

Finals Drive Is Extended Extra Week

Results Please Dean; Trustees Will Decide May 23 on Graduation

Finals President Cameron Dean announced today that the drive for advance subscriptions to the three-night set will be continued next week.

Dean, who earlier in the week announced that he had signed Jimmy Dorsey and Tommy Reynolds to play for the set's four attractions, had originally planned to bring his advance drive to a close tomorrow, but decided to hold it over an extra week so that students who have not been able to complete plans for attending the set will be able to do so.

Subscriptions have been "coming in fine" since the advance drive's launching on Wednesday, Dean said.

Tickets for the set's three formal and the outdoor concert are selling for $9.50 during the advance drive. The tariff will be $12.50 after the drive has ended.

Plans for the set are rapidly nearing completion. The Board of Trustees will decide on May 23 whether or not the graduation exercises will be held outdoors this year. Dean suggested the move, pointing out that Lee chapel had been too small to comfortably accommodate enough persons for the exercises in the past, and will present details of his plan to the Board at its annual spring meeting.

Dorsey will open the set Wednesday night, June 4, at the Interfraternity ball. His band, featuring vocalists Helen O'Connell and Bob Berly, will play for the SAE "lawn party concert" late Thursday afternoon on the front campus, and again that night for the Senior-Alumni ball.

Reynolds will bring his "music of today in the style of tomorrow" into town on June 6 for the Final ball, which will get under way at 11 o'clock Friday night and will wind up with the playing of "College Friendships" at 6 o'clock Saturday morning.

Seniors who are desirous of having their parents receive invitations for the set should contact Dick Day, Dean said last night.

Farrar Names Committees; Senior Dues Drive Starts

Fred Farrar, president of the senior academic class, today announced committees for the Senior-Alumni ball on Thursday, June 5, and said that the drive for senior dues would begin Monday noon.

Members of the Finance committee, headed by Chairman Al Fleischman, president of the senior commerce class, will visit fraternity houses and eating places Monday to start collection of the class dues. Payment of the five-dollar fee gives a senior and his date a place in the figure at Thursday night's dance, which will feature the music of Jimmy Dorsey, and a white leather-bound Calyx as a See FINALS, Page 4)

Helen O'Connell and Bob Berly will be featured vocalists with Jimmy Dorsey when he opens Finals dances on June 4.

Second Law Review Of Year to Feature Articles by Cox, Gray

Three articles by law professors and two notes by students are featured in the second issue of the second volume of the Washington and Lee Law Review, to be issued just before law examinations, Emory Cox, editor of the publication, announced today.

"The Doctrine of Judicial Review and its Relation to a Declared Purpose or Policy of a Statute" will be discussed by Dean T. S. Cox of the William and Mary Law school in the featured article.

Following Dean Cox's article will be Professor R. H. Gray's "Income Tax Deductions as a Means of Effectuating Governmental Policies." Gray is a professor in the law school here and is currently on leave of absence for this year at Columbia university.

Professor T. A. Smedley, faculty editor of the Law Review, will follow with "Enforcement of Oral Promises."

Student contributions for this issue include notes by William M. Martin on "Constitutional Limits of Legislative Pressure to Persuade Employers to Accept Elective Workman's Compensation Acts" and by Fred Bartenstein on "The Mutuality Requirement in Res Judicata and Estoppel by Record."

Cox will write a comment on "The Alimony Problem in Virginia" for the issue.

Phi Alpha Nu, sophomore honorary fraternity, will hold a meeting next Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Student Union building to elect officers for the coming year. Grady Forgy, president, announced today.

Will Arrive Monday for Four-Day Visit

Bobby Riggs, former Forest Hills champion and currently ranked second among the nation's amateur net stars, who this afternoon told Hugh Strange in a telephone conversation that he will arrive here Monday for a four-day visit. He, Fred Perry, Johnny Faunce and Bob Harman will stage a practice match on the W&L courts on Monday or Tuesday afternoon at 4:30. No admission charge will be made.

Koontz, Gage Are Elected As Cotillion Club Leaders

Art Koontz, junior from Charleston, West Virginia, and Bob Gage, junior from Port Gibson, Mississippi, were elected co-presidents of the Cotillion club at the meeting in the Student Union last night. Earl Alverson of Decatur, Alabama, was named secretary-treasurer without opposition. Succeeding Dodo Baldwin and Bob Boyce, who led the club's two dances this year, Koontz and Gage received an equal number of votes for the presidency to down Henry Roediger and Bill Scott. Customarily the two men with the highest number of votes get the positions with the one receiving the largest tally taking his choice of the Opening or Spring dance set.

