Fitzpatrick, Bill Sizemore Get AC Posts

Committee Appointees Will Represent Students On Reorganized Board

Bev. Fitzpatrick, Kappa Sigma junior, and Bill Sizemore, Sigma Nu sophomore, were appointed student body representatives on the Intercollegiate Athletic Council at a meeting of the student body Executive committee Tuesday evening.

Fitzpatrick, first string guard on the varsity football team, was elected president of the 1943 Fancy Dress set earlier this spring. From Roanoke, he is a member of White Friars, 13 club, Sigma society and the Monogram club. He is outgoing president of his fraternity and retiring secretary of the Interfraternity Council.

Sizemore, from Clarksville, Va., is junior manager of the varsity football squad, member of White Friars, on the business staff of the Ring-tum Phi, member of the Cotillion club and second baseman on the varsity nine. He received a numeral for his baseball work during his freshman year.

Fitzpatrick and Sizemore succeed Tyke Bryan and Tommy Fuller, who held the posts last year.

The committee, which is composed of five faculty members, two students and two alumni, replaces the former Athletic Council and faculty committee on athletics and is entrusted with general supervision of all athletic programs and policies at Washington and Lee.

The committee also recommends the director of inter-collegiate athletics for approval by the Board of Trustees, awards monograms to members of the teams and elects managerships at the close of the athletic season.

Faculty members of the group are Professor Livingston W. Smith, G. D. Hancock, Raymond T. Johnson and Dean Frank J. Gilliam. Professor C. E. Williams was also a committee member before leaving the University last year. Stuart Moore, '15, Lexington lawyer and Earl Fitzpatrick, '29, of Roanoke represent the alumni.

Prof. Smith, chairman of the group, said today that the Athletic Committee will hold its last meeting on May 14. Alumni appointments to the committee will be made at a meeting of the alumni board during the latter part of the month, it was also announced.

Wheeler Named President Of W&L Phi Kap Chapter

Zip Wheeler, commerce junior from Middleport, N. Y., was named president of Phi Kappa Sigma for next year at house elections held last week. He succeeds Pres Brown as head of the W&L chapter.

Also chosen for offices were Grey Flowers, of Vickburg, Miss., vice-president; George Haw, of Richmond, Va., secretary and Neal Myers, also of Richmond, house manager. Other posts went to Ed Jackson, Carl Johnson, Harry Baugher, Bob McCutcheon and Maurice Miller.

12 Councilors Chosen For Freshman Camp By Faculty Group

Dean Frank J. Gilliam announced today that the Freshman Camp Faculty Committee had selected the following students as councilors for the 1942 Freshman Camp: Paul Baker, Paul Brown, George Eshelman, Mason Hendrickson, Bill Noonan, Bud Robb, Henry Schewel, Billy Sizemore, David Smith, Bill Talbott, Jimmy Walker, and George Wood. Paul Baker has been named student manager. Assistant student manager will be David Smith.

The current shortage of transportation facilities has confronted the camp committee with some of the most difficult problems that it has ever coped with, Dean Gilliam added. The 1942 camp will be held at Camp Powhatan from Friday, September 11 to Monday, September 14, he said.

Freshman Camp councilors will have dinner with Dean Gilliam tonight, at which time preliminary plans for the outing will be made.

IFC Outlines Rushing Rules, Elects Swinford Vice-President

The recently enlarged Interfraternity Council formulated rushing rules for the summer session and elected Bill Swinford vice-president at its first meeting under the new setup Tuesday night.

Outlawing rushing during the summer session, the new rules provide that no freshman shall be allowed in a fraternity house or upperclassman's lodgings during the summer session and provides for a committee of five students to enforce the rules. Violations of the new rules carry the same penalties as for violations during official rush week.

Jim Walker, newly elected president of the Council, said today that the committee to enforce the new rules will be appointed soon.

With regard to official rush week, the Council approved the rules revised last October prohibiting rushing until 8 a.m. Monday of official rush week. Rush week dates may be arranged between 8 and 10 Monday morning and between 12 and 2:30 Monday afternoon of rush week. The Monday lunch date was abolished to give the incoming freshmen time to become settled.

