I only

Sincerely,

BILL JAMES

Aden Cites The End Of An Era

(Continued from page 2)

Also it is remembered that the two why shouldn't he be scorned? The and three man governments in Ruslaborer is starving, too. Each is sia have always deteriorated in the

According to Colvin, the men to watch are Suslov and Mikoyan. Neither of these men will probably ever have supreme power themishness of its individual components. selves, but they will figure heavily in any future power change. These been largely accomplished, one must men represent the brain-trusts of the party and have both been around since the Stalin days.

Dr. J. D. Futch, history professor, felt that personal ambition had as Monicelli, fairly unobstrusive until much to do with the Khrushchev coup as anything else. It could have his camera and its added play serves been simply a power grab, said celli is so reserved in style up to Baby Generals kicked off to Greenthat point. Perhaps, as previously brier, Portanova returned to haunt suggested, his rigour was calculated; the W&L defense with his touchbut whatever his intentions, the down scamper. The extra point effort overall impact of "The Organizer" went awry, and the freshmen enis sacrificed to the superiority of a tered the locker room with an 8-0 half-time deficit.

> Frosh Gridders Tie GMA (Continued from page 3)

split certainly was a major cause. Dr. Futch felt also that it was very likely that the present men in power would not stay in for long. Crusaders Crush W&L gainer, again for Saturday's game. Anthony and halfback Harry Brookby were injured in the Centre game; Brookby, with a separated shoulder, is still doubtful fo rthe next game.

Futch, and if not the Sino-Soviet

(Continued from page 2)

> Two-Way Radio Dispatched TAXI SERVICE Low Rates CLAYTON'S TAXI

HO 3-2148 15 S. Jefferson St.

THE BOOK SHOP

BOOKS-PRINTS ART SUPPLIES 25 West Nelson St.

The King-tum Phi

The Ring-tum Phi is published Tuesday and Friday during the college year. It is printed by the Journalism Laboratory Press, Washington and Lee University. The mailing address is Box 899, Lexington, Virginia. Entered as second class matter September 29, 1946, at the Post Office,

> STEPHEN P. SMITH Editor-in-Chief

Lexington, Virginia, under the act of March 3, 1878. RICHARD N. CARRELL Business Manager

EDITORIAL BOARD
anaging Editor	Gareth Aden
ssistant Managing Editor	Head Newman
ews Editor	Mike Hash
ports Editor	Jim Crothers
notography Editor	Geoff Chalmers
ditorial Assistant	Dave Mayfield
olumnistsBert Phillips, Lamar Lamb, Drew Baur, Marchese, Allen Hubbard, Pete Alford, To-	m Carpenter, John

raids, I would do my utmost to ridi- not higher values in fraternities than Biggest Weakness Is a Lack Of Experienced Reserves

(Continued from page 3) the line, it was because they were unable to find anybody open. The running game is also lacking in big fast backs like Henry Sackett. Either the backs are fast or small or big but slow. The best back is probably John Anthony, but Anthony was injured and did not play against the Crusaders. The defense has been more than adequate. Against Susquehanna the defense had to play the majority of the game because the offense was unable to control the ball for any appreciable amount of time. The shoulder injury early in the game to star linebacker Jeff Novinger also added pressure to the defense.

The biggest weakness, though, is

 LEXINGTON CLEANERS

1 Hour Dry Cleaning COMPLETE SHIRT SERVICE $

....... The

COLLEGE INN

TOLLEY'S PHARMACY Prescriptions Filled Immediately PURCHASE DRUGS HO 3-2211

a lack of experienced reserves. The first unit has had to play more than the coaching staff prefers. By the fourth quarter the starters begin to show the wear and tear of their lack of rest.

Next Saturday Hampden-Sydney invades Lexington to take on the Generals. The Tigers, led by quarterback Whitey Lipscomb, edged the Generals last year and will be favored to do so again this season.

 IDEAL BARBER SHOP

Quick Service *****

BUSCH BAVARIAN BEER

6 Bottles 99c EAST LEXINGTON GROCERY ABC License No. 2078

CENTRAL LUNCH

TRY OUR FAMOUS SWISS BURGER

Serving food and beverages Mon.-Thurs., 6 a.m.-12 p.m. Fri.-Sat., 6 a.m.-1 a.m. Sunday, 6 a.m.-12 p.m. Telephone HO 3-2834

You can still buy a beanie if you act quickly. The traditional dark beanies are available in limited supply from a noted New York clothier. Write to Post Office Box 13,798, Grand Central Station, New York 45, New York. Send in your order now while there's still time. Be the first freshman on your hall to wear the traditional beanie like your dad did.

Freshmen! Don't be fooled by insidious name tags!

VOTE FOR SAUNDERS because:

He is the most qualified experiencied candidate He represents NO self-seeking party clique He was endorsed by the Idependent Union

He is the ONLY man who can represent ALL the freshmen

Paid for by Freshmen for Saunders

Jim Bartlett, Chairman Mark McGaughey, Vice-Chairman Jimmy Kiersky, Vice-Chairman

If you would like to see your ad in this desirable advertising space, contact the Ringtum Phi business manager. A limited amount of space is available.