In view of the tie count last night the two winners have not yet announced which of the dance sets each will lead. However, a definite statement from both is expected soon.

Koontz, a junior in the A. B. school, is this year junior manager of baseball and a member of Phi Kappa Psi. Gage is president of Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity for next year. Alverson succeeds Jack Fisher as secretary.

Another feature of the meeting was the discussion relating to the proposed extension of Cotillion club membership to include those fraternities which have started on the campus since the organization of the club as well as representatives from the non-fraternity group. No definite action was taken on this question.

The budget for bands for Openings and Spring sets for next year has been drastically reduced by the Dance Board in an effort to curb some of the losses suffered by the dance board during the past two years, it was announced to the Cotillion club at its election meeting last night by Dodo Baldwin, retiring co-president.

The leader of Opening dances will be restricted to an expenditure of $1800 for bands for the October event, while the Spring dance set band item can run no more than $2000. This action was taken as a result of a growing lack of interest in the dances on the part of the students with a resulting loss to the dance board of several hundred dollars for an entire year's activity. Openings succeeded this year in making a healthy profit which was more than cancelled by severe losses for Finals 1940, Fancy Dress, and Spring dances.

The complete schedule and rules for the three-day period of registration follows:
Academic, Commerce, and Science Monday, May 12, sophomores and juniors, names beginning, A to E, 2:00 to 3:00; F to K, 3:00 to 4:00.

Academic, Commerce, and Science Wednesday, May 14, freshmen, names beginning A to E, 2:00 to 2:45; F to K, 2:45 to 3:30; L to R, 3:30 to 5:15; S to Z, 5:15 to 5:30.

All Commerce sophomores and juniors please register in Newcomb hall at the respective hours on Monday and Tuesday.

Students who, on account of their present class schedules, cannot register during the periods designated for them will be allowed to register with any of the other groups.

All students in the Academic and Commerce Schools should read Dean Tucker's instructions on the bulletin boards before coming to register.

Candidates for the B. S. degree in chemistry should consult the chemistry department.

No student will be fully registered until his blank has the signature of Professor J. A. Graham, in charge of registering sections. Professor Graham will be in Washington chapel during the hours stated above.

All students in the School of Law who are planning to continue the study of law are requested to report to Dean Moreland on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, May 12, 13 or 14.

All students in other departments who are planning to enter the School of Law in September, 1941, are requested to report to the Registrar—Payne hall 4—any time during the same period. Students who fail to register at this time will be required to register on Tuesday of the opening week of school and pay an extra registration fee of $10.00. This fee may be remitted in the case of students who, prior to July 15, notify the Registrar's Office of their intention to return.

Didier Elected President By '13' Club; Barnekov Is Secretary-Treasurer

Charles Didier was elected president of the "13" club, honorary junior society, at its election last night. Bud Barnekov was chosen to the position of secretary-treasurer.

Didier, who succeeds Dick Day, was elected without opposition. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and is from Paris, Kentucky. At present he is a junior in the arts school. Barnekov, also a junior in the A. B. school, is a Phi Gamma Delta. He is from Bronxville, N. Y.

The club is an annual sponsor of a formal dance during the Spring dance set, and during the past two years has initiated several informal dances to back campus activities financially.

Heads Assimilators

CHARLES HOBSON

Assimilation Committee Appointed

Boatwright, Fisher, Strang, Levin, Drake And Nelson Are Named

Howard Dobbins, president-elect of the Washington and Lee student body, today announced the appointment of Charles Hobson as chairman of the Freshman Assimilation committee for the 1941-42 session. In addition to Hobson, who will be head counselor of the freshman dormitories next year, the committee appointments included one freshman lawyer, three juniors and two sophomores.

Thornton Strang, Bernie Levin, Bob Boatwright, Jack Fisher, Emmett Drake and Jug Nelson were the other students named to the committee.

In naming seven to the committee, Dobbins continued the policy of student body president Al Snyder, who last year increased the membership from four to seven to increase the effectiveness of the body.