Dates may be broken only by the rushee and not by any fraternity, the new rules state.

Swinford, new vice-president of the group, is Executive Committee representative from the inter-

Soule Will Head Enlarged Group Of Assimilators

Bill Soule, Kappa Sigma law student, has been appointed by student body president Lee Kenna to head a new nine man Assimilation Committee whose work will be, as in the past, to aid in assimilating incoming freshmen to the rules governing Washington and Lee conduct.

Other members appointed by Kenna are Al Darby who was Sports Editor of the Ring-tum Phi the past year, Editor-elect of the Calyx, president of Pi Kappa Phi, social fraternity, and wrestling manager.

Dick Houska, past Managing Editor of the Ring-tum Phi, vice-president of Lambda Chi, editorial staff of the Southern Collegian and letterman of the track team.

Allie Lane, Non-Fraternity Union.

Grant Mouser, sophomore Executive Committeeman, president of Freshman Christian Council and member of Phi Gamma Delta.

Ed Scherr secretary of Interfraternity Council, vice-president of Chi Gamma Theta and member of Phi Epsilon Pi.

Bill Webster, captain-elect of the W&L swimming team and member of Delta Tau Delta.

George Wood, former Freshman Executive Committeeman, basketball letterman, and president of Alpha Tau Omega.

Ed Zelnicker, editor of the Freshman Handbook, past managing editor of the Ring-tum Phi, former secretary of Phi Eta Sigma and vice-president of Zeta Beta Tau.

Glee Club Advances To Semi-Final Round In Waring Contests

Maryland, Temple Also in Running For Regional Prize

Members of Washington and Lee's Glee club, under the student leadership of Paul Brown, were judged to be one of three best choral groups in their class this week when they reached the semi-finals in the Middle Atlantic states competitions of Fred Waring's annual college glee club contest.

Winner of the regional contest, which included groups from colleges in Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia, will make an appearance either at Carnegie hall or the Metropolitan Opera house in New York to take part in the national competitions.

Professor J. G. Varner, faculty advisor of the group, said today, after receiving a telegram from a Waring representative, that the Glee Club is competing against Maryland and Temple Universities for the coveted New York assignment.

Waring also notified Prof. Varner that records submitted by the three groups were all very good, and competition was so close that a final announcement of the winner could not be made until Tuesday night on the Chesterfield program.

The W&L club competed against 19 other groups in this region. Others who reach the finals will be the winners from eight other regions throughout the United States.

Larry Lawrence, a member of Waring's Glee club, came to Lexington several weeks ago to complete final arrangements and prepare the records which won the semi-finalist position. The 40 students were judged on phrasing diction, tone color, recording dynamics and general ability to put the songs over.

The group recorded "Loch Lomond" by Ringwald in the style which Waring uses on his weekly "Pleasure Time" radio program, "Bless the Lord, O My Soul" a Russian arrangement by Ippolitof-Ivanof, and "The W&L Swing." One unison arrangement was required for the competition.

The group has appeared in Washington for the last three years on the Waring program and won the regional contest for college glee clubs in 1939. It has also appeared with Waring for the last two years at the Vanderbilt theatre in New York.

Recently completing a Washington tour, in which it gave a highly-praised concert at the National Cathedral, the club has sung at numerous girls' schools, churches and on professional theatrical programs.

Last appearance of the club this season will be in Lee Chapel Monday night when the annual Lexington concert will be given.

"This year's Glee club is the most finished group we have ever had," Prof. Varner said today in announcing the Waring contest results, "and certainly offers the most promising material for building up the organization next year."

EC Reallocates $8 Campus Tax; Two Groups Gain

In a reallocation of campus tax funds at a recent meeting the Executive Committee granted increases of 15 and 10 cents, respectively, to Christian work and to the Ring-tum Phi and at the same time deducted 20 cents from the Troubadours' share of the $8.00 campus fee along with a 5 cent deduction for the band.