A preliminary organization meeting of the committee will be held in the Student Union, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of electing a secretary of the group and to discuss tentative plans and rules for the assimilation of next year's freshman class members.

During the past two years the assimilation committee has come to serve a real and definite purpose on the campus. Formerly it was an organization which exerted feeble efforts to initiate the incoming freshmen into the spirit and tradition of Washington and Lee, but the new and stronger policies of the group in the past two years are evidenced by the quickness with which the freshmen have become part of campus life, and, according to Hobson and Dobbins, next year's committee will seek in every way possible to continue the good and important work established by the preceding groups.

Those initiated last night were: Norbert Blum of New York City; Albert W. Cobb of Winnetka, Ill.; John B. Fitzpatrick of Lancaster, Pa.; William B. Guthrie of Petersburg, Va.; R. Francis Johnson of Bedford, Va.; Charles L. Rast of Swansea, S. C.; Lawrence C. Sullivan of Blackstone, Va.; and William S. Wilcox of Elberton, Ga.

Eight freshmen were initiated into the society at last night's meeting. Membership in the organization is open to members of the first-year class who have a 2.5 (90) average at the end of the first or second semester. Freshmen who did not meet the necessary requirements in February can do so in June.

Sigma Chis, ZBTs, Phi Kaps, Sigma Nus Plan Parties, Picnics

The Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, and Zeta Beta Tau social fraternities will each hold picnics and parties tomorrow afternoon an evening as the spring social season rapidly draws to a close.

Zeta Beta Tau has issued a number of invitations to a formal dance Saturday evening at fraternity house, Gordon Chapel and his orchestra, from Clifton Forge, will furnish music for the affair.

Phi Kappa Sigma and Sigma Chi will have informal dances Saturday evening with the Southern Collegians furnishing the music to the former, while the VMI Commanders furnish the music for the latter's dance. Admission to these affairs will be by invitation only.

Kappa Sigma will have an informal dance open to members only Saturday evening with Bill Simos and his orchestra supplying the music.

Ninety dates are expected by the four houses for the parties. Phi Kappa Sigma has the largest list, expecting 31 dates; while the Sigma Chis, Kappa Sigmas, and ZBTs expect 15, 25, and 15 dates, respectively.

Assembly to Climax Library Dedication Program Tomorrow

Seymour Smith Will Take Over Wilcher's Office

Seymour A. Smith, of New Haven, Conn., will take over the duties of the director of religious activities at the opening of school next year, according to administration plans revealed today. Smith will fill the vacancy to be left by Denny Wilcher who has worked with the students on religious programs for the past term. A graduate of Allegheny college, Smith is at the present time a candidate for B. D. degree at the Yale Divinity school, and is prepared to teach religion, public speaking, debate, and dramatics. He is 24 years old and a member of the Methodist church.

Smith is serving as president of the Yale student body this year. At Allegheny he participated in public speaking, debating, dramatic, and journalistic activities.

In past years he has worked as a newspaper reporter, YMCA Boy's club leader, and summer camp director. Smith has also served as assistant in speech at Yale and as the director of religious education at the Congregational church, Norwalk, Conn.

Smith's interests lie in the combining of teaching in the field of religion with leadership programs for undergraduate religious activities and organizations.

Wilcher will leave the university by May 20, it was stated today. Expecting his number to be called later in the month, he plans to enter camp for religious objects, to be operated by the American Friends Service commission at Patapsco, Md. Wilcher will receive approximately 3 months' training here and then hopes to be appointed to the position of associate director at another camp.

Wilcher is a graduate of Emory and Henry university at Emory, Va., and has received a B. D. degree from the Yale Divinity school. He has also completed his residence requirements for a Ph. D. in higher education at Yale.

Stowers Named IFC President; Pass Audit Plan

The Inter-fraternity council named John Walter Stowers as president, Sid Isenberg as vice-president and Bill Scott as secretary for the coming year and passed the audit plan, to be effective permanently and beginning next year at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

All three new officers found opposition in their respective races. Stowers, a member of Phi Delta Theta, winning over Grady Forgy, Sigma Chi. Isenberg, a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, was named over Dick Saunders, DU. Bill Scott, Kappa Sig, received a majority of the votes cast for the office of secretary, topping Ray Whitaker, Sigma Nu. All of the new officers are juniors.