The $8 for each student's campus tax is allotted as follows:

	1941-42	1942-43
Calyx	$3.75	$3.75
Ring-tum Phi	.85	.95
Southern Collegian	.50	.50
Christian Work	.70	.85
Stu. body exp. fund	.40	.40
Troubadours	.70	.50
Band	.20	.15
Glee Club	.20	.20
Crew	.20	.20
Executive Committee	.40	.40
Debate team	.10	.10

Total $8.00 $8.00

In return for the $8 tax, the student receives a year's subscription to both the Ring-tum Phi and the Southern Collegian, a copy of the Calyx, admission to two Troubadour productions and all Glee Club concerts and debate meets.

Established about 10 years ago, the campus tax was originally set at $10 but was reduced to $8 five years ago.

If, at the end of the year, any organization participating in the campus tax has a surplus, the extra money is deposited in the reserve fund of the student body treasury, which is drawn on by organizations showing a deficit. Continual losses by dance sets and various campus tax organizations reduced this reserve fund to an all-time low of $1200 last year compared with a total of $3,000 five years ago.

McCauley Gets Lead Role

Elliott McCauley, PIKA freshman, has been chosen to play the only male role in the Southern Seminary production "Ladies in Retirement," it was announced today. Eight Southern Sem girls complete the play's cast of nine.

McCauley participated in the W&L Varsity Show and was a member of the cast of the first production scheduled by the Troubs.

McGehee Elected Head Of Chemistry Fraternity

John McGehee, science junior from Reidsville, N. C., was elected president of Chi Gamma Theta, honorary chemistry fraternity, in the group's annual balloting this week. The new president is a member of Beta Theta Pi social fraternity.

Other 1942-43 officers elected were Ed Scherr, PEP, vice-president; Jim Parsons, secretary and Paul Blakely, treasurer.

Dr. James L. Howe, of the W&L chemistry department, has been selected as the principal speaker for the fraternity's annual banquet, which will be held May 12 at the Southern Inn.

On This Hill

In any period of emergency the customary thing is for each one to ask every other one, "Who does what—when and how?" and it is also customary for every other one to give answer, "Search me!" In this P of E we (all and each) ask the same question and give the same answer. In the meantime the Jap's twenty-five caliber bullets go, "Bing," "Ping," and "Zing."

Let those of us who are asking foolish questions on this particular college hill get our tootsies on the ground and realize that each must complete his training as soon as possible and with maximum efficiency, if a definite contribution is to be made. Let those of us who belong to this proud academic family and who get sentimental over a few traditions peculiar to this particular outfit, remember that since we, collectively and individually, can count up to ten and know our various ways around, there is no good reason for any circle walking or fuzzy thinking.

In this present game it is not necessary to wait for reporters and top ranking judges to select the All Americans. Neither is it necessary to have special skills connected with pig skin transportation, to be identified with the select A. A. Company. Every man can be an All American if he plays on the team of the democracies and gives his nation the service he is capable of giving.

College men have always won distinction as men of careful training, sound scholarship and creative ability. To them has been given opportunity to learn at informational sources, to practice with those who have approached perfection in craftsmanship, and to gain inspiration from many contacts and associations. To them, the men who have had the greater opportunity, now comes the greater challenge—that of leadership. To merely stand ready is not enough, and to merely be well prepared is not enough. The college men must step forward to be first in rendering the myriad services in production and military activity necessary to protect our country.

On this particular college hill let there be no hesitation, no confusion, no uncertainty, and no delay. The immediate task is to obtain knowledge, become adaptable, develop skills, keep faith in American ways of life, and pursue training with enthusiasm.—The Saturday Letter.

The wild boar of India attacks without provocation as does the tame bore of the parlor.—Pittsburg Press.

In a collision at a nearby intersection last night, two tires and one passenger were reported hurt.—Detroit News.

Prize Hoax of '42: Here's the punch story of the springtime, and as might be expected it originated at the Phi Kap lodge and features "Shoeless Pete" Day the St. Louie "con man." "Shoeless Pete" used to go with a nice thing at Fairfax Hall, very nice in fact—it was Johnny Henry. Johnny sort of liked Pete too—she called him "Tootsy" just like so many other girls have in the past. Somehow they all tag Day with the monicker "Tootsy"—he eats it up too.