The audit plan, which was presented last spring passed by a vote of 13 to 5, and will go into operation next fall. All fraternity members are subject to the jurisdiction of the plan as soon as printed statements have been sent to parents or guardians, signed and returned. Freshmen must have a signed returned statement prior to initiation.

Back bills for room and board will be sent home on the 20th of the month following that in which they were due. If not paid by the 30th of that month all fraternity privileges will be taken away from the delinquent member and the account turned over to the University auditor.

No grades, credits, transcripts, or diplomas may be obtained if accounts are not paid in full.

Biology Movie Monday

Dr. L. C. Pettit announced today that the biology department will sponsor the showing of a movie on marine life at 7:30 Monday night in room 202 of the Chemistry building. The motion picture, entitled "With Williamson Beneath the Sea," is a record of life studied by a recent deep sea expedition.

Adams, Bishop Are Principal Speakers; Gaines to Preside

Formal exercises for W&L's new Cyrus Hall McCormick library were opened this afternoon with an informal reception and tour of the building for invited guests, and will be climaxed in a university assembly tomorrow morning at 11:45 in Doremus gymnasium.

Principal speakers at tomorrow morning's services will be Dr. Joseph Quincy Adams, director of the Folger Shakespeare library in Washington, D. C., and Dr. William W. Bishop, librarian at the University of Michigan. Dr. Adams' subject will be "Shakespeare and Virginia," and Dr. Bishop will speak on "The Open Door." President Gaines will preside at the assembly.

Reconstruction of the old Carnegie library, which was built in 1905, was made possible by a bequest in the will of the late Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the reaper, native of Rockbridge county, and former member of the board of trustees of the university. The McCormick interests will be represented at tomorrow's exercises by Fowler McCormick, grandson of the inventor and vice-president of the International Harvester company.

Other notable guests who will be present during the two-day exercises include: Herber A. Keller, director of the McCormick Historical society; Robert M. Lester, representing the interests of the Carnegie Corporation; Governor James H. Price of Virginia; Dr. John G. Herndon, professor at Harvard college, W&L alumnus, and donor of the annual Herndon senior library prize; Dr. Julian Boyd, librarian at Princeton university; and Mrs. Rose McDonald, biographer of Mrs. R. E. Lee.

Also present will be Collas Harris, alumnus and executive director of the National Archives; former U. S. Senator Miles Poin-dexter; Congressman William J. Robertson; Houston St. Clair, alumnus and son of the former president of the board of trustees; and Brian Bell, alumnus and head of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press.

Final plans for the ceremonies were issued today by Foster E. Mohrhardt, head librarian. On exhibit in the main lobby of the building will be a collection of valuable letters of McCormick, Washington, and Lee relating mainly to bequests and donations given to the university. A collection of rare books is also on exhibition in the lobby.

Also on display in the second floor hall will be an exhibition of the Fifty Books of 1941 as selected by the American Institute of Graphic Arts. The books were judged on the basis of physical appearance only, and the exhibit is being sponsored by the W&L Journalism Press laboratory. The book display is not scheduled for any other showing in Virginia this year.

The new library, which was publicly opened for student use early in February, has a seating capacity of 350. At present it contains 120,000 volumes, which is about two-thirds of the maximum capacity. Approximately 4,000 volumes are acquired annually. The library now receives 30 current newspapers and 400 current periodicals.

Eight committees, consisting mainly of faculty members and alumni, completed the arrangements for tomorrow's dedication (See LIBRARY, Page 4)

Former President of W&L Is Memorial Day Speaker

Dr. George H. Denny, Chancellor of the university of Alabama and former president of W&L, will be the speaker of the annual Memorial Day exercises here Friday, May 30.

The exercises will be sponsored by the Sons of the Confederates at 10:00 a.m. in Lee chapel and will be followed by the usual Memorial Day parade in which the VMI cadet corps and patriotic organizations will participate.

A table will be placed in the base of Stonewall Jackson's statue in the cemetery by the Mary Custis Lee chapter of the U. D. C. and Sons of the Confederates.

WRIGHT ANGLES

By Dick Wright

That ball game with the Wahoos the other afternoon was nothing short of a minor nightmare. Never have we seen a ball club blow up so completely—with the blow-up went the "Big Six" baseball title. "Lugger" Ligon proceeded to prove that ancient adage that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place," but since Bob Gregerson was a little worse, we'll just attribute it to a "hot day" for the Cavaliers.

Messers Harmon and McCann are pretty fair ball players, in fact McCann, according to Chauncy Durden, is being earnestly sought by the Detroit Tigers, while judging from the way Harmon has been slipping the ball in Old Dominion circles this season leaves no doubt in our minds but that the Cavalier flash will not be lacking when the big league contracts are handed out. It still hurts to lose to the Wahoos, however, but they do have a good ball club.

Here's a small item which might be of some interest to those interested in the fight game (if you want to call the present set-up that) which was written by Jerry Mitchell, of the New York Post: "It seems silly for Joe Louis to start training this week for his May 23 bout with Buddie Baer. Twice around the Washington monument the day of the fight and Joe should be ready for that one." Which sums up Buddie Baer's ability as a heavyweight contender.

Then there's the Preakness, in which Whirlaway is expected to show his heels to a field of six entrants in one of the three "big" races of the year. Since Whirlaway won the Kentucky Derby in record time, it's almost foolish not to string along with Warren Wright's three year old, but when a horse can go up to Pimlico and run the mile in 1:38, something like to fifths of a second off the track record, in practice, he's good enough for us. Slipping out on another limb, we'll take Our Boots to win the Preakness this Saturday afternoon.

An open letter to Mr. John Lobeinger, Sports Editor of the University of Virginia's student newspaper, "College Topics."
Dear Mr. Lobeinger:

Last night I learned of a rather unfortunate happening which appears to have thrown half Virginia's student body into a rather disgusted frame of mind. It seems that sometime last week someone slipped a very malicious note under your door which was not signed and which apparently was rather poor taste.

It is also the opinion of the Student Body at Virginia, that since this columnist has been having a small newspaper feud with you, that I sent the note.

For your information Mr. Lobeinger I DID NOT send the note. Since the policy of this columnist all year has been to print exactly what we thought, and since it was printed in black and white so that in the event that you disagreed with the content of the column, you knew exactly who to see concerning the difficulty.

DICK WRIGHT
The Big Blue baseball team suffered quite a setback the other day when their regular center fielder, Floyd McKenna, broke his leg. Mac has been slapping the pill around all season and was second to Bob Gary only in batting average statistics, and his absence in the lineup hasn't exactly enhanced the Big Blue batting punch.

We're tickled to see that Fred Perry has inherited the keen dislike for the Wahoos which seems so prevalent on this campus, judging from a talk which he gave at one of the local clubs the other night. A certain Mr. Buchanan, the number one man on the Cavalier tennis team this season, broke down and asked Fred for a few lessons which he thought was an extremely nice thing for "Buck" to do, in view of the fact that Fred is just an old "publicity gag" anyhow, unquote. The outfit at Charlottesville are still eating the letters "p-u-b-l-i-c-i-t-y g-a-g."

We enjoyed Coach Mel Stevenson's statement in the Washington Post last Sunday concerning the Washington and Lee oarsmen's victory over the Hoyas. Just how Mr. Stevenson was approached by the newspapermen is a mystery, but the coach gave a very detailed account of the different "stroke" the Big Blue crew used which evidently proved a vital factor in the victory. There's a character in every crowd. What's your salary coach, 50 percent of the gate receipts?

250 Big Six Trackmen Will Vie For State Titles Here Tomorrow

Favored Wahoos Enter 37 Men In Effort to Retain Team Crown; VMI Ranks As Top Contender

More than 250 of the finest trackmen in the state will gather on Wilson field tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 to compete in the thirteenth annual state track meet.

The defending champions, the University of Virginia, with 37 men entered in the varsity competition, are favored to take the crown for another year. The Wahoo yearlings, with 26 entries, are also picked to triumph in the first year competition.

Chief rivals for the Cavaliers tomorrow are expected to be the thinclads from VMI. Included in the Keydets' 27 man varsity entry list are at least four potential titlists.

Richmond, VPI, William and Mary and the host Generals have individual stars but none have sufficiently well-balanced material to take the championship.

The battles in the 100 and 220-yard dashes figure to be four-way fights. Art Jones of Richmond, Bosh Pritchard of VMI, VPI's sensational Paul McMullen, and Steve Campbell of Virginia, who has equaled the Big Six mark of 9.8 seconds in the 100, are the quartet of favorites.