Well to get on with the story, Johnny Henry quit Fairfax and went up to the Great White Way to be a Powers model. "Tootsy" got a yen for Johnny last week so he decided to wheedle her into coming down for a weekend. So "Tootsy" calls her up saying, "Come on down this weekend, peachie, it's spring houseparties at W&L. Big time. Yeah Big time. Bring a model for my pal Gordy Long too, will you, beautiful?"

"Why, 'Tootsy,' I'd love to. I want to see my big boy again."

And so the deal was set. The only hitch is that it is not spring houseparties at W&L. The two beautiful girls blow into town tonight loaded down with evening dresses, etc., and what do they find? They find one of those nice refined Phi Kap picnics, featuring Ignico, The Ox, The Bull, et al. "Big Time."

"Shoeless Pete," "Tootsy" Day was last seen in the last booth at Mike's calling on some Schlitz to aid him in getting a good excuse worked up for the absence of spring houseparties. Gordy Long? Hell, he doesn't care. He knows his jane will think he's a ham before long anyhow; they all do. Big time guy this Day—strictly big time.

From Here and There: Links captain Bill Noonan getting, oh so smooth: "What a night for love, darling. The moon looks like a beautiful, big, golden golf ball." ... Poor Art Silver is in a quandry these days. He spends his time running all over town tearing seer-sucker coats off guy's backs to lamp the label. Pay off came when he found one he didn't like, spent ten minutes in elaborating on its poor quality and found out it was the same kind he sells.... The Ring-tum Phi party at Mike's was a Double A, even though a few hams like Bert Myers crashed the thing. Shirk the Jerk downed five Pepsi-Colas during the brawl...

May Day at the Sem was a riot. Big Jim Wheeler spent the evening explaining batting stances to his date, along with a few hints about not getting caught off base. Les Weller made up with Phyl, and so that deal has resumed its normal pace again.

"Clarke Bable" Michaux used his best Oxford accent, along with a few "Bongs," on his girl from the West Indies. Mich overdid the thing though, and found himself in an awful rut when she started reminiscing about Devonshire and Southwark. Sardeson, secretary of the El Patio Union, left his favorite haunt for the night, and found the Sem very nice...

Over heard in the Corner Store: Brother Barnes wanting to know whether Bill Davidson got the nickname of "Shabby" because he bums around with Bob Tyson. If that's true, how could you explain the name of "Seedy" for "Hoon" Bond? That guy goes around with no one. Or vice versa...

Throats are getting as scarce as they are dry at El Patio since Alma quit and they started watering the beer... The world premiere of a new show in Lynchburg, featuring a girl fresh out of Duke, attracted approximately 50 W&L boys the other night... The Will Hays office must have gone out of circulation...

The age of chivalry may not be dead, but it certainly appears to be on its last leg. John Goode and Danny Justice went up into the Robert E. Lee Hotel fire the other night to rescue a trio of screaming damsels and had to be rescued themselves. Said Justice, admonishingly, "They don't even have a vote, Johnny..."

Arriving at the State coliseum Saturday will be that famed adaptation from a Portuguese novel, "The Lady Has Plans." If you have no plans for the afternoon, then it might be wise to get excited by the antics of Paulette Goddard and Ray Milland.

You can figure out the plot yourself. However, in the veracular of the street and for our sugar-rationed readers, a synopsis may be had by applying at the Registrar's office between 12 and 12:05 tomorrow night.

That slinging, singing, swing Betty Grable will parade her acting ability—how else did you think she became a star?—across the State screen Monday-Wednesday. The also-ran in this movie is Private Victor Mature, along with Jack Oakie and an authentic Hollywood Hawaiian backdrop.

We guarantee that one dance—if you can call it that—Miss Grable gives out will almost cause a riot, even if she is just a piece of celluloid.

Rubinoﬀ is still on his way to the Lexington podium. Don't forget May 21 is when Lexington gets to see a real live person on the stage, in person.

We may have to start eating our own words if we aren't more careful about even mentioning shows like "Juke Box Jenny" which was one of the foulist movies we have seen in a long time.

Running close behind "Jenny" was much to our surprise "Twin Beds." The dialogue was murdered the acting rotten and it needed a good kick to get it moving.

Carolina's traditional May Day celebration underwent a radical renovation in order to "portray the war effort at the University," the Daily Tar Heel reported this week. Absent were the "blithely cavorting May Queen and the numerous members of her blossoming court." The dramatic theme of the pageant was the parts various alphabetical war agencies on the Tar Heel campus have played in the war.

According to the Technique of Georgia Tech, 800 students have joined the Students' Political League on that campus to defeat Governor Talmadge and reclaim Tech's accredited university rating. Members of the league have already mailed hundreds of circulars to prominent Georgians in their initial efforts to oust "red galled Gene" Talmadge.

Allison Made Net Captain Of '43 Team

Team Loses 4 Matches As Season Ends; Brigs Play UVa. Here Today

Bill Allison, Phi Delt sophomore from Staten Island, N. Y., was chosen captain of the 1943 tennis team at a meeting of the squad yesterday afternoon. Manager Jim LaPlante announced today. Allison was a member of last year's freshman team, and this season he wound up with victories in his last three singles encounters.

The Generals were nosed out Tuesday afternoon by Hampden-Sydney, 5-4, in the final tilt of the campaign. The match was played at Farmville State Teachers College and attracted a large crowd of nearly 200.

Captain Jack Barrie ended his season with a two-set victory in the opening singles engagement. Jack McCormick in the number two slot won 6-2, 8-10, 6-1. Ralph Taggart then lost by scores of 6-2, 6-4.

Allison sent W&L into a 3-1 lead with his 6-3, 6-2 triumph. Clancy Ballenger lost, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Bill Phillips was downed, 7-5, 6-3.

In the opening doubles tussle, Barrie and McCormick teamed to turn in a close 8-6, 9-7 win, but the other two teams could not manage to score the one necessary victory. Taggart and Allison lost, 6-3, 6-4, and Ballenger and Phillips succumbed, 6-4, 6-3.

The Blue chalked up but one victory throughout the season, as they lost four times. The sole win was over Emory and Henry while Virginia and Hampden-Sydney each administered a pair of defeats. The scores of all five matches were 5-4.

The Hampden-Sydney battle was the last for Barrie and Phillips. Dick Spindle, who missed the final match, is also a graduating senior. Barrie hung up an impressive record of five wins and no losses in singles and four wins and one defeat in doubles.

The Virginia frosh played the Little Blue this afternoon on the local courts in the Brigs only tilt of the season. The starting lineup for W&L was indefinite, but Bob Gaines, Neel Walker, Dave Smith, and Bill Clayton were expected to see action, according to LaPlante.

Luke, Stu Smith Will Clash In Intramural Golf Finals

Two Smiths, Luke and Stu, square off Saturday afternoon in a 36-hole match on the local links to determine who will succeed Wally Croxin as intramural golf champion.

Luke, Phi Delt, favorite to lift the crown this season, fought his way into the final contest with a victory over Cronin, NFU, on Tuesday afternoon. Stu, NFU, earlier this week gained the finals berth when he decimated Cranford Brantley, SAE.

Luke's campaign for this coveted spot has featured wins over Frank Goodpasture, Sigma Nu; Guy Yaste, SAE, and Cronin. Stu reached the finals with triumphs over Hank Breneman, Phi Psi; Warren Stuart, PIKA, and Brantley.

13 Run Blitzkreig in First Gives Phi Kaps I-M Title

Taking an early lead of 13 runs to 3 in the first inning, Phi Kappa Sigma defeated Pi Kappa Alpha 15-11 Wednesday to capture the 1942 intramural baseball championship. In the consolation tournament, Alpha Tau Omega defeated Delta Tau Delta 6-2 yesterday afternoon and will play Sigma Nu on Monday for the championship.

After their scoring drive in the first inning, the Phi Kaps did not tally again until the sixth when two runs crossed the plate. PIKA scored in the first, third, fourth and sixth innings but failed to

The Phi Kaps moved into the finals by defeating the Phi Delt, Betas and Kappa Sigs, while the PIKAs won over the PEPs, KAs and Pi Kaps. Throughout the tournament Red Gorman carried most of the PIKAs' pitching load, and Lud Michaux hurled for the Phi Kaps.