Co-Captain Bill Murray, one of the few W&L thinclads counted on in tomorrow's meet, Cronley of Virginia, and VMI's Louthan and McClure are scheduled to struggle for the 440-yard championship.

In the half-mile run, Rockwood of VMI, Shippe of VPI, and Jennings of W&L will probably battle for the championship. Best of the milers are Cliff Muller of W&L and the Cavaliers' Tucker.

Favorites in the two mile race tomorrow will be Wahoo Tucker and Dale of VMI. Clendaniel is W&L's entry.

A three way fight among Todd of Virginia, McMullen of VPI, and Callahan of William and Mary is anticipated in the high hurdles and these three along with W&L's Yeomans should take the places in the high hurdles.

The final running event on tomorrow's program will be the mile relay. According to certain officials, VMI and W&L should be in the fight for this championship. The Generals will likely run Murray, Jay Silverstein, Jennings, and Muller.

The first field event tomorrow will be the pole vault. Considered the tops of a 14 man field are Matt Crawford, W&M's sophomore, and Charley Gilbert, the Generals' veteran vaulter.

In the javelin, W&L's Herb Friedman, present holder of the school record, Joe Fortunato of Richmond and Unser of VPI are considered the best candidates. A group of 16 men will be competing in this event.

Griffin and McVay of Richmond, McLaughlin of Virginia, Muha of VMI, Hellslander of William and Mary, and Ailor and Woods of W&L are the most likely scorers in the shot and discus. An evenly-matched 19-man field will compete in the high jump. The VMI entrant here will be Guesser Gilbert, and Nelson.

On paper, it looks like Washington and Lee will pick up some points in the broad jump where Yeomans, three-time winner this season, is competing. Other likely winners are Pritchard of the Keydets, and Remine of the Spiders. The Generals' chances in fresh rivalry were considerably dampened this week when it was learned that Chuck Wooters, sprinter and broad jumper, who has taken three firsts in both of the Big meets will be kept out because of a pulled knee.

Best of the little Generals are Schofield and DiLoreto in the shot and discus, Pope in the pole vault, Hatch in the discus, Ulan in the javelin, and McLaren, Wooters' understudy, in the sprints. Jack Hennemer, coach of the Blue team, announced the following officials for the Big Six meet: Referee and starter, Frank Dob-

Stickmen Ready For Tar Heels; Lose to Loyola

Washington and Lee's Big Blue lacrosse team, defending champions of the Dixie league, swung into heavy practices again this week in preparation for their forthcoming battle with North Carolina's Tar Heels, tentatively scheduled for this week-end.

Carolina nosed out the Generals in an earlier engagement this season, 6-5, and, following their recent triumph over Duke's Blue Devils, need another win over the Blue to keep in the running for the Dixie league crown.

Monk Farinholt's ten received another jolt in the 10-7 loss to Loyola college last week-end; however, when it was learned that Captain Skippy Henderson had fractured his finger again, and his participation in the Carolina game is as yet indefinite. The rest of the squad returned in good shape, however, and the team's hopes were augmented greatly when it was announced that Pete Pridham, first-string close attacker, has recovered from his injured hand and will be in readiness for the North Carolina battle.

Against Loyola, the Generals played one of their best games to date and gave the highly favored Baltimore ten its closest game of the year. The Blues led at the end of the initial quarter by a 3-1 score, and were still very much in the running at the half, though on the short end of a 5-4 count. The home team's superior reserve strength rolled over W&L in the last two frames and piled up five more markers.

Henderson led the Big Blue with three goals to his credit, while Frank LaMotte and Bayard Berghaus slammed in the other scores.

ATOs, NFU, ZBTs Beat Sigma Nus, SAEs, Betas In I-M Softball Clashes

The ATOs, ZBTs, and the non-fraternity union advanced to the second round of the intramural tournament this week. Monday the ATOs defeated the Sigma Nus 24-6. Barrie Pierce pitched for the winners, and Jim Daves and Marshall Steves pitched for the losers.

The ZBTs outscored the Betas 6-4 Tuesday. Faulty fielding by the losers in the first inning was the cause of the outcome. Hank Woods was the losing pitcher, and Don Stein was the winning pitcher.