The PIKAs' starting team consisted of Waller Howard, Wise Kelly, Leo Signiago, Gorman, Russell Ingham, Clancy Ballenger, Herber Smith, Al Wolfe and Fred Valz. The Phi Kaps started with Roy Wheeler, Mace Hendrickson, Roy and Perry Simmons, Dick Working, Lud Michaux, George Haw, Roy Johnson, Vincent Ignico and Stan Carlsson.

Moving into the consolation finals, the Sigma Nus sank the Lambda Chis and Phi Gams, while the ATOs tripped the Phi Delt and Delt.

Blue Nine Bows 12-7 to Colonials

Washington and Lee's varsity baseball team lost another Southern Conference game up at Washington on Wednesday, as they bowed to George Washington University 12-7.

George Washington bombarded the Generals with a seventeen hit attack featured by two home runs. The Generals tried hard to cut down their opponents' lead, but the Colonials managed to keep a good distance in front.

George Washington tallied three runs in the opening frame, two more in the third, one in the fourth, and two in the fifth, sixth and seventh.

The Generals counted one in the first on Harry Baugher's home run. The Blue also tallied one in the fifth, two in the sixth, and rallied with three in the eighth, but were held scoreless in the ninth by Red Kloak, Colonial twirler.

Harry Baugher took batting honors for the Generals with a single as well as his homer, while Ted Ciesla, Bob Cavanna, and Jay Cook, each singled twice.

Ailor Named '43 Captain Of General Track Team

Pausing in their preparations for the Big Six Meet at Charlottesville on Saturday, the General thinclads yesterday elected Lillard Ailor captain of the W&L forces for 1943. Ailor specializes in the discus and shot put and holds the Washington and Lee record of 45 feet, 1-2 inch in the latter event.

The Generals' new leader, who hails from Johnson City, Tennessee, has been a consistent point winner in the weights for the past two campaigns. Besides his track activities, Ailor holds down a regular tackle position on the football team, and was Southern Conference Heavyweight Wrestling champion last year.

Meanwhile, eleven cindermen, headed by Captain Bud Yeomans continued workouts for the meet tomorrow. Yeomans, who scored 42 points in three dual meets this season, will concentrate on the 220 yard low hurdles in an effort to upset Virginia's Tom Todd, who is favored in this event.

Chuck Wooters and Sam Graham are also entered in running events for the Blue. Wooters will enter both dashes, encountering stiff competition from VPI's Paul McMullin and Virginia's Ned Campbell, while Graham will enter the mile. Ailor and Hank Woods, school record holder for the discus, round out the varsity contingent.

The small freshman squad of six that will make the trip is considered a possible dark horse in the running for the frosh honors. In the running events, Chip Miller will enter both hurdles, Pete Figgatt, the dashes, Ellis Moore, the quarter, and Ray Prater, the half mile. The Norman brothers, Pinky and Dyke, will also compete in their specialty, the discus.

Golfers in Darkhorse Role For SC Meet Tomorrow

Upset by the Hampden-Sydney Tigers in their last home meet, but seeking to come back in matches with Duke today and Davidson yesterday, Washington and Lee's golfers—rated only an outside chance—tee off tomorrow morning against linksmen from nine schools as the annual Southern Conference tournament gets underway in Winston-Salem.

The Tigers, scheduled to be little more than a tune-up in preparation for the General's North Carolina invasion, turned on their would-be conquerors with a vengeance. Visitors George Fulton and Bill Dunlop featured the uprising with a 70 and a 73, respectively.

This rare display on the part of Hampden-Sydney's number one two golfers gave the winners eight points out of a possible nine in the upper bracket of the match.

13 Fraternities Will Offer Rooms For Summer Term; Four to Serve

Simultaneously with an announcement that 221 students have signed for the initial W&L Summer Session have come reports from fraternities that probably more than 13 houses will remain open for roomers this summer. Four of the 13 houses have made definite plans to offer dining hall services to their members.

Of the 221 student who are at present registered, more than 185 are affiliated with one of the 18 fraternities. To the number registered, will be added approximately 75 incoming freshmen and co-eds.