The non-fraternity union easily defeated the SAEs yesterday afternoon 18-7. Guy Clark started on the mound for the losers, and when the going became rough Ed Trice took over. Bob Rice went the whole distance for the NFU.

Blue Drops 'Big Six' Lead As Wahoos Triumph 19-3

Slamming out twenty hits and taking advantage of seven W&L errors, Virginia's varsity baseball team massacred the Generals by a 19-3 count in a wild game played Wednesday on Wilson field.

The defeat sent the Big Blue nine tumbling down to second place in the "Big Six" standings, and broke up the first place deadlock that Washington and Lee has been in with William and Mary for the past two weeks.

The Wahoos went to work early in the game on Johnny Ligon, sophomore chucker who had beaten them previously in Charlottesville, and knocked him out of the box before the side was retired in the first inning. The Cavaliers found Ligon for five hits and three walks in the two-thirds of an inning in which he worked, and continued their onslaught against Bob Gregerson, who took over the mound duties when Ligon was moved out to center field.

The usually smooth-working W&L infield could not seem to hit their stride against the UVa. outfit, and committed seven errors during the game, four of them by second-sacker Danny Owen. The six runs that the invaders chalked up in the first inning apparently demoralized the whole Washington and Lee ball club, for they in no way looked like the team that all season had played the best ball that has been exhibited on Wilson field by a home team in years.

Even the vaunted Blue batting power was absent from the game yesterday, as John Willey, Virginia righthander, held the Generals to six hits. Ligon managed to crack out two triples during the afternoon, and Bob Keim singled twice. Captain Bob Gary and Gregerson each got singles, but these men were the only W&L players able to hit safely off Willey.

This afternoon the Washington and Lee horsehiders played host to Davidson college in a Southern conference fracas. Ted Pearson, sophomore twirler, who has been plagued with hard luck on the hill all season was slated for the pitching job against Davidson with Big Jim Wheeler as his battery mate.

Varsity Golfers Take on Duke's Title-Holders

Brigs Hold Early Lead, Top CFHS

With a record of two wins, a tie, and a loss behind them, Washington and Lee's varsity golfers matched strokes with the highly-touted Duke linksmen, defending Southern conference champions, this afternoon on the Cascades course at Hot Springs and will compete in the annual conference tournament tomorrow.

Duke boasts one of the hottest golf teams in the country and has gone undefeated in play against Southern squads in the past several years.

The present Southern Intercollegiate champ and two former such titleholders faced the Generals in today's match. The Blue Devils' Bob Brownell copped the Southern crown one month ago at Athens, Georgia, while Taylor was champion in 1939 and sophomore Grover Poole won the tourney last year.

Duke has annexed the conference team championship for the past six seasons, with W&L being the only other school to win the title besides the Devils. The Blue divoteers had low team score in the 1934 tourney and Duke has gained the squad trophy ever other year of the tournament's 21 year history.

Tomorrow's tourney shapes up to be one of the fastest yet in conference competition. Ten schools, including W&L, VMI, VPI, Duke, NCU, Davidson, Citadel, NC State, Wake Forest, and South Carolina, have entered teams; while Richmond and Maryland may also send aggregations to vie for individual and team honors, giving promise of the largest number of participants ever before.

The Cascades layout on which tomorrow's set-to will take place is rated among the first ten courses nationally in beauty and degree of difficulty.

Coach Cy Twombly's quartet, composed of sophomores Paul Williams, Bill Noonan, S. L. Kopaid and junior Bud Bowie have turned in fine performances this season; and a win over the venerable Durham, N. C., squad today will increase Twombly's hopes for a championship team in the next two years.

The Generals started the season off with a bang by trouncing Boston College's linksmen here, 17 1-2 to 1-2. The Twomblymen gained an even 9-9 break with the Apprentice School here in their next test, and lost a tough 3 1-2 to 5 1-2 decision to Virginia in a six-man match at Hot Springs. Hampden-Sydney was the Blue's last opponent as W&L triumphed 15-3 here Friday.

The Generals' next engagement is against Richmond there next Thursday, May 15; and from there the team will travel to Washington, D. C., for their final match of the current campaign with George Washington.