Students who have not agreed to stay at a fraternity house will be allowed to stay either in the dormitories or in town. All Freshmen will live in the dormitories, it has been announced.

Leading all other houses on the campus, the Phi Kaps has signed up 17 of its members for the summer session in addition to several Sigma Nu students, whose house will not be open. The house is also planning to serve meals to roomers and all others it can accommodate.

The Deltas, who also have completed plans for opening their dining hall and rooms, have approximately 15 students signed up so far.

Both the Kappa Sigs and PiKAs will be offering room and board with more than 14 members of the respective houses already registered for the summer months.

Houses offering only rooms for their members and other students and the number of their members registered for the summer sessions are as follows: ATO, 8; Betas, 8; DU, 10; KA, 9; Phi Delt, 15; PEP, 8; Phi Psi, 14; SAE, 15. Other houses undecided as to whether they will remain open for roomers this summer are: Lambda Chi, 5; Pi Phi, 8 and ZBT, 8.

Phi Gam, Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi houses will not remain open.

Fred McGriff, manager of the University Dining hall, said the hall would be open for both semesters of the summer session.

Plans for use of the closed fraternity houses are still indefinite.

Assimilation

Soule is the new president of the Senior Law Class, dormitory councillor, and track letterman.

In changing from an eight to a nine man committee, Kenna added that he hoped "by enlarging the group to keep violations of the adopted W&L Assimilation rules to a minimum and to insure more thorough efficiency in reporting and in dealing with violations."

The committee will also operate during the summer school session, applying their pressure only to freshmen; however, the Executive Committee will enforce their recent ruling to upper-classmen pertaining to the wearing of the traditional coat and ties throughout the summer.

Generally it is the members of the committee who report violators of the freshman rules and so the enlargement of the committee to nine men was thought necessary.

Service Center Starts Library For Student Use

A special Library of Information has been established at the University library as part of the W&L War Service Center program to help interpret to the surrounding community the immediate and long range issues of the war effort.

The library staff has arranged a selected collection of books, pamphlets, and government releases, which may be used at the library, or may be loaned to responsible persons through a package loan service. In addition the staff will prepare selected bibliographies for individuals needing special information.

Another branch of the War Service Center is a Speakers' Bureau, whose members are available for talks before community organizations on various subjects concerning the war effort. A list has been prepared of 19 faculty members who are available for these talks.

F. J. Barnes, coordinator of the War Service Center, announced today a faculty-student war service committee with Dr. W. A. Flick as chairman, and Professors Dickey, Desha, Johnson and Crenshaw as faculty members. Howard Dobbins and Bud Levy were named student representatives.

The following faculty members were named by Mr. Barnes to head various branches of the new organization: F. E. Mohrhardt, library of information; Seymour Smith, public relations; R. M. Hodges, publicity; E. S. Mattingly, finance; A. W. Moger, faculty speakers' bureau, and George S. Jackson, student speakers' bureau.

Law Review Set For Early June

The Spring issue of the W&L Law Review, which will complete volume three of the publication will appear early in June, Dr. Theodore Smedley, faculty editor of the Review announced today.

Leading articles on "The Parol Evidence Rule in Virginia" and "The Virginia Bill of Rights: Origin and Development" have been contributed to the Spring Review by Dean W. H. Moreland, of the W&L School of Law, and Dr. Leonard C. Helderman, professor of history here, respectively.

William M. Martin, student editor of the Law Review will contribute the leading note entitled "Improper Venue Under the Federal Employer's Liability Act." The second note for the current issue has been written by Edmund Shaefer, III, senior lawyer. Both of these notes discuss very controversial legal issues, on which the United States Supreme Court has handed down three new decisions.

Comments on ten or twelve significant cases that have been decided recently in state and federal courts will be made by the following staff members from the Senior and intermediate law classes: Howard Dobbins, Homer A. Jones, Jr., Paul D. Brown, Francis C. Bryan, Paul E. Gourdon, Jr., Marion G. Heatwole, Charles Lee Hobson, Harry G. Kincaid, William C. Soule, and F. Thornton Strang.