Letter: The Cotillion Club Case

Opening or Spring dance sets. Every member of the Outcast Five is invited and urged to attend the Cotillion dances. If the Outcast Five do not support Openings or Spring set, the Cotillion club en masse raises the outcry—no school spirit. If we examine the situation, we'll probably find that there are boys in the Outcast Five who do more for the Cotillion club dances than do three-fourths the members of the club. Their services are expected and the support of their fraternities just must be had; but when it comes to recognizing these boys, or their fraternities, with membership and privileges in the club, then the viewpoint is much different. Those who are members of the Chosen Thirteen are "privileged," and they must at all times protect their privilege.

On a campus as small as Washington and Lee's, it seems almost ridiculous that there has to be discrimination against five fraternities out of eighteen. And, on a campus where there are two-hundred non-fraternity boys out of nine-hundred students, it seems anti-American that such a group can't have representation in two of the four yearly University dances. Yet, when members from the Chosen Thirteen cry out for universal representation in the club, they are charged with desiring it for political reasons. Some people evidently believe that nobody at Washington and Lee ever does anything unless it's for a selfish political motive. These people should realize that boys who advocate representation can be just as set in their convictions and be just as honorable in the expression of their viewpoint as those who are opposed to the Outcast Five and the Out-of-Everything Non-Fraternity men.

Personally, I see only one argument against representation—selfishness. On a campus like ours, it seems almost outrageous that such a reason should dominate a viewpoint. Now I may be wrong, but I have yet to hear one, yes, just one, reason against representation which hasn't a nasty resemblance of selfishness. If the Outcast Five or the Out-of-Everything Non-Fraternity men were as narrow as their opponents, no doubt a boycott of Spring and Openings would have been carried on long ago. Their spirit and cooperation in spite of being slapped in the face is very commendable.

Sincerely,
Al Snyder.

services. President Gaines headed the general planning and coordinating committee. Senator Carter Glass served as honorary chairman of the Friends of the Library committee. Governor Price was honorary chairman of the alumni participation committee, and Senator Henry T. Wickham served as honorary head of the archives and manuscripts committee.

Dr. Leonard C. Helderman is chairman of the regular faculty library committee. Now employed in the library in addition to Mr. Mohrhardt are Richard H. Shoemaker, assistant librarian, Francis Kinnear, Evelyn Nelson, Ellinor Gadsden, Hlah Henty, and Estelle Irvine.

In connection with the dedication services, an eight page booklet describing the library and its growth, and containing a number of photographs of the building, was printed at the Journalism Laboratory press for distribution to friends of the university and alumni. Main feature of the booklet is a pictograph sketch of the three main floors of the new building, portraying in cartoon fashion the use of each of the rooms of the new building.

Reconstruction of the old Carnegie building was begun in May, 1940, and completed late in January of this year. All rooms in the building are now open for student use except the rare book room, which will remain closed to the public because of the number of valuable manuscripts that will be stored there.

Suitable Site for County Airport Seems Unavailable

Failure to find a suitable site close enough to Lexington has dampened the local airport committee's hopes of establishing an airfield in Rockbridge County.

At a meeting Monday Dr. H. L. Mitchell, chairman of the committee, discussed the information at hand on various locations in the county and concluded that it is highly desirable to have an airport for commercial and training purposes, but the committee has not succeeded in finding a site close enough to Lexington and VMI and W&L to warrant any present hope that one can be developed.

Cotillion Club

Any deficit of the Dance Board must be made up out of the general reserve fund of the student body which is at this time dangerously low due to losses of various campus activities.

For a number of years prior to 1938-39 the Cotillion club dances were relatively small affairs with a dance budget of only $1200 to $1500 a set, but in 1938-39 Steve Stephenson signed Paul Whiteman for Openings and Benny Goodman and Harry James for Spring dances and began the period of high-cost, big-name bands. Last year the club continued to spend on an average of $2500 for bands for each set.

The loss of student support which has made these economies necessary is due to several factors. The main reason is the attempt to stage four big dance sets a year, which, according to general campus opinion, are more than the students can back. Other reasons attributed to the falling off of interest are the trend toward smaller dances, more fraternity parties and informal affairs, and the lack of novelty in bringing "name" bands to the campus.

Huffman Funeral Held

Funeral services were held yesterday morning for Oscar C. Huffman, member of the Washington and Lee Board of Trustees. Present at the services, which were held in Buchanan, Virginia, were President and Mrs. Gaines; Earl S. Mattingly, registrar; and Herbert Fitzpatrick, rector of the Board of Trustees.
